allowance which they receive. It would also have the effect of giving the elder citizen a feeling of pride and more independence.
OIL — Oil imports into this Country are seriously affecting the independent oil operator and everyone who derives any income from the oil business, whether it be by lease or royalty. I am introducing a bill on the subject which would limit oil imports to ten percent of the domestic demand in the United States.
BRAZOS RIVER — I am re-introducing a bill which would authorize the Federal Government to purchase a portion of bonds to be issued by the Brazos River Authority, an agency of the State of Texas, to finance the building of dams on the Brazos River and to improve Possum Kingdom Dam.
I am studying the proposition of introducing legislation which would recall all currency now in circulation and issuing new currency. The reason for this is to bring out of hiding hundreds of millions of dollars now stored away in safety deposit boxes on which no taxes have been paid. It would not cost the Federal Government a great sum of money to reprint all its currency, since the average life of a one-dollar bill is about nine months. It would mean millions of dollars of tax income both to the State and Federal Government.

Last week Ruth and I had the pleasure of attending a White House dinner given by President and Mrs. Eisenhower. Actually, the affair was for Committee Chairmen of the Congress. It is now my honor and privilege to hold the position of Chairman of the Committee on House Administration. This Committee handles the affairs which ten committees used to handle, prior to 1947 when the Congress was reorganized.
The Committee is an appropriation committee, insofar as the business operations of the Congress are concerned. All other committees of the House of Representatives receive their operating funds from House Administration.
It has charge of all matters pertaining to elections; certain properties of the Government, including the Library of Congress; and all Federally-owned monuments and the like in the forty-eight States.
It also has charge of all printing done by the Congress and, since the Federal Government runs the largest printing office

A PROGNOSIS
Eggs are too cheap, our poultry farmers are not making any money. Many farmers are selling their entire flocks. In fact I think that is the thing to do. The egg market will continue low until about May, then start up. This is just history repeating itself. When farmers do not make a profit, they cut output, making prices climb again the FOLLOWING SEASON.
If you want to make egg profits in '55, start a good flock of pullets in February. Have them laying in July, and you will make money.
Our Leghorns were bred by Dryden of California. He has been breeding chickens for 40 years, and makes improvements every year. You cannot buy better Leghorns at any price. Come see us before you buy.
We are introducing a new cross-bred chicken this year that lays a pure white egg, and plenty of them, the L. G. C. They will lay as many eggs, as large eggs and live better than any of these widely advertised bred-like-corn lines (low-line, middle-line or high-line), and sell for half the price. Do not believe what I say, or what these high pressure radio advertisers claim, but let me send you to customers who have tried both, and then make up your mind.
If we can be of service to you, come see us.

Revenue Service To Aid Taxpayers Of Area Monday

Mr. Smith, administrative officer in charge of the Eastland office of the Internal Revenue Service, announced today that Monday, January 31st, would be the last special Taxpayer Assistance Day until March 14. The Internal Revenue Service has assigned technical employees every Monday morning from 8:30 to 12:30 during the month of January to answer taxpayers' questions and to render group assistance to taxpayers.

The Revenue Service must continue their regular work of checking tax returns throughout the tax filing season from Jan. 1st through April 15th. It costs the government approximately $25 in lost revenue to assist a taxpayer in the preparation of an income tax return since a technical tax man brings in $80 in additional taxes every hour he works on his regular duties.

The Revenue Service will resume special Taxpayer Assistance Days on Mondays, beginning March 14. Technical personnel will be assigned to assist taxpayers on March 14, 21, 28, and April 4 and 11. Taxpayers were advised to study carefully their instructions received in the mail.

Taxpayers requiring more information than given in the instructions received in the mail can secure "Your Federal Income Tax for 1954," Internal Revenue Service Publication No. 17, from the United States Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 25c. This publication is also available at Room 1112 Federal Office (Old Santa Fe) Building, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas.

Approximately 500,000 taxpayers to whom the government owes money have not yet filed their tax returns. Mr. Smith emphasized that every taxpayer should file his return as soon as possible. There were approximately 650,000 out of 1,200,000 North Texas taxpayers that were due refunds on January 1st. The Internal Revenue Service must verify the computation of each refund before the government can pay it to

Cold Weather Is Reported In Most Farm Sections

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. — Outside work was checked by cold, misty weather with soils along the Red River and in much of the eastern third of the state too wet for plowing during much of the past week. Except in vegetable areas of south Texas, farming activity was confined largely to routine jobs, especially caring for livestock. At mid-week much of that central area hardest hit by last year's drought received from 1 inch to 1.5 inches of rainfall, raising hopes for spring and some winter grazing. Recent rains have improved surface moisture over much of the state. Subsoil moisture remains low in practically all areas, however, and much additional rainfall will be needed.

