FARM TO CITY

An agricultural authority says that "a fourth of the people now engaged on American farms could be removed without notable decrease in total crop or livestock production." Mechanical efficiency makes it possible. If this is true, it means that after all the drift to the cities, which has so alarmed many observers, there is still an enormous surplus of manpower on the farms available for other economic purposes. If three-fourths of the people now on the farm could feed the nation, there are millions ready to add their productive power to industry. That would make possible a huge increase in industrial production. It would make manufactured goods cheaper for everybody. It would probably make agricultural products dearer. The remaining farm population would then get more for its crops and pay less for its purchases. It ought to mean increased Taoism, Confucianism and other faiths ordinarily termed "heathenism." That is for our enlightenment and consolation. As for others: "We have made a mess of things," he says, "by attempting to cram our conventionalized religion down the throats of races whose own religions contain precious values that humanity as a whole cannot afford to lose." Many agree with him now, though such a view would have led the rector to the stake in former times. The idea, however, whether right or wrong, spreads but slowly among our own religionists and among those of other races. Religious faith is seldom liberal.

DINNER STORIES.

"When I arrived here I had only a dollar in my pocket. With that small amount I made my start—"

"What did you do with the dollar?"

"Wired home for money."

"I'm working my way through college now. My father's musical career has failed."

"Don't cry, little boy. I'll buy your silk stockings. And how did your father fail?"

"The tin cup rusted out and then the monkey died."

Her husband had no bad habits whatever. "He spends all his evenings at home. Why, he doesn't even belong to a club." "Does he smoke?" inquired a friend. "Only in moderation. He likes a cigar after he has had a good dinner, but I don't suppose he smokes two cigars a month."

Harrisburg—$135,000 city improvement bond issue approved.

Laredo—$500,000 water filtration plant to be built here.

PIMPLY FACED PEOPLE LEARNING NEW METHOD

It is simply a question of knowing what it takes to clear out those diseases of the skin, like bumps, blotches, pimples, rash, eczema, "breaking out," etc. and the makers of Black and White Ointment and Black and White Skin Soap seem to have just what the skin needs to get rid of them quickly. The fact that more than two million packages of them are sold every year proves how popular they are.

Black and White Ointment and Skin Soap are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—ADV.

W. S. MORTIMER TO BE BURIED ON THURSDAY

Funeral services are to be held here Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for W. S. Mortimer, who died Sunday, June 19, at his home in Crossett, Texas. Burial will follow in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Mortimer was 62 years, 2 months and 19 days old, and death was caused by a sudden attack of heart trouble. He was an oil driller. Besides his widow, he is survived by two children, Guy Mortimer of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Edna Shiefley of Pittsburg, Pa. He was a 32 degree Mason, and had been a member of that order for 40 years. Mrs. Mortimer was formerly Mrs. Woodie Short, and resided in Cisco many years ago.

stating waves, at least for the present. It seems to be a good job. A radio fan reports that one night recently he "logged 40 stations and only got one whistle." For the first time in two years he enjoys clear reception from neighboring stations. He has no difficulty with programs from cities having several stations operating at the same time—the whole s.x in Chicago, for instance, came in without interference. "I am of the opinion," he tells the commission, "that your assignment is a success, and will prove so as time goes on. I believe 95 per cent of the complaints will be from those who have poor sets." Or, he might have added, from those in the neighborhood of poor sets which re-radiate and make trouble for others. Anyway, it is gratifying that the commission has done so much already to sweeten up the air. With better reception assured, radio entertainment takes on new interest and there may be a new boom in the radio industry.

A HOTEL PICNIC

A United States senator, invited to speak at a farmers' picnic, had the surprise of his life when he accepted. In the first place, the farmers held their picnic in a public park in a big city. When it came time to eat, the picnic party adjourned to a hotel for "luncheon." Said the senator: "Then the committee told me that only city folks go out in the woods for picnic dinners. Farmers come to town and go to the hotel." Perhaps it isn't so queer as it sounds. The farmer's work keeps him outdoors almost every day. As he goes about his routine tasks he can feast his eyes on the rural landscape, on his own orchards, his own woods and his own meadows. He chops wood for fuel for the heat with which his wife prepares his meals. When he wants a change and an outing, he naturally turns to new scenes—and they lie cityward. A city dweller, vacating in the Canadian northland, asked a resident if the natives had lots of sleigh ride parties in the winter? The answer was: "Do you have sleigh ride parties in the winter where you live? Sleighs and snowshoes are our only means of transportation in the winter, and we don't regard them as forms of social entertainment." So it is all in the point of view. When a senator wants a good, old-fashioned outing in the woods with a camp fire and picnic grub, he'd better join up with some city troop of boy scouts or camp fire girls.

