The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

ONE OF OUR ambitions is to be able to write something someone that will convince youthful drivers of the utter futility of fast, reckless driving. For example, a couple of teen-agers were in a rather new looking car on a downtown street yesterday. They started to leave. The driver speeded up the motor and let out the clutch. The rear wheels screeched and the car lurched forward. Within half a second, the youth had to slide the wheels to stop in time to prevent another car. Then, he repeated the performance all over again.

The net results was that the youth didn't get up the street any faster than we did, but he damaged the auto tires and mistreated the car generally. But he didn't stop to think that the car cost him a lot of money.

ANOTHER CASE of driving we saw yesterday was just about as bad. A car full of about six boys came by us (and we were making about 30 miles an hour in an) and within half a block the car pulled up and stopped in front of a cafe. It didn't make sense to us for the car to speed around us and then stop while it continued on down the street. Less we're just old fashioned.

THERE ARE, of course, many young drivers who are good, careful drivers. They consider other folks, particularly the parents whose hard-earned dollars provide them a car to drive. Courtesy is just about as important as driving.

The wild-driving young folks make things tough for sane-driving young folks. It's getting harder all the while for youngsters under 16 to get a special permit to drive, and there's a genuine necessity for such permits in a good many cases. Statistics show you that there are more accidents per capita among drivers under 18 years than in any other age bracket.

WE BELIEVE in the young people of this modern day, and we feel that they will help solve their own reckless driving problems. If they don't there will be some changes made—ones that will keep drivers who aren't trustworthy out of the driver's seats. There's a movement afoot right now to ask the state legislature to pass a law to take an awful lot of teeth in the driver's license regulations.

IN TOWN FOR the rest of the week are Mr. and Mrs. Jack McWhorter and daughter — visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Deen. Mrs. Deen reports that they are both attending college classes at Texas & I. Kingsville, and Jack is a light policeman there. They like it very much.

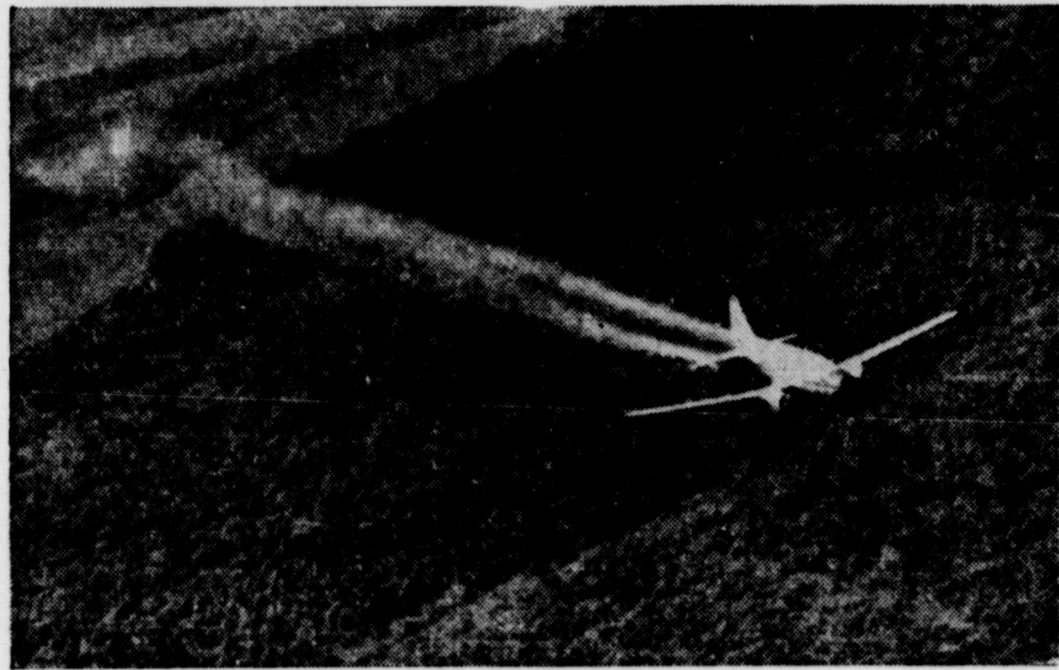

The McWhorters would like to have away an attractive Cocker spaniel male dog. He's black and piebald and three years old. He will give him to somebody who will make a good home for the dog. They prefer a home here where there are children. If you're interested in the dog, call Mrs. McWhorter at Phone 636 before Saturday.

The Deen's son, Buddy, is happy as a student at the University ofouston. He works on the campus full-time these days and will be on the golf team in the spring.

