The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THERE'S NOTHING like rain to make people smile. It was particularly noticeable last evening over at the Eastland City Park where the county ranchers association was having its annual barbecue dinner and meeting. Despite threatening weather, a big crowd turned out for some outstanding food.

Saw a good many Ciscoans, including Sutton Crofts, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Red Padgett, Mr. and Mrs. Zan Burroughs, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Denton, James P. McCracken, Robert Donovan, Emma Lee Wende, W. B. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark, A. V. Clark and others.

GUESS YOU might say the Ferguson's Store almost didn't open for business Thursday. Boss Man Homer Ferguson came down at the usual hour but a new lock on the door refused to work. Homer called in some professional assistants and they finally got the store open by a little after 9 a. m.

Last weekend, Miss Ann Thiel, an attractive UofTexas student from San Antonio, came to Cisco with Miss Janet Ferguson to spend the weekend in the Homer Ferguson home. Ann packed her bag and got out some dresses and put them on hangers for the auto ride to Cisco. She picked up the bag, forgetting the dresses.

Ferguson's store opened up long enough to sell her a couple of new dresses on Sunday.

HEAR THAT Professor Doyle Holmes and family have purchased themselves a home up on West 9th Street. The professor, you know, is principal at the West Ward School. Yesterday was wedding anniversary No. 26 for the Austin Flint of the Penney Store. . . . Yesterday also was birthday No. 18 for Gene Agnew, son of the Arlin Agnews, and it was also the day he became eligible for the draft. Guess he raced over to Eastland to get himself registered.

