The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

WE DID A little checking up this morning to see whether we're holding our own population-wise. And it appears that we are doing nicely. Take the school enrollment, which is a pretty good barometer, and you'll see that they've shown a slight gain each month since the school year began last fall.

Supt. Arlin Bint reports that the school system had a total of 1,050 students when the year began. After mid-term got underway, Mr. Bint ran another count and 1,078 students were present. He found that a number of students have departed during the time, but a few more have moved here.

Electric meters are just about the same as they were six months ago. So are water and gas meters.

MR. BINT REPORTS that the 1953-54 school year will officially end on May 28 next. The calendar provides for junior high commencement on the 27th and high school graduation on the 28th.

Attendance each day in the schools has been pretty good, Mr. Bint says. He noted that under the new school laws he number of teachers you have is based on your daily average attendance — not on the enrollment. If the present attendance rate is maintained, our schools will be eligible for one more teacher next year.

All of us should remember that it's important for the young folks to have good attendance records at the school.

LEFTY SUBLETT found somebody's Ford car keys. Two keys on a chain and they're at The Press office. . . Today is Jimmy Latson's birthday. And yesterday was the birthday of Hervey Tipton and Mrs. Grady Laws. . . Mr. Norman Huston reports that the WTUC cooking school yesterday was a huge success. A house full of ladies enjoyed an interesting and informative program. . . Our scouts report that things are shaping up for Cisco Gas to take over Lone Star Gas on the first of the coming month. Lone Star's local employees will be transferred, probably as follows: Miss Blanche Van Horn to Abilene, Jim Sauls to Colorado City, Gerald Parks to Eastland and Fred Grist to Eastland. There might be some changes in this, our scouts pointed out.

MET UP WITH Mr. Sid Gregory, 9-year old son of the Jeff Gregorays, here last weekend. The Gregorays were transferred to Abilene several months ago, you know, and Sid was over for a visit. He reports that his big sister, Nixie, has to go to school at 8:30 a. m. And Sid had to go at 8:30 a. m. What is more, they call him "Sidney" at school instead of "Sid" like they did here. Abilene must be an awful place.

A CLIPPING from another newspaper reports that "Challenge," by Naiad Key, is a new book of poetry just off the presses in New York. The story continues:

