that a great deal depends upon the way the cows are handled. It is necessary to feed them properly and milk regularly. Mr. Perdue has solved his feed problem by putting half of his 62 acres of tillable land in feed crops. Last year he grew about 22 tons of maize on some 20 acres of land. He has two or three tons of this feed in his barn now. The maize, together with a good pasture, and two tons of cotton seed meal, which cost him approximately $50, have fed his cows during the past twelve months. It is necessary to feed cotton seed meal with the maize in order to give a fairly well balanced feed and "I wish you would tell your subscribers that now is the time to use plenty of water on trees, shrubs and grass," said J. B. Ely, local florist. "Every year hundreds of trees and shrubs in Cisco die during late July and August because of lack of moisture. I would suggest that a great deal of water be applied at one time, rather than frequent applications of a small amount. Roots of trees and shrubs go wherever the water is. If only a small amount of water is applied, instead of going down, the roots come up in search of the shallow penetration of water. The roots get too close to the surface and the heat kills them and the tree dies. But if water is allowed to run two or three hours to the tree, it soaks in to a depth that keeps the tree safe from the heat. Also, all plants should be planted in a depression so that the water will not run off."

Word was received here Thursday that Bradley Black, life guard at the Lake Cisco Amusement company, had satisfactorily passed the examination prescribed by the American Red Cross for life saving. The examination was given by Thomas Osborne, Jr., examiner at Abilene.

A number of petroleum workers are expected to go from Cisco tonight to attend the showing of a motion picture on safety first work for oil workers, scheduled at 8:15 o'clock at the Eastland City hall. The picture was shown at Breckenridge Wednesday night, attracting a large crowd. It illustrates safety rules as applied to the oil industry.

Harrell Creditors To Meet in Abilene

Notice of a final meeting of creditors of Tom Coleman Harrell, who has been adjudged bankrupt, has been received here from the referee. Bankruptcy at Abilene, in whose office the meeting will take place August 15, Mr. Harrell is a former county office holder and is well known throughout Eastland county.

Heathington Goes to Lake to Find Out What All This Talk's About, And He Leaves to Add His Praise

Joe Heathington, from 18 miles southwest of Cisco, sold watermelons and chickens here Tuesday, went out to see the lake, and was so impressed with the bigness of everything out there that he will bring his family to the big celebration Friday. "I had heard much talk of the big dam, the bridge and the largest swimming pool in the whole world, but I thought it was just talk, but now I am satisfied that nothing said or printed concerning these projects has been in any way exaggerated," said Mr. Heathington.

Mr. Heathington has a nice little farm and pasture on which he raises the common run of crops and a few acres of watermelons for the market. He has been raising melons on a rather large scale for the past several years and finds that a quality melon finds a ready market. For this season he has taken great pains to develop a melon of large size and fine texture. He has often

CELEBRATION TO BE CITY'S BIGGEST DAY

Cisco Thursday was ready for what is expected to be the greatest celebration in the history of the city when possibly the largest crowd ever assembled for a West Texas event will gather here for dedication of the huge projects at Lake Cisco. Estimates of the crowd expected for the day have been placed at 50,000 here, and word from the outside is that the interest created in the event should easily see that number here for the day. As a result, committees have projected all their plans on caring for a crowd of that size, and merchants have put in stocks of goods calculated to supply the wants of the visitors.

Committees Friday were checking over their tasks to see that nothing had been left undone. C. O. Pass, chairman of the transportation committee, held a meeting of the 50 special traffic officers who will function tomorrow in directing traffic, and gave them final directions on handling the crowd. Final touches were being put on the "Golden Horseshoe" on which the bathing girl revue will be staged at the bathing beach at 8:30 tomorrow night. The Country club was completing arrangements for the ball which will be tendered in honor of the visiting bathing girls, their escorts and chaperones.

Many Bathing Girls

Up to noon Thursday, 25 Cisco girls, representing business houses, and 15 out-of-town girls had been definitely promised for the contest. Names of all but a few of them had been turned in to the chamber of commerce. Miss Lorraine Cox was selected as Eastland's representative in the revue after a voting contest lasting a week. A wire from Dallas said "Miss Dallas" would be selected from a group of contestants before the Dallas "Wholesalers' club today. She will fly to Cisco in company with Miss Ruby E. Thompson, aviatrix who has entered the Dallas to Hong Kong airplane flight. Other of the Hong Kong flyers are expected to arrive here this afternoon or early Thursday, as well as J. M. Moelendick, airplane manufacturer of Wichita, Kansas.

Officials of the chamber of commerce Thursday emphasized that admission to the Lake Cisco grounds for the big events such as Governor Dan Moody's address at 4 o'clock and the bathing girls' revue at 8:30 p. m. will be absolutely without charge. Rumors appear to have gotten out that a charge was being made to the grounds, which rumor is without foundation.

Governor Speaks at 4

Arrangements have been made to rush Governor Dan Moody here from Mineral Wells shortly after noon Friday. The governor is scheduled to review the troops of the Texas National Guard in camp there Friday morning and attend found that people will pay almost double the price for a melon they have found to be extra good as compared with one doubtful in quality. He likes to market his produce in Cisco for he says he has found no place so ready to pay a proper price for an extra good article.

He raises a great number of chickens each year. He has had more than 400 hatched off this season, most of which have lived. Mr. Heathington sells eggs the year round and, considering that he raises his own feed, he counts the money as mostly clear profit. He thinks that taking into account the number of eggs and chickens consumed at home, he gets fairly paid for his feed in this way.

He uses his pasture for raising a few colts and calves each year. He recently sold a span of young mules which he had raised for $500. A few yearlings sold each spring also help to augment the family treasury.

The ring of the hammer could be heard throughout the valley below Lake Cisco bridge Thursday. Carpenters and amateur carpenters were busy erecting various concession booths in anticipation of heavy demand for food and drink throughout the day. One cold drink dealer alone ordered 1,000 cases or 24,000 bottles of soda water, and other articles were being ordered in proportion.

