Yipes, we used to hear folks talking about "living like a dog, leading a dogs life" and lots of such sayings.

But -- after what happened to us this week, well we figure that perhaps a dog leads an enviable life after all.

Our pooch had been looking for a while as if her next step would be toward the grave and after trying all sorts of home remedies we finally gave up and took her to the vets.

We had suspicioned the threat of hookworms, but our fears were found to be true at the hospital.

So the dog was treated, pampered and petted and when she returned home she is all squared away.

But -- the doctor gave us a diet for her to follow.

Well, this idea of dieting has always left us hollow-eyed for good, chow has always been close to our heart, but when a dog gets a prescription for meals that would make your mouth water we wonder.

For breakfast, many times we have to get by with a quick cup of coffee and run.

We used to enjoy breakfast, but the pace of everyday living has made breakfast mostly a memory.

But, for breakfast our dog is supposed to have one egg, prepared in any manner but raw, toast, butter and bacon.

(What no coffee!)

At noon her lunch calls for half a can of any good dog food, pabulum cereal and milk and the same for supper.

These pretty pedigreed dogs maybe ok, but you know we remember having an old hound that used to love to eat just about anything.

But -- guess that was before dogs heard of ulcers and labor problems.

We noticed in Jim Gillentine's column Hereford Bull, the other day where he observed that the recent election in our neighboring state of Oklahoma will cut off some of the revenue of Amarillo bootleggers.

Sorta reminded us of East Texas.

It is told that during prohibition an old timer would take a newcomer out to the Trinity River bridge and from the high vantage point show him the smoke rising from hundreds of stills hidden in the brush.

"There's our industry," the old-timer would say proudly.

Yes, it even got so bad that one bootlegger went so far as to have labels printed on his hootch in order to demand a better market price and set it apart from his "non-professional" neighbors.

We hear a lot about the "lost generation" of teenagers.

But when they are brought up seeing their parents wink at these deviations from the law, well what can you imagine would come out of such examples.

Thinlyclads Third In District Track Meet

Friona's thinlyclads brought home a third place from Amarillo Saturday at the District 1-AA track and field meet following Tulsa, first place, and Dalhart, second and Friona. Canyon was fourth and Dimmitt fifth in the district competition.

Gary Goetz, who tied for first place in the pole vault event, and J. W. Baxter, who won a first place tie in the high jump and second place in the high hurdles won a trip to Lubbock this Friday for the Regional Track Meet.

Coach Collie Huffman says he is "mighty pleased with the way the boys showed up in the Class AA competition." Boys placing in the meet at Amarillo and their events are as follows:

Pole Vault -- Goetz, first (tie) Gary Bradley, third. Broad Jump -- Gary Brooks, fourth.

High Jump -- Baxter, first (tie)

High Hurdles -- Baxter, second; Tommy Barker, third. Low Hurdles -- Jobey Claiborn, third; Connie Ray, fourth. 440 Relay -- Friona, third, team members Claiborn, Jockey Hight, Bomar Stacy and Jim Roy Clements.

220 -- Stacy, fourth. Mile Relay -- Friona fourth, team members Ray, Baxter, Hight and Goetz.

Girls Track Meet Slated for Monday

A Girls Track Meet is slated to get underway at Chieftain Stadium at 3 p.m. Monday afternoon.

Three schools in this area have indicated to Baker Duggins, coach of the local girls track team, that they will field teams in the competition.

These schools include the host, Friona, and teams from Muleshoe and Bovina.

The meet will be divided into two divisions -- Freshman Division and High School Division.

Events in the meet will include 50, 70 and 100 yard dashes; 200 and 440 yard relays; baseball throw; basketball throw; running broad jump; standing broad jump and the high jump.

Friona lasses entered in the High School Division include Tommy Lewellen, Lavada Hand, Gwen Green, Charlotte Bock, Sue Baxter, Kitty Black, Cynthia Caffey, Jackie Magness, Eleanor Dodson, Lawana Howlette, Mary Jane Grubbs and Darla Bingham.

County Officials Attend Meeting

Several Parmer County officials are in Mineral Wells this week attending the annual convention of the West Texas Judges and Commissioners Association.

The meeting will be Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Representing Parmer County

Edelmon Texaco Manager

The Texaco Service Station on West Highway 60 in Friona is open under a new management. Claude Edelmon, formerly the manager of the Lakeside 66 Station here, is now operating the station. It was formerly managed by Wilbur Brookfield.