HOME FROM A splendid vacation trip through the mountain country to Yellowstone National park and return are Mr. and Mrs. P. Crawford and Miss Helen Crawford. They enjoyed the fine scenery of the Grand Canyon country and famous Snake River. It was hot and dry everywhere. Mr. Crawford reports. Nights were cool in the mountains. The temperature at Yellowstone Park was 28 degrees one morning, and there was frost on the windshield of the car. They ran into Mr. Crawford's brother and wife in Colorado Springs and neither knew that the other was there. Coming home, they attended a merry family reunion at Arroyo.

A COMMITTEE of business men met yesterday to talk to a salesman of Christmas decorations for streets. They discussed plans for the coming Christmas.

Average City Has Need For Public Health Facilities

AUSTIN, Sept. 9. — What the average community needs is a well organized health department to protect the health of the people, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. Such a department will emphasize at least five types of activities to safeguard child health.

"These activities are: (1) the safeguarding of child health and motherhood; (2) the control of contagion; (3) accurate recording of births and deaths; (4) support of public health laboratories; and (5) sanitary control of diseases spread from human waste and by vermin and insects."

"The full time local health unit gives due emphasis to each of the above mentioned activities. To illustrate how these 5 essential functions are interrelated, the interest of the various divisions in the new born baby, pre-school and school child may be cited as an example. Child health is safeguarded by providing information and instruction to the mother. Through the use of vital statistics, complete and accurate birth registration is kept, as well as records indicating deaths which occur among children from preventable diseases.

"Contagion is prevented or controlled against further spread through the encouragement of immunization early in life, through the prompt reporting of infectious diseases. Public health laboratories and sanitary engineers provide additional bulwarks of protection for child life. "Adequate health organization and wholehearted support on the part of various state and local agencies are essential if these activities are to be successfully maintained."

Football Picture Is Shown Lions

Coach Jay Williams of the Cisco High School Lobos showed a film of the 1953 Rotan-Cisco game as the program feature Wednesday at the weekly luncheon of the Lions Club at the Victor Hotel.

In a brief talk, Coach Williams told Lions that he believed this year's Lobo eleven would be a little heavier and more experienced than the 1953 team. The Lobos will operate from the Split-T formation again, and the passing game looks improved, the mentor said.

Tommy Toland, high school agriculture teacher, transferred his membership to the Cisco club, it was announced. He was present for the meeting.

EASTLAND COUNTY AGENT WINS NATIONAL HONORS FOR WORK

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 9. — J. M. Cooper, Eastland county agricultural agent since 1945, is one of six Texans named to receive the National County Agricultural Agents Association's Distinguished Service Award for 1954. He was selected by the Texas Association, and the announcement was made by Bexar County Agent R. B. Tate, chairman, State Selection Committee.

The awards are made annually to county agents who over a period of years have made outstanding contributions to agriculture. Formal presentation, a highlight of the annual national meeting, will be made in Salt Lake City, Utah. Cooper plans to attend this October 11-14 meeting.

J. M. COOPER

Cooper's first Texas Agricultural Extension Service appointment was made on February 1, 1938, when he was named county agent in Trinity county. In April 1942 he was transferred to Stephens county and in 1945 to his present position.

In Trinity county he is credited with organizing the Davy Crockett-Trinity Soil Conservation District. He was best known in east Texas for his pasture work. Hairy vetch, White Dutch and other clovers were introduced as cover and pasture crops.

The 4-H Boys under his supervision gathered pine seed, and from them in nurseries grew pine seedlings for reforestation. Communities were organized and through these groups educational programs on the latest methods of crop and livestock production were taught. Several wildlife conservation areas were also established under his direction.

In Stephens county he helped to organize the Upper Clear Fork of the Brazos Soil Conservation District; introduced vetch as a soil building crop for the county and through an expanded 4-H program, commenced many new demonstrations including swine improvement. Also carried on the many community and county activities connected with the war program.

In Eastland county he is directing programs which have been developed around commodity group interests. He has organized a county dairy association; the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association and more recently a county pecan show which is the only one of its kind in Texas. His work in the field of horticulture is well known.

Tours and field days held on the farms and ranches of demonstrators have been used by Cooper to spread educational information on the use of new and improved farm and ranch practices. The acreage planted to alfalfa has increased in the county as has the number of trench silos used. Soil and water conservation, 4-H club work, community improvement and many other activities all get attention in the Eastland county extension program.

