The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE NICEST thing about any vacation is getting back. It was 11 p. m. Sunday we got back to Cisco after gone some 15 days, and ourly was certainly delighted at sight of home again. The U. S. Navy turned us loose Friday and we took out toward New Orleans, La. We were late to arrive in Beaumont and the night. It was the first day we can remember being in from Beaumont on Sunday which was a right long drive. Roads and highways in Louisiana won't compare with those of Texas. They're building some roads in a good many places, it's expensive as they have to haul in dirt to provide a road through the swamps. Louisiana particularly the southern part of the state, is from 10 feet sea level to four or five below sea level. In New Orleans, the city has pumps located and to pump out the water when it rains. It's too low for drainage.

Temperature was 99 degrees in New Orleans last Friday and humidity was almost that. Can't remember when we sweated so much. One thing about our trip is that we got roughly conditioned for a hot summer. You had to get to the south if you think it's hot in Cisco. It seems cool to us.

SEEMS TO us that there's traffic on the streets and ways than ever before. Small cars like us have a bit of trouble in the big towns. We like to drive along slow and careful, the big city drivers won't let any of it. They get behind and blow their horns, impatiently. They won't let a fellow drive slow enough to see the side of the big towns.

THE NUMBER OF motels and inns courts seems to be on the increase in most places, particularly the vacation spots. The trend now is toward bigger and better motels. Many of them are adding swimming pools for guests. And a lot of them are playgrounds for children of the motels. They figure that the mothers and fathers will stop where children can be best entertained. This is pretty good reasoning, for most mothers and fathers are influenced by the children.