Edelmon, a former farmer in the Black Community, moved to Friona about a year ago. He and his wife, Maude, and two children, Billy and Judy, live at the corner of Cleveland and Seventh streets.

During the past four weeks Edelmon has been attending classes in Amarillo, sponsored by The Texas Company for service station operators and successfully completed the course.

In addition to Texaco products, Edelmon offers washing, greasing, tire repair and other car servicing and invites his former customers and associates to come by his new location for any service needed.

Edelmon says, "We plan to offer first class service and want everyone to give us an opportunity to serve them."

are Judge Loyde Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McDonald of Precinct 3, Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crain of Precinct 4, Lazbuddie; and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Phipps of Precinct 2, Friona.

Judge Brewer also attended a meeting of the Panhandle Judges Association in Amarillo last Friday.

Dale Schueler, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schueler, received a broken elbow last Monday afternoon when he tripped and fell at his home.

OPENS TEXACO STATION--Claude Edelmon poses for a picture in front of his Texaco Service Station on West Highway 60 in Friona. The station, formerly managed by Howard Brookfield, has been restocked and Edelmon has recently finished a four-week long course sponsored by The Texas Company for service station operators.

Band Shoots For Sweepstake Honor

Friona's Chieftain Band will be in competition for the highest award in their class Thursday afternoon (today) when they take part in the University Interscholastic League Music Contest in Canyon.

This is the first year the Chieftain Band has competed in Class AA and Director Dick Bentz says the "competition here is a lot stiffer than we were used to in Class A."

The Chieftain Band was awarded a Division I for their marching last fall, and the contest Thursday is a continuation of that contest.

If the band wins a Division I in Thursday's events they will be awarded a coveted Sweepstakes trophy, tops in the class.

Thursday the band will compete as a concert band playing the "Hall of Fame March,"

Labor Department Aims For Card Toting Hoe Hands

By DAVE McREYNOLDS (ED NOTE: This reporter was one of a party of Parmer County representatives who attended a state-wide meeting Friday in San Angelo for the purpose of hearing more on the subject of Labor Department designs on the farm labor situation.)

"Our farm-labor situation today is no accident," Matt Trigg, assistant legislative director for the American Farm Bureau Federation told an aroused crowd of farmers in San Angelo last Friday.

"This situation stems from the victory which labor unions won in last year's election," Trigg told the 400 representatives from all the state of Texas.

Citing figures to bear out his statement Trigg told of how labor bosses have bragged that their unions elected 25 of 32 Senators which they supported; 17 of 25 governors they supported and 70 per cent of the representatives supported by labor organizations during the last elections.

"This makes the labor unions a dominant figure in our politics today," Trigg warned as an opening statement.

The present farm-labor situation stems from a meeting held in Washington this February. Trigg went on where presentations were given to a group of over 400 "liberal" organizations and was geared to drive home the fact that the farm laborer today is being exploited and that something should be done about it.

Trigg said the meeting above was called a hearing but it should have been called a national kickoff for a campaign to accomplish four major purposes ----

1. The enactment of minimum wage legislation for farm workers.
2. The unionization of farm workers.
3. The elimination or curtailment of the foreign labor importation program so as to create a national farm labor shortage and.
4. An interpretation of the Wagner - Peyer Act which would accomplish federal regulation of the farmer-worker relationship.

Pointing out that farmers aren't like a factory when it comes to strikes and that he cannot afford to wait out a wage dispute over any period of time whatever when a crop awaits harvesting, Trigg says this point alone could ruin our farming operations as we know them today.

"A farmer could lose not only his entire year's income, but a substantial investment in producing the crop as well," he pointed out.

Trigg warned that this year the arrangements which Secretary of Labor James A. Mitchell wants to become law as of May 1 are probably seemingly "sweetness and light."

"For the time being farmers who accept such a proposal might well be supplied with an unusually competent crew, but it

Two Arrested, Charged With County Offenses

Two men were taken into custody and charged with Parmer County offenses by officers during the past week.

Emanuel Webster, 47, of Friona was arrested Sunday morning and was charged with possession of unstamped liquor. County officers discovered the liquor in his home when they searched it. It was hidden in a combination radio-TV set.

The Negro man has lived in Friona for only a short time. His bond was set at $1000 and at press time he was still in jail, although his trial is expected sometime this week.

