The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—While we have been attending to Naval duties, the sight-seeing department of our family has been very busy. They started out early in the day in the French quarters of New Orleans. As we understand it, this is the old part of the city — the part that the French built when they took over the Louisiana country.

Some of the famous restaurants of the city are located in this part of the city. Of particular interest to our tourists was an old cemetery. Here, they buried their dead in the old days and maybe even now, for all we know in concrete pill-box sort of structures above the ground. He did this because the water is very near the surface.

The cemetery seems full and names and dates appear on the little tombs. It's quite a tourist attraction.

The French quarters section is quite a sizeable area. Streets are too narrow for anything but one-way traffic. There is a lot of old ornamental iron, grill work, high windows and doors, ancient shutters, and so forth. Much of the area has a bad odor, reminds us of how things smelled in the native sections of the Philippine Islands and elsewhere in the Pacific country.

Ran across such streets as Basin Street, Bourbon Street and the like.

ATTENDED THE Joy Theater last evening. Understand it's owned by the same folks who own the Joy and Palace theaters in Cisco and elsewhere in Texas and Louisiana. The New Orleans play has a huge, wide screen — the widest you ever saw. They were playing "Student Price," which probably has already played in Cisco.

The wide screen certainly makes the actors look close-up when they're not close-up. Driving down here, we saw several Joy Drive-In theaters along the way. At Alexandria, they have what they call the Joy Double Drive-In. You take your choice as to which side of the screen you want to watch, and they have a different program on each side. Guess you'd have to buy a ticket if you wanted to change sides after you got inside.

ONE OF THE most fabulous things in these parts is Lake Poshtrain — a huge body of fresh water up northeast of the city. Few Orleans borders a lot of the lake and folks have built thousands of beautiful homes near the lake shore.

