

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. B.

THE PRESS received an announcement from a book publisher today as follows:

Utilizing material from a course he taught in college, William Franklin Bruce, M. A., B. D., of Oklahoma City, Okla., has written a religious textbook designed for use in Sunday schools and libraries. Entitled "Jesus and His Words, Their Ways," the book is published July 22 by Position Press, Inc., New York City publisher.

Based on his book primarily upon research of the four gospels, Mr. Bruce declares that it was written "to bring to the minds of the youth the guidance and inspiration of the life and teaching of Jesus as its bearing upon their problems during the decisive period of their lives."

Kansas-born William Franklin Bruce received his B. A. and M. A. degrees at Phillips University, Andover, Okla., and his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Butler University in Indianapolis.

From 1901 to 1906, Mr. Bruce taught in the rural schools of Wagoner County, Kansas. A member of the Disciples of Christ, he began preaching in 1908 and for the next sixteen years, he addressed congregations throughout Kansas and Oklahoma. He joined the faculty of Randolph Junior College in Cisco in 1924 and remained until 1937.

Through the years, Mr. Bruce lectured on nature and social sciences to clubs, school groups and community gatherings, as well as to the Bible to inter-denominational groups. He has also conducted numerous articles and essays to newspapers, journals and religious magazines throughout the country.

THE PUBLISHING firm also sent a copy of Dr. Bruce's book and it is available to anyone who would like to see it. A lot of people in Cisco remember Dr. Bruce as a "gentleman and a scholar." He taught Bible at the local college. Prof. H. A. Garrett taught with Dr. Bruce and remembers him quite well. Pop sports having had a letter from Dr. Bruce at Christmas time, telling about his family.

Dr. Bruce was active in the First Christian Church here and lived in a house on college hill. We're sure that his many friends will be glad to hear of Dr. Bruce's recent accomplishment.

NEWS FROM OTHER former Ciscoans reaches us via the mail. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Clements and Mrs. Walter and John, of North Warden, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. V. Preston of Lubbock, formerly of Cisco, have returned to their respective homes after two weeks in Colorado.