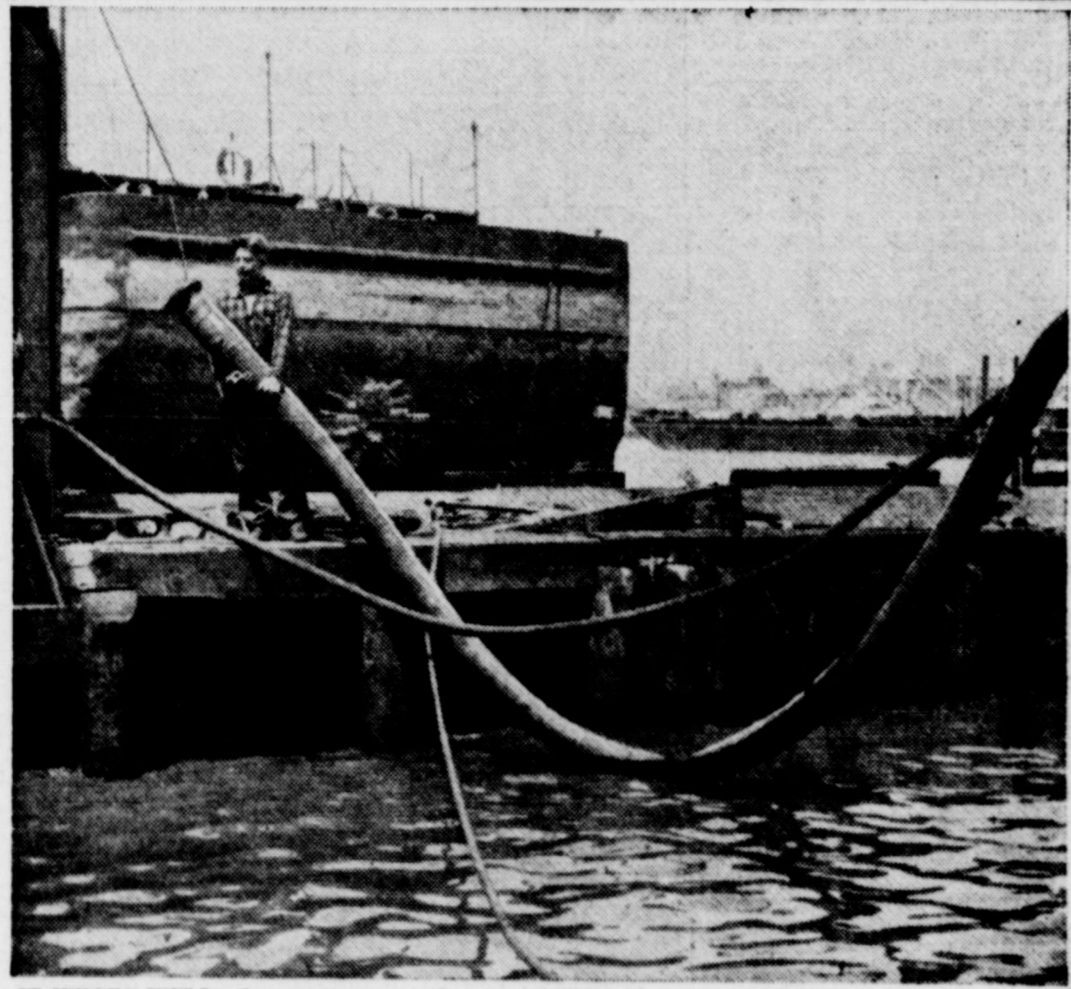

THE big hotels are beginning to recognize the motels, for you see the sign boards everywhere say "attractive family rates."

LOUISIANA COFFEE is something that never quite gets to us. Unless you specify otherwise, they serve you coffee in a chicory in it. If you tell a waitress you want some plain coffee, she'll yell out to the kitchen like one "PURE." And you'll be blushing as the other people look at anybody who orders pure coffee.

Speaking of coffee, reminds us of our mail today brought a recipe on making coffee. And it's a notation on it that says: "Use Huffmyer's recipe for good coffee." It follows: To make good coffee, you add take one pound of half-bleached coffee beans and put in a small cheesecloth sack. Put this with a hammer until the beans are pulverized. Take a five-gallon graniteware keepest with part of the lining sped away. Build an outdoor fire of mesquite and greasewood. Hold the coffeepot over it up to town until the interior has a patina of smoke. Throw the coffee in, fill with water and boil. After several hours, lift it with the point of your pocket knife. If you have to push it, the coffee is done.

Coffee made like this has a dry edge to it, like shellac. A good swallow of it will bring a smile to the cheeks and exercise the lungs. You can improve it slightly by throwing in the shells of a dozen eggs.

LET'S all go over to the Huffmyer house for a cup of coffee.

IT WEARS WELL—One workman easily attaches the new rubber dock hose to an oil header in New York, whereas the same length of conventional hose would require the labor of seven men, or a mechanical crane. The new hose has a working pressure of 200 pounds per square inch and a safety factor five times greater than before.

Applications For Swimming Class Are Coming In

The first Cisco swimming lesson applicant's card was received Monday from Charlene Watson of 1510 Ave. N. The 11-year old girl's application was signed by her mother, Mrs. E. R. Watson.

Many more cards were expected soon. They can be obtained at the Daily Press, the Chamber of Commerce, the First National Bank and at the swimming pool office, where all cards are to be filed.

The official Red Cross swimming program will be held at the Lake Cisco swimming pool with Frank Howeth doing the teaching. He recently completed the regular Red Cross water safety course at TSCW at Denton. The pool and skating rink are operated by the John Wm. Butts Post, American Legion.

While there will be no charge for the Red Cross lessons, regular admission prices will be charged to the pool. Lessons will be held mornings, with definite dates to be set as soon as sufficient cards are received. Names of class members, times of classes, etc., will be published in the Daily Press. Start of the program is not expected until after July 5th.

Nance Moves His Office Location

Garland R. (Pete) Nance has announced the moving of his accounting offices from the Reynolds Building to the new building just completed next door to the First National Bank. He invited all Cisco people to visit him and see the new and modern offices.

He also announced that D. N. Morrison, former office manager for Henson Construction Company, had joined the staff of his firm, and that hereafter Mr. Morrison would work with him in the handling of his accounts.

Mr. Morrison, prominent civic leader, joined the firm on June 1.

Cards And Lions Win League Games On Monday Night

The Little League Cardinals won a 10-7 victory over the Athletics in Little League game Monday night, and the Teenage Lions downed the Tigers in the Teenage League at ABC Field.

In the Little League game the Cards were forced to come from behind to down the scrappy Athletics who had scored three runs in the first inning. The cards scored two in the second and three in the third to go ahead. The Athletics staged rallies in the fifth and sixth innings but failed to garner enough runs for the win. Delbert Schaefer was the winning pitcher and Elmer Escebedo was the loser.