Distinguished guests are expected to "come here from all parts of the state on invitation of the chamber of commerce. Among the latest to accept was Mrs. J. U. Roumania Under Martial Law To Prevent Possible Coup By Prince Carol During Funeral of Father BUCHAREST, July 21.—All that was earthly of King Ferdinand of Roumania came back to Bucharest today to the capital over which he presided as probably the most unhappy ruler of the day. He died at Sinaia palace yesterday. The body was accompanied by all the pomp and ceremony befitting a doid monarch. The king's funeral was postponed until Sunday in order that time may be allowed for foreign kings and princes to arrive. King Alexander of Yugoslavia and two cabinet officers will arrive at Bucharest tonight for the funeral services.

A frail little youngster going on six, with long brown curls, today is the ruler of the biggest kingdom in the turbulent Balkans. He is King Michael I of Roumania, who was proclaimed yesterday in the great house of parliament 14 hours after father died. Little King Michael will not rule his kingdom personally until he is 18 years old. A regency was sworn in when he took the throne. The regents are Prince Nicholas, Patriarch Myron, and Patriarch Rudzigan.

Flags are at half-mast throughout the country today. Government offices are closed and special prayers are being offered in the churches. All Roumania is quiet but troops are being held in readiness, and martial law has been declared in event political leaders friendly to former Crown Prince Carol might attempt a coup. Carol, exiled following a scandalous love affair, is in Paris. He will not be allowed to enter the country.

25 AMERICAN MARINES DIE, REBEL CLAIM

MEXICO CITY, July 21.—The bodies of 25 U. S. marines were taken to Kenndaga and Leon after the battle of Ocoatl, Nicaragua, between marines and General Sandino's rebel forces, according to a statement issued by Pedro Zepeda, agent of the Nicaraguan liberals here. Zepeda declared he had received his information from Costa Rica. Zepeda denies that General Sandino is a bandit. He says Sandino has 1100 men under him and that only 400 of these took part in the Ocoatl battle. Official reports stated that one marine was killed and another wounded in the Ocoatl battle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wroten have laid the foundation for an ideal home over in the Mansell addition. They have purchased about three blocks lying between Sixth and Ninth streets and have it all fenced for a range for their pure bred Ancona chickens, with the exception of a small space on which they are growing peas, beans, June corn and the most prolific bearing tomatoes the writer has ever seen.

These people have labored under great disadvantage, being located out of the city limits and hence, not having the advantages of the water system, but this and other conveniences have been secured and irrigation has been practiced since May.

Now, Mr. Wroten is a carpenter by trade and the effects of his skill are seen in many ways about their little home. He has a great love for things of a domestic nature, securing as he says, the greatest enjoyment from tending his beautiful flock of chickens and working with the vegetables and fruit trees.

Mrs. Wroten is a very energetic woman with artistic taste, which is manifested in the groups of lovely flowers set in fitting places about the yard, and tended with intelligent and loving care. Mr. Wroten admits that his wife is the "brains" of the establishment. She uses great care in the selection of seeds for planting, realizing that breeding has much to do with the offspring. This is truly evident in their tomatoes. These vines are literally loaded with fruit, each vine containing no less than half a hundred well matured tomatoes of the most delicious texture and taste.

They used the same care in selecting their breed of chickens. They were not content with anything less than the best breed in the country. Every thing growing on the place stands out with quality showing all over.

The Wrotenes have a vision in their mind of a lovely place in which to enjoy old age when it comes. The fencing is formed with iron posts driven two feet in the ground and these with galvanized wire will last for years. Fruit trees are being set everywhere to take the place of the natural grove of oaks which will be felled as soon as the fruit trees are large enough for shade.

GILBERT SAYS ESTIMATES ON CROWD SMALL

The crowd expected in Cisco Friday at the Lake Cisco celebration has been underestimated, rather than overestimated, according to a letter received by the chamber of commerce Thursday from Victor B. Gilbert, floral representative from this district to the state legislature. Mr. Gilbert has just returned to his home at Putnam after a trip to Amarillo and other western points, and, accepting an invitation to be present here tomorrow, wrote:

"Thanks for your letter and the invitation to the big show next Friday. We are going to put some chairs in the wagon and all of us will be there—couldn't afford to miss any part of the program, because we feel just like our country is getting more and better and advertising than ever in our history. I was in Amarillo and other western cities yesterday, and we will have a fine representation from that portion. I predict your estimate of the crowd is under and not over, and it is to be hoped the weather man will keep us in mind with a favorable day. You fellows certainly deserve the congratulations of the entire country, and I believe you have it. You have gotten big results while others were 'wind jamming'."

Another letter of much interest was that received from R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from Texas, who expressed regret that he will be unable to attend. "My inability to go is a source of very sincere disappointment to me," Mr. Creager wrote, "but business matters entrusted to my care absolutely prevent my being away on the 22nd. You have my very best wishes. I am sure you are going to have a splendid crowd."

"Do not forget that if now or in the future I can be of service to you or to your really wonderful little city, you have only to call upon me."

Scouts to Have First Aid Tent For Celebration

To aid in the celebration tomorrow the Boy Scouts will have a first aid and lost children's tent. The tent will be equipped with two cots and first aid equipment.

Boy Scouts in uniform will parade the grounds in search of any little ones that might get separated from their parents. They will also handle the distribution of the free tea water and assist at any other places needed.

All scouts that have uniforms are requested to report for duty at tent on the grounds at 8 p. m. Friday.

Troops Nos. 2 and 4 will meet at their respective meeting places tonight to prepare for tomorrow.

