Cattle-Dipping Record Again Broken in Texas

Texas broke its own cattle-dipping record when in July 6,783,503 dippings in that State were recorded by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The figure is more than 150,000 greater than the dippings for June, which, as recently announced, broke all records for progressive tick eradication since the work began in 1906.

There are nearly 10,000 vats in operation, of which more than 200 were built during July. The rapid progress being made in eradicating ticks is the result of thorough preparation and the excellent spirit of cooperation among the State and county officials, cattle owners, and representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture.

A Tribute to the Memory of Mrs. J. L. Chiles

On August 22nd there passed from the walks of men in the Reynard community, Mrs. Alice Chiles, in answer to the call of her Heavenly Father "to come up higher."

I knew Alice in our girlhood days and liked her then and many were the good times we had together.

It was our good fortune after marriage to both live in the same community as neighbors for twenty-five years, and in the passing years my liking grew to love, for Alice Chiles was an ideal neighbor in our community. Always present at church and Sunday school, always doing her part for the betterment of our community, whether in encouraging the schools, helping the young people to see the better side of life, in picnics, social gatherings or work, or helping her neighbors, in loving service around the sick bed, or lending her aid in hospitality and social enjoyment.

We had many good times together; also some vigils when only the dear Father could help us but the better borne because of our intimate association together. And best of all she was the true wife and mother. With all her kind neighborliness nothing came between her and her home. There was her heart ever, there her love and life. No service too hard, no sacrifice too great to make for her loved ones. My heart goes out to them in their bereavement.

But how glorious to know if we will but follow the true christian example she left for us that we shall meet again in the "Land beyond" where nothing can mar our peace and happiness and no more sad farewells be said.

Mrs. T. S. Kent.

PERCILLA NEWS

Percilla, Sept. 11.—The Christian meeting, which has been going on here for the past week, has been a great meeting, well attended by the people of this community and by quite a number of persons from neighboring communities and some from out of the county. The baptizing will take place this afternoon and the meeting will probably close to-night.

Among our sick the past week is Mrs. D. M. Jones with an attack of appendicitis, and Mrs. Bill Lively with a siege of chills and fever, though Mrs. Lively is up again and Mrs. Jones is reported some better. Mrs. J. W. Furr, who has had a severe attack of lumbago, seems to be on the road to recovery.

Alton McKenzie and Charlie Hendricks, who have been working in the railroad shops at Palestine, spent Saturday night and Sunday with their respective families at Percilla, returning back to their work Sunday afternoon, accompanied by James Cook and Sam Elliott, who also intend to take employment at Palestine. While we look for these boys back in about three days, yet we are willing to offer our sympathy to the four families affected by their departure.

Mrs. Retilla Thompson of Denson Springs visited Mrs. J. W. Furr Friday and Saturday and attended the Christian meeting.

J. Phuvius was a visitor here Sunday, much to the delight of the turnip seed sower, but not much to the anxious cotton picker. However, we are proud of the cool breeze that he brought with him.

Augusta Community Fair To Be Held October 19-20

The people of the Augusta community held an enthusiastic meeting last Thursday night, the object of which was to begin preparations for their community fair, which will be held October 19 and 20. They held a very successful fair last year and with the experience they gained, hope to do much better this year, and are making their plans upon a bigger scale.

The opening day will be devoted to the school exhibit and program, and the second day to community entertainment.

Among the various attractions planned will be horse races, bronco busting and dog show. This latter will include both hounds and bird dogs, and on the night of the 20th a big fox hunt is being planned. Holland Scarborough is in charge of this feature of the program, so we warn the foxes now to hunt their holes.

All farm product exhibits will be judged on the 19th and the live-stock judging will take place on the 20th. Competent judges will be in charge.

Card of Thanks

I take this means of thanking my many friends who voted for me in the recent Primary. Though I won by a small majority, I assure you there is no one more grateful than I am for the spirit of true fidelity shown in my behalf. And to those who thought best to vote for my opponent, I have only the bets of feeling and friendship, and in return for the favors shown me I promise a continuation of faithful service.

Very gratefully yours,
Willie Robison.

