The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

ONE OF THE most delightful programs we've heard in a long while was presented at the Lions Club meeting this week. It was a musical program by three masters of the art — Ray Judia, Ken Bass and Travis Parmer. Judia played the piano with solovox attached, Russ and his trombone and Parmer played the bass side.

They didn't bring any music. They just played. The men are old orchestra players and musical geniuses in every sense of the word. They played for nearly 30 minutes before the Lions would let them quit. Boy, it was music.

AND FOR SOME more music, you'll want to drop out to Cisco Junior College tonight. The music department choir is giving an annual spring concert for the folks. The parents of many of-of-town students will be here for the program. Let's all go to show our appreciation for the fine work of Mr. Robert Clinton and Mr. Jack Chambliss and CJC.

IT WILL BE spring at 4:01 p. m. today. At that minute and hour, the sun will be at the spring milepost in the heavens. Our book reports that the last falling frost comes around March 7 in these parts. That's an average date, so don't hold us responsible if the last frost comes a few days later this year.

A YOUNG LADY we know is going to have her first date Saturday night, and it makes us feel kind of old. When we first met her five or six years ago, she had just started to school. It's hard to realize that she's now 14 years old and is going to her first party — an informal, supervised affair. Time marches on, doesn't it.

QUOTES FROM our new copy of the Imperial Type Metal Magazine: A sincere compliment satisfies... Let us resolve to do the best we can with what we've got... Important work is seldom done when one is feeling important... Fresh air is something that few passengers on buses seem to want... Wonder what today's unborn will be saying about us a hundred years hence?

More quotes: It's almost impossible to criticize a person for working too hard... By asking 51 women, a manufacturer of razors found that women get a lift from these words (in order): hope, blush, bachelor, crisp, happiness, bloom, poise, charm... We'll just admit it, most of us will find that we've gotten approximately what we deserve... The consumer must do his best if he expects the best efforts of those who serve him.

More quotes: When the dinner check's paid, everybody relaxes... Innocence vanishes shortly after the child learns to walk... When a personal interest is at stake, some people not only won't listen to reason, but won't even listen... Those at the top must often wonder why they struggled so hard to get there.

More quotes: Evil has never known a lasting triumph... What happens to happily married couples that go apart when alone?... The reason many people fail to be treated as equals is that their manners and personal cleanliness are below human standards... Men retire on pensions but did anybody ever hear of a married woman who was able to retire from the housework?

AN INTERESTING poll was taken recently among the editors of the country. They were asked to decide whether to call President Eisenhower "Ike" and his wife "Mamie" in headlines. In writing headlines, editors like short words that will fit easily in a big type.

About half of the editors thought "Ike" was fine, and the others thought it lacked dignity. Finally they got around to asking the president for an opinion. He doesn't care whether the newspapers use Ike or Eisenhower. He feels that the formal use of titles neither adds nor subtracts from the dignity of the new office.

It's the man in the office who adds or takes away dignity. And all the editors agree that President Ike has done nothing but add to the dignity of his office.

Miss Bible Helps Capture Thief In TWC Campus Race

FORT WORTH, Mar. 19.—Miss Renabel Bible, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bible of Cisco, and a junior music major at Texas Wesleyan College, is one of five music students at TWC credited with the breaking of a theft wave that has plagued colleges and universities over the state for the past several months.

Miss Bible and five other music students along with two members of the TWC faculty captured a Sing Sing ex-convict Monday following a chase that led from TWC's Fine Arts Building to the hallway of Polytechnic High School five blocks away.

The 38-year-old well-dressed man had been seen in the Texas Wesleyan music hall several times in the past two weeks. Each time a musical instrument was reported missing.

When he returned Monday, students began questioning him and he fled from the campus. A posse was formed by students and faculty members, and the man was found about a half hour later at Polytechnic High School. He was held by his captors until Fort Worth police arrived.

City detectives have located most of the musical instruments stolen from TWC and TCU in Fort Worth and Dallas pawn shops. Also located were instruments from Southern Methodist University and Rice Institute.

The man, identified by police as Edward M. MacKenna, told officers he had been working in the Fort Worth-Dallas area for four months.

