

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

FRIDAY IS RANCH Day in Cisco, and everybody's invited to attend the various feature events of the day. Let's all pitch in and help the folks at the college have a big show.

The college does a very great deal for our community in a good many ways. It contributes to the city's general spirit, as well as to the educational and cultural advantages. Some 500 area high school students will be here Friday. Let's help make the kind of impression on them that will make them want to return next fall as students.

This is an opportunity for Cisco to put its best foot forward.

SOMEBODY TOLD us that the Fort Worth TV people plan to send a camera out to make pictures of the Ranch Day parade and program. And, we understand, there will be representatives of a number of area newspapers in town for the day.

You won't want to miss the big parade. Understand Graham's Possum Kingdom Roundup Club will be here with 18 of their white horses, and a pretty sight they always make.

FROM REP. OMAR Burkett comes a little booklet that gives facts and figures about the three counties of the 76th district, and he represents them in the state legislature. Here's some of the data about Eastland County:

The county has 995 square miles 23,942 residents, was created in 1858, is 1,100 to 1,640 feet above sea level and has an annual rainfall of 27.51 inches. (We're a little below average on rainfall for the past three years, wouldn't you say.)

The county has sandy soils, muddy loam, black sandy, and rich alluvials. Timber includes mesquite, oak, black jack, cedar and elm. About all of the various kinds of grasses are present.

Eastland County produces nearly 1,000,000 barrels of oil per year. More than 40,000 acres of land are planted in peanuts each year (moisture permitting.) Beef cattle and dairying are important industries.

The county has the following towns: Eastland (3606 people), Cisco (5216), Ranger (3951), Rising Star (1282), Gorman (1313), Dothan (20), Scranton (150), Nimrod (40), Romney (20), Pioneer (250), Carbon (441), Morton Valley (40), Olden (310), Okra (40), Desdemona (198), and Mangum (5).

MR. GEORGE IRVINE of the Humble Pipe Line Company tells us that his Colorado scouts have started sending in reports. The trout are bigger, wilder and tougher than ever up around his Creed fishing streams. He should have some outstanding stories to tell after his annual trip up there this summer.

OUT AT THE City Park below Lake Cisco dam, the city has completed installing a pump on one of the test water wells. They've hooked a water meter on the line and in a few days they'll have an accurate check on the volume of the well. The well has been putting out a pretty fair stream of water since pumping began.

THEY'RE STRUCK water over at the A-G Motor Company. A well has been sunk back of their building. Understand they hit water at 172 feet and stopped drilling at 183 feet after it was apparent that they had uncovered a good stream. They're now setting pipe and getting ready to put the well on production.

YOU WILL WANT to begin getting ready for the annual city cleanup campaign. The drive begins Monday and will cover the entire city. Commissioner Albert Hansen and his street department will be in charge of this campaign.

Everyone has been asked to place all moveable trash in containers or in bundles to help the trucks as they make the rounds. A schedule of where and when the trucks will work will be in The Press soon.

Let's make Cisco a clean town.

Over 100 Floats Due To Take Part In Street Parade

All plans were complete today for the annual Cisco Junior College Ranch Day parade and program here Friday, and more than 500 area high school students are expected to be special guests for the occasion.

The day's activities will begin with registration of guests and ex-students at the college at 10 a. m. The morning will be devoted to student activities on the campus. A snack lunch will be served to the visitors at noon at the college cafeteria.

The Ranch Day parade is scheduled to get underway at 2 p. m. All parade floats and entries have been asked to gather at Avenue D and 15th Street at 1:30 p. m. to be assigned places. The parade will move north on Avenue D to 3rd Street.

The parade is expected to contain more than 100 entries, including high school bands from Cisco, Moran, Rising Star, Cross Plains, Eastland, Gorman, De Leon, Comanche and Baird. A good many floats were being prepared by business firms and organizations.

Plans call for a band to lead each of eight sections of the parade. It was announced.

A program of cutting horse exhibitions has been planned for 3 p. m. Friday at the Roundup Club arena. The Ranch Day barbeque will be held at 5:30 p. m. at the college. Tickets are on sale to business men and school patrons at $1 each. The visiting high school students will be the guests of the college at the barbeque, school officials said.

A special Ranch Day program will begin in the college auditorium at 6:30 p. m. The public has been invited to attend this function. The annual Ranch Day Ball will be held in the building over A-G Motor Company, beginning at 8:30 p. m.

A feature of the ball will be the election of the annual Ranch Day Queen. Nominees for the honor include Misses Patsy King, Barbara McCauley, Vella Rae Henry, Carlene Pence and Marjorie June Poe.

In a statement today, Mayor G. C. Rosenthal called on all Cisco citizens to "join with the junior college to make Ranch Day a successful event." He urged citizens to participate in all activities and to help welcome the several hundred visitors expected for the day.

"The college belongs to us all," Mr. Rosenthal said. "And it is our duty to support its programs and to help with its activities. Let's do our part to make Ranch Day a happy occasion."