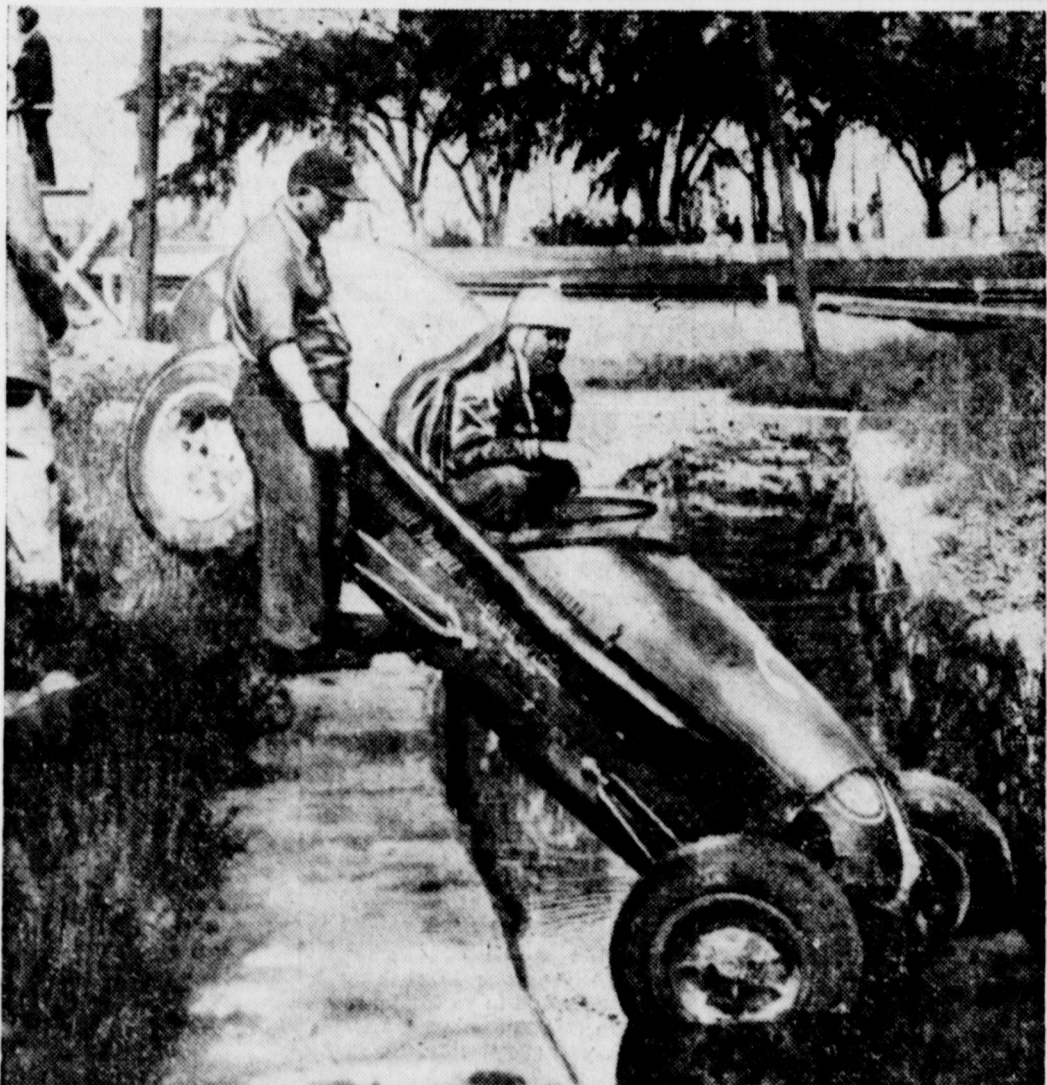

The city has used millions of dollars to build a concrete wall with steps leading down to the water. This wall extends for as far as we have seen. You can go swimming anywhere along the wall. They have scores of yacht clubs, sail boat clubs, seaplane ports, and boats and crafts of all kind along the lake. They even have a commercial fishing fleet in the big lake.

In certain areas, they have places where you can buy eats and drinks and snow balls (we all them snow cones in Cisco) and the like. They have a carnival playground with rides and concessions of every description.

And you never saw the like of swimmers and picnic parties there is to be found at all hours of the day and night around the lake.

IT SEEMS TO rain a little every day here. They never water the grass and flowers on the Navy base, the boys report. And the swans are lush and pretty. The mud is the muddiest and deepest you ever saw right after rain. The day-time temperatures are running around 90 degrees, and because the humidity is between 80 and 90 at all times you can see how uncomfortable it is. The papers say that New Orleans has more refrigerated air-conditioning per capita than any other city in all the south. They certainly have the neon signs, too.

THE LOUISIANA legislature is in session and they're all talking about a "Right to Work" bill or law. In other words, they want a law that gives you the right to work, regardless of color, creed or union membership. The union boys are bucking the program.

UNHAPPY ENDING—With his face a mass of bruises and cuts from the shattered glass of his windshield, racing car driver Marshall Teague sits stunned in his auto after colliding with another car during practice runs at the Wisconsin State Fair's new asphalt track in Milwaukee. Both drivers were hospitalized after the second vehicle went into a spin and caused the accident.

SECOND GROUP PRESBYTERIAN YOUTHS ARE AT LAKE CISCO CAMP

By W. P. KNIGHT

The second full week of the 1954 Presbyterian Camp ends Saturday, with another group of campers due Monday.

This week's group of 75 is in charge of Camp Director Rev. John S. Cunningham, pastor of the Handley Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth. Rev. W. W. Gould of Comanche directs the swimming phase of the camp program.

Miss Ruby McDurmon of Fort Worth is at the camp as Mid-Texas Presbytery Educational Director. Others assisting with the program or who came along as sponsors are: Rev. James Garvin, Associate Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Fort Worth; Rev. W. C. Cooper of Coleman; Mrs. Neil Stewart and Mrs. Calvin Hinson of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Paul Patterson of Hillsboro; Mrs. Floyd Thompson of Talpa; Miss Mary McManus of San Angelo; Bill Joslin of Fort Worth and John Rutherford of Sanger.