Ad Valorem Raised Two Cents After Terrell and Hatcher Are Reconciled on Prison Revenue

AUSTIN, July 21.—The ad valorem tax rate for 1928 was fixed today at 25 cents by the state tax board composed of Gov. Dan Moody, Comptroller S. H. Terrell, and State Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher. This is an increase of two cents over the present rate. Gov. Moody pointed out that the rate for the biennium probably would not exceed 50 cents, as compared with the present 38 cent rate. The rate fixed by the board today is exclusive of the 35 cent school tax and the seven cent pension tax which will remain at the present figures.

Differences arose between Treasurer Hatcher and Comptroller Terrell as to what should be accepted as the revenue from the prison system which now goes into the general treasury. Hatcher estimated $3,000,000 while Terrell estimated it at $1,000,000.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SCOTT LATE TODAY

Funeral services are to be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home for Mrs. Rebecca E. Scott, wife of R. E. Scott, superintendent of the city water department, who died late Wednesday. The home is located at 707 West Fourth street, and following the services, the body will be forwarded to Terrell, where burial will take place in College Mound cemetery.

Mrs. Scott was born in Kaufman county, Texas, November 4, 1872. She was one of six children born to Isaac and Eliza Cole. When a child she joined the Methodist church. She was married to R. E. Scott on December 12, 1897. In 1901 she joined the Baptist church with her husband. To this union were born three children, one having died in infancy. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Norine Reed and Ina Mae Scott, two grandchildren, Katherine Reed and David Cole Reed, one brother, W. M. Cole of Kaufman county, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Williams of Long Beach, Cal. All were at her bedside at time of death. Mrs. Scott had lived in Cisco for the past seven years.

Houston Police Chief Under Fire of WCTU

HOUSTON, July 21.—Houston today was interested in conferences between Mayor Holcombe and Police Chief Woodson. Although no official comment was made it is considered the mayor and the chief discussed privately the charges made by Mrs. Bains, district president of the W. C. T. U., that the police themselves are "throwing wild parties and drinking all the liquor they want." The women demanded that the mayor get a new police chief, but the mayor answered that when he was shown Woodson was not doing his duty, he would replace him. The women said they would appeal to the attorney general if necessary to stop the sale of home brew supplies here.

FARMER HELD IN ALLEGED BRIBE EFFORT

MARSHALL, July 21.—Arrested C. H. Hughes, tenant farmer on the Jewel Anderson farm on charges of attempting to bribe witnesses, today was the latest development in the flagging cases in which Cain Anderson, wealthy farmer, and De Witt Osborne are scheduled to face trial Monday next. Hughes was arrested last yesterday by Ranger C. M. Ezzell. Hughes, the complaint charges, proposed to give the witnesses a small automobile, $100 and to buy their wagon and team for $80 if they would leave the country and not testify against Anderson. Anderson and Osborne face trial on charges of violating the state anti-racket law in the flagging of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Strappes on the night of June 8.

