The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE OTHER DAY the 8th grade students over at the new Junior High School were assigned to write a theme on the subject, "What I Could Do To Improve Our School." One of the themes was unusually good, so the teacher turned it over to Principal Roy Killingsworth and he let us look at it. It reads as follows:

"I take the attitude that school is a business that belongs to me, hence I try to find ways and means of improving it just as I would any other business.

"I look upon my teachers as helpers and not bosses. The knowledge and skills I acquire I consider profits rather than grades.

"When I leave home each morning I leave with the hope that I can gain an extra amount of knowledge that day. And when I leave school in the afternoon, I leave with the regret that I haven't learned more.

"If I can succeed in capsing others to take this same attitude, it will improve the school, for a busy student is a good student. When students are interested in learning that takes care of discipline problems."

The short theme was written by Miss Bonnie Owens for civics Class 8-A. Bonnie and Donnie Owens are twins and they celebrated their 14th birthday last Monday. Our scouts report that they're both "A" students, good volleyball players and good basketball players. Bonnie's theme shows a fine attitude and we'll bet she learns a lot every day.

OCTOBER IS WITH us as of today. If you wish to do a bit of celebrating and observing, here are some things that are scheduled for the month: Oct. 5-11, National Fire Prevention Week; Oct. 5-11, National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week; Oct. 12, Columbus Day; Oct. 18, Sweetest Day; Oct. 24, United Nations Day; Oct. 26, Girl Scout Week begins; and, Oct. 31, Halloween.

ACCORDING TO the weekly bulletin of the Merchants Credit Association, Miss Catherine Cunningham is away on vacation—visiting in Seattle, Wash., Yellowstone National Park and touring California. Mrs. R. C. McCarter has been holding down the Cunningham post at the Crawford Insurance Agency. Mrs. Barton Philpott and son, Joe, are in New York for a vacation of two or three weeks. They plan to see the world series and other sights. Miss Bella Philpott of Dallas is assisting at the flower shop. Mr. Tom Stark reports that Mrs. Stark is doing splendidly after a recent operation. She'll probably come home Friday, Mr. Stark reports.

QUOTES FROM our new copy of the Imperial Type Metal Magazine: My aim is good but somebody keeps changing the target. . . The vitality and enthusiasm of small children give me strength. . . In a man she loves, or thinks she loves, a woman will forgive anything except indifference. . . It's much pleasanter to write than to talk because the writer doesn't see the frowns and yawns. . . What doesn't taste good today won't taste any better tomorrow as a leftover.

More quotes: Everybody, especially women, snickers when an old man goes off the deep end. . . Why does soiled linen take up more space than fresh linen? . . . An educated man is one who comprehends his own insignificance. . . It would help to bring peace in the family, if not on earth, if jealousy among adult children could be abandoned.

More quotes: The man is mean because he's old? . . . If it weren't for taxes, dependents, and unnecessary luxuries, I'd be rich. . . A man can best promote the public interest by promoting his own interest. . . What makes the contest so uneven is that certain people have brains and are willing to work hard. . . When a strong-minded mother and a daughter get their heads together, the husband has small chance to sustain his veto. . . The first thing a weak mind does to a complicated problem is to further complicate it. . . What you say usually interests people less than the cut of your coat or the fit of your teeth.

FOR FIRE FIGHTING—As more than 50 fire chiefs watched, a new method of rescuing a pilot from a burning, crashed plane was demonstrated at Squantum Naval Air Station, Mass. Three fire trucks, equipped with high pressure fog and foam nozzles sprayed a path to the cockpit and got the pilot out within 60 seconds. The fire can be controlled in another 60 seconds.

Ask Deferments In Writing Says Draft Board Man

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. — State draft headquarters today warned college students who want educational deferment that they must ask for them in writing if they expect to get consideration.

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said that a student who intends to take the draft qualification test must ask his board for deferment.

"Application to take the test does not constitute an application for deferment," General Wakefield said. "The test score serves the purpose of added information for the draft board to consider." General Wakefield also pointed out that it is not the responsibility of colleges and universities to ask for educational deferments. He emphasized that it is the responsibility of the individual student.

