The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

GOOD MANY folks have been forward to encourage the idea of running the Football Special Train to Weatherford on Friday night, Nov. 12. Manager Paul Brashar and Secretary Peggy Gallagher of the Chamber of Commerce have volunteered their office and assistance to help the movement along. So, if you really want to run a football special to Weatherford, I will buy a ticket drop by the Chamber of Commerce office and in your name in their little book. Opposite your name, write the number of tickets you would buy. Adult tickets are $2.59 and children (under 12 years) may be for $1.32. As we told you the other day, the T&P folks will run a special train if 350 people will ride it. Some of you may drop by the Chamber office and sign their names. The train will be ordered and sponsored by the CoC and the Cisco Boosters Club. If you sign your name and the number is ordered you'll be expected to buy a ticket. Drop by the Chamber office and sign up.

A CAR PULLING a trailer loaded down Avenue D yesterday. Two deer, and a big brown bear (dead) were riding atop the trailer. We whistled and the car stopped. It was Cisco's W. E. (Dizzy) Dean and Ranger's Dr. Ivin Harris coming home from Colorado and a hunting trip. They went a week or so up around Arango. They shot a deer each and Dizzy got the big brown bear. Harris told us that there is a line story and some good shooting connected with the bear, if you could get Dizzy to tell it. He reported a fine trip in all respects, and the deer heads will be made into wall pieces and the bear will become a rug. Mr. Dean dropped by our office early today to report that his keys are missing — a key ring with some 20 keys. There's a little gadget on the ring with the initials "WED" on it. Reward: $100.00. A bear steak to the person who returns the keys to Dizzy.

HURRICANE HAZEL, the big storm, prevented the A. Z. Myrck from going to Cherry Point, C. They had planned to drive for a visit with their son, but a wired that all was pretty sad and to stay away for a time. The papers where the anger folks have a Community Chest budget of $5,896 and they had raised $2,672 last Sunday.

A NUMBER OF years ago, Mel Under of our town was attending a military school over in Georgia. His parents, the Charles Sanders, went over to see him. Mr. Charlie drove into Atlanta to attend Lions Club, so as to see up his 100% record. At the luncheon, Mr. Charlie was eating beside a man who was editor of a magazine called Southern Building Supplies, a slick paper trade journal. The editor asked Mr. Sandler about his business and if he knew anything to write about in the magazine. Mr. S. couldn't think of anything unusual. Have you a hobby? the man asked. Mr. Sandler allowed that if he had one it might be his bees — the hive that he keeps behind glass in his office. The editor thought it might be a good story and, he said, he would have their Texas representative stop in to see Mr. S. five or six years later, the Texas man dropped by the Cisco Lumber & Supply and gathered material for his story. And three or four years later, the story appeared in the magazine. And the October, 1954, issue of the magazine is the one. It shows a picture of Mr. Sandler beside his hive of bees behind glass. A. C. Pearce, who used to work at Cisco Lumber, is pictured, too. There's also an outside shot of the store. The story tells about the growth of the Cisco Lumber & Supply. Much of the story is devoted to how Mr. Sandler is ever too busy to show them to groups of school children or to individuals. And he is full of answers to anybody's questions about bees, as he has made considerable study of them. It's a dandy story and fine publicity for our town as well as for Mr. Sandler. If you haven't seen them, drop by and see his bees.

County FHA Will Close Office To Attend Meeting

The Farmers Home Administration office of Eastland County will be closed Thursday and Friday while local employees attend an area conference in Mineral Wells, Administrator George I. Lane reported today. Mr. Lane reported that the drought relief program for Eastland County has been extended for another 60 days. In the program, livestock raisers are given help in buying feed for foundation herds. The FHA pays $1 per ton per 100 miles on hay and an allowance of $1 per 100 pounds is made on grains. Some 400 applications were filed last month, Mr. Lane said. He added that over 200 applications have already been filed for relief feed aid this month.

Mr. J. H. Medlin of Kermit is visiting in the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis. Mrs. C. T. Richardson and daughters of Snyder spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. King.

