

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

GUESS WE SHOULD have drawn Hat Day all over again, now that spring has returned. The temperature was around 50 degrees for about three days and everybody put away their straw hats and perforated shoes. The weather man says it will begin to get progressively warmer these days. The man still says, however, that this month will be a bit cooler than usual — and a wetter.

CISCO WILL BE represented in the Abilene Open golf tournament this weekend by Jackie Miller, professional at the Cisco Country Club, and Bill Goff. See the papers where they're scheduled to take part.

Saw Mr. Bill Dill, formerly of here and now the golf pro at Weatherford, in town last evening. He has entered the Abilene Open, too, and was visiting over here for the night.

THEY'RE beginning to get ready for the move to California at the Ace Lucas house, and where they go they would like to give a pair of registered, blonde Cocker Spaniel dogs to somebody. They're grown dogs and very handsome. The dogs will go to somebody who will take both of them and give them a good home.

Mr. Lucas, who resigned his post as a city commissioner last Tuesday night, will work for a philosopher factory in Palo Alto, Calif. We were genuinely sorry to hear that the Lucases plan to leave their home town. They have been good citizens for many years. Understand they'll be here until school is out.

IF YOU'RE BY the A-G Motor Company, where he keeps the mechanical department buzzing, you might slap Mr. Pete Clements in the back and say "well done — we appreciate your work." He has retired as fire chief, turning the top job in the Cisco Volunteer Department over to Mr. Lefty Sublett.

Pete did a fine job. The reward for being fire chief is the knowledge that you are contributing something to your city. And we, the citizens, sincerely appreciate the work of Pete and others of the fire department.

LISTENING TO Mr. Bob Hammett, the banker and finance man, talk at the Lions Club the other day, we got to thinking. Bob came to our town a couple of years or so ago and has quietly become a good citizen. He is active in civic work and in the church. A reformed Yankee, he's proud to be a Texan.

Overheard him sometime ago talking on the telephone up at the bank. Somebody from back east had called. And Bob was giving them a sales talk on Texas.

A story he told at the Lions meeting brought out wide grins from those assembled. The story concerned a banker whose glasses were distinguished from his eyes only because the glasses had a glint of human kindness in it.

WE HAD BEGUN to wonder what happened to our Johnson class farmer friend over east of here. He wrote us several notes, mentioning particularly about making Hawaii a state, and Mr. C. Cheshire took after him via letter column.

Comes a note from Grassy as follows: "If they ever take these McCarthy hearings off TV, I'll get along with this farm business. I started work on a new farm when the TV started showing the mess, and I can't break the habit."

"You ought to do an editorial on McCarthy, showing the senator as a misguided zealot who has fallen into the hands of a bigger man, Cohn, who causes the senator to tag the Red label on anyone he (Cohn) takes a dislike to. He does get some Commies, true; but he also scalps people whose only connection with Commies is by remote association. I believe that if Cohn held one of his shows here, he'd find me for sure — because a friend of mine has a cousin who is a Commie sympathizer, and because in college I read, as part of my studies, 'Das Kapital,' with loathing, but at least I read it."

John Adams makes a much better witness than Stevens — more intelligent. Will close, mail and get back to the TV."

IN THE MOOD—Yes, Nero and Titus, five-week-old lion cubs at a zoo in Vienna, Austria, are expressing some sort of emotion. Whether it's anger at the crowds who come to watch them, or amusement at those same people is not determinable by their wide-open mouths.

Milk Sales Show 4.1% Decrease In Month Of April

Average daily fluid milk sales in the Central West Texas marketing area show a decrease of 4.1 percent during April, as compared with March, Byford W. Bain, Market Administrator, announced. The April reports of receipts and utilization from eleven Grade A milk processing plants regulated under Federal Order No. 82 showed an average daily Class I utilization of 341,837 pounds, as compared with 356,290 pounds during March. Class I sales refer to sales of whole milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk and cream.