"The student who intends to ask his draft board for a deferment should sit down and write his board a letter when he definitely makes up his mind to request the deferment," the state draft director said. Colleges and universities are not required to send class standings of a student to a board unless the individual student requests his school to do it.

SCHAEFER RADIO SHOP PLANS TO BUILD HIGH TELEVISION AERIAL

Plans for the erection of a high television master antenna to provide antenna service by coaxial cable to television set owners in all parts of Cisco were announced today by Henry Schaefer of the Schaefer Radio Shop. Mr. Schaefer reported that he has made application to the City Commission for permission to erect cable poles in the alleys to offer the service to television set owners. The application was filed at the last meeting of the Commission and the matter now is being studied by that agency, Mr. Schaefer said.

The service Mr. Schaefer plans here would be similar to service now in operation at Graham, Stamford, Breckenridge and elsewhere in this section.

WRANGLERS MEET HENDERSON COUNTY TEAM THURSDAY NIGHT

The Cisco Junior College Wranglers will complete plans for a conference football game with the Henderson County Junior College of Athens here Thursday night with a light workout today.

Coaches Red Lewis and Paul Mosley have only had two days of hard work to prepare for the game, as they played at Uvalde last Saturday night. The Wranglers engaged in semi-scrimmage Tuesday in their study of Henderson plays and worked on a defensive setup.

Generally speaking, the Wranglers are in pretty fair shape for the game. The loss of Jerry Cade due to broken leg will cause Edward Lee, fleetly halfback from May, to be assigned both offensive and defensive chores. He is scheduled to take Cade's place at defensive safety as well as help with the ball carrying and passing jobs.

Don Denard and Pat O'Neal, backs, both have sore shoulders, but they're due to be starters. Carrol Chambers, the ailing fullback, still hasn't recovered from a bad knee, and Coach Lewis expected that he would be out another two weeks.

The coaches have been pretty well pleased with the work of the line on the defense. Pass defense has been stressed considerably this week.

The Wranglers will be playing a rugged team. The Athens eleven has one victory and two setbacks this season, winning over Paris by a 23 to 6 score. The Henderson County team has lost 21-to-6 to Arlington State, and Cisco lost 21-to-0 to the same team. The University of Mexico also stopped Henderson County in a game in Mexico City.

The Athens team operates as a split "T" outfit, and their defense varies from a five-man line to an eight-man line. A pair of 165-pound backs named Robert Corley and B. R. Atkins are the big guns. The two teams will compare favorably as to weights.

It's scheduled to be an outstanding game.

Mrs. M. A. Hamby has returned to her home in San Angelo after a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson.

Livestock Sale Indicates Price Trend Is Upward

Approximately 300 head of cattle brought about $21,000 in the weekly auction sale last Friday at the Cisco Livestock Exchange on the Rising Star Highway, W. C. (Shorty) Cravy, barn operator, reported today.

Mr. Cravy noted that prices paid for the livestock were generally higher than the past week, indicating that the market trend is definitely on the upgrade. Plans for this week's sale call for a Hereford calf to be given to one of those who enter cattle in the sale.

Prices at last week's sale included: bulls, 18 to 20c; balogna bulls, 16c to 17½c; canner and cutter cows, 11 to 12½c; commercial and utility calves, 12½ to 14c; butcher cows, 16½c to 17½c; young stocker cows, 16 to 18c; light stocker steers, 24 to 26c; rannies, 12½ to 15c; common fat calves, 18 to 22c, and good fat calves, 21 to 26c.

CJC Sophs Name Class Officers For Coming Year

By JACK WHITE

The Cisco Junior College Sophomore class met Friday and elected their class officers for the school year.

James L. Spalding of Eastland was elected class president. Jimmy is a second year man on the football team and plays a fine game of tennis.

Bob Powelson, who hails from Carrizoza, N. M., was appointed vice-president by acclamation. Although he is a "foreigner," Bob is well liked among his fellow class-mates.

Miss Carmelita Dickerson broke the monotony of all boys by being elected class secretary and treasurer by a wide margin. Carmelita graduated from Williams High School.