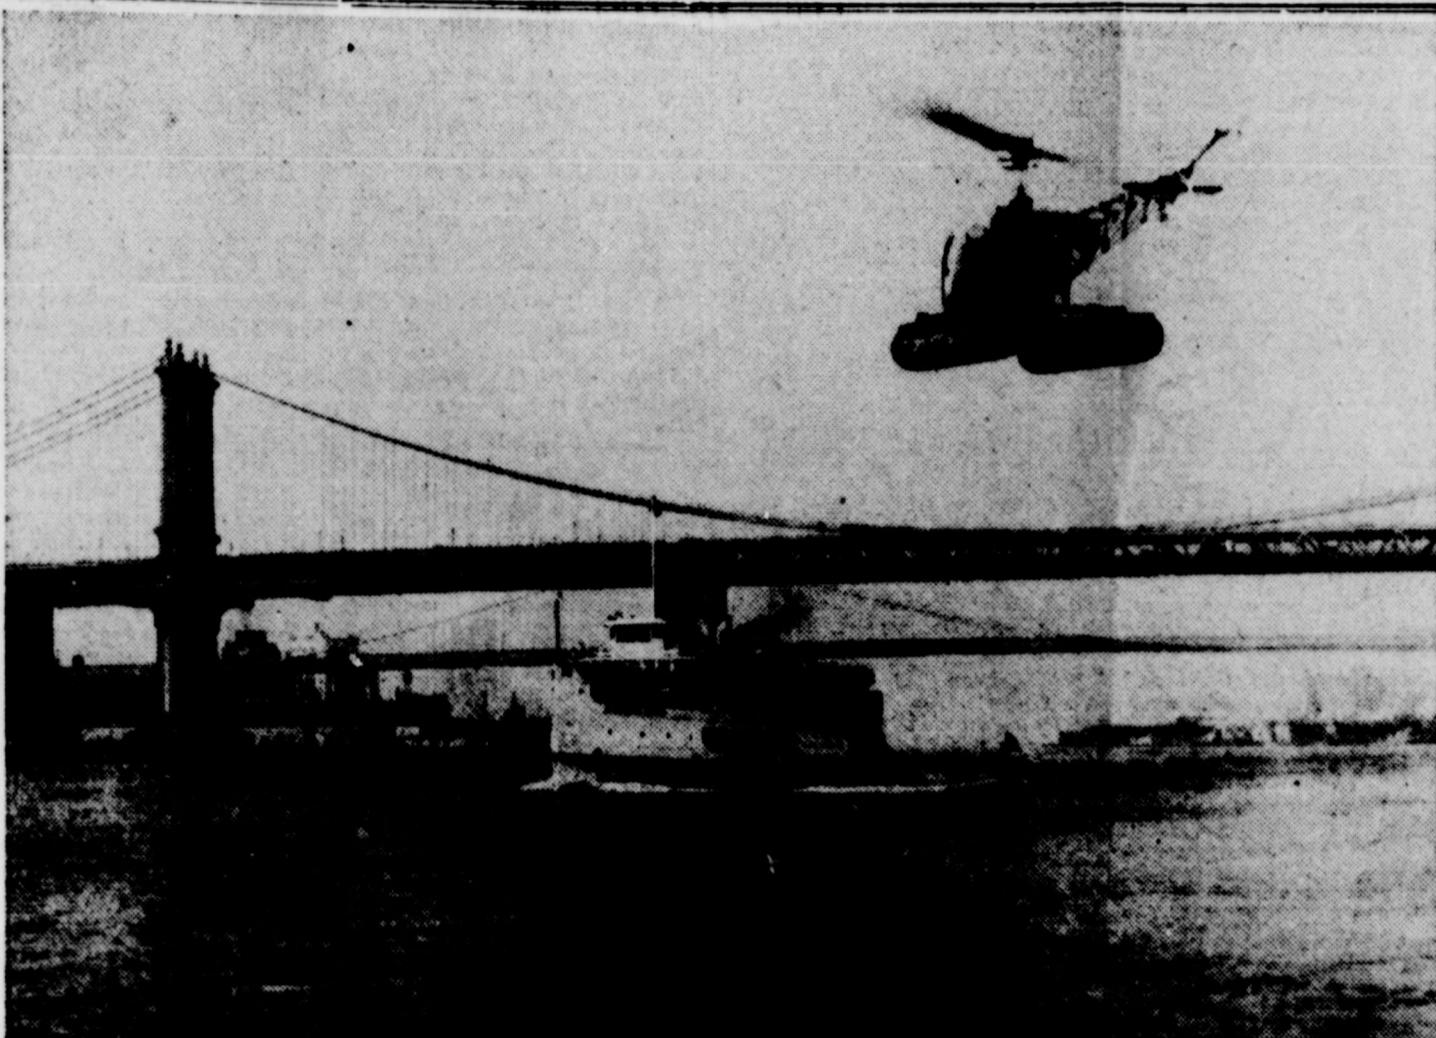

They visited such places as the Cave of the Winds, Seven Falls, Garden of the Gods, and others and made a trip by auto to the top of Mt. Evans, which is 14,260 feet high. They took a conducted tour through the Colorado state penitentiary, crossed the highest suspension bridge in the world, and enjoyed other grand scenery. The parents of the former Ciscoans — Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Preston and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clements — are still Ciscoans.

MR. JOHN DUNN tells us that he's expecting the postcards to begin rolling in any day now from Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sage and children. The Sages took off last Sunday for a vacation to the northwest country. They planned to see the sights in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Oregon and maybe some other states. They also expected to see Yellowstone National Park. Will they be gone three weeks or so.

Mr. Dunn advises us further that their new Dairy Maid is off to a good start up on 8th Street. They held a formal opening recently.