The average daily receipts of milk from producers showed a decrease of 0.8% during April, as compared with March. On a daily basis, 728 producers delivered an average of 394,455 pounds of milk per day during April, as compared with 397,486 pounds per day from 732 producers during March.

For the period of April through June producers will be paid on the base-excess plan. During April the base milk deliveries amounted to 9,966,347 pounds for which producers will receive $5.55 per hundredweight for 4.0% milk f. o. b. handlers' plants located at Abilene, San Angelo, Stamford and Sweetwater, Texas. The price for base milk delivered to Brownwood, Texas, is $5.35 per hundredweight, and for base deliveries to handlers' plants located at Lamesa and Midland, Texas, the price is $5.75 per hundredweight.

The excess milk deliveries during April amounted to 1,867,309 pounds for which producers will receive $2.72 per hundredweight of 4.0% milk f. o. b. handlers' plants.

LIVESTOCK RAISERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL FIELD DAY ON JUNE 18

The annual field day of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association will be held on the Ed Harrison's B&B Ranch, 5 miles east of Gorman on June 18, Boyd Hilley of that city and president of the group reported today.

The all-day program will get underway at 10 o'clock that morning and last until around 3 p. m. with time out at noon for a picnic lunch, Hilley said. The lunch will be furnished through the courtesy of the Gorman Business Men's Club.

Farmers and ranchers not only in Eastland but also in adjoining counties as well are invited to attend the field day. Topics to be either discussed or demonstrated during the meeting include a range judging contest, grass identification, importance of vitamins and minerals in livestock feeding, the beef and pork price outlook for the next 12 months, factors that determine quality in a fine wool sheep and in Angora goats and factors that determine dressing percentage in a beef animal.

Those to appear on the program from the A&M College Extension Service include Fred Walker, range specialist; John G. McHaney, agricultural economist, and James A. Gray, animal husbandman. Two Fort Worth men, Walter Rice of the Stockyards Co. and E. R. Eudaly, animal nutritionist of the Universal Mills, are also on the program.

The field day is only one of several activities sponsored by the County Livestock Association it was said.

Figures compiled by the Abilene District of the Texas Highway Patrol show that 29 persons have died this year in highway accidents. January through April of 1953 only 13 persons were killed. This is an increase of over 222 per cent.

Local baseball fans will be given the opportunity to see the District Champion Strawn High School Greyhounds in action at ABC Field Saturday night when they visit Cisco for a game with the American Legion Indians.

The game will follow the Little League make up game between the Giants and the Cardinals.

As a warm up for the Saturday night game the Indians will play the ex-Indians at ABC Field tonight following the Little League game between the Giants and the Braves.

Indian manager M. W. Cotton said that the Indians were to practice at ABC Field Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. He is also manager of the Teenage Cats, sponsored by the Legion. Cotton has called for the Cats to meet at the practice field at the gym at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Rotarians Given Report On Purina Research Project

Rotarian Tom Wilson told members of his club at their regular meeting Thursday at the Hotel Victor of a recent trip he took to the research farm of the Ralston Purina Company near St. Louis.

Wilson made the trip with a group of other bankers as the guest of the company and its dealers.

He told of the trip to and from St. Louis and of the events that left the greatest impression on him. The group spent two days at the research farm, which covers a 738 acre tract of land. On the farm the company carries on continuous experiments in the feeding and care of livestock.

On the first day the group spent the morning in the poultry section and saw the houses and pens containing chickens, turkeys, ducks, and other poultry. In the afternoon they toured the livestock area.

Wilson said that breeding, sanitation, management and feeding were stressed in the experiments, and that the research was carried on in a manner that was practical for the farmer. He stressed the fact that the entire farm was much the same as any would expect to find in any area. Nothing was elaborate. The methods used in the experiments, he said, are much like the methods employed by the farmer.