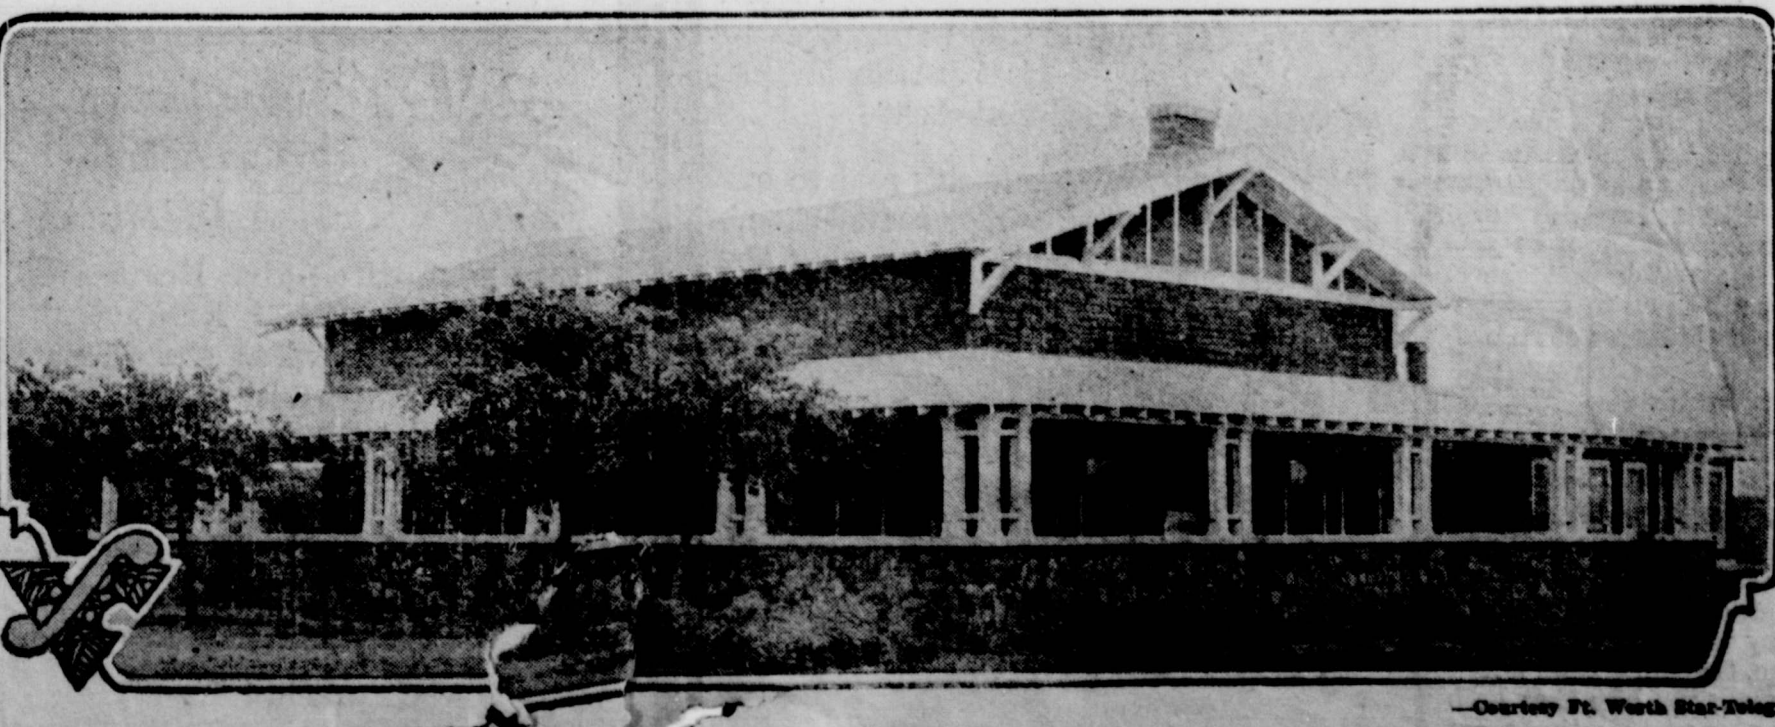

American Steamer Reported Sinking

LONDON, July 21.—The American steamer Homestead is sinking off the Malabar coast, according to a Central News dispatch from Bombay. Several vessels are reported fishing to her assistance. Lloyd's register gave the Homestead as a vessel of 6,861 tons, owned by the United States Shipping Board.

Texan Killed, Son Injured in Crash

THE MILK TRUCK

The horse is now threatened with banishment from the last job on which he has anything like a monopoly—the city milk route. Dobbin has kept that job because of peculiar fitness. The efficiency shown by the motor truck for other kinds of hauling did not apply to milk delivery. The milk carrier must make so many stops that it didn't pay. Stopping and starting again at every house took too much energy and wore out too many brake bands and clutch linings.

ANCESTRAL REVERENCE

"You have done excellent work in emphasizing phases of American history," wrote Carrie Chapman Catt, veteran woman suffrage leader, to the Daughters of the American Revolution. "Good citizens are grateful to you for it. Of late you appear to have wandered from your original objective." Her abuse was based on a broadside attack on "radicalism," under the name of "The Common Enemy," a publication which is said to have been distributed at D. A. R. meetings with the evident approval of that body.

GETTING UPSTAIRS

Labor saving inventions are said to be mostly the work of people too lazy to do things in the ordinary way. Spaniards are notoriously indolent. It seems fitting, then, that a Spaniard has invented a new and easier way to go upstairs. He places at the head of the stairway a light motor, which winds up a rope on a pulley. When you want to go upstairs, you just hang onto the rope. The pressure starts the motor, and it pulls you up the steps. Then you throw the rope down again, to be ready for the next fellow. Yes, it works, but it makes you use your feet, and it's hopelessly primitive.

And when Byrd flies to the South Pole, will he have a warm reception there?

Will congress also confer a distinguished service medal on the ensign of the U. S. Coast Guard who, single-handed, boarded and captured a rum-runner with a $500,000 cargo?

CROSS-COUNTRY RACES

Two motorists were killed the other day in Kansas while engaged in trying to beat, by seven hours, a fast train from Chicago to Los Angeles. Now Kansas sheriffs are instructed to stop such performances hereafter, arresting any racers who violate the state speed limit, no matter under what pretext. That limit is 40 miles an hour, which ought to be enough for anybody, particularly if Kansas roads are as bad as the Kansas newspapers say they are.

INCOME TAX CUTTING

Most of the income tax payers last year had their taxes cut but slightly for 1925 income. The big fellows fared better. The seven who returned incomes for $5,000,000 or over enjoyed a cut from their former 39.56 per cent down to 16.71 per cent. Thus they saved more than half of what they would have paid under the old law. On an average, that may have saved them a million apiece. Oh, well, "to him that hath shall be given." It is a familiar phenomenon that great wealth multiplies itself faster than small wealth. It may be sound economics, too, as many economists maintain, "encouraging business" and likewise encouraging honest income tax reports. Next winter, though, there is going to be a demand for further tax relief for the little fellows, based on these same "higher bracket" figures and the big treasury surplus.

London was flabbergasted the other day when the tide in the Thames, due at 8:51 a. m., didn't appear until after 10. The British people unanimously agree that something should be done about it.

BEHAVIOR PATTERNS

"I started in to teach my baby to obey when he was a few weeks old," said one mother. "My doctor, who had a child the same age, thought my policy not only absurd but cruel. The idea of disciplining an infant in the cradle!" He exclaimed. But I continued my policy because I was convinced and still am, that babies know a great deal more than they are credited with knowing. "When my boy was three years old he developed a trouble with his throat. I called my same doctor and he said the throat must be painted with iodine. 'Now the trouble will begin!' he said. 'If you don't!' I replied. 'I told my little boy to open his mouth and stick out his tongue. He did so and he sat still while the treatment was given him. The doctor was amazed. 'Why?' he exclaimed. 'It would take all the folks in the house to hold my youngster if I had to paint his throat!'"

"A child of five or six years may have a bad temper. He can be taught as he grows older to exercise self-control so that it will not often be manifested. Would it not be better for him though, if he had acquired a good temper instead of the bad?"

A new viewpoint has been gained in recent years which serves to make clear another reason for the appearance of mental traits which were formerly supposed to be due to heredity. It is now seen that other influences are at work, which either were not recognized or not given proper consideration as factors in the formation of character.

Now is understood better than before the enduring influence of habits that begin in the earliest years of life, in the nursery, or even in the cradle. In the young child, as a result of habit, certain types of behavior, or patterns of behavior become established which continue through life. Later, these behavior patterns can be modified by training but cannot be wholly eradicated.

