BIDS ASKED ON FIRST OF IMPROVED ROADS

The county has asked for bids on the first of the improved highways under the recent bond issue. This is a lateral road, running from Elkhart west to the Trinity river. Bids will be asked on the Montalba road, one of the designated state highways, as soon as the plans have been approved by the state highway department. This is to be one of the concrete roads, and will be as fine a piece of road as there is in the state. The right of way is being completed on the Brushy Creek road. The Elkhart right of way has already been secured. Actual construction will start on the Elkhart east and west road as soon as the bids are in and one accepted.—Palestine Herald.

A substitute for gasoline was successfully tested out at the Anacostia naval air station near Washington. It is composed of 30 per cent denatured anhydrous alcohol and 70 per cent gasoline. It developed the same horsepower as the regular high-grade aviation gasoline and did not heat the engine as much as the standard product does.

EDITOR HARDING'S CODE OF ETHICS

The following Code of Ethics was written by President Harding, as editor of the Marion Star, and was strictly enforced by him on the members of his staff:

"Remember, there are two sides to every question. Get them both."

"Be truthful. Get the facts. Mistakes are inevitable, but strive for accuracy. I would rather have one story exactly right than a hundred half wrong."

"Be decent, be fair, be generous."

"Boost, don't knock."

"There's good in everybody. Bring out the good and never needlessly hurt the feelings of anybody."

"In reporting political gatherings, give the facts. Tell the story as it is, not as you would like to have it. Treat all parties alike. If there is any politics to be played we will play it in our editorial columns."

"Treat all religious matters reverently."

"If it can possibly be avoided, never bring ignominy to an innocent man, woman or child in telling of misdeeds or misfortunes of a relative."

"Don't wait to be asked, but do it without asking, and above all never let a dirty word or suggestive story get into type."

"I want this paper so conducted that it can go into the home without destroying the innocence of any child."

1924 MODEL FORDS ARE NOW ON DISPLAY

The first of the new Ford cars which recently arrived in Grapeland are now on display at the show room of the Grapeland Motor Co., local Ford dealer.

The higher radiator, now standard in all Ford types, has brought a general improvement throughout the entire line and the new radiator apron, blending with similar apron effects on the fenders, gives the front of the car a highly finished appearance.

The touring car shows a decided improvement, having a more streamline effect. It is lower in appearance, a feature adding much to the attractiveness of the slanting windshield and one-man top.

The Coupe is entirely new in body design and construction. There is a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and greater luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator. The doors are wide and heavily framed. A larger compartment at the rear gives increased room for luggage and the new type rear fender is more secure. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add to the exterior appearance, effecting a high quality aspect.

The higher radiator has greatly enhanced the beauty of the Ford Four-Door Sedan. This car, highly popular since its introduction a year ago because of its low graceful lines, now presents a more sturdy appearance.

Another feature coming as the result of the change made in front of the car, including larger cowl, radiator and hood, is that occupants of the front seat are afforded more space, thus insuring added riding comfort.

Many other little improvements and refinements are noticeable, including revolving type window regulators for all door windows and a dome light for illuminating the interior.

The new cars are on display at the show rooms of the Grapeland Motor Co.

PLAN TO TAKE OVER ROAD MAINTENANCE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 15.—Meeting in special session in Austin Saturday, the State Highway Commission began outlining a program for taking over on Jan. 1, next, the maintenance of the 18,000 miles of designated State highways in Texas. Under the law which was passed at the regular session of the Thirty-Eighth Legislature the Highway Commission, after the first of next year, will have supervision of highway maintenance, a work heretofore within the jurisdiction of the several counties only. Further consideration of the maintenance subject will be given by the commission during the regular monthly meeting period next Monday and Tuesday.

The commission on Saturday had a conference all of the division engineers of the State Highway Department and ideas were exchanged freely between Commissioners and engineers. The program discussed provided for division of the State into divisions for proper and thorough maintenance of the highways. There was an organization in each division to equally care for the highway and, according to R. M. Hubbard, chairman of the Highway Commission all highways will be regularly inspected and, at the first sign of wear, repairs will be made.

"We will follow a system similar to that of section crews on the railroads," said Chairman Hubbard. "Daily inspection of the highways by division heads will be made and repairs where needed will be promptly made. Under this system the highways of the State will be constantly kept in good condition. Before the first of the year we will have worked out all details of the program for taking over the maintenance work. Attention will first be directed to those highways where maintenance has been neglected by the counties."

A large number of applicants for aid for highway construction are expected to be heard at the

"I HAVE TAKEN Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of Cardui and her condition was much better.

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard on us.

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work." This card fulfils her wish.

Reynard, Sept. 17.—Cotton, cotton, cotton! Everybody has made a little and the price keeps up the spirit and the morale. A considerable amount of cotton was handled last week and all are getting rid of it as fast as they can. The gin is keeping up with the picking by ginning some at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Stovall White are the parents of a fine boy. Mother and babe are doing well, and Stovall is still at the wheel of his truck moving cotton and seed from the gin at a rapid rate, and grandpa and grandma Fulgham are looking a bit wrinkled.

