Old Home Town

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT.

Yes Christmas is coming and Santa's on the way. There's lots of joy and gaiety, and hilarity is in full sway. And everyone—young and old—is loudly singing "Oh! just think what good old Santa is bringing."

Of all the presents that Santa could bring I'm most sure you'll say, "There's not a thing that I would more quickly choose than a yearly subscription to the Cisco Daily News."

There's nothing so entertaining and educational, as well. For all the happenings the "News" will tell.

It tells of the "doings" both far and near.

And gives funny stories that are sure to cheer.

The Daily tells what is on at the Picture Shows.

And, too, it keeps us informed about our famous Lobos—

What they're doing and how they're getting along—

When the Pep Squad's coming with a new pep song.

If you're in doubt and want to buy, rent, or sell

Remember the "Daily" answers questions exceedingly well.

For it contains a "Want Ad Department."

And describes most things that are on the market.

Now, dear people, if you're endeavoring to find

A present for Mother and Dad, or a friend of mine,

There's nothing better that you could choose

Than a yearly subscription for the Daily News.

—Mrs. G. I. Huddleston, 367 W. 14th St., Cisco.

FOUR DIE IN HOTEL FIRE

Many Others Injured and Scores Rescued By Firemen When Blaze Sweeps Portion of St. Louis Hotel

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—Four women are dead, a fifth is expected to die from injuries suffered today when fire gutted the east wing of the Buckingham Hotel. Seven other persons were seriously injured in the fire which caused a loss of $185,000. The dead: Mrs. Luther K. Conn, 75, fatally injured when she jumped from the fourth floor; Mrs. Emma L. Susanka, 45, killed when she slipped down a rope; Miss Bessie Grache, 33, a woman believed to be Mrs. Ella O'Hara, 50. The blaze started on an upper floor and spread rapidly, cutting off escape of many guests who were finally rescued by firemen.

CLEBURNE AND ABILENE MEET AT CLEBURNE

The Cleburne-Abilene football game will be played at Cleburne Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, according to word received by the Class chamber of commerce Monday. A special train is to be operated out of Abilene to Cleburne by way of Fort Worth. It will leave Abilene at 7 o'clock Friday morning, and will probably take on several fans from Cisco. The chamber of commerce announces that it is in position to obtain reserved seats for Ciscoans who want to attend the game, but that the reservations must be made by Tuesday night.

LONGWORTH REELECTED TO SPEAKERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Amid thunderous applause from both sides of the house, Nick Longworth was re-elected speaker of the Seventieth congress today. The vote was 225 to 187, the Democrats casting their votes as a matter of course for Representative Finis Garrett of Tennessee. Three incumbents voted present. They were Burger of Wisconsin, Cass and Kuhnle, farmer-laborers of Minnesota.

"Two-Preacher Sermon" Here

A "two preacher sermon" was preached at the First Christian church Sunday evening when Dr. John W. Tyndall, noted Bible scholar who is conducting a Bible institute at Randolph college, was scheduled to deliver the second of two missionary day sermons. The speaker called on Rev. Thomas Lenox, the pastor, to read passages from the Bible, starting with the eighth chapter of Corinthians, and as the latter did so, Dr. Tyndall commented on what was read, bringing out more fully the meaning of the words. The two thus brought out what was referred to as "the grace of giving" and the congregation was encouraged to do more in making missionary offerings. The loose collections for the day went to the Women's Missionary society, and it was said a satisfactory gain was raised.

House Overrides Beck Opposition

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The house this afternoon by a vote overrode democratic opposition and administered the oath to Representative James M. Beck, republican of the first Pennsylvania district after his right to take the oath had been challenged by Representative Garrett of Tennessee, minority floor leader. The oath was administered by Speaker Longworth. Beck formally was solicitor general of the department of justice. He is counsel for senator-elect Vane of Pennsylvania to whose seat in the house he was elected.

JOHN DU PRIEST MADE STATE INVESTIGATOR

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—Appointment of John DuPriest of Hart and Austin as a legal investigator in the attorney general's department, is announced by Claude Pollard, attorney general. Mr. DuPriest, who was formerly chief clerk in the sheriff's office here will have charge of oil investigating and litigation. He succeeds Charles A. Christian of San Angelo, who has been legal investigator and oil gauger on university land in Reagan county. Christian will devote his full time to gauging oil for the board of regents of the Texas university.

