The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

CISCO STREETS were either muddy or dusty 50 years ago, and the town newspaper was a weekly called The Roundup. One of the typesetters on the newspaper was a man named Frank Connell. He was here during the 1893 cyclone and remembers old-timers like Bob Mancill.

The train Thursday brought Mr. Connell and his son, Bob, to Cisco for a visit with the G. B. Langstons and others. They live in Fort Worth now and this is the first time Mr. Connell has been here since he left. He was enjoying himself, but it was difficult to find a familiar scene. He called at The Press Office and found nothing similar to the Cisco newspaper office he left.

It was good to meet and talk with Mr. Connell.

SEE BY THE West Ward News, a weekly newspaper edited by Mr. Doyle Holmes, that they have a new school song. It was written by Mrs. Richard Phillips, music teacher at WW. Understand it will be sung when the WW girls give their concert Tuesday night at the Junior High Gym.

Our scouts report that Mrs. Phillips is doing a wonderful job at WW.

THE WW NEWS also notes that there are a good many cases of chicken pox in town. Guess we'd all better watch out. . . . May 1 will be the birthday of Mr. Roy H. Horn and we hope it'll be a happy one. . . . Mr. Austin Flint observed another birthday the other day and, he says, it was a very happy birthday.

IF YOU WANT to see some good golf matches, drop out at the Cisco Country Club anytime this afternoon, Saturday or Sunday. The annual tournament will be in progress and some of the section's top players will be here. And everybody's welcome to be a spectator. They'll need a bunch of boys to serve as caddies. If you want a caddy job, go out to the club and report to the starting officials and they'll fix you up with a job. . . . Ladies of the Cisco Country Club are helping with the job of making visitors feel welcome. They'll entertain visiting ladies both Saturday and Sunday afternoons. . . . The golf course and club house look good for the tournament weekend. . . . They've moved the pro shop from the little building to the club house basement. . . . See Ben Tabor, the college student, in town for the tournament.

DOWN THE ROAD from the golf course, the Lake Cisco Park people were about ready for the opening of the swimming season. Water started pouring into the big pool late Thursday and it was due to be full in time for opening at 1 p. m. Saturday. Bet the water will be nice and cool for anyone who wishes to swim. The pool opens early for the benefit of the student of area high schools who don't like to wait until the water and the weather are warm. . . . It rained three tenths of an inch here last night. That's what the City Hall rain gauge showed.

THE WEATHER Bureau people sounded a tornado alarm Thursday afternoon. When these alarms come out of the weather bureau, it means that atmospheric conditions are right for storms and to be alert. It doesn't mean that you should get scared.

When the fire alarm went off around 1:30 a. m. Friday, everybody in town got out of bed and wondered if it was a fire or a storm warning. Two operators were on duty at the telephone office and they could not begin to answer all of the calls. A second alarm was sounded because the telephone office was swamped and they couldn't call firemen.

The city will have a special loudspeaker system ready very soon for storm warnings. Three blasts will mean look out for storms. When you hear the storm alarm, be alert but don't get excited.

Storms seldom are wider than a few hundred yards. If you want to watch the storms, notice the lightning. You will see cloud to ground, heavy lightning streaks in the heart of storm. If the lightning stays up in the clouds, you've nothing to worry about. If it's the other kind, stay away from windows. Storms usually pass over in a few moments, and they're usually not as severe as you think they're going to be.

FISHING CAT—Blackie, a cat in Grove, Okla., has his own means of getting some succulent morsels to eat. Whenever Jude Calkins, a fishing camp operator, left, dips minnows out of a tank for a hopeful customer, Blackie is on hand to snatch a share of the haul.

Pat Beal Begins Basic Training At El Paso Base

FORT BLISS, April 30.—Pvt. Patrick W. Beal, son of R. C. Beal, 710 N. Ridgeway, Salpula, Oklahoma, recently began eight weeks of basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

The first eight weeks of basic training are spent on fundamental infantry subjects like army drill, rifle, machine gun, and marksmanship, and familiarization with army technical subjects. This first phase of training is climaxed with a one week maneuver in the field.

Upon completion of the first eight week cycle, he will either be assigned for further training at Ft. Bliss in the techniques of antiaircraft artillery or he will be transferred to another training center for schooling in some other army skill.