John M. Bussell, 42, also of Friona, is in custody after being arrested in Memphis in connection with theft of Parmer County cattle.

He is charged with stealing four calves from the ranch of W. D. Cooper north of Friona. The calves were alleged to have been stolen by him Thursday evening, transported to Memphis, and sold there Friday morning.

They brought $422 and Bussell was in town waiting to cash his check when he was held for investigation. He was found to have stolen license plates on his pickup.

He was then linked to the disappearance of the calves in Parmer County and was returned to Farwell Monday to face the more serious charge of cattle stealing.

Bussell has been involved in incidences of cattle theft previously. He has been, in fact, to the penitentiary for that offense three times.

Cooper went to Memphis, identified his calves, and now has them back.

Council Hears Plea For Cemetery Well

City Councilmen heard a plea for the restoration of water at the cemetery by representatives of the American Legion at a special meeting of the council Tuesday night.

Legionnaires Loyde Brewer, post commander, Ralph Taylor, post adjutant and Floyd Brookfield, committee member asked the council just how could water be secured at the cemetery.

The Legionnaires were then told the detail story behind the situation at the cemetery.

Up until last year the city had a partnership with Carl Maurer on a well serving the cemetery and Maurer's wheat field.

Maurer furnished the pump and motor, with the city furnishing the well and casing.

This arrangement proved to be of no use to either party for the well, when opened to pump a full 8-inch pipe of water for Maurer's wheat field began to sand down.

Finally the situation became intolerable and the partnership was dissolved with Maurer moving his pump and motor.

Following a lengthy discussion the council told the Legionnaires that it would probably cost about $3,000 to set up such equipment at the site, making use of the well and casing at the cemetery.

Brookfield, who is in the water business locally, agreed with the council that to furnish the spot with water would run between $2,500 and $3,000.

The council told the Legionnaires that the city would make available labor, pressure pump and tanks and do what was necessary to get it all working if they could furnish the money.

The Legionnaires told the council they would try to raise money for the purchase of the necessary 4 inch pump and motor, and other equipment to get water to both sections of the graveyards.

What Kind Of Card Do You Want?

If the latest plans of Labor Czar Walter Reuther and his hierarchy become law, the farms and farmers that we know so well today may well become items of print on the pages of history in the very near future. You may bicker about what to do about the buck-thirty cent maize but the proposed labor regulations which Secretary of Labor James Mitchell have drafted may well put a permanent end to this.

We had taken a cynical view of the proceedings along this line saying to ourselves that "this could be serious alright, but surely those folks in Washington have better sense."

After last week we wonder if they do or not. Just in case, and just to make sure the "folks in Washington" know what we think we must act fast, or make plans to pack up. In this instance each and every one of us should forget personal feelings and personal likes and dislikes and work together to combat this threat.

The very thought of having to go through the Employment Commission to secure workers should make most Parmer county farmers shake with anger.

It hasn't been very long ago that I overheard a conversation where a couple of fellows were talking of their efforts to secure workers "by the domestic route."

After spending days and weeks and a couple of hundred dollars talking to a sampling of the "the unemployed millions" these two men returned empty handed, and doggone near with empty pocketbooks.

On another occasion a man told us he got two workers to come down, and after paying their transportation and advancing wages they both worked until noon and were never more to be seen.

It brings back to mind a personal experience of last year, when during the recession I picked up a hitchhiker on Highway 60 and after hearing him tell of the hard times and how much he needed a job I told him of asking a local vegetable farmer for a job.

I explained to him what kind of work it was and his retort was "Hell man, that's WORK!"

Do you as a farmer want some caste-conscious Employment Commission underling telling you what sort of housing you have to provide for your workers?

As a worker do you want this same gooneybird to tell you how much you can earn and where you can work and earn a living?

This situation is neither fair to employer or employee.

The right for individual bargaining is something that we always figured was included in the Bill of Rights.

But--not according to the aims of Secretary Mitchell.

You can see how successful his regulations can be by looking at the industrialized East today.

There they cry are five million and over unemployed persons.

Yes, and I'd bet that of this number if they were all offered a job of working on a farm they'd reply much the same as my hitch-hiker.

They are too used to the union czars dictating for them and at the same time reaching in their hip pocket to relieve them of any cash for "dues, unemployment benefits etc."

