LONG, HAPPY MARRIAGES

Three cheers for the good state of Maine, and particularly for Franklin county and its noble old folks! Franklin has a Three-Quarter Century Club which has just celebrated its first "Fifty-Year-Married Couple Day." That is an imposing and awkward name, but the fact it represents is a most cheerful one. Four couples at the celebration had been married 60 years or more. Sixty-seven couples had been married 50 years or more. It is reported that they motored to the celebration, that scarcely half a dozen of the men carried canes, that not one husband or wife looked unhappy, that they stepped along lively to the strains of a wedding march after a good dinner at a church, and that they thoroughly enjoyed the whole program arranged in their honor. No one seems to have extracted from them a recipe for long, happy married life. But that is just as well. Most people know the recipe that fits their own case. The difficulty lies in following it out, as these inspiring, splendid old couples have done.

SPEAK UP

A bishop soliciting funds for a diocese approached the great financier Morgan. Mr. Morgan listened to the story and said, "Well, bishop, I'll give you a hundred and fifty for your college."

The bishop was disappointed. He thought a hundred and fifty dollars from Mr. Morgan not much of a contribution. The bishop realized some of the money raising psychology he had been taught: To accept a small sum from a man who should give a large sum is poor business, for he will then consider he has done his share and is through. Better divert him from signing up at all until you can raise his sights."

Later a member of the Bishop's church, also interested in the college, was speaking to Mr. Morgan about the institution.

"Yes," said Mr. Morgan. "I offered to give your bishop a hundred and fifty thousand dollars for that college, but he didn't seem to want it."

The church member hot-footed it to the bishop. "A hundred and fifty thousand dollars!" ejaculated the bishop, his eyes sticking out; "Goodness gracious alive! I thought he meant only a hundred and fifty dollars!" But before the bishop could arrange to see Mr. Morgan, Mr. Morgan had died and his executors refused to pay the pledge of which they had no knowledge and which had not been made in writing.

Had the bishop been perfectly frank with Mr. Morgan at the time the donation was proffered, and said, "Mercy me, Mr. Morgan, you don't mean to say that you are going to give us only a hundred and fifty dollars?" then Mr. Morgan would have put the bishop right.

How many times people keep their mouths shut when they should open them. How many times you and I and everybody else have kept still when later we wished we had spoken up. We can look back time after time and see where the results would have been most happy had we vocalized our ideas. Frankness is a highly desirable virtue. Of course, persons sometimes have things in their minds which they should not even think, much less express; but a wholesome thought, a sincere perplexity, a constructive doubt freely voiced would clarify many a situation, prevent many a misunderstanding, obviate much heart feeling, would often completely clear the air.

Most of the troubles between folks in this world come through misunderstanding. And misunderstanding is largely a result of secretiveness. Secretiveness is a good quality, too. Folks should be secretive about some things, things which are none of their business, or which are their own business and nobody else's business; but when a matter is as much your business as the other fellow's business, or as much the other fellow's business as your business, frankness is usually the mother of satisfaction.

DINNER STORIES.

A small boy was seen sitting moodily on the front porch of his home.

"What makes you so downcast?" a friendly neighbor inquired. "Well," replied the boy, "if I had it to do over again I wouldn't eat up sister's lipstick—even for spite."

Some amusing stories concerning Queen Victoria are told by Sir Felix Semon in his autobiography. The queen had a great sense of dignity, but she also possessed a keen sense of humor. For instance, when Sir James Reid, her majesty's physician-in-ordinary, became engaged to one of her maids of honor, the Hon. Miss Baring, the queen was exceedingly angry, and, sending for him, lectured him severely. He ought to have known, she told him, that nobody was permitted to propose to a maid of honor without obtaining the queen's permission. Sir James listened, then humbly answered that her majesty was quite right; he certainly would not do it again. This so strongly appealed to the queen's sense of humor that she laughed heartily, and without further ado, extended her pardon.