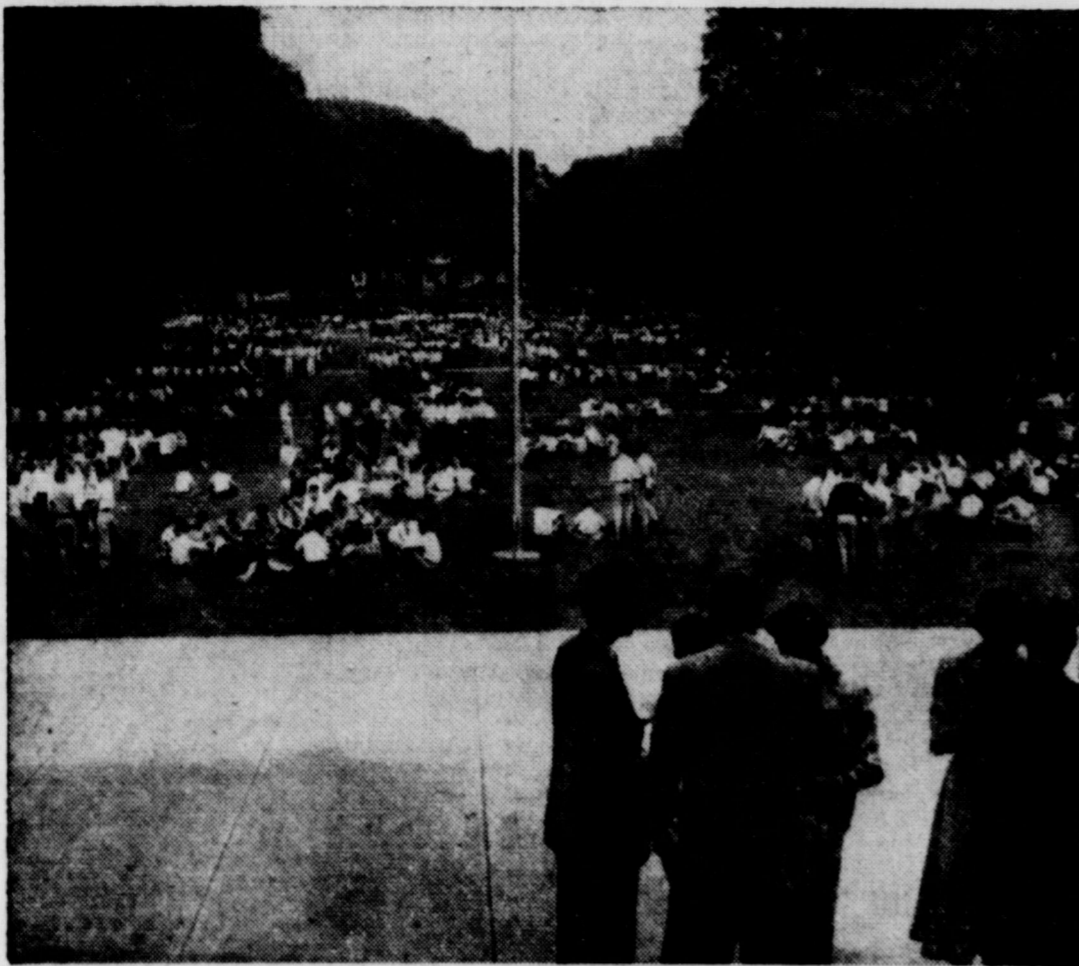

COMES A CARD from Mrs. L. L. Smith, Route 7, Box 40, Lubbock, to say: Thanks for printing my letter. You may print that Larry is home now. Came home Sept. 22. He would appreciate cards sent to him at home. He is still paralyzed in his arm but otherwise doing fine. He goes back to the doctor Oct. 7. He is still confined to bed most of the time till he sees the doctor again.

THEY HAVE A new part-time assistant over at the Merchants Credit Association office. She is Miss Bertie Donham, and she works until noon each day for the Credit agency and then she goes up to the Crawford Insurance Agency and works during the afternoon. . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Guinn, who left in mid-September for a month's vacation in the Carolinas, recently were called to Houston due to the serious illness of his father. Mr. Guinn is superintendent of the Humble Pipe Line Company's division offices here.

GOING TO Coleman tonight to see the Loboos tangle with the Bluecats? According to our travel department, it's about 65 miles and the best deal would be to go via Baird. The road is a little shorter but there are a thousand turns if you go via Rising Star. . . . Think the rain must have taken the First National Bank's forecasting service by surprise. It was supposed to have rained last week, according to the September chart. . . . Mr. A. Z. Myrick of the locker plant reports they are having a big program Saturday. Red Fox of TV fame and his orchestra will play. They'll serve barbecue and somebody will win a home freezer in a special event.

THE TELEPHONE reports that Mr. A. J. Sanders of the telephone company has four puppies that need homes. Drop by the Sanders place on the old Abilene highway or telephone 80 or 290-W-2. . . . Wesley Isenhower, who recently got out of the army after serving his regular tour of duty, has leased the H. R. (Pop) Garrett ranch west of town. Mrs. Wesley Isenhower is the former Patsy McCrea, daughter of the Yancey McCreas. Hear the Garretts have rented the Dr. E. H. Ramsey house on Bliss Street.

H. L. Coats, son of Mrs. Lee Coats of Cisco, is spending a two weeks leave with friends and relatives here. He is stationed with the Navy in California. Coats recently completed a course of instruction in Radiomen School and earned the distinction of being the honor man of his class. In a letter to Mrs. Coats, C. E. Phillips, commanding officer of the service school command, said that Coats' grades were consistently the highest in the large class and that he finished the course with a mark of 98.09, which is only .02 below the highest mark ever made in the school. Coats attended grade and high school in Cisco and was a member of the Lobo football team while in high school.