BURNS DENIES ANY CONTEMPT ACTIVITIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Blanket denial that any criminal contempt had been committed by William J. Burns or any of his agents was filed with Justice Suddens today as contempt trial of Burns, Harry F. Sinclair and their associates got under way. Burns declared there was nothing improper in the surveillance of the jurors because none of them was approached in any way. Burns further denied he had anything to do with making of the false affidavit by William J. McMillan, who turned government informer. Sinclair admitted he had caused H. Mason Day, one of his officials, to engage the Burns agency to watch the jury to safeguard his own interests and see that no one tampered with the jury. He denied he had instructed Sheldon Clark of Chicago, vice president, to engage Burns operatives. Day and Clark are jointly charged with having been "contact men" between the Burns agency and their chief, Charles L. Veltel, Baltimore Burns manager, stated in his brief that his only concern with the case had been to bring $1,500 in cash to Washington to defray expenses and salaries of the private detectives.

MUTT WATSON FACING THIRD TRIAL MONDAY

A number of Ciscoans went to Brownwood Monday for the trial of C. W. (Mutt) Watson, Ciscoan, charged with murder in connection with the death of Jack McMath at Coleman more than a year ago. The trial, the third faced by Watson on the same charges, was scheduled to get under way Monday morning, with many from Cisco expected to testify. Watson announced he is ready for trial. The first trial began May 5, 1927, resulted in a mistrial, the jury standing 8 to 4 for acquittal, while the same result came in the second trial October 10, after which Judge J. O. Woodward on his own motion moved the case to Brownwood for trial. Watson's lawyers are Senator Walter C. Woodward, E. M. Critz of Coleman, Mark Magee of Fort Worth, past adjutant general of Texas and also past state commander of the American Legion; and Judge J. K. Baker of Coleman who served two years as a member of the state court of criminal appeals.

Collision Kills Man at Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Dec. 5.—An unidentified white man was killed here today in a crash between his automobile truck and a freight car.

ROME REGRETS U. S. EXIT FROM GROUP

ROME, Dec. 5.—Expressions of regret based on news that the American Secretary of Agriculture had ordered withdrawal of American participation in the International Institute of Agriculture were heard here today. Dr. L. M. Estabrook and Prof. Asher Hobson have worked with the institute for several years as experts of the American Department of Agriculture. The late David Lubin of California was the originator of the institute. In addition to the two experts who have been working with the institute, funds have been furnished by the Carnegie Foundation. These funds Dr. Estabrook has been using in the work of a world agriculture census. Rome has been made a clearing house for reports of agricultural crop prospects for 50 years.

Mrs. Lilliendahl Goes on Stand

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, on trial here with Willis Beach, her alleged paramour for murder of her husband, took the stand today. Dressed in deepest mourning, she answered questions of her counsel in a quiet manner, telling of her marriage to the aged doctor, when, with her voice breaking and tears streaming down her face she told of the day her husband was killed.

TEXAS WOMAN PIONEER DIES HERE TODAY

Mrs. Martha Amelia Dix, 67, a pioneer Texas woman, died at 9:11 o'clock Monday morning at the home of J. B. Schwartz, 201 East Fourteenth street, where she had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Hobert Taylor, for the last year. She had been confined to her bed for more than a year, and had been dangerously ill the last several days, so that death was not unexpected. Funeral services are to be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church here with Rev. B. C. Boney officiating, and burial will follow at Rising Star.

TEXAS GETS HARBOR CASH ALLOTMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Total of $67,656,236.72 was expended on the rivers and harbors of the country in the last fiscal year, according to report of Major General Judwin, chief of army engineers, made public today. Among the larger allotments recommended by Judwin for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, are included Sabine-Neches waterway in Texas, $1,476,000; Galveston channel, Texas, $87,500; Houston ship channel, Texas, $894,000.

Becky Has Small Chance to Win Bank Robbery Case on Sentiment At LaGrange Where Women Work

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent

LAGRANGE, Texas, Dec. 5.—Becky Bradley Rogers, victor by a long jury in her arson trial at Georgetown last September, goes to trial here today for bank robbery in unsympathetic surroundings.

LaGrange is the county seat of a rich farming county settled largely by thrifty people of German and Bohemian descent. It is not uncommon for the women to work in the fields in the cotton season. There will be no maudlin sentiment for the college bred girl who, the state says, turned robber.