Dr. Hill was a frequent visitor in our midst last week, attending the sick bedside of Mrs. O. M. Rials. She is holding her own pretty well and the doctor thinks gaining a little. He was called by to examine the writer. After the examination he gave information that relieved our fears to some extent, but we are not well yet.

State Hunting Laws Affected By Federal Regulations

With the close approach of the open season for hunting migratory birds much interest is being manifested in the question of when sportsmen may hunt in conformity with both State and Federal laws. The migratory bird treaty act, passed by Congress to give effect to the treaty between United States and Great Britain for the protection of birds migrating between the United States and Canada has the effect of modifying many State laws. This law is administered by the United States Department of Agriculture through the Biological Survey, and provides that the State may make and enforce laws relating to migratory birds which give further protection to these birds than that afforded by the migratory bird treaty act regulations, if such laws do not extend the open seasons beyond the dates provided in the Federal regulations.

In order to guide the gunner as to his privileges under both State and Federal laws the Department of Agriculture will shortly issue Farmer's Bulletin No. 1375, giving a summary of the game laws for the hunting season of 1923-24, containing a synopsis of the game laws for each State, to show the open seasons for all migratory game birds in conformity with both State and Federal laws. The open seasons stated in this bulletin are the times when hunting may be enjoyed without violating either law. Copies of this bulletin, when published, may be obtained on application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

All bathing-suit designs must be from Missouri—St. Joseph Gazette.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

AID FOR THE STRICKEN

Measures taken by this country for the relief of stricken Japan are said to be unparalleled in history. The United States, experienced in relieving foreign distress in these last bitter years, has surpassed itself.

The whole American public seems to have been moved by one impulse, sharing the sorrow of an alien race and eager to alleviate its suffering.

And it is a race lately thought of as hostile!

All this eagerness to help Japan in trouble is just as real as would have been the eagerness to win if the nations had drifted into war through blundering statesmanship. And it is far more constructive and beneficial than war could ever have been to either country.

Helping Japan, America helps itself. The gifts of goods and money and service are easily spared, and they will return a hundredfold in international good will and material profit, though few are thinking of that now.

THRIFT IN OUR SCHOOLS

Our schools reopened a few days ago, and it is appropriate that we give thought at this time to the important problem of thrift instructions to the young. In a recent statement, Secretary Hughes of the U. S. government said: "The primary lesson for the citizens of democracy is self-control, and this is achieved only through self-discipline. As I look back upon my own life I find the best lessons were the hardest."

It is important that our boys and girls be given thrift instructions, because of the things briefly referred to in this quotation from the U. S. Secretary of State. Thrift develops self-control and self-discipline, and we do no kindness to any child when we pamper it, when we make the way too easy, or when we foster the idea that life has no hardships.

More and more the subject of thrift is being taken up in our schools, and no educational movement is of greater importance. A few moments a day spent in the correct instruction of school children on these practical matters will prove of incalculable benefit to our nation and to all humanity.

CLAMORING FOR RICHES

Perhaps there was never a time in the history of the world when there were so many people clamoring for riches.

It is evident that this is one of the main reasons for the spirit of restlessness and dissatisfaction among practically all classes. People are not satisfied because they are making a fair living. But a "fair living" is not sufficient to satisfy the majority of the people. The majority, who once put forth their efforts and were pretty well satisfied with a fair living, are now clamoring for riches, fine homes, fine automobiles and luxuries that they never dreamed of obtaining a few years ago. They are worrying over the things that are farthest removed from their reach. They are sacrificing their peace of mind and solid contentment by plunging into debt for luxuries, and denying themselves of necessities.

With their concentration of minds and efforts on these things that they covet, they are forgetting the things that provide the essence of useful lives. They are forgetting God, charity of heart and mind toward their fellow-beings. When these things are forgotten, the foundation of citizenship is soon destroyed and chaos reigns.

FAIR NOTES

The fair is just a little over a month away. The time will pass rapidly. Are we going to be ready for it?

Miss Ney Barnett, home demonstration agent, informs us that she has secured very competent judges for the women's department.

The Texas Kid Rodeo Shows will furnish the amusements for the fair—and it's said to be the best of its kind on the road. Rodeo is becoming more popular every year, and is taking the place of the old time horse racing. They have 28 bucking horses, one of which is said to be wilder than the wildest and offer ten dollars to any one to mount it. Then there will be the 60 foot ferris wheel, hobby horses, shows, concessions, balloons, red lemonade, 'n everything. Oh, boy, I'm on my way to the Grapeland fair.

Community fairs are undergoing evolutionary changes and growth, just like everything else and the change in the fair attraction is from the old merchantile exhibit to the farm community display of products, home industries and the like. It is a progress which is most healthful. It represents not only a pride of producers in showing their products, but it is an evidence of the awakening of rural communities to the fostering of home interests. Bell county has a number of communities which have as much "fun" as do town folks, in the building up of neighborhood amusements, industries and advanced farming methods. When farming is made attractive and farm life what it ought to be, there will be check of the younger generations flocking cityward.—Banner Pythian-Knight, Temple.