Should he remain at Ft. Bliss, his second eight weeks will see him learn the uses of various electronic equipment employed by the AAA-RTC. He will also be expertly trained in the firing of light and medium antiaircraft artillery at low flying and high altitude aerial targets on the one-and-one-half million acre Ft. Bliss ranges.

The soldier formerly lived in Cisco and has relatives here.

House Destroyed By Fire Blaze

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed a three unit dwelling in the 400 block on West 4th early Friday morning. The house was unoccupied, it was reported.

Tom B. Stark, local real estate agent who was in charge of the property, estimated the loss at between $4,500 and $5,000. It belonged to C. H. Manly of Clyde.

The house had three apartments and was partly furnished. It was of frame and stucco construction. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered, it was reported.

Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown and Miss Ulla Davenport spent the past weekend in Vernon and Lake Kemp.

The queen will be chosen by popular vote from among the three named from the eighth grade. The maids of honor will be selected by popular vote, one from each grade. The remainder of the girls will serve as princesses.

C. B. Midkiff, principal of junior high, will crown the queen and Stanley Webb will serve as master of ceremonies. Susan Addy and Preston Midkiff will be the crown bearers and Dick Benic and Freddy Howell will be the court jesters.

A program to entertain the queen and the visitors has been arranged. The Midgettes will sing selected numbers and the Midgétaires will present several vocal selections. Tommy Stephenson will sing a solo and there will be the winding of the May Pole.

The winners of the poster contest will also be announced at the program. The posters were made by students at the school and winners were selected from each room.

The money derived from the carnival and the lunch room will be used by the club in its work with the school. Everyone was invited to attend.

Nearly 100 golfers were expected to play qualifying rounds at the country club course today as the 19th annual Cisco Invitation Golf Tournament opened. Qualifying scores had been posted by 35 golfers at noon.

Match play in the tournament will begin Saturday morning with the semi-finals and finals Sunday. The tournament medalist was to be determined in today's play. The annual tournament barbecue will be held tonight at the club. An Abilene firm was due to serve barbecued beef with all the trimmings. Tickets were being sold to the public for $2.50 each. The Calcutta pool auction will follow the barbecue. Fifty-one golfers participated in Thursday afternoon's pro-amateur tournament at the club. Joe

ROTARIANS HEAR ABILENE MAN IN TALK AT BANQUET MEETING

Rotarians and their wives and invited guests heard Dr. Charles Romine tell of the problems of the teaching profession at the annual Ladies Night banquet at the Hotel Victor Thursday night. The affair was attended by some 100 persons.

Dr. Romine, principal of Abilene High School and one of Texas' best known educators, spiced his talk with many jokes and stressed his points cleverly with appropriate stories. His unusual talk received a great amount of applause.

To begin his part of the program Dr. Romine gave a skit on the old medicine show, hawking his "cure-all" products. He followed that with his humorous talk on education. He stressed the point that a teacher must have a sense of humor in order to remain in the teaching profession, and showed the listeners that he had the required sense of humor.

Dr. Romine has held many important posts in the teaching profession and in teacher organizations. He is active in both Boy Scout and Girl Scout work and in other youth programs.

Prior to the talk by the Abilene educator, two other Abilene men presented the musical program. Gene Estes, Abilene business man and Rud Swan, Abilene salesman, played and whistled five numbers. Estes played the accordion and whistled, and Swan whistled. Both were experts and were called back for encores.

President W. H. McAnally presided at the meeting and introduced W. W. Fewell who served as master of ceremonies. Fewell introduced the Rotarians and called on each member of the club to introduce his guests. He also introduced the officers for the coming year.

Fewell introduced M. W. McCormick of Abilene, who arranged the program.

The tables were decorated with cut flowers, and corsages for the women formed a part of the table decorations. Ed Black, assistant club pro at Abilene, was the captain of the winning team. His team had a score of eight under par. Second honors went to a team captained by Bill Dill, club pro at Weatherford, whose team posted a six under per score. Three teams tied for third place with scores of five under par. A fast field was expected with (Turn To Page Four)

Both members of the association and every one interested in the livestock industry are invited to attend this meeting. Included on the program is O. F. Armstrong Soil Conservation Service, who will talk on "Cattle and Grasses." Also on the program is Murray Cox, Farm Editor for Radio & Television Station W. F. A. A., Dallas. Mr. Cox will present an illustrated lecture from the 1953 W. F. A. A. Farm Study Tour of Western Canada and Alaska.