JUST RAN INTO Mr. Tom Wilcox, who recently resigned as the manager of Rockwell Bros. to join the staff of the First National Bank. He goes to work at the bank next Monday and is enjoying some 10 days of relaxation between jobs. We inquired if he was being practicing up on the art of counting money. But he explained that he has been getting acquainted with the art of growing lawns.

And that's what we've got to go out and do.

POLICING THE SEA—A police helicopter patrols over the East River near the Brooklyn Bridge as New York City becomes the first community in the world to have a regular air patrol. Three flights daily, covering all five boroughs, will be made. The airborne cops will be able to warn small craft of impending storms, keep amateur pilots from flying low and check on waterfront theft.

Big Rally Helps Mineral Wells Beat Indian Nine

The Mineral Wells Legion team put together five hits and three Indian errors for six runs in a big fifth inning rally at ABC Field Tuesday night to down the Cisco Indians, 10 to 6.

The Indians were ahead 4-0 as the fifth opened. Don Greenhaw got into trouble when he failed to fine the plate, and poor support on the part of the infield filled the bases. He was relieved by Dizzy Howell.

The Indians continued to boot the ball around during the final two innings to give up four more runs while making two. It was the first time this season that the Mineral Wells team had defeated the Indians.

They will return to ABC Field Tuesday night, July 28, for another non-conference contest with the local team.

RANGER BEGINS ANNUAL RODEO WITH FIRST PROGRAM TONIGHT

RANGER, July 22. — The 1953 8th annual Ranger Rodeo Rodeo, sponsored by the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be staged in Ranger Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 22-23-24-25.

The show will be opened with a gala parade in downtown Ranger next Wednesday afternoon, July 22, at 3 p. m. The 1953 procession promises to be one of the largest and most colorful in history and will include hundreds of cowgirls and cowboys, dozens of beautiful floats and music by the Ranger High School Band. Thousands of visitors are expected to swarm downtown Ranger for the big opening parade.

Performances will be at 8 p. m. nightly at the Jaycees' arena just west of downtown Ranger on old U. S. Highway 80.

A total of $2,900 in prizes is offered contestants in bareback and saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, bulldogging, cutting horse contests, and barrel races. The Ranger Rodeo is approved by the Rodeo Cowboy's Association.

John Lindsey of Vinita, Okla., one of the most popular comics in the nation who is known from coast-to-coast as the "dean of rodeo clowns."

Buck Lagrande of Albuquerque, N. M., a young and very popular bullfighting clown who hails from Albuquerque, N. M. rated as one of the nation's best performers. He has appeared in numerous major shows over the country, this season.

Trick riding featuring Don Wilcox of Tulsa, Okla., Dorene Morris of Baker, Montana, and Mrs. Frank Mariani of Ranger. All are rated tops in trick riding and have starred in biggest rodeos in the land.

Direct from Hollywood, California, those popular motion picture, television and radio stars and RCA-Victor recordings artists, the "Sons of the Pioneers," they'll sing and play at every one of the nightly performances.

This year's muke ditties in keeping spectators accurately informed on action in the arena will be ably handled by one of the nation's top announcers — Chip Morris of Baker, Montana.

Chip, who began his rodeo career back in 1924, has been behind the mike for 15 years. He gives fans a clear, concise and interesting blow, by blow, buck by buck, pitches in rules and regulations and plenty of solid adlib to keep the show moving at a fast pace.

Also added for 1953 event will be a Palomino Horse Show, approved by the Palomino Horse Breeders Association. That Palomino event is scheduled for 1 p. m. Thursday, July 23, with judging in halter classes. The event is free to the public. Scott Richardson of Olney will judge the first Ranger Palomino show. Frank Mariani is superintendent of the Palomino event. Trophies will be presented to the grand champions at the rodeo performance Thursday night.

Frank Mariani, member of the Jaycees and former world champion bull rider who retired from the arena sport in 1951, is arena director.