Personally, in our opinion the workingman of the industrial area of our country has priced, and coffee-broken himself out of a job.

While they were out on strike the management figured out some way to get a machine to take his place.

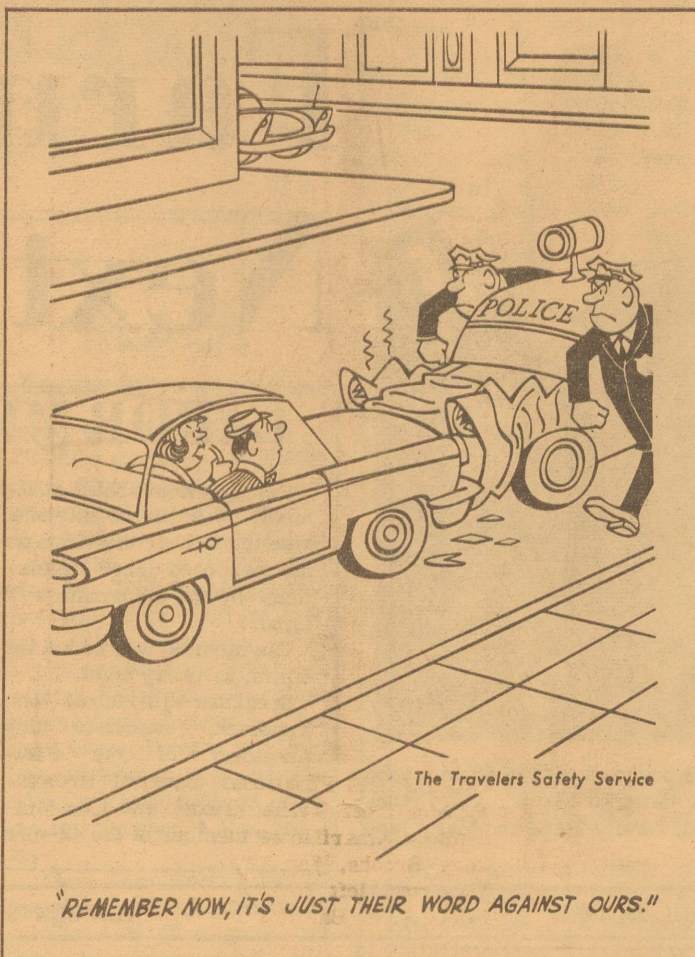

As a banker in San Angelo told us Friday "John Deere cotton pickers will replace a lot of them."

Yes, but it can't do it all, and every man has his right to bargain for a job. If all of us knew just how much money we were going to make every day of every year, and how much time we could put in on the job what would happen to our incentive? That is - the incentive that folks like James Mitchell have left us.

We hope Mitchell finds he has opened Pandora's Box and will quickly shut the lid.

But meanwhile stand up and voice your opinion.

would only be a question of time until the union would be telling the farmers how much they had to pay, the conditions of employment, checkoff of union dues, arrangement of labor union stewards and so on."

Trigg predicted a major effort in the field of federal regulation of wages and hours for farm workers this year.

"The proponents of this bill will water down the proposal so as to stir up the least possible opposition," he said.

"Such a bill would only apply to about one or two per cent of our farms at first, but once such a principle was adopted it can be gradually expanded in future years."

Going on to Mexican Labor, Trigg said that naturally the legislation authorizing this program will be renewed this year . . . but he pointed out the "AFL-CIO has already indicated its opposition to the extension of the program."

Taking into consideration the power of union labor in Congress, Trigg left this statement hanging.

Following this brief discussion on the Mexican Labor problem Trigg got down to the biggest bombshell of all -- the well - publicized proposals of Secretary Mitchell which may become law in the Federal Registry May 1.

If this series of proposals become law any farmer who wishes to use the services of the Employment Service to recruit

He says several nationally known firms of lawyers and attorneys have called them unconstitutional in nature.

But, as to what action or how the Supreme Court would act on this opinion he hesitated to say.

"They disregard the fact that of all the cost elements in agriculture, farm wages are increasing the fastest," said Trigg.

"Farm wages are six times the level in 190-14 where farm prices for the same level have increased only two and a half times. Farm wages are increasing twice as fast as the cost of living."

Another feature of the regulations would set up thousands of "little Caesars" over the nation, Trigg said.

