

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

BY THE papers that some of the coal and rocks from old mines in the Thurber area contain uranium. Understand they'll do some more checking, including laboratory analysis, before the extent of the uranium content will be learned.

This caused us to wonder about coal mines in the Cisco area. We ran into a fellow who had been wondering about the same thing. He had obtained a Geiger counter and went exploring in the Cisco area of old coal mines and around Lake Cisco. He didn't hear a single buzz on his machine.

Guess we'll all just have to be satisfied with oil under our hand.

MR. M. E. GURNEY of the motor company left here last Sunday afternoon, went to Detroit, Michigan, and came back Tuesday night. And he spent exactly 25 cents, which is a lot of traveling on a small amount of money.

He was one of 20 Texas auto salesmen that the Chrysler Corporation, asked to come to Detroit for a sales conference, and the company picked up the tab. Mr. Gurney made the trip by air. He left here at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday, landed at Dallas three hours later and drove home by about 10 p. m. Pretty fast traveling, huh?

UP IN THE Cherry Point, North Carolina, country, Mrs. Donald Kent allows as how you never can tell who it is when a moving van brings some people to the next door. Mrs. Kent, whose husband is a Marine Corps lieutenant at the Cherry Point military base, observed a moving van next door the other day. She thought there was something vaguely familiar about the lady.