SHIP-TO-SHORE PLANES

A few weeks ago when the magnificent new liner, Isle de France, made her first voyage across the Atlantic, much was said about the plan to have airplanes operated from her decks, leaving the ship a day or two before it was due to dock and thus taking important mail and possibly a passenger to land that much sooner than the boat alone would do. Now the thing has been tried out on the Leviathan, with great success. Chamberlin hopped off from the great liner, using a specially constructed runway, when it was 100 miles from New York. The weather was very bad, which made the success of the experiment all the more gratifying. The rather heavy biplane took the air with surprising ease. The amount of gasoline required for a ship-shore hop is so much less than that required for a trans-oceanic hop that ample space and lifting power are left for mail and passengers, still insuring a reasonably safe flight. It is expected now that the United States Lines, owner of the Leviathan, as well as many other steamship lines, will proceed to equip their vessels with a proper runway and an airplane or two apiece. It is the first and simplest step in making the airplane an aid to ocean-crossing, on both the Pacific and Atlantic. The development of planes that will fly the whole distance, as three American planes already have done, but carrying a useful commercial load, is still expected in the next five or ten years. The ship-to-shore planes may be in regular operation within the next five months.

A $2,000,000 YACHT

A two-million dollar yacht is being built for an American woman—Mrs. Richard M. Cadwalader of Philadelphia. This is notable for two reasons. So costly a yacht has never before been built or owned in this country, and it is very unusual for a woman to have a yacht built for her. There are not many real yachtwomen. Those so called are usually the wives or daughters of yachtsmen who run the show and take the responsibility. It is probably all right to spend that amount of money on a pleasure craft, if one has it to spare. It gets the money into useful circulation about as quickly as any other way. But why build or use a yacht of 2,500 tons? Many an experienced water sportsman will testify that one might just about as well buy an ocean liner, crew and all, for one's personal use. The management would be about the same, and also the sensations felt while cruising on such a craft. Within reasonable limits, the smaller the yacht is, the more fun there is in it. All the essential elements of that great water sport—the sun, water, fresh air, color, sound, etc.—are intensified by the smaller craft. The bigger the boat, the more it gets one away from the water and approximates life in a shore hotel.

NERVE IN THE AIR

Another navy aviator, Lieut. C. C. Champion, Jr., has won admiration and honor for himself in a recent flight. He was making altitude tests, not as a stunt, and not particularly with an eye to record-breaking, but to try out the latest equipment for high altitude work. He reached an unofficial height, he believes, of 47,000 feet, which is nearly 7,000 feet higher than an airplane has ever gone before. A preliminary official reading of his damaged barograph indicates only 39,000 feet. He had all kinds of trouble—severe vibrations that wrecked his engine, fires around the engine which he put out again and again by dangerous side slips and dives, a brief but dangerous period of dizziness when the mouthpiece of his oxygen tank was out of position. Realizing that his engine was completely out of commission and that there was danger of losing his plane and his own life, Lieut. Champion prepared to jump with his para-

Tinted Lips, Drug Store Checks Now Necessary For Girl

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—"Tinted lips and rosy cheeks of the drug store variety are the banners of success. Unpainted cheeks are a woman's white flag of surrender to failure."

This was the keynote of an address made here by Mrs. Ruth J. Maurer, leading the twenty-first annual convention of the National School of Cosmeticians.

"Only one woman in every ten in the United States fails to cosmetize," Mrs. Maurer continued. "But among this unronged ten per cent are found the biggest proportion of business failures and disappointed spinsters."

"The industrial scrap heap is the reward of women who willfully neglect to make their appearance attractive. Cultivated beauty is the key to a job and the stepping stone to success."

Denver Baby Breaks 14 Bones in 9 Months

DENVER, Aug. 9.—Fourteen broken bones in nine months! That is the record of Orville Conners who is in the Colorado General hospital here. Orville is nine months old.

The baby suffered the first fracture when he was three days old, and since then his slightest turn or movement has been sufficient to cause another break in one of the various bones of his tiny body.

The baby's troubles is caused, doctors say, by a lack of the necessary calcium in his blood. While he is otherwise perfectly normal there is not enough for his bones.

No suffering appears to attend the numerous breaks which the child has incurred. Normal use of fractured limbs is regained within 48 hours after the accident and the baby is perfectly whole until the next break.

Little Orville is gradually improving through the various treatments of heliotherapy, or sun treatment, and alpine or artificial light.

This is the second case of the kind which has been recorded in this state.

BIRTHRATE IN RUSSIA LEADS OTHER COUNTRIES

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Remarkable figures of the birth rate per 1,000 of the population in Russia compared with that of other countries in Europe were compiled by Sir Kingsley Wood, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Health, in the House of Commons.

