DALY'S NEWS

Daly's, Aug. 8.—We have a splendid road down this way now, and the hands were busy all last week.

Watermelons are pretty plentiful everywhere now, while most of them are not as good as they ought to be, yet they are eaten just the same.

Mrs. Hugh Richards and children returned to their home Sunday, after spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lasiter.

W. C. Lasiter was sick the latter part of the week. We hope he will soon be alright again.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lakey are here for awhile visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and A. L. Luce.

The trustees of this place have appointed Miss Lila Dennis to teach our school again, and the children are all delighted, for all of them love Miss Lila.

Miss Mae Pridden left here for Fairfield a few days ago to visit her sister, Mrs. Clyde Glazier.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Harden Pennington, Miss Florence Pennington and Smith Daily spent Friday night on the lake fishing, and the report is that they caught all they could eat, but we don't know whether they caught any or not. They didn't bring any back with them. They may be fooling us.

There was a nice crowd at Sunday school and we hope the people will continue to attend. We invite everybody to come.

Two Guns Captured

Deputy Sheriff Chas. Lively, Constable Newt Ferguson and Frank Taylor brought in two negroes and two six shooters Saturday, and said they would have captured others, but they "flushed the covey" too quick.

The negroes were residents of Leon county and the guns were taken off of them when they crossed the river at the Jones crossing. For several weeks Leon county negroes have been crossing the river to play ball on this side. The officers were informed that they were bringing guns with them, so Saturday they went down to see about it.

The negroes were brought to town and placed in the calaboose, but were later released on bond.

Artis Streetman of Rock Hill community returned from Palestine Monday, where he had been to see his little son, who recently underwent an operation.

ANTRIM LOCALS

Antrim, Aug. 8.—The Baptist revival meeting started at this place Saturday night. It is being conducted by the pastor, Rev. McDaniel, assisted by Revs. Defore and Gibson. Everybody is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weisinger and children, Mrs. Bessie Weisinger and daughter, Miss Mamie, and Misses Ruby Helms and Euna Mae Nicholas and Walter Blackwell visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Martin Sunday.

Misses Myrtis Waddell and Lizzie Gates of LaPorte are spending the week with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Durnell.

Preston Renfrow, also of LaPorte, spent the latter part of last week in this community. Miss Emma Charm Edens spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. W. M. Durnell.

Mrs. Jake Lively and Mrs. Hollingsworth of Grapeland spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. A. N. Edens. Mrs. M. E. Darsey and children and Mrs. Jas. Ryan of Grapeland also spent Thursday with Mrs. Edens. A most delicious dinner was served and refreshments were served in the afternoon, after which the guests visited the big waterfall on Mr. Edens' farm. All enjoyed the day very much.

Mr. and Mrs. William Waddell and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Durnell. Misses Flora and Nannie Marshall, Jessie Mae Chandler and Effie Estelle visited Mrs. S. J. Martin last week.

Two Weddings

J. E. Mills and Mrs. Eunice Dickey and J. F. Redmond and Miss Gracie Mae Tillman were married last Saturday afternoon at the residence of Dan Herod, near Salmon, Rev. N. S. Herod officiating. The Messenger joins friends in congratulations and best wishes.

Road Work

The Crockett road is receiving some attention this week and will be repaired to Elkhart creek. The big government truck used in this district has been fitted with a bed to haul clay and all the bad places will be fixed.

Miss Tressie Jones was operated on Sunday for appendicitis at the home of her parents in this city. At last accounts she was getting along alright.

The Amateur Gardener

TRINITY RIVER RIPPLES

Reynard, Aug. 8.—As we are a little short of local news we will just give a little crop report. Our opinion as to rain or no rain is that old cotton has just about quit blooming. Late cotton is carrying a good bloom, but after this week will begin to slack up, and cotton does not need rain while blooming. A good rain would be helpful to old cotton right now, but would be very damaging to the young. Of course, some of the little bolls will fall off from dry weather, but a good per cent will stick, and with a good rain all would fall off, but after it has about quit blooming and the little bolls get about as large as quail eggs, then a good rain would help them to mature. As a big per cent of the crop is late it would be better not to have a rain. There are no insects to hurt anything. They cannot thrive in such weather as this. This is just a cotton report, as all eyes are on cotton.

Mr. Luker, if you will come to see us some time soon we could give you a mess of Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, a kershaw, peas, roasting ears; Mrs. Zack would give you a nice frying size chicken for 50c and a dozen eggs for 20c.

