Section Foreman Cut By Unknown Assailant

Wm. Sappington, section foreman for the I. & G. N. at this place, was attacked in a mysterious manner last Thursday night by an unknown assailant, and sustained several knife wounds, though none of them were serious.

Mr. Sappington had gone down the track to light the switch light and had started back to town when he discovered the light had gone out. He returned and relighted it and when he started away the second time, his assailant approached him from behind and without uttering a word began to cut him with a knife. Mr. Sappington grabbed the man's hand but he jerked loose and bolted out into the darkness.

He hurried to the depot and reported what had happened. Officers began an investigation and Friday morning arrested Will Allen, a section hand, but he was later released on bond.

The grand jury is now making an investigation into the affair.

Mr. Sappington is laying off for a few days, but will soon resume his duties. He has been relieved by Mr. McCullough.

THE MESSENGER'S AMERICANIZATION SERIES

"STONEWALL" JACKSON

The day after the first battle of Manasses, and before the history of that victory had reached Lexington in authentic form, a crowd had gathered around the post-office awaiting with interest the opening of the mail. In its distribution the first letter was handed to the Rev. Dr. White. Recognizing at a glance the well-known superscription, the doctor exclaimed to those around him, "Now we shall know all the facts."

The letter was from General Jackson; but instead of a war bulletin, it was a simple note, inclosing a check for a colored Sunday-school, with an apology for his delay in not sending it before. Not a word about the conflict which had electrified a nation! Not an allusion to the splendid part he had taken in it; not a reference to himself, beyond the fact that it had been to him a fatiguing day's service! And yet that was the day ever memorable in his history, when he received the name of "Stonewall" Jackson.

When his brigade of twenty-six hundred men had for hours withstood the iron tempest which broke upon it; when the Confederate right had been overwhelmed in the rush of resistless numbers, General Bee rode up to Jackson, and with despairing bitterness, exclaimed, "General they are beating us back!" "Then," said Jackson, calm and curt, "we will give them the bayonet." Bee seemed to catch the inspiration of his determined will; and galloping back to the broken fragments of his overtaxed command, exclaimed, "There is Jackson, standing like a stone wall. Rally behind him, Virginians!" From that time Jackson's was known as the Stonewall Brigade—a name henceforth immortal, for the christening was baptized in the blood of its author; and that wall of brave hearts was, on every battlefield, a steadfast bulwark of their country.

In the state where all that is mortal of this great hero sleeps, there is a natural bridge of rock, whose massive arch, fashioned in grandeur by the hand of God, springs lightly toward the sky, spanning a chasm into whose awful depths the beholder looks down bewildered and awe-struck. But its grandeur is not diminished because tender vines clamber over its gigantic piers and sweet-scented flowers nestle in its crevices. Nor is the granite strength of Jackson's character weakened because in every throb of his heart there was a pulsation ineffably and exquisitely tender. The hum of bees, the fragrance of clover fields, the tender streaks of dawn, the dewy brightness of early spring, the mellow glories of matured autumn, all by turns charmed and tranquillized him. The eye that flashed amid the smoke of battle grew soft in contemplating the beauty of a flower. The ear that thrilled with the thunder of the cannonade drank in with innocent delight the song of birds and the prattle of children's voices. The voice whose sharp and ringing tones had so often uttered the command, "Give them the bayonet," called even from foreign tongues terms of endearment for those he loved; and the man who filled two hemispheres with his fame was never so happy as when he was telling the colored children of his Sabbath school the story of the Cross.—Moses D. Hoge.

Tons of Bars of Gold
In Uncle Sam's Mints

Tons of gold, silver and coin came under the guardianship of F. E. Scobey of San Antonio, Texas, when he took office last week as Director of the Mint. He succeeds Raymond T. Baker, who has resigned.

Stored in the mints at Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco and in the U. S. Assay Office in New York is about $3,676,000-000 in bars of gold and silver and in coin, Mr. Baker reported. By far the greater part of it, about three billion, is in gold. This is estimated to be about a third of the gold supply of the whole world.

