The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

COMES A note from Mrs. Sutton Crofts, as follows: "I'm always having a bright idea for a course of action and then letting time get away from me until it's too late to do anything about it! Do you ever have that trouble? (Editor's note: Our desk is piled high with things we're going to do something about sometime.)"

"But this time I'm going to speak my piece even though the season is almost past. Maybe somebody would like to work on it for next winter. I have kept a big bag full of yarn of all colors, laboring under the delusion that I would sometime knit it up. But now I know that I won't before my last two children have graduated from college, at least, and in the meantime it ought to be keeping some little Koreans warm. So if any kind soul would like to take it and make it up into caps and mittens and little sweaters for the Koreans or for our own needy, I would be happy to let her have it. If it's too much for one knitter, she could pass it around to her knitting pals. They can come for it any evening, or phone and I will bring it around. I also have an assortment of needles and instructions. Thanks for passing the word along."

AND A NOTE from Mr. R. W. Mancill, which might well be entitled "Enlighten Me," follows:

"I am now going to drift back to 1876 when I went to school in a log cabin on the bank of Sandy Creek at the old Fort Griffin crossing five miles west of Double Mountain in Stephens County. My teacher's name was Mrs. Waites. I remember one afternoon as school turned out for the day that I had a very bad cold, and Mrs. Waites said, 'Robert, I hope your cold will be better tomorrow morning,' and I said, 'I do too.'"