Many Ciscoans read in the Daily Press Gay Philosopher column that the water in the Lake Cisco pool has been tested by City of Cisco health officials, and that the pool water was declared okay. The new water has been added in sufficient quantities to settle dust and prevent algae formation. These materials improve the appearance of the water, also.

Probably the best description of the nice clear 83-degree swimming-pool water Wednesday was that of one lady swimmer who stated: "That water is just out of this world." The only complaint we heard was a rather mild one: "I'm from Northern New Mexico and used to mountain-stream water."

Abilene Coca-Cola executive Mr. McDaniel was a pool area visitor last weekend, accompanied by Cisco real-estate man E. P. Crawford.

Twenty Big Spring FHA girls and three teachers and a sponsor returned home Wednesday afternoon, well tanned, and with lots of swimming, roller skating and golf to talk about. Teachers were: Mrs. G. L. Wiley, Nancy Annen and Miss Edna McGregor. The sponsor-mother was Mrs. H. J. Agee.

The West Texans occupied three City of Cisco rock houses just back of the swimming pool.

Reunions, week-end visitors in City of Cisco rock houses and Cisco homes helped make last Sunday the biggest swimming-pool day of the 1954 season.

217 adults and 117 children bought swim tickets. In addition, there were a number of swimmers using season passes or passes for bringing in used bathing suits. As during the 1953 season, more business is done at the pool on Saturday and Sunday than over the rest of the week.

If you ever watched while visitors from flat, plains states got their first look at the ocean, and stared with considerable amazement at the vast expanse before them, you have some idea of the way first-time visitors to the

Grain Harvest In Full Swing In Most Of State

Combining wheat in the north-west and sorghums in the Coastal Bend gained momentum; baling hay, cultivating and replanting row crops was in full swing; broomcorn pulling was started in south Texas as "summer time" temperatures moved in with very strong winds over most of the State. In the northwest and north Texas areas, however, scattered rains broke in on that typical early June farm activity and weather pattern. In central, southern and southeastern areas feed crops and pastures were suffering as hot, south winds further depleted already short moisture reserves. Wheat was ripening fast even in the extreme northern High Plains and combining started in central High Plains counties. Over the Low Rolling Plains, Cross Timbers and northern Blacklands combining moved along as hot, windy weather hastened maturity.

Sorghum planting was about completed over the State except in the northern High Plains. Harvest continued in the Coastal Bend and Lower Valley and extended into other southern counties where much acreage is in the tasseling or roasting ear stage. Prospects as a whole are still good but rain is needed to make the crop. In some south central and southern counties prospects are poor and much acreage is too far advanced to be helped. Peanut planting continued in northern, central and east Texas. Hay baling was active. Rice continued to make good progress.

In the Lower Valley, where cotton prospects continue very good, ginning was getting under way slowly. Non-irrigated south Texas acreage, including the Coastal Bend, needed moisture to check shedding. Throughout east and central Texas, cotton was making good progress in the hot weather. Added moisture would be helpful in some of these areas, particularly in the southern Blacklands. Growers have experienced much difficulty in obtaining stands. Considerable acreage in the northwest has been planted three or four times. Much cotton came up to an even stand during the week, however, as rotary hoes have been used to aid young plants in breaking through.

Range and pasture grass continued making good growth in northern and northwestern counties where rains were received. Lack of moisture and extremely high temperatures however, have stopped development over most of the southern half of the State. Much of the green feed available earlier in that area was annual grasses or weeds which dried up quickly when hot dry summer weather moved in. From the southern plateau southward curing range grass is already getting short and some supplemental feeding was again necessary.

Some 400 to 500 junior girls are expected to attend the Baptist Junior Girls Auxiliary camp at Lueders Baptist Encampment grounds June 21-24.

The camp will open with registration at 2 p. m. Monday and will be concluded at noon Thursday.

