The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

LOCAL FRIENDS and relatives of the late Nathan Cliett, a native of Cisco whose untimely death saddened the community last summer, will appreciate knowing about a recent honor accorded him. A resolution of respect was passed last week by the Texas House of Representatives in session at Austin.

Mr. Cliett, who was manager of the Board of City Development at Coleman, died last July 28. The House Resolution No. 29, in his memory, was prepared and presented by Rep. A. J. Bishop of Winters and adopted by a rising vote of the house. The resolution paid respect to Mr. Cliett's work in the BCD and as a civic, agricultural and church worker.

He grew up in Cisco and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cliett, are good citizens of our town.

YOU'LL WANT to extend best wishes for a very happy birthday to Mrs. J. W. Parkinson of our town. April 2nd is her 87th birthday. . . . Mrs. Mattie A. Robinson of 409 West 18th Street reports that a handsome red Collie dog took up residence at her place several weeks ago. Mrs. R. feeds him and admires his beauty, but she feels that he likely belongs to somebody who would like to have him back. If you've lost a red Collie, contact Mrs. R.

SOMETHING NEW will be added Saturday at the Reynolds Building Industry Show which is being sponsored here by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. C. M. Townsley of El Ranchito Townsley will have a couple of Chinchillas at the show. They are handsome little fellows and are worth a lot of money. Drop by the Reynolds building Saturday and you'll see what El Ranchito Townsley raises.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsley and Mrs. C. W. Henry were business visiting over at Fort Worth today. Bet you'd find Mr. T. if you dropped in at the major league baseball game at Fort Worth this afternoon.

JUST HEARD that Mrs. S. E. Hittson of our town is down at Temple where her local doctor sent her for a clinical checkup. Mr. Hittson and Mrs. Alma Keough are with her, and they advised friends today that her condition was satisfactory. . . . Somebody told us that Richard Moore of Cisco was working as a page boy in the House of Representatives down at Austin during the special session of the Legislature.

MRS. CARL PENCE handed us some excerpts from a letter written by her daughter, Mrs. Bob Powellson, who recently joined her soldier husband in Japan.

"I had a wonderful trip and an experience that will last me forever," she wrote. "I was seasick for about three days. The first night out we had a small storm. I hadn't gotten my things put up so all of them were in the floor rolling from one side to the other. I felt much better the second night out and by the 3rd, I was feeling like new. . . . There were only six passengers on the ship, and they called me 'Tex' and never let me live my southern talk down."

