Delta Kappa Gamma Holds Meeting With P-TA Unit At Cross Plains

Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met in a joint meeting with the Cross Plains Parent-Teacher Association in the High School auditorium in Cross Plains at 8 p. m. Tuesday, April 6.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many take complaint of nagging backache, headache, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exercising or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up at night or frequent passages.

Miss Louise Snoddy was presented a president's pin for her two year's service as president of Beta Upsilon Chapter. Mrs. Minnie Hill, immediate past president, made the presentation. Color slides on European countries, the Middle East, and the "Holy Land" were shown by Mrs. Hill with comments in keeping with the chapter's course of study on "International Relations — a Means of Building World Peace."

Following the program, refreshments were served in the hall of the High School from a beautifully laid table centered by a brass bowl of red roses, the traditional flower theme of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Veda Debusk, Frances Tyson, and Anna McNeel of Cross Plains representing Beta Upsilon Chapter and assisted by a committee from the Parent-Teacher Association.

The following Chapter members attended: Misses Iona McIntyre and Alda Nordyke and Mrs. Jewel Swanzy of Clyde; Mrs. Veda Debusk, Anna Mae McNeel and Frances Tyson of Cross Plains; Miss Nettie Thornton and Mrs. Ethel Johnston and Ruth Poe Herring of Eastland; Misses Louise Snoddy, Mayme Estes, and Mrs. Josephine Clements, Irene Hallmark, Gorum Glasscock, Dee Peters, Bernice Carter, Ina Stamey, and Minnie L. U. president, conducted a short business session. Mrs. J. T. Brewer led in prayer and Mrs. O. G. Lawson was elected chairman of Circle Two. Three new members, Mrs. J. R. Hallaway, Mrs. F. B. "As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURSELSON Congressman 17th District

In commenting upon the most recent Hydrogen Bomb explosion in the Pacific, President Eisenhower indicated that scientists produced much more than they had expected. There was some indication that the experiment came very near getting out of hand.

In reading of this terrible weapon, and after seeing motion pictures of the bomb exploded several months ago in the same area, I thought of the momentous word, "If." There seems to be some doubt among the scientists about the limitations of the Hydrogen Bomb. One bomb can now destroy large cities. We know this from the results just experienced, but will it be developed to destroy with explosion an entire continent? There are "ifs" in the minds of the scientists.

One of Rudyard Kipling's best known and often quoted poems might be called "If-Then." The burden of its theme is: If you can practice this shining virtue and that, then you can do this and have this and be this. If you can—then the world is yours and all that's in it.

"If" is one of the shortest and biggest words in the Bible. It is written across every promise of spiritual guidance and enrichment. From Genesis to Revelations we are constantly assured that certain things will happen, sure as the rising sun, if—if—the conditions are fulfilled.

One of the greatest promises of the Holy Word starts with the word "if." Over-arching it is hope, glorious as a rainbow, but sounding in it is also a doleful solemnity, suggesting it was for whom the bells toll. "If My people which are called by My name shall seek My face, and pray, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear and forgive their sins and heal their land."

DEFENDING CHAMPS—Hardin-Simmons University Rodeo team, defending National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association champions, will be strong contenders to repeat as champs for the 1954 season. Pictured with the NIRA trophy are top row: Bill Teague, Gene Fraizer, Merkel; and Lee Crane; Bill Gray, Abilene; Becky Jo Smith, Jal, New Mexico, world champion junior all-round cowgirl; E. W. Ledbetter, coach; Gene Fraizer, Merkel; and Lee Cockrel, Pampa. Bottom row from left to right are: David

There are many "ifs" in the conditions we face in every-day life but perhaps there has never been one so great as that "if" connected with the fantastic developments of the H-Bomb which we have at the moment. The big question is how it will be used. We are always at the turning point and hanging in the balance in the kind of world we live in today.

If thermo-nuclear energy is dedicated to the benefits of mankind, it will revolutionize future life. If it is dedicated to war, all advanced civilizations could be destroyed in a short time. Watching a great part of the Pacific Ocean rise up in a fascinating posture of fire, water and vaporized earth, as vari-colored as the imagination can conceive, I wondered at the fate of nations which might be the victim of this monstrous devastation. There was also a reminder of the smallness of man as compared to the things he has created but, even so, he is smaller compared to things eternal. Even a short time after the tremendous explosion, which ripped a hole in the bottom of the ocean big enough to hold fifteen buildings the size of our Nation's Capitol, the ocean rolled on, as it has always done, unperturbed by this thing of men tampering with its majesty for a little while and then going away—awed and scared as they should be.