Peaches and watermelons are all about gone. The wild grape crop is almost a failure.

The pastures are dying fast and the branches that usually quit running very weak.

We sure do enjoy the good old summer time, especially while in a good shade with a large palmetto in hand.

Third of World's Gold in U. S.

There is now a greater supply of gold in this country than at any previous time in its history. Following the high peak reached in 1917 the golden tide ebbed until this year when a veritable tidal wave of the precious metal reached here from 30 different countries. Much of this gold doubtless originated in the United States. The gold of the world constitutes practically a single stock, held temporarily in many reservoirs. As exchange rates and other economic and financial conditions change, it flows freely back and forth through trade channels.

Since Columbus discovered America, the world production of gold has amounted to more than three-quarters of a billion Troy ounces, this is equivalent to nearly 29,500 tons, occupying 49,100 cubic feet and worth over 17 three quarter billions of dollars. If the gold could be cast in giant coins one foot thick with a diameter of 19 feet each would weigh over 165 tons and be worth $100,000,000. The total world production would make 177 such coins, which, stacked together would form a tower 177 feet high. If the world production of gold since 1492 formed a curb six inches high and six inches thick it would extend more than 37 miles. If spread into paving surface half an inch thick the same gold would pave an automobile roadway 20 feet wide for 11 miles in length.

However, not all the gold produced since the discovery of America is available. Much has been used, destroyed or lost, and considerable jewelry or plate is out of circulation. An estimate of the gold in circulation and treasuries places the amount at $9,000,000,000. About one-third this world treasure is now in this country. The United States leads all countries and even some continents in the aggregate amount of gold produced.

The value of gold does not vary. Its price is fixed by international agreement at $20-

ENON NEWS

Enon, Aug. 8.—Most everybody is busy picking peas, while some are repairing their dwellings and barns. The Baptist and Christian church has recently been recovered.

Rev. George Brimberry is holding a meeting at Sun Set this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Brimberry and baby visited Mr. and Mrs. John James Sunday.

Mrs. Sweeny Goodnight and daughter, Lura Mae, visited relatives in Union Chapel community this week.

Loyd Anderson made a business trip to Crockett this week. Mrs. John Mason and children spent Sunday afternoon with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Oliver.

John Benson of Percilla is visiting relatives in this community this week.

Mrs. Georgie Coleman is spending a few days with Mrs. John Mason and Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Whitaker visited the latter's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ferguson, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Turner spent Saturday night and Sunday visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Ben Brimberry.

M. L. Whitaker and family visited his brother, L. C. Whitaker, Sunday afternoon.

J. T. Skidmore and Wilburn Smith visited in this community Sunday.

We learn that Ben Brimberry has sweet potatoes as large as syrup-buckets, and M. L. Whitaker has a fine patch, also.

67183462 per Troy ounce. All gold is weighed by ounce and never by pound, no matter how large the amount. The Troy ounce contains 480 grains.

While it is a satisfaction and a sign of strength to have so much gold in this country, our public men are not entirely pleased with this prospect. President Harding said not long ago that he would like to see this gold flowing again the other way. That would mean that we were getting more products from other countries, and paying for them with our gold. We can't eat gold or make any great use of it; its main value is as a token or medium of exchange. If we had all the gold in the world it would not necessarily bring prosperity. Hence it will be better for everyone when the normal movement of gold back and forth is resumed.—The Pathfinder.

Don't Be A "Hustler"

Many a man acquires a reputation as a "hustler" on account of a habit of poorly organized physical activity, says Fred Kelly in The Nation's Business. People usually assume, too that the hustler is bound to make a big success.

The truth is that the average hustler, who merely darts about like a cricket on a hot stone, doesn't amount to much. I recall a letter carrier in my native town whom everybody regarded as a live wire. He never walked except on the verge of a run. Seemingly he was the fastest man in town at delivering mail. Yet he was in truth the slowest.

He hustled so much with his legs instead of his head—that he was constantly obliged to retrace his steps to remedy mistakes, and this kept him hustling more than ever. Most of the great executives are not "hustlers" but are quiet and easygoing. They accomplish things not by being excessively "busy" but by refusing to get excited.—Arthur Unknown.

Old Glory in Berlin

For the first time since America's declaration of war in 1917, the Stars and Stripes were flown generally in Berlin on Independence Day, signifying gratification of the German people at the formal ending by the congress of the United States of the state of war between the two nations.