The Rev. Tex Everts Culp, minister of the First Baptist Church at Aspermont for more than two years, has accepted the call of the East Cisco Baptist Church to become their pastor, according to an announcement here today. Rev. Culp will be here Sunday, Oct. 24, to begin his ministry in Cisco. He will take over the pulpit that has been vacant since the resignation of the Rev. F. C. Bradley last month. A native of Killen in Bell County, Rev. Culp is the son of the late Judge I. W. Culp and Mrs. I. W. Culp. He finished high school at Temple and attended Allen Academy at Bryan for two years. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University and has a Master of Religious Education degree from the Southwestern Baptist Seminary. Rev. Culp was ordained to the ministry in 1946 in Houston. He served as assistant pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Houston and held several pastorates before going to Aspermont when he finished seminary work in April, 1952. During his stay at Aspermont, the church erected a new educational building and auditorium, which will be ready for occupancy in several weeks. The church had 270 additions, including 103 by baptism, during the period.

REV. TEX E. CULP

Rev. Culp's wife is the former Miss Dollie Thomas of Houston. Mrs. Culp grew up at Palestine in East Texas and attended Baylor University and the Seminary. During the war, Rev. Culp served as a federal investigator in the Army and before that time he worked as a criminal investigator for the State of Texas. The general public has been invited to attend the Sunday services at the East Cisco Baptist Church.

HOWARD PAYNE PLANS PROGRAM TO HONOR NEW LEGION CHIEF

Saturday, Nov. 6, at Lions Stadium, Brownwood.

Dr. Taylor, who joined the Howard Payne faculty in 1904 as a teacher of shorthand and typewriting, became depression president of the school in 1929 under the motto "More and More on Less and Less." Under his administration the college has paid a $185,000 debt, increased endowment to $1,800,000, doubled the size of the faculty and student body, built five buildings, opened a graduate division, and has been admitted to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Southern Baptist Education Association, and the American Council on Education. Dr. Taylor is interested in religious and community affairs. He is a deacon in Coggin Avenue Baptist Church of Brownwood and is chairman of the Brown County Democratic executive committee. ## Retail Training Institute To Open With Luncheon Monday

JUNIOR HIGH MIDGETS DEFEAT DE LEON TEAM BY 14-6 COUNT

The Cisco Junior High School Midgets spotted the De Leon Junior High School team six points Tuesday night at De Leon, then came back in the second half to win the Junior Oilbelt Conference contest by a score of 14-6.

The Midgets were sluggish in the first two periods and were unable to stop the junior Bearcats who drove 80 yards for the first score. The Cisco team was unable to go on offense for the first two periods, and the half ended 6-0 with De Leon in the lead.

Cisco came back strong after the intermission and soon had the game on ice. Gene Thetford, end, scored the first tally when he picked a fumble and raced 53 yards to cross the double stripe. The ball was fumbled on a pitch-out from Quarterback Johnny Choate to Halfback Ronnie Bostick. Thetford picked the ball up on the bounce and took off behind good blocking which cleared the way. Delbert Schaefer kicked for the extra point.

Johnny Choate scored the second Cisco tally on a keeper play from four yards out. The touchdown play was set up by a 48 yard jaunt by Benton Porter. Schaefer again kicked the extra point.

Coaches Bobby Zellers and Bill Tate had shifted their lineup for the De Leon contest. Benton Porter started at the quarterback post and Johnny Choate was shifted to end. Billy Swindle was shifted to a tackle position and Wayne Brown began the game at full.

The starting team was as follows: Choate and Billy Hammer at ends; Swindle and Joe Tom Johnson at tackles; Johnny Richardson and John Adams at guards; Dickie Bennie at center; Porter at quarterback; Robert and Ronnie Bostick at halves and Brown at full.

Other players seeing action Tuesday night were Schaefer, Charles Lipsey, Duane Hale, Jerry Slaughter, Thetford and Rudy Archer.

The Midgets have an open date next week.

JAMES EDWARD CRANE

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cooper of Crane are the parents of a son, James Edward, born September 29. The Coopers moved from Cisco to Crane in March.

