Old Soldiers Reunion

In obedience to a call by the Commander, J. J. Brooks, the Confederate veterans met in annual reunion at Crockett last Friday. After the invocation and roll call, the following officers were elected:

J. J. Brooks, Commander; I. J. Hart, First Lieutenant; N. S. Herod, Adjutant; W. W. LaRue, Chaplain.

At the roll call forty-four answered to their names, and five were reported dead. It was unanimously decided to hold our meeting in 1922 at Grapeland. When the business was finished we repaired to the Methodist church in answer to an invitation by the Daughters of the Confederacy, where they had a program prepared consisting of singing, speaking, recitations and presentation of flowers. Mrs. Norris presided. The most lovely part of the program came when six sweet little girls gathered around the veterans with baskets of flowers and scattered them broadcast over our heads, the sentiment of which is strewn flowers in our path while yet living, and we, the veterans, come with grateful hearts, thanking Mrs. Norris for her untiring zeal and executive ability in the preparation of the very much appreciated program she rendered. We assure her that she has the greatest gratitude and best feeling of our hearts and we do not forget to express the same to those who assisted her in rendering this program.

N. S. Herod, Adjutant.

Oil Well Progress

The Aurora Oil Company has its derrick up on the H. F. Moore land southeast of Crockett and nearly all of its machinery up. Drilling will be started Saturday. People from all over Houston county will be on hand to see the well started, as this well is only the forerunner of others. New York capitalists and Pittsburg, Pa., capitalists are each on the ground and say that they will make three or four test wells each. Leases by other parties are being secured and it looks as if the county will be thoroughly tested for oil this time.—Crockett Courier.

Mark Where Our Boys Fought

Secretary Weeks has appointed a board of seven Army officers to make a detail plan by which the battlefields in Europe where American troops fought shall be properly marked with monuments to commemorate the fact.

The Secret of Success

The secret of success is not a secret. Nor is it something new. Nor is it something hard to secure. To become more successful, become more efficient. Do the little things better. So work that you will require less supervision. The least supervision is needed by the person who makes the fewest mistakes.

Do what you can do and what you should do for the institution for which you are working, and do it in the right way, and the size of your income will take care of itself. Let your aim ever be to better the work you are doing without bettering your self.

The world is hungry for Quality Service. It wants to pay for it. It is paying for all it can get. The market is not crowded.

There is a chance for you right now.

There is a chance for you right where you are.

The time to start is NOW!—Thomas Drier.

"Does your wife influence your vote?"

"Not at all," replied Mr. Meekton. "Henrietta wants me to vote according to my own ideas; but it is remarkable how thoroughly my views always coincide with hers after she has taken the trouble to express them and to assure me that she is perfectly willing to go on elucidating until I fully comprehend."—Washington Star.

Former Grapeland Girl Marries

Miss Lois Sims of Cleveland was married last Thursday, June 2, to Mr. Herman Isaacs. Miss Lois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Sims, former residents of this city, Mr. Sims being superintendent of our school.

Map Out Your Duty

Many of the busiest people that I have ever known, accomplish the least.

And some of the biggest doers and achievers seemed, mysteriously, to me to have the most time.

The secret is this—method.

Map out your day. Plan it out the day before. In fact, keep looking forward to the day ahead.

Many workers come to their day with no idea as to where they are going to begin and after wasting half hour or so in useless flivvering around they finally get started at something.

But the person who begins his day's work promptly with a list of things to do, of definite forms ends his day with those things done.

The late Dr. W. R. Harper, who was the first president of the university of Chicago, was probably one of the greatest organizers that America ever produced. At his death it was stated that he had plans already mapped out fifty years ahead for the University of Chicago.

I was also told recently by a gentleman, that this great organizer carried around in his pocket every day a little book with these words printed on the outside, "Things to Do Today."

Think things out in advance then put them down. Do one thing at a time. Always keep thinking ahead. And don't worry about any difficulties in the path of any single job. The further you go into it, the faster the difficulties fade.

Map out your da.—Ex.