HORSES FOR SPORT

A city in which a horse is a rare sight on the street reports that the apparent unpopularity of that noble beast is deceptive. There are plenty of horses on the outskirts of the city—and not for agricultural labor, either. They are used for riding. People go out by hundreds, and find it pleasant recreation in cantering along quiet roads, through woods and along streams, just as other hundreds take their pleasure in golfing. So the horse shifts from work to sport. And probably he likes that better.

COMPOSITE RELIGION

The Rev. William Guthrie, rector of St. Mark's church in New York, wants everybody to adopt "a monomethoistic religion embracing the best of all the faiths." He would give Christianity first place. But he would try to assimilate the best of Buddhism.

Are you seeking a perfect diamond?

If so, you may be surprised to learn that such stones are rare indeed. By perfect, of course, we mean perfect—not "perfect" as the term is often used on a price-ticket. There are scores of exceptional diamonds—beautiful stones in which the naked eye cannot possibly detect a flaw. But the microscope can. We judge, price and sell diamonds by the microscope—your one assurance of intrinsic, lasting value. Consult us.

Gorman Woman Wins Prize For Kitchen

To an Eastland county woman goes the honor of winning second place in the kitchen improvement contest in the district. Mrs. W. E. Clements of Gorman was the winner of second place.

Three crops of Irish potatoes from one planting is the experience of George Copeland, thirteen miles southwest of Cisco. Mr. Copeland raises Irish potatoes for the market, finding them to be the best paying crop of any he has yet tried. They come off the ground in May, which is early enough for the planting of other crops on the same land. He uses commercial fertilizer and prepares his land well before planting. After the potato crop is harvested the land is in fine shape for any other crop he may wish to raise. This fact causes the second crop to grow rapidly on a minimum amount of moisture.

After gathering his potato crop in the spring of 1926, he leveled off a small parcel of land for turkeys. Some of the small potatoes left in the ground came up with the turkeys and matured a crop of fall spuds, which he dug before frost, leaving the land level for what ever spring crop he might want to plant. To his surprise, the early spring rains again sprouted small potatoes left in the ground from the fall harvest. Just to see what they would do, he cultivated them in rows as much as possible and was rewarded with another crop this spring. He doesn't know just how long this would keep up, but says each crop was lighter than a first planting.

Texas Tech Will Get New Building

LUBBOCK, June 23.—With an appropriation of $600,000 for buildings and equipment now definitely assured for Texas technological college for the next two years, the institution will enter a new phase of its unprecedented growth. A half million dollars will be used in the erection of buildings and $100,000 for equipment. An engineering building, a building for home experiments, the first use of an agricultural building, and a greenhouse will be built the first year of the biennium and a science building will be constructed the second year.

McClung to Build Abilene Highway

ABILENE, June 21.—On its low bid of $146,786, the McClung Construction company of Fort Worth was awarded the contract for building concrete paving on highway No. 1 east from Abilene to Callahan county, a distance of 5.85 miles by the state highway commission Monday in making, according to messages from the capital.

SCRANTON

Everyone welcomed the rain which fell Sunday and Monday. The Scranton Baptist Sunday school will give a program at Dothan Sunday. The party given at Miss Thelma Bailey's last Saturday was enjoyed by all who attended. Many from here went to the Cisco dam Sunday. Misses Muri and Ruth Sprawls will give Miss Meri Ledbetter, who will leave for Stamford Sunday, a farewell party Friday night. Everyone has an invitation. Mrs. W. A. Lasater was very ill last week. Misses Mary Frances Johnson, Opal Gattis and Ledbetter have been quite ill. Miss Amy Johnson was the guest of Miss Erna Lasater Sunday. Miss Nina Bess Sprawls had as her week end guest Miss Glennie Fowler from Cisco. Roy Speagle spent Saturday night with Malby Johnson.

