The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

A COMMITTEE of Cisco Chamber of Commerce leaders, studying the turkey and chicken business, made an interesting and informative tour late Monday. The group — composed of James McCracken, Bart Frasier, Anton White, C. W. Henry and B. A. Butler — visited Kincaid Turkey Ranch out northwest of town and went to Ranger to see one of the new Cage Hen Egg Factories in action.

At the Kincaid ranch, they saw several thousand turkeys and a very splendid setup for turkey ranching. At Ranger, they visited a place where 5,000 hens are laying eggs in the new production line method. Needless to say, the group was much impressed at both places.

GUESS YOU might say that Mr. Randy Steffen, the artist, is an ex-buffalo rancher or an almost-buffalo rancher. Recently the state park people advertised two buffaloes for sale because they didn't have any grass up in the Palo Duro State Park near Amarillo. Randy sent in his bid for the buffaloes, and it was the only bid.

But the Chamber of Commerce up at Amarillo and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram staged a public campaign and enough contributions came in to feed the buffaloes for a long time. So the park people told Randy they were sorry, but they'd just keep them.

WOULD YOU like to look around the house and see if you have some clothes that two boys — ages 8 and 11 — could wear to school this fall and winter? Their dad recently became very ill and will be unable to work for a few months. And the lads need the clothes for school.

If you would like to help this worthy family get in touch with the Rev. Bob Sanders, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church.

COACH RED LEWIS of the CJC football team was a weekend visitor in town. He is attending summer school at NTSC, Denton. He'll finish there late in August and open grid training here on September 1.

THE JULY 29 edition of the Coleman Chronicle published an article about Mr. Nathan Cliett, the native Ciscoan who was killed by death recently.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cliett of Cisco, Nathan grew up here and had managed the Chamber of Commerce in Coleman the past few years. The article, written by Mr. Dick Reavis, is reprinted as follows:

Even as the forms go down on this edition the final rites are being said for Nathan Cliett, of the Irish grin and the red hair.

If the population of Coleman County had named one person they would miss most when he was gone, Nathan Cliett was that person. Wherever people gathered in good spirit, at a community barbecue, a civic meeting, an oil well celebration or a church work session, he was there and welcome, and at home.

