By J. W. S.

ONE OF THE most enthusiastic groups of fellows we've run into in a long time is the Little League baseball boys. Something like 100 boys have been reporting to ABC field each afternoon this week for workouts. Chairman D. N. Harrison and his crew of managers, including Lefty Sublett, Chesley Tipton, Rev. Bob Sanders, C. E. Whitmore and M. W. Patton, have divided the little boys into age groups.

Many of the smaller boys are having their initial experience with the game of baseball, and they're really taking to it. This is a very splendid program that will pay rich dividends. The Little League will provide Cisco with some outstanding entertainment this spring and summer.

CISCO WILL HAVE plenty of baseball this year. Understand the Legion boys are planning to sponsor a Junior Legion Baseball program again, and the Cisco Junior College athletes are working a deal to form a baseball team. It seems that baseball is on the way back after a few weak years. It's a good game to play or watch.

YOU'VE NOTICED, perhaps, the appealing blood posters in the windows. How the posters are up is something of a mystery. Mrs. R. H. Cutting and her publicity committee for the bloodmobile program. They're delighted that somebody put up the posters, but they were wondering where they could get some to put up. But they would like to know who put the posters out. They want to know so they can say thanks.

RAN INTO MR. Sutton Crofts yesterday and he reports that Mrs. Crofts is home. She underwent surgery last week. Mr. Crofts says he is kind of chairman of things around the house while Mrs. C. is recuperating. Mrs. Lewis Starr tells us that Mrs. J. D. Higgins, of Fort Worth, is very ill. Mrs. Higgins is the mother of Jack Higgins, formerly of Cisco and husband of the Starr's daughter. Jack has many friends here.

MR. AUSTIN FLINT, manager of the J. C. Penney Company here, has been a pretty sick man this week. He was sorry to report he became ill Sunday afternoon. He was to have left at noon today for Temple and a hospital there. All of us hope for him a very speedy recovery.