Perhaps the child had learned, while yet an infant, that he could get what he wanted if he cried loud and long enough. Perhaps he had learned, when a little older, that bad behavior as tantrums, screaming, rolling on the floor or sulking, brought him what he wanted after his request had been refused or ignored.

If he had had this experience once, you may be sure he would repeat the action when next the occasion arose. Soon it would be a pattern of behavior appearing whenever his wishes were opposed. When older he will not scream but he will be angry and resentful.

If in the beginning it had been that bad behavior had gained him nothing and he could have had his wish, if at all, only by good behavior, the child would have seen that anger was useless and that particular pattern of behavior would not have become fixed.

Other patterns of behavior, good as well as bad, are formed in imitation of older children and adults.

Not having yet acquired reason and judgment the small child is unselfish; he openly imitates all that he sees and hears of the actions of older people. In this way many likes and dislikes, tastes and ambitions which in later years become crystallized into character traits, have their beginning. Calmness and poise as well as nervous and panicky behavior in the presence of an emergency, are nothing more than behavior patterns established by imitation and made permanent by repetition. The elders are responsible, far more than they realize, for the conduct of the children in the family. In the making of behavior patterns we see new meanings in the old adage: 'As the twig is bent the tree is inclined.'

DINNER STORIES.

He was boring her to tears when in came her dog. "Ah," he exclaimed, "have you taught him any more tricks since I was last here?" "Yes," she said sweetly, "if you whistle he will bring your hat!"

It was at the scene of an automobile accident: "An elderly lady in one of the first cars to be stopped by the debris of the smash-up, leaned over her car as a very much battered man, with a hastily arranged bandage around his ankle, hobbled by.

"Oh, my," she said, "did you hurt your ankle?" "Naw," replied the man. "I lost both eyes. This bandage slipped down."

In London this story is going the rounds: A man called on Rudyard Kipling and said to his maid: "If Mr. Kipling is at work, do not disturb him." "Work!" exclaimed the maid. "He don't do no work, he only sits upstairs and scribbles and scribbles."

Letters to the Editor

To the Cisco Daily News: It has been my pleasure to visit and work in twenty-five towns in Texas adjacent to Cisco, and to my way of thinking there is none of them that comes up to Cisco. When you consider her schools, college, churches, hotels, doctors, hospitals, amusements, merchants, the big lake dam, bridge, swimming pool, creamery—in fact everything that goes to make a clean, nice healthy beautiful city—we have all got to take our hats off to Mayor Williamson and his cabinet bunch, when we see the wonderful things he and the city commission have done for Cisco.

I wish to say to my relatives and friends all over Texas, you will miss something if you fail to see the big celebration at Lake Cisco on the 22nd of this month, or Friday, Putnam, Texas. J. H. SURLS.

DRY RAIDERS GET LIQUOR IN VICINITY OF COOLIDGE

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 18.—A squad of federal agents descended on the summer capital of the nation over the week end, raided eleven alleged bootleggers and seized a small quantity of corn liquor. The agents were headed by E. L. Senn, South Dakota prohibition director, who has a reputation as being the man who cleaned up Deadwood, known as the "toughest town in the west," until he purged it several years ago. The dry workers have been working here since President Coolidge and the presidential party arrived from Washington, and the raids were a result of the information they obtained. Simultaneous raids were made in other cities of the Black Hills, half a dozen being jailed in Deadwood.

HOUSTON, July 18 — J. B. Hammond was under a murder charge here today and police were seeking another man in connection with the mysterious death here yesterday of W. R. Jones. Jones left here a week ago, telling his wife he was going to see a doctor. He was brought home in a taxicab and told his wife he had been attacked in a gambling hall. Cow Makes Good Returns, Says Scranton Farmer

Perdue Makes $30 a Month Net Profit Off Six Cows, Besides What Family Uses; Varnell Gleans Farm Figures

By E. H. VARNELL, County Agricultural Expert.

"I milk on an average of six cows, which pay me about $30 per month above their feed. In addition to this, they furnish our family with all the milk and butter we need," says M. L. Perdue, who lives about seven miles from Cisco on the Scranton road.

Mr. Perdue explained how he raises his way as he goes. He says that a great deal depends upon the way the cows are handled. It is necessary to feed them properly and milk regularly. Mr. Perdue has solved his feed problem by putting half of his 62 acres of tillable land in feed crops. Last year he grew about 22 tons of maize on some 20 acres of land. He has two or three tons of this feed in his barn now. The maize, together with a good pasture, and two tons of cotton seed meal, which cost him approximately $50, have fed his cows during the past twelve months. It is necessary to feed cotton seed meal with the maize in order to have a fairly well balanced feed and keep from drying up the cows. Corn or any of the maize crops, when fed to cows without alfalfa hay or cotton seed meal, or other protein feed, tends to check milk production.

Mr. Perdue began his cream and butter business when he was working on a ranch several years ago by buying a good cow now and then. The milk was skimmed by hand. Now he has a separator. Last month's sales amounted to $47.00. During the past twelve months he has also sold four calves, which brought $120. Mr. Perdue says that he can get along fairly well on a quart of milk per meal, and that the $30 per month comes in handy.

Cow Worth 19 Baits

A story comes from Atlanta, Ga., that one Holstein cow produced in one year milk and butter worth as much as sixteen bales of cotton. Another item from Tyler says that an East Texas cow, that gives an average of a gallon and a half of milk for ten months, and the average amount of butter, will bring as much profit as six acres of cotton, or, translated into pounds, will equal one and one-half bales of cotton. In figuring the profit on the average Smith county cow, the current price of feed used, 20 cents per hour was charged for labor, and butter was figured at 30 cents per pound. The article further states that "the work of taking care of the cow, however, must be every day, rain or shine, and Sundays, yet in the long run there will be only about ten hours, counting 15 minutes per day for the cow, while it will take a total of about forty hours spent on the cotton patch."