W. E. Keeland was in Dallas several days this week purchasing fall goods.

WHEN the Irishman got into a row with his wife and she threw a plate at his head the meece is said to have started and in the midst of it the husband jerkily remarked: "If I'd known married life was like this I'd have got married long ago." All of which carries out the general conception of the Celtic conviction that we must have peace even if we have to fight for it.

Tolstoi preached non-resistance which meant letting everybody walk on your neck. This brings peace to the bullies and death to the meek. Jesus turned the other cheek, but he took the money changers by the scruff of the neck and threw them out of the temple. So it all depends when to fight and what to fight for, which means keep an eye out for the spurious flag wavers.

THE MESSENGER'S AMERICANIZATION SERIES

The Duty and Value of Patriotism

The human race pays homage to patriotism because of its supreme value. The value of patriotism to a people is above gold and precious stones, above commerce and industry, above citadels and warships. Patriotism is the vital spark of the nation's honor, the living joint of the nation's prosperity, the strong shield of the nation's safety.

When the fathers of the Republic declared: "That all men created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," a principle was enunciated which, in its truth, was as old as the race, but in practical realization was almost unknown.

The divine gift of liberty is God's recognition of man's greatness and man's dignity. In liberty lie the sweetness of life and the power of growth. The loss of liberty is the loss of light and sunshine, the loss of life's best portion. Under the spell of heavenly memories, humanity never has ceased to dream of liberty, and to aspire to its possession. Now and then, here and there, liberty had for a moment caressed humanity's brow. But not until the Republic of the West was born, not until the Star Spangled Banner rose toward the skies, was liberty caught up in humanity's embrace and embodied in a great and abiding nation.

In America the government takes from the liberty of the citizen only so much as is necessary for the weal of the nation. In America there are no masters who govern in their own right, for their own interest, or at their own will. We have over us no Bourbon saying: "The State, I am the State"; no Hohenzollern proclaiming that in his acts as sovereign he is responsible only to his own conscience and to God. Ours is the government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Our government is our own organized will.

In America, rights begin with and go upward from the people. In other countries, even in those which are apparently the most free, rights begin with and come downward from the state; the rights of citizens, the rights of the people are concessions which have been wrested from the government.

In America, whenever the government does not prove its grant, the liberty of the individual citizen remains intact. Elsewhere there are governments called republics; there, too, universal suffrage establishes the state; but once established, the state is tyrannous and arbitrary; invades at will private rights and curtails at will individual liberty. One republic only is liberty's native home—America. —Archbishop John Ireland.

Successful Men Ask Questions, then

The mere asking of questions does not insure success. We must learn, then act. Don't mistake us. Fools and knaves can often make reasonable replies. However, the man who investigates thoroughly before making a business move asks neither of these. Instead, he goes to the institution or person qualified through experience to know—and therein is the secret of his success.

There should be the utmost confidence between this bank and you. You should feel at liberty to ask questions concerning your business, stocks, bonds and loans. We want you to consider us an adviser on anything that directly or indirectly involves money.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 14, 1922.

Some counties take pride in their highways and are delighted to have tourists travel over them, while others have to apologize for theirs. We are sorry that Houston county is in the apologizing class.

Among other things called for in the platform adopted at San Antonio last week by the democratic convention was a plank for a constitutional convention. The last constitutional convention held in Texas was in 1875. The framers of the constitution wrought well in their day, but Texas has outgrown its constitution. The old one has been patched until it looks like grandmother's crazy quilt. The future progress and prosperity of the state depends largely upon a revision or the adoption of a new constitution.

The Brenham Banner-Press is at it again, this time with a special edition of thirty-six pages, which they called the "Good Roads and Community Building Edition." It was profusely illustrated and contained many articles of interest to the reader and portrayed very vividly some of the activities of Brenham and Washington county. Among other things they boast of is thirty-two miles of solid concrete road which is now in course of construction by Smith Bros. of this county. The edition reflected great credit upon the publishers and we extend them our congratulations.

FAIR NOTES

Grapeland never does things by halves, so we predict the community fair October 27-28 will be a humdinger.

County Agent, R. R. Morrison, and Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Ney Barnett, will be active with the various committees in arranging for the fair. Mr. Casey of Augusta has also promised his assistance, and with such help we do not see why the fair cannot be made a grand success.