VFW District To Hold Convention At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, April 30.—Justin M. Morrow, of Rotan, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Texas, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the posts from District 8 in Sweetwater on May 1 and 2.

The posts in this district are from Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Stevens, Shackelford, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Eastland, Brown and Comanche counties. Comrade J. W. (Bill) Cole of Abilene is the Commander of this district.

Justin M. Morrow, Rotan, Texas, was duly elected and installed commander of the Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on the final day of the 33rd annual encampment of the state V. F. W. organization in San Antonio, July 1, 1953.

Morrow is the sixth World War II veteran to be named to the highest office in the V. F. W. in Texas. He won his eligibility to membership in the world's largest organization of overseas veterans through 13 months service in Europe with the 335th Inf. 84th Inf. Div. and 486 AAA Bn. He was awarded the EAME ribbon with one battle star and was discharged with the rank of private first class.

Commander Morrow has been active in the V. F. W. since first joining in June 1946. He served as commander of his own post, Fisher County Memorial Post No. 5072, Rotan, for three years and was commander of the state's largest district, No. 8, in 1950-51.

PECAN GROWERS VOTE TO HOLD ANNUAL SHOW AGAIN IN CISCO

Eastland County pecan growers voted to hold another pecan show in Cisco late this year during a brief business session at the annual field day Tuesday at the Lee Leiske orchard southwest of Cisco.

Some 65 persons attended the all-day affair. The first annual show was held here last fall and was described as an outstanding success. Plans were also made to hold a Pecan Orchard Tour at a later date.

Pecan growers from Eastland and surrounding counties heard two Texas A&M College specialists, an expert on pecan insecticides and an experienced orchard man in talks during the all-day program. Lunch was spread at noon. County Agent J. M. Cooper was in charge of the program.

J. E. Hutchison, extension horticulturist at A&M College, was the first speaker, and he discussed pecan culture. He told of successful experiments in grazing orchards during the winter and early spring. He told of the value of cover crops during winter and of experiments in seeding orchards with Bermuda grass.

Mr. Hutchison explained that experiments in Alabama have indicated that orchard owners can increase their per acre income through running cattle or sheep without cutting down on the pecan yield.

George Goss, veteran Rising Star orchard owner, discussed "Financial Opportunities in Pecan Growing for Young Men." He told of planting his 65 acre orchard 35 years ago. He recommended planting pecan seed and budding the trees when small as an economical way to begin an orchard. He explained that vetch and rye planted in September or early October would add much to the orchard's growth.

Mr. Goss said he had realized from $25 to $150 per acre from his orchard for the past 25 years, except in 1938 when a severe freeze ruined the crop. He believed that young men could earn a good living from orchards and farming.

"Pecan Soils and Fertilizers" was the subject of a talk by B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist at A&M College. He pointed out that efforts to improve pecans began only 50 years ago and that much had been accomplished. Nitrogen, he said, is the only element that increases the yield of pecan trees and their growth. He added that there are three

175 Men Are Due At Weekend Meet

Final plans for the construction of two dormitory buildings for boys at the Presbyterian camp at Lake Cisco will be made Sunday when some 175 men of the Mid-Tex Presbytery meet at the camp for a rally.

Work on the project has actually begun as workmen have been digging ditches preparatory to the laying of water lines for the two new buildings. All that remained to be done before actual work on the buildings begins is working out a few minor details.

Plans call for the building of two new boys dormitories to house 15 boys each, and the building of a bath house to serve the two dorms. The buildings now being used for boys will be converted into classrooms, and recreation halls to be used in bad weather.

With the completion of the new dormitories all the housing facilities for both boys and girls will be modern in every respect and will give the camp adequate facilities to take care of most groups.

The camp is booked solid from late in May into September, it was reported by E. P. Crawford, who is in charge of the arrangements.

On May 28-29 a group of Presbytery will be at the camp making plans for their annual encampment. On the afternoon of May 29 the Odessa High School band will move in and will remain until the afternoon of May 31.

