The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

A LETTER FROM Mr. B. A. Butler, who recently resigned as manager of the Chamber of Commerce here to become publisher of the Rising Star newspaper, will interest you. It follows:

I wish you would express for me to all the good Cisco folks who had such a generous part therein how grateful and humble I feel about the testimonial check and the gift they gave me last Tuesday. It was the best thing that ever happened to me and a recollection that I will cherish as long as I live.

Mr. Butler and I are deeply grateful. I know that I deserved but little of it, but it makes you feel good to know that you are thought worthy of some such expression of appreciation, and deepens an affection that will never be lost.

There are others in Cisco who deserve such an expression for an I, and I do hope that you, as a community, always see fit to honor those who serve or endeavor to serve you. It pays dividends in goodwill and loyalty that are worth all the cost.

Thank you and God bless you.

A POSTCARD from the Rev. S. Moad makes us feel a little cooler in this 100 degree plus weather. The card was mailed from Buffalo Bill's Memorial Museum and Tomb, altitude 7,375 feet, Colorado. "All is fine and cool and nice up here on Lookout Mountain," Rev. Moad wrote.

AND WE FELT some better, so, after listening to Mr. Jess, director of the Cisco Ice Company. One of Jess' sideliners is operating a machine that crushes and blows it into huge trucks loaded with fruits and vegetables. Trucks go through here all the time from California with loads of perishable goods. And Cisco beginning to be known as a melting point for them.

Last Sunday, which wasn't the hottest day but which was a right arm day at that, was big business for Jess. They used 14 tons — 28,000 pounds — of ice to accommodate the trucks that kept coming in.

MR. RANDY STEFFEN, the artist, has got troubles. A bay mare he showed up at his house the other morning. The mare had a badly cut foot, so Randy panned her up and doctor of the sore foot. Now, he'd like to find the owner. If you know anybody who has lost a mare, and them out to see Randy.