Augusta's community fair will be held October 19 and 20, just a week before ours. There should be a friendly rivalry between the two as to which can put on the best show.

Live-stock and farm exhibits, orchard, field and garden products, home canned and preserved fruits, needlework, better babies, etc., will be some of the attractions at the community fair October 27-28.

We call to the attention of the entertainment committee the suggestion made by our Reynard correspondent last week to include the old fiddlers' contest. It would furnish entertainment and fun for lots of people. Give the old fiddlers a place on the program.

All committees should get to work in earnest and strive to bring up the part they have to play in making the fair the success that it should be.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

It is often said that law enforcement depends upon public opinion. There was never a more fallacious statement made. It is a smoke screen which often hides cowardly, inefficient, or corrupt public officials. That doctrine has done more to break down respect for law and to prevent the enforcement of law than any other statement ever made.

Law is sovereign. There is no such thing and never was such a thing as the divine right of kings. But there is such a thing and there will be forever such a thing as the divine, sovereign right of law. Law is sovereign. And laws ought to conform to the sovereign right of eternal LAW.

No criminal believes in law. No criminal believes in the penalty that law inflicts. No criminal believes in justice. No criminal wants justice.

Therefore, when it is said that public opinion controls the enforcement of law, THEN, it is said that public opinion is the opinion of criminals, and that public opinion is a criminal opinion.

I deny such a statement. If it is true, that in itself does not excuse the public official nor give him the license to neglect to enforce the law.

There are no methods by which justice should be averted except the methods prescribed by law. The poor midnight thief who steals a ham to support his hungry child is often caught and punished while the man who steals a railroad is made its president. These apparent injustices come because of the doctrine that public opinion must be consulted before law is enforced.

Whether the man be a plumber or preacher, whether he be a banker or butcher, whether he be the head of a labor organization or the president of a capitalistic trust, if he violates the law, defies this government, flaunts his infamy in the face of the Constitution he ought to be put in the penitentiary and fed on bread and water until he confesses his wrong, pays his penalty to society and is willing to kiss the flag every day the rest of his life.

Law is supreme and should be enforced.

Home Demonstration Agent Named for Houston County

Miss Ney Barnett of Kilgore was appointed home demonstration agent for Houston County by the commissioner's Court, her work beginning the fifth.

The home demonstration work, as well as the farm demonstration work, has been made possible by the United States Department of Agriculture, the A. and M. College and the County Commissioners' Court. The home demonstration agent is located at present in the Ladies' Rest Room and will work out of Crockett into the different rural communities.

Clubs will be organized in the various communities of the county and work will be given in gardening and poultry, these being counted the two productive phases of the work. Home work will include cooking, canning, sewing and various ways of making the home beautiful.

The big aim of this work is to make home-making and home life more pleasant for the girls, and at the same time furnish some means of making some money of their own, as the selling of poultry, its products, fresh or canned fruits and vegetables.

Miss Barnett's work will be continued through twelve

Most every disease that begins to show, by the howl of pain or the tale of woe—be it nutmeg liver, or pest-house itch, or weepin' janders—I don't keer which,—We can jugulate 'em, beyond a doubt, by simply clippin' the tonsils out!

You mebbly have heard of Melindy Crane, who was borned with softenin' of her brain. . . . So, when she developed the craze fer verse, we jedged a relapse would fetch the hearse . . . but she whooped with joy, an' hollered fer kraut—the minnit they jerked her tonsils out!

And of course—you knowed old Sandy Beggs, which had the paralysis in his legs,—an' when the old feller commenced to bloat, we seen right off, it was all his th'out! And, jest afore she run into gout, they cured him, by whackin' his tonsils out!

The feller that's skeered of a dearth of days, can dodge it —by joinin' the tonsil craze. . . . He can set down, an' let 'em rim out his neck,—an' get up again—like new, by heck!