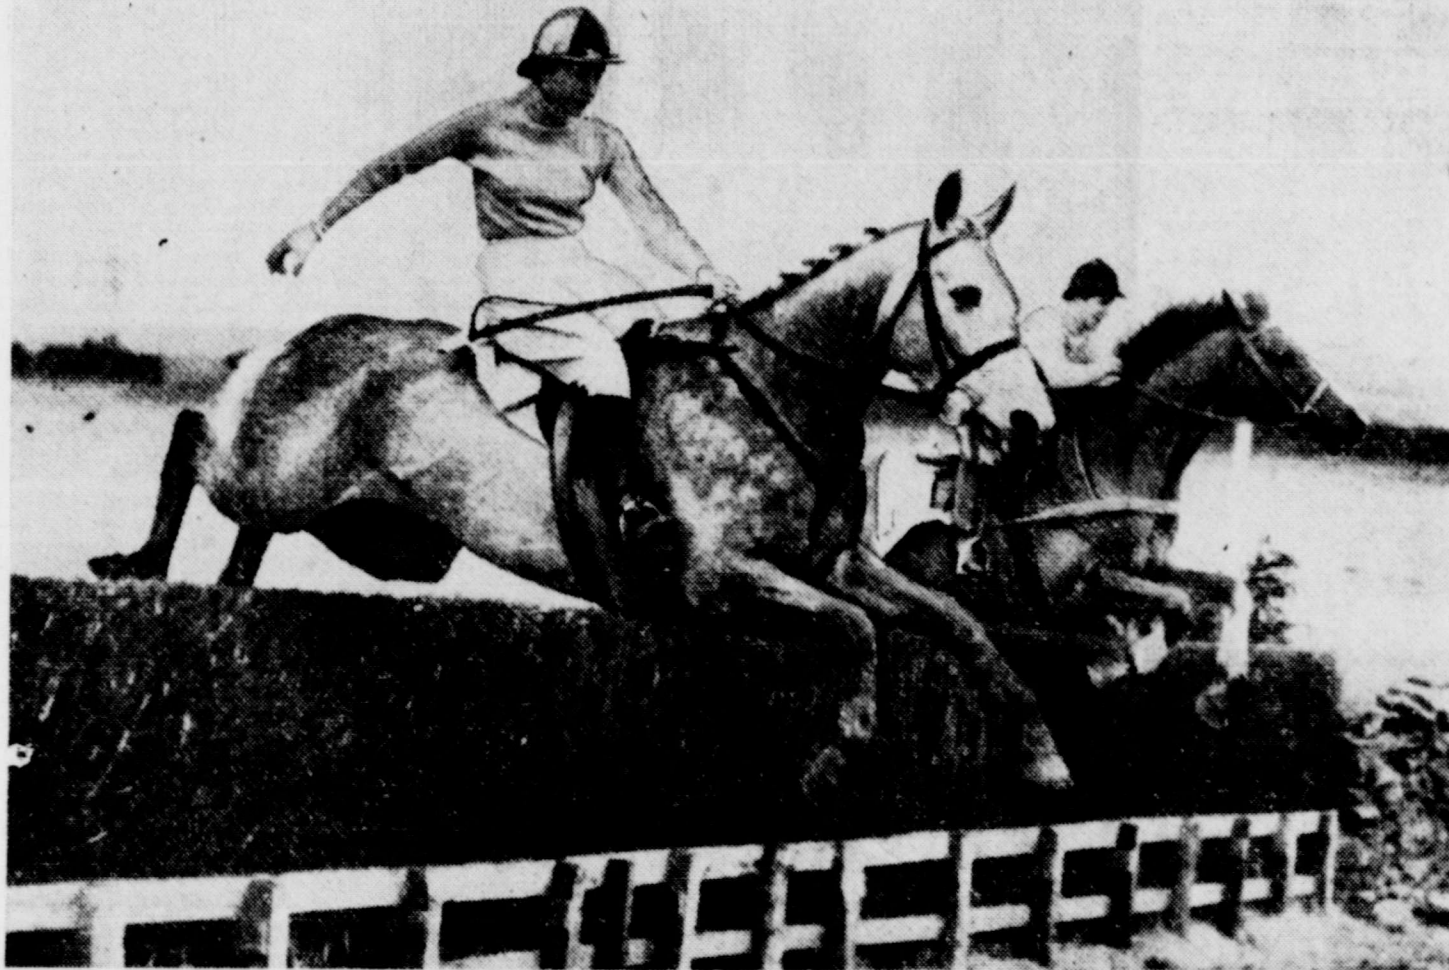

Mrs. P. explained that the boat put in at Korea but they didn't get to go ashore. After the first two days, they had fine weather until the last few days out of Japan when they went through two storms. Mrs. P. said by then she was a fine sailor and didn't get sick anymore, but she didn't appreciate the storms at all and couldn't sleep.

She told of losing a full day when they crossed the International Date Line. She described life aboard ship, of inspecting the engine room 18 feet below the water line, of fire drills, meals and routine activities. Her husband came aboard the ship at Yokohama and accompanied her through the red tape of going into Japan.

Mrs. P. definitely hadn't made up her mind that she was going to like Japan. It sure was different from the U.S.A., she pointed out. She reported that her husband (they're both ex-students of CJC) was in good health.

We'll all look forward to hearing again.

Presbyterians To Conclude Revival Meeting Tonight

Evangelistic services at the First Presbyterian Church will close with the final sermon of Dr. R. Bruce Brannon at 7:30 p. m. Friday (tonight), according to an announcement today. Dr. Brannon will speak on "Yielding Unto God" at the service.

Dr. Brannon, who is director of evangelism for the Synod of Texas in the Presbyterian Church, began the special services here on March 25. He will go from here to the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Beaumont.

The Rev. Grady James, local pastor, announced that his congregation would celebrate the Lord's Supper in services Sunday.

New Sportarena To Open Monday

EASTLAND, April 2.—Eastland County's newest sports center, the Sportarena, will open Monday, April 5, Henry Pullman, owner, announced today. Pullman said six nationally known wrestlers would be matched in three events on opening night.