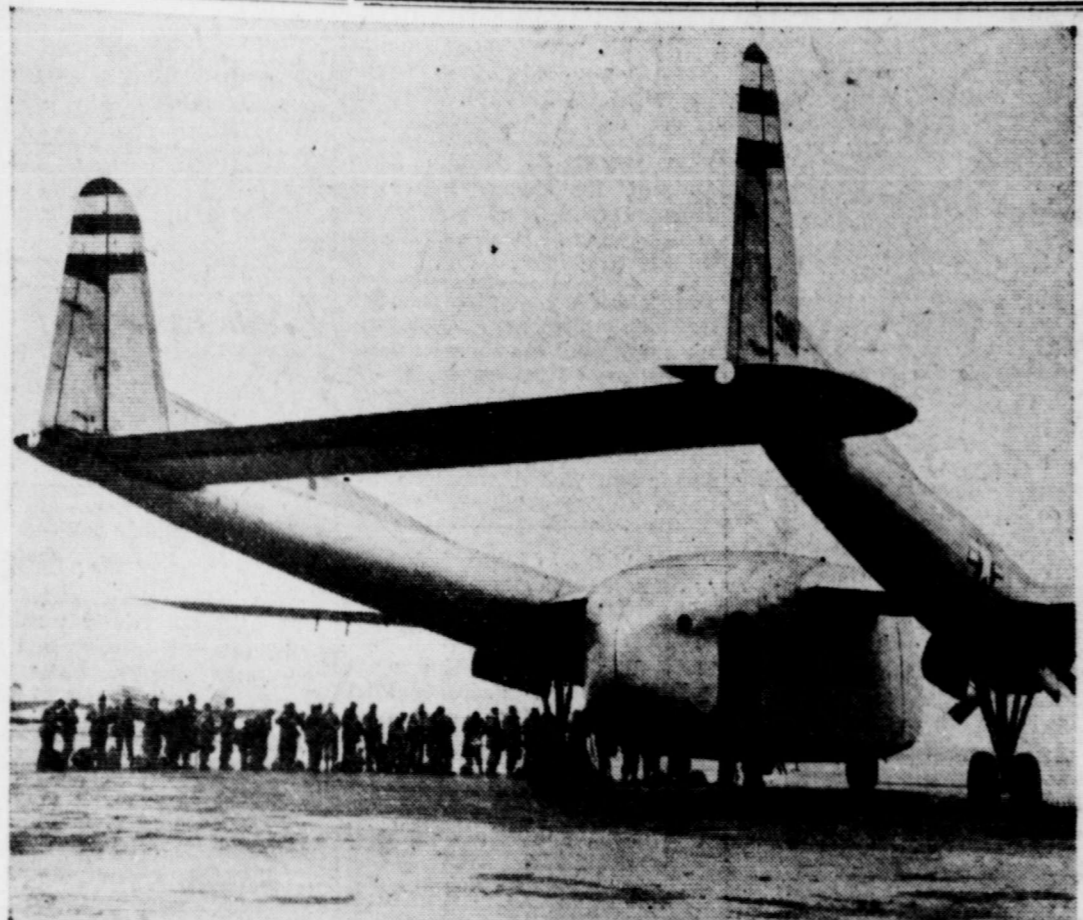

A COUPLE OF local cafes — Dave's Cafe and the Victor Hotel Coffee Shop — have installed new ice making machines. They're electric machines that make small ice cubes for use in water glasses and ice tea. It's very neat, indeed.

THEY'RE GOING to hold another big Jamboree this Saturday night up at the City Hall Auditorium. The Cisco Volunteer Department is the sponsors of the show. The Kendrick Quartet and many fine musicians are scheduled to be on the program. You will want to attend.

EVERYBODY IS happy out at the Bob Latson home. Ginger, their boxer dog, arrived back home yesterday after being gone some Sunday. Mr. E. L. Hazlewood of Dathan saw in The Press where Ginger was missing and he called to report that a boxer dog was visiting at his house. Mrs. Latson went out and brought Ginger home.

CISCO LIONS are working pretty hard to elect Mr. O. L. Ramsey as the district governor this year. The club has been sending groups to visit all clubs in the district. The other day, Carlos Turner and Bill Kendall were assigned to drop in on the Rotan club in the interest of the Stamey-for-governor movement.

H. R. (Pop) Garrett told them was a long trip, so they left early and arrived at Rotan at 9:30 a. m. Checking up further, they found that the Rotan Lions didn't meet until 7 p. m. So they went to see the Rotan fellows individually instead of waiting around all day.

MAE WESTS FOR ALL—The twin tail booms of this C-119, one of the Air Force's famous two-engine flying boxcars, seem to fill the sky as GIs board it in Seoul, Korea, for a leave in Tokyo. Lined up at an airbase, the soldiers are fastening their "Mae West" life preservers as a safety precaution in case of the remote chance of a dunk while en route.

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON CHARGE SELLING OBSCENE LITERATURE

Eastland County authorities apparently have smashed the West Central Texas operations of a statewide organization engaged in the production, distribution and sale of obscene literature, County Attorney Joe Nueesse reported today. Two men have been arrested in the case at Eastland.

Worry Won't Do For Bad Hearts, Dr. Cox Warns

Worried about your heart? If so, it doesn't help to hear that deaths from diseases of the heart and the blood vessels are the leading causes of death in Texas. Yet, if you have heart trouble today, you are better off than you would have been at any previous time in the history of the world, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Cases, which in former years were considered hopeless, are now being treated successfully. Most heart patients who follow their physician's directions can lead relatively normal lives, carrying on most of the activities they did before they became ill with heart disease.

Over-fatigue, over-exercising, worry, and prolonged emotional disturbances also make additional work for the heart. The heart slows up somewhat when you lie down and a little more when you fall asleep, but the person who is constantly on the go, and gets too little sleep, does not give his heart much of a chance to rest. Whenever your heart is overworked or excited, your heart is the first part of the body to react. It immediately starts to beat faster. If you really become frightened or over exercise, it may start pounding.

Many people, when they realize they have heart trouble, fortunately learn a new way of living. They acquire a more wholesome and happier way of life. Their work is planned so that they do not get overtired, and they do not get tired, they are not pushed to get the job done; when they get tired, they stop and rest. Few heart patients have to give up all of their usual activities. They learn a different and better way of doing them that does not put such a strain on the heart, for the way they found that it is the way they do things, rather than what they do that is so very important.

Early treatment for heart disease will help to relieve your worries and will set you on the right road to good health, with a chance for a normal span of life, if you obey your doctor's orders.

Hospital News

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Coats and son of San Jose, California, were in Graham Hospital today receiving treatment for injuries sustained in an automobile accident Tuesday on Highway 80 west of Cisco.

The condition of Judge J. J. Callaway was reported as improved Thursday hospital attendants reported. The Archer baby was continuing to show improvement. The condition of Mrs. W. C. Shelton was unchanged. Mrs. Herman Reimers continued to improve.