JAMBOREE GUEST STAR

Little De Don, popular young Abilene radio and television star, will be the guest star on the Cisco Jamboree Friday night at the city hall auditorium, it was reported by members of the Cisco Fire Department, sponsors of the popular show.

Little De Don, regular entertainer on the Big State Jamboree in Abilene, has appeared on shows here before and is being brought back by popular demand.

The young star is 15 years old and makes her home in Merkel.

Among the local entertainers on the show will be the band from Scranton that made a big hit last week. Members of the band are Bill, Rosetta and Gene Parks and Jerry and Jimmy Blackwell. The regular staff band from Breckenridge will also be present, as will Smiley Ricker, Kelley Coats, the Alexander Sisters, Paul and Al, and others.

Pasteurized Milk Recommended As Important Food For Health

AUSTIN, June 17—Of all the kinds of food on the market today, there is none more important than milk, declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. Milk is the first food of infants and one for which there is fully satisfactory substitute. It contains a large amount of protein, also calcium, phosphorus and some but not all of the necessary vitamins.

The only drawback to milk is that it is highly susceptible to contamination and if it is contaminated, disease germs grow readily in it. Dr. Holle says that in order to keep milk safe for human consumption milk sanitarians of local and state health departments help Texas milk producers set up standards of cleanliness and freedom from disease organisms. Many cities in the state have adopted the Standard Milk Ordinance sponsored by the Texas State Department of Health. This ordinance requires that milk be graded on the basis of sanitation in production and handling and the bacterial count before it is put on the market. Several Texas cities require that all milk sold must be pasteurized.

Protection from contaminated milk starts on the dairy farm. The barn is a food factory and must be kept clean and free from flies. All utensils must be carefully washed and sterilized immediately after use and stored in a clean place free from dust and flies. Those working in a dairy must practice good personal hygiene.

Grade A pasteurized milk is the best for general use, in view of cost, food value, and freedom from producing terms. The Texas State Health Department joins in observance of June as Dairy Month and urges that consumers use only Grade A pasteurized milk.

Kim and Kelvin Burnam of Putnam are visiting in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Youngblood.

Dallas Layman Begins Meeting At Local Church

Ivy Boggs, an estate analysis of Dallas, opened a series of meetings at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night with a large crowd present for the opening service.

Mr. Boggs, a layman, spoke on the subject: "Our Need for Revival." Mr. Boggs said that if we have a revival, people must think in terms of revival. He said that all the world, including Cisco, needed a revival now.

He appealed to Christians to remove sin from their lives and said: "We cannot fill a gallon bucket with a gallon of water as long as there is a large piece of lead in the bottom of the bucket, neither can Christian men live effectively for God with sin in their lives." Mr. Boggs pointed out that if sinners with sinners into places of sin, the sinners do not come to church.

Mr. Boggs is conducting a four day Layman's Revival sponsored by the First Baptist Church Brotherhood. He will speak each evening at 8 o'clock, through Sunday.

The public has been invited to attend the services. He will use as his topic tonight: "Live Above the Ordinary." Ewell Porter of Abilene is conducting the song service. Mrs. A. L. Thomas is at the organ and Mrs. Roy Camfield at the piano.

Braves Win Over Athletics 17-4 Tuesday Night

The Little League Braves continued undefeated in the second half of Little League play when they downed the Athletics 17-4 at ABC Field Tuesday night. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of the 10 run rule.

The big splurge for the Braves came in the fifth inning when they put five hits, walks and an error by the Athletics together for nine runs.

Charles Lipsey was the winning pitcher for the Braves. He went all the way and gave up only six hits. Lipsey struck out 10 batters and walked nine. He hit a home run in the fifth inning.

Butch Wilcox was the losing pitcher and held the Braves in check until he tired in the fourth inning. He went the distance for the losers.

The Athletics minor league team defeated the Braves minors 6-3.

The Teenage Cats were forced to forfeit their game to the Lions Tuesday night when they were unable to field a team by game time.