Dr. Clark will receive bids to erect a residence on the first day of August, 1927, at 1 o'clock, p. m. at the office of R. S. Glenn, architect. He reserves the right to accept of any or all bids. A certified check for five hundred dollars will be required with each bid, to guarantee a bond, within ten days from date of bids. Plans can be had from him by depositing $25 for their return. $9-91.50

Tomatoes and Turkeys Make John Stevens Independent of Cotton Prices; He Raises Many of Both

John Stevens of north of Cisco raises turkeys, peas, maize and tomatoes with cotton as a side line. He says he finds turkeys make good feed at a good price, while tomatoes make a banner crop. He began with two tons and a turkey pen as his start in the turkey raising venture and he considered it a venture. Twenty-five dollars was the price paid for this stock. The first year he sold over $300 worth of turkeys and kept a young tom and six hens for breeding purposes, in addition to his old ones. He is well established in the business now and sells all the hatching eggs he has. Each year he sells what surplus birds he has at a good price.

He finds turkeys easier to raise than chickens. After they get able to travel they are great runners and get much of their food from the bug and grasshoppers in the pastures. In addition to getting their food, they save his crops from these pests. He feeds a little grain each night to keep them coming home.

Feed, like peas, maize and corn, bring the highest price when fed to his turkeys, according to Mr. Stevens. He plants large crops of these feeds, and very little cotton. Turkey eggs, sold for hatching purposes, bring ready money during the spring, while brooding birds and culis for the market, bring money during the fall and winter months. He doesn't need the cotton.

Tomatoes solve the money problem for the summer months. A few years ago he began experimenting with tomatoes and finds them the best crop for sure summer cash that can be tried. He rarely fails to mature a good crop of them and always finds a ready market and a good price. He is careful to select seed of a firm mottled fruit with few seeds.

Putnam Child Is Buried at Carbon

Funeral services were held at Carbon Sunday in charge of Rev. Thomas Lemox for Raymond Harold Putnam, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harwell of near Putnam. The child died Saturday following an illness of several days.

TAKES TOOTH FROM LUNG OF GALVESTON WOMAN

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—Arriving here Saturday on a fast train from the west, Mrs. H. I. Davis of Galveston, Texas, was taken to the Jackson clinic at the Jefferson hospital, where a tooth was removed from her lung by means of a bronchoscope. The first attempt was successful.

Several days after she had a number of teeth extracted in Galveston, Mrs. Davis felt a pain in her lung. An X-ray photograph revealed the presence of the tooth, and she was urged to come to Philadelphia to have it removed.

BEDFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hibbert enjoyed a picnic dinner and a family reunion at Lake Cisco Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Mart Dalin had as a guest in their home last week Miss Delza White of Abilene. W. E. Spencer accompanied C. E. Sprull on a business trip to Dublin Monday.

Carl Daniel has moved his family back to the farm home for the summer; the two little boys, Worth and Varge attended the public schools in Cisco the past winter. Mrs. Wedekind and Mrs. Walters of Mineral Wells were guests of the Sprulls Monday afternoon. Mrs. Striman of Abilene is visiting her father, G. N. White.

Putnam Revival Holds Interest

L. P. Kopp of Cisco, district evangelist for the Christian denomination, is conducting a revival meeting at Putnam this week. A number of Ciscoans attended services there Sunday, and a special effort to take a large crowd there Tuesday night will be made. The meeting is reported as progressing satisfactorily, with large crowds nightly. Mr. Sparks of Snyder, son of a minister, is in charge of the singing, and is said to have created especially great interest among the children who have formed a children's choir.

West Dry Goods Building Sold

Judge J. D. Barker and his law partner, Clayton L. Orn, have purchased the building on Main street occupied by the West dry goods company, it was announced Wednesday. Jerry Clark of Hillsboro and Aaron Mayhew of Cisco sold the building, the consideration being $15,000. The building was bought as an investment, it was stated.

