The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

GUESS WE SHOULD have written a piece about the National Courts being shutdown before, for by the time The Press was out yesterday the highway people had opened Highway 80 for through traffic over in East Cisco. The new 4-lane stretch, which completes the double highway through Cisco, has been finished.

The highway people still will do some rolling work on the shoulders and put in some lane dividers, but they're near enough finished to let traffic use the highway. Saw some new figures the other day that show Highway 80 to be a right busy road. A recent count showed that from 3,390 to 4,580 vehicles pass through Cisco on the road daily.

During the period the count was taken, 3,290 was the least number and 4,580 was the highest. So, the average would be over 4,000 cars per day.

OUR TOWN IS fortunate in the fact that it has good roads in all directions, and they're going to be better. Highway 183 south underwent substantial improvements during the past year. The coming year's program calls for more area Farm-to-Market roads and, possibly, improvements for Highway 183 from Cisco to Moran.

With the good roads, there's excellent reason for Cisco to continue as one of the best trading centers in West Central Texas. Cisco business men are anxious to continue the successful trade promotion program they began in December. At a meeting of the Merchants Credit Association the other day, the business men voted to hold special trade programs the first weekend of each month, beginning in February.

THE BEST THING that could happen to make Cisco a more prosperous town would be for everybody to begin doing all of their trading at home. You've no idea how good it would be for local business. If our printing department got all the printing orders that go out of town we'd probably be so swamped we'd have to hire another printer, who would spend payroll dollars in Cisco.

Those of us who go out of town for shopping trips should, in all fairness to our home town, remember that there is no business firm outside of Cisco who has any interest whatsoever in you except what he can get out of you in DOLLARS and CENTS.

All of us should think about this. If you have any ideas on the subject of trading at home, we'd be glad to have you write us a letter. If you have criticism of local merchants they would be glad to have it.

THEY'RE HAVING an "eating meeting" out at the Cisco Country Club at 7 o'clock tonight. Members and guests will take covered dishes of food and spread same for supper. Afterwards, there will be a game hour.

Monday is the last day that ladies of the club can call Mrs. Jim Lawrence and Mrs. Carl Lamb for reservations at next Wednesday's luncheon. It will be their regular monthly affair, and members will take guests if they wish.

MR. ROSS GRIFFITH reports that he's in business as the Justice of the Peace, having taken over the job on the first day of the new year. Mr. Griffith has opened an office at 104 West 10th Street, the old steak house building just back of the Norvell and Miller Grocery, and Mrs. E. E. Agnew, a niece, is his secretary. Judge Griffith has already performed one wedding and has handled other matters that come to the office.

Deadline Is Feb. 18 To Apply For Air Force School

Young men between the ages of 17 and 22 still have a chance to apply for admission to the new United States Air Force Academy which starts its first class in July of this year. The deadline for applications has been set for February 18.

The successful candidates will be educated for leadership and trained in the science of airman-ship. Graduates will receive a Bachelor of Science degree and be commissioned Second Lieutenants in the United States Air Force.

Selection to be a cadet will be equivalent to a scholarship of about $25,000.

Interested youths who are United States citizens of good moral character, and are unmarried, should write to their Representative or Senator, for information concerning nomination by that Congressman. These nominations must be in Washington by February 18, 1955.

In addition to obtaining a well-rounded education, the graduates will wear the silver wings of an Aircraft Observer, and be a qualified aerial navigator. Further, if he meets the requirements for pilot training, he will proceed to a pilot training school to earn pilot's wings.

The first class of 300 Air Force Cadets will be admitted to the Air Force Academy at its temporary location, Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colorado, in July 1955. The permanent Air Force Academy will be constructed at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, just east of Pike National Forest, eight miles north of Colorado Springs.

Flying and military training are also part of this program, and during the four-year period of training at the Academy, 168 hours of flying will be accomplished.

Since Congressmen must have their nominations into the Air Force by February 18, interested youths between the ages of 17 and 22, have been urged to contact their Congressman or Senator in advance of that date.

Band Parents Will Meet Monday Night

The Band Parents Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the band hall at the high school at 7 p. m. Monday, it was announced by President E. H. Cheeves. All members were urged to attend.