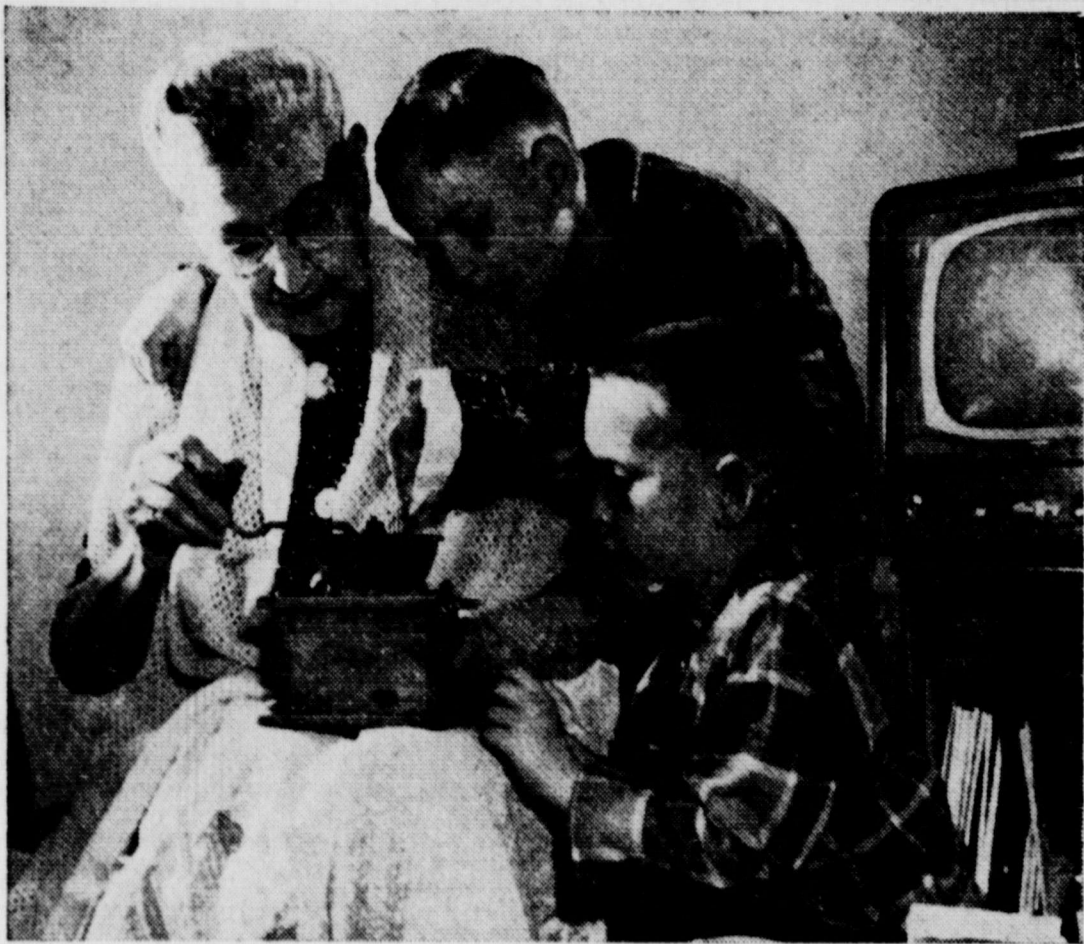

"Naiad Key was born in Cisco, and spent her childhood in Waco. She attended the University of Texas and also has had writing courses from Columbia University. After her marriage, she and her husband moved to Eastland, where Mrs. Key began her work on "Challenge," receiving inspiration on long walks in the hills near town. The Keys now live in Houston. An unusual volume of poetry in unrhymed verse, it will give the reader food for thought."

MRS. J. V. HEYSER, Sr., calls to say she enjoyed the questionnaire in this column yesterday. As you know, it enabled you to score your town. If anybody wants to mark the questionnaires and send them to us (signed or unsigned), we'll run a tally sheet on the score. And if you want to suggest local projects, we'll be glad to pass along your suggestions.

In printing the questionnaire, we felt that it would be good for us all to analyze our community with the idea of trying to make it better.

RANCHERS ASSOCIATION BRAND SERVICE PROTECTS CATTLEMEN

The passing of the "old west" has not lessened the interest of cattlemen in brands. Permanent identification marks on livestock have always constituted title of ownership and it is just as important today as it was 50 years ago.

Because cattle with identification marks sometimes change ownership in an unofficial or illegal manner and because "cattle rustling" has gone modern along with ranching, the West Texas Ranchers Association has set up a brand inspection service at area marketing centers.

The association provides brand inspection at livestock sales agencies in the counties where it operates. Yards where this careful inspection is maintained protect ranchers from cattle thieves whether they are association members or not, according to Special Ranger A. C. Yeager, employed by the association.

Yeager is in charge of brand inspection at sales rings in Cisco and Eastland and elsewhere in the area. The association has es-

After completing the communications technician course he will be sent overseas for 18 months duty.

BASKETBALL COACH ANNOUNCES LETTERMEN FOR PAST SEASON

Correct Posture Week Is Planned Here May 1 To 7

Dr. H. C. Brown has been appointed city chairman of the Correct Posture Week Committee for Cisco. His appointment was announced by Dr. J. C. Shipman of Abilene, chairman of the Chiropractic Public Health Committee of Texas, which annually sponsors Correct Posture Week in Texas.

The week will be observed May 1-7. During this period, chiropractors in Texas will stress the importance of good posture and its relationship to good health in the hopes of correcting postural faults. This year marks the fourth straight year it has been observed in Texas.

Detailed plans for the observance of Correct Posture Week in this area will be announced later by Dr. Brown.

"All ages and occupations can be affected by bad posture which can cause illness and disease if not corrected," Dr. Brown said, "therefore, the Public Health Committee sponsors this week of emphasis on good posture in the interest of good health."