The United States now holds more gold than ever before in its history and more than any other country in the world. This is because we have become the world's greatest creditor nation. We are selling far more goods than we are buying. So European buyers owe money to manufacturers and others in the United States to balance this trade credit. That is of course aside from the war loans that our Government made to foreign governments. The interest and principal of these is an additional debt due here.

Since the foreign countries are not now producing and sending to us enough goods to offset their debts here, they must ship money instead. This they have been doing in the form of gold, usually in the shape of solid gold bars. Under our system of free coinage of gold, the United States Government must receive and coin into money, free of charge, any gold presented to the Treasury for that purpose. When the foreign gold arrives here it is presented to the Treasury, but instead of being actually coined into gold pieces, it is simply stored in the mints and paper money is issued to represent it. This money is then used to pay the debts of foreign traders in this country.

So it happens that our gold pile has been growing very rapidly in the past few years. The stream of gold began to pour in about 1915, when the war had cut off our imports but we were selling great quantities of war supplies to Europe. It has continued almost uninterrupted since.

Shin Bone for Spine

A boy of Concord, Mass., has part of his leg bone growing in his spine. Surgeons removed a piece of his shin bone five inches long and grafted it to his spine to replace a part that had become diseased. The boy's legs had been paralyzed for some time. Surgeons said the skin bone will grow again and that he may be able to walk if the spine becomes healthy.

Machine Devised To Test
Gravel For Road Building

To aid the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, in giving particular attention to the use of local material for road construction wherever possible, a simple, portable apparatus has been devised for testing gravel to determine its suitability for concrete. The device consists of two steel balls arranged so that a piece of gravel can be placed on top of one of the balls and the other ball allowed to fall from different heights and strike the gravel. The height of fall required to break the gravel is an indication of its suitability to withstand the blows of traffic.

Heretofore there has been no satisfactory test for gravel as there has been for stone, with the result that in some instances more costly material has been used when a suitable gravel was available close at hand. Along this line the bureau is conducting wear tests on concrete made of different materials to determine just how far it is safe to go when the quality of material is doubtful.

Prisoners Receive Aid Following Fire

Huntsville, Tex., March 30.—Chaplain J. L. Dickey of the state prison at Huntsville today concluded the correct estimate of the loss by last week's fire to his department. This includes 9,000 books of the library, valued, at $12,000; furniture and fixtures of chaplain's office and chapel, $250; music books, hymnals and sheet music for band orchestra, $250; one piano, $450; one moving picture machine, $500; drop curtain, flies and screen for stage, $500; twenty-seven musical instruments, $955; total, $14,905.

Friends of the prisoners and the citizens of Huntsville from time to time have given to the purchase of this equipment, but the greatest credit is due the inmates themselves for their untiring efforts to build up these things which mean so very much in their lives. They have given of their own pocket money when some new book or music was desired.

To the members of the Prison Amusement Club is due the credit of the greatest amount of money made and turned into the fund for Chaplain Dickey's use in this department. This was obtained by entertainments which they give on Thanksgiving and Christmas which the general public is allowed to attend. In passing, it may be said that the programs presented by the amusement club are of a high order and includes none of the slapstick, rough stuff and vulgar jokes stuff that so many people imagine predominates.

One of the greatest pleasures the inmates of the prison enjoy has been their well selected library. The band concerts were weekly source of pleasure to the men, the music at chapel was humanizing and uplifting, and the moving pictures, which were allowed brought the world to them. Seeing the wonderfully beneficial influence this equipment has on the lives and characters of the prisoners within the walls, it is easy to appreciate what the loss means to these men.

The state has no appropriation to replace what was burned in this department, but the men are exceedingly anxious to have their music, the literature and their moving picture outfit replaced and they believe there are enough liberal people in Texas who desire their welfare to replace them.