4-Day Course To Be Offered Here

Lobo Line Coach

Pictured above is Charles Williams, assistant coach at Cisco High School, who has handled most of the line coaching duties this season. Coach Williams is serving his first year as a member of the Cisco coaching staff. He is a graduate of Huntsville High School and of Sam Houston State College, where he lettered four years at end. He was a member of the coaching staff at Aldine for four years before coming to Cisco.

A luncheon meeting at noon Monday, October 25, will open the retail training institute in which personnel of Cisco's retail stores will have an opportunity to participate, according to arrangements made at the regular monthly meeting of Merchants Credit Association on Tuesday.

James P. McCracken presided at the meeting. Committees of the association to serve during the ensuing year were named as follows:

Membership and Finance: A. D. Anderson, George Boyd, Charles Graham.

Trade Extension: Austin Flint, A. G. Sander and Tom Stark.

Holiday Committee: F. B. Altman, W. W. Meglasson and J. W. Slaughter.

Legislative Committee: all directors of the association.

W. W. Meglasson headed a discussion on small claims courts and the hot check law in Texas. Highlights of a recent talk on the subject by Senator Wagonseller were brought out.

A question and answer period was held with J. W. Slaughter, Charles Graham and Homer Ferguson providing the topics.

Bob Hammett announced that his committee had completed all arrangements for the training institute to begin October 25, which will be held nightly from 7 to 9 at the community room of First National Bank, and will run for four nights. A committee to arrange for the luncheon and ticket sales was named: A. Z. Myrick, chairman, W. W. Meglasson, Mrs. Carl Gorr and Mrs. Helen Pugh.

Heading the list of training courses to be offered is the course in "Selling Know-How" for people who are engaged in selling any type of commodity. This selling course may be broken up, it was announced. One class may be started for store personnel engaged in the selling of softlines, while another may be organized for those engaged in hardlines. Definite class schedules will be formed at the general mass meeting Monday.

E. A. Willeford, retail training specialist on the staff of the University of Texas, Division of Extension, will be the instructor. Prior to joining the Retail Training Division of the University some five years ago, Mr. Willeford was engaged in the retail merchandising field, during which time he gained a good practical background of experience in training of store personnel. He has conducted retail institutes in more than 60 cities during the past 5 years.

In addition to these sales training courses, one or more courses for management will be offered. Subject to the preference of store managers and other supervisory personnel who attend the general meeting, anyone or all of the courses in "Human Relations in Business," "How to Supervise Employees," and "How to Train an Employee" may be offered.

Mr. Willeford will be the guest speaker at the luncheon, and registration for the course will begin. Those who cannot attend the luncheon may still register by either calling the office of Merchants Credit Association.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lawson and grand daughter, Cindy, spent the weekend in Midland.

OFF-YEAR ELECTIONS

In next November's elections, a central figure will be a man who isn't running for office — Dwight D. Eisenhower. He is obviously the GOP's principal asset. And it is on his policies and philosophy of government that the Democrats must center much of their fire.

At one time there was a feeling in Republican ranks that the President wasn't aggressive enough. It was widely said that he wasn't doing much of a job in pushing his ambitious legislative program. In some respects his press relations weren't too happy. Some Congressmen of his party had about decided that he wouldn't be of noticeable help to them at home, and that they'd better attend to their own political fence-building without reference to the White House.

A very great change has taken place in a comparatively short time. For one thing, the President showed an ability to learn from mistakes and not to repeat them. He demonstrated an unusual flair for getting things done quietly, without issuing "must" order after "must" order. And the upshot was that, to the surprise of even canny old hands at the political game, a remarkably large part of the legislation he asked for became law.

Some proposals, naturally, were turned down or deferred. Others were modified. That was inevitable with a program which was so broad, so complex and, in many cases, so controversial. But the record shows that few Presidents have had so high a batting average in a mere two years.