The only bad selection came when the class elected yours truly, Jack White, for the class reporter. I came from Joshua High School.

With our new President taking over, the Sophomores selected Mrs. O. L. Stamey and Coach Paul Mosley for our sponsors.

Two excellent students have been selected for candidates for president of the student body—L. A. Noles of Throckmorton and Bobby (Rip) Gibson of Joshua.

Think and vote.

FOUR CLUB MEMBERS AWARDED JERSEY CALVES BY COMMITTEE

Registered Jersey heifer calves were assigned to four Eastland County club members by the Youth Dairy Committee at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the First National Bank's Community Service Room here. The calves will be turned over to the youths in ceremonies at Rising Star on Saturday, Oct. 18, at 10 a. m.

Nominated to receive the calves were Harold Donica, Route 3, Cisco; Ronnie Bostick, Route 1, Nimrod; Rose Mary Berry, Route 1, Carbon; and, Jerry Winfred, Route 1, Rising Star.

This brings the total heifers turned over to youth club members since the program began three years ago to 35. Another heifer may be available soon. The committee has received a $200 insurance check for a club cow that was killed on railroad tracks several months ago.

The program for the Rising Star ceremonies is now being arranged. President A. Z. Myrick of the Eastland County Dairy Association is expected to speak at the affair.

The club members who receive the calves are required to turn back to the committee the first heifer calf born to their cow. The calves that are turned back

Soil Conservation Districts To Vote On One Supervisor

One subdivision in each of Texas' 163 Soil Conservation Districts will elect a member to its district's Board of Supervisors October 7, V. C. Marshall, Executive Director of the Texas State Soil Conservation Board, has announced.

Under State Law, which established State Soil Conservation Districts, each District is divided into five subdivisions and each subdivision elects a member to the five-man supervisory board.

Terms of office are rotated so that one supervisor is elected every year for a five-year term, and it is subdivision four's turn to select a supervisor on Tuesday, October 7.

A general meeting of landowners in subdivision four of each District is also scheduled for that date.

Soil Conservation Districts are legal subdivisions of State Government directed by a Board of Supervisors. The Supervisor's job is to develop programs for conserving soil and water and to direct the District's activities.

State and Federal Agencies, along with individuals, business and corporations, help the supervisors carry out measures to prevent wind and water erosion, soil depletion and aid in flood control.

All landowners in Subdivision four in each Soil Conservation District should attend these convention elections to select their Supervisor.

5 Ciscoans Are Presented Bibles

The Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible was formally introduced to residents of this city Tuesday night at a union church service at the East Cisco Baptist Church under the auspices of the Cisco Ministerial Alliance.

Five Ciscoans were presented copies of the new Bible as a feature of the service. The winners were selected by a committee of laymen from more than 100 nominees.

Those receiving the Bibles were: Mrs. Annie Cogburn, L. A. Warren, Mrs. B. J. Osborn, Mrs. W. L. Farmer and Charles Graham. All of those receiving Bibles were present.

The Rev. W. B. Gray of Brownwood, pastor of Presbyterian congregations at Bangs and Talpa, was the speaker of the evening. He told the story of the revision of the Bible, the first in more than 200 years. The task was accomplished over a 15-year period by 32 scholars from all denominations.

The new edition has preserved the beauty and dignity of the popular King James version. Rev. Gray noted, and at the same time the Bible is easier for the average layman to read.

The Rev. H. Grady James, chairman of the Ministerial Alliance, introduced the speaker and the service. He revealed the names of the five Bible winners.

Other local ministers, including the Rev. F. C. Bradley, the Rev. Bob Sanders, the Rev. E. H. Lightfoot, took part in the service. A free will offering was taken to defray the expenses of Religious Education Week activities. More than 200 persons attended the service.

Rev. Spain reported today that all copies of the new Bible obtained here by the Ministers Alliance have been sold. The Bibles can be ordered through book stores, he added.

"FREEDOM FROM GOVERNMENT"

The Saturday Evening Post recently ran an editorial called "The America We Lost," by Dr. Mario A. Pei, who emigrated to this country from Italy in 1908 and is now an Associate Professor of Romance Philology at Columbia University.