Moran News . . . Foy Barnetts Are Honored At Party By Moran Friends

By MRS. C. C. CADY
Mr. and Mrs. Foy Barnett and daughters, Becky and June, who are leaving Moran soon, were honored with a going-away party and buffet supper Saturday night at the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Luke Huskey, Mrs. Ezra Weir and Mrs. Effie Rountree were hostesses for the occasion and Mrs. Oscar Wise served as pianist.

Games were played following the dinner and the Rev. Melvin Mathis, pastor of the church, made a presentation speech as Will Townsend presented Mr. and Mrs. Barnett with a gift from their Moran friends.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnett have been active in church and civic work since they opened their department store in Moran several years ago. Both taught classes in the Methodist Church and Mr. Barnett served on the city council and was mayor of the town for a while. They have closed their store and Mr. Barnett has accepted a position as salesman for Williamson Dickie and will be located out of the state.

Attending the affair, in addition to the ones mentioned previously were: Mr. and Mrs. Olin Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Britt Pippen and Patty, Mrs. J. M. ## Dr. Ward Plans Special Message Sunday Evening

Dr. H. M. Ward, pastor of the First Baptist Church, announced Thursday that he would deliver a special sermon at the Sunday evening services of the church, dealing with some of the questions regarding events of the present time. The topic of the sermon was announced as: "Time Marches On."

In the Sunday night sermon, Dr. Ward said that he would answer the following questions: Are we in the last days? Why do preachers leave out Christ? Who started Communism? Should we be afraid of Russia? Who will be our allies in the next World War? When does a war between nations become the concern of Bible prophets?

Dr. Ward reported that unusually large crowds had been attending the Sunday evening services and that the interest in all the services of the church was growing. Everyone, regardless of church affiliation, was invited to the services Sunday night to hear the questions above answered.

Civil Service To Hold Job Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced a new examination for Psychologist. The positions to be filled are in the specialized fields of physiological and experimental psychology and personnel measurement and evaluation, and are located in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. The entrance salaries are $4,205 and $5,060. Appropriate education or experience, or both, is required; a written test will be given. There is no maximum age limit. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, Sam King, located at the Cisco Post Office.

Country Club Plans Game Hour Tonight

Members of the Cisco Country Club will enjoy a game hour at the clubhouse at 7:30 p. m. Thursday (tonight), it was reported today. Refreshments will be served. A meeting of the club's board of directors was due to be held during the evening. The covered dish supper will be held next week on Thursday night, the entertainment committee reported. Tonight's program calls for a game hour only.

Large Crowd Due To Attend Event

Friday night's program at Cisco Junior College will be the fourth annual concert of the music department, school officials reported today. Organized in the fall of 1949, the department has made great strides and now is recognized as one of the most active in this part of the state.

Last year, the music department was accredited by the Texas Association of Music Schools. It will graduate students this year in music who will go on to larger institutions for their degrees.

Besides providing two full years of music for the music major, the department takes pride in having almost 50 per cent of the student body participating in some form of music, the greatest outlet being the choral program.

Believing that music can appeal to the eye as well as to the ear, special costumes, staging and lighting have been added for the Friday night program, "Youth and Music."

The program is divided into three parts, with different costumes for each. The highlights of the first part include an arrangement by Tom Scott of "Go Down Death." A special Congo type drum has been made for this number to lend a primitive effect to the music. This number is performed in "black light."

The second group is all sacred, ending with Scott's "The Creation." This number is narrated by Dan Wilkinson and is based on Negro folk sermons by James Weldon Johnson.

The most colorful scene is the last group which provides a western setting in keeping with the "Wrangler" name.

The program has been arranged by Director Robert Clinton and Jack Chambliss of the music department.

A record number of tickets have been sold and there may be a need for a repeat performance in the near future. The tickets are on sale at Dean Drug Store. Reservations may be made by calling the college.

MONEY COULDN'T BUY A LIFE... BUT... BLOOD YOU GIVE... CAN...

A new Gamma Globulin plant is being built by Armour and Co. at Kankakee, Ill., which will be able to extract GG from 60,000 pints of blood a month when it is completed in May. Unless more blood is collected from the American people, from towns such as Cisco, this plant and others may not be able to run full time.

If they don't, some children who otherwise would be protected from the crippling effects of polio by a GG injection may contact the disease and suffer the resultant paralysis.

