

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

DROPPED IN at the Rudolph Kamon home late Monday to say "welcome back to Cisco" to Mr. Robert Kamon, the local geologist. He returned the other day after a business trip to Australia — his second trip to that country "down under."

Robert left Cisco on January 13. His trip home shows what modern transportation can do. He left Darwin in Australia last Wednesday morning and landed in Denver, Colorado, to spend the night on Thursday night. Of course, he gained 10 hours when he crossed the international date-line. That's really traveling. The trip was via Constellations and Douglas DC-6's.

Robert wrote several interesting articles on the land, grass and ranches of Australia. And one of the first things we asked him was "did you buy one?"

The answer is yes. He bought one ranch and took an option on another. The one he bought is a small place — only about 850,000 acres of land. In Australia, you don't buy land — you get a 50-year lease with renewable options from the government. Then, you can sell your lease. Robert's ranch isn't stocked yet.

The place he has an option to buy contains about 1,300,000 acres. It will cost 6c per acre, and it has about 6,000 head of cattle that will cost $13.75 each. Robert figures to retain an interest in this one, too, selling a big part of it to somebody.

Robert took off early today for a business conference in Tulsa, Okla. Later, he is scheduled to meet people in New York City and other points in the east. He reports that development work is moving ahead nicely in the huge oil concession that the Lucky Strike Drilling Company holds in Australia.

The oil concession, which Robert obtained in a trip down under last year, is a valuable property. When you consider that a young geologist from Cisco, Texas, went to Australia and obtained the concession, which necessitated the changing of laws there, you must pay tribute to initiative. Robert's accomplishments demonstrate that opportunities are available to those who go after them. And we, his friends and neighbors, can take pride in his success.

WENT BY THE First Presbyterian basement the other night for the Cub Scout meeting and picture show. They had a film on the oil industry. Since they've been studying the oil industry the past month, the Cubs have been making oil derricks and the like as home projects.

Cubmaster Chief Brown built a complete oil derrick and drilling rig. He has a tiny motor that pulls equipment up into the derrick and lowers it. Tanks are nearby, too. It's a real piece of work and the Cub Scouts are very proud of their bossman.

Dr. Brown and his Den Mothers are doing a splendid job.

WHEN MR. JACK Everett, the school coordinator (That's a job where you do everything nobody else can do), takes on a grass mowing job, he doesn't believe in little projects. That was evident the other day when he went out to Chesley Field and started mowing the football gridiron. Mr. Paul Blain of our town is among those observing birthdays this week. . . . Tweety, the blue parakeet, is missing up at the Buddy Dolgener house. He disappeared Sunday and they're anxious about him. . . . The Bob Elliotts visited Sunday in Dallas with Mr. and Mrs. Nick Miller. Mr. NM is doing well as could be hoped for after a major operation. He is expected to be in the hospital for another few days and then will have to remain in Dallas for maybe ten more days.

CISCO'S WEST Texas Utilities Company employees did right well in the annual company golf tournament last Friday and Saturday over at the municipal golf course in Abilene. Mr. Norman Huston, the local manager, was co-medalist and runner-up in the championship flight, losing in the finals to Russell Crownover. . . . H. O. Anderson lost to E. L. Gaines of Iraan in the 1st flight finals. . . . O. J. Russell won the 4th flight consolation, and Felton Underwood, Holland Nix and E. A. Cox also played.

BOY SCOUT CAMP MAKES PLANS FOR BUSY SUMMER'S PROGRAM

The Comanche Trail Council's summer camp will hold for its first session June 14th to 20th and the second session June 21st to 27th, according to an announcement here. Scout officials are looking forward to what they expect to be one of the largest attendances in the history of the Council.

Registered troops and posts in the following towns will be expected in attendance: Breckenridge, Woodson, Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Carbon, Gorman, Stephenville, Dublin, Comanche, Rising Star, Bangs, Brownwood, Blanket, Brookesmith, Priddy, Mullin, Goldthwaite, Lampasas, Lometa, San Saba, and Richland Springs.