Buttermilk—The Cure All

A Kansas man, speaking in New York the other day, advised the New Yorkers to forget their drinks and consoled them by saying time would lay soothing balm on their parching tongues. But why wait for time to lay soothing balm? The supply of buttermilk is ample, and the delightful acidulated lactical fluid will instantly fill all the cracks in a parching tongue and start the tongue to singing songs of joy. The true soothing balm is in the churn.—Jim Lowery in Honey Signal.

LIVELYVILLE NEWS

Good Books

A good book is like unto a true friendship; the more one puts into it the greater the return.

Its measures are three: knowledge, enjoyment, and inspiration. Open the mind to the author and he adds to one's mental store open the heart and he gives one joy; lend him the soul and he'll inspire one to noble deeds.

Good books are found on the shelves of good men.

A good book should not be profaned by cursory reading; the author should have the same courteous attention that one would give if he spoke.

A book should be gauged not by its literary style, nor the gold upon its cover, but by the impress it leaves upon one's mind. If it suggests higher thoughts or spurs one to noble deeds it is a good book.

Humorous writings should be clean and wholesome; one should laugh, not at others, but with them.

Good books are true friends; they will not lie, cheat, wrong nor defraud; they will soothe heartache, remove the sting from envy, shame selfishness, and brighten life. They are man's greatest gift to man.—Monotype.

In The Middle of a Bad Fix

It is easy to write news when there is any news, but if you live in a town where the dogs won't fight, and the cats agree, and roosters don't crow, and the women refuse to talk about each other, and old cranks have lost their hammers and can't knock, what are you going to do, Mr. Editor, eh?—Your subscribers expect you to write something breezy, anyhow, and you are certainly in the middle of a bad fix. The shows have come and gone, the ballies are things of the lonesome past. The sun does shine a part of the time, and the wind still blows most of the time. Spring is due yet winter lingers, so we are in a rather doubtful mood as to whether we should buy more coal and more heavy-weight clothes or try to shiver through a few more days and then hunt our ice-cream freezers and lightweight stuff. This is a wonderful, doubtful world anyhow, even if we do have these calm, quiet days in Waco.—Willard (W. H.) Brown.

Wanamaker an Advertiser

John Wanamaker has completed 60 years of service as a merchant. Wanamaker was the first big merchant to discover the potentialities of regular, systematic newspaper advertising. He buys more newspaper space than any other merchant of his class.

It would require police details in Philadelphia and New York to keep him out of the newspaper offices. And the only reason under the sun why he likes advertising is that it increases business for his stores. Whether times are good or bad, Wanamaker always appears in the New York and Philadelphia papers.

Wanamaker's house is nearly as well known as either of the cities in which he is represented by a store.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Smiling East Texas

East Texas, that fairyland of green fields and streams rippling amid the pine trees is truly the land of milk and honey this early summer season.

While other sections of the state may be suffering from low cotton prices the canny East Texas farmers, who were among the first to learn the value of the word "diversify," have other strings to their bow.

Reports from Jacksonville and Tyler sections are to the effect that the tomato crop, though not as large as usual, has put money in the pocket of the farmers. Indications are that the peach crop will be a good one of splendid quality. Then will come the watermelon season and finally the sweet potato will hold the center of the stage.

There is money to be made on East Texas farms at all seasons of the year.—Dallas Times Herald.

"When I Advertise I Get The Business"

Mr. Van Camp, the baked bean man, likewise the soup man doesn't bother his head about advertising theories. He doesn't give a whoop whether advertising is a "profession" or a "science" or a "trade."

But out of his long years of advertising experience he is dead sure of one mighty advertising fact. Let him tell it: "When I advertise I get the business. When I don't advertise I don't get it. Therefore, I propose to keep on advertising." He said a box-car full!—Wills Point Visitor.

The Short Cut

An ambitious young man went to a university professor and said: "Sir, I desire a course of training which will fit me to become the superintendent of a great railway system. How much will such a course cost, and how long will it take?"

"Young man," replied the professor "such a course would cost you $20,000 and require 20 years of your time. But, on the other hand by spending $300 of your money and three months of your time you may be elected to Congress. Once there you will feel yourself competent to direct not one but all the great railroad systems of our country."—New York Evening Post.