That's the reason the Mother's Marchers, who are helping in the fight on polio, will solicit blood donors in Cisco on Thursday night. It is entirely possible that Cisco could be an epidemic area this summer and will want those GG shots to protect its children.

Be ready to sign a pledge card!

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLESON Congressman 17th District

It is rather a peculiar thing that most of us in public life cannot refrain from appearing on a radio or television program when invited to do so.

About the only conclusion to be reached is that it is an appeal to the ego and not many can overcome the temptation.

Some of you may possibly have heard the program from San Antonio last Sunday night, on which I appeared in a discussion particularly related to the death of Stalin and its consequences.

The fact that no one can intelligently estimate the situation in Russia or behind the Iron Curtain at this time should be reason enough not to discuss the subject in very great detail.

In addition to talking when one should be silent are the hazards of being partly quoted which changes the meaning intended.

A couple of good examples have developed here in Washington in the last several days.

General Van Fleet appeared before my Committee the other day and testified that there was a shortage of ammunition in Korea.

This sort of talk strikes most of us as an excuse rather than as a reason. Of course we must be prepared for other Military actions in other places but the shooting is in Korea.

As between the Generals, it seems to be a matter of what constitutes a shortage. It seems also to be related to the degree of action at a given place.

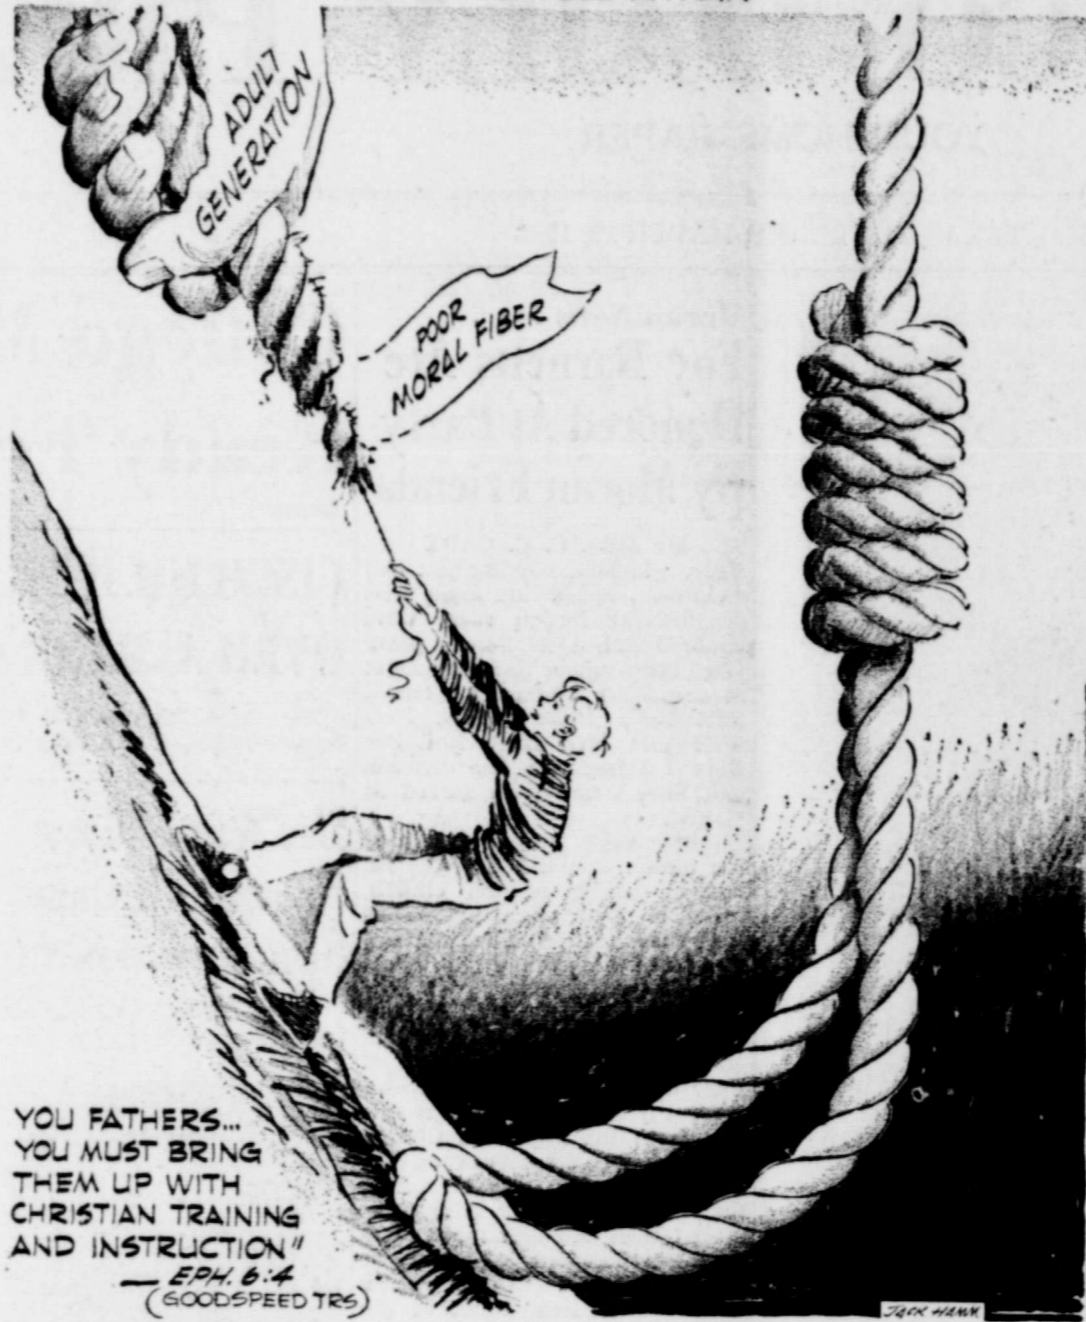

Possibly the same lifting of context, partial quotations, and misinterpretation could be applied to Senator Taft's statement a few days ago regarding the investigation of Communists in colleges and universities.

Just how anyone, who should understand the fanaticism and the conspiracy of World Communism, could reach such a conclusion is beyond my understanding.

I still favor banishing convicted Communists from the shores of this country. Of course those who are citizens of the United States cannot be deported.

The head of the Bureau of Federal Prisons says that the convicted Communists who are now in the Federal penitentiaries continue to carry on their rotten work by the underground.

ROPES TO HOLD A MAN

Soil and Crops Improved by Legumes in Pastures

Dr. Hugh Bennett inspecting an 88-acre pasture improved by the addition of white clover, hop clover and lespedeza.

While the importance of legumes in meadows and pastures is almost universally acknowledged, the specific values of legumes are not always fully recognized.

In a recent address before the American Dairy Science Association, Ralph E. Hodgson, assistant chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, stressed the importance of legumes in dairy pastures and why the dairyman should go all the way in the use of legumes in new pasture seedings and in renovating old grass pastures.

