The date is considered the day on which the Roman wolf adopted the city's founders, Romulus and Remus. The torches have not been used since before World War II.

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

The Foreign Affairs Committee of which I am a member, has been holding hearings the past week in connection with military preparedness in this country and nations of the Free World who are our allies.

Testifying before the Committee have been Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Director of Mutual Security Harold Stassen, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, and General Omar Bradley, Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff. These hearings will continue for several weeks to come.

Most of these officials have returned from travels in various parts of the world to acquaint themselves with the present situation. Generally, their testimony is very much the same as that heard in previous years. It adds up to the opinion that we continue to live in dangerous times, that Russian Communism is on the march wherever there is weakness, and that the objective for world domination as announced by Marx, Lenin, and Stalin has not diminished.

All this, taken in connection with world trade, creates a picture which should be a concern to every person in the United States. It is like playing a game when the opponent has the ball, has his own signals and knows ours also. In other words, the Russians have had the initiative and been on the offensive since World War 2. We have been continuously on the defensive. The Eisenhower Administration has promised the Nation that we would wrest the offensive from the Russians in the "cold war" but it is not easily done as long as there is a "hot war" in Korea. It is not going to be easy under the most favorable circumstances and the Russians will see that those circumstances are made as difficult as possible.

We in this country usually think of ourselves as being self-sufficient but look at these figures.

We occupy 1-19th of the world's land area. We have a population of 158 million people. The Russians today have almost one-half of the world's population estimated at two billion people under their control.

Our deficiencies go much further than this. The scientists tell us that there are actually only fifteen basic minerals in the world, and we are woefully lacking in nine of them. We have plenty of oil, coal, iron ore, sulphur, phosphate rock, and potash, but to build a Sherman tank, we must import from foreign countries 99% of chromium, and 1915 pounds go into the building of the tank. It requires 950 pounds of manganese for each tank, and 92% of it must be imported. We import 92% of all nickel, and each tank requires 520 pounds. In each tank goes 107 pounds of tin, of which 78% must be imported. Bauxite is raw aluminum, and each tank requires 6512 pounds; we import 65% of all we use.

Likewise, copper is a requirement and we have half the amount. All industrial diamonds, not to mention uranium, which makes atomic bombs, must come from Deep Africa.

We could do without coffee and cigarettes, and the ladies could even do without cosmetics, of which 96% of the ingredients are imported, but I would hate to think we would have to do without a tank, an airplane, a ship, or a gun with which to defend ourselves.

These figures show that without imports from all over the world we could only produce 25% of the requirements for National Defense.

So we are not a self-sufficient Nation by any means. Even if the defense of our Nation against military aggression was not necessary, we could not maintain our standard of living without foreign imports. It requires 14 pounds of manganese to make one ton of steel. Of every 100 pounds of manganese used, 92 pounds must come from outside this country. Without steel, there would be no automobiles, no large buildings, no bridges, no railroads, and no oil wells.