Fort Worth Man To Hold Assembly Of God Meeting

The Rev. E. L. Newby of Fort Worth, a nationally known minister, will be at the Assembly of God Church Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and will speak each of the three evenings at 8 o'clock.

The Texas district of the Assemblies of God has two general presbyters in addition to the district superintendent who represent the state at the general council at Springfield, Missouri. Rev. Newby is one of the presbyters. He is also a former district superintendent, having served in that capacity for six and a half years.

He has done evangelistic work over a large part of the Nation for many years, and has been instrumental in the building of several new churches. He has also worked with several Bible schools, including Southwestern Bible School at Waxahachie. Rev. Newby was born in Eastland County and began his ministry in the county.

Maurine Short, pastor of the local church, issued a special invitation to all in the Cisco area to hear Rev. Newby.

New Pastor To Be Honored At Party

Members of Wesley Methodist Church will be hosts at a reception at 7:30 p. m. Saturday honoring the new pastor, the Rev. Lawrence Bryan, and his family. The party will be held on the lawn of the church.

Rev. and Mrs. Bryan and their two children moved into the church home Wednesday. He will preach his first sermon here Sunday morning. He was assigned to Wesley Methodist Church at the annual conference in Fort Worth last week.

The public was invited to attend the reception to meet the new pastor and to join in welcoming him into the community.

City Seeking Book On Water Survey

Mayor G. C. Rosenthal said Thursday that the city was seeking a copy of a booklet prepared by Homer Hunter of Fort Worth on the City of Cisco Water Reserve Survey.

The booklet was published and distributed to interested Cisco people in July 1951, and tells of prospects for water from the Leon River or Battle Creek. Mr. Hunter is a water engineer.

Mayor Rosenthal asked those who received a copy of the book to attempt to find one for use of his office.

Know These Garden Pests And Kill Them on Sight

Spotting Chart of Garden Enemies—These Are the Insects That Will Attack Your Victory Garden. Learn to Know Them So You Can Fight Them.

Never before were so many pesticides available to the amateur gardener, and never did he need so few. This is because he can now obtain in a single dust or spray mixture, material to deal with all insects and diseases likely to attack his plants.
 But pesticides do not cure; they only protect, and cannot repair damage already done. Everything depends, therefore, upon your foresight in setting up a defense against expected attacks, and upon prompt action against surprise invasions.
 Experienced gardeners learn that some insects must always be expected. The list varies in different sections of the country. In the central west cucumber beetles will always attack young cucumber, melon and squash plants, and not only injure them but infect them with the virus of a wilt disease. White butterflies always appear where members of the cabbage family are grown—such as cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, kale, kohlrabi and Brussels sprouts. The butterflies lay eggs which hatch into cabbage worms that feed upon your crop. Leaf hoppers attack beans, flea beetles eat little holes in the leaves of egg-plant, roses are preyed upon by aphids, rose bugs and black spot disease, iris by borers and perennial phlox by red spider.
 Dust should be applied to a plant in a cloud which envelops it and covers all stems and leaves with a coat about as heavy as face powder. It is not necessary for the leaves to be damp, but a good job cannot be done in a strong wind. The dust coat should be there when the insects arrive, if possible, or when the spores (seeds) of fungi are carried to the plant.
 Dust after every rain, especially, to prevent disease. Splashing rain drops spread fungus spores and dampness encourages their germination. Sprinkling the leaves of plants may accomplish both, especially when the garden is sprinkled late in the day, and the leaves are damp when night falls.
 The new insecticides are even less poisonous to users than the nicotine, arsenic and others which have been used for a century, and still are by many growers. But all edible parts of plants whether or not they have been sprayed or dusted with insecticide, should be washed thoroughly before using. And whenever the manufacturer advises that his material should not be used on edible parts nearing harvest, obey, and take no chances.