We wonder how this would figure out for Cisco. If you have any information along this line please give it to us.

Strawberries Pay Well

Charles Wende, of the Wood community, made $263.00 this spring and summer from the sale of strawberries on about one-fourth acre of irrigated land. In addition to the money income from the strawberries, the Wende family has a good supply of canned strawberries, and strawberry preserves for home use, and strawberries are still coming on the vines. Two thousand plants that cost about $100 were used to set the patch. They are of the Klondike and Mission varieties and were set in September of last year. Mr. Wende irrigates his strawberry patch from a small tank. He says that without irrigation his strawberries would have made very light yields. Strawberries have paid Mr. Wende well. We wonder if there are not others who might profit by his experience.

Cull Poor Layers

Poor layers among a flock of hens begin to mount at this time of year. Hens that shed their feathers in July and August are usually the non-profitable ones to keep and should be culled from the flock. Some six weeks is required for the moulting process during which time a hen will lay very few, if any, eggs, and it is very difficult to get an early moulting hen into profitable laying again before spring. A fairly safe rule to go by from now until the last of August is to cull the hens that are moulting, have yellow legs, small scaly combs and hard fatty abdomens.

Some Creamery Figures

Five million pounds of sour cream bought last year by six of the largest creameries in Texas, brought an average price of $37.07 to the producer. Seven hundred thousand pounds of sweet cream, sold during the same period, averaged $49.97 per pound, a difference of 12 cents per pound.

Texas Leads in Mohair

Texas leads the world in mohair production. We have over two-thirds of all the goats in the United States, with double the average production of mohair, because they are shorn twice annually. With our many acres of rough, rocky land, it seems that our people around Cisco might produce more of this valuable product. Goats are found here on only a few farms where they are being used to clear small brush on land. Walter Ray is running some 500 goats on his 1,800 acre farm north of Cisco and says that they shear an average of from five to six pounds of mohair which is worth 50c to 60c per pound and about $1 per pound for kid hair. At this rate the profit on a few hundred goats would soon pay the expense of fencing, which is necessary because of wolves. Guy Dabney of the Cisco Banking company, a pioneer in the goat industry, says that goats, when properly handled, will return a profit of about 50 per cent on the investment. He tells of seeing John Word of Menard, Texas, pay $2750 for a goat, which he carried off under his arm.

Irrigation a Success

A number of local people have an opportunity to irrigate in a small way, at least. It would be interesting to know how many thousands of dollars Cisco spends for truck crops that are shipped here, most of which comes from South Texas and from other sections where irrigation is practiced. For the person who is interested in irrigation, a visit to the farm of John Dye on the Cisco-Breckenridge road would be profitable.

Between January 1 and May 24, this year, truck farmers of Texas shipped a total of 19,708 cars of vegetables, including 4250 cars of spinach, 1738 cars of potatoes, 3744 cars of onions, and 8,685 cars of mixed vegetables. Quite a lot of this stuff came to Cisco and other West Texas towns. The man who can irrigate here would have the advantage of no competition except from distant points.

Penants, Cards Advertise Cisco

Cisco now has some penants of its own. "Cisco, the Big Dam City" are the words emblazoned in black on a field of gold in a quantity of pennants just received by the chamber of commerce and distributed to all drug stores and confectioneries here for sale. The dealers will handle them at about cost to encourage their use in advertising Cisco. The pennants are especially adaptable for use on automobiles of those making long summer tours, but are highly decorative for other occasions as well.

Through efforts of Walton's Studio, a large number of picture post cards of scenes in Cisco and at Lake Cisco are now on sale here. The pictures are colored and are expected to do much toward advertising the city, both by use or residents and through sale to tourists, many of whom seek pictures of Cisco when they stop here.

Desdemona Gasser Deepened, Makes Oil

By going down to a deeper sand, the Abernathy No. 3 of the Post-Duke Oil company, 3 miles north-east of Desdemona, has been made into a small oil well after being a gasser for three years. The well was originally drilled to the Desdemona sand, around 2,675 feet, but was recently deepened to 3,100 and is now making 12 barrels of oil and 1,000,000 feet of gas a day.

The Magnolia is laying a 6-inch pipe line in the Desdemona field, from the Peak tank farm to the Moorehead tank farm.

The Shaw interests have made location for their Tidwell No. 2, north of the Abernathy tract. A dwelling house will be built on their lease and a telephone line to town will be erected.

The dam at the McMan Oil & Gas company's plant on the Reynolds lease, three-quarters of a mile south-east of Desdemona, broke one morning during the recent rains, part of the water reaching the main street of Desdemona. The dam impounded 8,500,000 gallons of water.

SAY STERLING MAY BE ASPIRANT FOR GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, July 20.—Friends of R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the state highway commission, Tuesday declared Sterling likely will be a candidate for governor in 1928 if Governor Dan Moody decides to try for the United States senate. Mr. Sterling, however, has never made any statement concerning political affairs since he has been head of the commission, all the time of his frequent stops in Austin having been given over to pressing highway affairs.

NEW GORDON POOL GUSHER MAKING 1100

Flowing steadily nearly 50 barrels an hour at the rate of slightly more than 1,100 barrels a day, the Watson No. 2 of C. M. Root and John Fehl, Eastland operators, is the newest gusher in the Gordon pool, eight miles northeast of Cisco.

The new well is the fourth producer in the gusher class to be completed in the pool, the other big wells being Mc Lester Oil company's No. 1 Thorp, which came in for 1,500 barrels; G. A. Davison's No. 1 Good, 1,100 barrels; Mc Lester's No. 2 Thorp, 700 barrels; and the discovery well, Ramsower No. 1 of Col. Robert D. Gordon, 520 barrels. The gusher is about 125 feet southwest of Root & Fehl's Watson No. 1 which came in about four months ago with a big flow and was estimated at 2,000 barrels a day. However, the No. 1 bridged and could never be made into a commercial well. The No. 2 Watson is virtually an east offset to Mc Lester's first big well.