The great hope is that the "ifs" may be resolved for peace and that we, as a nation of people, and peoples everywhere may continue to make a rational choice among the "ifs."

So, here is the one word which the world needs to heed in this crisis, more than any directive which can possibly come from legislative halls. Here is the signboard pointing the road to personal, national and international salvation, for it will lead the world to:

"Peace that came of purity, And strength to simple justice due. So runs our loyal dream of thee, God of our fathers, make it true."

Rushing, Abilene; Gip Lovejoy, Gatesville; C. E. Renfro, Melvin; and Buddy Watson, Odessa. Teague, Gray, Fraizer, Cockrell, Rushing, and Lovejoy are back from last year's team.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas. A public service function of the State Bar of Texas. Illustration of a man in a suit.

Since contracts may be entered into quite informally, many people fall into serious difficulties by binding themselves to agreements which they do not fully understand. It is very easy for the unwary individual to obligate himself beyond his intent or ability to perform, and thereby invite litigation and a consequent judgment of forced performance or damages in favor of the other party to the contract.

Contracts are absolutely essential to the functioning of modern business. In order to plan for the future—to set up a business, insure a steady supply of necessary materials and goods, set a price and a delivery date on what we have to sell, etc.—we must know that the courts will, if necessary, enforce the contracts we make with others.

Only a minute percentage of the millions of contracts annually made find their way to the courts. But by seeing that the exceptional case which reaches litigation is settled justly, the courts make it possible for the remaining multitude of transactions to be conducted with a minimum of friction.

How can we minimize the possibilities of litigation over our contracts? How can we protect ourselves in event we should later wind up in court? A clear understanding of all terms of every agreement entered into may prove the best answer to both these questions. Justice demands that we be held to the letter of our lawful contracts, lest the other party be damaged by our failure. Knowing this, we should apply a few common sense rules in our dealings with others.

First, let's take a look at the ordinary verbal agreement. Any terms about which you do not reach a specific agreement will probably be supplied by the customs of the particular business, or by a pattern set up by your previous dealings with the other party. Do you understand those customs? Do you want this contract to be carried out just like last time? If not, talk it over. Have a clear conception of your obligations and the other party's duties. And be sure that he, too, understands fully.

If you have doubts concerning the integrity of the other party, why deal with him at all? If you feel compelled to deal with him in spite of doubts, try to complete your oral agreement in the presence of other, disinterested persons. Their version of the terms may be helpful later.

One of the greatest difficulties with verbal contracts is that of proving exactly what agreement was reached when an argument over terms later winds up in the courthouse. Human memories are faulty, and we have difficulty recalling the exact words spoken six months, or even six days, ago. A written memorandum signed by both parties at the time, or even a simple exchange of letters assenting to the material terms, may prevent trouble.

When executing a written contract without benefit of legal counsel, take time to read and understand every word, even at the risk of being considered dull. Read especially any fine print, or regulations printed on the back, forming a part of the contract.

Be wary when the other party offers a verbal explanation which seems at variance with the printed terms. When you get to court, you will probably find that the printed word means just what it says, and that the contradictory oral explanation will not be admitted in evidence.

Look at it This Way —

... If the seller convinces the buyer that he has and no abstract is necessary then the buyer is to a reduction in the sale's price for a sum equal abstract's cost. For the abstract is considered by owners everywhere as being as much a part of the of sale as are the land and improvements. Better abstract. No real estate transaction is complete without it.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — A record-making session of the Legislature is rapidly winding up business as week with various types of bills tied on the governor's package program" deadlined for April 13.

Teachers seemed assured of their long-sought pay raise of approximately $400 per year, state employees were due to get about $120 more, a $10 million building program for four state institutions was slated, and Communists faced darker days.

Governor Allan Shivers had called the two pay issues the main unfinished business of his administration.

His floor leader in the House, Representative Joe Kilgore tax proposal. But he helped to suspend the rules for quick final passage of the bill.