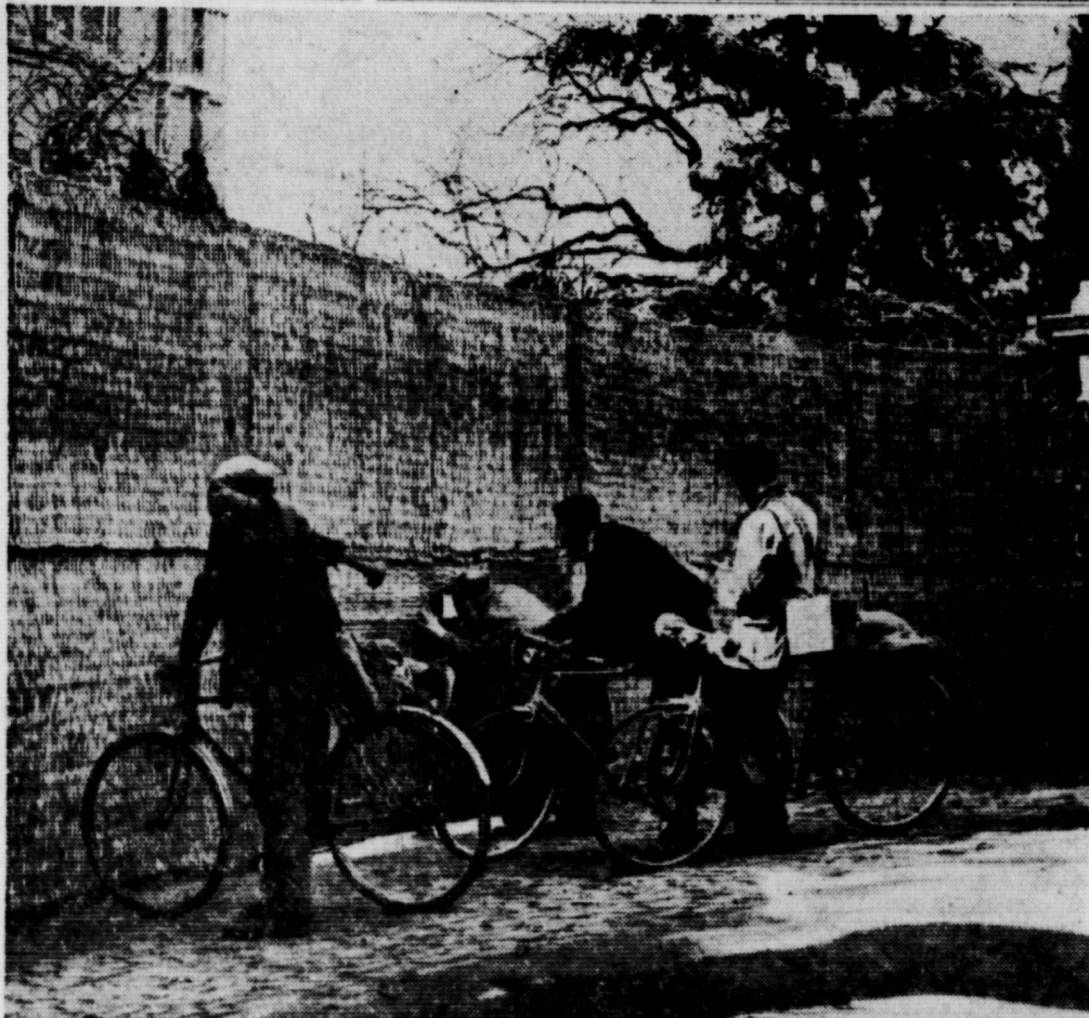

"The next morning when I walked in my teacher said, 'Robert how is your cold?' I replied, 'It's worse,' and she called me to the front and told me that if I didn't have a cold she would thrash me for saying 'worse.' 'Now, they have found 'worse' to be correct. It's still the good old breakfast, dinner and supper for me. This is a funny old world, but I sure do like it. 'There are a good many things I can't understand these days. For instance, what I learned in the old days doesn't seem to be any good today. Sometimes I wish I had waited until now to go to school. I didn't like school in the old days anyhow. For one thing, they made us say speeches on Friday afternoons. And I was always scared of my own voice. They called it 'speech' then. Later, it was 'recite,' and now it's a 'reading.' These changing times."

"I remember the days when somebody died the neighbors got together and made a coffin out of planks. The body was placed in the coffin and 25¢ pieces were gently laid over each eye. Today, if it was still the custom, it would take two 50¢ pieces as money is worth just about half as much."

"There are other things I can't understand. For example, you wear a hole through your right sock with your big toe. Take that sock off and put it on the left foot and the big toe on that foot goes right through the same hole. 'Sometimes, I yearn for the good old days when they would bring out a pretty girl on the stage, place her in a six foot wooden casket, nail the lid down and take a cross-cut saw and saw her in two. Then, they would draw a curtain for a moment and she would get up and sing. They were the days, boys. They were the days.'"

Mr. Bob promises to write us again on the anniversary of the cyclone that wrecked our town many years ago. The anniversary of this event is in April. We're always glad to hear from you, sir."

THE COUNTRY CLUB folks have been asked to remember the family night party scheduled for 7:30 p. m. today at the club. Bring a covered dish and the whole family, the committee said. The club is getting set to give away a TV set April 4 at a pre-ester party at the club. You can see it on display at Damon Tire and Supply. It's a big one and you can see club members for details.

Nearly $65,000 of the fund has already been pledged, and today's drive sought to complete the $100,000 subscription goal.

Jordan Is Named Area Girl Scout Board President

George Jordan, manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Breckenridge, was elected president of the Heart of Texas Area Girl Scout Council at the annual meeting Thursday afternoon and night at Mineral Wells, it was reported here today.

Mrs. Don Choate and Mrs. Forbes Wallace represented the Cisco Girl Scout Association at the annual meeting.

The afternoon program was devoted to the business of the council, including annual reports, the area budget, camp plans and the election of area officers and committee chairmen.

A dinner opened the evening program, and the highlight was the installation of executive board members.

Mrs. Lawrence Sommerfield and children of Valley Mills were expected today for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Zander.

Spring Planting Gains Momentum In Most Sections

Corn, sorghum and cotton planting gained momentum as soils dried over the eastern half of the state. Some poorly drained fields, however, were still too wet, particularly in the state over the past week. Some poorly drained fields, however, were still too wet, particularly in northern and eastern counties where additional showers were received early in the period. Wheat development above the Cap Rock was variable.

Some early wheat in that area was deteriorating from lack of moisture while less advanced wheat was still holding on. Strong winds picked up some dust and was taking the already short moisture supply. In the low rolling plains most wheat was making rapid growth. North Texas wheat was making excellent development. Oats were heading in the southwest.

Corn planting moved northward to the Red River and was in full swing in central Texas as soils dried. Crusting of soil following the heavy rains of the previous week will necessitate considerable replanting in some central and eastern counties. Cotton, sorghum and corn planting was practically completed in the coastal bend and southern counties.

Some cotton in the lower valley has reached the 8 leaf stage. Peanuts and broomcorn were going into the ground in southern counties and a few fields in that area were already up. Rice planting was starting. Flax in south Texas continued to make good development for the most part. On the high plains alfalfa was starting to grow and was ready for first irrigation. In the northern low plains alfalfa was making good early growth.

Conditions were favorable in most commercial vegetable areas. Summer-like temperatures were general over most of the lower Rio Grande Valley. Field work in most valley sections was stopped and most of the vegetables, particularly onions, were from shed supplies.