C. M. Root and John Fehl, owners of the new gusher, are among the most active operators in the Eastland field. Mr. Root, a veteran of many fields, has been successful in Oklahoma, California, Kansas and Texas. His associate, Mr. Fehl, has drilled a number of wells in this territory and has been quite successful in shallow development below Cross Plains.

Mr. Root and associates have drilled five wells in the Gordon sector and despite the fact that the first two failed to produce, they did not lose confidence. Then the No. 1 Watson came in and though it could not be made into a well, its early performance gave strong evidence that the oil was there. The No. 2 Watson richly confirms this. In addition, Mr. Root recently gave the pool quite an extension to the northeast when he brought in a 16,000,000-foot gasser.

Three Youths Slide Down Peak: Frozen

ESTES PARK, Col., July 20.—Three Altoona, Iowa, youths today are suffering the unique distinction of frozen feet in July.

Hugh Morrison, 19; Milton Fisher, 17 and Carl Cole, 18, who are spending their vacation here, were rescued this morning by a searching party, under the leadership of Robert Collier, after an alarm had been sounded following their disappearance from camp last night. The boys, suffering severely from frozen feet, were found by their rescuers this morning on an 18-inch ledge, 400 feet down the side of Long's Peak, which they had endeavored to scale yesterday. In making their descent they had slid down the 400-foot face of the cliff to the ledge and had been unable to retrace their steps.

U. S. MARINES ROUT REBELS AFTER BATTLE

General Sandino is in flight but marine airplanes are searching for him over the mountains. So complete was the American victory over the Nicaraguans that no further attack is expected. The Nicaraguan dead are expected to reach

1927 COTTON YIELD IS TO-LOW MARK

NEW YORK, July 18. — The movement of cotton westward, following Horace Greeley's advice, seems likely to be abruptly halted. The cotton belt covering about 40,000,000 acres in west and north-west Texas and Oklahoma, has experienced a severe early season drought.

Plantings Late The section had a six months drought, however, which was not thoroughly broken until June 15. Plantings were late in many fields and government records show the average period from planting to maturity is 120 to 137 days. This will make the crop late, and place around 17,250,000 bales or 2,000,000 bales more than last year. This would mean the need of approximately 15,000,000 bales of lint from the new crop. Acreage Less The check which last year's low prices gave to cotton expansion in California was reflected sharply in the state acreage report which showed 128,000 acres under cultivation as compared with 167,000 a year ago.

Better Prices For Farm Crops Assure Prosperity

NEW YORK, July 19. — There has been no decided tendency toward wage reduction in the United States since January 1. State and federal employment bureaus reporting from different sections indicate that fact today. This, according to B. C. Seipel, manager of the state city employment bureau of the Cleveland Industrial Territory, assures a continuation of high consumption, active production, maintenance of purchasing power and consequent satisfactory retail sales.

Prices Advancing
Weather conditions in the farm districts have been more favorable lately. Prices have advanced in corn, wheat and cotton to levels above those recorded at this time last year. The indications are that despite the setbacks the agricultural communities which account for a goodly part of the volume of retail trade will be fully as prosperous as a year ago unless the weather again turns unfavorable. This, despite the somewhat pessimistic report of the department of agriculture.

General business activity supports the above conclusions since the volume of purchasing now is shown by bank debits and other indications to be about seven per cent higher than a year ago. Naturally there will continue some dullness during the heated summer period. But business men anticipate a fine expansion of buying with the advent of fall and a big holiday season.

Conditions Good
A 4,000 mile automobile trip just concluded by a trained observer through all the states east of the Mississippi and north of the Mason and Dixon line, showed crop conditions favorable, but not more generally favorable than in Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. In fact, the situation in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and parts of Northern Michigan and Wisconsin is brighter than for the country as a whole. Corn is causing the greatest anxiety at present, but even this product is advancing fast.

The steel industry seems certain to experience a marked recovery from summer dullness with consequent high buying power by workers. The building and building material industries are favorably situated although some skilled men are out of work in certain sections.

The late reports indicate that retail sales will be exceptionally fine in New England, the middle Atlantic, the north central and Pacific coast states. Some uncertainty obtains in the south central and mountain districts and in the south Atlantic sections although even in these latter districts trade seems likely to be up to that of 1926 and in certain centers above that of last year's level.

On Higher Level
Business is on a higher level than in 1926 in the middle Atlantic states and general purchasing power is sufficient to lead to predictions of an advance of five per cent in retail sales. In the middle west no drastic industrial recession is in sight and while the corn crop is still an unknown factor, the predictions are for sales volumes five per cent above those of a year ago.

The industrial prospects on the Pacific coast are sufficiently encouraging to lead to predictions of a healthy advance in retail trade running from five to fifteen per cent above the 1926 level.

West Texas Will Enter Plane In Dallas-Hong Kong Flight, President Haynie Announces

STAMFORD, July 20.—R. W. Haynie, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce today announced he plans to appoint a committee to arrange the entering of an airplane in the "West Texas" in the William E. Easterwood Dallas to Hong Kong flight. "If Easterwood is willing to put up $25,000 for a flight starting from Texas, certainly several hundred Texans should be willing to put up a few thousand dollars to enable a real Texas to make the flight," Haynie said. Haynie declared Texas is the home of aviation, and called attention that Charles A. Lindbergh received his early flying training in Texas. No difficulty is expected in raising the necessary funds, Haynie stated.