Producer and stock contractor for the big 1953 show is Homer Todd, one of the nation's veteran producers, of Fort Smith, Ark. Todd has been associated with the rodeo business since 1923 and his rodeo stock is rated the best in the Southwest and also rates along with the top strings in the nation.

Judges for the four-night show will be G. K. Lewellyn of Hico, former world champion bull rider, and bronc rider, and George Brown, of Carrollton, well known calf roper and bulldogger. Mary Kenney of Stephenville will serve again this year as arena secretary.

Road Condition Bulletin Will Be Issued By State

Every two weeks a highway road condition bulletin will be issued as a special service to the motoring public, D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced today in Austin.

"We are spending a large amount of money for maintenance and reconstruction this year and feel that motorists should be provided with information on the location of these projects for driving convenience, economy, and safety," he said.

Greer explained that these road conditions will be reflected on a small map showing the principal highways with symbols indicating the location and type of construction that would be encountered on various routes. These road condition bulletins, he continued, will assist motorists in steering clear of construction work and as a result, keep traffic at a minimum through construction areas. This will enable highway maintenance workers to complete a job in a minimum of time with a maximum of safety.

Greer concluded that these road condition bulletins are available free in the Highway District Offices and Travel Information Bureaus, or they can be obtained direct by writing the Traffic Services Division of the Highway Department in Austin.

WTCC Program Is Explained At Breakfast Here

The program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was explained by Vice President Frank Kelley and Staff Membership Manager Frank Melton in talks Tuesday morning at a breakfast at the Victor Hotel Dining Room.

Mayor G. C. Rosenthal, WTCC director for Cisco, presided over the breakfast and introduced the speakers. Some 35 Cisco business men attended the meeting.

Mr. Kelley, who is chairman of the WTCC membership and finance committee, explained that the regional agency is sponsoring a soil conservation program, a water program and promoting West Texas generally in major projects this year.

He defined a Chamber of Commerce as an agency that looks after those things that cities cannot legally do. He described soil conservation work as everybody's business, and listed the accomplishments of the WTCC in its water program.

Mr. Melton pointed out that the WTCC has some 6,000 members in an area that covers about 40 percent of Texas. He invited the Ciscoans to re-enroll as members of the agency.

Mr. Rosenthal was assisted in making arrangements for the breakfast by President E. L. Jackson and Manager B. A. Butler of the local chamber of commerce.

Snyder Schools Hire Local Man

Officials of Cisco Junior College announced today the resignation of Robert Clinton as head of the music department and the appointment of Jack Chambliss to fill the position. Mr. Clinton, who had headed the department for four years, resigned to accept a position as music director for the Snyder Public Schools.

Mr. Chambliss, a native of Cisco, has been a member of the college faculty for the past three years and has worked in the music department.

President O. L. Stamey of the college told The Press that "we sincerely hate to lose the services of Mr. Clinton whose contributions to the college and to the community have been too numerous and valuable to evaluate easily. His leaving is made easier for us when we consider the fact that his new connection represents a substantial promotion."

"We are fortunate to have a man of Mr. Chambliss' ability to take over as head of the music department, and we have every confidence that he will fill the position in a highly satisfactory manner."

A native of Putnam, Robert Clinton began his teaching career at Eastland. After one year, he moved to Cisco Junior College for his four-year stay. He is a veteran of the Air Force in World War II. His education includes degrees from John Tarleton College and North Texas State College. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees in music from NTSC and has done work toward a doctor's degree at the Universities of Colorado, Illinois and Texas.

During his four years here, Mr. Clinton has served as choir director at the First Methodist Church. He has been director of the Community Choir, and has directed choirs at both CJC and the high school.

He organized the music department at CJC and under his guidance the department won full recognition by the Texas Association of Music Schools.

At Snyder, Mr. Clinton will direct music for the high school, junior high school and six elementary schools. The schools in Snyder are housed in a new $5,000,000 plant. He also will be director of the First Methodist Church choir in Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton and children expect to move to Snyder about Aug. 15.