Sunday night Huntsville ministers made an appeal for books, as well as financial aid. Before 8 o'clock Monday morning Dr. Dickey received checks from Huntsville men for $50, $25 and others of lesser amounts, and the women formed committees in sections of the city and are collecting books and magazines to supply the immediate need.

If the people of Texas will send a check, large or small, the aggregate will be sufficient to replace the loss in books and equipment, Dr. Dickey said.

Books and music may be mailed to the Amusement Club of the State Prison, Huntsville, and checks made payable to and mailed to Chaplain J. L. Dickey, Huntsville, Texas.

Election in Maine

Republicans and Democrats in Maine met in a test of strength. An election was held to fill the place of Congressman John A. Peters, who has lately become a Federal District Judge. The Republican candidate received a plurality of about 7000 votes. This is less than the Republican pluralities in 1920. Both sides professed to be encouraged at the results.

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1922

For County Superintendent

The Messenger is authorized this week to announce the name of Mr. A. L. Macanliss for superintendent of public instruction of Houston County, whose candidacy is subject to the action of the democratic primary in July.

Mr. Macanliss is a young man, though married, and has a wife and one child. His wife was formerly Miss Nell Marshall of this city. He was born and reared in Houston county, thirteen miles east of Crockett. He was educated in the public schools of Houston county then attended Sam Houston Normal at Huntsville where he received the training of that splendid institution. He then took up school teaching and for the past two years has done work in one of the best consolidated schools in the state in Williamson county, being principal of the Hare High School.

In the event of his election, Mr. Macanliss will, as the law requires, spend four days each week working in the schools of the county.

His office will be open to the trustees and patrons of schools as a meeting place to discuss school problems.

In dealing with problems and difficulties which may arise, he will not let personal whims or selfish motives, but the wishes and desires of the public rule and govern his decisions.

He is opposed to the creation of any new offices of supervision, or any thing that will entail any unnecessary expenditure of the school funds.

He believes in a square deal for all, special privileges to none.

He promises to faithfully perform his duty and will stand by convictions of the public in promoting and encouraging any and all issues pertaining to the advancement of education and diffusion of knowledge so essentially necessary in a democracy.

We commend his name to the men and women voters of Houston county for their most careful consideration

No one was seriously hurt, but some sustained minor bruises. We can't understand how they escaped by the way the houses were torn up.

LIVELYVILLE NEWS

Livelyville, April 3.—Our school will close next Friday, April 7. We had a very successful term with Mr. Dominy as principal and Miss DuBose as assistant. Mr. Dominy has taught here for two successive terms and we do hope he will be retained another year, as he is loved by pupils, as well as his neighbors and friends. On account of several pupils taking the examination at Crockett Friday the entertainment to be rendered by the school children will not take place until Saturday night. We hope we will have a good attendance and a nice night, as we are promised a fine program.

The fearful rains of the past week are the cause of a good deal of the corn having to be planted over. Some fields have suffered by big washouts and things are altogether very wet.

We saw with regret Mr. Luker's announcement of not entering the political field, as we are sure he would have won easily.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wright visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Haltom, last week.

For County Commissioner

Mr. J. G. (Gid) Webb announces this week as a candidate for the office of county commissioner in commissioners' precinct No. 2, lying west of the railroad. Mr. Webb is now living at Porter Springs and has lived in the section around Porter Springs for many years. He is one of the best known men in his section and there is nothing the Messenger could say in his favor that is not already known by his neighbors. Mr. Webb, in placing his announcement, asked the Messenger to say for him that he proposes to make his campaign on a platform of "letting the people know what the commissioners' court does." He says he has no promises to make as to what he will be able to accomplish himself, as he realizes that he will be only a member of the court and that his vote will count only as one, but that he proposes to let the people know what the court does and what it spends the people's money for. He says he proposes to keep the people advised as to the creation of tax funds; the use of funds heretofore created and the transferring of money from one fund to another. He says that at the end of his term; if he is elected,

Anomalous Situation

"My husband," complained the young wife, "is so puritanical. He doesn't believe in theatres, dancing, bridge or any of the modern forms of amusement."