There was more of significance however, in the flag-flying incident than this. It indicated that of all the allied powers associated against them, the German people still have a higher regard for the United States and that they will be more willing and anxious to again trade with us, to travel among us, to have us travel among them, than to assume similar relations with others of their former enemies.

This display of good will should be taken at its face value. While it will naturally require the effacing effects of time to eliminate the antipathy of this generation feel toward the Germans, it is nevertheless essential that we should now assume an attitude of amity toward them, and they toward us. The war is over with effects that could not have been better shown of realization by the Germans than in raising American flags in Berlin! It was a tribute to the victor—a bid for absolution for past sins. In charity it can be accepted, if not repaid in kind.—Beaumont Enterprise.

Use Your County Agent

The average county agent is the most useful man in the county, or would be if given the opportunity. He is not a "know all" person, but he is in a position to get any farmer desired information from a reliable source in the quickest possible time. He is anxious to be of service and like the old time country doctor, responds to every call, no matter in what part of the county it takes him.

The county farm agent receive their compensation from the government. The federal and state governments contribute and every property owner pays his part. Therefore he is a public servant, but unlike many who draw their pay from the public treasury, he is always willing to earn what he gets and a great deal more. Being a public servant there is no reason why he should not be of service to every farmer in his jurisdiction, and if he is not more than likely it is the farmers' fault and not the agent's.—Farm and Ranch.

Don't Worry—Smile

Not everybody knows the full value of a smile, whether it be camouflage or genuine. It is a splendid asset and helps you along when all hopes seem nearly gone. One who continually worries and parades his care and bitter crosses makes slow progress in winning friends. Along this line, the Silent Partner says: "The world knows but little of failures, and cares less. The world only watches the successes. Stop worrying over things that can't be helped and go and do things that can be done. Few people are a continental for your failure. Few, if any, will help. You may sit and magnify your mistakes, mourn and go mad over your blunders, but men will only smile that cynical smile and say of you, "he's no good." Self-pity, sympathy, soliciting, wishing and wailing will only let you down lower. Brace up. Brush up. Think up. And you will get up. Think down. Look down. Act down. And you will stay down. Paint your face with a smile. Advertise that you are a success. Then think and work for it. Whatever you think you are is the price they will pay."—Ex.

To Sweet Potato Growers

All sweet potato growers who expect to have potatoes to sell and are interested in co-operative marketing of same, are invited to meet at my office in the Commercial Club building Saturday, August 13th, at 3 p. m. We expect to have the co-operative marketing system explained and to organize if sufficient number is present who desire an organization.

County Agent.

STOPPING THE LEAKS

Chas. G. Dawes, named by Pres. Harding to arrange a national budget and see if he can stop a few final leaks, has started in to plug up one hole through which the taxpayers of this country have long watched their money flow. He is going to stop the printing of millions of dollars worth of useless government reports and pamphlets. Every taxpayer in America will be glad of this, for every one realizes that a vast amount of money is wasted by the government printing office. In fact, it is conceded that of the seven or more carloads of printed matter leaving the office daily, not more than a sack full of it is read.

And another place where Dawes could save the government money and at the same time show a spirit of fairness to the printers and publishers of this country would be to eliminate the envelop practice. The government has no more business printing return cards on envelopes than it has in manufacturing shoes or marketing its own make of automobile. Yet it has for years entered into unfair competition with the printers of this country by offering, at a few cents more than the paper alone costs, envelopes printed with a return card. It is below the dignity of this nation to stoop to such competition as this.

These envelopes are not only printed at a loss to the taxpayers but printers and publishers who pay taxes are deprived of that much trade. There is also a loss on various other government printed matter, much of which serve no better purpose than to furnish lamp-lighters or material for waste-baskets. We predict that Mr. Dawes will pay his salary several hundred times over in the saving he makes in the government printing office alone.

The fountain of youth these days is the soda fountain.

Ah, the skirts are alright—as far as they go.

The pessimist must kill the cotton crop about this time every year and send the country along its way to the rocks. If he can't do it with boll weevils he will do it with dry weather. This has been our observation for the past fifteen years. Yet we have all managed to get along somehow and the country goes right ahead. The moral of this is if you can't boost keep still.

The News Boiled Down

All federal prohibition agents appointed in future must not be over fifty years of age.

The President is opposed to the House's adjournment until after the tax revision bill is passed.

Oklahoma produced 56,042,958 barrels of crude petroleum during the first six months of 1921.

New York's largest hotels average a loss of $50,000 each year in thefts of silverware and linens.