"Junkitquik" to Hurl Automobiles Over 100-Foot Cliff Here Friday; Thousands Expected to See Stunt

3 TEACHERS ELECTED BY CISCO BOARD

Election of three new teachers to fill vacancies existing in the faculty of Cisco schools was announced Monday by J. J. Youngblood, superintendent. Miss Frances Davis, teacher in the high school, who had not previously accepted re-election, definitely announced that she would return, according to Mr. Youngblood. Thurman Pettie, graduate of the North Texas State Teachers' college of Denton has been selected as head of the department of manual training and printing. It was announced he will succeed J. D. Hall who resigned to accept a position in the same department at the North Texas State Teachers' college.

"Junkitquik," described as a sensational automobile wrecking stunt in which automobiles are hurled from a height of 100 feet to a canyon below, with an explosion while in mid-air, has been arranged as a feature attraction here Friday at the Lake Cisco dedication celebration. A runway extending over the edge of a 100-foot cliff has been built on one of the canyons near the dam, and eight or ten automobiles will be wrecked for the benefit of spectators. Friday afternoon, it is announced. This stunt was recently viewed by 15,000 persons at Amarillo when it was attempted for the first time in Texas. It is said, and in addition to affording thrills for the spectators, it was the subject for a motion picture film which has been shown throughout the state. Accommodations for a crowd of many thousand persons have been provided at the canyon, and the stunt has been set for 5 p. m., when it is believed other events at the lake will not be taking place.

PIMPLES CAN BE CLEARED UP QUICKLY

So-called skin diseases are caused by poisons from the perspiration becoming congested in the tiny pores and glands of the skin because they can't get out. Unhealthy skin holds them back and you know what must happen when you continue to let this condition exist. For this reason "skin lotions," etc., can't possibly help you any. You need what is known as Black and White Ointment, which heals the sores, builds up the tissue of the skin, makes it active, so it naturally expels all the acid poisons which the system must throw off through the pores. Then, pimples, blotches, "breaking out," eczema, etc., quickly disappear.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in generous packages. The 5oz. size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have Black and White Skin Soap, too, so you can keep your face, neck, hands and arms lovely and clear.—Adv.

CISCO HIGH AFFILIATED IN ALL WORK

Three new credits in affiliation with the state department of education and retention of three others which had been granted previously but requirements for which had been changed, making it necessary to pass on them again, have been obtained by Cisco high school, according to an announcement made Saturday by J. H. Morgan, who had just received a very complimentary report on the school exhibit from the state department. New credits granted were for printing, English history and general science, and the credits retained were for mechanical drawing, bench work and advanced wood work.

A change in the requirements for industrial accrediting made it necessary for all schools to re-apply for shop-work credits. This included bench-work, mechanical drawing and printing. These courses were completely revised under the supervision of Mr. Morgan, leaving off the vocational courses wherein students took a few weeks each of courses that might enable him to choose a trade-training course. Cisco is not able to provide the trade courses being offered in the larger cities. By adding a joiner and other machinery a course in advanced woodwork was given and accredited. By completing the extra curricula activities of journalism and the Gusher, school paper, credit has been secured for the printing. This with the mechanical drawing and bench work gives four full units in shop, one more than was previously held. This work was handled by J. D. Hall, Jr., who has recently resigned to accept a position with the North Texas Teachers college at Denton. He will be head of the printing department and will receive a very material increase in salary. Denton is the home of Mr. Hall and the college is his alma mater.

Other credits granted were in English history and general science. The English history was taught by Mrs. E. E. Keane. The following comment was made: "A well planned and well developed course. Themes are excellent." The general science was taught by Miss Blanche Shear, who is again spending the summer in Columbia university. Last summer she specialized in the teaching of general science and introduced the latest methods into her work. She has taught but three years, but she has had some very attractive offers for her services. Comments were as follows: "A good exhibit. The examination questions are very good and the papers are graded in a fair manner. Note books are good." The six credits mentioned give Cisco high a total of 34 units, or credits for every course offered. Students will not need to be concerned over whether any course completed in Cisco high school carries full college entrance credit.

Since but 16 units are required for college entrance, the number of units held by this school merely indicates the number of courses offered that are accredited. Some city schools have double the number of credits held by Cisco. The quality of the same ones offered there is no better.

Cisco has the following credits as listed: English 4, Ancient History 1, Modern History 1, American History 1, English History 1, Civics 1/2, Economics 1/2, Mechanical Drawing 1, Shop Work 2, Printing 1, Algebra 2, Plane Geometry 1, Solid Geometry 1/2, Trigonometry 1/2, Spanish 3, Latin 3, Bookkeeping 1, Steno and Typing 1, Physiology 1/2, Physics 1, Biology 1, Chemistry 1, General Science 1, Home Economics 2 1/2, Commercial Arithmetic 1/2, Public Speaking 1.

RURAL SCHOOL INSTITUTE TO BE ARRANGED

EASTLAND, July 20.—Because of changes in the school law the usual teachers' institute held in Eastland just before the opening of the schools in the fall will not be held this year. The law provides, however, that the county school superintendent shall hold a two-day institute for all rural teachers, attendance on which is compulsory and for which they are paid, some time just preceding the opening of a majority of the country schools. In accordance with this requirement, Miss Boush Speer, school superintendent of Eastland county, said Tuesday that she would call all the Eastland county rural teachers to meet at an institute to be held in Eastland for two days during the latter part of October or early in November. They will be introduced in the work for the school term.

At a meeting of superintendents of independent school districts of Eastland county held in Miss Speer's office, it was decided that the teachers in the independent districts would hold a three-day institute just preceding the Christmas holidays. It is not certain they will be paid for attendance on this institute, as the new law does not direct it. If they are not paid, it is understood that attendance will be optional. This meeting will be in Ranger. The independent school districts were represented at the meeting by: R. L. Speer, principal of the Eastland high school; R. F. Holloway, superintendent at Ranger; J. J. Youngblood, superintendent at Cisco; R. E. McLamery, superintendent at Gorman; L. M. Cantrell, superintendent at Rising Star; J. T. Singleton, superintendent at Carbon. The superintendent of Scranton school also attended.