On June 2 the O'Donnell Future Homemakers will arrive for an overnight stay and on June 4, 5 and 6 the Anderson family will gather for their annual reunion. It will be the first time the group has met in Cisco.

From June 7 to August 24 there will be a continual group of camps for young people. Eight of the groups will be from the Mid-Tex Presbytery and three from the El Paso Presbytery. During that time there will also be two camps for Walther Leaguers and youths of the Lutheran Churches of this area.

PINCH SPEED DEMONS

Thousands of motorists are learning the hard way that they can no longer count on rear-view mirrors to warn them of an approaching police car, according to a report in the June issue of Pageant magazine which gives the details on the new "unseen traffic cop" — radar.

Now in use on main highways and city streets in 45 states, the radar device, called the Electromagnetic Speed Meter, is about the size of an overnight bag and consists of three units. The first is a transmitter-receiver set in an aluminum-shielded box which the police officer points toward on-coming traffic. Sometimes he perches it on the fender of his car, sometimes in the rear storage compartment, sometimes on a tripod some distance from the car. The set sends out a steady stream of high frequency radar waves which bounce off an approaching car, change frequency and are picked up by the receiving antenna. The difference between the two frequencies is translated into miles per hour on a dial. If the dial shows, for example, that an approaching motorist is traveling 70 miles per hour, the officer jots down the license number and radios a description of the vehicle to a colleague a mile or so down the road. Moments later the errant driver sees a patrolman standing out on the highway waving him to a halt. Meanwhile a third unit, an automatic pen, has made a permanent record on graph paper of the driver's speed over a 150-foot stretch.

Enforcement officials of the Electromagnetic Speed Meter are outspoken in their praise of the device. Says Mississippi's Commissioner of Public Safety, "It has cut down highway deaths tremendously in our state." Other exponents of the Speed Meter claim it more than justifies its $1,100 price tag in the form of savings for the taxpayer. These savings, they say, are brought about through lower maintenance costs for police cruisers, fewer repair bills and damage suits resulting from accidents during high-speed chases and through lower court costs as a consequence of the increasing number of guilty pleas in traffic cases.

Perhaps the most interesting aspect of the radar device, points out, the article is its powerful psychological effect on would-be speeders, most of whom slow down when they see the warning sign that an Electromagnetic Speed Meter is in the vicinity. A few hot rodders, of course, show an untiring ingenuity for "beating the game," but, according to the sales engineer of the company that makes the radar meters, the only way to fool the Unseen Cops is to install in the car a transmitter using the same frequency as the radar apparatus. But here's the catch. Such a transmitter would cost about $1000. And using it without a license would violate regulations of the Federal Communications and very likely would lead to a stiff fine and even a jail sentence!

Vitamins Easy to Take In Home Garden Salad

Earliest Loose Heading Lettuce Matures in 60 Days.

Nutritionists stress the use of "green, leafy vegetables" as a source of vitamins not only for children, but for adults as well.

You can follow this prescription in a most delightful way by serving at least once every day a tossed salad, made of vegetables fresh picked from the home garden.

Children quickly learn to like the daily salad course, and so acquire a healthful habit which will improve their appetites and health all through life. In all civilized countries, a green salad is considered essential to the perfect dinner menu.

Leaf lettuce is preferred by most chefs over head lettuce for salads. It is also far richer in vitamins. It comes in two types — the butter leaves, and the crisp leaves. The butter leaves are thicker, and darker green, with finer flavor, the experts say. Crisp leaves are lighter green in color, thin and somewhat brittle. Examples are Black Seeded Simpson, a butter type, and Grand Rapids, a crisp leaf type. Experts give first place in their esteem to the butter leaves.

Fast growing loose head varieties, such as Bibb lettuce are popular with many. Romaine or cos lettuce, which produces oval leaves, standing upright, is highly esteemed by French salad experts. It is a good late lettuce, standing heat better than the leaf varieties. The leaves can be bleached by tying them up as they near maturity, but this merely changes their color, and lessens their vitamin content.

For summer leaves, chicory, also known as endive, is more available than lettuce, which usually runs to seed in midsummer. Endive may be had with curly leaves, or broad leaves. Many like the curly leaves best for summer, and broad leaves (escarole) for fall, as they endure frost and become sweeter after the frost comes. Sow both types in drills, thin out to six or eight inches.

