The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

OUR NATION IS observing the birthday of the Boy Scout movement this week. And it is fitting that we all pause to pay tribute to the Boy Scouts, the Cubs and their leaders in Cisco. Our town has some fine groups of Scouts and Cubs, and we finance the movement by contributing to their support through the Community Chest.

Looking over some data provided us by the national office of the Boy Scouts of America, we find that churches of all faiths support about half of the nation's Boy Scout troops, Cub Scouts and Explorer Units. The Boy Scouts of America was incorporated in Washington, D. C., on January 8, 1910. . . . 127,209 members are registered as Den Leaders in the Cub Scout program. . . . Since 1910, more than 1,800,000 boys and men have been members of the Boy Scouts. . . . Congress granted a federal charter to the Boy Scouts in 1916. . . . More than 1,800,000 Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers took part in the "Get Out the Vote" campaign in 1952. . . . Each year nearly 10,000 Boy Scouts earn the coveted Scout rank. . . . More than 100 adults serve as volunteer leaders in the Boy Scouts. . . . There are now 5,160,147 members.

CISCO HAS TWO active Boy Scout troops. Troop 101, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, has been in continuous organization since 1927. It is one of the oldest troops in the district. This troop had a total of 35 Eagle Scouts — the highest rank in Scouting. Hundreds of Cisco boys have been members of Troop 101 for years. J. V. Heysler, Jr., Scoutmaster of this troop. The other troop is Troop 58, sponsored by the First Christian Church, has four dens of Boys Scouts. These little guys meet with their den mothers and study and play. Dr. Chief is the cubmaster.