The Sportarena, located in the building formerly occupied by the Eastland Auto Parts, will seat 1,400.

The opening night card will match Duke Keomuka against Cowboy Carlson in the main event, a best two out of three falls, 60 minute time limit affair.

Sugi Sita, the fierce Chinaman, will meet Joe Scarpello in the semi-final event, which is a 45 minute time limit, best two out of three fall match.

In the opener, a one fall, 20 minute time limit affair, Big Humphrey meets Larry Hamilton. The referee in all three events will be Bill Steddum. The opening match is scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Wrestling will be held each Monday night at the Sportarena with big name wrestlers each week.

AREA BUTANE DEALERS DISCUSS ASSOCIATION AT DINNER HERE

Graves Butane Company of Cisco was host Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of area butane dealers at the Hotel Victor Coffee Shop.

The meeting was attended by 17 dealers from Cisco and nine other communities in this immediate area. Plans call for the organization of a permanent association, and a meeting of the association once a month.

Following the dinner Wednesday night a general discussion of plans for the organization of the association were discussed. Also up for discussion were problems faced by the butane dealer. It was decided to hold the next meeting in Strawn on April 9.

WIND AND DRY WEATHER LEAVE SPRING CROP OUTLOOK DIMMER

Small grain crops on Texas Texas counties was helped by light to moderate showers and continued in fair to good condition. In this area oats and barley also made good progress with earliest crops beginning to boot. Prospects for these crops declined further in the south low rolling plains and plateau counties with additional acreages lost to the drought. Corn planting continued in practically all areas under unfavorable moisture conditions for getting the crop to a stand. Lack of moisture also

Brownwood Man Talks At Luncheon

"People must have the right attitude and have a pride in their home town to attract industry to the community," Roy H. Simmons of Brownwood, owner of the Texas Brick Company, told Rotarians at their meeting at the Hotel Victor Thursday.

Mr. Simmons, prominent West Texas industrialist and Brownwood civic leader, appeared on the program as a part of Cisco's observance of Texas Industrial Week. He was introduced by Rotarian E. P. Crawford, chairman for the meeting.

Mr. Simmons said industry was important to the economy of Texas in that it created payrolls, and that it was important to the people in that the products manufactured added to the comfort and happiness of the citizens.

He gave four musts in the obtaining of industries in communities.

First, he said, the people of the community must have the right attitude, they must have a pride in the community. He said that pride in the community extended clear to the school level where the pride was instilled in future leaders. Simmons said that every citizen was a salesman for attracting industry — the service station attendant or the waitress in the cafe, and that each of the salesmen should know the product he was selling — his community.

He said that the second "must" was leadership and said that men with leadership qualities and vision were needed to complete the job that the salesmen had begun. He said that the Chamber of Commerce acted only as a clearing house for ideas and plans.

He stressed livability of the community as the third requisite in attracting industry. A town that has good schools, good churches and good recreational facilities, has a good chance of obtaining industry, he said, and pointed to "pride in the community" as a means of making it a better place in which to live.

The final way to build up the industrial importance of a community, Mr. Simmons said, was to develop local ideas into industrial plants. He said that 82 percent of Texas industries were locally owned — developed from the ideas of men in the communities where they were located. He said that 85 percent of the 8,000 industrial firms in Texas were small, employing less than 50 people, and that a great percent worked from five to 20.

"The idea of one local citizen," Mr. Simmons said, "might be the nucleus of a fine industrial plant in the future."

After Mr. Simmons had concluded his talk B. A. Butler, manager of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, told Rotarians that clay from deposits near Cisco was being used in the manufacture of bricks by the Brownwood plant.

In addition to his position as head of Texas Brick Company, Mr. Simmons is a member of the executive committee of the Texas Manufacturers Association and is president-elect of the Brownwood Rotary Club.

Visitors at the meeting Thursday were Rotarians F. W. Campbell of Abilene, Roy I. Chappell, Jr., of Waco and Dr. M. A. Treadwell of Eastland. Other visitors were Mrs. W. W. Fewell, Mrs. Peggy Gallagher, A. G. Sander and Billy Wright of Cisco and the Rev. Bruce Brannon of Austin and A. H. Snider of McKinney.