The proposals are ambiguous enough and vague enough to allow for all sorts of interpretations by government employees thus the farmer would be forced to "walk lightly" in the presence of Employment Commission officials so that the farmer would have no fear of harassment or reprisal from the official.

He pointed out that in addition to the opinions of the legal minds in Washington, the regulations have hit hard opposition from the White House down through the state employment commission.

Following the first signs of bitterness and resentment the Labor Department then agreed to turn the regulations over to the Attorney General for his opinion.

"If we can convince the Attorney General that these regulations, based on the Wagner-Peyser Act of 1933 show usurpation of power on the part of Mitchell, we can breathe easier for this year," Trigg said.

He warned however, that the ultimate aim of the Labor Department and the union bosses was the unionization of all labor in the entire country and that they "won't be easily downed."

How can choosing this man mean greater security for you and your family?

This man is an independent, self-employed insurance specialist. He is free to select for you the best insurance policy for your car, home, or business out of hundreds offered by different, competing insurance companies. He gives you continuing service - advises you after you buy insurance as well as before. And you don't have to worry about red tape when you have a claim - he takes care of everything.

You can't get all of these advantages when you buy insurance directly from a casualty or fire insurance company. You must have the policies that company offers, which may or may not be the right coverage for you. And when you have a loss, you may have to deal with the company - with people you probably have never met.

How can you be sure you are dealing with an independent insurance agent? Look for this seal before you buy insurance. Only an independent agent can display it.

PTA Meet Set For Thursday

Due to a conflict in dates the PTA meeting scheduled for this (Thursday) evening has been postponed until Thursday afternoon of next week.

At 4 p.m. Apr. 23 at the cafeteria a detailed discussion of the Hale-Aikin school bill and the effect it will have on our local school will be given by Superintendent Dillie M. Kelley; Raymond Cook, Baker Duggins and Tom Jarboe, principals of the three schools; and Frank A. Spring.

Kelley will give a report on the results of the overall program of legislation on a statewide level. Cook will discuss the effect the program will have on construction of school facilities.

Duggins will report the school program; teacher supply will be discussed by Jarboe; and Spring will report the financial changes that will be brought about.

Mrs. J. C. Claborn, president, especially urges all fathers of children attending the Friona school to be present for this meeting.

Rodriguez Services Conducted

Funeral services for Mrs. Joe Rodriguez were conducted at the Baptist mission in Friona Wednesday afternoon at 4. Rev. B. C. Ancira, pastor, officiated.

Mrs. Rodriguez died at the Parmer County Community Hospital Monday evening. Before her marriage she was Cipriana Andrade. She was born May 19, 1940 at Melvin, Texas, and moved to Friona about 2 1/2 years ago.

Survivors besides her husband and infant daughter include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Andrade; four brothers, Richard, Antonio, Freddie and Lupe; and seven sisters, Alvera, Virginia, Linda, Dianna, Esmeralda, Romanita and O-rene.

Local Men Tour Research Farm

Seven Friona men left here by chartered bus Saturday morning for St. Louis, Mo., where they were taken on a conducted tour through the 700 acre research farm of Purina Mills. These men went in a group of 29 Golden Spread farmers and business men.

The bus reached St. Louis early Sunday morning and in the afternoon the group attended the San Francisco Giants - St. Louis Cardinals baseball game at Busch Stadium.

In addition to touring the farm, they also toured the research laboratory of the Ralston Purina organization. This trip was sponsored by Cummings Farm Store, local Purina dealer.

Those making the trip were Ennis H. Cummings, Melvin Sachs, Tom Lewellen, Cord Hammock, Ellis Tatum, Ernest Anthony and D. G. Hand. They returned to Friona Wednesday evening.

Mrs. H. A. Hyde recently returned from Olympia, Wash., where she had spent nine days visiting in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Omer E. Hyde and children, Richard, Treva and Paula. Rev. Hyde, a former Friona resident, is Mrs. Hyde's son. At the present time he is doing mission work in the State of Washington.

Ted Sanders Plans To Attend Wayland College

FRIONA HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR plans to continue playing basketball. Ted Sanders, shown signing his letter of intent to attend Wayland Baptist College, is six feet, seven inches tall and is a three-year letterman in basketball. Shown with him are Coach Billings of the Wayland Pioneers, left, and his father, John D. Sanders.

Ted Sanders has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Wayland Baptist College next fall and to play basketball, according to an announcement made by the Wayland Pioneer coach, Ed Billings.