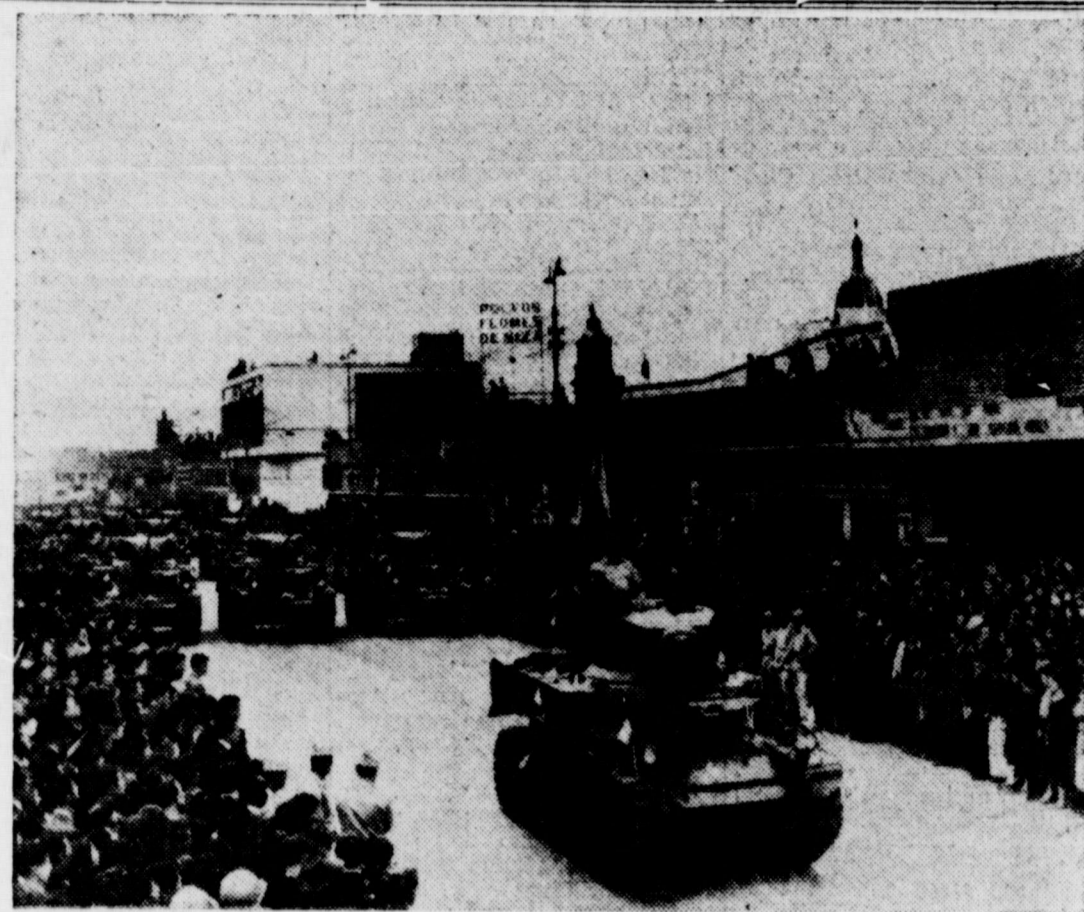

The amount of work he did was prodigious, and deceptively so. It was his shoulder that nudged into motion one after another vital county activity, and his strategic oiling that kept their wheels turning in motion. Livestock organizations, city cleanup programs, county road plans, farm and city programs, housing problems — the work that flowed smoothly across his desk in some way touched everyone in the county community.

This work, and the personal efforts of the tall redhead, brought country and city even closer together, and his office, at its busiest, was a pleasant stop for people the county over, and a much wider area that took its friends made through a lifetime.

Nathan Cliett liked people genuinely and sincerely. It was this wonderful attribute that modified an honest Irish temper that could flare on rare occasions, and that was as real as the rest of him. It must have been this same regard for the people about him that sparked his community efforts. These were marked by a practical optimism that admitted

ARMED MIGHT IN BOGOTA—Tanks of the Colombian army roll through the streets of Bogota as a major feature of the parade honoring the country's new president. Besides the Chief Executive, Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, more than a quarter million persons watched the military procession wend its way proudly along a four-mile course in the heart of the city.

New Licenses To Hunt And Fish To Be Issued Soon

AUSTIN, Aug. 8. — Fishing and hunting licenses for the new fiscal year beginning September 1 will be distributed soon, according to the License Clerk for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

He said the supplies, totaling over one million separate licenses, will be shipped to approximately 1,800 county clerks and licensed deputies in 254 Texas counties by August 20.

Both hunting and fishing licenses must be renewed for the new fiscal year which begins at midnight, August 31.

First sizeable demand for the hunting licenses will center around the north zone mourning dove season beginning September 1.

The twenty-eight different kinds of licenses cover all phases of hunting and fishing, ranging in cost from fifty cents for a duplicate license to $200 for a wholesale fish dealer's license.

The License Clerk said a new addition to the hunting licenses, which is expected to prove popular in the coastal areas, calls for a $5 five-day, non-resident license to hunt migratory water fowl. Heretofore, non-residents desiring to hunt ducks and geese had to buy a regular $25 non-resident license.

This new non-resident hunting permit is in conformity with the previously arranged five-day non-resident fishing licenses for $1.65 or a season's non-resident fishing license for $5.25. Resident fishing licenses are $1.65.

The main hunting permit costing $2.15 is the popular one for resident Texans because it covers both big game and small game. The License Clerk noted that the paper tags again will be used for big game since the proposed metal tags are still being tested as to their practicability.

RED CROSS TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Eastland County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at the Chamber of Commerce office in Eastland at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 12, according to Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag, chapter chairman. All officers and members have been invited to attend the meeting.

MRS. M. L. KEASLER IS INJURED IN ROCHESTER, MINN., MISHAP

Mrs. M. L. Keasler, who was with her husband in Rochester, Minn., while he recovered from major surgery at the Mayo Clinic, suffered a skull fracture and a broken leg early Sunday when an automobile struck her at a street intersection near their hotel in downtown Rochester, friends here have been advised. Mr. Keasler, slowly improving after the operation, had been moved from the hospital to the hotel. His wife had gone out to obtain some fruit for him when she was struck by the car. Mrs. Keasler was unconscious all day

Top Cowboys Are Here For Roping Events At Arena

A large crowd was present Monday night for the semi-weekly jackpot roping show at the Cisco Roundup Club arena on the Moran Highway. Some 18 of the arena's top cowboys were present for the event.

The top event was a 2-calf jackpot with Red Nixon of Breckenridge taking first money by roping two calves in 28 seconds. Second money went to Tommy Bacon of Cisco with a time of 28.1 seconds for his two calves.