For the first time in seventy five years the volcano of San Miguel in Mexico is showing signs of activity.

A bill requiring every owner of an automobile to obtain a federal license good in any State has been introduced in Congress.

Exports to Europe fell off nearly $1,500,000,000, while those to South America increased during the fiscal year ending June 30.

As a result of discharge of about sixty thousand enlisted men on their own applications since July 1, the army was reduced to its authorized strength of one hundred and fifty thousand.

Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, near Charlottesville, Va., is to be sold. An effort is to be made to have the government purchase it as a summer home for Presidents.

Acting with the approval of the President, Surgeon General Cummings, of the United States Public Health Service, invited State Health Officers of thirteen Southern States to meet in Washington to consider the situation in connection with the reports of a threatened epidemic of pellegra in parts of the cotton belt.

The Penitentiary Probe

Sometimes it looks as if the sessions of the legislature furnish penitentiary investigation after penitentiary investigation without anything coming out of the probe.

Such an investigation the state is now watching. The Times-Herald believes this:

Citizens of Texas want their penitentiaries economically administered.

They want prisoners firmly but humanely treated.

Whoever fails in these two respects should be asked to seek another job.

Whenever the legislature concludes that wasteful methods are being used or that cruel methods are being employed, it should act with stern decision towards rectifying such conditions, no matter who is hurt in the rectifying process.

Penitentiary prisoners are not to be coddled, of course.

But although penitentiary prisoners are criminals, they are still human beings.

No treatment of them should be such as to render them desperate.

No treatment of them should be such as to kill their hope of ever becoming decent citizens.—Dallas Times Herald.

They Say "It Can't Be Done" But Some Farmers Do It

I have several farmers in mind that prospered the past few years in face of the bad crop years we have had. It has been done by a "safe farming program." They have raised their living at home, and had their little cotton crop as a saving account. All the while their neighbors were saying "It can't be done." I have watched these farmers make their farms pay in the face of difficulties, keep out of debt, and have plenty of canned goods for the family and surplus feed enough to pay the dry goods bills when the feed was sold. And their neighbors saying all the time "it can't be done in this country." I have watched them make $25.00 a week from their cows, chickens and eggs thruout the season, but their neighbors still hold to the statement that "it can't be done." One farmer tells me that his five milk cows, and his few hens pay him $25.00 per week above expenses, and his neighbors say you can't do it in this country. But the fact remains that thousands of dollars are going out of the country for things that can be raised on the farm, and it is up to us as progressive farmers to begin now to bring about a change for a better balanced agricultural program in this section, and to cease the hard work and small pay in connection with an all cotton program. I am bringing this to your attention with the hope that you will recommend such a program to your neighbors if you think it good.—J. F. Coombs of Montgomery County.

On a certain morning recently the writer sat in a police court in Berlin and saw a number of vagrants brought before the judge. Everyone was well clothed, except for shirts and socks. Almost anybody can afford to buy a suit of woolen clothes in Germany, but when it comes to buying cotton shirts, cotton underwear, or cotton socks, the prices are prohibitive.

The world wants and directly needs American cotton; it will buy American cotton, ravenously as soon as it can get credit or money.

THE MESSENGER'S AMERICANIZATION SERIES

DON'T DISLOCATE THE AMERICAN IDEA

Too commonly our schools gives us our opinions readymade. We put too much faith in what we see in print. If public opinion, which is your opinion and mine, is to be at its best it must be what we reach, not by absorbing the ideas of the man who talks the loudest, but by digesting what we hear and read. But we are not to disregard the experiences of the great men who gave years of thought and effort to the forming of our national ideals.

They chose a few great principles on which they built our nation. They wrote them into two great basic documents of our civil life: the Declaration and the Constitution. They proclaimed, first, the principle of equality.

Equality means fraternity, brotherhood, fair dealing, exclusion of no one from public benefits because of race or poverty or lowly birth. It means rejection of inherited titles of nobility. It means avoidance of distinctions tending to put one man above another. Equality is an essential of the American Idea.

Another phase of the Idea is the inalienable right to life. In old-world times a monarch owned his subjects. "Off with his head" was warrant enough to put a king's enemy out of the way. The right to life has been invaded by others than kings. If the greed of profiteers and the ignorance of parents place undeveloped children in factories and mines the American Idea of the right of all to life is gone. Against this greed the public schools stand as the best proposal of the national purpose to give to all the people a chance to live a rounded, intelligent, complete, American life.