Born at Littlefield, he entered school at Dimmitt and transferred here in the second grade. He is a member of the senior class. For the past five years Ted has carried the Amarillo Globe Times and has been awarded two academic scholarships from the publishing company.

An active Boy Scout for several years, he has served as president of the Tierra Blanca district and president of the Llano Estacado Council. He made one trip to the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., and is an Eagle Scout with a bronze palm.

For the past four years Sanders has been employed as a handcraft instructor at Camp Don Harrington and represented this district at Austin for a report to the governor during Boy Scout Week.

Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sanders, is an active member of the First Baptist Church and is vice-president of the Baptist Youth Council.

During his four years in Friona High School, he has been active in many outside activities. During his freshman year he was a member of the one-act play cast that won first place in the district.

In his sophomore year he won the Citizenship Award and was a member of the one-act play cast. He also lettered in basketball and repeated the feat in his junior and senior years. During all four years he played the tuba in the senior band.

During his junior year he was a member of the Thespian play cast, debate team, and student council and was chosen by the American Legion to represent Friona at Boys State at Austin in June of that year.

This year he has been selected as the boy most likely to succeed; served as president of the Thespian Troupe; and been a member of the Thespian play cast, one-act play cast, debate team and senior play cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders and Ted were guests at Wayland Baptist College on High School Day on the campus recently.

WHICH ONE?

Festus, Agrippa, and Paul --- each of the three represents a specific class of people today. Festus represents those who entirely turn aside from the gospel, branding it as madness and folly. Agrippa represents those who have had the gracious privilege of being brought near the kingdom, and who have been enabled to understand something of its nature, terms, duties, and blessings, but who, in spite of all this, remain in their sins. Paul represents those who are not only convinced of the truth of the gospel, but who fully surrender to it and who love supremely the Christ it reveals. In which class do we find ourselves? Attend church this Lord's Day --- take the whole family?

Local Legionnaires Off to Convention

Five members of the Friona American Legion Post 206, will attend the annual Spring convention of the 18th Congressional District to be held in Pampa Saturday and Sunday. Members of the local post planning to make the trip to Pampa include Post Commander Loyde Brewer, Ralph Taylor, post adjutant, A. T. "Buddy" Stowers, W. B. Norwood and Loyd Mingus. Registration will be at 8 a.m. Sunday with an Officers' breakfast slated to begin at the Pampa Hotel at the same time. The joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary will convene at 9 a.m. at the Legion Home. A Memorial Service is slated for 10:20 a.m. It is better to bend than to break. Excess of ceremony shows want of breeding.

HIGH HURDLER--J. W. Baxter was shot while warming up during a cold afternoon in anticipation of the Regional Track Meet. Baxter will compete in two events, the high hurdles and high jump at the Regional affair.

Final Rites Thursday For Roy M. Warren

Funeral services for Roy Montgomery Warren, 65, of Dimmitt were conducted in the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt with the pastor, Rev. M. A. Smith Jr. officiating. Warren, who is a former Friona resident, died at High Plains Clinic Tuesday afternoon following a heart attack. Warren was born in Ellis County, Texas, November 11, 1893. On December 23, 1912, he was married to Daisy Katherine Keen, who survives. Other survivors include seven sons, Loyce of Dallas; Lloyd of Hereford; Lewis of Dimmitt; Odell, Weldon and Maxie of Delray, Fla.; and Bobby Joe of Springfield, Mo.; Also four daughters; Mesdames Alyene Rawls of Dallas; Mattie Mae Sheek of Oil City, La.; Ruby Howell of Friona and Beva Bates of Dimmitt; 23 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Mrs. Sheek was a resident of the Hub community before moving to Louisiana about a year ago.

Warren moved to Friona from Levelland about 30 years ago and then moved from here to the Bethel Community, west of Dimmitt, in 1944. At the time of his death, he was residing at 608 Lee Street in Dimmitt. Burial was in Levelland Cemetery under direction of Dennis Funeral Home of Dimmitt.

FINAL RITES FOR S. J. GREESON

Funeral services for Samuel Jasper Greeson, former resident of the Black community, were conducted at the Friona Methodist Church at 10 a.m. Monday. Rev. Hugh Blaylock was the officiating minister. Mr. Greeson, 89, lived in Parmer County about 20 years before moving to Hereford in 1956. Immediate survivors include his wife and three daughters, Mrs. Elza Warrick of Hereford, Mrs. Ted Bush of Dimmitt and Mrs. H. E. Lindley of Hereford; one brother, Jim, of Oklahoma City, eleven grand-children and eight great-grandchildren.