Regional chairman for this area is Dr. Tholbert Smith of Abilene.

HARD SCRIMMAGE IS FEATURE OF WRANGLER GRID PRACTICE

A full hour of hard scrimmage was the order of the day for some 30 prospective Wranglers Tuesday as the Cisco Junior College team went into its second day of spring football practice.

Coach Red Lewis spent the time working on running plays and used a number of quarterbacks in an effort to strengthen that position.

Jimmy Adams, all conference back on last season's team, was running at full steam and showed the form he displayed before a broken leg sidelined him early last season. Enoch Reid was another standout in the running department. Adams and Billy Witt, along with other prospects, handled the ball on the split-T formation.

Defensive play was good for the second day of practice and Awards went to C. W. Kellar, George Callarman, Don Emsley, Tommy Reynolds, Bill Smith, Johnny Trigg and Jim Branton of the "A" team; and Roger Lisenbee, Fred Hayes, La Vere Adams, Jerry Weiser, Kenneth Duke, Benji Lipsey, Lee Cheves, Harold Phippen, Joe Wayne Farrow, C. A. Ditmore, Leland Davis and Monte Ingram of the "B" team.

Jackets have been ordered for Kellar, Callarman, Trigg, Branton and Emsley of the "A" team. Smith and Reynolds will receive gold basketballs with a raised letter "C." Interscholastic league rules limit awards of high school athletics and Smith and Reynolds received letter jackets in football.

Gold basketballs will be awarded to each "B" team letterman, Langford said.

Only two of the players receiving "A" team awards will be lost to the team next year. Kellar and Emsley are seniors and will graduate in May. Callarman has another year and Reynolds, Smith and Branton each have two years more eligibility. Trigg is a freshman and has three years of eligibility.

C. A. Ditmore, Leland Davis and Monte Ingram are the "B" team lettermen who will not return next year.

Hayes, Phippen and Weiser have a year of eligibility remaining and Lisenbee, Adams, Duke, Cheves and Farrow have two more years. Lipsey is a freshman and has three years of eligibility remaining. In addition Langford has several members of the freshman team and a few "B" team boys who will play for the next three years.

Ford Magazine Has Texas Items

Several million Americans are reading in the March issue of the Ford Times about two places well known to Texans — Big Spring and Spindletop.

The pocket-size magazine, distributed monthly through Ford dealers, devotes seven pages to an article on Big Spring and four to the story of oil-gushing Spindletop.

The Big Spring piece is written by Margaret Cousins, a former Texan now managing editor of Good Housekeeping Magazine. Her article is illustrated by five water-color paintings from the brush of Russell Vernon Hunter, formerly of Falwell, Texas, and now art director of the Roswell, New Mexico, museum.

"The Old Hill," Spindletop, near Beaumont, is described by Dennis McCarthy, who illustrates his own article with four color paintings.

Vegetable Plot Pays Big Bonus in Delicious Food

Newcomers to the suburbs, who are numbered by the millions, may count among the many blessings which they have never enjoyed before, the profit and pleasure of a home-grown vegetable plot of a quality impossible to equal in city markets. Profits from your own vegetable plot are not measured in money alone. The whole family shares in them, the pay-off being better appetites and consequently improved health. The sun-tan which mother and children may acquire in the easy cultivation of a small garden should not be compared with the temporary kind expensively acquired in two weeks at the beach. Gardeners, young and old, enjoy all-season tan, with all the benefits that come from an abundance of vitamin D. The work of caring for a vegetable garden is not difficult. After the ground has been spaded, no task involves more muscle than sweeping the floor. Modern methods of cultivating stir the soil no deeper than one inch. Adequate fertilization increases yield and quality, so that a small area gives a big harvest. Experiments have demonstrated that all the vegetables needed by a family can be grown, in soil of average fertility, in less time than it takes to shop for them, and of higher quality than could be purchased. An average garden plot for a family of four is 1,000 square feet. There is a wide latitude in the choice of vegetables to grow. The heaviest yield can be obtained from what the research men call "efficient" vegetables, which give the most food from the least land. Heaviest yield can be obtained from vegetables of which we eat the leaves. These include the "greens" which are cooked, and the salad leaves, which are eaten raw. These are the "green, leafy foods" which are so rich in vitamins. Next in food production are vegetables of which we eat the roots, stems, or seed pods. Beets, carrots, parsnips, broccoli, snap beans, turnips and onions all give heavy yields, are rich in calorie value, vitamins and minerals. Don't discard any of these on the theory that you do not like them, unless you have eaten them when half grown, fresh from the garden. Vegetables which give the lowest return in food value for the space they occupy are those of which we eat the seed or fruits, such as melons, cucumbers, squash, sweet corn, peas and lima beans. But if you can grow these on stakes, trellises or fences, thus exploiting the air rights of your garden area, you can afford these luxury crops even in a small garden. Tomatoes should be grown in every garden, pruned and staked preferably, so they take up no more soil space than carrots, yet yield abundantly over a long season. Cucumbers, melons, and pole lima beans are all good crops for training on a garden fence, where they yield well.