In the important northern high plains counties, condition of dryland wheat remains poor as another week passed without moisture. Irrigated wheat in that part of the State continued to make good growth, however. The crop is late in the low rolling plains and cross timbers with most dry sown acreage coming up following the rain and snow that has fallen since Christmas.

The crop in these areas is late but made good development until checked by lower temperatures late in the week. In northern black lands and eastern counties, moisture was adequate for growth of small grain but growth was slowed by cold weather.

Harvest of commercial vegetables was active during most of the week in the lower valley but light showers slowed field work in the winter garden. Conditions, particularly in the lower valley, were generally favorable for development of all irrigated vegetables for later harvest. Crops in non-irrigated areas of the Valley were making some growth but needed moisture.

Livestock remained in mostly fair flesh as ranchers over much of the state continued to feed. Lower temperatures caused some shrink. Outlook for spring pasture feed was further improved, particularly in central, eastern and southeastern counties where additional moisture fell during the period. Good grazing is now available from small grains in northern counties and from clovers and winter grasses in the east and southeast.

Recent rains also improved prospects for small grain grazing in the cross timbers and low rolling plains. In these districts, wheat was coming along but only in the Wichita Falls area was growth sufficient for grazing. Throughout the northern high plains, grazing of dryland wheat was very limited. Practically all precipitation the past month has fallen slowly with little runoff for building up water reserve in stock ponds. Marketing eased off as the outlook for feed improved.

New Sowing Technique Better Grass Stands

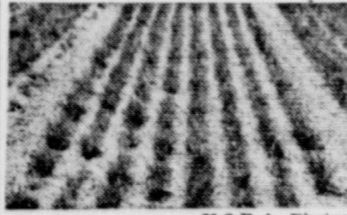

Much high quality grass and clover seed is wasted because of failure to obtain stands under conditions that appear favorable.

Drilling of grass and clover seed at a depth of one-fourth inch and placement of fertilizer in bands one inch below the seed, with the soil packed over the seed, may be an answer to the problem of making better use of our seed supply.

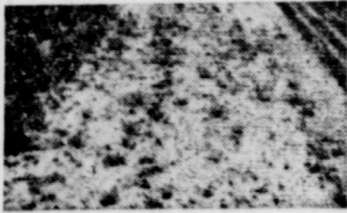

Tests are under way to develop better methods of planting these crops, by the U.S.D.A. at Beltsville, Maryland. The first season's results, as reported in CROPS AND SOILS by R. E. Wagner and W. C. Halbur, were decidedly favorable to such precision placement of both seed and fertilizer. Results of these tests, which are being confirmed by the second year's work, tend to discourage use of broadcast seedings and methods of fertilization now commonly used by farmers. It is indicated that results probably would fluctuate under varying fertility and moisture conditions, but that they would nearly always be favorable.

The advantage of fertilizer placement in a band below the grass seed became evident soon after the plantings were made in September of 1952. Although seedlings in all plots were up within a few days, those in which the fertilizer had been placed in bands one inch below the seed developed most rapidly and weeds were less prominent.

Plants in drill rows eight inches apart, with fertilizer an inch below the seed, grew rapidly and made ground enough to survive the winter, but plants between fertilizer rows developed slowly, many were winter-killed, and none of them contributed to establishing the crop. Fertilizer at the higher rate used in the tests (750 pounds per acre of 3-12-6) placed in contact with the grass and clover seed at planting time, seriously suppressed stands of the clover. Early development of seedling plants where the fertilizer was placed one inch below and one inch to the side of the seed did not equal those where the plants had access to a band of fertilizer one inch below the seed.

Data collected on weed content of the harvested forage showed that where both seed and fertilizer were drilled, practically no weeds were in evidence regardless of the rates used. On the other hand, where seed or fertilizer were broadcast, weeds were a real problem and especially so at low rates of seeding and fertilization.

BRAND NEW—Bette Braff seems to be wearing Ruby, a chin-chilla, for a hat as she holds Ruby's two babies—John Barrymore and Sarah Bernhardt. The tiny animals are so named because they're the first of their kind ever born on New York's Broadway. One day old, they're already worth about $1350.