Here, in part, is what the Administration, in cooperation with the 83rd Congress, obtained. The tax code was thoroughly overhauled for the first time in 75 years. Substantial tax reductions were given to both individuals and to business. And, though the goal of a balanced budget hasn't been reached, material reductions in the overall cost of government were effected.

The defense program was given a "new look," based largely on atomic weapons, which is designed to produce more defense for each dollar spent.

The St. Lawrence Seaway was approved. This was a considerable victory, in view of the fact that Presidents Truman, Roosevelt, Hoover, Coolidge, Harding and Wilson had all advocated it without success.

A program for developing atomic energy for peacetime purposes is underway, using the resources of private enterprise as well as those of government.

A system of flexible farm price supports was adopted. In the view of many, including a number of farm leaders and spokesmen, this is a vital start toward a sounder agricultural policy.

These are simply high spots. As a general principle, the Administration has consistently urged that the federal government should not take on duties that can be discharged either by local government or by private enterprise. It has moved to reduce government intervention in commercial business.

Some Congressional contests will be dominated by local issues and emotions. Aside from those, the key to this off-year election is pretty largely the personality, philosophy, and program of the President.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barnes left Tuesday for Marshall where Mr. Barnes will enter the T&P hospital for treatment.

FISHING FASHION—Hooking the eye of anglers during the International Tuna Cup Match at Wedgeport, Nova Scotia, was this fishy head-piece decorated with tuna pins. It was worn by Mrs. Van Campen Hellner, of Hampton Bays, N. Y., who scattered other fish pins on the collar and front of her wool shirt.

FREE AGAIN—The beautiful Victoria Tower at the Houses of Parliament in London is almost clear of the scaffolding that has obscured it since 1937. The full glory of the magnificent baroque design is now apparent once more to delight the British. In the foreground is a statue of King George V.

MONKEY FACE—Temporarily indisposed is Pancho, mayor of Chimpyville at the St. Louis, Mo., Zoo. He's having his temperature checked and looks a bit apprehensive of the results. Seemingly improved after an attack of pneumonia, Pancho was scheduled to rejoin the cast of an animal show.

WHAT GOES?—Actor Robert Preston, center, seems to be wondering just that as Kim Hunter and Ronny Graham pitch a bit of woo during a last minute rehearsal of "The Tender Trap" in New York. Director Michael Gordon, left, was doing the coaching as the stars of the new hit learned their lesson.

TROUBLE, TROUBLE—And right on the nose in this instance in Los Angeles. Chief pilot Bill Kenney is definitely in a pensive mood as he views this mishap. Kenney and a companion were about to start out on a pleasant day's flying when the craft nosed over with this very unpleasant result.

Fall Rains Are Helpful To Wild Animals Of State

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. — Unseasonably humid weather in Texas, coupled with fairly general showers, has wilted some city folks but came as a lifesaver for the Animal Kingdom, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said, in fact, "some desperate situations have been averted" in several parts of Texas.

From the viewpoint of the waterfowl hunters, comprising perhaps the greatest bloc of nimrods in Texas, rains in some coastal marshes averted a catastrophe.

"Up until a week or so ago," said the Executive Secretary, "it appeared that most of the migrating ducks might find nothing to stop them along the coast and thus would have to keep on going into Mexico and Central America."

"But late reports indicate that some coastal areas finally caught water near feeding grounds. Unless we have water near rice and other native grain fields left by the threshers, the waterfowl simply are not interested."

The Executive Secretary said similar encouraging reports have come from many parts of the Hill Country, which houses the bulk of the state's big game.

"Finally, we are getting some new grass which the deer require," he said. "The rains have been pretty light in some places but the record hot, humid weather gave the grass a start. Of course, it is too late to help the mast crop, but we were going to have an awful lot of skinny deer without the green stuff."

Bobwhite quail, bravely staging a comeback from drought, likewise will be benefited by the moisture, he said. The rains are too late for summer growth, but they will stimulate cover and also will help grow some late winter food.

The north zone mourning dove open season has closed, but the substantial rains in deep South Texas have been described as pushing growth of croton, or goat weed, which is the doves' main source of nourishment.