Air Reservists' Records In Storm

Air reservists in the Texas and New Mexico areas, have been asked to delay correspondence with Headquarters, 14th Air Force in Macon, Georgia, until 20 June, due to the temporary dislocation of Air Force Reserve Personnel records caused by the tornado that swept through Robins AFB, Georgia, last Thursday.

Colonel R. W. Warren, Commanding Officer of 3d Air Reserve District in Austin, Texas, stated that, "The administrative moratorium was asked by Major General C. E. Thomas, Jr., Commanding General of 14th Air Force in a personal appeal to over 65,000 reserve officers and airmen whose records are housed at Robins AFB."

The twister ripped into two Fourteenth Air Force buildings which contained reservists personal files, demolishing one building and severely damaging the other. Many records were damaged, particularly those of the reserve airmen, and it is anticipated that it will take some time for regrouping of the records.

GAME HOUR PLANNED

Members of the Cisco Country Club will hold a game hour program at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the club house. Coffee and cookies will be served. Members and their families have been invited to attend.

Both Governor Allan Shivers and Speaker Reuben Senterfitt thought they knew. Both predicted that no new tax measure would pass.

Most Texas finance companies disagree by saying that the small loan bills would only drive loan sharks underground and would give a foreign corporation unfair advantages over reputable Texas lending institutions.

The Texas Liquor Control Board reports an increase in revenues. Administrator Coke R. Stevenson, Jr., reported that state liquor collections in March of this year were nearly $1.5 million, greater than the same month a year ago.

J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, urged school people to take the lead in fighting un-American influences. A new state law requires all persons paid with state funds to file loyalty oaths.

The Legislature offered a way for the state to get a courts building and office building without additional cost to taxpayers. The proposed constitutional amendment, to be voted on by the people in November, would authorize the use of Confederate pension funds for the buildings.

SHORT SNORTS: Two "deans of the House" were among legislators who received engraved tie clasps as emblems of 10 years' service. They were Representatives S. J. Isaacs, 84, of El Paso, and Henry G. Lehman, 49, of Giddings.

"As it Looks From Here"

OMAR BURELSON
Congressman
17th District

A few days ago, I appeared on a radio broadcast by the Texas Quality Network in a discussion of the "Reciprocal Trade Agreements."

Senator George W. Malone of Nevada and Congressman John F. Lyle, of Corpus Christi, were the other Members of Congress participating. Some of you may perhaps have heard the program.

How does foreign trade affect citizens of Texas? Well, the following figures are pretty impressive. The latest accurate figures show that more than 34% of all the cotton produced in this country is exported; 48% of all the wheat, 23% of all the tobacco, 37% of rice, and 45% of dried whole milk is shipped abroad. In all, 1/3 of the cash crops in our agricultural production is exported. In dollars and cents, agricultural exports annually amount to almost three billion dollars. In the case of cotton, corn, wheat, rice, and peanuts, their exports have a direct influence on domestic prices and of course lessen the competition they meet in the home market.

One of the most important pieces of legislation now pending in the Congress is a renewal and extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements. President Eisenhower has asked that the law be extended for one year and that during this time an overall study be given to the world trade picture.

There is a wide difference of opinion among Members of Congress on the subject. The old philosophies of a high protective tariff as opposed to free trade are involved. At one time, this question, to a large extent made the difference between Democrats and Republicans. Incidentally, in this day and time, we often wonder what makes the difference.

Be this as it may, many of us find that in dealing with this issue, the shoe is at times on the other foot. It seems to me we need to adjust our thinking and modify our efforts to stay in line with the development of our economy which has become so very complex in recent years.

For instance, I want to see the greatest possible exports of agricultural commodities in surplus supply. We in the agricultural areas want a low tariff on manufactured goods which we ourselves do not produce. A favorable balance in this respect means the prosperity or depression for the farmer. Historically, we have had to sell our farm products on an unprotected market and buy manufactured goods on a protected market. I have consistently argued, and did so on the radio program which I mentioned, that the tariff barriers protecting manufactured goods made in the industrial North and Northeast have for a hundred years been a form of subsidy for manufacturers.

Now here is where the shoe is on the other foot. Today, there is being imported into this country more than a million barrels of crude oil daily on which a very low duty is imposed. The importers are the great major oil companies of this country which makes the problem even more difficult than if a foreign government itself was doing the importing. The major oil companies insist that they are only supplementing domestic production. As a matter of fact, they are replacing it. Aside from shutting in production by proration in Texas, it is having and will have a depressing effect on the oil market, to the detriment of the smaller companies and the independent producer.

It is an understatement to say that the problem confronting us in connection with Foreign Trade Agreements is a serious one. I strongly favor Reciprocal Trade Agreements, but think we must have due consideration in connection with oil imports to maintain a healthy oil economy in this country.

T-Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas L. Morrison of Houston visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morrison this week.

Mrs. Berta Carmichael Entertains Group

The Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Berta Carmichael for business. Louise Karkalits, chairman, was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Irene Hallmark led in the opening prayer. A short business session was held with routine business being transacted.