Dr. Pei's theme is one that should be pondered by every American loves this country, its traditions, and what it has stood for. He writes, "When I first came to America, 44 years ago, I learned a new meaning of the word 'Liberty' — freedom from government."

He had come from a country which was dominated by an octopus-like bureaucracy. The simplest activity resulted in government intervention. In his words, "America in those days made you open your lungs wide and inhale great gulps of freedom-laden air, for here was one additional freedom — freedom from government."

This, Dr. Pei finds with sorrow, is the America we have lost. To quote him once more, "Foreign-born citizens have been watching with alarm the gradual Europeanization of America over the past 20 years. They have seen the growth of the familiar European-style Government octopus, along with the vanishing of the American spirit of freedom and opportunity and its replacement by a breathless search for 'security' that is doomed to defeat in advance in a world where nothing, not even life itself, is secure."

"Far more than the native-born they are in a position to make comparisons. They see that America is fast becoming a nineteenth-century-model European country. They are asked to believe that this is progress. But they know from bitter experience that it just isn't so."

Those who, like Dr. Pei, came to us from across the seas in search of opportunity and freedom and the right and the chance to be their own masters, are far wiser than many of us whose roots go back to the very beginnings of America. We were given the most glorious heritage that any people can have — the heritage of freedom. We have been losing it — through inertia, blindness, their spineless seeking for an impossible security, the following of false prophets. We can only save it by turning our backs squarely on political philosophies which have made much of the world into a vast slave camp.

Miraculous Gadget Will Be Shown By Bell Telephone At State Fair

You can't beat it. "Except by fooling it," W. H. McAnally, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, said smilingly as he described the miraculous gadget his company will have on display at the State Fair of Texas October 4 through 19.

The gadget is a "Tick-Tack-Toe Machine" which actually competes with human beings in the game so familiar to all. The machine was designed to demonstrate how accurately and efficiently the electronic switching equipment used in the operation of the telephone system works. It is made of actual telephone relays, or switches.

"It's amazing how intelligently this gadget plays the game. Just like a man, only better. You push a button which lights up an 'X' in one of the squares. The machine automatically lights up an 'O' in another square," McAnally said.

"Then no matter where you place your next 'X' the machine forces you into a tie, or perhaps beat you."

The Tick-Tack-Toe machine will be a part of Southwestern Bell's big exhibit in the General Exhibits Building at the State Fair.

Also on display at the telephone company exhibit will be a working model of the famous radio-relay, or microwave, system which is being used to bring live television programs and long distance telephone calls to some of Texas' largest cities.

"A crew of specially trained instructors will be on hand at the telephone exhibit at all times during the Fair to show you how the microwave system, and other telephonic equipment operates," McAnally said.

One of the most interesting portions of this telephone exhibit will be a demonstration of operator toll dialing in which long distance telephone calls will be placed direct from the exhibit at the State Fair to any of 15,000,000 dial telephones from coast-to-coast that are connected to the system.

Other features of the telephone company exhibit will be devices enabling Fair goers to test the quality of their hearing, and hear how they sound over the telephone. They will also observe cable splicers at work on huge telephone cables demonstrating the exacting task of splicing hundreds of pairs of tiny wires together.

The Tick-Tack-Toe Machine? How can you beat it? The telephone company manager laughed.

Water Agency To Study Resolutions Before Convention

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. — Delegates to the Eighth Annual Convention of the Texas Water Conservation Association at Mineral Wells October 12, 13 and 14 will have plenty of time to study the convention's resolutions before acting upon them.

In fact, the delegates will get mimeographed copies of the resolutions a day before they vote upon them. Judge Guy C. Jackson, Jr., of Anahuac, president, today announced the appointment of a 15 member resolution committee. This committee was divided into five panels of three members each.

The 15 members of the committee were asked to meet in Mineral Wells Sunday, October 12, to prepare their resolutions and have them completed in time to hand them to delegates at 5 o'clock the following Monday afternoon.

"This will be a serious convention and the delegates deserve the opportunity of reading the proposed resolutions, sleeping over them if necessary, and then be ready to discuss them when they are presented for action on Tuesday, the final day of the convention," Jackson said.