The South Texas rains also inundated low areas and helped avoid the dove concentrations which were working against the average hunter.

AUSTIN — Absentee balloting in the November 2 general election started October 13 but no one is expecting the peak of interest that saw 1,400,000 voters turn out for the Democratic August run-off primary.

However, Governor Allan Shivers said he hoped Texas voters would not by-pass the election. He is supporting all eleven constitutional amendments on the ballot which would be "very helpful" to Texas, he added.

Besides deciding the official election of political candidates and amendments, votes cast in the election will determine representation at 1956 local political party conventions.

legislation when it ruled it had no jurisdiction in an El Paso case.

The court decided in July to let the National Labor Relations Board handle the case of Truck Drivers, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers Local No. 941 against Whitefield Transportation Company.

By reversing decisions of two lower state courts against the union and ruling that it did not have jurisdiction, the Supreme Court had the effect "of placing labor unions, as well as employers who conspire in restraint of trade," beyond the jurisdiction and enforcement of the state, argued Shepperd.

Minimum Wage
A state minimum wage law has been advocated as part of a legislative program adopted by the executive board of the State Federation of Labor.

The board favors setting a minimum wage of 75c an hour.

It also called for 200 additional state highway patrolmen and an increase over the present $290 a month pay for a sixty-hour week.

Road Financing
A boost in gasoline taxes and a weight and distance levy on heavy trucks are being considered as ways of providing additional financing for Texas highways.

Pondering the ideas are members of 58 public and private organizations called together by the Texas Highway Commission at the suggestion of Governor Allan Shivers.

Texas has reached the point where added improvement must be made on roads, Shivers told the group.

Need was shown at the meeting for $2.2 billion for necessary improvement and construction on Texas' 51,000 miles of roads. A one-cent gasoline tax-hike would bring in $20,750,000, a discussion of ways to provide financing pointed out.

The group will meet two more times with final proposals to be submitted to the governor.

Vandalism
Vandals operating on state highways are costing taxpayers $200,000 annually, highway department officials point out.

Enormous expenses are inflicted by destroying or damaging highway signs, lettering roads and roadsides, and tearing up roadside-park facilities, spokesmen said.

Signs are the most popular victims, either being destroyed outright, taken home for souvenirs, or scrawled on with crayon or lipstick.

Drouth Plan
A federal drought relief program for Texas stockmen "isn't doing anyone much good," says John C. White, State Commissioner of Agriculture.

White, attending a federal drought committee conference in Washington, said state attempts to get rules simplified only resulted in an offer of "further complications."

Negotiations will continue for a better drought program, he stated, but added that at present he is "bitterly disappointed."

Texas Construction
Construction activity over the state fell 6 per cent in August from a June peak but is still high in comparison with 1953, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Statistician Richard C. Henshaw said the August dip dropped totals for nonresidential building permits to the lowest of the year. However, contracts awarded for construction this year are still 9 per cent over the first eight months of 1953, he reported.

WHAT HAVE WE HERE?—It's a new military vehicle creating a big splash at Chertsey, England. The "snorkle" pipe at left gives air to the engine, and hatches in the cab roof allow steering when the hood is under water. That's all very well if the machine doesn't get too far under water.

Crime for the first half of 1954 is reported by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Special Observances
Texans have been called on by Governor Allan Shivers to observe November as Religion in American Life Month and Sunday, November 28, as Temperance Sunday.

Optometry Advertising
Optometrists who believe in advertising have won a fight with the Board of Examiners in Optometry which proposed banning the practice by members.

Rules adopted September 18 to become effective October 4 were repealed by the board after severe criticism from members and outsiders over prohibition of display advertising. The regulations also forbid optometrists from doing business under trade or assumed names.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd was named as the motivating force behind the decision by the board.

In a written statement the board accused Shepperd of refusing to represent it in a test case of the new regulations.

Shepperd in turn said he had informed them a year ago that the rules were unconstitutional. He refused to represent the board in a test case filed in the Austin 53rd District Court.

The regulations had never been enforced because of restraining orders issued in Dallas and Beaumont district courts.