HIGGINBOTHAM INSURANCE AGENCY
 E. J. HIGGINBOTHAM — E. J. POR
 Phone 198 — 707 Ave. D

Kilgore commended the "presiding officer's fair and impartial manner."

A new gas gathering levy, instead of the production tax, was before the Senate after House passage as a substitute for the law declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Due to the uncertainty of the proposal in court actions, Representative George T. Hinson offered a token tax bill aimed at pipeline companies in order to test the legality of such a law.

If courts held the tax to be valid, the rate could be boosted to replace the production tax on producers and royalty owners.

Legislators went speedily and grimly about the business of setting up stern penalties for Communist Party membership and other subversive groups or acts.

They had reduced various proposals to provide for fines up to $20,000 and 20 years in prison for membership in the party.

Prohibited by the bill would be any act intended to overthrow or alter the constitutional form of government by force or violence or a conspiracy with that purpose.

Aiding, contributing to and belonging to an organization with that objective also would be prohibited.

County and district attorneys would be authorized to take the necessary legal steps rather than the attorney general.

Although the bill provides for search warrants to be issued on affidavit of two citizens to seize certain records, Senator Rogers Kelley, the sponsor, said the provisions adequately safeguard the rights of individuals.

For all of the grimness with which the Legislature tackled the problems posed by the State Industrial Commission and submitted by Gov. Shivers, there were comic sidelights.

A resolution by Rep. Jack Fisk of Wharton proposing to invite Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin to speak before the House on communism provoked an uproar.

Rep. C. E. Hughes of Sherman suggested that McCarthy be asked to speak on "political influence in the Army" rather than "communism," and Rep. R. W. Baker of Houston said, "Let's lay McCarthy on the table, subject to call of the Army."

University of Texas students were agitated by the invitation to Sen. McCarthy to deliver a San Jacinto Day speech in Houston on April 21.

More than a thousand students met and started petitions of protest against the invitation to McCarthy "to speak at an official state shrine in a formal commemoration of the death of Texans for Texas freedom."

Political smoke continued to make undistinguishable the figures who will line up in the gubernatorial sweepstakes this summer.

There was one clearly distinguishable figure, and he was departing from the lineup. John C. White, 29-year-old commissioner of agriculture, declared he would not be a candidate for governor and would run again for the job he wrested from veteran J. E. McDonald four years ago.

Governor Shivers, Speaker Senterfitt, and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey devoted their several attentions to legislative matters and said nothing.

Ralph W. Yarbrough, Austin attorney, who ran against Shivers two years ago, has stepped up his speaking program. His case was strengthened with White's announcement as both men were strong "Loyal Democrats."

Clyde B. Kennelly, assistant attorney general, resigned April 1 to devote full time to his campaign for congressman in the 9th District. He is opening headquarters in his home town of Rosenberg.

C. T. Johnson of Austin, candidate for lieutenant governor, called for a state law requiring publication of school district financial statements.

Campaigning in South Texas, he said the need is emphasized by the misuse of funds charged recently by state officials in a district in that area. He said such a law would also result in better service per tax dollar expended.

A tenure of almost 30 years service in legislative and judicial branches is due to end next January when presiding Judge Harry N. Graves of the Court of Criminal Appeals steps down from the bench.

A general scramble for this high judicial post is indicated.

District Judge Alan B. Haley of Wichita Falls announced his candidacy early in the year.

Two Dallas men also are avowed candidates. They are Louis W. Woodsley, assistant district attorney, and W. C. Graves, a member of the State Board of Education, but not related to the retiring judge.

Lloyd Davidson, court commissioner, has said that he would seek the office if Judge Graves declined to run again.

The prospective vacancy directs attention to a proposal of the State Bar to combine the Court of Criminal Appeals with the Supreme Court. Texas and one other state have two courts of last resort for civil and criminal cases.

SHORT SNORTS — Action to relax rules against television in the House has been put off until next year. . . . Communists' traditional May Day will be Loyalty Day in Texas. . . . Gov. Shivers designated May 1 for the special observance sponsored by the VFW. . . . Texas Young Democrats who held a state convention at Mineral Wells last month have applied for a national charter. . . . Another group of Young Demos, which has boycotted the Mineral Wells faction, will hold a session in San Antonio next month. . . . Texas ranks fourth in the nation in accidental deaths according to the Texas Safety Association.