Wranglers Finish Work For Contest

Coach Leland Willis of Henderson County Junior College will bring a fine Cardinal team to Cisco Saturday night for a game with the Cisco Junior College Wranglers. The Saturday night game will open the conference chase for both teams. Coach Willis, who began this year with the Cardinals, has 12 lettermen returning this season. Six of the boys were starters with the team that last year won three and lost seven. In addition to the lettermen Coach Willis has two transfers and several promising freshmen to bolster his squad. Included among the new boys is all-state end John Trantham from Kauffman. The transfers include Jack Mayo who played at quarterback with Tyler Junior College last season. Coaches Red Lewis and Joe Stephenson of the Wranglers had little time this week to work their team because of wet weather. The general physical condition of the team is little improved over previous games which saw a number of key players on the bench. Still on the injured list are Gene Burke, guard; Ronald Conner, fullback; Richard Baack, guard and several others. Bud Miller, star end, will be in good condition for the game, and Carl Metkar, guard, will be in action for the first time this season. The team was weakened Friday when L. R. Taylor, hard running back, withdrew from the school. He returned to his home in Lubbock. Coach Lewis said that he would probably start Bud Miller and Jimmy Hicks at ends, C. A. Wheat and Phil Perry at tackles, Burl Shetter and Arnold Hunter at guards, Wayne Adams at center, Severo Vacquero at quarter, Bill Barr and Bob Lay at halves and Billy Joe Hawk at full.

SAFETY FACTS OF LIFE

With 33 of the 48 states still having high schools which offer sub-standard courses in driver education, the nation still has a long way to go in its efforts to teach young drivers the highway safety facts of life, Thomas N. Boate, accident prevention department manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, has reported.

Commenting on results of the recently completed Seventh Annual National High School Driver Education Award Program, Mr. Boate noted that while 16 states have been given awards for outstanding quality in their driver training programs, there are still only 15 states in the country where all of the schools offering courses meet minimum standards set up by the National Education Association. In all other states, Mr. Boate said, there are some schools whose courses fail to measure up either in the classroom or practice driving phases or both.

"That so many schools are offering sub-standard courses," Mr. Boate said, "is part of the reason for the fact that there were actually fewer students enrolled in driver education courses during 1953-54 than in the previous year. It is also part of the reason that virtually no new schools joined the list of those offering driver education during 1953-54."

Mr. Boate emphasized that "if we are ever to stop the horrifying rise in highway fatalities, we must get to the new drivers before they ever start driving." He said the "hit or miss" methods by which most of today's adult drivers learned to drive are no longer sufficient because "as recently as 1945 there were only 30,000,000 cars on America's highways; today there are 55,000,000; by the end of next year there will be 60,000,000, bringing the total increase in the past ten years to 100 per cent."

He added that there has not been, nor is there likely to be, an appreciable comparative increase in the number of miles of highway in the country. Mr. Boate said an improvement in the quality of driver education courses will result in an increase in quantity as educators become convinced that the subject has a real and vital role to play in the modern educational scene and the public learns that driver education is bringing results of lives and dollars saved. He listed these major shortcomings in most driver education courses now being offered:

1. A fifth of the high schools which offered courses composed of at least 18 periods for classroom instruction last year provide only the classroom phase without the valuable supplement of practice driving.

2. More than a third of the schools failed to meet the accepted standard of 30 clock hours in instruction established by two national conferences sponsored by the National Commission on Safety Education of the National Education Association.

3. More than a fifth of the schools offering minimum courses which included both classroom and practice driving failed to provide the recommended minimum of six clock hours of actual driving experience.

4. Only 17 states and the District of Columbia provided one full time person or the equivalent (a percentage of time devoted by each of several persons to equal 100 per cent) from an official state department for driver education administration and supervision.

5. Twelve states did not require regular secondary school certification and successful completion of a driver teacher preparation course for teachers of both classroom and practice driving.

6. Twenty-one states did not report specific requirements as to driving records; 13 states failed to report possession of a valid driver's license as a teacher requirement, and 34 states did not require completion of a general safety course for teachers of both phases of driver education.

"In addition to these areas of needed program improvement," Mr. Boate continued, "the basic problems which have existed through the years still confront interested organizations and individuals. A crowded curriculum, inadequate school plants, a lack of clearly established facts showing beyond all doubt the value of driver education and money remain as a challenge to the future of the subject."