He said he was released from Sing Sing in New York in early 1952 after serving 10 years of a 12-year sentence. He claims to be a graduate of Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Smith and daughter, Mrs. D. O. Crews, of Canada have returned from a visit with their sons and brothers, Mike and Albert, and their families in Odessa.

Members of the Cisco Volunteer Fire Department announced Friday that everything was ready for the second Cisco Jamboree to be held in the city hall auditorium at 8 p. m. Saturday.

J. H. Kendrick of the Kendrick Quartet is handling the arrangements and will serve as master of ceremonies. Mr. Kendrick reported that a score of performers was lined up for the performance on the Saturday night. Included in the group is Ed Lee and his Cisco Junior College string band, Drucilla Townsend, James Ricker, Roy Thackerson, Paul Hoffman, Al Anderson, Mrs. Ruth Livingston, Hattie's Rhythm Five, the Kendrick Quartet and others.

FIREMEN PLAN 2nd JAMBOREE PROGRAM ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Members of the Cisco Volunteer Fire Department announced Friday that everything was ready for the second Cisco Jamboree to be held in the city hall auditorium at 8 p. m. Saturday.

J. H. Kendrick of the Kendrick Quartet is handling the arrangements and will serve as master of ceremonies. Mr. Kendrick reported that a score of performers was lined up for the performance on the Saturday night. Included in the group is Ed Lee and his Cisco Junior College string band, Drucilla Townsend, James Ricker, Roy Thackerson, Paul Hoffman, Al Anderson, Mrs. Ruth Livingston, Hattie's Rhythm Five, the Kendrick Quartet and others.

Firemen have been busy this week getting the auditorium in better condition for the show. Broken seats have been repaired and additional painting and decorating done. They were expecting a "standing room only" audience.

The fire department is sponsoring the show to raise funds for additional equipment to carry on their work efficiently.

Department members expressed their appreciation to the public and to the entertainers for help on the project. They were well pleased with the first show. Plans call for holding two Jamborees a month, and talent of the area was invited to have a part in the show. Entertainers were asked to contact Mr. Kendrick for a place on the show.

Admission prices have been set at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students through junior college age.

DEATH TAKES JUDGE CALLAWAY, PROMINENT OIL, CIVIC LEADER

James J. Callaway, 72, prominent Cisco and West Texas oil man and civic leader, died at 5:30 p. m. Thursday in a local hospital following an illness of two weeks. Judge Callaway died suddenly of a heart attack after it was thought he was recovering from a recent attack of pneumonia.

Judge Callaway was prominent all over Texas as a lawyer, oil man and civic worker. He had extensive land holdings on the plains and had oil interests all over the state.

He was active in chamber of commerce work and at the time of his death was a director of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and on the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He was an expert on highway problems and was on the highway committee of both the Cisco and West Texas chambers of commerce.

Judge Callaway was a member of the Eastland County Bar Association, the Masonic Lodge and the Cisco Rotary Club. Until his illness the past two weeks he had a perfect Rotary attendance record for many years. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

He had been a resident of Cisco for the past 15 years, coming here to handle his oil business in the area. He was born in Johnson County on March 31, 1881. He was married to Mrs. Margaret Spencer in Cisco on July 18, 1947. They lived at 504 Avenue I.

Judge Callaway graduated from Polytechnic High School in Fort Worth and received his degree in Law from the University of Wisconsin. In World War I, he enlisted in the Army and was discharged as a captain. He taught school to pay for his education.

When he received his discharge at the end of the war, he opened his first law office in Mineral Wells. From there he moved to Rising Star where he practiced law for a time. From there, he moved to Mexico to open an office. While in Mexico he became interested in the oil business when he saw that his clients were making more money than he was, and closed his offices to begin his career as an oil man.

After he returned to private life from Army duty, Judge Callaway worked to see that the remainder of his family received a college education, and after they had been educated he had as his hobby helping boys and girls in the communities where he lived obtain an education. It was estimated that dozens of Texas young men and women had received their college degrees with the help of Judge Callaway.

Tabernacle Will Hold Convention

L. C. Anderson, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle at 1000 Avenue A, has announced a Convention of Prophets to be held at his church Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 24-26. He estimated that several hundred persons would attend the sessions during the three days.