It is estimated that the average yield of present-day pastures has been no more, and probably less, than the average hay crop which is below 1 1/2 tons per acre, or about 1,500 pounds of total digestible nutrients (TDN).

The average percentage of legumes in the unrenovated check for the 4 years following renovation was 13 per cent and for the renovated sods 24 per cent.

WHEN THE TIME COMES - to sign the deed both buyer and seller are usually in a hurry. But alas! it is then the buyer demands an abstract and the seller discovers that he has lost his abstract or never had one. As all title work must be carefully done in these modern days, it takes time and much work. To avoid situations such as these let us suggest you place your abstract orders well in advance of an anticipated need.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

Hotel men are prone to refer to certain of their services as "back of the house" — departments like housekeeping, linen, and kitchen — with which the hotel customer may not have direct contact but which even without his knowledge perform their tasks to add to his comfort.

There is a parallel between these departments and some of those of the hospital. Thus, the patient lying in his bed is brought a tray of food, which he often takes for granted. The planning and work behind the tray never enters his mind, unless something out of the ordinary occurs.

In some hospitals with sufficient personnel, the dietitian or a representative may call upon the patient to offer him a selection of food — within the boundaries of the specific diet ordered by the doctor. The dietitian is trained to carry out the doctor's diet prescription in the same way that the nurse carries out treatment he orders or the pharmacist compounds a medicine. She must know not only what kind of food is allowed on a certain diet but in some instances how much of that food is allowed; for instance, diets for diabetic patients sometimes must be weighed on scales.

The dietitian's knowledge must cover more than just "book learn-in," so to speak. Through practical experience she learns the most appetizing and most digestible way to prepare and serve food. A large part of her job is to train those whom she supervises, and in fact, all who handle the patient's tray, the importance of serving it as promptly as possible to keep it appetizing. Several ways of assuring hot food may be used. One is to prepare all trays in a central kitchen, then rush them to the individual floors by a special elevator or dumb-waiter. Dishes for hot foods are heated before being filled, then metal covers used to retain the heat. Another way is to use pre-heated carts to hold the food, with a separate compartment for foods not to be heated, then serve the tray on the floor where the patient is.