During the evening's program, two calves were roped in the low time of 12.7 seconds. Cutting horse contests and a girls barrel race also were on the program.

Another jackpot roping is scheduled for Thursday night.

Hobby Club Notes

The first craft that we will introduce to you is that of shell work. The Hobby Club has an excellent supply of materials for making costume jewelry, paper weights and other novelties. There are dozens of shells in delicate colors and dainty shapes.

A worker can assemble a pair of earrings in an hour or two from a few selected shells, a pair of plastic base plates, a bit of glue and a toothpick and metal screw backs. A matching pin or bracelet is simple and pleasing. From this simple start the possibilities of design are limited only by the scope of the imagination. — Mrs. Arlin Bint.

Review Of Work Of Legislature Just Off Press

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. — "The Fifty-Third Legislature: A Review of Its Work" has just been issued by the University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs.

The summary was prepared by T. E. McMillan, Jr., Institute research associate, and is published as a public service. Free copies may be obtained from the Institute, Director Stuart A. MacCorkle said.

Lynn F. Anderson, assistant director of the Institute, and Miss Doris Connerly, state legislative reference librarian, assisted in preparation of the publication. "It is with a hope of better acquainting the people of Texas with past legislation and future needs that this resume is presented," Dr. MacCorkle states in the foreword.

"What the Legislature Did," "What the Legislature Did Not Do," "Constitutional Amendments Proposed" and "Interim Studies" are included in the digest.

Sub-divisions treat State Administration, Taxation, Public Borrowing, Water Resources, Court and Court Procedure, Highways, Public Welfare, Education, Veterans and Service Men, Municipalities, Counties, Agriculture, Petroleum Industry, Insurance and Elections.

McMillan points out that the 53rd Legislature sent to the Governor 459 of the 1,281 bills introduced. An additional measure, the teachers' pay bill, did not reach the Governor because of the so-called Comptroller's veto. The Governor vetoed 20 bills, leaving a final total of 439 bills which will change or modify the laws of Texas. In addition, the Legislature proposed 11 constitutional amendments which will be voted on by the electorate in November, 1954.

The Institute of Public Affairs is one of the research and service organizations operated by the University of Texas. Its functions are to conduct research in problems having significance to governmental units and agencies, especially state and local, and to publish studies based upon such research; to serve as an information center for those interested in public problems; to encourage and facilitate faculty and graduate student research in the social sciences; to carry on a training program for both students and public officials; and to furnish consultative service in the solution of public problems.

SHOW BARN MEETING

The Cisco Livestock Show Association, owners of a large livestock show barn on the Moran Highway, will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday (tonight) to determine the future of the building. Livestock shows have not been held there since the annual county event was moved to Eastland two years ago. All persons interested in the project have been invited to attend tonight's meeting, which will be held in the First National Bank's community conference room.

AND NOT A DROP—It's plain to see that one-year-old Robbin Atherton doesn't think much of the situation. No water in her swimming tank. No water in the garden hose. And besides that, it's a sweltering day in Washington. Severe heat and drought cut water restrictions on many Middle Atlantic states.

JOHNNY CHOATE HURLS NO-HIT GAME AS BRAVES WIN OPENER

Johnny Choate, pitching for the Braves in the first game of the playoff for the city Little League championship at ABC Field Monday night, completely handcuffed the Athletics with a no-hit-no run affair to lead the Braves in the 6-0 win.

Local Rodeo Date Will Be Changed

The Cisco Roundup Club announced today that their Fourth Annual Cisco Rodeo, previously announced for August 14 and 15, has been postponed temporarily, due to unforeseen conflict with other neighboring show dates.

New dates will be set and announced in a few days, according to information from the club president, and every effort will be made to advise contestants and spectators of the new show dates as promptly as possible.

In spite of extensive advertising, it was decided to change show dates in the best interests of the cowboys and cowgirls planning to participate in the two-day rodeo, as well as for the convenience of the many patrons of former Cisco shows.

It is reported that several additional events will be added to the schedule of contests.

OES CHAPTER TO MEET

The Cisco Chapter No. 461 of the Order of Eastern Star will meet Tuesday night at the lodge hall at eight o'clock for their regular stated meeting.

OFF WITH THEIR HEADS—The heads on a king-size glass of beer and an even bigger tub of the brew disappear as Billy Goat joins his keeper, Herman Knobel, in a cooling draught on a hot day at Rockaway Beach, N. Y. Owner Knobel took the drink in his stride. But Billy, used to paper and other refuse, lifted his head from the tremendous bucket of suds and staggered slowly up the beach.