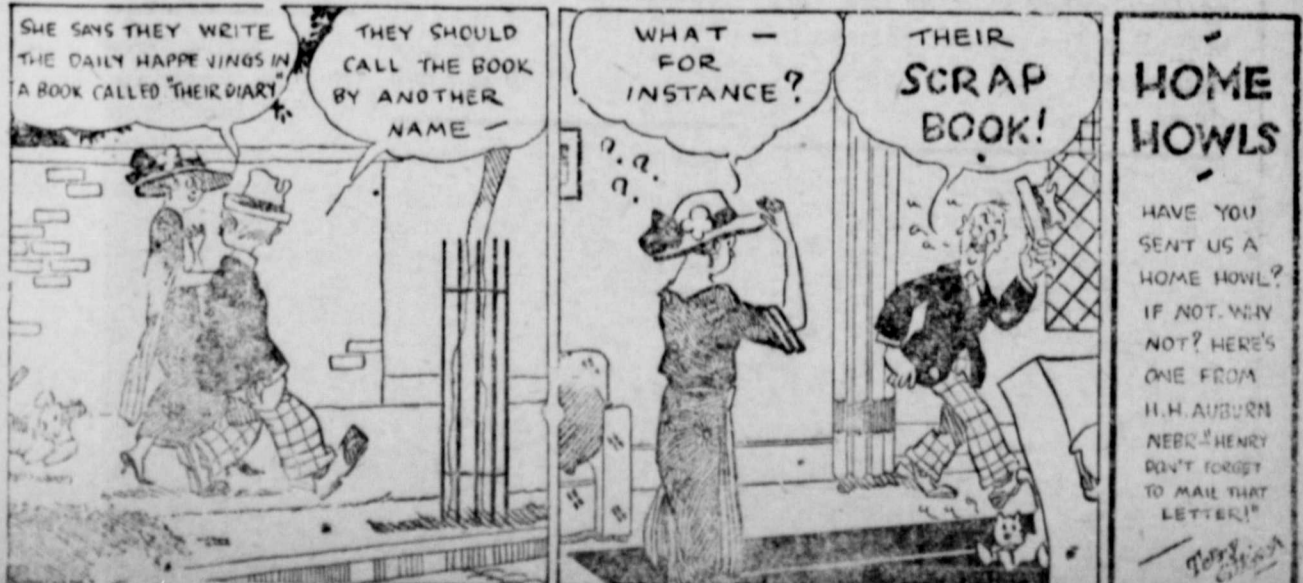

months of the year. During the school sessions the club meetings will be held at the schools and the cooking work under the same direction. The spring will be devoted mostly to the gardening and poultry raising, while the summer months will be devoted to the canning.

Work will be given to the women of the communities in which there is interest and need, and where desired clubs will also be organized with a program to meet the needs and the interest. Miss Sallie F. Hill, the district agent from A. and M. College, will visit Houston County often and assist Miss Barnett in the extension work over the county. Miss Barnett will be in her office each Saturday and will be available to those who desire her services.

Expressions of Sympathy

It was Tupper who said: "A babe in a home is a well-spirit of pleasure," and Dickinson paid children this tribute: "They are idols of hearts and households, they are angels of God in disguise." But the greatest tribute ever paid to little children was uttered by the God-man when he said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Answering to this call, little James Carl Ellis, two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ellis of this city only recently left the home of his father and mother and his lovely spirit took its flight into the other world in answer to the summon: "Come unto Me."

"Behold a seraph soaring,
From out our weary world;
In robes of white,
One starlight night,
With spirit-wings unfurled,
He took his flight,
To the gates of light,
To make his dwelling there,
Seraphic songs outpouring
Upon the silent air.

Oh, how he loved thee, mother,
Thy bosom was his bed;
'Twas sweet to rest,
On thy soft breast
The little weary head;
To feel the press
With fond caress
The bright and radiant brow,
But the blessed "Elder Brother"
Will cherish "baby" now."

"In his moral tillage, God cultivates many flowers seemingly only for their exquisite beauty and fragrance. For when bathed in soft sunshine they have burst into blossom, then the Divine hand gathers them from the earthly fields to be kept in crystal vases in the deathless mansions above. Thus little children die—some in the sweet bud, some in the fuller blossom; but never too early to make heaven fairer and sweeter with their immortal bloom."