"It has been a hard decision for us in deciding to leave Cisco," Mr. Clinton said. "Our work here has been most pleasant, and the cooperation of school leaders and patrons has been splendid. I am highly pleased that Mr. Chambliss' services have been obtained to carry on the work we have organized at the college and in the public schools. I have every confidence that he will do an outstanding job."

Mr. Chambliss is completing work this summer at NTSC for a bachelor's degree in music. He already held degrees in other majors from Vanderbilt University and from the University of Mississippi. He has worked closely with Mr. Clinton for the past three years in the public school and college music program here and directed the high school choir last year.

A talented tenor, Mr. Chambliss has done considerable solo work for local and college choirs. He is well known in regional music circles. He is a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve and served on active duty for several years during World War II. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chambliss of Cisco.

AUSTIN. — While Governor Allan Shivers was considering what the state could do to aid drouth-beset farmers and ranchmen, he received a report saying that he can declare an emergency and get a $5 million program going.

The report came from Attorney General John Ben Shepperd who, on the governor's request, had been digging into the legal aspects of the situation.

Action is authorized, said Shepperd, by the state civil protection act of 1951.

Much could be done without calling the Legislature into session, said the report, and there are other things that could be done only by legislative authority.

At least $5 million could be raised, said the attorney general, by means of contributions from the cities, counties, and local government agencies, including water and other special districts; by using the balance in the governor's deficiency appropriation and by calling upon the public to put in $500,000.

"It is our opinion," said the report, "that you are authorized to mobilize and utilize the manifold services, equipment, and facilities of existing state agencies and political subdivisions to assist in a drouth relief program."

The federal government is speeding up the job of getting money to Southwestern farmers and ranchers.

President Eisenhower asked Congress for $15 million to finance a lending program. The Department of Agriculture already know how the voters voted." The Supreme Court will study a case involving the entire procedure of the Texas Employment Commission in computing employers' taxes for unemployment compensation.

The court granted a writ of error to Todd Shipyards Corporation, which had sued for recovery on $106,260 in unemployment taxes paid from 1948 to 1951. The rate, the corporation contended, was higher than it should have been.

Judge J. Harris Gardner in district court here ruled for the company, but his decision was reversed by the Third Civil Appeals Court in an opinion by Associate Justice Robert G. Hughes, who said that if the Todd claim were upheld, charges and rates of every other firm in the Todd category would have to be re-calculated and federal recognition of the state employment law might be withdrawn.

Despite Texas' efforts to improve its state hospitals, those institutions are still overcrowded and suffering from a shortage of doctors.

So says Dr. James A. Bethea, new executive director of the system, who had just completed an inspection tour.

At Rusk, the situation is particularly bad, the doctor said, with about 400 patients sleeping on mattresses placed on the floor because there is a lack of space for beds.

Dr. Bethea made his report to the state board for hospitals and special schools. The board voted to inspect the hospital system after its next meeting in August.

Another state system — that of prisons — is going into the cattle business in a big way.

The system has 73,000 acres of land, unaffected by drought, in the gulf coast area.

Announcing that the system will buy 1,500 head of cattle, French Robertson of Abilene, chairman, said that cotton has long been the chief money crop, but there is an expected 25 per cent acreage reduction next year, and "we must look to something else . . ."

Prison-raised cattle have fed the inmates for the past two years, Robertson said, and the new herd will be operated for revenue, not for feeding prisoners.

Texas may have three governors next month.

Governor Shivers will be out of the state while attending the national governors conference, of which he is chairman, in Seattle.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey will hold the title during Shivers' absence. If Ramsey leaves Texas' borders, the job will fall to Senator Jimmie Phillips of Angleton, president pro tempore of the senate.

It has been a custom to let the president pro temp. serve as governor for a day.

Joe C. Carrington of Austin has been appointed by the governor to serve a year as chairman of the Texas Committee on Alcoholism, created by the last legislature. After the first year, committee members will select their own chairman.