Ciscoan's Mother Is Laid To Rest In Monday Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Tony S. Lamb, 76, of Abilene were conducted at 3 p. m. Monday at the Laughter-North Funeral Home in Abilene, followed by burial in the Elmwood Memorial Park there under the direction of Wylie Funeral Home of Cisco.

Mrs. Lamb, who was the mother of Carl Lamb of Cisco, died at 11 a. m. Sunday after an illness of two weeks. The Rev. W. E. Peterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Abilene, was in charge of the final rites.

Pallbearers were Maurice Martin, Harold Ray Martin, Huiech Lamb, Jr., Carl David Deaton, Harry Eisenhower and I. N. Deaton.

Mrs. Lamb, the former Miss Hester Cordelia McLean, was born on Sept. 18, 1876, at Nixon, Tenn. She was married there on Feb. 12, 1893, to Mr. Lamb, who survives her. They moved to Texas in November, 1898, settling in Hopkins County. In 1935, they moved to Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last February.

Mrs. Lamb was a member of the Abilene Chapter 30 of the Order of Eastern Star, the B. A. Chapter 195 of the Rebekah Lodge, Temple 64 of the Pythian Sisters, and the Dona Mae Camp 5677 of the Royal Neighbors of American.

Surviving Mrs. Lamb are her husband, three sons, two daughters, 11 grand children and eight great grand children. The sons are Huiech Lamb of Abilene, Carl Lamb of Cisco and O. W. Lamb of Sherman, and the daughters are Mrs. J. O. Martin of Commerce and Audra Mae Lamb of Abilene.

Indian Team Wins Over Ranger, 3-2

The Cisco Indians won a 3-to-2 pitcher's duel over the Ranger Legion team in a baseball game Monday night at Ranger. Lefty Sublett accompanied the Indians as manager in the absence of D. N. Morrison, the regular manager.

The Indians opened the first inning with a three-run spree that was good for victory. With two on, lefty Jackson tripled, scoring two runners, and then he scored himself on a fly to the outfield. Ranger's two scores came in the 6th as the result of a home run with a man on base.

Greenhaw went the route for the Indians, limiting the Ranger team to four hits. Appearing in the Indian lineup were Gilbert, Howell, Rogers, Jackson, Weiser, Greenhaw, Cheves, Bill Bennie and Hines.

Mr. Sublett said the Indians would probably play another game this week.

Big Crowd Turns Out At Jamboree

More than 1,000 people turned out Saturday night for the semi-monthly Musical Jamboree at the Chesley Field. Fire Chief Pete Clements reported today. The program is staged here under the auspices of the Cisco Volunteer Fire Department.

Mr. Clements described the audience as "the largest we have had this summer." Plans for the next Jamboree will be announced soon.

"We sincerely appreciate the fine patronage that we have been having for the Jamboree programs," Mr. Clements said. "Our proceeds from the shows go into our funds for more and better equipment for the Cisco Fire Department."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson and sons, Freddy and Jerry, spent the past week in the home of Sgt. and Mrs. N. P. Barnes of Victoria, Texas. They also visited in Port Lavaca, Austin, Rockport, and Corpus Christi. They were accompanied on their trip by their daughter, Mrs. Barbara Ables.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
 A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

One of the cardinal principles of American law is that a man is considered innocent until proven guilty by proper legal proceedings. Practically everyone pays lip service to this ideal, but many fail to realize that the right to be represented by counsel is a logical and essential corollary of that theory of justice. There is a good deal of criticism of attorneys representing defendants in criminal cases. Much of this criticism is unjust. Should lawyers defend in court persons whom they know or have good reason to believe are guilty of the crimes charged against them? The recent Belden Survey of the attitude of the public in Texas toward lawyers and law problems shows that more than half of all persons interviewed thought it was wrong for a lawyer to defend such a person. Such an attitude on the part of the public is rather startling to thinking people. Surely the guiltiest criminal has a right to a fair trial by the law of the land. Such a trial he cannot have without a competent attorney to see that a fair jury is selected and that only lawful evidence is introduced against him. With reference to this feeling on the part of the public, District Judge James K. Everts, of Belton, who served eighteen years as a prosecuting attorney before his election as District Judge, recently offered the following comments: "The result of this survey is no surprise to me, in that during my eighteen years of prosecuting, this feeling has been made known to me by hundreds of persons. "The feeling on the part of the general public in this regard is brought about to a great extent by the sincere efforts on the part of the defense counsel to see that his client receives the benefit of every legal safeguard to which he is entitled. These legal maneuvers are often misunderstood by the layman as an unethical effort to defeat justice, by delay of the trial, and by taking advantage of certain defenses that to the layman appear to be trivial technicalities. "Attorneys are the only ones who can correct the erroneous feeling of the general public regarding the defense of one who appears to be guilty as charged. We attorneys should emphatically state to the inquiring person that it is one of the cardinal rights of the individual in a democratic society to be considered innocent until his guilt is established beyond a reasonable doubt by legal and competent evidence. "The public must be brought to the realization that all who are charged with crime are entitled to the expert counsel and aid of an attorney, and that the sworn duty of such attorney is to see that each protective legal right, to which the accused is entitled, is afforded him." Now and then a lawyer will overstep the bounds of his duty in defending those charged with crime. When that happens, the legal profession is even more indignant than the public generally, and appropriate disciplinary proceedings are instituted where warranted.