Elder T. M. Jolley of Eldorado, Illinois, will serve as moderator during the three day affair. Services will begin Tuesday with Bible study from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Evangelistic services will be held at 7:45 p. m. each day.

Members of all faiths were invited to attend the convention to ask questions or to take part in the discussion.

The Rev. Leslie Seymour, superintendent of the Cisco District of Methodist Churches, will conduct funeral services which will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. E. H. Lightfoot will assist with the services.

Burial will be in an Abilene cemetery beside his brother, the late Dr. E. E. Callaway. The arrangements were in the hands of Thomas Funeral Home. Masonic Rites will be held at the graveside.

Pallbearers will be Jack Frost of Eastland, Con Collins, Pete Nance, Bill Wright, Walton Baum, Tom B. Stark, Stanley Webb and Bill Hogue. Named as honorary pallbearers were all members of the Eastland County Bar Association, the local Masonic bodies and the Cisco Rotary Club.

Qualifying Opens For City Tourney

Directors of the Cisco Country Club today had set the dates for the annual City Golf Tournament and for the annual Cisco Invitation Golf Tournament. The action was taken Thursday night as the directorate met at the club house.

The city tournament will begin March 29 and continue for four weeks. Qualifying rounds of 18 holes will begin Saturday, March 21, and continue through March 28. Plans call for eight players to be in each flight. Paul Mosley is the defending champion.

The annual invitation tournament will be held May 1, 2 and 3, the directors decided. This event usually is held during the third week of June, but the date was moved up this year in anticipation of a water shortage that might force the club to stop watering greens.

W. G. McDaniel, club secretary, announced the dates of May 1-3 after determining today that no other area clubs had planned golfing programs for the same time. By holding the tournament early in May, the local tourney will be one of the first of the year in West Texas and officials believed it would draw a record number of players.

The club named committees for the invitation tournament. M. M. Tabor and J. A. Robinson were appointed as general co-chairmen. Calcutta Pool and tickets—N. C. Huston, chairman, G. R. Nance, George Boyd, G. C. Rosenthal, E. G. Damron, and O. J. Russell.

WEST TEXAS C of C GROUP WILL STUDY PROPOSED WATER LAWS

BIG SPRING, March 19. — Surface water legislation introduced in the Texas Legislature as result of work of the Governor's State-Wide Water Committee will be discussed here Friday afternoon in a meeting of the Water Resources committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was called by Homer D. Grant, chairman of the WTCC committee. J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth, chairman of the Governor's committee, will explain what its objectives are and review results of its work.

Fred H. Husbands, WTCC general manager, and Paul D. Marble, Jr., manager of its Water Resources department, will lead the general discussion of the legislation.

None of the subject matter has to do with ground water, it was pointed out.

WTCC committee members will be joined in the conference by West Texas members of the Legislature, mayors and city engineers, local chamber of commerce officials, leaders of surface water organizations and West Texas members of the Governor's committee, who include representatives of river authorities and surface water districts.

The surface water measures include a proposed constitutional amendment introduced in the Senate and eight bills designed to make revisions in the state water code that have been introduced in the house.

The proposed constitutional amendment would enable the state to collect fees for the right to divert or use fresh waters. The funds thus obtained would be used to secure not to exceed one-third of bonds or other obligations issued by cities or other political subdivisions to finance diversion or use of public surface waters.

The amendment specifically would prohibit collection of fees for use or diversion of percolating ground waters or waters covered by riparian rights, such as private stock tanks.

The proposed fees would be: for irrigation, 10 cents per acre; for hydro-electric power and other non-consumptive and non-diversionary uses, five mills per acre foot; for all diversionary rights of use other than irrigation, 10 cents per acre foot.

Briefly, the purposes of the eight proposed changes in the water code are:

House Bill 447, by Carpenter—To cancel all permits or certified fillings for appropriation of public waters that have not been put to beneficial use within ten years prior to the effective date of the Act.

House Bill 448, by Carpenter—Creating a Water Pollution Advisory Council to coordinate the powers, duties and functions of five different agencies now charged with some duty with respect to prevention, abatement and control of stream pollution.