The Little Things we Notice - In preparing your abstract often grow into big things as time passes. For instance, if the deed is drawn in a careless manner it may be full of errors which errors may prove fatal to the title. AUSTIN — March 15 is tax time in Texas in more ways than one. It's Federal income-tax-paying-time. And it marks the opening of a specially called tax session of the Texas Legislature . . . to raise the pay of teachers.

Members of the legislature will assemble at noon on March 15 for the beginning of what may prove to be a stormy session. Stormy because there are repercussions any time you assess a tax.

Most everyone seems to feel that Texas teachers merit a salary raise . . . so long as somebody else pays for it.

The legislators' job is to put the finger on somebody to foot the bill. That's when the fighting will start.

It will take about $24 million per year to up the teachers pay to $402.

Governor Allan Shivers said, calling the special session, that he would recommend a "replacement" tax. By that he meant that he would suggest a revenue bill to take the place of one, passed by the last legislature, that was ruled out by the U. S. Supreme Court. It was a gathering tax on gas.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd prepared three bills that would bring in about $36 million per year from the natural gas industry.

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt warned that it will not be easy to pass the tax bills — and some House leaders agreed with him.

Speaking to the legislative council and legislative budget board, Senterfitt said Shivers had put the lawmakers on the spot by calling the session.

"You and I have no choice in the subject matter before us," Senterfitt said. "That responsibility rests upon the governor, and you and I can only do our best at the job that is handed us."

As if the teacher pay headache were not enough, the governor had two other propositions to place before the Legislature: providing more funds for building programs at Southwestern Medical College at Houston, and Texas School for Deaf, Austin; and to set penalties, including death, for Communists.

Absent from the session will be Representative H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth, who died after a long illness. A leader in the House, Hull's sharp wit often served to quiet turbulent debate. He was serving his seventh term as a legislator, had been known as an able committee chairman, and last summer was named to the Texas Commission on Higher Education.

San Diego prepared for the lid to blow off of the controversy between George Parr and state and federal authorities.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said that he and his agents "found what we wanted to find in an investigation of Duval County records."

From those records he took three envelopes of material, which he held for evidence.

Parr said he did not know what was in the envelopes, but that he is ready to answer in court any charges that may be brought against him.

State and federal investigators inquired particularly as to the expenditure of public funds in Duval County and its two school districts.

Also probing was a Duval County grand jury, dismissal of which was sought by Shepperd on the grounds, he said, that Parr can tell seven members what to do because they are obligated to him.

Parr, meanwhile, asked a federal court for protection, alleging that two Texas Rangers want to kill him.

Shepperd quickly announced that he would defend the Rangers, Captain Alfred Allee and Ranger Joe Bridge, who have been indicted by a Jim Wells County grand jury on charges of assault to murder Parr.

Parr has hired a famed New York lawyer, Arthur G. Hayes, to represent him.

A courthouse brawl was the basis for the indictment; also a conversation between Parr and Allee in San Diego.

County and the San Diego Independent School District.

A case that was related to the Duval County turmoil proceeded in the Texas Supreme Court.

Involved is District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, elected with Parr's support.