Never did like the idea of giving a boy a toy pistol to play with. Might as well give him a toy deck of cards, a toy bottle of whiskey, or a toy burglar's kit. Why not?—L. R. Campbell in Trinity Tribune.

Cases of Oak and Ivy poisoning should be treated with Ballard's Snow Liniment. It is antiseptic and healing and is ready remedy for such cases.—Willard (W. H.) Brown.

THERE'S TWO SIDES

When you have read of the crimes and quarrels and irregularities of life until you are depressed and doubtful about the old world, remember that these things are displayed because they are news and because they are unusual. They are exceptional things, and for that reason they were printed with a big, black head over them. And for the same reason you read them. And if it is an article about some man or woman going wrong, rest assured that the vast majority of people who read that article do not approve of it. There are always two sides to the things you see and hear and read about. You can't judge properly the movement of a whole army by watching a few stragglers. So you can't tell the trend of the human race by rumors you hear flying about the streets of Grapeland or the ugly things you read in the papers. People generally find what they are looking for, and if they only look on the surface, or only listen to rumors they are not apt to learn the right side.

Very few of our college graduates make as much as a good mechanic, according to the Edison test.

One trouble with this country is that there are more pants with patches on the seat than on the knee.

The war taught us to stand and salute, and now the tax collector has taught us to stand and deliver.

They should be called monthly payments, or weekly payments, as the case may be, but never easy payments. There is no such thing.

The young man who wants to be certain of getting a good wife will pick one who pays more attention to stove lids and pots than to eye lids and brows.

Draw a lesson from the chicken: Whenever a chicken gets a morsel of something to eat all the other chickens in the yard start in and chase it around, trying to grab it away and eat it themselves. And that is the way with many people—they put in much time chasing around trying to grab something that rightfully belongs to someone else.

President Harding has signed the Immigration bill, and it becomes a law. It limits the number of immigrants coming here in one year to 3 per cent of those of the same nationality already here. That is, if there are 1,000,000 here of any nationality, only 30,000 more can come in the next twelve months.

It Affects "Every Mother's Son Of Us"

The settling down and readjusting of conditions, commercial and otherwise, to a pre-war basis affects "every mother's son of us," regardless of place or position. How has it, or how is it going to affect you? You are the one most interested in your future and you must answer the question, to yourself at least. Have you thought, have you planned? If not, isn't this the best time in the world to start thinking and planning?

Isn't it always the trained men and women that win? It is so in every walk of life. Trained men and women won the war and it didn't take them long to train, did it? Trained men and women win in business, and it will not take you long to train if you attend the right school.

The Tyler Commercial College offers you an opportunity that no other business college in this section can offer. We teach the famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand, the most modern and practical system in use today. It is so simple that one can become a betted stenographer with it than with any other system, in just half the time and at half the cost. The merit of this system is largely responsible for the fact that this institution is the largest business training institution in America.

Would you eat with a wooden spoon? Then, why study the old, long, tiresome systems of shorthand that require the learning of hundreds of rules, exceptions, word-signs, etc., and from three to four months hard study on the text-book alone when you can master the principles of the Byrne Simplified in one week, then have nothing but practice for speed.

We give you anything you want in any department of commercial training and save you much time and money. Most Thorough. Complete and Practical courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Cotton Clashing, Telegraphy and Business Administration and Finance to be had.

Position secured for all graduates. Fill-in and mail coupon for large free catalogue.

Upholds Dry Amendment

Congress, in wording the 18th amendment to the constitution, adopted a suggestion originally made by Senator Harding, that the amendment should not be operative unless it was ratified within seven years from the time it was submitted to the states. The validity of the amendment has been attacked on the ground that this seven-year time provision made it vague. The supreme court has now decided that there is nothing vague or doubtful about it and that the amendment went into effect Jan. 16, 1920.

To Boy Scout Parents

It is my earnest desire to see every boy scout in my troop live a clean, straight and honorable life.

I want every day of each scout's life to be a good leaf in the record book of his life that goes to show whether that scout is worthy of the name he bears.