The next conception of the national ideal is liberty. It has been from the first a watchword on our lips. We could persuade ourselves into as much stupidity about the meaning of liberty as we could about the other thing, equality. But if we use our common sense and knowledge of history we can reach a workable idea of liberty. Washington led the fighting for it but he had no doubt of its meaning when he said, "we must distinguish between licentiousness and liberty, we must recognize the difference between oppression and necessary authority." The Father of the Republic proclaimed liberty of speech, liberty of thought, freedom from attending a state church, liberty to change the government by fair and orderly means: elections. They took no single idea and pushed it to an impossible extreme. They were practical men, the best minds the country afforded. They thought of liberty of the single man in connection with the benefit of all men. They always coupled liberty with another idea, the thought of union. Liberty may seem to be my personal benefit. If that is all it means it is a cheap and selfish notion. But as the Declaration told the world of our freedom from the rule of kings and nobles, the Constitution advertised our purpose to unite for a common, not a personal, welfare. So are these principles blended, liberty and union, now and forever one and inseparable. To assail our union, our government, our brotherhood, in the interest of personal liberty, license, unbounded freedom, is to break our national ideal all to pieces and to rush backward toward the barbarism that existed before man set aside his selfishness to form co-operative government, without which we should still be roaming in the woods and fighting daily for enough to eat.—William McAndrew.

(Editor's Note—The articles appearing in the above space from week to week are taken from "Americanization" by Elwood Grisco, Jr. This excellent volume, which is a collection of articles upon the general theme of patriotism and good citizenship, is presented to the schools of Texas by the Bodies of Scottish Rite Masonary in Texas.)

Indifferent, Undutiful Citizens

The smallest vote ever polled in Texas took place on the 23rd. Constitutional amendments do not interest voters unless they are of a nature that directly affect them, for instance should there be an amendment providing for a Sunday law or the repeal of the Volstead act, the line of voters would be a shock long at every voting place.—Anahuac Progress.

We Americans are "laying down on the job" of American citizenship. We can beat the Bolsheviks of Russia kicking and cussing the government, but we rarely exercise voting privileges with the highest measure of intelligence. The voter who does not take an intelligent interest in the political affairs of his country is not doing his duty and he has no right to kick at what happens. An intelligent people who take their American citizenship seriously and exercises its privileges honestly is the one great need of our country today. Ignorance and indifference pave the way for graft, inefficiency, extravagance—and ignorance, indifference and venality on the part of citizenship and officials have been the main agencies by which the overthrow of every civilized country of past ages has been accomplished.

We poured out our treasures like water, we fought and bled and many died to save our country from an invasion of autocracy and czarism. We need to confirm our selves with almost as great zeal and sacrifice to avoid an invasion of ignorance.—Troup Banner.

Road Work

A Belott citizen has demonstrated what may be accomplished by the proper effort for road improvement. Dr. C. W. Evans made the statement at Belott Friday that he would give $100 toward improving the Belott and Crockett road if $1000 could be raised for that purpose. Bill Ashby over heard the doctor's challenge and lost no time in accepting it. Mr. Ashby started a subscription list with Dr. Evans' donation, which was cheerfully contributed by the doctor under the proviso stated, and came to Crockett to raise the $1,000. Despite the fact that it was Saturday and a busy day, the $1,000 was over subscribed in Crockett, and it was stated that the list would be swelled to over $1200 by farmers of the Belott community and along the road. Teams will be started to work right away and kept busy until the money is expended. Many farmers who have layed by their crops have volunteered to contribute labor in the absence of money. Gravel will be used in surfacing and it is expected that within a few weeks the Belott road will be the best in the county. This is the right spirit and sets an example for the rest of Houston county in the matter of road improvement.—Crockett Courier.

Does It Really Pay To Advertise

Bradstreet's Commercial Agency employed hundreds of trained men throughout the country collecting and tabulating information to show that 81 per cent of the business failures in 1920 occurred among firms that did NOT advertise.

This fact should be quite significant to those who say, "We are cutting down on our advertising because it costs so much money."

SOME SMILES

No Lawyer Needed

An Atlantic lawyer tells of a newly qualified judge in one of the towns of the South who was trying one of his first criminal cases. The prisoner was an old negro charged with robbing a hen-coop. He had been in court before on a similar charge and was then acquitted.

"Well, Henry," observed the judge, "I see you're in trouble again."

"Yessuh," replied the negro. De las' time, jedge you rec'lect, you was muh lawyuh."