The law providing jail sentences on the first offense for driving while intoxicated is valid, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd ruled.

The law calls for a mandatory 10-day jail term, plus $100 fine on conviction, but the judge has authority to put the offender on probation for six months.

D. C. Gillaspie of San Antonio is trying to overthrow the Texas drivers responsibility act.

His contention that it is unconstitutional has been denied in county court at law, the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, and the Texas Supreme Court.

Gillaspie's attorney, Ronald Smallwood, says he will carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

SHORT SNORTS: Arkansas' suit to nullify the law that returned the tidelands' ownership to the states is "political" in the view of Attorney General Harold R. Frazier of Kansas, president of the National Association of Attorneys General, whose position coincided with that of Texas Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. . . . More parking space can be provided in the capitol grounds without destroying their beauty, says Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano, member of the legislative state planning committee. . . . Henry Fox, widely known as the "Circleville Philosopher" said in an Austin speech that everything about the drouth is not bad — it has put people who don't have sense enough to get out of the rain on an equal basis with everybody else.

IT FLEW, TOO, GIRLS

Elaine Anderson (left) and Janet Hoffman find it difficult to believe that anyone could have flown a Curtiss Pusher, an exact scale model replica of which is shown here. As young present day model plane fliers who hope to compete in the Plymouth Motor Corporation's Seventh International Model Plane Contest, they are amazed at the extreme design changes in the past 50 years. The International will pay tribute to the 50th Anniversary of the Wright brothers' original flight when 500 of the top model plane fliers assemble in Detroit August 19 through 24.

Some Plants Take Siestas During Midsummer Heat

Peonies and Iris have midsummer dormancy period.

Many garden plants, like gardeners, like to take a vacation in midsummer. They will slow down growth and enjoy a siesta during the hot days, which normally are also dry.

For spring blooming perennials, such as peonies, iris, oriental poppies, this will be a period of dormancy during which they may be divided and transplanted to new locations, where they can have a long period of growth before winter to become established.

Delphiniums should be cut back to encourage fall flowering. As each spike finishes blooming cut it off just above the foliage. Let the leaves grow until new growth appears at the base of the plant, then cut all early stems down to the ground. Stimulate growth by a dose of plant food, either stirred into the soil, or dissolved in water and poured on, using a tablespoonful for each plant.

Iris should be thinned out in the border during this rest period. The iris rhizomes which lie on the soil surface with roots extending into the ground, tend to grow in a circle with the oldest portion in the center. This can be pulled up and discarded without disturbing the newer growth around it.

Peonies do not need dividing, and should not be moved unless for a compelling reason. Oriental poppies have long tap roots and in midsummer their leaves disappear. If you wish to divide a plant, dig up the root and cut it into sections two or three inches in length each of which may be planted in a new location. Plants should remain undisturbed to develop their full beauty and should not be divided except to increase them.

Roses do not rest so completely, but they bear few blossoms and nothing should be done to force blooms, but encourage a good crop of healthy foliage, which will usually insure an excellent crop of flowers during the autumn. Water regularly and do not prune but spray whenever damp weather threatens an attack of black spot fungus.

Annuals are rarely affected by the prevalent laziness. So long as they are watered adequately they keep working at their job of producing seeds for next year's generation. You can delay this accomplishment by picking off faded flowers and cutting back aging stems and the plants will keep growing and flowering. The display of annual flowers reaches its peak in mid August, though many varieties improve in size and color brilliance in the cool fall weather.

Inspect New Wheat Varieties

New and improved strains of wheat which will bear heavily, prove of excellent milling and baking quality, were discussed at the recent field day of the Kansas Wheat Improvement Association held at Overland Park, Kans. Those attending included (above, left to right): John C. Davis, Washington, D. C., Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture; E. E. Kelley, Jr., Lakeland, Fla., President of the American Bakers Association, and Jess Smith, President of the Wheat Improvement Association. Davis emphasized in his talk that the U. S. Department of Agriculture is anxious to co-operate with farmers and with industry in helping build greater consumption of farm products. Kelley related the plans of the baking industry to build a greater understanding of the nutritional values in enriched white bread and told of the campaign to build consumption of bread, thus benefiting the wheat grower.