The boy scouts of today are the men who will rule this nation tomorrow, and it is mine and every other man's duty to teach and train our boys that they must "be prepared" to guard against the things that are constantly pounding away at their physical, mental and moral standing. The boy scout work is against everything that is bad and is for everything that is good. It is to keep the boys' mind on things that will count for the good in his future. It is to teach him that he must be trustworthy at all times, and that every day he is building up a good character, or a true foundation that will never give way.

If your boy is a cigarette smoker, "cusser," or smutty tale teller, he is not a scout, and if at any time in our club room or on a hike, or while at any work, any scout attempts to engage any of the above habits, he will be immediately dishonorably discharged from the Boy Scouts of America.

We have rules and regulations to govern our troop and we must abide by them. I have my commission from the United States Boy Scouts of America and if I do not enforce the rules my commission will be canceled. If a boy has a bad character and does not try to improve it we cannot afford to let him stay in the scout movement and mar the character of the boys who are doing good.

We are willing to give any boy a chance anywhere or at any time, and will always hold out a helping hand for any boy that wants it.

Remember, parents, that we do not force any boy to do anything against the will of his parents because we know that it is the will of every mother and father that their son be a good boy.

I, as Scout Master, want to thank the parents of the boys in my troop for their hearty support in the scout work, and you can rest assured that I will give each boy my closest attention, and if he does not "toe the mark" while in my care there will be "no time in the old town tonight."

J. M. Gilbert,
Scout Master.

EVER BILIOUS?

Charleston, Miss.—Mrs. R. V. Heins, of this place, says: "I have never had to use very much medicine, because if I felt headache, dizziness, or colds, bad taste in the mouth, which comes from torpid liver, I would take a dose or more of Black-Draught, and it would straighten me out and make me feel as good as new. We have used in our family for years and it certainly is the best liver medicine I ever saw. It has not only saved me money, it has helped keep my system in shape, and has never weakened me as so many physics do. I recommend it to my friends and am glad to do so." Black-Draught is the old, reliable liver medicine which you have doubtless heard much about. When you feel badly all over, stomach not right, bad taste in your mouth, bilious, or have a headache, try Thedford's Black-Draught. At all Druggists.

THEDFORD'S

Burleson in Europe

Berlin has welcomed former Postmaster-General Burleson, who is in Germany for the purpose of selling Texas cotton to the Rhineland Spinners and Weavers' Association. He stated that though the deal was not closed the problem of paying had been solved by extending credit to the Germans until the finished cloths are sold. In case of failure in Germany he announced that he will proceed to Vienna and Warsaw on the same mission.

TRINITY RIVER RIPPLES

Reynard, June 6.—A good rain would be very much appreciated just now, however things are holding up real well. The rain Friday was very local; part got enough to make moisture meet and part didn't get any. A small tornado accompanied the rain which blew over Glenn Beazley's cow shed and a window out of Herman Beazley's house; also a few trees. It only lasted a short time and all was quiet again. We saw our first cotton squares yesterday, they were on the farm of W. L. Fox. The P. L. Fulgham, E. L. Smith and Oscar Beazley farms all report squares, also Tom Kent.

The bulk of the cotton is late but looks healthy and good, and chopping will be the order of the day for this week. Doug Beazley's Oats are ready to harvest and they are superfine for up-land. Well the good old summer time is here and vacations are in order, and outings of all kinds. Mrs. J. H. Beazley is the first off at this writing. She is visiting in Grapeland, Palestine and Lovelady. Think she is looking out for her a—Well we did not say for we might get in trouble. We told Glenn she was probably trying to make him get a wife as he is old enough to marry. Mrs. Geo. Allen and mother were guests at Tom Kent's Sunday, and Mrs. Rials said she like to hare hunt herself, eating butter and honey, drinking butter-milk, things that are hard to turn down. G. B. Kent and family, also W. F. West and family, were out of neighborhood visitors Sunday morning, but at Sunday school Sunday evening. Miss Gertrude Fulgham went to Grapeland yesterday to meet a Palestine friend. Now in conclusion, Mr. Luker, we speak for you a pleasant trip to the Press Convention and will expect a write up when you get back. We are not like that other fellow who likes the form of the paper, for there are three of us who are anxious to read it, but now only one can read at a time. Like the two piece better.