General chairman of the resolutions committee is John D. McCall of Dallas, general counsel of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District.

Other members are: Irrigation Panel: C. J. Anderson, general manager, Red Bluff Water Power Control District, Pecos; Myrlyn O. Johnson, general counsel, Cameron County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, Harlingen; Philo Howard, Lakeside Irrigation Company, Inc., Eagle Lake.

Yes, that's right. Your electric bill is probably a lot higher than it should be due to worn door seals and hinges on your refrigerator. Air leaks around the cabinet door can cause sweating interiors, unnecessary defrosting, food spoilage and excessive running of your refrigerator. Deer Trapping To Begin Soon

AUSTIN, Sept. 27. — The annual fall trapping of deer for restocking begins soon in Texas, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Texas Game & Fish Commission.

He said this routine normally begins in early October and continues through February.

The procedure, which involves white-tailed deer, will be of particular interest to residents in the Davy Crockett Wildlife Management area.

Original plans for restocking this new restoration project called for substantial deliveries early in 1952. But nature intervened. The winter was so mild on the Argansas National Wildlife Refuge, where most of the deer are trapped, that the animals found adequate natural food and were not tempted by the cottonseed cake used to bait the traps.

Only one truck load, comprising 14 deer, was released in the Davy Crockett area. As a result, that project has first priority this year. Up to 150 deer are expected to be released there before spring.

The success of the restocking program which has found more than 13,500 white-tailed deer transplanted in the last 14 years, will be reflected in Texas this fall.

Nearly a dozen large areas will be re-opened to white-tailed deer, as well as wild turkey, hunting. The restoration procedure, worked out in cooperation with landowners, ordinarily requires a minimum of five years from the time of restocking until the opening of the area to hunting.

Misses Mayme and Leatha Estes, Mrs. Gorum Pollard, and Mrs. Myrtle Anderson have returned from a business and pleasure trip in Big Spring. While there they visited Miss Dorothy Grant and her mother, Mrs. Eula Grant, who is in the hospital. Mrs. Grant is reported as doing nicely. They also visited Mrs. Pollard's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sanaford.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

The average patient whose doctor tells him he has a bad heart fears that he will have to cut out all the sports he enjoys.

It ain't necessarily so. Some heart conditions actually can be improved and the patient strengthened by the proper kind of exercise. The day when such a person was put away in mothballs is past, luckily, and doctors have come around to the viewpoint that once he is on his way to recovery he may be allowed some freedom along the athletic line.

Of course, golf, if allowed, may have to be cut from eighteen to nine holes. Even if it's necessary to give up the game altogether, some other less strenuous form of exercise (hiking, for example) can be suggested for the individual patient by his doctor.

Heart trouble is only one condition in which exercise may be a part of therapy; its importance in many diseases has been recognized for a long time in medical circles. Today patients continued to bed are being encouraged to change their positions more often and to sit up and walk sooner than they did ten or twenty years ago. As much of the treatment for a broken bone is aimed toward keeping a man in good general physical condition as toward healing the break itself. Thus, he may be given exercises designed to strengthen certain muscles to return the function of a limb more quickly. Special exercises also can be given for better posture, muscular coordination and bodily balance, as well as any other number of desirable goals.

Nurses or physical therapists, working with special equipment, can help the doctor give exercise therapy to the patient who is unable to perform the needed exercise.

If exercise seems monotonous, it may be that the sort needed can be gotten through a hobby. A teacher of handicrafts and the doctor often can work out a hobby to make a withered hand more nimble. Activities of this kind in giving the patient something to do improves his morale, and often he has the satisfaction of making artistic or useful product as well. Sometimes several patients under the doctor's direction can play a game which work good results for all of them. Exercise or a hobby for a bed-fast, convalescing, or physically handicapped person should be tailor-made, with the specific disease or handicap being kept in mind. A patient shouldn't take it upon himself to prescribe his own exercise anymore than his own medicine; his doctor should advise the kind of exercise to take.

Mrs. W. G. Moon of Graford has returned after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Bond.

Misses Doris and Jean Jamison of Fort Worth spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jamison.