Nor is it a promising field for her plea of dementia praecox. A Fayette county judge brushed aside an insanity plea for wealthy William Langhorne Jr., attacker of two Belandian girls who took a drive with him. The jury gave Langhorne the death penalty. Governor Miriam Ferguson was convinced he was insane and commuted his life imprisonment. Another jury told Langhorne on another charge and gave him 99 years.

Fred Blumfeld, who prosecutes Becky, was Langhorne's prosecutor. It was Blumfeld, too, who sent A. V. Miliken to the electric chair after three reprieves and an insanity hearing ordered by the highest tribunal of the state. Judge M. C. Jeffrey presided at the Langhorne and Miliken trials. Becky's trial will be before him.

That Becky was temporary winner in the Georgetown trial does not disturb Prosecutor Blumfeld. He sat in on part of that trial and her lawyers were forced to disclose their dementia praecox plea before his scrutiny. He is in the favorable position of the football coach who has personally scouted his rival in a big game.

GROESBECK PASTOR DIES UNDER TRAIN

WACO, Dec. 5.—The badly mangled body of Rev. T. S. Armstrong, pastor of the First Methodist church of Groesbeck was found on the railroad tracks near the church at Groesbeck last night, according to word received here. He had gone to mail a letter in time to catch a midnight train. He is believed to have been struck by a fast freight train. He has been a Methodist pastor for 40 years and attracted national attention two years ago when he spoke on church advertising before the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in Philadelphia.

DEATH TAKES MRS. SHEPARD EARLY TODAY

Mrs. J. W. Shepard, well known Cisco woman, died at the residence here at 2:55 o'clock Monday morning from bronchial pneumonia which followed boris received Thursday, November 24. At that time, she was suffering from a light attack of influenza and fainting while standing near a gas stove. She fell against the stove and her clothing caught fire, causing severe burns before Mr. Shepard was able to beat out the flames with his hands. The burns were healing nicely, but the shock and enforced confinement made the influenza develop into pneumonia to which death was attributed.

Funeral services are to be held this Monday afternoon at the First Methodist church with Rev. P. T. Stanford, pastor, and Rev. S. J. Vaughan in charge. All of her children except two from Oklahoma will be present.

Mrs. Shepard was born in Cumberland county, North Carolina, June 22, 1855. She was married to R. E. Brown in 1871. Seven children were born to this union, five of whom survive as follows: George Brown, Comanche, Okla.; Mrs. T. E. Shepard, Lawton, Okla.; W. E. Brown, Eastland; Mrs. G. T. Daniels, Plainview; R. E. Brown, Ardmore, Okla. Mrs. Shepard came to Texas in 1875, settling near Redrock, and later moving to Gunsmith, Stephens county. She was married to J. W. Shepard in 1887. Three children were born to this union, as follows: T. L. Shepard, Plainview; and Fleet and Floyd Shepard of Cisco. Besides these, she is survived by three step-children, Mrs. J. L. Hurlington, Lubbock; Mrs. O. R. Turner, Cisco; and Jack Shepard, Plainview. Numerous grandchildren and great grandchildren also survive. The family moved to Cisco in 1906, settling at 622 E. avenue.

EQUESTRIENNE BEHIND TIME ON WAY WEST

Voneda Viking, coast-to-coast horseback rider, who left New York on October 13, planning to gallop to Los Angeles at the rate of 35 miles a day, has met with a number of small disasters, the largest of which is a lame horse. As a result of illness due to exposure, an automobile collision and other woes, the blond equestrienne is now three days behind her schedule but is determined to make up the time. In order to do this she will have to enter 28 miles a day, which is 13 miles faster than cavalry regulations for the United States army.

METHODIST CHURCH TOLD OF HOSPITAL

Rev. C. Q. Smith, hospital commissioner of the Central Texas Conference of the Methodist church, was an unexpected visitor at the First Methodist church last night. The pastor of the church presented Dr. Smith and he spoke in the interest of the Central Texas hospital at Fort Worth, now nearing completion. He stated that it was the largest single unit hospital in the south having when completed 400 beds, which will take care of ten thousand patients annually. The hospital when completed will cost approximately a million and a half dollars. Of this amount the citizens of Fort Worth gave $500,000. He said that the Methodist church in the south had spent $1,000,000 each year for the last 8 years in hospitalization of the south. The Methodist church of the United States owns and operates 89 hospitals. The healing program of the Christian church is always associated with the teaching and preaching program by our Lord," he said.