Letters

Mr. Editor: The Johnson grass can wait while I think up a few words of reply to Mr. Mac Cheshire, whose letters I have enjoyed in your paper and those of Fort Worth and Dallas. I want to compliment Mr. C. for his vigorous, interesting writing style.

But I do not compliment him on his Peglerish ideas about the human race. Pegler is constantly talking about the "mongrelization" of the American people; Hitler was always concerned about racial purity.

Mr. C. should know there is no racial purity, either in Texas or any other place, with the nearest approach to racial purity occurring in central Africa.

In favoring statehood for Hawaii, I am not asking Mr. C. to marry a Nisei girl, or even to invite one in for dinner, as for that matter.

Hawaii is a melting pot, he says. Well, I would like to point out to him that the whole U. S. has long been proud to be called the melting pot of the world.

Cutting my Johnson grass will not tell me what Price Daniel thinks about Hawaii. Neither will Mr. C. Reading the Congressional Record, I find something about his feelings. He has a much better opinion of Hawaii and the Hawaiians than Mr. C. He says, and I quote his exact words as printed in the Congressional Record, Vol. 100, No. 50, page 3180:

"I say all this in order that it may be clear that I have high regard and sincere respect for the people of Hawaii. I am certain that the great majority of them are patriotic and loyal American citizens."

If Mr. C. wishes to oppose the Hawaiians because of the color of their eyes, he will not find Mr. Daniel in accord with him.

As for his insinuation — not a statement, true, merely an insinuation — that Communism is more likely among non-white people ("hello, mongrelism, goodbye Americanism, hello Communism") — may I ask Mr. C. where is there a country of non-white Communists? Does he think China is 100% Marxist? Does he realize that Russia brought the doctrine to that country, and is maintaining the unpopular Communist regime there by force of arms?

Does he know that the Indians of Guatemala have not embraced Communism, that the few Communists there are white Spanish? Does he know that all the European Communist countries are peopled by white folk? Only the Chinese could be called non-white Communists, and history will show whether the regime can endure there. I do not think it can. I give it 30 years. At any rate, Mr. C. should realize ize that Hawaiians are now American citizens, and can come and go in this country in perfect freedom, if they have the price of travel. It will not reduce the cost of travel to do them the justice of admitting them to statehood, which the free shedding of their blood for Uncle Sam in two World Wars and the Korean "Police Action" entitles them to, along with their simultaneous Americanization.

The Bible, Mr. C., tells us to love one another, not seek justification for hating one another.

Sincerely, "Grassy"

CONFIDENTIAL CREDIT SERVICE

A cooperatively designed confidential credit service has been designed by Cisco credit grantors to assist individuals in paying their past due accounts.

The plan is simple. For a legal-rate service charge to the borrower the total amount of his accounts is grouped into one, repayable in monthly installments.

In other words! A person who owes money to several creditors, but just can't seem to stretch his pay check to all of them, can put "all of his accounts in one note."

Why endanger a good credit standing for many months by paying a little amount here and there? By this simple plan, all accounts are pooled and paid IN FULL at one time . . . thereby a good past credit record is protected.

A detailed explanation of our plan can be obtained by calling, or writing at the offices of . . .

Look at it This Way —

... If the seller convinces the buyer that he has good title and no abstract is necessary then the buyer is entitled to a reduction in the sale's price for a sum equal to the abstract's cost. For the abstract is considered by property owners everywhere as being as much a part of the assets of sale as are the land and improvements. Better take the abstract. No real estate transaction is complete without it.

delayed cotton, broomcorn and peanut planting in south-central counties.

Irrigated cotton in the lower valley was in fairly good condition, despite some wind damage, but non-irrigated cotton and sorghums were severely damaged by high winds and blowing sand. Flax prospects declined sharply. Rice seeding gained momentum, under plans to irrigate rather than wait for rains.

Commercial vegetables in the lower valley and other irrigated areas of south Texas made good progress, although most crops were affected to some extent by high winds.

Livestock remained in fair to good condition, although on supplemental feeding throughout the western two-thirds of the state where ranges were providing practically no feed and no moisture available to start new growth. Movement of cattle from wheat fields with poor prospects for making wheat were still being pastured. Some death losses from dust pneumonia, particularly in new calves, was reported in the northwest. Range and pasture feed was mostly adequate in eastern areas, but generally in need of rain.