One of the best camp staffs is being developed that the camp has had in recent years. Camp activities such as life saving tests, first class swimming tests, merit badge tests, marksmanship, hiking, muletrain, indian lore, knife and axmanship will be carried on as well as games for fun.

The camp is located fifteen miles south of Richland Springs in San Saba County on Brady Creek. Many Scouts see wild turkey and deer for their first time. Small animals are in abundance on the ranch where the Scouts get an opportunity to really study nature. The dam which afforded a lake 1/4 mile long and had a wash around the end three years ago is now being repaired and the lake will be full for water for this coming season. Funds are now being raised for that purpose.

The Camp is equipped with a mess hall that will accommodate 350 Scouts and Scouters. A ranch-style porch was added to this building last summer which affords plenty of shade for Scouts and visitors. The Camp fee this year is $14.00 for each period. The Scouts and parents have a choice of an accidental insurance for an additional fifty cents fee.

Through the generosity of a number of doctors living in the council, a program has been set up whereby one will visit the camp each day for any necessary checkups and be a guest of the Scouts at the mess hall and any features of the program that they may desire to attend. They may even want to bring along their fishing tackle.

Sunday services will be held each Sunday morning for Scouts and visitors. Each period will end with the Sunday noon meal where awards and good-byes will take place and where parents may have an opportunity to help out on the transportation of the Scouts back home.

There are many physical features that the council hopes to add from year to year to the camp and more and more people are becoming interested in the camp which is considered by the Boy Scouts of America as being one of the best wilderness type of camps in Region IX, which is composed of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hamner, owners of Thomas Funeral Home here, have returned from Houston where they attended the annual convention of the Texas Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association at which meeting Mr. Hamner was elected first vice-president.

The election of Mr. Hamner to the office of first vice-president was the first time in a number of years that a funeral director from a small community had been honored with a high office in the association. The election places him in line for the office of president in 1955.

While in Houston at the meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Hamner purchased a number of the latest designs in caskets for their new selection room which is now under construction.

High School Band And Choir Recital Scheduled Friday

Hilmer Wagner, director of the Cisco High School Lobo band and the Cisco High School choir, reported Tuesday that the band and choir would be presented in concert Friday at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium. The public was invited to the concert. Mr. Wagner said that there would be no admission charge.

The high school band, the junior high school band, the beginners band and the high school chorus will join in presenting the program.

The band will play Sousa marches and the numbers played at contest in Stephenville on May 30. The choir will sing many popular numbers and a group of spirituals.

It will probably be the final appearance of the band for the present school year.

Baseball Games Are Postponed By Rainy Weather

Little League contests scheduled for Monday and Tuesday nights were postponed because of rain and the games will be made up as soon as possible, it was reported Tuesday.

The game between the Cardinals and the Giants, scheduled for Monday night, will be played Saturday night with the farm team game to begin at 5 p. m. The game scheduled for tonight between the Braves and the Athletics will be made up Saturday night, May 22.

League officials decided this year to make up all postponed games on Saturday nights where possible so that the season will not be prolonged.

JUNIOR COLLEGE WILL PRESENT CHOIR IN ANNUAL HOME RECITAL

The Cisco Junior College A Cappella Choir will present its annual home concert "Jobabali" at the high school auditorium Thursday night, and tickets for the concert were placed on sale last week, it was reported by Jack Chambliss, music director at the school and director of the choir.

The program is divided into four parts and consists of numbers in the Russian and Gypsy theme, spiritual songs and western songs and square dance numbers.

Costuming and lighting have been combined to lend color and beauty to the program and the use of black light adds uniqueness to the show.

In addition to the choir numbers the Wrangler Quartet will sing several numbers. The program will be the same as the one presented on two choir trips in April and at schools in the immediate area. The group has received much applause in the towns where the show has been presented and the newspapers have joined in praising the program.

Many hours of practice have gone into the program and the choir was faced with the task of replacing all equipment following the fire in January. Tickets for the program are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, and Director Chambliss assured everyone that they would get their money's worth.

New Water Flows Into City Lakes

Approximately 1.5 inches of rain fell in the Cisco area Monday night and Tuesday, raising the water level in the city's reservoirs, according to rain gauges. The forecast called for continued rain showers Tuesday afternoon and night.