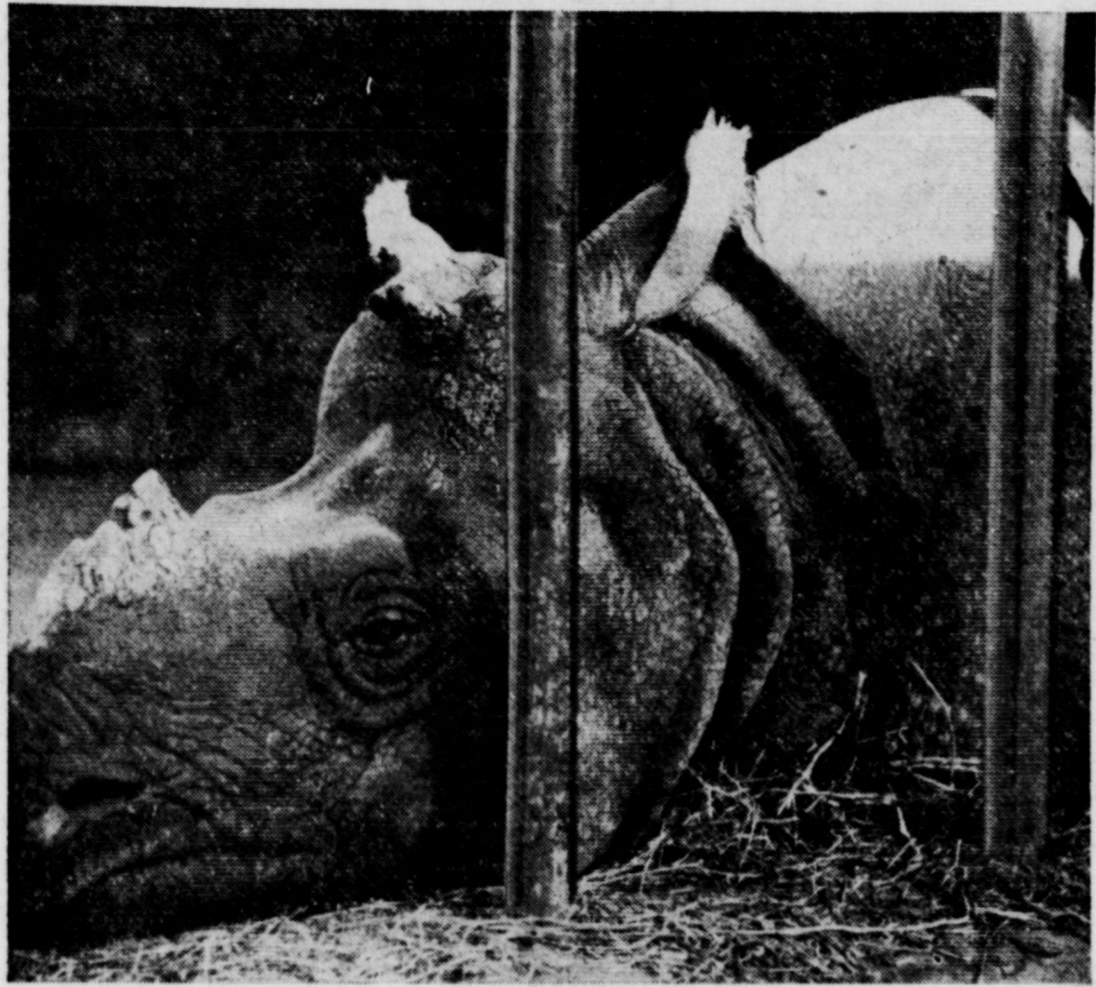

THE BOY SCOUT and Girl Scout organizations, strong as they are in Cisco, would be stronger if they had more adult leaders. One of the Girl Scout leaders told us the other day that there are considerably under-staffed. The number of troops could be increased if they had more leaders. A Boy Scout or Girl Scout leader doesn't take too much time — two or three hours a week, maybe. So, if any of you would like to help out in this important youth training program, please contact us very easily by finding you. Your reward will be the knowledge that you are making a contribution to the youth of the community.

THE BUSINESS men and women who attended the monthly meeting of the Merchants Credit Association at the First National Bank Tuesday afternoon were delightedly surprised after the business was finished. Mrs. Roy Huffmyer served cake and coffee and same was very delicious, indeed. Understand Mr. Huffmyer served the cakes.

NAVY COMMANDER Enders Huey, commanding officer of the submarine USS Tang, recently a distinguished visitor aboard the USS Intrepid at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. Huey and his party boarded the ship and inspected it and conferred with Comdr. Huey. The commander is a native of Cisco and is the son of Mrs. B. S. Huey of our town.

TREASURER BOB White of the March of Dimes reports that the town has contributed just over $2,300 to the campaign. . . . The city hall rain gauge recorded three tenths of an inch for the last, sleet and rain here Tuesday night. . . . Roy Westfall, who is kind of an unofficial weather man, reported that the temperature dropped to 33 degrees early Wednesday morning — the lowest reading for the night.

BLUES IN THE ZOO—Perhaps this sad rhinoceros has just received his income tax forms at the Bronx, N. Y., zoo, and is trying to figure a way to make both ends meet. Or he may have just awakened from a lovely dream, in which he was wallowing freely in the wide open African swamps, to find himself still imprisoned behind those strong bars that make life so dull.

Austin College Students To Be Here For Play

Dramatic Club students of Austin College, Sherman, will present a play, "The Terrible Meek," at the First Presbyterian Church here at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, the Rev. H. Grady James announced today. Prior to the program, members of the church will attend a "pot luck" supper at 6:30 p. m. The Austin College group has presented the play in more than 25 churches in recent weeks. The title was taken from the Bible statement, "The meek shall inherit the earth." Austin College is a Presbyterian school. A free will offering will be taken for the visitors at the conclusion of the play. The public has been invited to attend.

Thursday. Entered in the tournament were boys and girls teams from Cisco, Putnam, Moran, Albany, Eastland, Carbon, Olden and Rising Star. Pavement Study Is Made By U of T

AUSTIN, Feb. 11.—Some sections of Texas highways are holding up better than others because of mineral differences in the rocks used in concrete, a University of Texas researcher reported. William E. Barker, civil engineering faculty member, announced the finding after completing pavement durability studies for the Texas Highway Department.