HOTTER THAN EVER—Actor James Stewart, upper right, seems to be getting a break on a Hollywood sound stage where he's doing winter scenes in the Glenn Miller story. But that snow is only a pyrene solution, and Jimmy had to wear an overcoat in this hot weather.

TAKING IT IN—One of the more colorful tipsters in Paris is "Prince Monolulu," the Ethiopian known by one and all around England's Epsom Race Track. He recently showed up at Longchamps in Paris to give "advice" to turf fans witnessing the Grand Prix de Paris.

A BIT OVERSIZE—Little Bonnie L. Shumaker appears to be wearing clothing that isn't a good fit. Her father, Robert D. Shumaker, of Accident, Ill., is a machine accountant, third class, and works in the Navy's electronic supply department in Great Lakes, Ill. That might just possibly account for the fact that Bonnie's clothes are too large: they're really her dad's.

IT MUST BE THE HEAT!—Tiny Robert Goldstein shed his clothes in Chicago and went for a walk in the 102 degree temperature, left, until officer John Bligh found him. In New Jersey, Little Paul Casper lost his mom at an amuseme nt park, but he met officer John Van Vugt, right. With that sort of company, he didn't feel too lonely and he got a piggy-back ride, too.

Martha Louise Smith Weds Shannon Sloan

Miss Martha Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith of Cisco, became the bride of Shannon B. Sloan, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sloan of Garland, in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at the East Cisco Baptist Church with the Rev. F. C. Bradley officiating.

The couple stood before an altar of white gladiolus and greenery. The wedding was performed in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The bride chose a street length dress of white lace over satin. She carried a white Bible topped with sweetheart roses with long satin streamers.

Mrs. Coystal Townzen, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue lace and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations. Donald Sloan of Garland, brother of the groom, was best man.

Miss Jo Stephenson of Abilene furnished the wedding music.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith. The table was laid with a white crocheted cloth over blue linen, chosen colors of the bride. The two tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table with blue candles on either side. Barbara Jones of Withereaj cut the cake and Jocille Kelley of Cisco ladeled the punch. Wanda Verdick of Graham presided at the bride's book.

For traveling the bride chose a brown orlon dress with brown shoes, brown and white hat, white gloves and bag, and a sweetheart rose corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Cisco

High School, Cisco Junior College and received her B. A. degree at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene in 1952. She taught in the Fort Worth schools during the past year.

The groom is a graduate of Garland High School and served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is now employed by Swift and Company in Fort Worth.

The couple will be at home at 3121 Bonnie Bray in Fort Worth after July 26.

Animal Disease Campaign Begins

A nation-wide campaign to eliminate brucellosis from beef cattle herds as well as dairy farms is being launched by animal disease control authorities.

"The recent demand of many cities for dairy products from brucellosis-free herds has stimulated the campaign against the disease on dairy farms," the American Foundation for Animal Health reported this week.

"However, officials added, brucellosis is just as serious in beef herds as on dairy farms. Single-herd control programs should at least be expanded to a county or state-wide basis," a spokesman said.

The Foundation outlined three "musts" for any successful control program:

1 — Blood tests to identify infected animals. Ring tests conducted on milk to help locate infected dairy herds for subsequent blood testing.

2 — Quarantine of all infected or carrier animals to restrict the spread of the disease.

3 — Calftooth vaccination. "Brucellosis can be controlled if everyone concerned will join in a program of this kind," the Foundation said.

They reported that dressing rooms would be available to the visiting teams and that swimming pool facilities would be open to the players. The Breckenridge Little League park is one of the best in this section of the state, and will be in top form for the tournament.