House Bill 449, by Cobb of Potter — Amending and clarifying provisions of the present water code that prescribe purpose for which public waters may be appropriated.

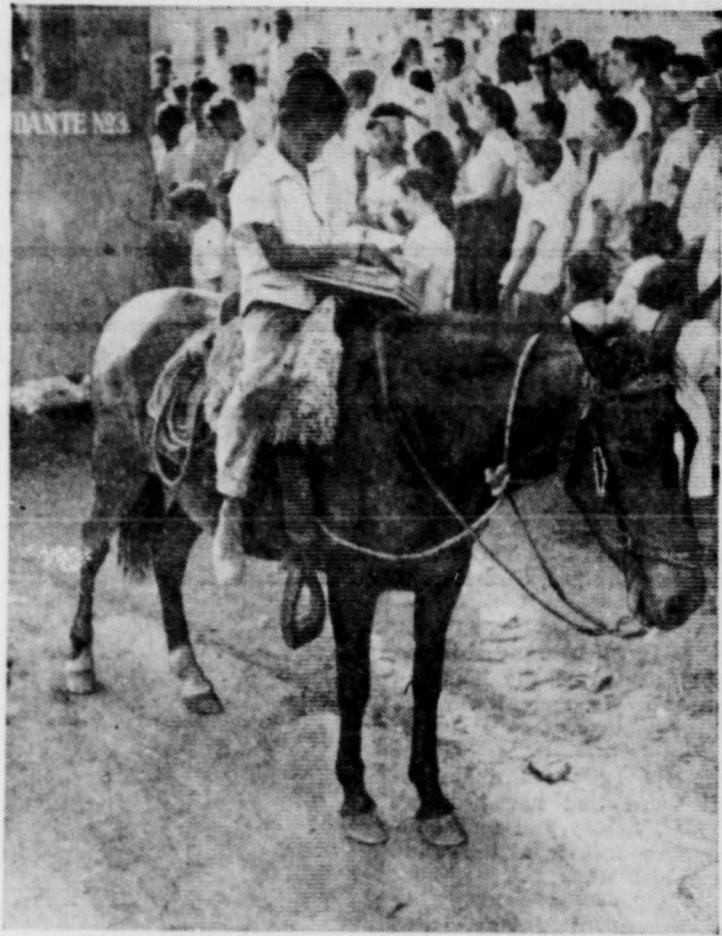

House Bill 450, by Bergman — Amending the water code to provide for issuance of seasonal water permits for specified and relatively brief periods to meet needs for temporary use such as highway construction and oil well drilling.

House Bill 451, by Bergman—Granting the State Board of Water Engineers full authority to enforce by injunction mandatory junction or other appropriate remedy, any and all reasonable rules and regulations promulgated by it — and the terms and conditions contained in certified fillings and permits to appropriate public (surface) waters.

House Bill 452, by Kimbrough — To increase the powers of the Board of Water Engineers to provide designation of a Chairman by the governor, appointment of a Chief Engineer to serve at the will of the Board of three members, and defining the duties of the secretary of the board. The Board now designates one of its number as chairman, and he has authority only equal to that of the other two members. This will make the chairman the chief administrative officer, with such authority as the Board may deem proper.

House Bill 453, by Meredith — To clarify present statutes that may be interpreted as granting blanket permits or control over water of certain streams or parts of streams to state political subdivisions and to make certain that final authority rests with the Board of Water Engineers to grant, in accordance with present water use priorities, all permits for specific installations.

House Bill 454, by Kilgore — To create a Water Resources Committee of nine members, three to be appointed, respectively, by the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House. This is intended to provide for a continuing, long-range study of development and conservation of water resources of the state.

Harvesting Young Plants Puts Delicacies on Table

If You Thin Out by Degrees Many Discarded Plants Can Be Eaten.

Failure to thin out seedlings when they come up too crowded in the garden, will ruin the crop. But the amateur should do his thinning by degrees and try to eliminate inferior plants, and select the best specimens for survival.

No vegetable will mature normally in a crowded row. Not even leaf lettuce, which so many fail to thin, will develop its true crispness and flavor, when the plants are too close together.