Range grass was greening over the western plateau and low rolling plains but still was very short. Additional rain is needed over much of that area to maintain development as strong winds were again depleting the short moisture reserves. Most cattle were already off wheat to be saved for grain in the low rolling plains while on the high plains some wheat will be grazed until early April.

Over the eastern half of the State spring grass, clovers and small grains continued to grow very rapidly with surplus feed available in most of that area and cattle and calves were making good gains. Some supplemental feeding was resumed in low plains counties as cattle were taken off small grain pastures. Supplemental roughage supplies were getting short over the west but can be stretched until new grass comes along.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit will be in Cisco next Tuesday to take blood donations of local citizens. Virtually all of the work in connection with the program is being done by volunteers.

In the medical room, you will find either Dr. E. E. Addy, Dr. D. Ball or Dr. J. T. Lawrence, who pass final judgement on whether your blood will be accepted. In the medical room also are the members of Mrs. Bill Mitcham's Temperature Committee.

It is their job to take your temperature, your blood pressure, your blood count, and to record your weight. A donor must weigh at least 110 pounds. This committee is composed of Mrs. Mitcham, Mrs. C. M. Townsley, Mrs. Ray Chapman, Mrs. Homer Slicker, Mrs. Sterling Drumwright, Mrs. J. J. Tabieman, Mrs. A. E. Jamison, and Mrs. Louise Weber of Rising Star.

A member of this committee will also give you a small glass of gingerale, as required by the National Blood Program, before your receptionist ushers you into the donor room.

Mrs. J. J. Porter and her nurses aide committee will be present in the donor room to assist the Red Cross nurses. Nurses aides serving on Mrs. Porter's committee are: Mesdames Edward Lee, S. J. Nuckols, Dick Lauderdale, N. M. Howard, Robert Mitchell, and M. Schlaefer.

Here in this room you will lie down and loosen your clothing before the Red Cross nurse applies the skin anaesthetic which enables her to insert the needle into your arm without even a small prick. The small tube which runs from your arm to the collection bottle has been nicknamed the spaghetti tube, and is sometimes called the "Life Line."

Completion Tests Underway In Clark

The McElroy Ranch Company of Fort Worth has announced locations for four Mississippi lime oil tests in the area of their recent discovery wells some eight miles southeast of Cisco. Drilling operations is already underway in one of the tests.

Already drilling is the McElroy No. 2 Wright, located 990 feet from the north and 1,263 feet from the west lines of Section 2, Block 3, H&TC Survey, on a 238.75 acre lease. Surface pipe has been set and the well was drilling at about 900 feet today.

Other locations include the McElroy No. 1 Alta Walker et al, located 1,710 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of Section 3, Block 3, H&TC Survey. The McElroy No. 1-D Wright is located on a 20-acre tract 1,050 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of Section 3, Block 3, H&TC Survey.

The fourth location is the McElroy No. 1-A Farmer et al. It will be 50 feet south of the No. 1 Farmer and 2,200 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west lines of Section 2, Block 3, H&TC Survey.

The No. 1 Farmer blew out several weeks ago in completion work and had to be cemented off to bring it under control. In the blow out, oil seeped out to upper formations and flowed from a nearby rat-hole and from a hollow tree. The firm recovered some 1,800 barrels of the seepage oil in earthen pits.

It was understood that the No. 1 Farmer hole will be utilized to test upper sands to about 1,000 feet. Pipe has been cemented to this level. It was thought that oil in the upper levels might have resulted from the Mississippian blow-out.

Elsewhere in the area, the KLB Drilling Company No. 1 F. E. Clark, seven miles southwest of Cisco, was undergoing completion tests. A section of the lower Mississippi lime was hot and treated with acid, failing to yield oil. Plans called for shooting higher in the hole where oil flowed on drill stem tests.

A new area project is the Duquesne Oil Co., Eastland, No. 1 J. M. Radford as a deep wildcat in a shallow producing area some nine miles northeast of Cisco. Location for the 4,100 foot project is 991 feet from the north and 1,052 feet from the west lines of Section 8, Block 4, H&TC Survey.

Those who are unable to go to the office were asked to call Mr. Conger Monday morning at No. 129. He will arrange to visit the home that afternoon for the registration.

All parents who were missed Wednesday were requested to go to the West Ward office Monday.

The importance of registering all students of school age for next year was pointed out by Mr. Birt, who said that the school received state aid on the census report that was sent in. Any student missed on the census will cost the school the state aid for the coming year.