CONTROL OF DEER POPULATION SUCCESSFUL DURING PAST YEAR

Field biologists of the Game and Fish Commission found that the special state law permitting control of deer overpopulation worked precisely to the original pattern, according to an article in the June issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine.
 The law was applied exclusively to Mason and Gillespie Counties in the Edwards Plateau which contains most of the state's white-tailed deer.
 Under the experimental program, tried out last fall for the first time, both buck deer and doe deer were harvested under strict supervision and within limits prescribed by biologists and landowners.
 It was the first time antlerless deer had been legally hunted in Texas, and the action followed severe herd dieoffs.
 "The need for means of controlling overpopulations of deer in Mason and Gillespie Counties has been recognized by some since 1941," reported Biologists Eugene Walker and Bob Ramsey who conducted surveys and compiled data as a basis for the historic 1953 hunt.
 "The most lamentable aspects concerning past overpopulation problems has been there was no legal means of controlling the deer through harvesting the surplus animals and thereby providing sport for a host of hunters, salvaging tons of edible venison that rotted in the woods, and reducing the load on ranges already hard-pressed as the result of carrying limit stocking rates of live-stock and deer.
 "No animal population, be it deer, cattle, sheep or goats can be controlled and stabilized by removing only a portion of males each year and retaining all females to reproduce and ultimately die of old age on the range. Ranchers operating on this basis would be bankrupt in short order; yet this is the method which has been used where overpopulated areas were known to exist.
 "The buck law has been successful in that deer may be hunted and continue to increase until the saturation point has been reached. After that point is reached, however, continued hunting of bucks only has proved an inadequate means of controlling deer numbers. The ultimate results have been pastures overcrowded with animals of subnormal stamina and size, a reduced fawn crop, and depleted ranges."
 Mrs. Tollie Sullivan of Henrietta and Mrs. Reece Jerrett of Abilene have returned to their homes following a few days visit in Cisco with their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hyatt.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. C. Estes.

Slaughter was in charge of the program entitled "Life Through Prayer," taken from the New Life magazine. Mrs. Slaughter was assisted in giving the program by Mrs. Tussy and Mrs. Jesse Youngblood.

Eight members and three children attended.

Swimming --- From Page One

hug Lake Cisco pool act as they look over the vast area of water stretching far off in front of them. Once they decide to swim with us, these visitors dress for swimming so fast and rush towards the pool that many forget their tickets. They usually find them in a shirt pocket.

Lifeguards at Corpus Christi beaches patrol the swimming area in open automobiles, we learned from Oscar Cliett, whose grandson from the Gulf city, Hagan McMahan, is enjoying a swim with us daily during his Cisco stay. Since the ocean beach is close to the city has very little slope, these life-guard cars often drive right into the water for some distance to assist in aiding swimmers in distress.

County Red Cross authorities say that Lifeguard Frank Howeth should complete his Red Cross water-safety training at NSTC at Denton by Friday night. As soon as he returns, we hope to plan for our Red Cross swimming-training program.

While wondering about the big man who was so hard to fit into one of our rental suits, we learned that he was Jim Taylor of Clyde, regular center on the Baylor Bears football team. He must have liked our pool since he swam four afternoons in a row, and brought others from this area.

From Mr. O. T. Burton we learned that the NEAL reunion held here recently will come back next year. He asked us to forward a Daily Press with mention about this year's reunion.

The J. T. Andersons said that all their family reunions were glad that they picked Lake Cisco for a meeting. With something doing all day, and in the evening, too, for visitors of all ages, Lake Cisco offers everything needed for a top-notch reunion, that was the way most of the group felt.

Like the average Ciscoan, Mayor G. C. Rosenthal is mighty proud of the Lake Cisco recreational area. He brought out a Mr. Hooper and his daughter, from Fort Worth, formerly of Indiana. We recalled seeing these visitors at the pool last Summer, too.

Several men have asked about clearing the trees and other growth in the deep pool, but no one has definitely contracted to do this job. Whenever this deep pool is cleared of its trees and vegetation, and is ready for water we hear that city officials will supply the water required to fill it.