Since a diet ordered is no good unless the patient eats it, much of the dietitian's efforts are directed toward making the food as appealing as possible.

Two very important departments of the hospital are the drug room and the central supply room.

Both departments are charged with a tremendous amount of responsibility. The pharmacist is expected to fill the doctor's prescription accurately, but that is only one part of his job. He must keep certain drugs and medicines in stock in a way that assures their safety. For example, he must keep antibiotic and vitamin preparations refrigerated and must constantly guard against dispensing drugs which are too old.

The drug room, like a great many other hospital departments, usually has an established routine which allows it to give the best service to hospital patients. Most routine prescriptions and refills on medicine are taken care of in the morning and possibly early afternoon, leaving the evening and night, when possibly a smaller staff is on duty, free for emergency orders. If a pharmacist is not on duty, he will be subject to call.

In the central supply room are kept such things as sterile supplies — instruments and equipment like syringes and needles to give medicines — plus other articles such as rubber goods, stands to hold bottles of solution given by vein, and oxygen equipment. Often this department is located near the operating room so that the same equipment can be used to sterilize materials of each. Sometimes, too, the persons working in the sterilizing room can service both the operating room and central supply room.

The drug room and central supply room usually are located as near the center of the hospital as possible so that nursing personnel can obtain needed supplies quickly. Without the services of these two departments the hospital staff would be badly handicapped.

Moisture Ample For Spring Crops in Most Sections

Field work has stopped over the eastern half of the state by frequent light rains and local torrential downpours during the past week. Light rains also covered much of the low rolling plains but amounts tapered off and were of no consequence over each of the high plains. Wheat in the northwest was starting to grow and was showing improved color, but moisture was still short. East of a line from Wichita Falls to Abilene, moisture is now ample to carry both wheat and corn well along toward maturity. West of that line, frequent timely rains must continue for crop prospects to be maintained. Wheat was beginning to joint in the Throckmorton country.

Some cotton, grain sorghum and corn went into the ground in the southern and southwestern counties where only light rains were received early in the week. Over most of the eastern half of the state, however, farmers were anxiously waiting for soils to dry so they can move into full scale cotton, sorghum or corn planting. Cotton and sorghum planting was well past the peak in the Coastal Bend.

Broomecorn planting was nearing completion in the Beeville territory under favorable moisture conditions. Barley was in full head along the coast. Flax in south Texas was blooming, with unusually good prospects for maturing satisfactory yields. Some flax has already been planted in the northern Plateau spring flax area and much additional acreage will be drilled as soon as soils dry. Fruit trees were blooming in northwestern counties.

Developments in the early commercial vegetable areas were for the most part satisfactory, but field work was stopped over a large part of the later areas. Planting of cantaloups, cucumbers, sweet corn, and watermelons was practically completed in the early sections and most areas have ample moisture for crops to get a good start.

Range grass was starting but still was very short over the western plateau as additional light showers added to the moisture from moderate to very heavy rains which fell a week ago. In the northwest wheat pasture was showing some increase. Over the eastern third of the state rescue grass, clovers and small grains were growing rapidly and surplus feed was available in much of that area. Cattle and calves were making good gains on the lush feed in central, blackland, eastern and coastal counties. Supplemental feeding continues in the west but will taper off as new feed develops. Goat shearing was in progress and sheep shearing was starting in some Plateau counties.

New Hampshire and Indiana are the only states which have no motto.

A baseball has a cork center about the size of a marble.

Smart housewives know that the true cost of coffee is measured by the number of cups a pound of coffee makes... not by the price they pay for it in the store.

Good coffee for the past several years at least two cents per cup. But Miss Bible and five other members of the TWC and Club, because of its extra richness of the TWC use less to make each flavorful cup as many people tell us, you can follow the lead of the TWC's Find more flavorful cups out of every pound of coffee. ### Mrs. Briggs Honored At Birthday Dinner

On Tuesday, March 17, the Jolly Birthday Club honored Mrs. Mae Briggs with a party at the home of Mrs. Bill Qualls.

All members of the club were present and a few business details were taken care of. It was decided to have year books made for each member. Mrs. Briggs was presented a potted tree ivy after which a birthday cake and coffee were served.