He listed the farm population as approximately 165 dairy cattle, 200 to 300 steers, 18 show calves, 40 brood sows, 28,000 chicks, 40,000 broilers, 6,500 pullets, 2,500 hens, 15,000 turkeys, 6,500 ducks, 2,000 rabbits, and many fur bearing animals and novelty birds.

He was impressed by the cleanliness of the place and by the fact that the animals used in the experiments were not registered, but general run of the mill stock. He told of the caged hen project and the stress being put on that particular phase of the poultry industry.

They were taken through the 10 story laboratory building where they saw other experiments and tests being carried on to improve feeding methods.

Entertainment for the two day meeting included two banquets and a floor show.

The program at the meeting Thursday was arranged by Rotarian C. W. Henry, chairman for the day. He presented Rotarian Wilson to the group.

Visitors were Rotarians Jim Hayes, John Fair and George Kaerwer of Abilene; Jack Garrett of Seminole and Jack Ogelsby and Carl Pierce of Eastland. Other visitors included Mrs. Peggy Gallagher and Mrs. W. W. Fewell of Cisco, Dr. Claud Jones of Fort Worth and Mr. Neely and Mr. Kimble of Abilene.

South Avenue D To Have Parallel Parking

Changes are being made for the beginning of parallel parking on Avenue D from 8th Street south, Mayor G. C. Rosenthal reported today. This was ordered by the city in an agreement with the Texas Highway Department on an improvement program for the street.

Parking meters will be removed in some areas, leaving five to a block. A normal block has nine parking meters, but more space will be needed for parallel parking.

THE ESSENTIAL CORE

"The character of man still forms the essential core of a lasting civilization." With that phrase Charles A. Lindbergh closed a striking address, delivered at The Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences Honors Night Dinner, after he had been given a Daniel Guggenheim medal for his achievements in aviation.

The theme of his talk is found in another phrase — "We have measured success by our products rather than by ourselves." In other words, he dealt with the materialism of the times, and the unprecedented tensions, conflicts, worries and uncertainties that have become a world-wide plague.

Near the beginning General Lindbergh described the hopes that were held when flying was young. It was believed that the airplane would be a major instrument in bringing the peoples of the world closer together — closer not only in terms of time and space but in terms of understanding. Nothing could have been more tragically wrong. As he said, "We are confronted with the stark fact that the historical significance of aircraft has been primarily military and destructive. With hindsight, we see that our early enthusiasm over the discoveries of science and the conquest of the air blinded us to natural laws which govern the conduct of men. All our scientific progress has not changed the fact that God made life on earth pro-life, competitive, selective. From wood-wheeled cart to turbine airplane, man has always used their inventions to advance their beliefs, trade and sovereignty — alternating their support, according to their purpose, between forces which unite and forces which divide."

All of us know the present-day fruits of that truth. Its most evident manifestation is the world's war machines, with their incredible demands upon human and material resources. As General Lindbergh put it, "In a competitive world, life and freedom must be backed by strength."

Then he came to his primary point, which he put in these words: "But survival has a time dimension which says that power consists of more than strength of arms. Short-term survival may depend on the knowledge of nuclear physicists and the performance of supersonic aircraft, but long-term survival depends alone on the character of man. While we concentrate our attention on the tools of economics and war, we must not neglect the basic means of surviving, the basic reason for survival, man himself."

In short, General Lindbergh believes, and the world is full of thoughtful people who agree with him today, that we have concentrated so hard on material progress, invention and achievement, to the neglect of the inward human qualities, that the very products we have created threaten to destroy us. This, to his mind, is the over-riding problem of our age.

What is the solution? General Lindbergh offered one — and, inevitably, it had to be phrased in very general terms. He said: "I believe the solution lies in each individual, through the standards he holds; that it lies not in political parties or radical movements, but in human values and gradual trends; not a greater complication, but in a greater simplicity of life. In other words, I believe that the solution lies within ourselves, and that we can find it nowhere else. We desired a mechanistic civilization; that set the trend, and we achieved one. To achieve a civilization based on human values requires the desire within ourselves."