Thanks to Peggy McCormick, a swimmer who lost a valuable ladies Elgin wrist watch regained it a short time later. The Cisco girl, who will swim in the July Fourth week-end swimming show found the watch in the women's bath-houses.

Freddy Hayes brought up a boys wrist watch from the bottom of the pool in front of the ticket-office several days before the pool was drained last week.

We still have a girls leather belt with a name on it; also a boy's identification metallic bracelet, and some girls terry-cloth, sleeveless jacket.

Winters' residents must have a particular liking for our big swimming pool. Shortly after the Winters' Sub-Debs girls group arrived home, another girls' organization came to Cisco to occupy City of Cisco rock houses.

The latest group called themselves the "Goal-Diggers," with most people using the word "Gold." Also staying at city rock houses, the ten girls were in charge of sponsor Helen Howard. We were unable to learn where the name "Goal Diggers" came from.

Since we have about all the used swim suits-for-passes we need, we will not do any more trading during the 1954 season after Sunday, June 20.

We understand that the Lucas family is moving today to their new home in California near San Francisco. The whole community will miss these fine people. We are losing a good swimming family, too. The boys and the girl swim with us often, and Mr. and Mrs. Lucas have been among our biggest pool boosters. And they visited with us often.

July 8th and 9th will be a very busy day at Lake Cisco park when FFA boys from six counties come for their annual over-night camping-out session with lots of swimming, skating, golf and other fun. County Agent J. M. Cooper and assistant Williams expect a record attendance this year.

The new water, plus the hotter days, has brought many new swimmers to the lake pool recently. Besides Ciscoans, swimmers came from Abilene, Moran, Rising Star, Baird, Gorman, Cross Plains, Albany, Putnam, Eastland and Ranger as well as Fort Worth and Dallas.

SATURDAY NIGHT TIME—On that occasion, Pal assists his 13-year-old master, Ricky Curd, by helping the lad take a bath in Mont Alto, Pa. The dog has been a family pet for a long time but he never has become used to being the occasional victim of the bath tub. If every dog really has its day, this Saturday night custom certainly seems to belong to Pal.

WARMING THE ATMOSPHERE—As if the weather wasn't doing all right by itself in Pittsburgh, Pa., a large warehouse behind Duquesne University went up in smoke. More than 100 families were forced to vacate their homes because of high explosives in the warehouse. Damage amounted to $300,000.

ODDS AND ENDS—It seems that neither rain, nor sleet, nor cats in a mail box can keep mailmen in Fort Worth, Tex., from completing their appointed rounds. Carl K. Marshall, chief of the claims and inquiry section of the city's post office, is showing some of the items that surprised postmen recently as they made their collections from corner boxes; a cat, beer bottles, waste paper and cigarette butts were all included.

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — After a four year fight, I am encouraged to believe that we are going to use the huge supplies of surplus agricultural commodities to finance the building of airfields and other defense facilities outside the United States.

For four long years I have been hammering the proposition that our surplus farm commodities are a capital asset and should be considered as such. In other words, they should be used instead of dollars in preparing world defenses. For instance, this country is going to build another airfield in England at a cost of about 75 million dollars. That base is needed for the defense of this country. Otherwise, I would not be for spending a nickel on it. The reason is obvious. If the time should come, it would be easier to strike at the heart of Russia from England than from any place in this country.

We can use our surplus cotton, wheat, peanuts, etc. for that purpose. There are not very many dollars in foreign countries unless we put them there. A greater part of the world deals in sterling, and they cannot buy from us because we cannot spend sterling to pay for a bill of groceries in the United States. But we can sell these surplus commodities for sterling and pay the wages and buy materials to build this airfield in England without sending any dollars over there.

The end result is that we will accomplish our purpose and relieve the surplus which we now have. Our exports of farm commodities have declined by 40% in some products, and this is the answer to a great many of the problems which we now face.