Comet, Twelve Times Earth's Size, Only 4,000,000 Miles Off June 27

(By International News Service) DES MOINES, Ia., June 21.—Roaring through the heavens at an approximate speed of a 1,000,000 miles a day, the Pons-Wiuricke comet, which last made an appearance for the denizens of this earth in 1921, is rushing toward us for another visit. It is expected to come closest to earth the night of June 27, when it will be approximately 4,000,000 miles away.

After making this close approach, astronomers figure the comet will wear away into space again. It is estimated to be twelve times as large as this earth. There is no danger, however, according to Dr. W. Morehouse, president of Drake University, and discoverer of the comet that bears his name, of the meteoric ball striking the earth or of even showering our planet with gaseous fragments. The earth's own atmosphere, he says, will prevent such a thing occurring.

Astronomers Busy
Astronomers all of the country, Dr. Morehouse says, are preparing to study the comet and take pictures of it June 27. It is plainly visible through their instruments at this time, but its comparative proximity to the earth the latter part of the month will offer an unusual opportunity for study.

What particularly interested scientists is whether or not the comet is a tail. In 1921 astronomers astonished to find, when it touched the earth, that it was a tail. They had been expecting a bright ball at that time whether it carried in its tail deadly monoxide gas, but when it had without its usual appearance, most their preparations were ruined.

Gets New Trail
Prof. J. J. Nassau, astronomer at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, reported that it apparently had picked up a tail in its actual wanderings, as it appeared fully equipped, however, after taking a peep at the comet contents this opinion, if it did pick up a tail, Dr. Morehouse says, it has again lost it for it now appears without the usual gaseous train associated with comets.

The comet will not be visible to the naked eye, Dr. Morehouse says, but probably can be seen through a strong pair of field glasses. Its position will be near the moon, he says.

Warm and Cold Colors to Match Complexion Urged

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Brunettes should wear "warm" colors, such as red, brown, orange and purple.

Blondes should choose the "cold" shades including blue, green and violet.

These are bits of advice offered by the American girls and women by Miss Grace C. Dimelow, clothing expert of Temple University, Philadelphia.

White may be worn by either blondes or brunettes, providing the skin is fair and the figure not too heavy, Miss Dimelow advises.

Stout persons should select smooth material while those with slender figures may choose the woolly, fuzzy stuffs.

SCOUTS WET BUT HAPPY AFTER RAIN

The Eastland county boy scouts in camp 18 miles northwest of Cisco at "Camp Gatewood" on Sandy Creek, came through the rainstorm of early Tuesday in fine shape, Judge Eugene Lanford and A. B. O'Flaherty found when they paid a visit to the camp Tuesday morning. The wind blew down three tents early Tuesday morning, routing the occupants, and Joe Ashill of Eastland was hit in the head by a pole and slightly injured. However, the boy refused to leave the camp and was getting along all right after first aid treatment had been given him. A heavy rain fell about daylight and made the road leading from the highway to the camp hard to get over. Sandy Creek rose a foot and a half.

Scout Executive G. N. Quiri is in charge of the camp, assisted by H. B. Tanner of Eastland and Tom Foley, Jr., and Tom Alford of Cisco. The boys declared they were having a great time, despite the rain. Judge Lanford found his son, Eugene, Jr., having a big time and unwilling to come home. Charles Spears and John Peter

Judge Pritchard is Strong for Court House Bonds

County Judge Pritchard Thinks Bonds Should be Voted For the Erection of a New Court House

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

Pursuant to the many inquiries made regarding the present condition of the court house in Eastland county, I beg to make the following report:

On May 16, 1927, the Commissioners Court of Eastland county, upon request made to them by petitions variously circulated and signed over Eastland county, called an election for July 9th, 1927, to determine whether or not the voters of Eastland county desired the court to issue bonds in the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, payable serially from one to forty years, drawing five per cent interest, to be used in the construction of a modern fire proof court house.

Some outside discussion has arisen regarding the location of the new court house and I feel it only fair to the qualified voters of this county to inform you that the commissioners court has already unanimously passed an order that the new court house will be erected on the site of the present court house, if the bonds are voted.

In answer to the charges and inquiries concerning the inadequacy of the present court house, I beg to state that the County is now renting quarters to house the tax collector, tax assessor, court of civil appeals, surveyor, and the jury room for the 61st district court, at a cost of approximately $4,500.00 per year. This has been necessitated on account of the lack of space in the present court house.