Legion Holds Meet Tonight

The American Legion post will meet at the city hall at 7 o'clock this evening in a very important session. The commander, B. C. Boney, announces that the meeting will not last over an hour, so all ex-service men are urged to be there on time.

DEFUNCT BANK DEPOSITORS MEET

Depositors in the defunct Commercial State bank held a meeting at the chamber of commerce Saturday afternoon and discussed the situation relative to their claims on the state guaranty fund. It was asserted that the fund now has $700,000 on hand, and that there is possibility of depositors in the Cisco bank getting a part of this fund by proper legal action. It was decided to hold another meeting at an early date when definite action on steps toward regaining the deposits will be taken.

CHRIST CHURCH PASTOR ACCEPTS CLIFTON CALL

Rev. A. G. Obenhaus, pastor of Christ church, south of Cisco, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Lutheran church at Clifton. It was announced Monday. However, he will not take up his new duties until after the Christmas holidays, and it is likely that his successor will not be chosen before that time.

PAYROLL PADDING AT AUSTIN IS PROBED

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—Investigation of alleged padded payrolls in the state highway department was resumed by the Travis county grand jury today. Two men are already in the penitentiary for such padding in 1925, and a third is awaiting trial.

$15,000,000 IRISH BOND SALE TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—For the first time in its six years of existence, the Irish Free State will appear as a borrower in the American market tomorrow. An issue of $15,000,000 bond bearing a 5 per cent coupon rate, will be offered by a syndicate headed by the City National Company, priced at 97 and interest, to yield about 5.20 per cent. The issue is part of an authorized loan total of 15,000,000 pounds sterling, the remainder of which is to be marketed in London. The proceeds are to be used for the development of a huge hydro-electric project on the river Shannon, completion of which is expected within two years.

which all of the governments are expected to ratify. It is, as one of the Washington correspondents remarks, an amazing chapter in international relations. There were 400 delegates and technical experts at that conference, representing 76 nations. They are said to have "conducted the most delicate negotiations over a period of seven weeks without one major disagreement," and they "closed in unanimous agreement which is certain to have the most far-reaching effect upon the progress of electrical communications." As Herbert Hoover declared at the close of the conference: "The world's broadcasting band has been clarified and defined for the entire universe, in such a fashion that there will be less conflict and interference. This is a direct contribution to every owner of a receiving set." The treaty is to go into effect January 1, 1929. It will naturally occur to the reader: "If this can be done in radio, why not in other matters?" Radio, however, involves less emotion than some other matters, and it is emotion rather than lack of intelligence that stands in the way of international agreements. Individuals and nations usually do have brains enough to get along peaceably, if they would only use those brains instead of yielding to prejudice and passion.

Now that we all know what the new Ford car is like, the next question is, what is Santa Claus going to bring us for Christmas?

Human Interest Editorials By WICKES WAMBOLDT

NO LAUGHING MATTER

A man was awakened one night by hearing a commotion in his brother's room. Hastening in there he was amazed to see his brother engaged in a terrific combat with an imaginary foe. He would launch out first with one fist and then with the other; and he would kick first with one foot and then with the other; then he would butt the empty air all the while shouting, "Take that, King George, you dogone you! You can't subjugate me, King George. I'm onto your tricks, you can't ensnare me. You think you're smart, but I see through your game. I'll show you something, King George."

That was the first intimation the man had that his brother was crazy. Some folks who heard of the crazy man's antics laughed and thought them funny. The idea that he should think that he had anything to fight King George about struck them as extremely ludicrous. But it was no laughing matter. The man was in deep distress. He was in mental pain. He actually believed he was in danger from King George and that he must fight King George with all his might and main. He could see a menacing King George standing before him any way he turned. Like a guinea pig in a corner he fought as best he could and after they took him to his padded cell he kept right on fighting King George.

A deluded person is just as much in earnest about his unrealities as you and I are about our realities. He is just as certain that the thing he thinks he sees endangering him is a real thing as you and I are that the five-ton truck that we see bearing down on us is the real thing. You and I get out of the way of the five-ton truck—sometimes—but the poor devil chased by delusion cannot get out of its way. It pursues him through locked doors and solid walls and steps with ease into his padded cell. I saw a shell-shocked soldier once during one of his attacks: "They are trying to kill me."

he whispered; then he pointed into empty space. "See that man there? He has a knife. He is trying to kill me because I fought in France. See him? He is a German." Then the poor fellow screamed, "Don't let him kill me. I am unarmed. Don't let him kill an unarmed man." Was that man suffering? Of course he was suffering, and intensely. It makes no difference how absurd may be the paranoid's hallucination, it is the real thing to him. One should not laugh at a man afflicted that way. It isn't kind. It is no laughing matter. Sympathize with the poor fellow. Don't poke fun at him even though he should go so far as to maintain that a king of England is trying to warp the thought of all of the inhabitants of a great pork-packing city of the United States.