Eight tenths of an inch of rain was measured at the City Hall rain gauge Monday night, and an additional seven tenths of an inch had fallen by noon. The rain gauge at Lake Cisco had similar readings.

Ray Judia, city lake custodian, reported that the water level at Lake Cisco was up about two inches by 8:30 a. m. today. Several more inches were expected to flow into the lake as the result of later rain showers.

Lake Bernie needed only about two more inches of water at 9 a. m. to flow over the top, Mr. Judia said. Creeks were still running into the lake and additional rain was expected to run the lake over, Mr. Judia believed.

The rainfall brought the month's total to more than 2 1/2 inches and the total for the year to near the normal mark. Area farm and ranch land was in top shape for moisture. Stock tanks were full everywhere.

It was one year ago today that a severe hailstorm hit this entire area, damaging hundreds of house tops. It was a year ago today that a tornado struck Waco, causing big damage and killing many people.

THE STORY OF YOUR CREDIT RATING

Most of you probably have never experienced the opening of your first credit account, but others of you know what it is to buy on credit. In the near future some of you will be holding jobs and will obtain many of the good things of life on credit. It is important that you know how to use credit wisely and to your advantage.

The story of your credit rating, and how it is built, goes something like this: Chances are you never heard of a Credit Bureau, but unless you are one of the few who never buy on credit, we'll bet they've heard of you.

To all of you, let it be said that the all-seeing Credit Bureau, which knows more about you and your private affairs than even your best friend, tells nothing — except its bona fide members who are equally as close-mouthed.

If you have ever purchased on credit, borrowed money for any purpose, or made such application, your name is probably among the thousands on file in the local Merchants Credit Association.

Their records have your life history — address, age, marital status, dependents, property you own, character of paying bills.

And if you ever applied for mortgage loans, auto financing or other large sized credits, they know what your employer, neighbor and associates think of you, your character, your habits, and your morals. They know if you ever run afoul of the law, been involved in any legal action, and even your history before coming to this community, if you are not a native of Cisco.

All these bits of information added to your file, piece together the true credit picture of you, the buyer. This makes it possible for retail stores to decide your status as a credit risk, the extent to which they want to become involved.

Suppose you walk into a local store . . . where you have never had any credit dealings and where you are not known. You have every intention of purchasing a new dress or suit. After taking your credit application, the credit manager picks up the telephone and calls the Credit Bureau.

The secretary of the credit bureau reaches over to the file cabinets and pulls out your record and reads the report on you. The Credit Bureau doesn't attempt to tell the credit manager whether you are a good or a bad risk. The record speaks for itself. With the information given to him, the store manager is in position to make up his own mind about taking you on as a new account.

The credit bureau has many good sources for finding out all about you. For one thing its reporters daily scan all public records and note marriages, divorces, births, deaths, lawsuits, mortgages, arrests, convictions and all pertinent newspaper items. If you have been singled out for public acclaim, that will be noted on your record, as will an arrest for speeding or drunken driving.

The stores report each month to the credit bureau the way customers pay their bills, and this is added to each credit card in the bureau. People make their own credit ratings by the way they handle their financial affairs. All the bureau does is to keep the score.

There is a popular fallacy that as long as you pay a little something on your account every month, your account is not delinquent. Nothing could be further from the truth. Unless you pay as you originally agreed to pay, you are delinquent.

So remember this one thing: Take care of your Credit and it will take care of you. Buy Wisely — pay promptly.

STILL NO SUBSTITUTE FOR PRINCIPLES

More Food Than Fluid in Nutritious Watermelons

Though watermelons may seem to consist chiefly of a delicious juice, they actually have a lower water content than asparagus, celery, cucumbers and lettuce. Moreover they stand drought better than other vine crops. In addition they are rich in minerals and vitamins and have a high calorie count, so if you are reducing, make them part of the meal, and not merely the dessert. Even in northern states, where they get a late start in growing, there are varieties of watermelons which can be ripened before frost.

Watermelons Contain Less Water Than Asparagus or Lettuce.