Mr. Boate said a recent informal survey shows that the nation annually spends approximately: $10,250,000,000 in school taxes; $7,000,000,000 in taxes on motor vehicles, fuels and license fees; $22,000,000,000 for new automobiles, trucks and buses; $12,000,000,000 to keep this automotive empire moving; $4,000,000,000 in auto insurance premiums; and only $12,000,000 for high school driver education.

"Bold steps must be taken," Mr. Boate concluded, "to improve the quality of driver education. The foundation is strong. Now the walls must be made of equal strength."

Bulbs Easy to Flower in Winter Window Gardens

A winter window garden makes spring come faster, and teaches many lessons.

Bulbs which blossom in the early spring do not demand sunlight of maximum intensity, therefore they thrive and blossom indoors in light insufficient for most flowering plants.

Varieties which flower earliest in the garden are earliest to flower indoors as a rule. Crocuses, grape hyacinths, narcissi and hyacinths are less difficult than tulips. They can be grown in bulb fiber, in bowls without drainage.

Bulb fibre can be prepared by mixing peat moss which has been put through the kitchen sieve, with one fourth its volume in charcoal, and one eighth fine oyster shell or bone meal. Fill a decorative bowl with the fibre, saturate it, and set the bulbs in the fibre up to their necks.

Keep the bowl in dim light where the temperature stays below 55 degrees, watering the fibre regularly. If it dries out the flower buds may be destroyed. Root growth will begin first, then top growth will begin. As soon as top growth is well started, take the bowl to a window where it will have all the light possible, and a temperature between 55 and 70 degrees.

A picture window facing north which is not shaded from reflected light of the northern sky, is a preferred location for most flowering bulbs and foliage plants.

The light which such a window admits is adequate and it has the advantage of an even and cool temperature. In a room which varies between 70 and 80 degrees in daylight hours, the temperature close to a north window will often be 10 to 20 degrees lower.

A picture window facing south, on the other hand, which gets the full impact of the winter sun will usually be subject to extreme variations of temperature. East and west picture windows are likely to be more favorable to plants than one facing south. Artificial light can be used to supplement daylight which is insufficient.

By using a photographic light meter, which nearly all amateur photographers now possess, you can check the light from your best window to see whether the daylight is adequate for the plants you wish to grow.

In her talk, Mrs. Shoemaker called attention to the extensive work that has been done in the federation, in education, child welfare, and community life, and that which is being done in the conservation of natural resources.

Mrs. Shoemaker also stressed the responsibility of the individual club women in federation work and stated that youth conservation is one of the special divisions of interest to be stressed throughout this administration.

tion of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. She said, "This is to be done through the work of all departments. Club women must go to battle to eliminate the influences that contribute to juvenile delinquency, especially the work to abolish crime drunkenness, and violence in our movie, radio, and television shows."

"The abolishment of crime comic books is a more diligent and greater fight against the sale of narcotics and liquor," said Mrs. Shoemaker. "Club Women must set an example that our youth will be proud to follow," she said.

Sneezing Season Due Soon Warns Health Officer

AUSTIN, Sept. 30. — With the advent of fall, and colds becoming prevalent, Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer, makes the following suggestions as to ways by which these seasonal illnesses may be warded off or, at least, may be gotten under control before they do any serious damage.

Keep as fit as possible. Dress according to the weather, indoors and out of doors. Put on a heavier suit when a cold snap comes. Use a raincoat, overshoes and umbrella on rainy days. Change as quickly as possible into dry clothes if you are caught in a drenching downpour.

Look up your supply of sweaters and have them ready for use on these first chilly days. Get out some other heavy clothing and warm bed coverings at the same time.

Eat simple nourishing food. Have your meals at regular hours. Drink plenty of water. Take some exercise out of doors, every day. Get the necessary amount of rest.

If you are caught in the clutches of a cold, unawares, don't treat it lightly. It may turn into something very serious, if neglected. The quickest way to get over a cold, or, to bring it under control is to go to bed, keep warm, eat lightly, drink plenty of water and fruit juices, and at the slightest sign of fever, send for your doctor and stay in bed until he feels that it is safe for you to get up and get out again.