The figures for Russia, 1924 were 43.6 per 1,000.

Other countries were: Great Britain, 1926 18.1; France, 1926 18.8; Germany, 1925 21.3; Denmark, 1924 21.9; Switzerland, 1924 18.3; Netherlands, 1926 23.8; Belgium, 1925, 19.6; Spain, 1925 23.4; Austria, 1924 21.7; Italy, 1925 27.5.

PHONE CENSUS SHOWS U. S. HAS 18,000,000 OF 'EM

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Figures have been recently compiled showing the increase in number of telephones in the United States and in various foreign countries since 1895.

In that year this country had only 285,400 telephones. By 1905 the number had grown to 3,353,200—which was much more than any other country in the world has even yet attained. In 1915 there were 10,948,400 telephones in the United States, and by 1926 the total reached 18,938,000. Today the American people are served by over 18,000,000 telephones.

World Record.

No country comes anywhere near this record. The closest competitor is Germany, which has not even approached the point passed 22 years ago by the United States. In 1895 Germany had 115,007 telephones; in 1905 she had 444,958; another decade saw her reach 1,242,612; and in 1926 she boasted 2,588,000 telephones—more than any other country except the United States, but less than one-sixth of the American total.

Great Britain advanced from 73,333 telephones in 1895 to 365,000 in 1926.

France has consistently lagged in the matter of telephones the figures show. Her system numbered but 30,962 telephones in 1895, 122,911 in 1905, 329,100 in 1915 and 737,000 in 1926. France was harder hit by the interruption in development of the telephone by the World War than any other country.

Belgium's Phones

Another war sufferer was Belgium. But Belgium rose from 8,067 telephones in 1895 to 24,875 in 1905, reached an estimated total of 60,000 in 1915 and attained 159,000 telephones by 1926.

For a small country, Denmark has always done well in telephones. In 1895 the Danish system numbered 10,325 telephones. By 1905 it amounted to 42,250 and by 1915 to 136,092 telephones. There 316,000 telephones in Denmark in 1926.

OLD HEADS ON JOB TRYING TO SWIM CHANNEL

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 9.—Patrons of the Hotel du Phare and the Hotel de la Sirene are rubbing their hands with satisfaction. Old Bill Burgess, Jolly Jabez Wolfe and the perennial Isak Helmy have arrived. And that means the Channel swimming season is officially open.

Helmy, the Egyptian, will make his seventh attempt to get across to Dover this year. Last year Bill Burgess trained him. This year Jabez Wolfe will smear the axle grease. Helmy says if he doesn't succeed by the time he is sixty he will give up.

Seventeen persons, ten of them of the so-called weaker sex, have indicated their intentions of swimming across this year. Ten of the seventeen are English, who will train on roast beef on the other side of the Channel and dash over in motor boats to start from Gris Nez. Mrs. Cleminston Corson, first mother to swim the Channel, who hopes to be the first woman to swim from the English to the French side, will also train in England. The other six are expected to fill the coffers of the local hotel proprietors.

The Zitenfield twins are expected from America any day. They, with Mrs. Corson, will probably be America's only representatives in this year's competition.

Frank Perks, from Birmingham, almost as persistent as Helmy, plans to try again. Vierkotter, who held the speed record until the Frenchman George Michael crossed faster, is coming back to lower Michael's record. Kemmerick, another German, who failed last year despite the aid of webbed gloves, hopes to succeed this time. Albert Lucas, from La Baule, is the only Frenchman who has so far indicated his intention of making the crossing.

Despite the signs of forthcoming activity, the general impression is that Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd have made the swimming of the Channel look like an insignificant feat and that those who cross successfully this year will not receive the exclamations Trude Edlerie received.

LARGE SUMS NOW AVAILABLE FOR BUILDING

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The banks are full of money, despite the financing incident to the acquisition of the cross. There is a great volume of funds seeking investment and this is calculated to aid commerce and industry materially in the next two months. Investments, however, are being sought with more care and more caution than ever before.

The situation in the oil industry, undoubtedly will be responsible for much of the new financing. Companies which have been unable to crack in production of all their crude and unwilling to sell it or turn it into gasoline have to store it. This has been extremely costly and in many cases has necessitated the erection of additional storage capacity. Some companies managed to sell surplus funds, but many had to sell new securities to raise the necessary cash. There is a feeling that the worst effects of the over production in the Seminole field have been discounted, but a lot of oil will have to pass into the hands of consumers before the losses are made up.

