The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

SATURDAY NIGHT, July 25, has been set aside for the people of Cisco and the surrounding communities at La Grave Field. The Fort Worth team reports. It will be official Cisco Night at the time.

The Cisco Little League players will be special guests of the night and will be admitted free. They'll occupy a special section reserved seats. A special section of 200 seats has been reserved for Cisco fans who will pay the regular admission price of $1.25. Tickets are being sold by Mr. Morrison, who is a representative of the Fort Worth baseball club in this area, on a first come, first served basis. Mr. Morrison will accept your reservation for tickets by telephone and will deliver the tickets. Call No. 194 for reservations.

If you plan to go and can take more Little Leaguers, let Mr. Morrison know. He wants to be sure all the little guys have a chance to go to Fort Worth and return. The City of Cisco will receive special recognition at the game and will have a brief talk made for the public address system, listing of the activities and things of interest in the Cisco area. We're planning to make the trip and Mr. Morrison is going to help you obtain a seat in the Press box for the game.

ENJOYED AN HOUR at the Livestock Auction Sale on Friday afternoon. It was an interesting experience. Mr. Harold Green, who operates the barn, is doing a splendid job and has the confidence of area stockmen and stock buyers. Heard a man say, "This is one of the best sales in Texas."

Friday's sale was kind of varied. Sold a rifle, two saddles, a pair of two, a hundred or so pigs, and several hundred cattle. Among the fellows we saw helping with the sale were Slim Taylor, Ed Fields, Herman Harrison and Clyde Coats.

MR. LEE LEISKE, the pecan farmer and stock farmer out south of Cisco, brought in the yearling that brought the highest price—cents per pound. It was eight by Mr. A. Z. Myrick, who brought several yearlings for the Live Stock Plant.

Mr. Leiske tells us that he's going to make an 80 percent pecan crop on his more than 300 acres this year. The early dry weather hurt a little and bugs about five percent. The remaining 80 percent are doing very nicely indeed.

MR. J. E. SPENCER, whose orchard of eight thousand peach trees are unloading delicious ripe fruit these days, brought us in two samples of his Texabertas. This variety of peach is about the biggest we ever saw. They're big apples and are very tasty indeed. He has them on sale now. Reports that his big orchard will have a dandy crop this year, and he sells them at stands here in Dallas.

DROPPED IN AT Mr. Nick Miller's summer sale late Friday to see how things were selling. He was busy to talk. He was selling Mr. W. E. (Dizzy) a new hat. The folks were at the Wylie Funeral Home for that last weekend's formal evening was a big success. Ray Judia says that fishing has been pretty good out at the lake this month.

THE RAINS THIS past week are going to cause a lot of mosquitoes in our town if we're not careful. Let's all check over our faces to eliminate mosquito breeding places. Mr. Truman, chairman of our typhoid department, is on vacation. We were about to help with the setting for the Sunday paper when Don Morrison, publisher of the Throckmorton Tribune and formerly of The Press staff, happened along. And we re-introduced him to the old linotype machine on which he learned his trade. The Morrises are spending the weekend here with her parents, the Allen Farleys.

RELIEF AT LAST—It's only temporary, but the use of water from a fire hydrant in New York helps a lot on hot nights. Some ladies are doing their best to enjoy the wet stuff, but the youngster sitting right in the water has the correct method.

Cisco Florists Attend School In Modern Design

FORT WORTH, July 17 — Most people go to conventions to have a little fun, but Cisco florists went to a convention last week to go to school. They were Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Brashear of Helen's Flower Shop, C. E. Whitaker of N. D. Gallagher Clay Prod. Corp., and Mrs. Barton Philpott of Philpott's Florists. A school of design boasting a faculty of the nation's outstanding floral designers was the feature of the 40th annual convention of the Texas State Florists Association July 13, 14 and 15 in Fort Worth. More than 1,000 Texas florists attended the statewide meeting.

In addition, Prof. Paul R. Krone of the Department of Horticulture at Michigan State College and L. J. Tolle of the Department of Floriculture at Texas A & M College conducted seminars on various phases of running an efficient flower shop. Featured as instructors at the design school were floral specialists from New York, Illinois, Georgia and Texas, who brought the latest ideas in floral design to the convention. Instructors pointed out that floral arrangements are not hodge-podge affairs but are actually problems in engineering.

Engineering Extension Service estimated the total value of the equipment, and said that several new ideas will be included in this year's school. In addition to studying new methods of extinguishing fires, the firemen will learn how to use fire setting equipment for aid in fighting grass and forest fires by the back-firing method. Four complete fire fighting trucks and three portable pumps will be used in the school. In addition there will be six pumps, both regular and cut-away sections, used in the maintenance course. Much new equipment, not now available for public use, will be demonstrated at the school. Special chemicals and fuels will be used in the demonstration at the school, it was reported, and when the firemen return to their home departments, they should have a thorough knowledge of modern methods.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pippen and son, Harold, are in Fort Worth visiting relatives and attending to business matters.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKinney of Rising Star are the parents of a son born Thursday, July 16, in the Rising Star Hospital. Mrs. Stella Donohue of Cisco is the maternal grandmother and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKinney Sr. of Rising Star are the paternal grandparents.