SPENDING ABROAD

Sir George Paish, noted British economist, in a magazine article, says: "The United States ought to spend $1,000,000,000, or better, $2,000,000,000 out of its annual income of $90,000,000,000 in foreign countries, to permit these countries to purchase American produce in return, and to enable them to meet their obligations to this country for the capital supplied them since the war." The situation, he says, is serious. The United States has made vast loans abroad, and its own supply of credit will not last indefinitely. Europe should have money to repay its loans from America and buy American goods to keep our industries going. It cannot continue borrowing in order to pay. There should be business adjustments enabling it to pay naturally. Ample spending of American money abroad would serve the purpose. This all sounds logical enough. Americans have been slowly getting the fact into their heads that they cannot expect to sell abroad or collect their vast loans unless they also buy abroad. According to the World Almanac, however, we imported $4,466,000,000 worth of foreign merchandise in the last fiscal year, of which $1,275,000,000 came from Europe. We also spent hundreds of millions in European travel. Presumably Sir George means net spending. There was a balance against Europe last year of nearly a billion. Perhaps we really should spend there, for proper adjustment, at least a billion more than we are spending now. But American industry, clamorous for larger home buying, will object to that.

DOUBLE WEEK ENDS

Many people, even in this lax age, use Sunday as a day of worship. Many others, perhaps, use it as a day of recreation. What's the matter? The trouble is, suggests the Emporia, Kan., Gazette, that the two things are both essential, and cannot be combined. It's like this: People need a day of worship to keep their souls in good condition. People need a day of rest to keep their minds and bodies in good condition. For rest, they must relax. They can't relax in church, because they have their good clothes on and are on their good behavior and are keyed up instead of let down. So more and more of them stay away from church, and read the papers or putter around the house and yard or go riding or golfing. What we need, says the Gazette, is two days, one for worship and one for rest. Wherefore the startling question, "Why doesn't the church stand for a five-day week; five days of work, one of worship, one of rest?" If that were done, the Gazette thinks—if the church got behind the five-day week—"the seventh day might be a day of growth for the church, and a new spirit might come into the world." Looked at thus, the idea doesn't seem so "radical" as usual. Will the church venture to take the five-day idea from organized labor and push it in the name of conservative religion?

A MINOR PROBLEM

Discussion of the establishment of a department of health in the federal government, with a secretary in the president's cabinet, is likely to be renewed with fresh vigor during the coming session of congress. It is said that President Coolidge is not hostile to the idea, though he would perhaps prefer combining health with education in a single department. The objection that the federal government ought not to interest itself in public health may be answered by the fact that 37 different government bureaus are already actively engaged in one or another form of health work. Putting all these branches of service together in one department would not be starting something new but would be making something already existing more useful and effective. This is undoubtedly a subject of importance and interest, but it is not so vital as other subjects confronting congress. Flood control, waterway development, farm problems and taxation are all of considerably greater importance than this proposed enlargement of the cabinet.

THE new Ford car has been on the market only a few days, but it has already created unusual interest throughout the country. Millions of people got the full details of it last week for the first time and were delighted with the story of its beauty, speed, comfort, safety and low price.

All day long and far into the night, great crowds gathered in hundreds of Ford salesrooms from Maine to Florida and from New York to San Francisco. Never has such interest been shown in a new car. Never has any new car so far exceeded expectations.