James Carl was a beautiful and a lovely child. The Methodist church in Crockett and its Sunday school will share with his parents in this their saddest bereavement, and our hearts go out to them with feelings of tenderest sympathy. Like the home, the Church and Sunday school will miss his childish prattle, for scarcely a Sunday passed when he was not there, looking on and wondering what it all meant. In the Sunday School he could not understand that he was in "God's kindergarten," but the parents well understood the well-recognized truth that "early impressions are the best," and were following the Divine injunction to bring him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

The great heart of Crockett's entire people beats in solemn but genuine feelings of deepest condolence towards the sorrowing parents, and would gladly offer any balm that would heal their broken hearts if it were in their power. But it is here that human weakness fails, and we can but commend them to that higher source for solace and comfort in this their most trying ordeal.

Therefore, we, the undersigned committees, representing the Men's Bible Class and the Ladies Bible Class of the Methodist Church of Crockett in profoundest love and tenderest sympathy assure the weeping parents that we share with them in the affliction that has overtaken them, and trust they will find the highest and truest comfort in the beautiful and soothing sentiments expressed in the following words:-

"Dear weeping father, mother,
How could he longer wait
When Jesus calls?
From Jasper walls
Swung wide the golden gate.
But he will stand
At God's right hand,
To wait and watch for you;
And there will be another
To bid you "welcome" too."
Through countless years
No bitter tears
Shall dim those lustrous eyes;
No sighs shall mar the singing,
Beneath those cloudless skies.

THE GUARANTY STATE BANK OF GRAPELAND

U. M. BROCK, CASHIER

Thrift is based on common sense. Thrift is not stinginess. A stingy man is not thrifty: he is merely mean.

The need for thrift—real thrift—is evidenced by facts.

A very small percentage of men reach old age possessed of independent means.

It is true that most wage-earners do not make enough money in the course of a life-time to save enough to be even moderately wealthy at old age. Nevertheless hundreds of thousands of payroll men and women do save enough during their productive years to keep the wolf from the door in their old age and have comforts and even luxuries that would not be theirs had they frittered away small and seemingly insignificant sums of money in the earlier years.

The late James J. Hill, master railroad builder, declared that the man who could not or would not save money did not have the seed of success within him; he was foredoomed to failure and might as well drop out of the race.

But the mere saving of money and its accumulation is only a means to the end, and the building of even a modest fortune requires that a man should have the judgement to discern investment opportunities.

The ambitious man wants to increase his income; and when he has spare money he should seek the investments that will give him the best return.

Our message to you is this. That as a disinterested party,—serving you only as your Banker—we are in position to advise you on every business move or investment you may care to make—Start today—Let this be your bank.

Senate Orders Investigation Into Marketing of Cotton

Washington, Sept. 8.—A broad investigation by the senate agriculture committee into the methods and practices employed in the marketing of cotton was ordered by the senate today in the adoption of the resolution by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, which seeks to determine whether there is interference with the law of supply and demand in the cotton market.

It is claimed in preambles to the resolution that the combination of the carry-over and the estimated production for this year will not be sufficient to meet the world demand and that quotations fail utterly to respond to these conditions. It is further stated that cotton consumption both here and abroad has increased, but there has been no corresponding increase in revenue to the producer, a condition which, it is alleged, threatens to damage the industry seriously.

The W. M. Society of the M. E. church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. M. Owens Tuesday afternoon. Fifteen members and four visitors were present.