A bill for this purpose has now been voted out of both the Agricultural Committee and the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives. I believe it is assured of passage in both the House and the Senate. If it is administered properly, we should be able to use a billion three-hundred million dollars worth of surplus farm commodities, which will relieve the pressure and advance prices to the farmers.

The narcotics traffic in this country is becoming exceedingly serious. Even one case of a juvenile becoming a dope addict makes it serious, but there are thousands of cases.

According to reports from Japan, hundreds of cases involving the use of narcotic drugs have been discovered among American soldiers in the Far East. There is no mystery about where the stuff comes from. It comes from Communist China, and there is no question that the supplying of narcotics fits into the diabolic schemes of Communists everywhere.

Recently I had a discussion with the Ambassador of Lebanon and an official of the Turkish government on this subject. Our narcotics officials say that a supply of narcotics is coming into this country from these sources, and these governments have been requested to make greater efforts to stop the illicit trade.

Narcotics have always been a problem. There is a certain irony in the situation, since we cannot help recalling that it was the British East India Company which forced opium upon China in 1839. The British resort to war when the Manchu Emperor attempted to put an end to this forbidden traffic. The world today is reaping some of the evils of that practice.

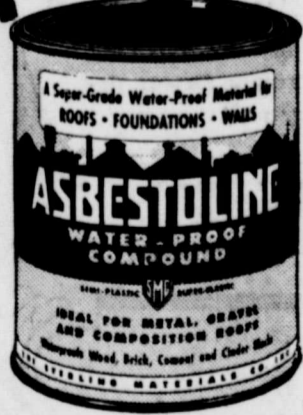

Generally, our laws are strong enough to meet the threat, but we are lacking in enforcement officers. To bring it very close to home, we should have more qualified enforcement officers along the Mexican border from Texas to California. It is known that considerable quantities of dope have come into the country from this source.

ALTMAN'S

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Thousands of Texans are called each year as prospective jurors in our many state and federal courts. When chosen to serve, very few of these violate their oath with intentional misconduct. But honest mistakes have all too frequently brought the sincerity and ethics of an individual juror into question. Usually such errors arise from his misunderstanding of his function as a juror — for the juror is judge of the facts in the case before it.

Like Caesar's wife' the juror must not only avoid wrong, but must also avoid any appearance of wrong. Otherwise, his integrity and honor may be brought into question by actions which are actually innocent but appear censurable to those who view them. By observing the following simple suggestions, the juror may be sure he is maintaining the highest of ethics, in which no possible fault may be found by others:

Hold yourself aloof from all persons (except other jurors) in any way connected with the trial of the case. That means that you should not mingle with the lawyers, witnesses, parties, nor the judge, even though the discussion is wholly unrelated to the trial.

Do not discuss the case nor permit others to mention it to you or in your presence during the trial. If anyone insists upon talking about the case after you have explained to him that you are a juror and must not listen, report the matter to the judge immediately.

Do not commence your deliberations until you have heard all the evidence from both sides, the argument of the lawyers, and the court's charge. You should not mention the case except in the jury room when all other jurors are present.

Do not become a private investigator. All properly admissible evidence will be brought before you. Do not try to search out additional facts you believe to have been omitted. Do not even guess or speculate about facts not in evidence.

Be attentive to the evidence as it is presented. If you are to properly aid the other jurors in settling the fact questions, it will be necessary to listen carefully to all evidence presented.

Do not guess at the judge's opinion of the facts. You are the judge of the facts. He is not allowed and will not try to invade your province. His rulings on admissibility of evidence reflect no ideas or opinions on any fact question.

You should not mention or discuss your own personal experiences, or any knowledge that you may have of similar transactions. If you should disclose such information to others serving on a jury, the court would have to grant a new trial.

Accept no favors and bestow no favors upon any person interested in the trial. However innocent the conduct may be, it will raise doubts in otherwise undoubting minds, and may even be subject to more serious insinuations—and charges.

When in doubt ask the judge.