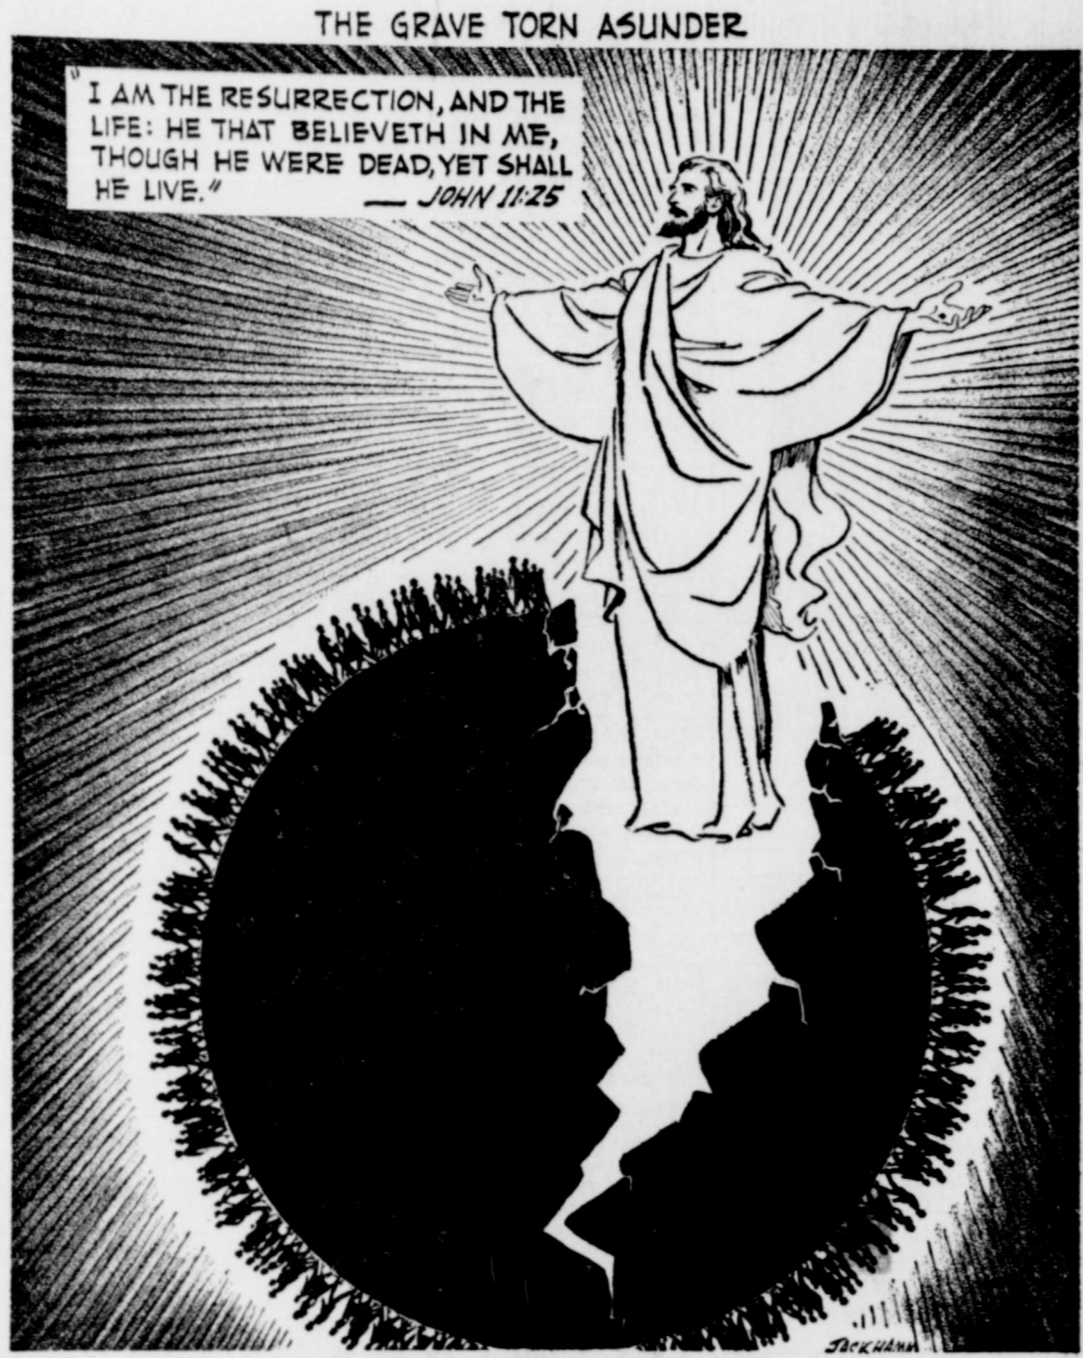

MR. BILL FEWELL, the farmer, was displaying a mighty expensive egg the other day. The first of his 400 pullets laid an egg at the age of three months and 17 days, which is a right fair record. Mr. Fewell has 392 cages ready to go into the cage hen business as soon as the eggs start coming regularly. He has eight more hens than cages, so he looks like some of the hens are going to miss the project.

MR. JACK CHAMBLISS, head of the music department of CJC, sang the tenor part in "The Last Seven Words of Christ" at Snyder's First Methodist Church a week ago. Mr. Robert Clinton, former Ciscoan, is director of the choir there. President Aaron Robinson asks that men members of the Cisco Country Club be sure and bring their paint brushes out Monday night. They're going to repaint the basement.

GOLF PRO Jack Milner says the rain will assure the Country Club of having excellent greens for the April 30 and May 1-2 invitation tournament. The fairway grass is beginning to grow. Jack suggests that local golfers should begin practicing for the invitation tourney. If he insists, guess we'll have to start.

MANAGER W. P. Knight and a couple of assistants have started work out at the Lake Cisco Swimming Pool, endeavoring to get things ready for opening on May 1. The City Commission approved their plans the other night. There was a big skating party at the Lake Rink late Friday — all the 6th graders from Ranger.

WE'VE BEEN asked to "fuss" those people who throw debris and trash out on the country roads." All of us should become members of a community committee to help keep the shoulders of the highways and roads clean. Nothing is more unsightly. It ought to be against the law and people who dispose of their trash that way should be fined.

Grudge Catch Is Slated At Sports Arena In Eastland

EASTLAND, April 17. — More than 700 wrestling fans were in the Sportarena in Eastland last Monday night despite heavy rains throughout the area, but they missed most of the show. The three top matches were okay, but the real fight didn't get started until almost an hour after the last event ended.

It was then that Roy Graham of Corsicana tangled with Cowboy Carlson in a non-scheduled free-for-all. Not a single fan got to see the scrap, but Sportarena officials saw more than they wanted to. It took all of their might to keep the two cowboys apart.