The present court house is thirty years old and is in very bad shape in a dangerous condition.

During the past two years numerous checks have developed throughout the walls of the building and in several of the offices the ceiling and walls in many places are giving away. The commissioners court had grand juries have secured reports from various architects who state that the building is going to pieces rapidly. The building not being a re-inforced steel and concrete building, it could not be successfully renovated or added to. I do not assume to state or even surmise how long the present building might stand, but some architects have reported that the building might collapse at any time, because of its heavy steel top, its lack of construction and the fact that the walls are giving away.

It is with some degree of effort that we have been able to maintain sixty thousand dollars worth of insurance on the building and all of the records therein. The fire insurance companies fear that the carrying of a wall is likely to cause a short in the wiring and so the building on fire and for that reason have demanded that the county expend additional funds for a special kind of insulation.

Many inquiries have been made to my office regarding the increase in taxes if the three hundred thousand bonds are voted. Under the present values it would require an additional tax rate of five and one-half cents on the one hundred dollar valuation to create interest and sinking fund for the first year and would decline as the principal was paid off, until the fortieth year it would be three and one-half cents. This would make an average tax rate over the period of years of four and one-half cents. This is of course based on the theory that the values would continue the same during the entire forty years. The rent we are now paying requires approximately a rate of one and one-fourth cents per annum; deducting the one and one-fourth cents for rent would leave an average tax rate of three and one-fourth cents increase per one hundred dollars valuation.

The debt on the present court house during the last five years has been reduced from forty-two thousand dollars to sixteen thousand dollars. The county now has nine thousand dollars court house interest and sinking fund in the County Treasury, leaving a net due of seven thousand dollars on the present court house, which will be paid soon.

It now looks like our continued slump in tax values has reached the bottom. Over three million dollars worth of taxable values have been created in this county since the first of January, which will go on the tax rolls next year. If values should continue to increase the rate will decrease in proportion thereto.

Many people know that I have heretofore opposed the court house bond issue and all other bond issues in this county, because of the financial depression of the county in the past. But since the county is now getting back on a sound financial basis and since the titles to everybody's property and the records are in a building which can only be insured for sixty thousand dollars, and the records alone could not be replaced for a million dollars, and for the further protection of the lives of the officers of the court and people who must come into court it seems to me that it is an expedient precaution to vote the bonds and build a new court house.

In conclusion I beg to state that I am not trying to dictate how any one should vote, but in face of the fact that the good people of Eastland county have been so nice to me in the past, I feel that I should make this statement in answer to the various and numerous inquiries from the citizens made throughout the county.

Respectfully submitted,
ED. S. PRITCHARD,
Judge of the Commissioners Court, Eastland County, Texas.

Minister Denies Bible is Inspired
NACOGDOCHES, June 22.—Rev. J. L. Massey, superannuated minister, declared here in an address to the congregation of the First Methodist church that he did not believe the Bible was "inspired," but that it is a compilation of the "experiences of the Hebrew people in their attempts to find God and God's revelation through their works." Dr. Massey added, however, that he believes "strongly in denouncing sin," and reaffirmed his belief in Christ as the Savior.

Plattenburg Tells Crowd "Education Builds Cities,"

QUALITY, NOT SIZE COUNTS, HE DENIES

TODAY
3 p. m.: Evelyn Gaston's dramatic reading, "My Lady's Dress."
8 p. m.: "The Patsy," comedy-drama.
FRIDAY
3 p. m. and 8 p. m.: Giles Artists Trio and address by A. B. McDonald.

It is not the size of your city, but the quality of its people that counts. "I'd rather live in a Cisco of 10,000 law-abiding citizens, than in a Cisco of 50,000 bootleggers and thieves." This was the burden of the address by Charles Howard Plattenburg at the chautauque Wednesday night when he spoke before a tent packed to capacity, opening a week of entertainment here. Mr. Plattenburg was preceded by the Premier Male quartet which had opened chautauque week in the afternoon with a program of music and humor.