Mrs. Felton Underwood taught the lesson and Mrs. Gorum Pollard led the closing prayer.

Those present were Mrs. Felton Underwood, Mrs. Irene Hallmark, Mrs. Gorum Pollard, Miss Louise Karkalits, Miss Yayne Estes, Miss Leatha Estes and the hostess, Mrs. Berta Carmichael.

Susie and Bill Grantz of Mertzor are visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reynolds, while their parents attend the Baptist convention in Houston.

Notice

Personally, I would suggest before certain Cisco merchants go uptoeing thru the tulips to Houston to a Convention, that they go with a clear conscience, by buying out the Credit Bureau they sold to me under signature agreement of Board of Directors, rather than continue to torment me.

It was up to the merchants here to protect this office against infringement of any character, and to see that I was reinstated with ACE of A, or else see that I was reimbursed for the money borrowed at 4% interest to buy what you sold me — the Credit Bureau of the town of Cisco.

After six years of opposition there may not be too much in my office to buy, but the principle still exists, and your present methods remind me of Worldgram of June 8, 1952, quote:

in China: "At any moment a Communist cop who dislikes your looks may slap you into jail. If out of jail and lucky, you may get an exit permit in four months. As for compensation for your property, forget it. It's the Communist idea of a very funny joke."

This office is now affiliated with NACE, and has been for five years — a new national organization.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

The hospital has many safeguards for the patient, beginning the minute he enters its doors. A set routine of history taking, physical examination, and diagnosis at various steps along the way makes certain that nothing is overlooked in his care. Even his chart is a safeguard because everything relative to diagnosis and treatment has to be put in writing.

Except for instances in which the patient must have emergency surgery, hospital routine requires that within twenty-four hours after admission his history, results of a physical examination, and the results of laboratory studies pertinent to his illness must be recorded on his chart. The doctor in charge of the case must state in his own words what he thinks is wrong; this is the admission diagnosis. Before an operation a diagnosis (preoperative) must be made, and again at its completion, the doctor describes what he found and what he did and makes a post operative diagnosis. Finally, tissue removed from the patient is sent to the laboratory, where the hospital's pathologist renders the pathologic diagnosis on the basis of his examination. In some operations the pathologist will look at a specimen of tissue in the operating room during surgery. For example, if cancer of the breast is suspected, the operation may not be completed until the pathologist has examined under the microscope a "frozen section" of tissue to see if malignancy is present.

Medical consultation may be requested by the patient and his family at any time and is required before an operation which may interrupt a pregnancy or a suspected pregnancy, or before an operation to remove a baby through the mother's abdomen (a cesarean section). The patient's physician calls in another doctor who advises regarding treatment or surgery. If an operation is done, the surgeon must have as his assistant a member of the hospital staff who is considered fully qualified and must get the written consent of the patient or his next of kin for the operation.

Thus it can be seen that physicians composing the hospital staff have provided a system of checks and balances against individual error for the benefit of patients trusted to their care.

High School News Notes

By RHEILDA REED
Band Results

The Cisco High School band went to Stephenville Saturday for the Interscholastic Band meet. Our Band won Sweepstakes, which is a first division rating in concert playing, sight reading, and marching. This is the first time our band has won Sweepstakes since 1949. We are very proud of them and feel that they are a very outstanding organization in our school.

Odessa Choir

The Choir from Odessa High School presented an assembly program to the students of our high school Thursday. Many of us had heard of this fine choir, but few of us ever had the privilege to hear it. It was indeed a fine program.

Scrimmage

There will be an intra-squad scrimmage of the Lobo Football team, Friday night at 8 o'clock at Chesley Field. The Cisco Lobo Band will be on hand to play for this event to lend all the atmosphere needed for a thrilling football game. It is hoped that there will be bands from surrounding areas to play also. There will be several bands in town taking part in the Ranch Day festivities. The Cisco Boosters Club is sponsoring this and we know it will be a big success.

E. H. A. Brunch

The second period homemaking class had a brunch this morning in order to get some experience in the art of preparing for guests. The girls planned to have this brunch for the girls only. They plan to have a buffet dinner shortly before school is out for the summer. When they have this dinner they plan to have some parents or some members of the faculty.

Gossip

Everyone seems to be receiving graduation presents. Daniel Gray, Bob Lloyd, and Kelly Coats received watches this week. It must be nice to be a senior. The homemaking girls have relied on their brunch. They came up with some menus that would make a wooden man ill. Mr. Goza has started collecting cats in the biology lab. Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair were standing in front of the bulletin board when the results of our band were posted. Mr. St. Clair was overheard talking to Mrs. St. Clair, "Gee, look! Cisco got Sweepstakes, remind me to listen to them sometime." There seems to be a quiet campaign going on between the supporters of C. A. Ditmore and Bobby Qualls, especially wherever Buddy Deen is. There seems to be a beard growing contest between Fred Shockley, Irv Brunkenhoefer, and Bobby Miller. Bobby has the lead right now.