"Where is your lawyer this time?"

"I ain't got no lawyuh dis time," said Henry. "Ah's gwine to tell de troof."

A small boy was scrubbing the front porch of his house the other day when a lady called.

"Is your mother in?" she inquired.

"Do you think I would be scrubbin' the porch if she wasn't?" was the rather curt reply.—O. E. R. Bulletin.

An Atlanta man asked an old negro what breed of chickens he considered the best.

"All kinds has dere merits," replied Caesar, after a moment's consideration. "De white ones is de easiest to find, but de black ones is de easiest to hide aftah yo' find 'em."—Harper's Magazine.

The doctor's small son was entertaining a prospective patient in his father's office, and they were looking at the articulated skeleton in the closet.

"Where did he get it?" asked the timid patient in a whisper. "Oh, he's had it a long time. I guess maybe that's his first patient."

An elderly citizen of Minneapolis, Kans., relates the home paper, is a great lover of children and is in the habit of carrying candy concealed about his person for them. A recent evening he walked up to a miss in very short skirts and asked, "Honey, do you like candy?"

"How dare you, sir," said the little child. "Can't a lady come down town any more without being insulted by some old fool like you? My husband will settle with you."

What could the old man say? —Capper's Weekly.

Two darkies who had been partners in a small junk business decided to close out and quit. So one of them posted a notice on the shop door reading like this:

"Dis am to infohm de public dat me an' Ike am goin' out of business. Dem dat owes de firm may settle wid mid. Dem dat de firm owes may settle wid Ike."—Dallas News.

One day I met an old colored man totting a fine ham under each arm. It was a gray, cold day, windy and threatening snow but the old fellow had on a ragged seersucker coat and seersucker trousers—you could see his black skin through the many holes. "Ephraim," I said, "why did you spend your money for those magnificent hams? You'd have done better to buy an overcoat."

Old Eph rolled his eyes at me and said solemnly: "Marse Henry when Ah axes mah back fo' credit Ah gits it; but when Ah speaks to dis"—and he gave his stomach three or four whacks with a ham—"it calls fo' de' cash."

Elkhart Won

Elkhart came down and played the local team last Thursday afternoon, and by the time the game was over Grapeland looked like they had been run through a sausage mill.

Wingfield Lively started out to pitching the game for the locals and at the fifth inning Elkhart had swatted him for twelve hits and 7 runs. Mr. Hyde then finished the game, allowing two hits and three runs. The final score was 10 to 1, Grapeland's one run coming in the last half of the ninth inning.

Elkhart's pitcher, Maples, struck out 12 men and allowed only one hit. Roy Wherry, a former Grapeland boy now living at Elkhart, swatted one for a three-bagger.

Weldon and Grapeland will play here Thursday and Friday.

Included among the optimists is the man who is postponing his vacation in anticipation of lower railroad fares.—Boston Transcript.

A Can Of Gold

You will never get to the front by following the crowd. You have a tendency to wait and see what the other fellow is going to do. Then you are a follower. You will never be a leader as long as you do this. You will not be much of a success. Success requires Action.

If you knew where you could go and dig up a can of gold, wouldn't you grab a spade? You can get something equal to it at the Tyler Commercial College,—a Cash Producing Education. It is as essential as gold. It will equip you to draw a good salary as soon as you graduate, with chance for advancement. A business training is a life-time insurance policy against poverty. Its value cannot be overestimated.

Remember it takes ACTION. Look ahead! The field of business is wide open for you. Are you prepared to grasp the opportunity? A thorough course of Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Cotton Clipping, Telegraphy or Business Administration and Finance will start you on the high-road to success. TALK ABOUT dime novels.
THEY SENT Jim down.
TO TEXAS to investigate.
SOME OIL wells there.
WHICH THEY might buy.
IF JIM said O.K.
AND HE was to report.
BY WIRE in secret code.
NOW—ENTER the villain.
A SLIPPERY crook.
GOT WIND of it.
AND TRAILED Jim down.
COPIED OFF his code.
AND ERIBED a boob.
IN THE telegraph branch.
SO THE crook could get.
THE EARLIEST word.
AND CORNER stock.
AND WORK a hold-up.
IT LOOKED like easy coin.
BUT JIM got wise.

AND THREW away his code.
AND WHEN he sent.
THE FINAL dope.
HE FOILED the villain.
THE MESSAGE just said.
"CHESTERFIELD."
AND HIS directors know.
THAT ALL was well.