Cooper is a native of Shelby county and a 1931 graduate of Texas A. and M. College. Prior to his extension employment, he taught vocational agriculture and worked for the Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

He has just completed a two-year term as a director of the Texas County Agents Association and for the past two years has served as chairman of the State Committee of the state group attending annual national association meetings in Chicago and Philadelphia.

Mavericks Ready For Cisco Battle

The Eastland High School Maverick Band will lead a delegation of several hundred Eastland fans to Chesley Field Friday night as the Mavericks and the Cisco Lobos raise the curtain on the 1954 football season.

Head Coach Carrol Shelton and assistant Coach Bob Blair of the Mavericks reported they were bringing a light team composed mostly of sophomores and juniors to meet the Lobos in the season opener. The Maverick mentors lost 12 boys from last year's team via the graduation route.

The Maverick starters will average approximately 159 pounds per man in the line and 144 pounds in the backfield. The average per man for the 11 starters will approximate 154 pounds.

Probable starters for the Mavericks will be: Ends Clyde Evatt and Leo Smith, Tackles Carl Freese and Larry Tankersley, Guards Ray Don Harris and Lupe Herrera, Center Terry Warren, Quarterback Harry Lewis, Fullback Duard Turner, and Halfbacks Bill Upchurch and Jimmy Martin or Benny Cate.

Smith, Freese, Herrera, Lewis, Upchurch, Martin and Turner are sophomores and Evatt, Tankersley, Harris, Warren and Cate are juniors.

Shelton, a graduate of Baylor University, is beginning his second year as coach at Eastland, and his first year as head coach. Blair, a Maverick ex, is beginning his first year as assistant coach at Eastland. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and coached junior high ball at Odessa last year.

Coaches Jay Williams and Charles Williams will field a Lobo team with a slight weight advantage over the Mavericks. The probable starting line will average around 165 pounds and the probable starting backs will weigh near 148 pounds. The team average will be around 160 pounds per man.

The Cisco coaches had not announced their starters but they will probably be taken from the following: Ends Bill Smith, Johnny Trigg and Jerry Weiser; Tackles Edward Bernie, Arzell Hale, Kenneth Penn, Carroll Thames and Lavere Adams; Guards Joe Wayne Farrow, Tommy Collier, Tex Meier and Frank Walton; Centers Ronnie Qualls and Robert Fletcher, and backs Tommy Reynolds, Harold Pippen, Marcos Gallegos, Benji Lipsey, Buck Whitehead, Joe Gilmore, Freddy Hayes, David Ewell and John Carlile.

The Lobos will enter the game in new playing uniforms with the players numbered according to their positions. They were to complete their preparations for the game in a light drill Thursday afternoon. Both the Lobos and Mavericks will enter the contest with no player on the seriously injured list.

A pep rally at the high school Friday at 3 p. m. and a rally down town shortly after that, has been planned by the cheerleaders. The Lobo Band will play at the rallies and at the game.

THE BIGGEST LANDLORD

The feature cover story in the August 23rd issue of Time magazine is devoted to Secretary of the Interior McKay. It's an interesting picture of a man whose views and attitude toward life and government are enormously different from those of such predecessors as Harold Ickes.

McKay was severely wounded in the first. He did have considerable experience in government on the local level — as mayor of Salem, Oregon's capital, where he built a successful automobile agency from a shoestring start; as a member of the legislature and, finally, as a very popular governor.

McKay's present job is a formidable one. As Secretary of the Interior, to quote Time, "he is the nation's biggest landlord, greatest giver of light and water, master of forest and range, controller of minerals and oil, boss of 56,000 people and a $519,000,000 budget."

of Yap. The Secretary's attitude is pretty well expressed in a statement Time attributes to him: "Once we make a crutch of the Government we are on our way to becoming political cripples."

The concrete reflection of this attitude is found in the Administration's "partnership" plan for power development. This means that the federal government, local government, and private enterprise will all work together to get needed jobs done at the lowest cost.

Interior policy will be a big issue in the next election — and so McKay, inevitably, will be a big figure in the campaign.

Letters

Editor: Since Grassy asked and seems concerned about Mac Cheshire, I will try my best to inform her or she as to my health and where abouts.

As for going to their union meetings I am sure I would enjoy it. As far as that's concerned, I have attended several in my lifetime and was a very devoted union member until I found I was being played for a sucker by a bunch of racketeers who were using our dues, fines and assessments to feather their Pent-House-Nests and to give cocktail parties for a lot of old broken-down politicians in order to fan-dangle them into passing laws to further the ambitions of these said Labor Leaders.

I still can't understand how anyone could be stupid enough to want a bureaucratic socialistic form of government, when all he has to do is think of how far down the Europeans have fallen in their two-thousands years.