Steel Improving.
The discussions as to the purchase of Russian oil have not tended to induce the small producers in the Seminole field to reduce their activities since they feel that if they cut output and thus raise prices, their own product may come into competition in a roundabout way with cheap Russian oil.

The situation in steel, which is growing more satisfactory, is the surest indicator of the tendencies in coal. If steel men anticipated that the coal strike would grow more menacing or that the non-union fields would fail to supply them with requisite tonnage, steel prices and operations would not be as steady as they are.

The figures on automobile production so far this year are slightly under those for the corresponding period of 1926, but this does not take account of the fact that one of the largest producers has been putting out practically no cars for weeks. The business is lax here but the larger part of it is in fewer hands.

Few Idle Men.
Building is holding up remarkably, although some skilled men are idle in certain sections. The lumber situation is showing slightly more strength but cement is facing the fact that capacity of plants now is larger than consumption demands. The non-ferrous metals are stiffening in price and buying has been fairly active, largely for foreign account. Production in lead, copper, zinc and silver, however, continues high.

The better statistical position of cotton has had the effect of strengthening all lines of business in the South. In that section they feel that abandonment of acreage, restriction of planting, the boll weevil and heavy shipments abroad all point to higher prices by winning time, and they are buying other commodities in consequence.

The progress of the tobacco manufacturing companies has been remarkable. Cigaret sales are up 10 to 20 per cent for some lines. The cheaper cigars also are selling well and the prospect seems bright for higher prices to the grower.

Isolated Island
Pecan Island lies between White Lake and the Gulf of Mexico and is in Vermilion parish, Louisiana. It extends across the marsh for 15 miles in a general east and west direction. The only communication with the outside world which its population of some 400 people have is by means of the mail boat, which makes a trip from Abbeville once a week.

EASTLAND MAY USE OPEN PLAY IN FOOTBALL

EASTLAND, Aug. 9.—Besides five veterans of last year's backfield, the Maverick squad will include three husky lads who will be freshmen but who are going to make the others hustle for places in the backfield.

One of the boys is Hal Dean Allen, who is only 15 years old but is a 165-pounder and is one of the fastest dash men in the county. Last spring in the county track meet, he stepped the century in ten and a fraction seconds, despite a handicap of three broken ribs. He graduated from ward school last spring. As halfback on a ward school team here, he handled himself with speed and assurance that is usually shown by much older players.

Henry Rhodes, who tips the scales at 175 pounds, is another lad who played in the backfield in ward school here. He did not attend school last year but plans to enter Eastland high school in September.

Still another former ward school backfield player of Eastland is Garrison, who weighs 170. He, too, after finishing ward school here did not enter high school but intends to enroll this fall and continue his education.

This trio—the smallest one weighing 165—are welcome additions to the backfield squad as the only serious criticism that can be leveled against the five letter men—Osborn, Overbey, Smith, Jones and Ernest—is that they do not average very high in weight. Jones weighs 130, Overbey 135, and Smith 150. Osborn and Ernest, however, will weigh around 170.

Couch Pena is keeping his own counsel but it would not be surprising to see the Maverick attack characterized by an open game. With "Red" Jones and Allen, remarkably fast men, as well as Overbey, Ernest and Smith who are swift of foot, it would be good strategy to resort to the running and passing game largely. Osborn should prove the key man on the offensive as his punting, passing and running make him the triple threat of the backfield.

It is doubtful if any team in the district has six candidates for the backfield who can run as fast as the six just named. Furthermore, among the eight players enumerated unless Rhodes or Garrison reveal ability as line plungers, it looks as though the line-battering style will have only one adept, Osborn, as the lightness of weight of Jones, Overbey et al makes this type of ground-gaining difficult.

The boy or girl who is always conscious of their pimply, blotchy, inflamed or rough skin, and really drawing more attention to it when they keep making excuses for not looking good, don't get any sympathy because folks now know that it is not necessary to keep putting up with this sort of thing.