The first step in thinning is to make sure each plant has room to grow without tangling roots with a neighbor. Do this as soon as the plants grow large enough to handle. Remaining plants should stand at least an inch apart.

Before they have begun to crowd again many vegetables will be large enough for table use. A great advantage enjoyed by the amateur is the ability to harvest half-grown vegetables, which are often superior in flavor and tenderness. Leaf lettuce is usable when the leaves are two inches wide. Carrots as thick as a little finger make a delectable dish; and beet roots which have just begun to swell should be cooked with their tops, for one of the season's treats.

In harvesting these half grown

Threat Of More Gas Taxes Scored By Lone Star Co.

The rising threat of increased taxes on natural gas brought a sharp protest today from Chester L. May of Dallas, Lone Star Gas Company vice-president who called for "a broadening of the tax base so that other sources would more nearly carry their share of the tax burden." His action was reflected in a letter cautioning Lone Star industrial consumers that "additional taxation of Texas natural gas would further discriminate against industry of the state."

May contends that gas going into interstate pipelines cannot be taxed without the same tax being imposed on the gas consumed in Texas.

"Considerably more than half the gas produced in Texas is consumed in Texas," he said, "and our own Texas people are therefore paying more than 50 percent of the natural gas taxes. Many people seem to think that gas is leaving Texas free of taxes. This is untrue, because for every $100 paid for purchased gas by these interstate companies they must pay to Texas the heavy tax of $12.15."

May charged that the natural gas industry — "and consequently the users of natural gas" — has been and is now taxed beyond the rate at which other major natural resources are taxed.

"By comparison," he said, "the state tax levied on the occupation of producing and gathering natural gas averages 12.15 per cent of value while the oil industry pays 4.60 per cent and sulphur 8 per cent. Numerous other natural resources with a total annual value of over $500 million pay no special state tax whatsoever; yet, the Legislature usually concentrates its attack on only oil, gas and sulphur. When it does so it fails to carry out the constitutional mandate that taxes shall be equal and uniform."

"Under present tax laws," May contended, "the three natural resources of natural gas, oil and sulphur pay at the production and gathering level over 34 per cent of the state's total tax bill of approximately $449 million. Added to this, of course, are millions of dollars paid by these industries in connection with other phases of their business."

WHEN THE TIME COMES — to sign the deed both buyer and seller are usually in a hurry. But alas! it is then the buyer demands an abstract and the seller discovers that he has lost his abstract or never had one. As all title work must be carefully done in these modern days, it takes time and much work. To avoid situations such as these let us suggest you place your abstract orders well in advance of an anticipated need.

COMING UP—Nature's first sign of spring near Munich, Germany, was a cluster of snowdrops with their nodding white flowers pushing bravely through some icy slush. A helping hand is seen digging the cold stuff away to give the snowdrops every chance of surviving. Nature being as it is, the flowers stand a good chance of reaching full maturity.

DRAFT LAWS AND REGULATIONS

(Editor's note: This is one of a series of 10 short articles on the draft law and its rules and regulations.)

Ignorance of the law excuses no one.

That is something everybody has heard, and it applies to a draft board's deliberations and actions, as well as to any other agency set up to administer public law.

The law makes it the responsibility of the individual registrant to do everything that the law requires of him. The law requires him to do these things within a certain time limit. If he doesn't do them, he can lose many privileges and rights given him under the law.

"It is the duty of every man registered with a draft board to be alert and protect his rights under the law," advises Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service.

"Certainly it is the moral responsibility of parents to have their sons make themselves aware of the necessity of complying with all provisions of law and regulations," he says.

"It is too bad that registrants, parents, and employers often sleep on their rights until it is too late, or extremely difficult under our regulations, to do anything about their cases," he says.

General Wakefield says that sometimes a registrant, parents, or an employer never request anything at the board until after an order to report for induction is issued.

Registered men, parents, and employers should begin to concern themselves about the Selective Service law and regulations immediately after men register, General Wakefield points out.

The state draft director reminds all registrants, their parents, employers, public officials and citizens in general that the doors of Texas draft boards are always open to tell the people how to get information and help with draft problems.