Spokesmen for the church said that the purpose of the school was to help children grow in confidence that Jesus Christ is the friend of sinners, and to help develop a desire to live in thankful service to Him.

Lessons from the Bible will be the principal part of the school, but time will be spent in singing, playing games, handicraft and other activities. Refreshments will be served each day.

The Rev. James Hennig is the pastoral advisor. Virginia Weiser is the superintendent. Teachers are as follows: beginners — Mrs. M. J. Scaer; primary — Elaine Zeibr and Virginia Weiser; junior — Mrs. F. W. Stroebel and Mrs. Fred Wende, and senior — Mrs. Dorothy Prange.

Creeks Are Still Running Into Lake

Lake Cisco had gained more than two feet of new water by 1 p. m. Saturday as the result of rainfall Friday night and Saturday morning. And two creeks were still pouring water into the big city reservoir.

That was the report of Ray Judia, city lake custodian, after a tour of the lake area and measurements at the Lake Cisco dam. Lake Bernie, an alternate city water source, had gained several feet of new water and creeks were still running there.

The Lake Cisco area received more than two inches of rain after midnight Friday. The rain gauge at Custodian Judia's quarters measured 2.2 inches by 1 p. m. Saturday. The city hall gauge showed 1.8 inches for Saturday.

Rain appeared to be general over this region. Ranger reported about six inches. Highway 80 between Ranger and Eastland was under water and traffic was halted for a time Saturday morning. Moran was wet and muddy after a five-inch downpour.

At Albant, a seven-inch deluge was reported. Highway travel toward Baird and Abilene was halted due to high water. Reports that the city lake dam washed away at Albant were false, The Press learned.

Elsewhere, rainfall was lighter. Rising Star had received 1.8 inches Friday and Saturday. Cross Plains had one inch. More than an inch fell at Putnam and Baird. Saturday's rain gave the Cisco area about three inches for the week. Rain had fallen every day since Monday, July 13.

The rain last week gave Cisco approximately 14 inches for the year, as compared with 10.78 inches for the same period in 1952. The rainy weather broke a heat wave that had held this section in its grip for several weeks.

June was the hottest month this area has seen in years with the temperature rising to from 95 to 105 every day of the month. The first 12 days of July had temperatures of from 95 to 100 degrees. Temperatures the past few days have been in the 80s. The lowest day time temperature for the past week was 80 degrees on July 16, and the minimum temperature was 62 degrees on the morning of July 13.

Rainfall by months this year has been as follows:

January	17
February	45
March	1.49
April	1.97
May	4.71
June	2.18
July (to date)	3.00
1953 total	13.97
For comparison, rainfall for the past few years was recorded as follows:
1949	36.27
1950	29.84
1951	17.23
1952	19.60

Little League To Play Two Games Monday Evening

A Little League doubleheader is in store for baseball fans at ABC Field Monday night, weather permitting, it was announced following a meeting of the committee Saturday afternoon.

Scheduled to begin the double bill Monday will be the Cards and the Braves. The first game is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. Following that game, the Giants and the Athletics will play. The farm team games for the four teams will be played at a later date.

The doubleheader was decided upon because of the numerous postponements. Mrs. Mittie M. Schlaepfer has returned from an eight day visit with her son, M-Sgt. Frank Schlaepfer and family in Junction City, Kansas.

The Rev. W. H. Cole, Central Texas Conference Executive secretary of Christian Education, was a Cisco visitor last week. His home is in Waco.

THE MINIMUM FOUNDATION

(Second in a series of three articles explaining the minimum foundation, or Gilmer-Aikin, school program. Mr. Stilwell, a member of the original Gilmer-Aikin committee, is superintendent of Texarkana Schools, past president of the Texas State Teachers Association and chairman of its legislative committee.) Organic Matter Keeps Our Soils Productive

This Heavy Crop of Sweet Clover Will Add Much Organic Matter to the Soil.

Big crops cannot be produced on soils with poor physical qualities, no matter how rich they may be in chemical nutrients. Roger H. Bray of Illinois in CROPS & SOILS points out that productivity and fertility are not the same. Productivity is the overall result of many factors—good seed, favorable weather, adequate chemical nutrients and a soil which makes a good home for plant roots.

Today, since we know where to get and how to apply the fertilizer elements, we value organic matter more for physical conditioning than for chemical effects. Legumes are considered as valuable for their erosion-preventing qualities as for the nitrogen they fix. Grasses have an even better physical effect on soil and will make soil humus just as efficiently as legumes do—pound per pound of nitrogen contained, even though the nitrogen in the grass must be supplied from a fertilizer bag.