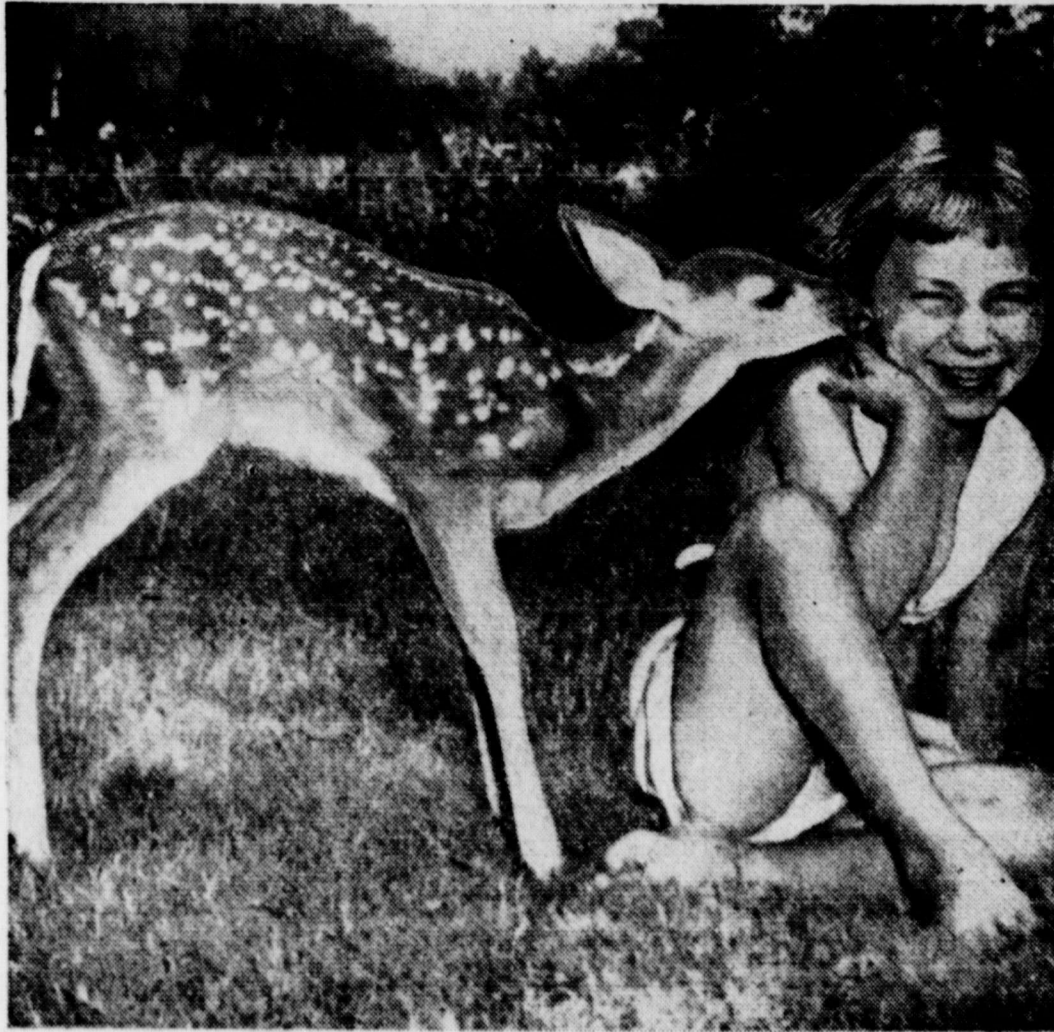

WORD HAS JUST reached our family through friends of Mrs. Standie McCracken that a shark had killed recently in Lake Pontchartrain down at New Orleans. The shark attacked a man and the shark went to the hospital. There wasn't supposed to be any sharks in the big lake, and members of our family spent a good many hours swimming there when we visited down that way recently. If we had known about the shark before going, it would have spoiled a lot of good swimming.

DROVE UP TO Fort Worth for the weekend and it was just about the hottest place we ever saw. Although the temperatures were being quoted by civic-minded Fort Worth people as a mere 84 degrees, it felt about one and a half times as hot as it feels in Cisco. Sometime, we're going to make a Cisco thermometer up to Fort Worth and get a true reading.

If you notice the papers, you see that Dallas folks quote their thermometers a degree or so less than they do at Fort Worth. It makes us wonder if the temperatures are a part of the Fort Worth-Dallas feud.

EVERY ONCE in a while, we get a letter from a man named Howard Perkins at Houston. They're always addressed to the editor. One came today, as follows:

"So there is a movement on foot to clean up another mess — the comic book mess. We are facing a very large and very hungry bear. Whatever weakens us lessens our chance of survival. Comic books should be kept clean. We can abolish this evil thing. The people rule."

WHAT A DEER!—That pet fawn in Fayetteville, Ark., is certainly giving six-year-old Marilyn Sue Carter an ear-tickling greeting. Marilyn found the small, apparently motherless animal wandering near her home and has permission by the local game warden to keep it as a pet.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN ARE BUSY IN 'SLOW DOWN AND LIVE' PLAN

Captain G. L. Morahan, Commanding the Abilene District of the Texas Highway Patrol, has announced the recent signing of a joint declaration of war on traffic deaths by the governors of 24 northeastern and southern states including Governor Allan Shivers of Texas.

Designed to curb the normal summertime rise in highway fatalities brought on by greatly increased vacation travel, the safety program — designated as a "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" campaign — started on Memorial Day and will extend through the Labor Day week-end.

The joint declaration, which

Ma Ferguson To Vote For Allan

AUSTIN, July 20.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the only woman ever to serve as Governor of Texas, has endorsed Governor Allan Shivers for re-election. Mrs. Ferguson, who held office from 1924 to 1926, is now residing in Austin.

"Governor Shivers has already proved himself," said Mrs. Ferguson. "His leadership has brought vast improvement in many things that have always been close to my heart — the public schools, the elementary institutions, rural roads and other things important to all people. . . . In short, Allan Shivers has tried to do what I always tried to do — be a friend and a leader for those citizens who are not in position to help themselves."

Miss Carlene Holder of Irving spent the weekend in Cisco with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlten Holder.

ONE FOR THE ROAD—Although roadside telephone booths have been generally used in Europe for many years, they are still infrequent in the U. S. In Chicago, Peggy Farrelly is using one, no doubt to relay word that she and her driving companion, Marjorie Safransky, are on their way and won't be long.

WHY MOTHERS GROW OLD—The combination of the heat in Cleveland, O., and her son's new Mohawk Indian haircut is just too much for Mrs. Arline Hoehn. Ten-year-old Mike insists that the eye-catching hairdo is not only "keen," but cool as well. Mama seems to be speechless at sight of it, but she undoubtedly had plenty to say when she cooled off.

Ramsey Suggests Water Program

AUSTIN, July 20.—Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey has urged farmers and ranchers, who will benefit first, to take the lead in the development of a state-wide water conservation program.

Ramsey said a water program to first assist farmers and ranchers would bolster state economy. "When the farmer prospers," the lieutenant governor said, "I notice that the merchant, the manufacturer and the public generally do pretty well also."

The Water Resources Committee, formed at the last session of the Legislature, is holding hearings to gather information for the development of a long-range state water conservation program.

Ramsey said, "While oil and gas are the glamour girls of our rapidly expanding state economy, farming is what we Texans do best and what we must learn to do better. Agriculture is really our basic economy because with our 267,000 square miles of land, our prosperity rises and falls with the harvest of our crops."

"Water, when and where we need it," has become the most important single factor in keeping our agriculture strong and more productive. When you save soil, you conserve water also. Farmers and ranchers in their respective communities should take the lead in and expedite the development of water conservation measures because they will benefit first," Ramsey said.