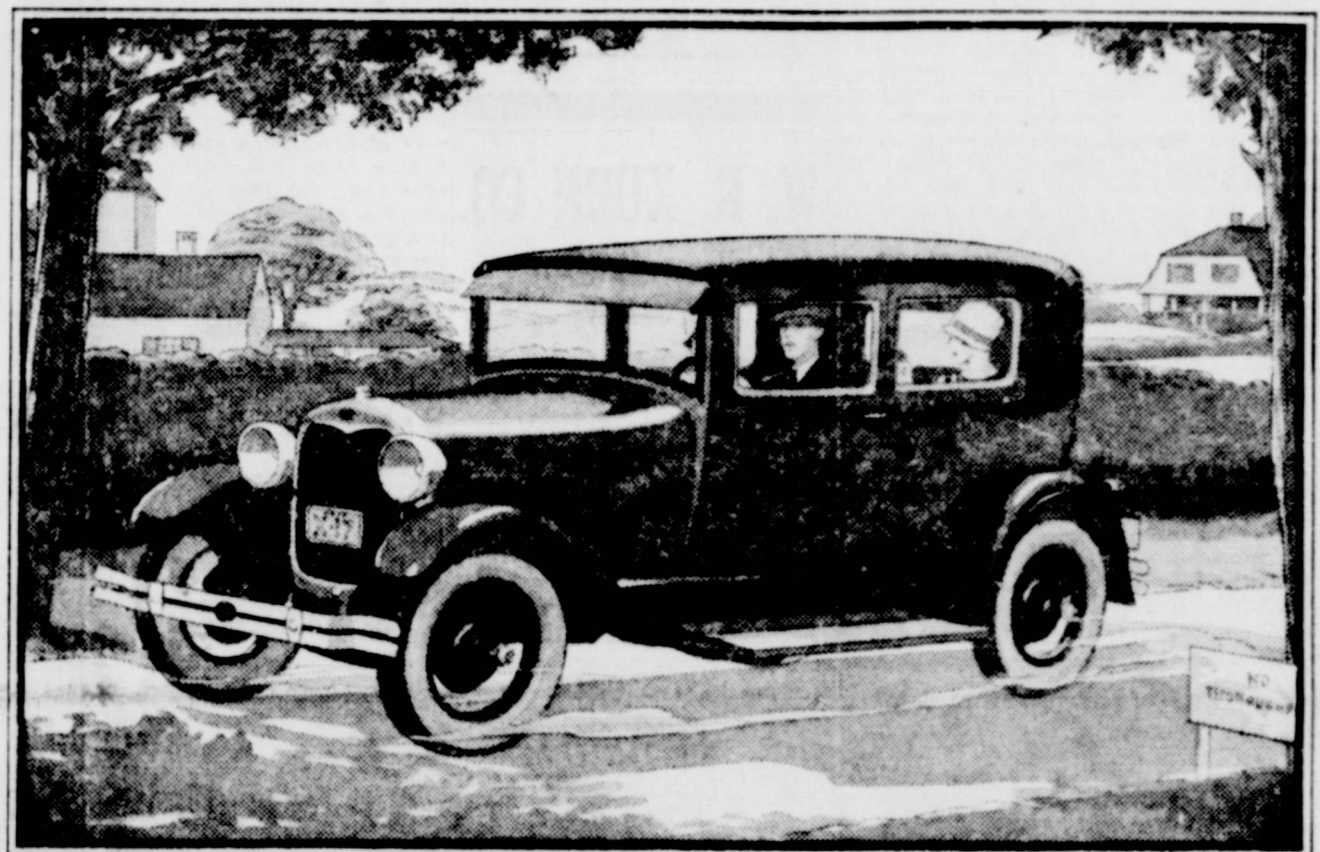

People knew that Ford was making a new car. They knew it was a good car. They had read announcements about it. But they had no idea it would be a car like this. Their quick appreciation of it is shown by the record-breaking sales.

Greatest day in the history of the automobile industry

Thousands upon thousands of orders for the new Ford car have been received since last Friday. These, and the advance orders placed with us by motorists even before the car was officially announced, will keep the entire Ford plant working day and night for weeks to come.

Such figures are a clear and unmistakable reflection of the value that has been built into the new Ford car. It is, without question, the outstanding purchase of all time in the light-car field.

Until you see the beauty of the new Ford

NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

An example of the fine coachwork of the new Ford cars. New military-type sun visor and with crown roof. Narrow pillars and new door construction give unusual vision. Both front seats fold forward, giving easy access to rear seat. Ample space between seats. Your choice of four colors—an unusual feature in a low-price car.

$495 (F. O. B. Detroit)

car—ride in it—know the thrill of driving it easily and safely through thickest traffic or step it up to sixty and sixty-five on the open road, you cannot begin to appreciate the extent of the many mechanical improvements embodied in its construction.

It is difficult to believe that so much speed, power, beauty, quiet, comfort and safety can be had at such a low price. It would be impossible if this new car were made by anyone but Ford.