Mr. Cheeves said the meeting would end in time to allow the parents to attend the basketball game between the Midgets and Breckenridge in the junior high gym that night.

while Cisco was making only one. The half ended with Stephenville ahead 16-9. The Stephenville team lengthened the lead to 20-10 at the end of the third period, and stalled through the fourth period for the win.

The Queens failed to make a field goal until the fourth period and made only two in the contest. Their 17 free throws kept them in the game. Louise Hail of Stephenville made 14 points to lead in scoring. Bonnie Owens of the Queens was in second place with 12. Carol Anderson of Stephenville made 11. There was a total of 42 fouls called in the contest with Cisco making 20 and the visitors making 22.

In the Lobo-Jacket game of George Callarman made 21 of Cisco's 29 points to take scoring honors for the game. He was closely trailed by Bobby Dove of Stephenville who made 20. Lonnie Leatherman made 10 for Stephenville and was in third place.

The Lobos got the ball on the first jump and froze it for five minutes. The first quarter ended with Stephenville leading 6-2. At the intermission the Jackets had increased the lead to 20-10. After the rest period both teams played it wide open, and with Bobby Dove on the outside and Leatherman under the basket, the Jackets began increasing their lead.

The next game for the Lobos will be on January 11 when they go to Graham for a conference game.

Safety Campaign Is Being Planned By Game Agency

AUSTIN, Jan. 7. — The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said plans already are being made to help along greater gun safety precautions in connection with hunting seasons.

He said game wardens "where possible" will be instructed to help set up actual gun safety courses on the local level.

The Executive Secretary said the need for greater attention to ordinary gun handling was emphasized during the last open season when a majority of the fatalities were attributed to youngsters.

The preliminary totals for the seasons indicate that the total gun deaths will approximate that of 19 for the preceding year. Seventeen gun fatalities already have been listed, with some returns unrecieved. Another death resulted from a hunter falling from his blind in a tree.

"There were some arresting phases to the reports," said the Executive Secretary. "Adult hazards seem to have been reduced, presumably because of safety efforts. But the youngsters' accident rate seems to have increased."

"Ten of the seventeen hunting fatalities involved teen agers, all except one 14 or under, and nine youngsters actually died from shooting accidents associated with the hunting season. At least a score more children were shot."

The Executive Secretary said the higher youth rate doubtless means that more youngsters are becoming interested in hunting. "If that is so," he added, "it is a mighty good sign, because hunting is a legitimate and a traditional right for any young person."

He said several game wardens already have distinguished themselves in local safety programs and that this trend will be encouraged in the face of ever-increasing demands on the time of the limited warden force.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Mobley of Harlingen and Mr. and Mrs. Porter McConnell of Breckenridge were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McCannies.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bible visited his mother, who is a patient in the Stamford hospital, Wednesday.

Farm Families and Social Security

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles prepared for farm families by R. R. Tuley, District Manager of the Social Security Administration office in Abilene.)

Some protection against income loss by reason of age will now be afforded most farmers and farm workers under the revised Social Security Act.

By contributing during working years, the farmer or farm employee provides an income in case his earnings are cut off or drastically reduced by old age. Those in commerce and industry have had this sort of retirement income protection for the past several years.

If Farmer A, for example, is now 63 years of age or older, he will have earned his retirement income as soon as he has reported on two years of earnings. More details on how to determine earnings, and how to tell whether the income is creditable or not will be given in later articles.

Examples of monthly retirement benefits to the retired farmer and his family are given in the following table:

BENEFIT TABLE

Examples of Monthly Retirement or Old Age Payments

Average Earnings After 1954	Retired Farmer or Worker	Retired Farmer or Worker and Wife	Retired Farmer or Worker wife and one child under 18
$ 600 a year	$ 30.00	$ 45.00	$ 50.00
900 a year	41.30	62.00	62.00
1800 a year	68.50	102.80	120.00*
2400 a year	78.50	117.80	157.10
3000 a year	88.50	132.80	177.10
3600 a year	98.50	147.80	197.10
4200 a year	108.50	162.80	200.00*

*Maximum family payments may not exceed 80% of the individual's average monthly earnings, except that the total may not be reduced below either 1½ times the basic amount or $50.00; the maximum payable to a family cannot exceed $200 a month.

Completing and mailing the coupon below will bring you even more details on just what this new Social Security coverage will mean to you and your family.