The patient in the private ward of a hospital was a testy old millionaire whose case at first gave the physician considerable difficulty.

"Of course it doesn't," snarled the old man. "Your legs could swell till they blew up and it wouldn't bother me."—American Legion Weekly.

"Well, at Sunday-school we had a hymn that went, 'If I love Him, when I die He will take me home an high.'"

ANTRIM NEWS

Antrim, April 3.—This spring weather makes all of us feel good; but we think it makes the little boys and girls feel best of all. We notice most all the little boys are delving around in the pantrys and cellars preparing their fishing tackle for "fine days." The girls are planting spring flower seeds.

We have had a storm and plenty of rain and wind since our last writing. We don't think the storm did any harm around here but we heard of several houses being blown away up near Oak Grove. The ground is so boggy from so much rain, we don't think there will be much plowing done for quite awhile now.

School was out the 24th of March and Miss Ollie Crawford went to her home at Huntsville and Miss Jewel Lansford also went to Huntsville, where she will attend school.

Quite a crowd visited at J. F. Martin's Sunday. Among them being Mr. and Mrs. Arch McQueen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Harrington and children, W. F. Taylor and Calvin Durnell.

Mrs. W. F. Taylor and little daughter, Elephair, are on the sick list this week.

Little Robert Alva Keen is on the sick list this week.

There was an entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Little Friday night, March 24th. A large crowd was present and all report a nice time.

Bro. Wells, the pastor of the Methodist church here, will fill his appointment here next Sunday afternoon. Every body come out and hear the sermon.

J. H. Edens is still improving and we hope he will be up in a few more days.

We understand that Lethard Price had the misfortune to lose his horse Sunday.

C. M. Streetman visited in this community yesterday.

Lee Martin is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Martin, today.

Billy Parker visited at the home of W. J. Franklin's Sunday.

Mrs. A. B. Keen and children and also Mr. W. J. Franklin's children visited Mrs. J. F. Martin's Saturday afternoon.

TRINITY RIVER RIPPLES

Reynard, April 3.—The farmers have their work well out of hand and are scratching. Their heads were tousled about last week pretty badly by the rain and the birds, and very few, if any, but what will have more or less corn to plant over, but will keep hitting the ball and hold every inch.

The river got full enough to put the folks in its wake in suspense, but they feel somewhat easier at this writing.

There has been no cotton planted, but guess some will be this week, and we are still hopeful and are going to try and do our best to make a crop.

Irish potatoes are up pretty high and no bugs reported. Insects are not working the gardens as usual, except cut worms.

This is the time for farmers to get their work in a tangle. Some to work and some to plant and all need you at the same time.

There was some road work done last week and more will be done this week, and there will be no time to go fishing soon.

Glenn Beazley and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beazley and daughter were visitors at Daly's yesterday.

Stovall White was a visitor in our community yesterday; also Lee Grayson.

While at a neighbor's yesterday we kept hearing something like distant thunder, which made us feel bad, but on being told it was the wind blowing in an open jug we asked them to please stop the jug up.

C. H. Beazley of Crockett had a jug on his fence and said it caught half full of water during Wednesday night's rain.

Mr. Editor, since you will not make the race for representative we are going to put out a feeler and see who will say amen, and that is Judge Davis. Now, he is not our style of man in every detail, but John A. is considerably above the ordinary man and believe if elected he would make the county a good representative.

Misses Fannie Branch and Rezi Jones spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Whitaker of the San Pedro community.

Our Sunday school was rather small yesterday on account of the weather, but there seems to be a great interest in the senior class, as they are having a big contest and it is nearly time for a Sunday school party, so each side is doing its best to be the winner. How Far Will Your Dollar Go To - Day?

What you get for a dollar determines its value. And the secret of economical buying is information. The man or woman who is best informed is the one who buys to best advantage.

Every week this newspaper contains information that you should have in order to increase your buying power. The advertisements are intimate little lessons in economy. They are notices of how—where—when—and for what your dollar will go farthest.