"Some minerals, particularly some forms of silica, were found to be unstable when used in concrete, leading to chemical changes which weakened the pavement," Barker explained.

Silica is a primary chemical ingredient in nearly all rocks, sands, soils and clays in the earth's crust.

Tests are being developed to discover the harmful minerals so paving materials containing them can be rejected or measures adopted to neutralize them, Barker said.

Barker's work was the result of a Highway Department survey of many miles of pavements. Department investigators found marked differences in highway conditions which seemed to correspond with uses of certain types of aggregates in the pavements.

Barker was called in to determine the reason for those differences in durability.

schools end the first round of play at 8:15 p. m. Second round play and consolation matches begin Saturday morning and the finals in the championship and consolation divisions will be played Saturday night.

Roy Killingsworth, principal of Cisco Junior High School, was expecting the most successful tournament ever held at the school and promised a full slate of good games. He announced that concession stands would operate all during the tournament with a large supply of drinks, sandwiches and sweets.

Council Orders City Election To Name Mayor, Commissioners

Fishing Program Is Outlined For Many State Areas

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. — The Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission said a sports fishing program utilizing Dingell-Johnson funds has been outlined. He said final authorization will hinge on Washington action.

Under the Dingell-Johnson fund, derived from taxing sports fishing equipment, fishing improvement projects are financed on the basis of three-fourth aid from the Federal agency and one-fourth from the state. The first year's operation of the tax yielded Texas $109,380.22.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist listed three projects as under consideration:

Cutting passes in Caddo Lake to restore circulation of water since some of the lake's best fishing area have become stagnant.

Removing water hyacinths from Lake Corpus Christi, parts of which have become almost inaccessible to anglers.

Building levees in Sheldon Reservoir near Houston to provide sports fishing in that area which is being developed, through Pitman-Robertson funds, as a waterfowl sanctuary.

Renovating Woodlawn Lake in San Antonio to eliminate poor fish population and noxious weed growth, in an overall move for better angling.

Expanding rough fish control in several Texas lakes.

Advancing management work and investigations in the Fort Worth area under a program designed particularly to improve Grapevine and Benbrook lakes.

Restoring fish life in the Guadalupe River in Gonzales County and other counties desiring such work.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist emphasized that this is only a partial list of projects.

He said studies are underway to use some of the funds to purchase access lands to waters in several parts of the state that are now closed to the public.

Minstrel Cast Plans Rehearsal

Members of the cast of the negro minstrel, "Convention Blues," were asked to be at the city hall auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Thursday for rehearsal for the performance in Rising Star Monday night.

All members were urged to be on hand for the rehearsal as some changes in the script will be necessary.

The minstrel is going to Rising Star under the joint sponsorship of the Cisco Boosters Club and the Rising Star Boy Scout organization. The proceeds will be divided on a 50-50 basis.

Plans call for the possible presentation of the show in Moran on March 6 and again in Cisco later in February. Those plans will be discussed at the rehearsal Thursday night.

Annual Poll Set For April; Vote In Three Offices

A resolution ordering an election for Tuesday, April 7, to elect a mayor and two commissioners was passed Tuesday night at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Commission at the City Hall. Half of the members of the commission are elected each year.

March 7 will be the deadline for candidates for the offices to file for a place on the ballot. Those who offer themselves as candidates must be able to qualify under the constitution to hold offices and to have resided in the state 12 months and the city six months.

Mayor G. C. Rosenthal, whose term of office expires, told The Press today that he has given considerable thought to making the race again and will be ready to announce his decision in a few days.

Commissioners James P. McCracken and Don Rupe, whose terms also expire, indicated that they will not be candidates for re-election.

In other action, the Commission opened bids for a new pump and motor for the Lake Cisco water pump station. The specifications called for a 1,600-gallon per minute pump with a 150 horsepower motor to replace equipment at the lake.

Six bids were submitted and action was deferred until details of the offers could be studied.

A request of the First Methodist Church and the Church of Christ to widen Avenue H between 8th and 9th streets was approved. The churches will cooperate in the project to give them more parking space.