ATTRACTING INDUSTRY IS NOT EASY TASK, CoC PREXY SAYS

"Attracting industry to a community is not a simple matter," Rotarian Anton White told Rotarians at their weekly meeting at the Hotel Victor Thursday.

Rotarian White, manager of Boss Manufacturing Company here, and president of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, appeared on the program at the invitation of R. N. Cluck, program chairman for the meeting.

White told Rotarians that there were some 22,000 communities in the United States, and that all were seeking industry. He pointed out that competition in the field was great, and that thousands of communities had joined Cisco in doing everything possible to attract industry, and that there was not enough to go around.

MEETINGS CANCELLED

The weekly meetings of the Cisco Hobby Club will be discontinued for a few weeks. The next meeting will be announced in the Press.

Mrs. Lee Pate, Mrs. Frank Ratliff, Mrs. Doc Sprot and Mrs. Ralph Ratliff visited in the home of their sister and aunt, Mrs. Jesse Reynolds, Sr., Thursday.

TEXAS BAPTIST LEADER WILL OCCUPY LOCAL PULPIT SUNDAY

The Rev. Ross Coggins of Dallas, associate director of the Student Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be in Cisco Sunday to occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist Church for both morning and evening services.

Dr. H. M. Ward, pastor of the church, is one of some 50 Texas ministers in Jamaica this week for a special preaching mission. He is due to return by plane on January 12.

Rev. Coggins is a graduate of Baylor University and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Since September, 1953, he has been an associate to Dr. W. F. Howard, director of the Student Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Prior to joining Dr. Howard in his present work, Rev. Coggins was director of Baptist student activities at Texas State College for Women in Denton. He spent the summer of 1953 touring mission fields in South American countries and attending the Baptist World Congress in Rio de Janeiro.

He pointed out that industry was not seeking the usual chamber of commerce type of information about possible sites, but they are interested in facts that would help them in making a success of their venture. He pointed out that most industrial firms were not interested in something for nothing.

White told what had been done by the Cisco organization in seeking additional industry, and told why his company had selected Cisco as the site for their plant.

He told Rotarians that the three "Ms" of Chamber of Commerce work were money, management and manpower, all three of which come from membership.

Visitors at the meeting were Rotarians Ed. Stewart, W. C. Ribble, Roy Scott, George Barron and R. E. Kuykendall of Abilene; Bob Kuhheim and Jim Horton of Eastland and Dr. S. D. Terrell of Fort Worth. Mrs. Terrell accompanied Dr. Terrell.

Ed Stewart of the Abilene club spoke for a few minutes inviting Cisco Rotarians to join Abilene Rotarians in their tour of Europe in connection with the golden Anniversary of Rotary. Several Rotarians will accompany the McMurry band on the tour.

REV. ROSS COGGINS

The general public has been invited to attend the Sunday services at the First Baptist Church.

GOOD TIMES AHEAD

"Times Ahead To Be Best Ever." That is the title of a highly optimistic article in the December 17th issue of the U. S. News & World Report. The general substance of it is found in the opening paragraph: "The American people's standard of living keeps rising. Over the years, in spite of high prices and high taxes, the average family has been able to afford more and more luxuries, better food, more vacations, a better house. That trend of the past is to continue in years ahead. . . . In 1955, the standard of living — measured by 'real' income — will hit another all-time high." "Real" income is predicted upon the amount of goods and services one's earnings will buy, after taxes.

There are obvious hazards in any economic forecast, as many an expert has learned to his sorrow. But the story that U. S. News tells in brief form is certainly an impressive one. In a single decade, for instance, living standards have gone up 25 per cent. Many people once feared that our population would grow faster than our economy, which, of course, would have meant a drop in per capita income and a resultant decline in living standards. But the opposite happened instead. We have a greater

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
 A public service feature of the Star of the South

Copyrights are of two types: Common Law and Statutory. In general, the common law copyright protects unpublished works and the statutory copyright protects published works. The following discussion applies to published works and the statutory copyright. The United States copyright statutes give to authors, composers, and artists the exclusive right to their published works for a period of twenty-eight years. During that time others are prohibited from copying or reprinting such works without permission of the copyright owner. Statutory copyrights are renewable once for a second twenty-eight years. Works that may be protected under copyright laws include books (not only bound volumes, but also pamphlets, leaflets and even sheets); periodicals (news-papers, magazines, reviews, bulletins, proceedings of societies, serial publications, etc., which appear at regular intervals of less than a year); contributions to periodicals; lectures, sermons or addresses prepared for oral delivery; musical compositions and dramatic or dramatic-musical compositions. Also maps; works of art; models or designs for works of art; published three dimensional works of art; reproductions of works of art; drawings or plastic works of scientific or technical character; photographs; prints and pictorial illustrations including prints (advertisements) or labels used for articles of merchandise; motion picture photoplays; and motion pictures other than photoplays.