Shivers' Picture: Shivers stood foursquare on his record of achievement in office and pledged to continue, if re-elected, "the progressive program" he had worked for during his tenure. Cited by the Governor were concrete figures showing that during his administration Texas has come far: "From worst to among the best is the state prison system's record. "Many miles of farm-to-market roads have been built and maintained. Generally, the state highway system has been improved. "Pay of teachers and public employees has been increased. "Considerable progress has been made in the state hospitals and special schools. "Title to our tidelands has been regained, and that victory meant $32 million already realized for the State's school children, with untold billions yet to come." Yarborough Described: As he recounted the record of his administrations, Shivers flung certain charges at his opponent. Yarborough, he said, is the captive of people who don't want to get tough with the Communists, and who want to get the Texas anti-Communist law repealed. Shivers further charged: That Yarborough has made no positive statement on the segregation issue. That Yarborough has promised George Parr to call off the clean-up in Duval County. That CIO Union bosses had placed a $2 per head levy on members for a defeat-Shivers slush fund. That Yarborough wanted schools run from Washington, not locally. Yarborough Talks: Shivers' opponent, twice a candidate for the state's highest office, was making his strongest bid for election. Whether it was true that he had powerful support from the CIO could not be proven. But he had money to buy expensive time on the state's radio and television stations, and to produce a campaign newspaper for statewide distribution. Yarborough also was the first gubernatorial candidate to completely ignore the rural press of the state, in his bid for office. To reach the voters in the non-metropolitan areas, he has depended largely on TV and radio. Some folks haven't liked the approach because it has crowded off their TV screens some of their favorite programs. Others have enjoyed politics' first big year on TV in Texas. Results of the approach will show definitely on July 24 when Texans go to the polls to record their choices for that and other offices. Yarborough Campaign: Yarborough based his campaign principally on charges which Shivers described as "mudslinging." Yarborough had these things to say: That Shivers had made a secret deal with George Parr of Duval County. That Shivers had caused the resignation of former Chancellor James P. Hart of the University of Texas. That Shivers had made contradictory remarks about segregation. That Shivers' Republican friends are trying to cheat Texas out of part of the tidelands. On the positive side, Yarborough promised higher teacher pay and old age assistance. Sheppard View: The information that Texas' tidelands fight is not yet over no new development according to Attorney General John Ben Sheppard in a reply to gubernatorial candidate Ralph W. Yarborough. Sheppard issued his statement shortly after a remark by Yarborough that the Attorney General had let it "leak out" that the federal government still refused to recognize state tidelands boundaries as more than three miles off shore. The state claims over 10 miles in the Gulf of Mexico and has issued leases for much of that area. Sheppard said the tidelands dispute involving the boundary location was made public as early as last October in a newspaper article. Although declining to take issue in the political battle for governor, Sheppard said that "the true facts concerning the matter should be made clear." Water Solution: Passage of flood control legislation now before Congress offers a major solution to periodic droughts in Texas. District Engineer Colonel H. R. Hallock of the Fort Worth Corps of Engineers stated in Austin. Legislation includes the proposed Canyon Dam for the Guadalupe River near New Braunfels and six major reservoirs to be created in the Brazos River Basin. Hallock said that if the dams are built, many millions of acre-feet of water can be stored against drought periods.

Political Announcements: The Press has been authorized to make political announcements, subject to the Eastland County Democratic First Primary in July, for candidacies as follows: For County Superintendent H. STYLE NOTE—Looking a wee bit less glamorous than in the movies, actress Katharine Hepburn wore this old coat, trousers and flat-heeled shoes as she slipped aboard a ship in Southampton, England. She was there to say good-bye to actor Spencer Tracy who boarded the vessel for the voyage home disguised in dark glasses. Miss Hepburn probably hoped to elude photographers.

LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK IS SUBJECT OF FARM MAGAZINE RESEARCH

Livestock prospects commanded the spotlight among questions put to seven leading farm economists who voiced their predictions in a current national farm magazine interview.

Let the sows farrow and raise the pigs if the hog project is a regular part of your farm business, suggested Ernest T. Baughman, Federal Reserve Bank official.

"Self-feed a good ration and market at about 220 pounds," he said. "Profit margins will be narrow, but efficient raisers will be in the black on early fall pigs."

J. Carroll Bottum, Purdue farm economist, said prospective hog and feed prices "should bring normal returns" for pigs fed to finished weights and marketed in late winter and early spring of 1955.

The economists were then asked if it will pay to feed cattle now in the feed lot to prime grade.

Bottum speculated that the practice "might pay in a few cases" where feeding to prime would help you hit a better market. "It will pay if you can market them by mid-August," said Leonard Schruben, Kansas State College farm specialist.

Early sale of feeder cattle looks like the best bet, according to the group of economists.

"Many feeders who waited too long last year are planning to buy early," pointed out Francis Kutish, Iowa State College.

Schruben said: "I suspect the high price will come about the first week in August, however, much depends on the weather and feed situation."

The farm experts concluded that beef and sheep, in general, offer the best chance for profit from diverted acres.

"Try to use more pasture and legume hay as a substitute for concentrates in your present operation," said Gene Hamilton, director of research, American Farm Bureau Federation. "Increase sheep production if you know the business. Increasing beef cattle numbers looks better than increasing dairy production."