(a) That an election be held at the City Hall in the City of Cisco, on the 25th day of September, 1936, to be participated in by the qualified voters of said city, for the purpose of submitting to said qualified voters the question "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a new charter?"

(b) That said election be held as provided for by the charter of the City of Cisco and the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas.

(c) That the ballot to be used in said election shall be substantially as hereinafter set out: You may vote for the proposition "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a new charter?" by writing an X in the box by the word "Yes," or you may vote against the proposition by writing an X in the box by the word "No," as follows:

Regardless of whether you have voted for or against the proposition: "Shall a Commission be chosen to frame a new charter?" vote for a Commission to frame such charter in the event a majority of the voters voting at such election vote in favor of choosing a Commission to frame this charter.

(f) That the fact the present charter of said City of Cisco is inadequate and the importance of the proposed ordinance creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the rules requiring ordinances to be read on more than one day and for the immediate taking effect of this ordinance such rules are hereby suspended and it is ordered that this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval. After said motion was made and seconded the ordinance was read in full and thoroughly discussed by the City Commission. ## Hailey Hosts Circle Meeting

Mrs. Melvin L. Bailey was hostess in her home Tuesday evening for the monthly meeting of the One of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. H. L. Ferguson presided at the meeting in the absence of the president. Opening prayer was led by Mrs. James McCracken. During the business session Ferguson was elected as the chairman and Mrs. McCracken as the secretary.

Represented highlights from the meeting of the world council of churches which met at Evanston, Illinois.

The Bible lesson, taught by Mrs. Bailey, was a study of Paul's missionary journey as found in the Book of Acts. The prayer was dismissed with a benediction.

Refreshments were served during the social hour to the following members and guests: Mesdames Joe Comingore, Glenn Dietiker, H. L. Ferguson, Vernon Honea, James McCracken, Bill Marshall of Dallas, Joe Marshall of Eastland, Bill Price, Ted Waters, Tom Wilson of Eastland, Miss Jean Jamison of Fort Worth and Miss Helen Crawford, and the hostess, Mrs. Bailey.

Choir Gives Shower For Jack Chambliss

The choir members of the First Methodist Church surprised their director and his recent bride, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chambliss, with a kitchen shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth on Wednesday evening following the weekly choir rehearsal.

The group went in a body to the home of the Foxworths and gathered in the living room where a laundry basket full of kitchen gadgets was set before Mrs. Chambliss. After the gifts were opened by the couple, a combination waffle iron and sandwich grill was presented to the honorees from the choir.

The group was then directed to the screened porch where a table was laid with a brightly flowered linen cloth with polka dot napkins carrying out the kitchen theme. Table appointments were of crystal and silver.

Punch, pink iced cakes decorated with lily of the valley, and nuts were served. Bouquets of crepe myrtle completed the house decorations.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. W. J. Foxworth, Mrs. Sutton Crofts and Mrs. R. W. Merritt.

Approximately 20 choir members attended or sent gifts.

Humble's new HOUSTON RESEARCH CENTER . . . is dedicated to man's impelling curiosity in the search for knowledge and its useful application in the specialized fields of petroleum exploration and production.

Dedicated to Man's Impelling Curiosity

Most of us interpret the value of research in terms of immediate benefits. Research means that we get a better automobile, an improved gasoline, or an outstanding motor oil.

At Baytown Refinery, the Humble Company maintains one of the finest laboratories in the petroleum industry for that kind of research.

But behind the study that goes into the improvement of the products it sells, Humble for years has fostered basic research related to the discovery and production of oil and natural gas.

The United States uses so much oil from day to day, and needs so much more to provide for the emergencies of national defense, that studies leading to the discovery of new supplies and the more efficient management of existing reservoirs are more important than ever before. Consequently, Humble's expenditures on this sort of research are the heaviest in the Company's history and its staff of research scientists is larger than it has ever been.

To house the expansion of these research sections, Humble recently completed its new Research Center at Houston and will formally dedicate it this week end.

Here the scientists of the various departments involved in the discovery and production of oil will utilize common facilities, and here they will have the stimulation of close association with other scientists whose efforts are dedicated to a common end.

- The new Houston Research Center will provide facilities for research in:
- Fluid Mechanics
  - Geophysics
  - Geology
  - Geochemistry
  - Drilling Muds
  - Well Log Interpretation
  - Subsurface Instruments
  - Reservoir Behavior
  - Well Stimulation
  - Well Cementing

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

School busses over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school busses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious. When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel. The prohibition also applies when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

Mrs. Betty Clark has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Albany.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.