The commission approved payment of city accounts. All members of the commission were present for the meeting.

Mrs. A. B. Cooper visited her daughter, Mrs. George Fleming, in Dallas Monday. Mrs. Fleming accompanied her mother home for a few days visit.

Mrs. Ben Parker visited in the home of her grand daughter, Mrs. Joe Harper, in Ranger Monday.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION AGAINST HIKING INCREASED LOCAL FUNDS

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. — Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said today that plans for easing the critical classroom shortage will be seriously handicapped if local school districts are required to pay a bigger share of the minimum foundation program.

"Local schools already are paying more than 40 per cent of the cost of public education in Texas," Tennyson said, "although those who want to rearrange the school financing pattern cite only the figures showing that local schools pay about 20 per cent of the minimum foundation program cost. They fail to cite the cost of current operations and repayment of bonded indebtedness."

The big difference in percentages lies in the fact that the minimum foundation program does not represent total school costs. Local school districts must pay additional expenses themselves, including the cost of new buildings and facilities.

Figures compiled by the Texas Education Agency show that the total cost of public education in Texas during the 1951-52 school year was $318,963,078, Tennyson said. Local school districts paid $132,832,708 of that amount, or 41.6 per cent. The state paid $180,918,657 or 56.7 per cent. The federal government contributed 1.7 per cent, or $5,211,713, mostly for the school lunch program.

"Approximately 33,000 children in our elementary schools must attend classes for less than a full day because of the classroom shortage," Tennyson said. "Our local school districts are putting as much money as is feasible into new buildings. Many plans for new school construction may have to be scrapped if local contributions to the minimum foundation fund are increased."

The limit on local contributions to that fund now stands at $45,000,000.

"Many other states grant financial aid to local schools for construction purposes," Tennyson said, "but in Texas the need for buildings and facilities must be met by the local communities themselves."

"Many of the other states help pay school construction costs," Tennyson said. "In recent years, Virginia set aside $45,000,000 for that purpose while Washington appropriated $40,000,000, North Carolina, $25,000,000 and Delaware $13,000,000. California recently made available, in two separate moves, $55,000,000 and $70,000,000 to help local school districts meet building costs, in addition to $250,000,000 earmarked for a long-range building program. Massachusetts pays up to 65 per cent of the construction costs for school buildings."

The local school districts in Texas have made no plea for similar grants, Tennyson pointed out. On their own initiative, they are doing their best to alleviate the critical classroom shortage which forces 33,000 students in

Methodist Men Obtain Charter

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. — A new organization of Methodist Men in the First Methodist Church, Cisco, Texas, has been chartered by Methodism's General Board of Lay Activities in Chicago.

The local group will become one of 10,000 Methodist Men organizations which the Board plans to charter by 1956.

It is estimated that 2,000,000 men in The Methodist Church are prospective members of Methodist Men clubs. According to Robert G. Mayfield, executive secretary of the Board, "We seek to mobilize through Methodist Men the tremendous power and enthusiasm of the men of the church. Our purpose is to give strength to the program of Christ and His Church through consecrated service of men in every local church of Methodism."

Aaron Robinson is president of the newly formed group and Owen King, secretary.

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association AUSTIN, — One step in the direction of solving the state's difficult highway problem was taken when the Legislature passed a resolution asking the federal government to abandon its two cents per gallon gasoline tax.

that a commission be appointed to study whether or not the toll road is an answer to the vexing traffic problem. Meanwhile, E. H. Thornton Jr., chairman of the state highway commission, says that in his opinion toll roads are not the solution, except possibly in isolated cases such as that of the Dallas-Fort Worth route.

States now levying an income tax have agreed to give up that revenue source if the federal government will stop taxing gasoline. Texas has no state income tax, so Texas has everything to gain and nothing to lose.

One way to build up highway finances would be to stop diverting road user taxes. Representative Charles Murphy of Houston has offered a constitutional amendment to require that all taxes on motor fuel and lubricants must be spent on roads.