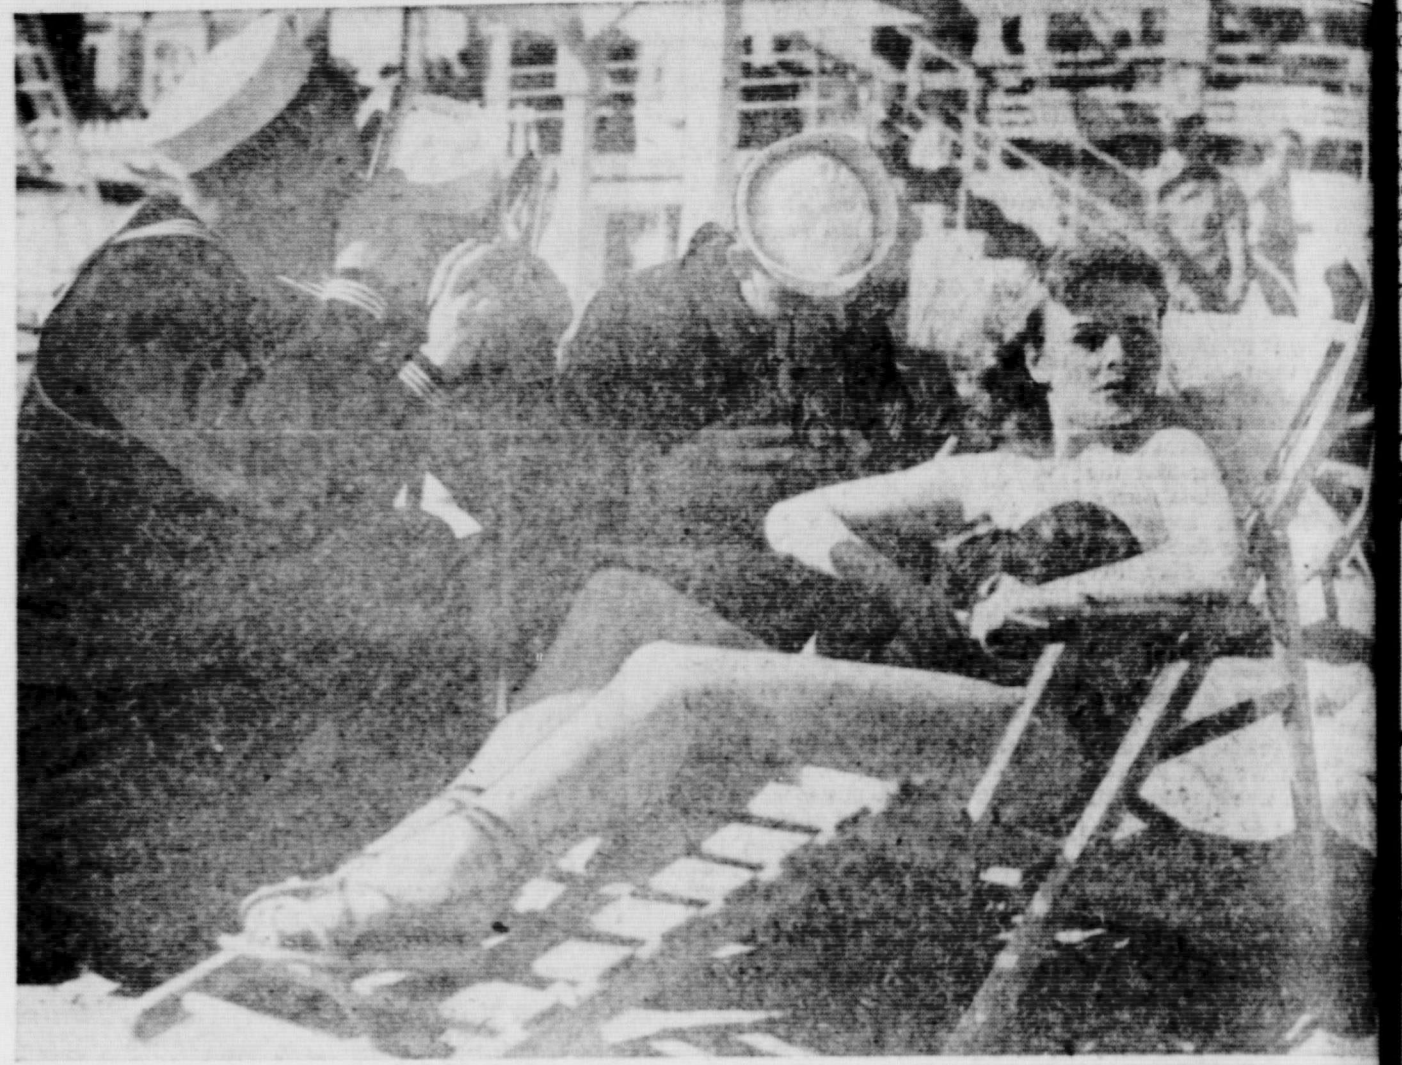

We're living in a rather small world and in a sad world, because we must think in terms of defending ourselves against a power which has threatened to destroy us. By necessity we must have a global view and cannot say as did Browning, "God's in his heaven: All's right with the World."

Chickens become fowls at the age of one year.

THE LIFE OF A SAILOR—Evidently American sailors don't always live up to their reputation of being able to sweep a damsel off her feet. Vivacious Ethika Chourau, 20, of Paris is giving these Navy "news" photographers a frigid shoulder on the beach at the French Riviera. Ethika was attending the 1953 Film Festival in Cannes.

FOR A BETTER LIFE—The baby being fed by its mother in Feshi, Belgian Congo, left, is one of 340,000 in the Congo, Burundi, and French Equatorial Africa, who have received milk being distributed by UNICEF. Wearing a mask representing a benevolent god, center, a native performs a dance of thanks to the "good UN doctors" who have aided in the milk's distribution. Two little lads, right, get their ration in a program of battle against protein-deficiency diseases among children in Africa.

STRUGGLE IN THE STREETS—At first glimpse, the impression is given that this is a photo of an angry pin-ball machine. It's actually police detective Bob Noonan, in McKeesport, Pa., and he's just retrieving a mechanical bandit after it toppled a police truck. It was quite a struggle, too, for the machine was determined to give as much trouble as possible.

FORT WORTH — Sam Harris of Georgetown, (Williamson County) Texas, told us a tale about a string of steers he sold on the Fort Worth market last week that gives about as graphic an account of the cattle price skid as you'll ever hear.

Harris, a veteran livestock man, reported that about two years ago he bought a hundred steer yearlings at $41 per hundred. He wintered and caked them and was bid $38 the following Spring.

This offer he turned down but later he did sell the cattle at $34. However, this was not the end of the story by a long shot. Harris later bought the cattle back — at $22 per hundred. Then this week he sold on the Fort Worth market the 104 steers at $21.50 with 24 head at $19. Said he might just buy some of 'em back, just to see what would happen.

When a big run of livestock appears on a market the tension is something very tangible as buyers and salesmen spar around waiting for the first sales to set the market in motion. When the largest run of the year showed up in the sheep yards Monday, May 4, it was tense for this was also the biggest run locally since 1950.

Harry Butz, head sheep buyer for Swift & Co., got on the White Ranches lambs from McCulloch County, a big string of over 2,000 fancy clipped lambs and in short order bought them for $22.75, a new high for the current crop. As word spread over the yards the effect was similar to the breaking of a log jam — buyers from Nebraska and Iowa as well as other order buyers were active — and with a big slice of the cream of the day's crop in Swift's hands, the other interests "got in" fast.

Thus it was that despite the big run the sheep were sold, weighed and on their way in about the same amount of time it takes to handle one-third that many. The White lambs each Spring are a highlight of the season's marketing at Fort Worth and a good barometer of how Texas lambs from the McCulloch County section have wintered and will sell.

Ten rail-car loads of big horned South Texas steers from near Crystal City arrived at Fort Worth late last week and averaged over 1200 lbs. They sold at $17.25 and were shipped in by Ferguson Bros. Today this is a newsworthy thing — ten cars arriving on the market from down in South Texas and all from one owner. But years ago, whole train loads of South Texas cattle were not uncommon sights on the yards here, all of them with one mark and one brand. Today about 95 percent of the salable cattle come in by truck, and in the early days on the market, 99 percent and more were by rail. Times have changed and in the process the stockyards has had its face lifted and a complete rearrangement of the flow of livestock has been completed.