That's when Promoter Henry Pullman decided to match the two boys this coming Monday night. Pullman simply told them if they wanted to fight in his arena, they would have to do so in the ring — and not in the dressing room. Graham took the offer up immediately, and when Carlson paused a minute, Roy made it a dare. That's when Carlson broke an engagement in one of the largest cities of the state to fight in Eastland next Monday. The match will be for two out of three falls, with a 60-minute time limit.

In the semi-final event, Sugi Sito will meet Ivan Kalmikoff. The match will also be a best two out of three falls affair, with a 45-minute time limit.

In the opening event of the night, Henry Lenz will meet Dick Hutton. Lenz held Sito to a draw last Monday and was a crowd favorite.

Reserve seat tickets may be purchased now at the Connellee Hotel in Eastland, or by writing to the Sportarena.

The opening event gets underway at 8:30 p. m.

TERRIBLE WEAPONS

Some years ago, when nuclear weapons were new and infinitely less destructive than those of today, the fear was often expressed that it might be possible to actually explode that part of the universe in which we live. The weight of scientific opinion was, and is against that incredible concept. But progress — if that is the proper word for it — in nuclear development for war seems to have reached a point that few if any of us anticipated even a relatively short time back. The top physicists themselves have been surprised.

The March 1 test in the Pacific astonished the world. Secretary of Defense Wilson described it as "unbelievable" and said that the full details, which have not been made public, would "scare anybody." Chairman Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, speaking with Presidential authorization at a White House press conference, said that the blast was about double the expected size, but that it was never out of control and that the error made in prior calculations was "not incompatible with a totally new weapon."

How big was the blast? According to Time, "The test... makes all its predecessors, including the 1952 shot, look like a string of one-inch salutes. The force of the explosion probably exceeded ten megatons (500 Hiroshimas). It sent a radioactive cloud billowing to a height that may have exceeded 20 miles." Admiral Strauss also helped answer that question. He said the

H-bomb can be made "as large as you wish... large enough to destroy any city." Asked specifically if this means that one of the bombs could destroy New York City, he said, "The metropolitan area, yes." He denied, however, the rumors that an island or a group of islands had been destroyed in either the March 1 or March 26 tests, adding, "It would be more accurate to say a large sandspit or reef."

The most immediate repercussions came from Japan. Radioactive dust fell there, and a number of Japanese fishermen, whose trawler was not seen in the search made before the explosion, were injured. Some Japanese spokesmen demanded that the tests be stopped. But there seems to be small chance of that happening — they will go on, regardless of any criticism, so long as the world is in its present unhappy state of cold and hot conflict. Sir Winston Churchill came to our defense in this regard when he spoke in Commons against a Labor Party proposal that the tests be placed under international controls of some sort. He said, "We have no power to stop this. I am sure it would not be right or wise of us to ask that it should be stopped. When similar experiments are conducted by the Russians I cannot remember that anyone suggested such representations should be made to the Soviet Government."

What will be the end of all this? There are many guesses. The most obvious, of course, is an eventual war of unimaginable destruction. But some think that if two opposed powers have the H-bomb — and Admiral Strauss said Russia has it — the ghastly possibilities make the chance of war more remote. A German scientist who was instrumental in the development of the rockets with which Hitler bombarded England, said that he thought that within a year war may become a virtual impossibility. Malenkov himself has spoken of the horrors that can come from the atom, and in shocked terms. Perhaps, for the first time in history, a force exists which is so terrible that none would dare to unleash it.

Who is America's biggest boss?

HE IS YOUR BOSS — everybody's boss. He has the biggest say in whether or not you take home a fat pay envelope.

Who is he? The consumer—the person who buys, or does not buy, the product you have a part in making. If he thinks the product of your company is better than that of any competitor, and if he can get it at an attractive price, he'll buy it; your company will prosper; and there'll be more money for the wages and salaries of your company's employees.

If he can get a superior product elsewhere, or get it cheaper, of course he'll buy that.

By doing your full part in turning out the best possible product — and turning it out more efficiently, so that it can be sold at a lower price — you can persuade the "biggest boss" to buy it, and so make raises possible. The better you produce, the more you benefit, in the long run.

You are the boss when it comes to deciding what you will do with your dollars that don't have to be spent. Why not deposit them here, and be ready for future emergencies . . . opportunities? Next payday is a good time to start.