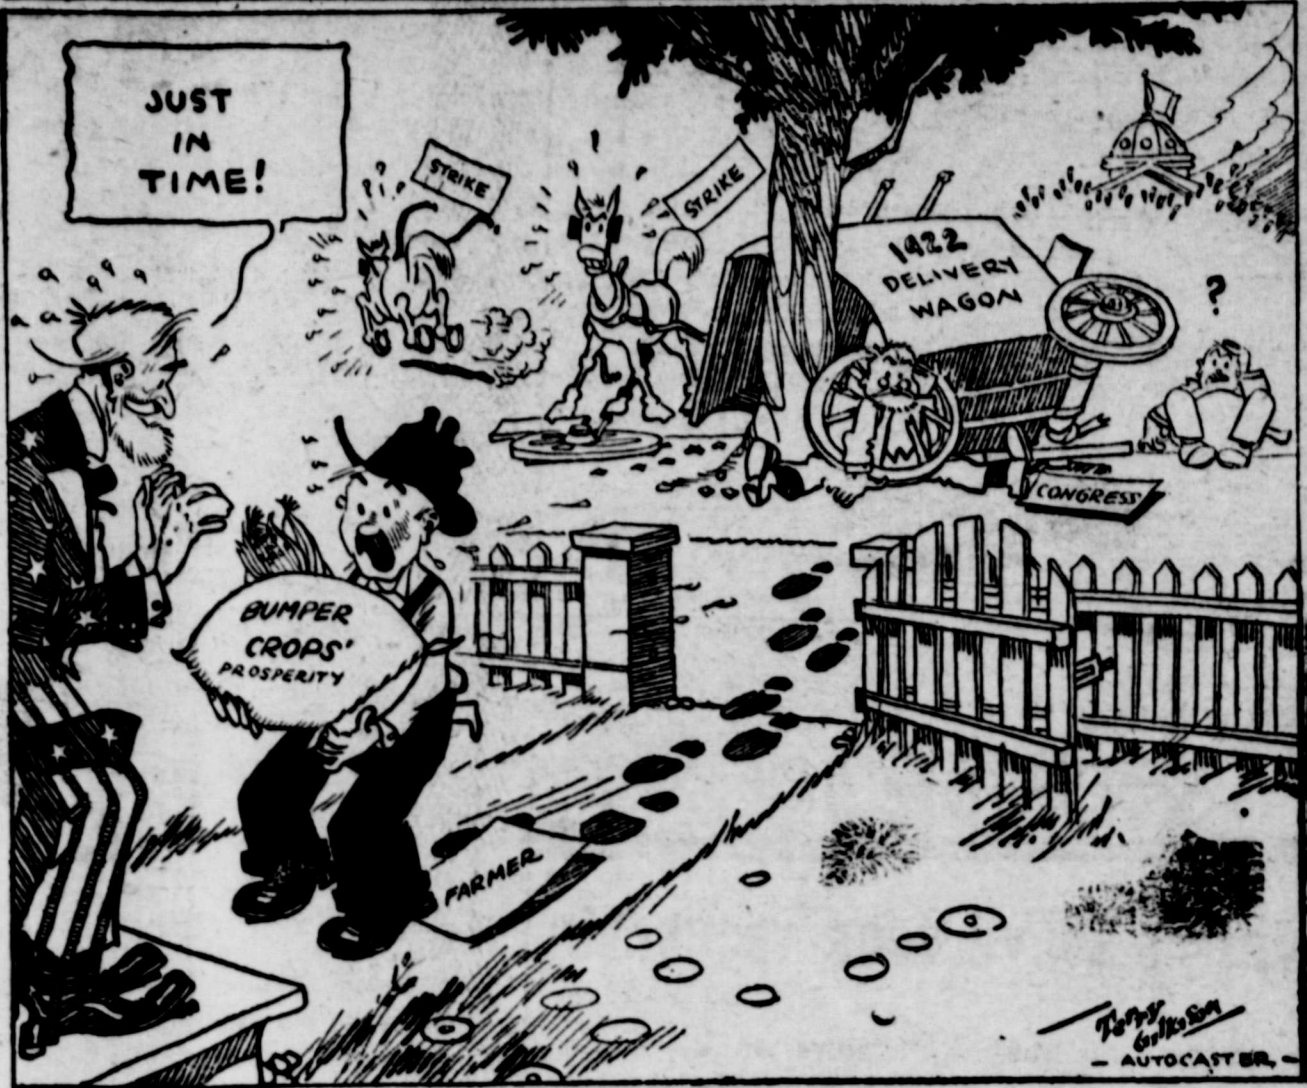

Devotional service was opened with a prayer by Mrs. E. Payne. A very interesting Bible lesson was discussed.

During the business session the society adopted a "capsule" campaign by which they hope to get every member of the church more interested in the work. We also voted to hold a bazaar first part of November. Several other items of business transacted and we feel proud of the enthusiasm shown at this meeting.

The hostess served refreshing grape juice and cake.