The Athletic farm team was forced to forfeit to the Cardinals in the opening game when a full team failed to report.

Tommy Collier was the winning pitcher in the Tiger-Lion contest in the Teenage League. Arthur Chatman was the loser. The Lions jumped on Chatman in the first inning to score five runs. They scored three in the third to post the win. The Tigers tied the game in the first half of the third when they staged a five run rally.

Saturday night the Cisco Cubs scored a 2-1 victory over a visiting all-star team from Breckenridge. The Breck team was made up of white and negro players.

Breckenridge scored a run early in the game and held on to the lead until the seventh when Tommy Reynolds scored on an error. He was caught in a trap between third and home on an attempted steal. In the chase the Breckenridge pitcher threw wide to third and Reynolds hustled in under the peg. Jim Brogdon scored the winning run in the eighth on a steal from third to home. He got on a walk and was advanced to second on a fielders choice. He stole third and then stole home.

Frank Howeth was the winning pitcher. He relieved Dizzy Howell with his team one run behind. Tonight the Giants and the Braves were to play and the Cats and the Panthers were to see action.

There will be no game Saturday night because of activities at Lake Cisco.

The Little League is scheduled to end its 1954 season on July 6. At the end of play the all-star team will be selected for entry in the district tournament.

Score by innings in the Monday games follows:

Cardinals	023 311—11 7 2
Athletics	300 022— 7 5 3
Lions	503 — 8 5 2
Tigers	005 0— 6 4 5

Lutheran Bible School Will End

On Thursday, July 1, at 8:00 p. m. the Vacation Bible School of Grace Lutheran Church will have its closing program.

The various classes will recite, in song and story, some of the lessons which they have learned during the two weeks they were in session. A religious film, "The First Step," will be shown. This film is to emphasize that there are more important things in life than those that can be weighed and measured, and to suggest that the parent is the first teacher of religion in the home. Handicraft projects of the pupils will be on display.

Parents and friends, as well as the general public, were cordially invited to the program.

WELCOME SIGHT—Sailing vessels are not customary in a U. S. Navy yard, and the arrival of the Belgian maritime training ship Mercator stirred up some excitement in Philadelphia. The 1200-ton barkentine, with a complement of 28 officers and seamen and 62 cadets, is one of the few partially square-rigged vessels still afloat. But just in case there's no wind during its trans-Atlantic summer cruise, the ship carried a diesel engine.

BRECKENRIDGE MAN SEES GREAT FUTURE FOR COUNTRY OF ISRAEL

NEW YORK—A Texan tourist who captivated Israel in his role of "cowboy Zionist" has just returned from his fifth visit to that country convinced that it has a great future.

Seventy-year-old Charles M. Bender of Breckenridge, Texas, whose string necktie, ten-gallon hat and figured cowboy boots made him the envy of every Israeli child during his five-week visit, said on his return:

"Israel is the land of the future in contrast to so many foreign countries that are lands of the past. Everyone should go to see this country with his own eyes—it's hard to believe until it's seen."

Since his first trip to the Holy Land in 1929, Mr. Bender has visited that country five times. Two of his sons received part of their schooling there. He said he was fascinated by what he saw in the Negev, Israel's desert southland which is now being stirred to life by pioneers.

"My own state of Texas is the Negev of America," he said. "I wish I could take 100,000 acres of Texas land and ship them to the Negev, but when I suggested this to David Ben-Gurion, Israel's first Prime Minister, he said—'We don't need more land; what we need is three things: people, people and more people.'"

The Negev will become the bread-basket of Israel as soon as water is supplied, Bender said.

Emergency Crops Provide Pasture in Hot Weather

Fifty cows graze on this 25-acre Sudangrass pasture during the day and are turned into permanent pasture in the evening. They have no worry about feed during the hot summer months.

It's good business for a dairyman to have all the nutritious, palatable pasture his livestock can eat every day that weather is fit for grazing. Abundant, luxurious pasture boosts milk production and keeps down feed cost.