The principal steps to be taken in securing a statutory copyright include (1) properly marking the work with a notice of copyright, (2) publishing the work, and then (3) filing with the Register of Copyrights in Washington an application for registration of the copyright. A relatively small fee and a specified number of copies of the work must accompany the application. It should be noted that the marking must precede publication, and that both of these steps must precede the filing of the application.

Failure to incorporate the notice of copyright before publication or to set it up in proper form or to place it in the proper place on the works will result in abandonment to the public of the claimant's rights. He will lose his copyright. Requirements vary in respect to the form of the notice, and the place on the works at which it should appear — depending on the nature of the works, whether they are published or unpublished, and other factors. On some works it is mandatory that the notice contain the word "Copyright" or the abbreviation "Copr.;" or certain other words, the letter "C" enclosed within a circle may be used instead. On some works the notice must include the year in which the work was first published. In every notice the copyright claimant must be identified. In some cases the full name of the claimant is required; in others the initials or monogram, or an identifying mark or symbol, is sufficient. The name or mark may be that of the creator of the work, or of one to whom the copyright has been assigned. Here is an example to show the effect of a copyright: A copyright on a map of Texas does not preclude another from publishing a map of Texas, provided he gets his information from original sources. The copyright does preclude another from copying the map protected by copyright. Further, the copyright law does not normally protect titles as such, nor abstract ideas, but rather the copyright grants the right to preclude others from copying an expression of an abstract idea.

TEXAS A&M COLLEGE WILL HOLD SCHOOL FOR DEFENSE WORKERS

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 7. — First classes in a school for full-time civil defense workers are scheduled the week of February 13, it was announced today by Col. H. R. Brayton of the Texas Engineering Extension Service. The training will be given in

Disaster Village, a 26-acre area just off the Texas A. and M. College campus used by the annual Firemen's Training School. In this area are one-, two- and three-story structures erected to resemble bombed-out buildings. Col. Brayton will direct the CD course, which is being sponsored by the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, Austin.

It is tentatively planned to have workers from the three critical target areas in Texas — Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston — attend the first week-long classes. Instructors will be men who have completed similar training at the Federal Civil Defense Administration school in Olney, Md.

Trainees from cities and major industries will be selected to attend the school by the state CD headquarters, Austin.