Keep Brand-new Look by Killing Garden Pests

pesticides, if they are not used by practically everyone. Too many owners of gardens fail to realize the power of these new chemicals, and the opportunity they offer for the economical upkeep of garden areas in top condition.

One spraying of a lawn with 2,4-D will destroy practically all the weeds that grow there; and the cost would be negligible compared with the cost of digging weeds up, which was necessary a few years ago. The weeds, including rag-weed, on the vacant lot next door could be exterminated for no greater cost. Improved forms of this chemical will destroy sumac, poison oak, poison ivy, willow and similar underbrush with a single spraying.

General use of this miracle working material could transform broad unkempt areas within a city limits into cleared land useful for play, and inviting improvement as lawns and gardens. To say nothing of the effect upon the pollen count later in the summer.

Combination pesticides, in which two or three different chemicals are united, so that all can be applied together, are now available. This has been possible because the new chemicals are compatible, to a degree that the older ones were not. It was formerly necessary for a contact poison, a stomach poison, and a fungicide to be kept on hand, to be ready for an invasion or an epidemic. A diagnosis had to be made before the correct remedy for trouble could be chosen.

With a combination pesticide all you need to know is that "something" is injuring the zinnias. You rush to get the combination dust or spray without bothering to find out the exact cause of trouble.

Weedkillers also may be combined. One mixture unites 2,4-D with potassium cyanate, crab grass killer. This combination kills all lawn weeds including chicken weed. Combination of 2,4-D and plant food are also popular, because when weeds are destroyed, bare spaces are left in the lawn; and plant food will encourage the lawn grasses to spread into these bare spaces, before new weeds can develop.

Founder's Day Tea Is Planned For Teachers

Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet Saturday, May 15, at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. Josephine Clements, 1600 Avenue D, for a Founders' Day Tea. This will be the last meeting of the year for the Chapter, and the new officers for the next two-year term will be installed.

Mrs. Ina Stamey will have the "Roll Call of Founders" assisted by Mrs. Miriam Bledsoe. Mrs. Charlotte Griffith will sing.

Echoes from the State Convention held in Austin the last week in April, will be brought by the three members that attended: Miss Louise Snoddy, the outgoing president, Mrs. Bernice Carter, the incoming president, and Mrs. Ina Stamey, a State Committee Chairman.

Hostesses for the tea will be Mrs. Josephine Clements, Mrs. Irene Hallmark, Mrs. Dee Peters, and Mrs. Berta Hazlewood.

Miss Mae Taylor was to leave late today for a visit with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schurpo, in Los Angeles, California.

Mrs. Richard Turknett, Mrs. W. E. Dean, Mrs. Hershel Penn, Mrs. C. L. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Farmer, Mrs. J. D. Browning, and Mrs. T. E. Lisenbee attended the Eastern Star School of Instruction in Abilene Wednesday.

BROTHER'S KEEPER — Young Charles Cummings, six, found he was just that when his mother cautioned him to keep an eye on 16-month-old brother Robert at a New York airport. The youngsters had just flown in from Germany and were en route to join their GI dad who is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla. Robert seems to know he's safe.

Lutheran School Club Has Regular Meeting

Grace Lutheran School Club met Thursday evening at the school for their last meeting of the school year with the chairman, Mrs. E. H. Reich, presiding.

Mrs. Winona Lanham served as secretary pro-tem in the absence of Mrs. Charles Spears and read a letter of resignation received from Mrs. Spears. The resignation of Mrs. Spears was accepted by the group with regret.

Leaflets from the National League were distributed to the group and plans for the field day, May 19, and for the school picnic, May 30, were completed. The chairman expressed the thanks of the group to Mrs. R. H. Cutting for her competent and faithful services as program chairman during the past year. Mrs. Dorothy Prange was elected as program chairman for the coming year.