Watermelons are usually grown in hills, which may be as close together as three feet each way, in small gardens. Such close spacing is likely to reduce the size of the fruits, and more room should be given where possible. Seeds should be sown in warm soil, and if the nights continue cold it may be desirable to protect the young plants at first with waxed paper tents. Heavy fertilizing pays well with this crop. As much as a pint of balanced plant food may be mixed well with the soil beneath each hill several days before the seed is planted. Or use a shovel of well rotted manure, and half a pint of plant food. Sow ten seeds to the hill and thin out to the two strongest plants that develop. Do not harvest watermelons until they are ripe, as they improve in flavor very little after they are picked. It takes some study to determine when a melon is ripe, without "plugging" it. Thumping is one test, ripe melons giving a dead flat sound, green ones a ringing sound. The color of the spot where the melon lay on the ground usually changes from greenish white to yellow as it ripens. The same insects and diseases that attack muskmelons and cucumbers may attack the watermelon. If your garden has grown watermelons at any time during the last five years, a wilt resistant variety should be used.

AND NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

TRIBUTE PAID MISS HOWELL AS CHURCH WOMEN HOLD LUNCHEON

City church women answered the call when the Cisco Council United Church Women met for their annual May Fellowship Day luncheon and program at the First Christian Church Friday.

Delegations from seven congregations were present: The First Methodist, Holy Trinity Episcopal, The First Presbyterian, The Church of Nazarene, Wesleyan Methodist, Grace Lutheran, and the First Christian.

Members attending as special guests of the Council included Rev. E. H. Lightfoot, Rev. Grady James, Rev. D. M. Duke, Rev. Bob Sanders, and Rev. Sidney Spain. Rev. and Mrs. Jack Garrett of Seminole and Mrs. A. M. Coffin of Fort Worth attended as out of town guests.

Mrs. J. B. Elder, council president, presided at a short business meeting preceding the program. The secretary, Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report.

Miss Eula Howell was honored by the Council as the woman with the longest record of continuous service in business in Cisco. Miss Howell was introduced by Mrs. W. W. Wallace, who also presented her with a corsage as a token of the appreciation of Cisco church women for her untiring service.

In her introduction of Miss Howell, Mrs. Wallace pointed out that Christians in public service have a greater responsibility than the ordinary person. "They are, through their Christian principles, bound to strive to the high standards that Christ taught by word and deed," Mrs. Wallace said.

"Patience, helpfulness, tactfulness and integrity are character traits developed by such a type of Christian service, and traits that are possessed by Miss Howell," she concluded.

Using the theme of "The Christian Woman's Trusteeship," the program began with scripture readings from both the Old Testament and the New Testament by Rev. D. M. Duke and Rev. Grady James. Rev. E. H. Lightfoot offered a prayer for guidance in

Letters

Dear Editor:

You say it is about time for you to express your opinion on the Senator McCarthy mess so I suppose you won't object to me expressing my opinion on the Army mess.

You said it was a shame that there isn't some way that the Army, Navy or Air Force could prevent themselves being subjected to such useless ridicule. They could have, don't you think? All they had to do was cooperate with the investigation and back-up General Lawton.

You call it a one man show. I have been watching pretty closely and it seems to be there are more ham actors than one in this show and from Secretary Stevens' answers I would say he doesn't know the answers and is incapable of handling this responsible position or else he is covering for someone who is guilty of some sort of incompetency and all I have to say to that is he who beats the drum against McCarthy is certainly beating the drum with the enemy, the Communist, for it is a known fact the Communist are more afraid of McCarthy than anyone else.

Grow GOOD PULLETS at LOW COST on PURINA

Make up to 1/3 MORE PROFIT

Two eggs laid before Christmas usually bring more money than the eggs laid afterward. This means you can make more profit simply by getting your pullets to full production early in fall. And the best way to do that is to feed a real good growing ration like PURINA.

Makes YOUR GRAIN do its best work

Purina Growing Chow helps you grow fine, big pullets with your own grain. (It also helps you turn the little roosters into big springers ready to eat when just 9 or 10 weeks old.) When your growing birds run on range, they need only 7 to 7 pounds of Purina apiece, plus your grain to be ready for the next