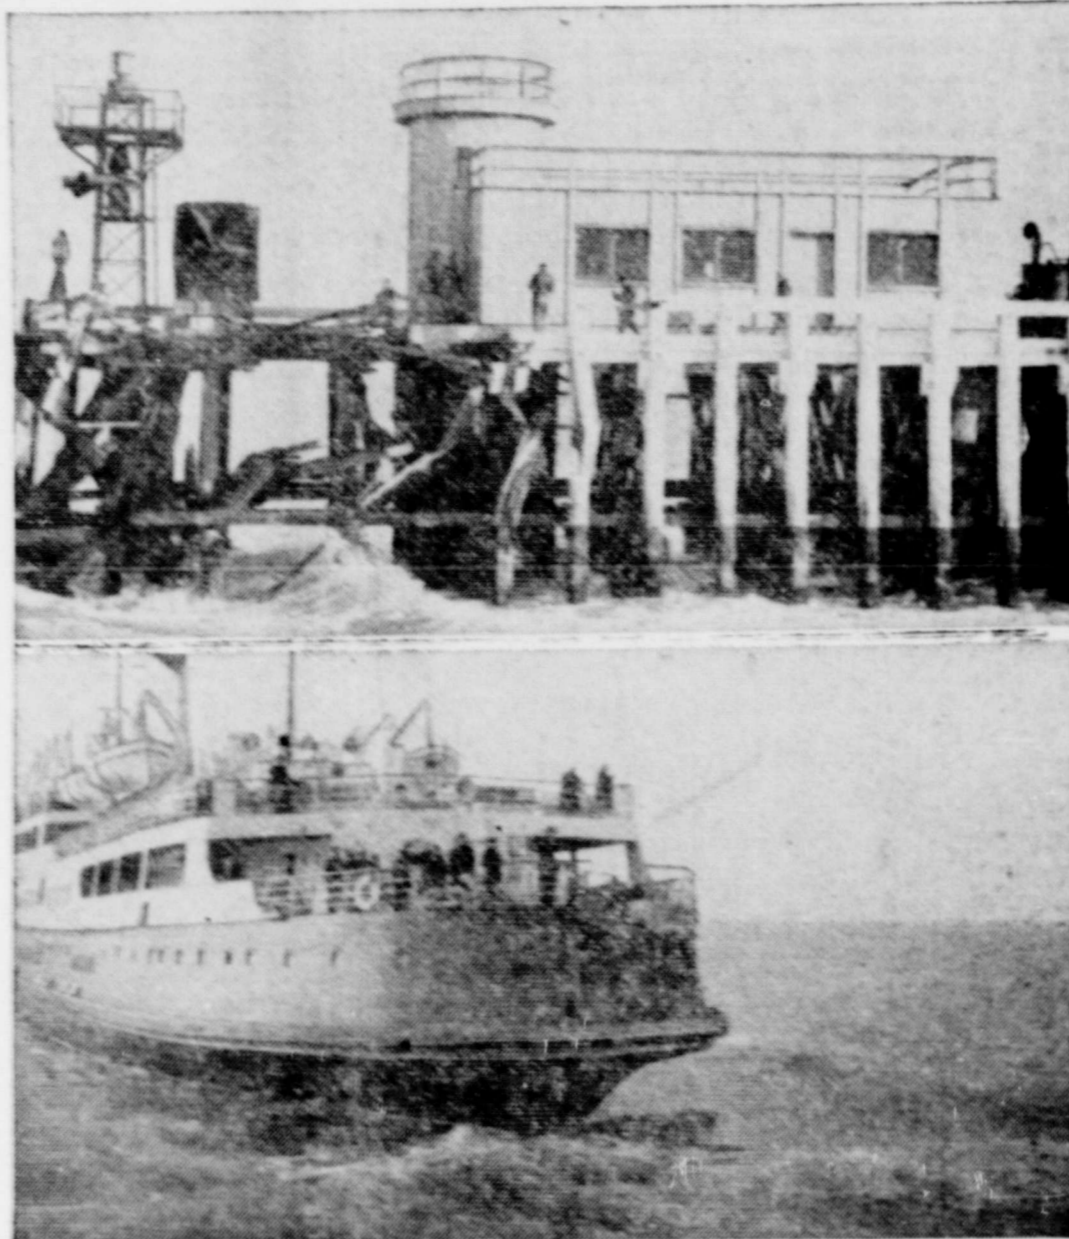

Other sessions of the school are planned each month, according to Colonel Brayton, under a set schedule through next November. It is probable, he said, that the present class limit of 32 workers will be increased during the summer months when more housing is available on the A. and M. College campus.

Trainees will operate in eight-man teams and will be taught in realistic drills the latest techniques in rescue work.

Students will receive instructions on operation of specially designed rescue trucks, which are equipped with more than 100 types of emergency gear. Such vehicles also have multi-band two-way radios for contact with local police and fire departments, county sheriff's offices and State Highway Patrol.

Permanently assigned for use in the school at A. and M. College are rescue trucks, emergency and communications equipment valued at more than $50,000. In addition, workers from cities which already have CD vehicles will provide these additional facilities for class training.

The school is designed to instruct Texas "minutemen" how to coordinate their activities with those of other defense and disaster relief agencies in the event of enemy air attack or disaster.

TROUBLE ON "HIGH" SEAS—Follies of a dock at Calais, France, top photo, are smashed and splintered after a French National Railways ferry rammed it, with damage to the boat's stern, below. Arriving from Folkestone, England, the 1200-ton ferry missed its landing in high seas and smashed into the pier. The vessel then went aground onto Calais beach.