Leaf crops grown in a similar manner, and much esteemed in bowl salads, include corn salad, which is very hardy and can be harvested late in the fall; and upland garden cress, which gives a pungent flavor to the salad. In the fall lettuce may be grown again; and the Chinese cabbage leaves are delicious. Chinese cabbage may be grown in the spring, with rich soil and an early start. But in midsummer, it always runs to seed. A late crop has no such tendency, and heads are easily produced in the fall, from plants started in late June.

All leaf crops demand rich soil. They must grow fast without check, otherwise the leaves are tough and have a bitter flavor. Plant food should be applied to the soil in which they grow at the rate of 4 pounds to 100 square feet.

Ever Think of Blue Monday —
... as a day when there's chores to be done which are not quite inspiring, but positively boresome? Some do. But in our business we never have a blue moment, altho pouring over ancient, dingy records sounds all but refreshing. To us it's all in the day's wash and we know what you mean when you say "build me a dependable abstract." Yes, it's hard work, tedious, exacting, responsible, but interesting. Try us on your next order — we never grow tired serving you.

Haiti Bishop Speaks At Episcopal Meeting

The Rt. Rev. C. Alfred Voegeli, Bishop of Haiti, was the guest speaker on Tuesday, April 27, at the spring deanery meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church held in Brownwood. The Bishop told of the needs and wants of the Church in Haiti, since the women of this Diocese have adopted a five year program of "Sharing with Haiti."

In the business meeting which preceded the Bishop's address, Mrs. Wendell Mayes, Deanery chairman, presided. Mrs. Jack Frost, of Eastland, was appointed to the nominating committee to select officers to be voted upon at the 1955 Deanery meeting.

St. Anne's Guild, Cisco, was represented at the meeting by Mrs. D. Ball, Mrs. C. E. Paul, and Mrs. Dick Cutting. The Auxiliary Group of Eastland was represented by Mrs. Jack Frost, Mrs. Clyde Grissom, Rev. A. E. Hartwell, Rector of Holy Trinity Church. His son, Rev. Edward Hartwell, of Jasper also attended.

The weekly meeting of the Goodwill Rebekah Lodge was held Thursday evening at the lodge hall with Mrs. May Kleiner, presiding in the absence of the noble grand, Connie Hyatt.

The meeting opened in regular form. Routine business matters were transacted and plans made for a party, honoring Connie Hyatt, to be held following the meeting of the Lodge Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Edith Bragg. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Those attending were Mesdames May Kleiner, Lydia Krauskopf, Pebble Howell, Helen Brashers, Leah Bates, Dee Clements, Ethel Moore, Edith Bragg, Effie Mayhew, and Katie Cooper.

MARK DION HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hill of Austin are the parents of a son, Mark Dion, born April 30 in the Seaton Hospital in Austin. The infant weighed eight pounds at birth and both mother and baby are doing nicely. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erwin of Cisco are the grandparents.

Miss Ulla Davenport and Mrs. N. A. Brown were visitors in Breckenridge Wednesday.

SADNESS AND JOY—Emmett Kelly, the famed clown who never found life very funny, seems to be allowing Roy Fredonia a peek into human folly at a performance of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus in New York City. Roy's parents are circus acrobats, so this is all old hat to him.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess At Ruth Class Social

Mrs. Wayman Johnson was hostess in her home Thursday evening when the Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church met for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Jack Everett, president, called the meeting to order and led in prayer. Routine business matters were transacted followed by a devotional by Mrs. Jay Williams. Mrs. Bob Hammett closed the meeting with prayer.

From Page One a number of college stars competing for the championship. Two star performers, the Garland brothers, were here with Cisco's Ben Taber from Kilgore Junior College. Collegians were also here from Hardin-Simmons, the University of Texas, North Texas State College and elsewhere. Several Cisco golfers were expected to be in the top flight.

Hardy Loudermilk, last year's runnerup, was here from Abilene and toured the course Friday morning. It was not known whether Doug Jones, the defending champion, would be here. He would have a championship flight position without qualifying by virtue of his victory last year.

Most of the state's "name" players were in Wichita Falls for the annual tournament there this week. Colorado City, to the west,