Ouster proceedings against Laughlin were brought by 10 attorneys practicing in his district.

Clint Small of Austin, counsel for Laughlin, told the supreme court in a written brief that the proceedings violate the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution, which guarantees civil liberties and due process of law.

Small contended that the case should be dismissed.

Oral arguments had previously been heard, and the court gave attorneys time to reply.

Small's contention was considered an indication that if the Texas court rules against Laughlin, the case will be appealed to Seething developments brought a temporary order, issued by Federal Judge Ben Cophally of Houston, restraining two banks from removing their records.

Involved are the San Diego State Bank and the Texas State Bank of Alice. Parr is president of both of them. The order was issued at the request of internal revenue agents.

And State Auditor C. H. Caviness said he found "irregularities in the practices, procedures, and items," in the records of Duval Incendiaries caused 50 per cent of forest fires that reached epidemic proportions in Southeast Texas, the Texas Forest Service reported.

More than 20,000 acres of trees have already burned this year, as compared with 25,000 acres for the entire year 1953.

Biggest fire loss, according to A. D. Folweiler, director of the forest service, was in Hardin, Tyler, Jasper, Newton, and Cass counties.

Why would the firebugs strike at Texas timber? That, said Folweiler, is a matter of conjecture.

New laws are needed to protect Texans against insurance evils, says District Judge Charles O. Betts of Austin.

His comment was made in granting a temporary injunction against continued operation of two El Paso companies, United World Life Insurance Company, and United Lloyds Insurance Exchange.

"The public is suffering by reason of the fact that so many companies already are in receivership," Judge Betts said, adding:

"Under various special laws, the public is not properly protected. The insurance commission has no way of maintaining the proper protection."

Quick to agree with the judge was Garland A. Smith, chairman of the State Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Smith blamed some banks for their willingness to help insurance promotion schemes.

"As presently written, the laws encourage speculation in which the insured and not the organizers undergo the risks," Smith said.

Secretary of State Howard C. Carey also is advocating changes in the laws. His department supervises most insurance stock sales, and he points out that no state agency inspects the securities which insurance companies offer to the public, unless the company voluntarily submits its stock issue for examination.

Senator Wayne Wagonseller of Bowie has been invited to appear before the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools regarding his demand for an investigation.

Wagonseller has charged that the board let a building contract at Big Spring State Hospital to other than the lowest bidder.

Claud Gilmer, member of the board, suggested that the invitation to Wagonseller be issued so that he might state his case. The board approved Gilmer's suggestion and offered the senator its cooperation in a full investigation.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, a native of Texas and a New York City public health administrator, has been named Texas state health officer to succeed Dr. George W. Cox, 73, who headed the department for 17 years before he resigned last month.

Dr. Holle, a native of Brenham, attended Texas A & M College and is a graduate of the Texas Medical School. He will receive $10,600 a year, but a member of the health board said an increase would be asked to bring the salary up to $15,000 or more.

WINTER IS NOT OVER!!

THERE IS MORE COLD WEATHER AHEAD!

In the years B. G. (before Gas) the people of Cisco made preparations for the cold months ahead by stockpiling wood or coal in sufficient quantities to carry them through until warm weather. Today we take care of the reserve for you. Now you take it for granted that you have only to turn on your heater, floor furnace or central heating unit to keep warm, and you are correct.

WE ARE ALWAYS READY
As the temperature falls and the use of gas goes up additional wells are cut into the lines, assuring our customers of an ample supply. We are fortunate in having sufficient reserves to take care of any emergency, and that reserve is adequate to handle the needs of Cisco for years and years.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE
Yes, we look into the future. We looked into the future when we went into the gas business in Cisco. We saw a community much greater than it is today and we immediately took inventory of our supply. We wanted to be sure that our supply would be equal to the demand, and it is. We are ready at all time to care for any emergency as it arises.

TWENTY FOUR HOUR SERVICE
We watch the weather like a hawk and when a norther approaches we go to our reserves to keep you comfortable. Our employees are on duty around the clock watching pressure and handling the hundreds of details that assure you an ample supply of Hi-Heat gas.