Only Ford could sell such a fine car at such a low price

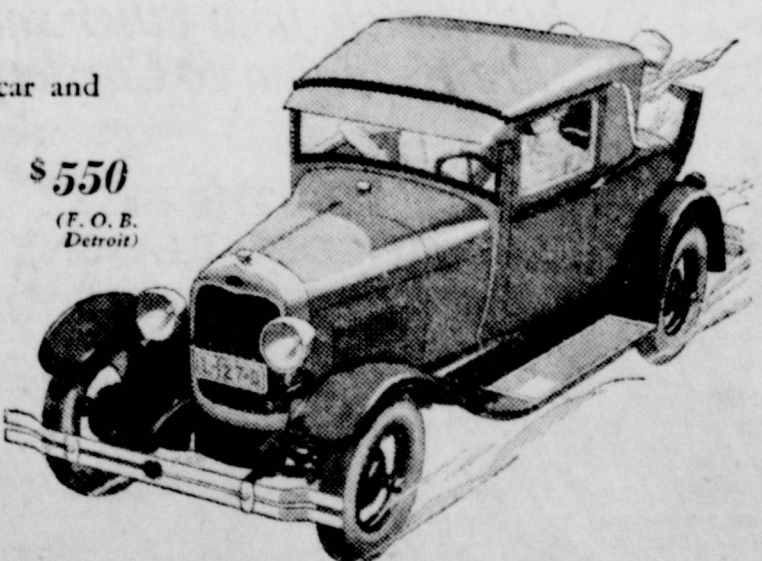

The low price of the new Ford car and its exceptional performance are the result of manufacturing practices and economies as unusual as the car itself. The new Ford is more than a new automobile. It is a new idea in modern, economical transportation.

By all means, take a little while today to learn about this new automobile. You will know that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

Six beautiful new Ford cars at surprisingly low prices

- New Phaeton $ 395
- New Roadster $ 385
- New Sport Coupe $ 550
- New Tudor Sedan $ 495
- New Coupe $ 495
- New Fordor Sedan $ 570

(All prices F. O. B. Detroit)

$550

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Cromulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Cromulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Cromulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Cromulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Tennant, members, saying that all of the superintendents are breaking this law, that they are working 700 persons in violation of it, and that there is no alternative because the legislature cut down the appropriation. It would require $100,000 to hire enough attendants to obey the law, the board says.

The board has so far refrained from asking Moody for a $100,000 deficiency so that it could hire sufficient number of attendants. If it does so, and should Moody allow it, then the governor is snatched up, immediate legal action.

MERRY WIVES 42 CLUB

Mrs. J. J. Burt entertained the members and guests of the Merry Wives 42 club Saturday afternoon at her home on West Fifth street. A variety of roses and cut flowers were used for decorations. Refreshments were served in the following guests: Mesdames R. Q. Lee, R. W. Patterson, Frank Britton, J. B. Cate, C. H. Poe, J. E. Spencer, Chervo Smith, M. C. Funderburk, D. P. Condit and the hostess.

Dear Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus: I hope you are feeling good this Christmas so that you can come around. I am nine years old and in the third grade and studying hard. This is what I want for Christmas: A Tom Mix cowboy suit with a big brim hat and a little truck and a lot of nuts and candy. My name is Howell Studdfield, 1907 D avenue.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl three years old. I help mother take care of the baby. Please bring me a doll that can walk and talk, a doll buggy and a picture book, and don't forget the nuts and candy. With love, Anna Mae Meglasson, 509 West Ninth.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy, two years old. I try to obey mother and daddy, and be as good as I can be. I am expecting you Christmas and would love to have a little red tri-cycle, a box of linker toys, a ch-chu train and a fire truck. If you can't bring all these, be sure and bring the red tri-cycle 'cause I want it more than anything else. I'll thank you heaps and heaps and be a good boy all next year. Glenn Layton, Hindilston, 307 West Fourteenth street.

BECKY HAS SMALL CHANCE TO WIN BANK RABBERY CASE

Becky at the trial will be her mother, Mrs. Grace Bradley. Her father, an inventor without commercial success, left their home without a word when Becky was a small girl. The family have not heard from him since.

Becky coolly powdered her nose at her arson trial while hardened lawyers let tears fall. But she is cool in the face of danger. When nurses were unwilling to face the dangers of treating her husband, stricken with tuberculosis, she nursed him back to strength. To be near him at the sanitarium she worked all day in a real estate office. At night she was telephone girl at a San Angelo hotel.