The resolution was introduced in the House by Representative Will Lee Smith of Beaumont and in the Senate by Senator Johnnie B. Rogers of Austin. A campaign to bring about retirement of the federal government from the field of motor fuel taxation was initiated by Governor Allan Shivers and the National Conference of Governors.

What's the right way to finance road, and what's the right way to finance schools? Members of the Legislature would give you a rousing vote of thanks for an acceptable answer to that one. If you want to see what the road situation is, one source of information would be the 1953 Texas official highway map, now released by the state highway department.

Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas introduced a bill that would set up a district (similar to a water conservation district) for the purpose of building a Fort Worth-Dallas toll road. In his message to the Legislature, Governor Shivers suggested

Members of the House of Representatives have voted for a proposed constitutional amendment which, if approved by the citizens, would raise the pay of legislators from $10 per day to $25 per day for the first 120 days of the legislative sessions. If approved, the amendment would become effective January 1, 1955.

Authority for fixing utility rates now rests with the cities, and it is felt by proponents of Patten's bill that a state commission would tend to bring about more uniformity in the pricing of utility services.

HISTORIC SLANT—Houses and shops which lean forward on an ancient street in York, England, have attracted visitors for hundreds of years. Located in the section known as The Shambles, a one-time slaughterhouse center, the street is now mostly occupied by butchers. It is mentioned in the Domesday Book, one of the very first chronicles of recorded history, and efforts are being made to preserve the street's historic character.

Korean Lespedeza on a Trek North to Corn Belt

cost, high efficiency grain-lespedeza rotation in use in a number of states provides an annual grain crop along with fall pasture, reseeding ability and soil improvement. This gives a most economical use of land and intense cropping with adequate phosphate and potash fertilization.

Several improved early varieties of Korean lespedeza have been developed to extend the area of adaptation further north. Among these are Harbin, Iowa 6, and F.C. 19604. Climax is a high-yielding late variety better adapted farther south to Texas and other Gulf states. Rowan, a promising Korean strain, has outyielded commercial Korean and Kobe in the southern part of the Korean zone.

Korean lespedeza has a very definite place in its area of adaptation. However, the amount of grazing it furnishes will depend upon the productivity of the soil, seasonal conditions, particularly rainfall, and upon pasture management. Even though this legume will grow on poor soils without seedbed preparation, and is drought-resistant, the best results are obtained on good soils with seed-bed preparation and with a favorable amount and distribution of rainfall.

Under conditions very favorable for the growth of alfalfa, red clover and Ladino clover in the central Corn Belt states the use of Korean lespedeza will be restricted and its culture there confined mostly to soils of low fertility, poorly drained or otherwise unsuited to the culture of other legumes and to uses for which the other legumes are not so well adapted.

Should banks close on Saturday? That question is stirring up interest and causing letter-writers to address members of the Legislature. The present regulation is that banks must stay open five and a half days a week, except for 13 legal holidays. But a number of big city banks are supporting the five-day banking week, as proposed in a bill introduced in the House by Representatives W. H. Abington of Fort Worth and Garth Bates of Houston and by Senator Parkhouse in the Senate.

Some big banks are supporting the measure because they feel it will help them to institute a five day, eight hour work week. Country banks are inclined to oppose the proposition because they do a lot of business with farmers and ranchers on Saturday. The bill is merely permissive — each bank would do as it pleased about opening on Saturday morning.

Representative Jack Bryan of Buffalo has introduced a "fair trade" bill affecting cigarettes only. The bill would prohibit below-costs of cigarettes by requiring all retailers to add at least 10 per cent to the wholesale cost.

Delta Kappa Gamma Chapter Presents Federation Program

The City Federation of Women's Clubs met Monday, February 9, at the Federated Women's Club for their monthly meeting with the Delphian Study Club as hostesses and Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma in charge of the program.