Since Black and White Ointment, and Black and White Skin Soap, were introduced in this country, thousands of people who had been troubled with pimples, blotches, dark, rough skin, full of bumps for years are now happy, because they find it gets rid of them so quickly.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced. In liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Adv

SPECS FOR RACE HORSES APPEAR AT SARATOGA

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Spectacles for race horses is the latest wrinkle in turf circles. Many horses with defective eyesight have appeared in morning trials at the famous track here with eye-glasses attached to their blinkers.

Dr. E. J. Emmons, with the aid of a powerful light, has examined the eyes of many of the race horses here and prescribed spectacles for them.

Edward R. Bradley, who handles a famous stable, has had spectacles fitted to four of his best horses and declares they now run faster and more consistently.

Daniel Webster objected to taxing over the Oregon territory because it was so far away that the terms of office of congressmen might expire before they could reach Washington.

Smoking and Throat Protection

As viewed by 9651* Doctors

WHAT is the quality that so many of those whose voices are precious have found that makes LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes delightful and of no possible injury to those voices?

For the answer, a number of physicians, many of them leading physicians, in various parts of the United States were recently asked these two questions:

Q 1—In your judgment is the heat treatment or toasting process applied to tobaccos previously aged and cured, likely to free the cigarette from irritation to the throat?

9651 doctors answered this question "YES".

Q 2—Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105 doctors answered this question "YES".

Consider what these figures mean; consider that they represent the opinion and experience of doctors, those whose business it is to know.

DESDEMONA EDITOR IN NOVEL IDEA

Editor Charles Kellums in his "This Week" column of the Desdemona Gusher gushes at considerable length on the proposal to change the Eastland county courthouse from Eastland to Carlin, in his latest issue. He makes the novel suggestion that Eastland, Erath and Comanche counties be made into one county with the courthouse at Desdemona, and so a new candidate for the plan might be considered in the race. Here is his article:

Carlin finally woke up!—heard some kind of a rumor to the effect that it was possible for it to get something for nothing, and it wanted it. Oh, so badly!

Truth was, Gorman had to sell all its peanuts last fall so their credit would be good last spring to buy them back for $1.00 per bushel more than they sold them for. They just naturally didn't want even that cent and a half increase of taxes that the courthouse will cost so they are mad.

Cisco has wanted the courthouse for years and feels like Eastland rushed things by not giving them time to drag a dead Herring across the trail and move it to CISCO—so they're mad.

Rising Star probably would have been benefitted a little bit if they could have gotten a road to Carlin, as it would have been closer by a few miles, and so they are for the removal!

Carlin sizes up the situation and decides to hold a "Mass Meeting" and drives clear to CISCO to hold it. Imagine Carlin going to CISCO to have a "Mass Meeting."

And the CISCO AMERICAN devoted a half page to that alleged mass meeting, setting forth opinions of speakers why Carlin was the logical place to sit that new $298,000.000 courthouse that Desdemona and Eastland voted bonds to build.

Under the present administration, the mergers of businesses and industries have become very common, the merger plan is advocated by men in high places in America, and Desdemona is working on a plan which they hope to be able to present in the near future in which great sums of money may be saved by merging Eastland, Erath and Comanche counties and building a courthouse at Desdemona, the only IMPORTANT town near the center of the three counties. Then, there would be but one bunch of courthouse rates instead of three and the expenses would be paid by three counties instead of one and the difference in maintaining their county governments could be used to construct immense dams for holding water and each year they could have a Bathing Revue right at home and could call their football boys "Dam," for instance, De Leon could call their squad "The Big Dam Bears" and we could be the "Dam Big Porkers," etc. etc.

Anyway, if any town is to expect Desdemona to league in with them, they better get busy and help us get the Eastland-Stephenville-by-way-of-Desdemona Highway that Joe Burkett and John Cagle had designated, and we are still of the opinion so far as we are concerned that Dan just ain't the man.

Bold Strokes of Burgomaster Tell Impending Danger

By NICHOLAS GOLPIN, International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent.

VIENNA (I-I-N)—Is the "black shirt" of Fascism sowing the seeds that will place Austria under a rule similar to that of Mussolini's?

Will Karl Seitz, Socialist Burgomaster of Vienna, ultimately become ruler of this revolution-stricken nation?