SPECIAL NOTICE

A school of the Prophets will convene March 24, 25 and 26 at the Gospel Tabernacle, 1000 Ave. A, Cisco, for all factions of religion, where you are free to ask any question, and take part in the discussions.

The time has arrived for each individual to give due consideration to facts as they are in every walk of life, especially in the field of religion, for all men are religious in one way or another. The Bible spoke of vain religion. Solomon said, "There is a way that seemeth right, but the end thereof is death." Jesus said, "To know the truth is the way of life." St. John 8:32.

The great cathedrals and towering steeped churches along with various mission halls, who propagate their own conceptions of the word of God, which serves to fence in the people of God, with the ideologys and dogmas of men. Today there is up into the hundreds of sects of religions in the world. The gospel that our Lord spoke was one, and produced only one people. St. John 17:20. Is there a solution to the problem that will dissolve the ill effect of religion, and arrive at the proper conclusion in the proper way — or the Bible way? 1 Cor. 29:33.

Yes, we are proud to present to you these three days of just such services to give you the privilege with such ministerial courtesy that recognizes you as a brother, for if we fall to love our brother that we have seen, how can we love God whom we have never seen. St. John 4:20. God has qualified men who are able to carry on this type work, men such as Elder T. M. Jolly of Eldorado, Illinois, the moderator of this meeting, and many others that are among the very best of today. We are expecting quite a delegation of people from all directions of the United States. Everyone is welcome to this great Feast Of Charity, regardless of color, class or creed. Services begin Tuesday, March 24. Bible study 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Evangelistic service 7:45 p. m. through March 26th.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

How many of the technicalities and so-called "loopholes" in our laws governing conduct of criminal trials could be eliminated without danger to innocent citizens? Some critics of our criminal trial system feel that certain safeguards in our system could be abolished without such danger. But many believe the danger to the innocent to be quite substantial.

While most everyone is in favor of more efficient law enforcement, a relative few would accomplish this aim at the expense of individual rights. A democratic society pursues conflicting aims in its criminal procedure — to convict the guilty without endangering the innocent.

The protections provided by our laws for the rights of those accused of crime from a primary distinction between our way of life and that existing behind the iron curtain. We start out with the premise that every individual is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Then we rely upon various safeguards to insure that those actually innocent will not be wrongfully convicted.

If these safeguards are to be effective in protecting the innocent, our courts must insist upon their strict observance. This means that cases must be reversed and new trials must be granted in instances where the accused has not been afforded every protection guaranteed by our laws. Many of these cases must obviously involve persons who are actually guilty. And sometimes the delays occasioned by mistrials and new trials will allow the guilty to escape punishment. Witnesses disappear and memories grow dim as the case moves from one appeal to another.

Admittedly, the guilty should be punished. But how far dare we go in reforming and speeding up the processes of criminal justice? Our judges and lawyers believe that any criminal procedure constructed solely with professional offenders in mind, or on the supposition that "the rogues have too many chances to escape" would result in a ritual whose efficiency would be equalled only by its terror.

So, while Bar committees are constantly working on plans for increasing the efficiency of our criminal trial machinery, progress must necessarily be gradual and orderly. Human rights and the individual are too important in our society to take a chance on any overnight upheaval of procedures and safeguards which have evolved over a period of several hundred years.

Our safeguards include the right not to be detained without being advised of the nature of the accusation against us, the right not to be coerced into a confession, the right to be represented by counsel, the right to a fair and prompt jury trial, and many others.

How many of these can we afford to give up in the interests of improving our criminal trial system? How many would you waive if you should become an innocent suspect in a criminal case?

Mrs. A. G. Sander and son, Dickie, left this morning for Dallas for a weekend visit. Mr. Sander will join them Sunday and accompany them home.

New York and San Francisco Fairs commemorated the 150th anniversary of George Washington's inauguration.

But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbor?—(St. Luke X, 29.)

The good Samaritan had compassion on the man beaten by thieves after two others passed him by and he, said Jesus, was the neighbor; and He commanded, Go, and do thou likewise.

How many times each day do we "pass by on the other side" of those about us who would be comforted by just a smile or a pleasant word from our lips! How can we who profess to love the Saviour neglect to show compassion and mercy ourselves?