DELAYED CARGO—Production at a Florida orange concentrate plant was considerably slowed when this trailer-truck's cargo of fresh oranges failed to arrive on schedule. The truck's rear wheels smashed through the wooden planking of this bayou bridge at Bradenton. It took workmen all day to transfer the fruit to another vehicle and get the load to the plant.

LEARNING ALL OVER

ARTICULATION REWARD—Six-year-old John Hovanetz of Minneapolis, rendered inarticulate by an attack of bulbar polio, is learning to speak again—and making a game of it. At left, he smiles at therapist Arlene Johnson as he drops a chip into a pasteboard clown's eye as a reward for pronouncing a word clearly.

John uses a tongue depressor, top right, as he learns to identify the palate and to understand how it works. The next step, below, is to exercise the muscles which control throat and palate. He does this by blowing water from one bottle to another.

ISRAEL'S SIXTH ANNIVERSARY—Another milestone has been marked for one of the world's youngest, yet oldest, states and these photos show some of the life of that busy country. At top left is a view of Allenby Road in Tel Aviv and, right, its port. The government has placed special emphasis on port development and the swiftly growing merchant marine. At Beth Sarafa, lower left, on the Israel-Jordan border, youngsters play and, right, and at another celebration, schoolgirls go through exercises.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q — My husband, a World War One veteran who did not have any GI life insurance, left me a $10,000 commercial life insurance policy when he died. He stipulated in the policy that the proceeds be paid to me in a lump sum, but I was permitted to change that so I would receive regular monthly amounts. In computing my annual income for VA pension purposes, am I supposed to count these monthly insurance payments as income?

A — So long as the original option was for a lump sum payment, you must declare the $10,000 face value of the policy as income for the calendar year in which your husband died. Then you do not have to report the monthly payments as income until they total $10,000. After the monthly payments aggregate $10,000, however, you must report any monthly payments over that amount as income for VA pension purposes.

Q — I am receiving disability compensation payments from VA, but lately my service-connected disability seems to be getting worse. Could I get a statement from my private physician, testifying that my disability has increased? Would that be sufficient to entitle me to higher compensation?

A — A statement by your private physician would serve to reopen your case, but your condition would have to be ascertained by an official VA examination, and then a comparison of the findings would have to be made with the requirements for increased compensation payments.

Q — In my original application for Korean GI Bill college training, I put down as my objective an AB degree in English. I've received it, and now I want to go on and get an MA degree, also in English. Would this be considered as my one-and-only change of program, inasmuch as I'm only aiming for the next step in the same field—English?

A — Going from your AB to your MA in English would be considered a change of program, in your case. The reason is that you've reached the objective stated on your application, and now you're going on to another objective. If originally you had listed the MA as your original objective, the move you now intend to make would not be considered a change of program, but rather as a stepping-stone to the MA degree. Under the law, VA must accept as an objective whatever is listed on the application.

Grow GOOD PULLETS at LOW COST on PURINA

Make up to 1/3 MORE PROFIT

Two eggs laid before Christmas usually bring more money than three eggs laid afterward. That means you can make 1/3 more profit simply by getting your pullets in full production early this fall. And the best way to do that is to feed a really good growing ration like PURINA.

Makes YOUR GRAIN do its best work

Purina Growing Chow helps you grow fine, big pullets with your own grain. (It also helps you turn the little roosters into big springers ready to eat when just 9 or 10 weeks old.) When your growing birds run on range, they need only 6 to 7 pounds of Purina apiece, plus your grain, to be ready for the nest.

READY TO LAY for less than 40¢ cash outlay

That's right, it will take less than 40¢ worth of Purina Growing Chow, with grain, to help you grow a fine, big pullet ready to lay. She'll quickly pay you back in heavy egg production.

Feed Purina Growing Chow as soon as chicks are 5 weeks old. SEE US SOON!