This advertising awaits your pleasure. It does not force itself upon you. At your convenience you can study it to learn where to go for the product or service you require—to discover where and how you can buy most easily and to the best advantage.

It is a fascinating and worth-while practice to see just how you can make your dollar do its best for you.

THE ADVERTISEMENTS WILL TELL YOU

Texas Minister Takes A Fling At Flappers

New York, April 1.—“The cause of the next war—the flapper—struts up Fifth avenue today and her sister out on Main street apes her.”

This was the opinion expressed today by Dr. J. Frank Norris, “Texas Tornado,” who has come to New York to save the city by a series of revival meetings.

“The flapper will bring about this country’s downfall just as surely as Deliah caused Samson’s,” said Dr. Norris. “Every great war has been traced to the depravity of women and they never were as bad as they are today.”

“When a woman shows her knees, you can see the finish of her and that of the nation as well.”

“Girls think more of their eye lashes and “nude” hosiery than they do of decency; home life is broken up; respectful law goes with it; wholesale iniquity follows; then—war.

“We cursed the kaiser for starting the last war; but we ‘pet’ the cause of the next.”

“Our statesmen are scrapping the battleships; they ought to be slapping the flappers.”

“The modern girl is 100 times worse than the girl of the last century and the country girl is just as bad as her city cousin. Once upon a time country girls were pure, but gasoline spoiled that. We have closed up our red light district and put them on rubber tires.

“Women smoking are indecent. The spark from a woman’s cigarette is going to touch off a conflagration that will destroy this country within fifty years.”

“Jesebel was the worst woman in the world. She was the first queen of the shifters. The last thing she did before she died was to paint her face and then the dogs ate her.”

Free Folder On “How to Raise Price of Cotton”

We have received a small folder issued by Geo. B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, entitled, “How To Raise The Price of Cotton And Make Farming Pay.”

This is a very valuable document, giving the acreage, production, domestic consumption, exports, price and value of the cotton crop for the past twenty years. It also presents figures to show that a small cotton crop brings a higher price and more actual money than a large crop. It advocates a safe and sound system of farming, through proper diversification of crops, and by producing all food and feed on the farm and making the cotton a surplus crop so that the producers will not be forced to sell cotton for less than cost, but will be able to have some voice in naming the price. Every farmer should have one of these circulars, and they can be had by writing the Commissioner of Agriculture for them.

The Plea Of Economy

When the candidate begins to tell you of the great economies he is going to effect as soon as he enters into office, get him to tell you how. As a matter of fact, this “economy” stuff has been overworked for many years but many voters are still fooled by it. The candidate spouts “economy” and “graft” and seeks to arouse enthusiasm for his candidacy by making vague promises—very vague.

For instance, in the last campaign the present governor as well as other candidates promised a reduction in the running expenses of the State government of about one-third. The figures don’t show any such reduction or cut or curtailment—or any prospect.

There was no prospect when the promise was made. It was campaign talk.

Groan as we may over the State taxes, they are not so burdensome as they are in other States, and there is small prospect of a reduction so long as the people of Texas maintain the many and several institutions which are supported by the State.

If there is to be curtailment of expense, there must be a curtailment in governmental activities; and that is true whether the nation, State, county, district or municipality is concerned.—Paris News.

The Ford Motor Company has adopted the forty-hour week as a permanent policy in all its plants, the employees to receive the same minimum wage. The factories will be closed Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Ford claims that the men need more than one day for rest and recreation, and that “in order to live properly every man should have more time to spend with his family, more time for self-improvement, and more time for building up the place called home.”

Life and Love.

Life is just one thing after another. Love is just two things after each other.

There is nothing lovers enjoy more than a moonlight night, unless it is a night when there is no moon.

The thing a man enjoys about a love affair is that he has found some one at least who believes everything he says.

The ideal man only exists in the mind of a woman before she marries him.—“Enamelina” in London Opinion.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset.

I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it . . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it.