BLOOD DONOR PROGRAM

An extensive educational campaign to inform its policy holders and others that their blood is urgently needed now in support of the blood donor program of the American Red Cross and cooperating agencies is being carried on this month throughout the nation by a large life insurance company's agents and other field representatives.

The appeal's immediate urgency is based largely upon the expansion of the blood service program this year to provide gamma globulin, a blood derivative, for use as protection against the paralytic effects of polio.

Provisions must be made now for the processing and storing of gamma globulin, so that it will be ready for use during the summer months when polio strikes most frequently. Meanwhile, the Red Cross must continue to supply blood plasma for the Korean battlefield, must store quantities of blood for military and civilian defense, and maintain a supply for sickness and injury cases of civilians.

A key activity in the campaign for blood donors will be the distribution by the insurance men, some 19,000 in number, of a pamphlet titled, "Thanks, You Saved My Life!" which sets forth the importance of meeting the increased need for blood. The publication will also be made available to the company's medical examiners in the United States. This pamphlet has been published with the cooperation and advice of the Red Cross, the Department of Defense, and the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

The current blood donor campaign coincides with the annual Red Cross fund-raising campaign. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Cisco next Tuesday.

THIS IS THE PROOF—A week-end crowd forms a long line at the entrance to the Eiffel Tower's elevators, after several days of balmy weather in Paris. The idea is to get up on one of the tower's many platforms to enjoy the beautiful view of the city, as well as the fresh air. This is one of the most popular tourist attractions in Paris, and is also popular with the French.

Spacing Seeds Saves Work Thinning Garden Rows

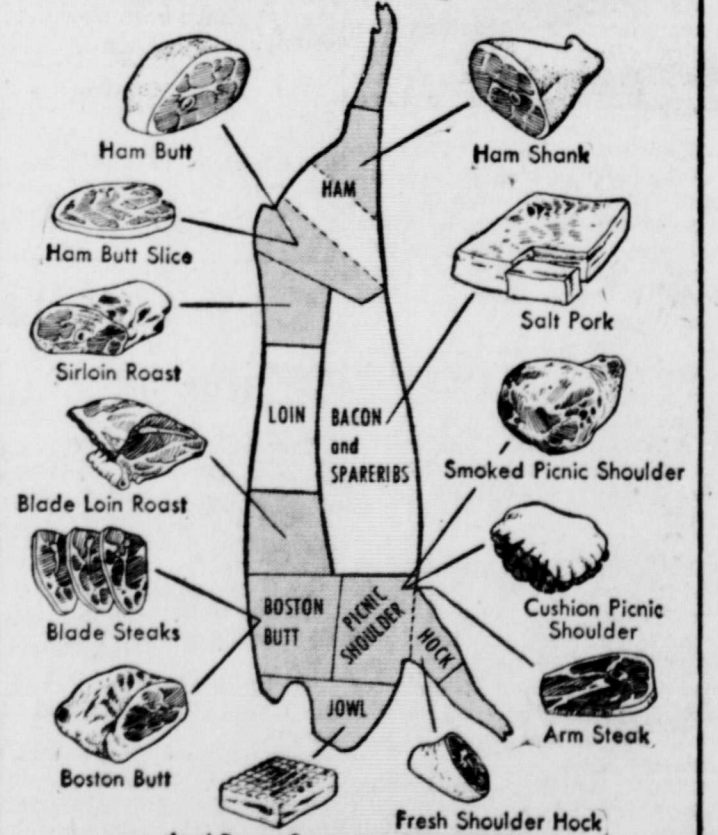

Lets Small Seeds Drop So That Their Roots Will Not Entangle.

When seed is sown too thickly, much of it is wasted, but much more serious is the crowding of seedlings which usually results. It takes a lot of work to thin out the excess plants, and if this is neglected the crop may be a failure.

It is also possible to sow too few seeds, and there should always be some spare plants to replace those which succumb to accidents, or disease. The number of extras required will vary with the porosity of the soil and the earliness of sowing.

Exact directions cannot be given for the spacing of small seeds, but they should always be dropped so that each lies far enough from its neighbors to prevent the roots from entangling. Thin sowing is made easier if fine seed is mixed with dry sand, and the mixture sown as the sand will keep the seeds farther apart.

If seed is known to be of substandard germination, thicker sowing is advisable. Carrot seedlings are feeble, and often have difficulty breaking through the soil if it is at all inclined to crust. Use twice as much carrot

To buy meat wisely it is important that the homemaker know the retail cuts in her market. Too often she purchases the same few cuts time after time. In the case of pork, this leaves about 70 per cent of the carcass that is in little demand, as shown by the shaded portions of the above chart.