For rehabilitation purposes, Austria is under the supervision of the United States, France, Britain, and Russia. Russia controls the largest areas of oil and agricultural production. "It should be noted," he said, "that the Gilmer-Aikin bills protect local control to the fullest extent and not a single bill has been introduced in the Legislature that would alter or take away local control. Nor would we support any measure that would tend to centralize the control of education."

U of T Plans 24th Spring Roundup And Homecoming

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. — Memories unlimited will be the order for members of reunion classes who return to The University of Texas campus for Round-Up and Spring Homecoming March 27-28.

In announcing the 24th annual Round-Up, John A. McCurdy, executive secretary of the Ex-Students' Association, sponsoring organization, pointed out that particular stress is being placed on class reunions this year and that response to invitations thus far indicates sizeable attendance.

Beginning with the class of 1888, all classes for the years ending in "3" and "8" will return to the campus for individual meetings, as well as attendance at the annual reunion luncheon, which will be held Saturday noon, March 28, in the Main Lounge of the Student Union building. Permanent and acting secretaries of reunion classes now are contacting members of their groups. Engineers, lawyers, academics, pharmacists, architects and business graduates will mix and mingle and attend the full program of activities scheduled for the two-day event.

Honor classes are 1903, whose members have been away from the campus 50 years, and 1928, whose members will be returning after 25 years.

Round-Up officially begins with the annual parade at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, March 27, and is climaxed with the annual Round-Up Revue and Ball in Gregory Gym on Saturday evening. This final event opens with the traditional Longhorn Band concert and reaches its climax with announcement of the Sweetheart of the University. The Texas Relays also will be in progress during the two-day program.

(PEA) COCK OF THE WALK—At New York's Bronx Zoo, peacocks know the full meaning of freedom. The colorful birds are a lot wed to roam free around the park. Because they know which side their bread is buttered on, however, they take good care not to stray so far from home that they have to forage for food.

Greyhound Wins Safety Honors

Southwestern Greyhound Lines have been awarded the Marcus Dow Safety Award for the year just past, according to an announcement made today by E. E. Freeman, President of the company.

The award is made annually to the Greyhound operating company with the best safety record, based on the most miles operated per accident. Southwestern Greyhound, operating in nine Southwestern and Midwestern states compiled a record of 153,902 miles per accident. All accidents, regardless of severity or blame are chargeable to a company in the annual contest.

The award was won in competition with 17 other operating companies, Freeman said. Freeman, in paying tribute to Southwestern Greyhound drivers for winning the award, urged them to continue their efforts not only in safety but in courtesy as well. "The courteous driver is invariably the safe driver," Freeman pointed out.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

"Oh, my aching back!" That might well be the complaint of a patient at your house, either present or future. What can you do about it?

Good posture for the patient is a responsibility of the home nurse, as well as of the doctor. Whether standing, sitting, or lying down, the natural curves of the spine should be maintained, the head comfortably supported, and the arms and legs kept in good alignment with the body. Very important are (1) supporting different parts of the patient's body with pillows, folded blankets or towels, back or foot rests; (2) getting him to move around in bed, if the doctor allows it; and (3) changing his position for him if he can't move himself.

If a patient lies on his back, a pillow under his head should reach to his shoulders. He should have a support for his upright feet to brace against, extending above the toes to protect them from the weight of the bedding, plus a small pillow or folded towel under his knees or the small of the back if desired.

Turned on his side, he should have one pillow tucked securely at his back and another placed lengthwise between his legs and feet, supporting the knee, toes, and heel. The uppermost leg may be bent more than the knee of the lower leg for greater comfort. A small support placed against the abdomen may be desirable, as may a pillow to support the uppermost arm.

As much as possible the patient should move himself; it may be necessary only to support the hips or shoulders in moving him toward the head of the bed or turning him on his side. If he is entirely helpless, two or three persons may be needed to move him about.

When able to get out of bed, the patient should be kept from falling, additional help being secured in advance if needed. One person may have to support a part which can't be moved such as a leg in a cast. If the patient is being assisted into a wheelchair or a rocking chair, it should be held by someone or pushed against blocks or a wall so it can't slip. A footstool should be used if the bed is high.