In either case, it is not the amount of organic matter turned under, but the nitrogen balance of the whole cropping system which determines whether crop organic matter will maintain soil humus.

No matter how many legumes you grow or how much nitrated grass you turn under, it will not result in either maintenance or build-up of soil humus of normal quality unless the nitrogen balance is positive. Positive nitrogen balance means that the input of nitrogen from legumes, fertilizer and farm manure must exceed the output of nitrogen in crops removed.

We are gradually piecing together the picture of what organic matter is, how it is formed, and how it functions as the "life of the soil."

We must grow crops for organic matter and turn them under to build up and maintain soil humus because (1) roots of sod crops, while growing, help to open up the soil and start the physical conditioning process; (2) crop residues, when turned under, loosen the soil and, in decomposing, improve its physical properties; (3) humus is produced from organic matter by decomposition, provided the organic matter contains enough nitrogen; and (4) soil organic matter is the natural storehouse of plant food in the soil.

A good organic matter program, therefore, is one which gives maximum crop yields by building up the supply of nutrients to the level required and then maintaining that level. It is one where green manure crops, high in nitrogen, and crop residues are plowed down to re-create the humus decomposed each year. Above all, it is one where the nitrogen balance is at least slightly on the positive side so that the organic matter goes to build humus.

Attendance also determines the number of special service teachers (librarians, nurses, physicians, visiting teachers, itinerant teachers), teachers of exceptional children, supervisors, counselors and principals provided for each school.

The minimum salaries for professional personnel also are a part of the minimum foundation law. A beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree receives a minimum salary of $2,403. The salary schedule calls for an increase of $54 per year for each year of experience until the top minimum for a bachelor's degree teacher, $3,051, is reached after twelve years' experience.

The minimum salary for a teacher with a master's degree is $2,628, with annual increases of $54 for each year of experience until the top minimum of $4,032 is reached after twenty-six years' experience.

Part of the basic philosophy of the minimum foundation program is to provide supervisors and counselors who are under local direction. These people are the trained specialists who are called in to help teachers with special educational problems, just as heart specialists frequently are called in to help general practitioners with medical problems.

One qualified supervisor is allowed for the first 40 classroom teachers and one additional supervisor for each additional 50 classroom teachers after that. Two or more small schools can pool their eligibility for supervisory units.

Hiring supervisors and directing their work is all done on the local level; in fact, the hiring of all personnel is done entirely by local administrators.

The Texas Education Agency, which administers the minimum foundation program, has nothing to do with the actual instructional and administrative programs of local schools, other than in providing free consultant services when requested. Control of the schools, in other words, was left by the Gilmer-Aikin laws in the hands of local school boards.

In fact, the law goes so far as to state specifically that all educational functions not specifically delegated to the Texas Education Agency by the Legislature shall be performed by local school boards. The law actually guarantees local control of schools instead of leaving school control to be determined by financing. (TOMORROW: financing the program.)

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Martin left Saturday for Stamford to make their home. Their son, Don, is attending the Boy Scout Jamboree in California.

There Must be Something Wrong -

... with the man who falls down and refuses to get up or is perfectly content to allow society to look after his well being, or is there? What is wrong, if anything, with the seller who refuses buyer an abstract—Maybe nothing, but there is something wrong with the buyer who weakens at this point and buys hastily without complete title information before him. Think it over and in the meantime don't do it.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q — I'm a World War II veteran back on active duty, and my National Service Life Insurance policy is under waiver. Will I get my insurance dividends all the same?

A — No. National Service Life Insurance policies do not participate in dividends during the period when such premium waiver is in effect.

Q — Will my service at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point count toward my entitlement for Korean GI Bill training?

A — No. The time you spent as a cadet at West Point does not count toward your entitlement for training under the Korean GI Bill. The same rule applies to those who attend the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis and the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

Q — I am a disabled World War II veteran, and I've just finished Public Law 16 training. Will VA now find me a job?

A — The law does not give VA responsibility for finding employment for disabled veterans. However, if you wish VA will refer you to an appropriate State or Federal employment agency for this purpose.

Q — What happens if a Korean veteran doesn't apply for GI term insurance within 120 days after his separation from service. Is there any chance of his getting it after that time?

A — No. Under the law you must apply and pay your first premium within 120 days after you leave the service. If you wait longer than that, your chances of getting the insurance are gone for good.

August 1 Is Deadline To Seek Cotton Help

Farmers have only a few more days to apply for Smith-Doxey cotton services.

Applications for these services must be filed by August 1, 1953, according to Mr. Sam W. Martin, in charge of the Dallas cotton classing office, U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

"Nearly all groups in this area have turned in their applications," Mr. Martin said. "This means that farmers in these groups will be sure to get their first bales of cotton classed without paying a fee. Also, they will get USDA market news price quotations."

Mrs. Jim Maloney and son, Jimmy, of Bay City are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Draganis.