Mr. Plattenburg's lecture, entitled "A Modern Tale of Two Cities," recounted how in the days before Kansas City and Omaha, Neb., were ever even dreamed of, a group of railroad builders conceived the idea of building a railroad that would connect the eastern coast with the western coast. They went to St. Joseph, Missouri, and asked for help. "The people of St. Joseph just laughed at them and called them a bunch of nuts," Mr. Plattenburg said. "They said that swiftness, if a railroad were built, it would have to start at St. Joseph and they'd get it without any cost. But those railroad builders, without a word, went out in the wilderness and staked out the future city of Kansas City and then staked out Omaha. Today the former has 600,000 population and is a financial center of the southwest, while the latter is a city of 200,000 and a queen city of the west. It takes sacrifice to get anything, and fighting spirit to keep it."

The speaker spoke at length on buying at home, declaring that he had never yet seen a city large enough for a woman to buy her clothes in. "The Cisco woman must shop in Fort Worth; Fort Worth is too small for her women, and they must go to Kansas City; Kansas City women go to Chicago; Chicago women go to New York; New York women have to go all the way to Paris; and everybody knows where the Paris women go." He declared that buying at home helps every merchant there, keeping local money at work right at home.

The speaker decried the tendency toward building great cities, declaring that the cities of the past have wrecked the forty great civilizations that have arisen in the world. He said that the larger the city, the more apt is the citizen to forget his ideals, since in larger places one knows fewer people and is not restrained by public opinion. He declared that if the American civilization is to be saved, it will be by the smaller towns and communities and not by New York which today is made up of hundreds of thousands of foreigners, many of them of the lowest type. He urged the building of better communities through proper support of churches, schools, business and clean amusement, all done through forgetting past jealousies and exercising the greatest of cooperation.

Friday's program features the Giles Artists Trio in concert both in the afternoon and night, and addresses by A. B. McDonald at both hours, the afternoon subject being "Is Prohibition a Failure," and the night subject, "Name Your Poison." Mr. McDonald investigated enforcement of the eighteenth amendment for the Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies Home Journal and the Country Gentleman, and for twenty-five years was a feature writer on the Kansas City Star.

ELECTION NOTICE

On this, the 16 day of May, 1927, the Commissioners' Court of Eastland County, Texas, convened in regular session at the regular meeting place thereof in the court house at Eastland, Texas, all members of the court, to-wit: Ed S. Pritchard, County Judge; V. V. Cooper, Commissioner Precinct No. 1; W. M. Burns, Commissioner Precinct No. 2; J. T. Poe, Commissioner Precinct No. 3; B. Britain, Commissioner Precinct No. 4; R. L. Jones, County Clerk.

It was moved by Commissioner Cooper and seconded by Commissioner W. M. Burns that there be submitted to the qualified voters of the said county who are property taxpayers therein, the proposition for the issuance of the bonds of the said county in the sum of $300,000.00 for the purpose of the erection of a court house, the election to be held on the 9th day of July, 1927; the motion carried by the following vote:

Commissioners Cooper, Burns, Poe, and Britain, voting aye. Thereupon the following election order was adopted:

Whereas, the County Commissioners' Court of the County of Eastland, Texas, deems it advisable to issue bonds of the said county for the purpose hereinafter mentioned:

Therefore, be it ordered by the commissioners' court of said county that an election be held on the 9th day of July, 1927, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

"Shall the Commissioners' Court of the County of Eastland, Texas, be authorized to issue bonds of said county in the sum of Three Hundred Thousand ($300,000.00) Dollars, payable serially one to forty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of Five Per Cent (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity, for the purpose of the erection of a court house as authorized by Title 22, Revised Statutes of Texas, 1925?"

The said election shall be held at:

NEARLY TWO MILLION GIVEN TEXAS ROADS

AUSTIN, June 22.—Federal aid to the state for the completion of road projects has steadily increased since January 1. It is revealed in a report issued by W. Gregory Hatcher, State Treasurer.

Since the beginning of the year a total of $1,844,673 has been received by the state from the United States department of agriculture, the report shows. The greatest amount received by the state treasurer during any one month of the year and deposited to the credit of the highway fund was for May, when a total of $451,198 was shown.

In making allotments, the state highway commission usually allots one-third state aid, one-third federal aid, and the remainder to be supplied by the county.

The money so far received will be expended on 5 road projects in various sections of the state to which allotments have already been made by the highway department.