The Cisco committee has announced the following tournament team after tabulating the votes of the four local team managers:

Braves — Jim Dolgener, Bob Dolgener, Charles Lipsey and Johnny Baum; Cardinals — Freddy Howell, Dickie Bennie, Dallas Elder and Charles Lavery; Athletics — Elmer Escobedo, Johnny Richardson and Gene Thetford; Giants — Milton King, Jerry Blackwell and Homer Smith.

The 14 players above will make up the Cisco entry in the tournament and will go all the way through tournament play. They will be suited out in uniforms belonging to the Braves.

M. W. Cotton, manager of the Braves, was named tournament team manager by vote of the managers. Lefty Sublett, manager of the Cardinals, was named assistant manager. Lynn Morrison and Bill Overall were named bat boys for the Cisco team.

Players receiving honorable mention in the voting for the tournament team were Arthur Chatman, Ralph Adams, Jim White, Gerald Darr, Ronnie Awalt, Dave Elder, Larry Gregg and Jack Lucas. The above boys received at least one vote in the team selection. They will not be suited out or make the trip with the team.

Manager Cotton called for practice at 4 p. m. Wednesday and for Thursday afternoon. Friday night the tournament team will play a six inning contest with a team picked from the remainder of the players in the League. There will be no practice Saturday because the Little League players will be in Fort Worth as guests of the Fort Worth Cats.

Parents of the tournament team players were asked to see that birth certificates were in order for the manager to take to the tournament Monday.

The Farm team double header scheduled for Thursday night at ABC Field between the Cards and the Braves and the Giants and Athletics will be played as planned, it was announced.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bailey over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Edwards and son, David, of Austin. Mr. Edwards returned Sunday and Mrs. Edwards and son remained for a week's visit.

Mrs. Harold Farquhar and daughter, Diana, of Big Spring are expected for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Farquhar.

Mrs. George R. Winston and children, Bobby and Nancy, of Dallas spent the weekend in Cisco with Mrs. George R. Winston, Sr.

HE FOOLS 'EM—This is "Pika," a talented ventriloquist, who throws his shrill whistle to confuse preying eagles and annoying camera fans. Pika lives in the rock slides of the Canadian Rockies and he's a species of rock rabbit. Not only is he talented theatrically, but he's also a splendid agriculturist, expert at harvesting grass and drying it for his winter food.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

How to be comfortable while pregnant during summer concerns a great many women who are anxious to prevent distressing symptoms aggravated by hot weather, such as cramping and swelling of the legs, shortness of breath, and feeling overheated. However, the doctor in charge is in the best position to decide whether or not they are serious and to give treatment and advise which will get rid of these discomforts or keep them at a minimum.

As an example, for leg cramps he might suggest cutting down the amount of calcium and vitamin D in the diet, sometimes adding another of the vitamin family, vitamin B. Sufficient floor during the cramp, wearing low-heeled roomy shoes, avoiding rolled graters, raising the legs above the body for a few minutes several times a day, and taking certain exercises may benefit not only cramps but other "pressure symptoms" like swelling of the lower limbs.

Shortness of breath and feeling over heated may be avoided through taking smaller, perhaps more frequent meals. Gaining too much weight might be another reason a pregnant woman feels too hot. The quality of the diet rather than the amount usually helps keep the mother's weight under control, at the same time furnishing adequate nutrition for the baby.

The expectant mother should keep in mind the advice, "Take on nothing new but continue to do everything to which you are accustomed." She should not allow herself to become tired, however. Although a moderate amount of outdoor exercise such as walking is beneficial, too much sunlight should be avoided because brown blotches which form in the skin of some women, especially of the face, may linger on even after the baby is born.

Frequent bathing (no tub baths after the seventh month) and attention to cleanliness of the scalp, hair, and clothing will add much to personal comfort. A short hairdo that gets the hair off the neck will prove cool, more attractive, and easy to manage. Clothing should be lightweight and easily cleaned.