And remember, colds are very contagious. Cold-producing germs are scattered far and wide whenever the victim of a cold coughs or sneezes. They are likely to be found on anything the victim touches. If you are the victim, keep your germs to yourself. Have your own towels and wash cloths, your own drinking glass and dishes — and be sure that they are adequately sterilized with hot — very hot — water and soap after you have used them. Keep well supplied with paper handkerchiefs; dispose of them promptly after they have been used.

Fort Worth To Be Host City For Baptists

Fort Worth, which numbers 80,000 Baptists among its 278,000 residents, will be the host city for three annual Baptist state conventions in October.

The sixty-ninth annual session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will begin on Tuesday evening, October 19, with Dr. James N. Morgan, pastor of the three-day convention will be held in Will Rogers Coliseum.

Preceding the general convention, the Woman's Missionary Union will have its annual convention on Monday and Tuesday, October 18-19, in the Will Rogers Auditorium.

Simultaneously with the W.M.U. convention, the annual Baptist Brotherhood convention will be in session in the Will Rogers Coliseum.

"Christ the Savior of the World" is the convention theme, and emphasis during the sessions will include Texas Baptist schools, hospitals, and children's homes, and state missions and foreign missions.

An innovation in this year's convention will be twice-daily sessions instead of the usual three-session days. The morning meetings will open at 9 o'clock and close at 1 p. m. Night sessions will get under way at 6:45.

Bishop Will Visit Episcopal Church

The Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Harte, who was consecrated Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Dallas last June 29, will make his first visitation to Holy Trinity Parish in Eastland on Sunday, October 3, at 4 p. m.

At that time he will confer the Apostolic Rite of Holy Confirmation.

At 5:30 p. m. a reception will be held in Bishop Harte's honor and those who have been newly confirmed. All interested persons have been cordially invited to both the service and to the reception.

The Rev. Arthur E. Hartwell, rector to Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Eastland, will conduct a three-day mission this week at St. James Episcopal Church, Meridian, Texas.

A "mission" in the sense is essentially a short "revival" with emphasis on teaching the Faith of the Church, bearing in mind the thought expressed by the 4th Chapter of I Corinthians.

The mission will begin Tuesday, October 5, and continue each night through Thursday, October 7.

NEW FORD TRIPLE ECONOMY PICKUP

Look at all the features ONLY FORD gives you— in the three areas where they count most!

World's most versatile pickup—Ford's F-100, 6 1/2-h. Pickup with 130-h.p. V-8, has a 4,800-lb. GVW rating.

1. POWER 2. DRIVING EASE 3. CAPACITY

One of the most powerful, compact engines in any Pickup.

New Power King V-8 develops its 130-h.p. from only 239 cubic inches of displacement for more efficient, gas-saving power! In either V-8 or Six, Ford's Short-stroke design cuts internal friction, gives up to 22% more usable power. Slower piston speeds lengthen engine life.

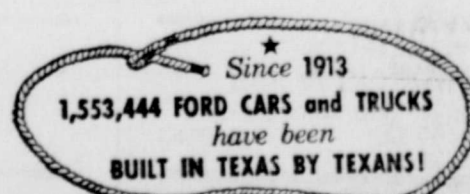

Most comfortable cab ever built. It's DRIVERIZED!

Ford's 3-man Driverized Cab has the widest one-piece windshield in any truck. New, woven plastic upholstery... exclusive seat shock absorbers. Power Braking (Ford exclusive in Pickups), Overdrive and Fordomatic Drive... all at worth-while extra cost.

Biggest spring and axle capacities in any Pickup.

Strong, low-weight construction allows big payload capacities. Highest spring capacities and combined front-rear capacity in any Pickup make the 6 ft. F-100 Pickup the most rugged in the 1 1/2-ton field. Rated for up to 1,550 lbs. payload.