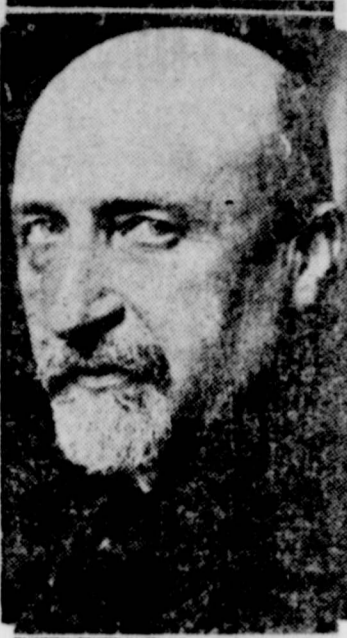

These are the questions now agitating every city and hamlet of Austria since Seitz created a Socialist constabulary of 1,600 men which may be increased to 25,000 in case of necessity, by compelling all municipal employees to join the ranks.

The measure was adopted by the Council in the face of the hottest opposition. Herr Kunschak, leader of the non-Socialists, charged Seitz with "preparing for civil war" and stamped him as a "brigand."

Conservative Austrians see in this measure the first seeds of a Red reign, and are uniting with the peasantry to force the Government to veto the bill.

The Government police alone were responsible for stamping out the recent revolt in double quick time, and non-Socialists believe that the new constabulary is being created to offset the police in the event that another revolution flares forth.

On Horizon

Karl Seitz, burgomaster of Vienna, appears to be rising in new power in Europe. Creation of a new constabulary would practically put an army within the city at his command.

AUTO CRASH NEAR ALBANY PROVES FATAL

ALBANY, Aug. 9.—R. V. Ramsour, 63 years old, while driving nine miles east of Albany from his home at Snyder for Fort Worth, lost control of his car and was instantly killed when it overturned. He was manager of an oil mill at Snyder. He was accompanied by his wife and his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Harris of Fort Worth, and her 12-year-old daughter. Mrs. Harris was bruised in the accident and was carried by passing motorists to a hospital in Breckenridge. Mrs. Ramsour was brought to Albany and was found to have a broken collar-bone. Ramsour's body was brought to Albany. He is survived by three children, Mrs. R. E. Harris, Fort Worth; Mrs. H. E. Watkins, Brownsville, and L. Loy Ramsour, Edinburg.

Eastland Policeman Gets Another Well

EASTLAND, Aug. 9.—Once more fortune has smiled upon Tom Jones, night chief of police of Eastland. A 100-barrel well, which looks as though it will increase, has been brought in on his farm east of this city. The well was drilled by the Gulf Production company and extends the Gholson pool to the south.

It will be recalled that several months ago, when the Gholson pool was discovered, Mr. Jones leased his land in that territory for $22,500 and his friends are rejoicing that the new well, with others that doubtless will be drilled, means still more financial gain for him.

LLOYD GEORGE TO MOVE TO NEW HOME IN LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Cheyne Walk, Chelsea, with its associations with dreamy poets and painters and scornful philosophers, never seemed exactly the right address for one so fiery as David Lloyd George, Britain's famous war-time premier. Therefore those with a passion for the appropriate will be gratified to learn that "wee David" is shortly to move.

His new address will be 2, Addison Road, in the Holland Park district of London, a house with a pleasant creeper-covered exterior and large rear gardens with such rural accompaniments as a henhouse and a greenhouse.

It is claimed that wood wasps are able to bore through such metal as sheet lead.

Plate Glass Stolen From Eastland Store

EASTLAND, Aug. 9.—During thieves stole the huge pieces of plate glass forming the front to the Sikes' Filling station.

They removed each of the four pieces of glass from the windows. The size of each piece was approximately seven feet long and three feet wide, a very unwieldy article to steal.

Only two of the glasses were actually stolen as the other two were broken probably in trying to remove them.

R. E. Sikks, owner of the place, had bought the plate glass and it had been installed only a day or two before, preparatory to his re-opening the garage for business.

Comanche Boy May Die of Injuries

GORMAN, Aug. 9.—Enal Rodgers, 19, is near death as a result of injuries sustained Sunday at Bass Lake, near Gorman, where Rodgers and a party of friends had gone bathing. According to reports, Rodgers was standing on the bank at the lake when another boy playfully pushed him into the lake. Rodgers' head struck something in the water and his neck was thought broken.

Rodgers was rushed to the Gorman sanitarium where surgeons performed an operation in an effort to save his life. He is still living but is said to be paralyzed from his shoulders down.