BURLESQUE IN JAPAN—The modernization of Japan now includes—naturally—burlesque shows. This one has a built-in swimming pool on its stage and, as shapely mermaids stroke through the water, a mirror reflects their movements to the audience. Reaching an unprecedented height of popularity since its war, such shows display femininity in true "Broadway" fashion, and are especially popular with visiting GIs.

HOARDER—There ought to be a law against hoarding all that blubber—and, if German court officials get a little angrier, someday soon there might be one. The officials were peeved when they had to travel to the town of Hunzer to try 360-pound Heinrich Bruemmer on a minor charge because the fat man was just too big to fit into a railroad car for the journey to court.

NEW IN THE FAMILY—Mrs. Mary Jane Murphy and her six-year-old daughter, Mary Jane, are welcoming tiny Helen into the family with kisses after a radio show in New York. The blind tot was brought to the program from the New York Foundling Home when Mrs. Murphy told the show's MC that she would like to care for a child. She'll become Helen's foster mother.

ONE OF MANY—it seems that almost everyone gets to Capri, Italy's famed island resort, nowadays, from kings to American tourists like pretty Orvetta Small. Orvetta seems to be giving smiling approval to the popular watering place, but she also intended to go over to Ircchia—Capri's island neighbor that is fast rivaling the original paradise.

few limitations, and that endured few. So much of the progress made in the county and city he served the past several years came from his efforts, and the remarkable cooperation he sponsored.

It was typical of him that while he knew he was sick, very sick, few other people did, and those who knew did not know it from him. To the time he went away not to return, just a few days ago, his greeting was bright as ever, his stories, most of them of people he knew and liked, as entertaining.

People like Nathan Cliett, and there are too few of them about, are to be missed, consciously and sharply, but not to be mourned. His answer to the unsmiling countenance of most of us since Tuesday night would be a story about the Indian who startled him so in Oklahoma, or the country grocer he used to call on on the plains. That was Nathan Cliett of the wide grin, who is right at home somewhere now.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

Blood in the urine (hematuria) always is an important symptom. Although persons who notice blood in the urine may become alarmed, they may not seek medical advice as frequently as they would for pain before, during or after urination. In a way this is unfortunate, for blood in the urine, especially if its passage is not accompanied by pain, can be an early warning of disease like cancer. Other conditions such as kidney stones or acute cystitis (inflammation of the bladder) may cause bleeding, of course. In women inflammation or stones somewhere in the urinary tract are the commonest causes, but in men (especially fifty years of age and older) bleeding has a 50-50 chance of being due to an abnormal growth like cancer.

Among doctors it is well known that bleeding from cancerous lesions usually is only occasional and that only rarely is pain present early in the disease. In some cases these lesions remain "silent" (that is, the patient is unaware of them) until they are well advanced. When a patient notices bloody urine only once, he may assume falsely that he is all right.

The physician when consulted about bleeding of the urinary tract will make a thorough examination, including a general physical check-up as well as an investigation of the urinary organs. Often the urologic examination is done even before the bleeding stops. First, the physician looks at the inside of the bladder with a cystoscope, a hollow tube especially designed for this purpose. Then he may pass a hollow flexible tube (catheter) about the size of piano wire into each ureter, the tubes leading from the kidneys to the bladder. Finally, he may take a series of x-rays with injections of dyes or opaque substances which make the organs show up well in the pictures. Using different positions for x-raying the patient, he is able to localize the area of bleeding and tell a great deal about what is causing the trouble.

If cancer is present, an operation for its removal at the earliest opportunity is of the utmost importance.
