OF YOUR CREDIT RATING?

More and more people are coming to the office of the Credit Bureau to talk over their "credit record" with a view to clearing old past due accounts. And this is as it should be. A good credit record is a priceless possession. It is worth more than gold.

Young people, unfortunately, as well as some adults, do not realize how vitally important it is to maintain a good credit standing. A poor reputation for meeting obligations may follow one for life, and, if not remedied, may easily mean the difference between success and failure.

If you have over-extended yourself in credit obligations, or have had unforseen circumstances which hindered you, go to your creditor or to the Credit Bureau and discuss these matters. They can help you work out your difficulties, then the records will show you a person of reliability . . . a record to be proud of.

A large number of drownings occur each year among children at ages one to nine as a result of the youngsters falling into or ming alone, or swimming any considerable distance without being accompanied by a boat. These precautions should be heeded by good swimmers as well as by those less qualified."

Other safety recommendations are: More people should learn to swim well and to handle themselves properly in boats. Greater stress should be put on the necessity to check the condition of boats, to heed weather warnings, and to stay out of small craft if unable to swim. Parents are urged to be more vigilant in watching over small children, and to make every possible effort to have hazardous places fenced in or securely covered.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q - I still am in school under the World War II GI Bill. want to know whether I will be allowed to change my course even though my cut-off date has passed. I've been doing well in my studies, but I feel I am in the wrong field.

A - Under law, it is possible to change your course if the new course would be more in keeping with your aptitudes, previous training and experience. You will need VA's approval before you make the change.

Q - I am the widow of World War I veteran and I an supporting a child under 18 years of age. My salary has just been raised to the point where I no onger will be eligible for a VA pension. Could a pension be paid in behalf of my child? A - Yes. So long as you child's annual income does no exceed the legal maximum, he will be eligible for pension pay ments in his own right. The payments will begin as of the day following the date of your last payment.

Q - Is there any time limit o filing a claim for reinbursemen of burial expenses of a veteran A - Yes. The claim must be filed within two years after the date the veteran was buried.