Good planning can provide adequate pasture during hot summer months when ordinary permanent stands are usually unproductive. It is always better to plan for a margin of safety than to run short at a critical time and run the risk of a break in a continuous milk supply.

There are several ways that a summer pasture shortage can be avoided.

1. Provide liberally for early spring pasture which with usual spring rainfall will leave some to be cut and put in the silo for a midsummer shortage or if not needed then will be available for later use. This is always good business.

2. Early harvest of heavy growth of such crops as alfalfa or orchardgrass which have outstanding ability to recover rapidly after early cutting to produce abundantly in July and August. Heavy fertilization encourages early growth of such crops.

3. Irrigation where water supply and equipment are available for use in summer months. This method is coming into use more each year even though in some cases the expense in dollars and cents seems to outweigh the apparent advantages. The making possible a continuous milk supply to meet a consuming milk market is often a deciding factor.

4. Perhaps the safest and most practical way where acreage is available, even when one of the other methods is used, is to sow warm season crop such as Sudangrass, sorghum or millet which can be used wholly or in part for pasture or soiling during July and August.

Sudangrass is one of the most satisfactory crops for this purpose and has come into very general use over a large part of the United States in recent years.

Sown in late spring or early summer when both weather and soil are warm, it will be ready for grazing in 4 or 5 weeks. Recovery after grazing is rapid and surplus growth not needed for pasture can be cut for silage. Piper, Tift, Greenleaf and Lahona in their respective adapted areas are highly palatable outstanding varieties. High quality seed of the first two is readily obtained and the last two newer varieties are rapidly becoming available.

With the above four possibilities of warding off any summer shortage of pasture, there is hardly any excuse for a dairyman to endanger his supply of dairy products during the summer months.

1948 some foreign businessmen wanted to move in on Israel and grab up everything and have things their own way. They found that they couldn't do it, they couldn't take advantage of a confused situation. But if any investor want to come into Israel—

he's welcomed by everybody, including Histadrut."

Mr. Bender was an official guest at the Independence Day parade in May. He said he was "proud that Israel is strong enough to repel any attack or invasion."

ROUND AND ROUND—And they find it's a small whirl full of joy, curiosity, closed-eye excitement and anticipation. All those expressions were reflected on the faces of these riders of a free-swinging merry-go-round at London's famed Hampstead Heath. It's a pretty safe bet that they all agreed it was a lot of fun.

WHAT HAVE WE HERE?

A REGULATED ENVIRONMENT—New York's Bronx Zoo has a new temperature control system developed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers, and now its snakes no longer try to hide from visitors. A lad is shown, upper left, trying to stare down a 14-foot cobra through the reptile's glass-fronted cage, as other youngsters watch alligators and crocodiles, right. Zoo crocodiles like the one at lower left used to stay submerged in ponds, but not now. Dr. James A. Oliver, right, checks the radiant-heat thermostat that keeps his charges warm—and happy.

MICKLES IS PICKLES—If that sounds a bit strange, it merely means that lissome Jacqueline Mickles plays "Miss Cucumber Pickle" in the Broadway musical hit, "John Murray Anderson's Almanac." Jacqueline appears in a skit which satirizes America's ever-increasing mania for cheese-cake advertising queens.

Gone Are the Good Old Days — when grandfather boasted that he bought bananas at a dime a dozen and his farm from the State with only one deed in the chain of title. Today the chain may contain hundreds of transactions and as it lengthens defects multiply and enlarge. The abstract is the only means yet devised which may reveal these defects and place them in position for correction. That's why more and more people are demanding an abstract when they buy real estate. EARL BENDER & COMPANY Eastland, (Abstracting since 1923) Texas

SLEEPING BEAUTY—What could be more pleasing than the sight of this pretty miss napping in the sun on a rock high above Devil's Lake at Wisconsin Dells, Wis.? The sleeping beauty looked so peaceful that the photographer didn't have the heart to awaken her from that dangerous position.

WHOOFS!—Beneath a "Loan" sign in Muncie, Ind., Roger Pelham, a camera shop owner, is photographing his station wagon which seems to be parked at an unusual height. Some bricks got scattered when a parking attendant lost control of the vehicle in a garage. The result appears not to have harmed the vehicle too much, but the repairs to the garage cost a pretty penny.