Audrey Hapke Weds Truman Kittrell

In a double-ring ceremony at the Texico Baptist Church at 6 p.m. Friday of last week Miss Audrey Hapke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hapke, and Truman Kittrell exchanged wedding vows. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Kittrell of the West Camp Community.

Rev. C. C. Morgan, pastor of the church read the informal ceremony. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kittrell, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. Others attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craft, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Sheriff and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bremer.

The bride wore a white sheath dress fashioned with a lace yoke and white accessories. She carried a cascade of aqua carnations atop a white Bible. The Bible was borrowed from Mrs. T. J. Kittrell.

In keeping with tradition her small white hat designed as a crown and edged with a small veil was new. For something old she wore matching rhinestone bracelet and earrings, a gift from the groom; a penny, minted in the year of her birth was worn in her shoe for good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Hapke, parents of the bride, Bobby and Dorothy, were special guests at the reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Craft, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

The serving table, covered with a blue silk cloth sent to the bride's mother from Japan, was centered with an arrangement of carnations and snapdragons. Wedding cake and punch were served. The white three tiered cake, baked by Mrs. Forrest Osborn of Friona, a friend of the bride, was decorated with wedding bells and lattice-work in aqua. Tiny wed-

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Cotton Planting Expected Soon

Planting of the Farmer County area's 1959 cotton crop is expected to begin soon. The cold weather that moved in the first of this week, in fact, has probably interrupted the plans of a good many farmers in the southern part of the county to get some seed into the ground this week.

"On the High Plains it's always a race between farmers and the calendar and the weather to get the cotton crop started and to harvest it too. Cotton is a crop which just barely "sandwiches in" to the climate of the area.

Still, it's by far the area's best paying major cash crop and so there's always a rush to grow just as much as allotments allow and to strive for the maximum yields obtainable.

Early planting is looked upon with favor for this reason. From the first week in May until about May 20 is generally regarded as the busy season on the High Plains for planting cotton, but farmers don't pay so much attention to the calendar as they do to more obvious factors. Soil temperature is regarded as the most important one of these. To date, temperatures have not been warm enough for long enough periods of time to justify planting seed. Seed planted in soil that is too cold won't germinate.

Joe Jones, county agent, says he feels farmers should "Plant when you feel like you've got a reasonable chance of getting a stand."

It is especially important to get cotton planted as soon as possible in tighter soils and in the northern part of the cotton growing area, of which Farmer County is a part. The reason is that if a farmer has his field moisture to an adequate level and is ready for planting, and then gets an unexpected shower, he may be delayed from planting for quite a while. Also, the tighter soils do not warm up as quickly as sandier ones and cotton usually starts slower there.

"The thing to do is for a farmer to get his land in the best condition he can and then be ready to plant plenty of good strong seed when he feels like it's late enough so that the cotton will come up." That's the way the agent sums up his attitude about cotton planting. Farmer County cotton farmers have boosted their allotment this year by 3770 acres because of the so-called "B Plan" choice.

Name Essay Winners

Winners of this year's essay contests, sponsored by the Farmer County Soil Conservation District, have been announced.

First place this year goes to Margaret Ann Eggers of Lazbuddie. She will win a $50 cash prize for her work.

Taking second place is Don Crume of Farwell, who will receive $35. Jerry Pat Cranfill of Friona won third and will get a $25 prize, and Patsy Hart, Bovina, came out in fifth place and will receive $15.

These awards will be formally acknowledged at the annual Soil Conservation District banquet in September.

All of the essays were on the subject, "Conservation and Citizenship." Roy Crawford, Bovina vocational agriculture instructor, was in charge of the contest this year. He says that there was an unusually large number of entries.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Now that spring is here it's clean up time around the farm. Clean up, check up, and fix up for fire and accident prevention as you prepare for efficient spring farm work and make the home safe from fire and accidents. Remove the hazards and maintain the buildings and surroundings to make them safe from accidents.

Highly combustible buildings, hay, feed, and flammable liquids are found on farms. Farm families can prevent fire only by keeping fire, heat and power under control and keeping all combustible material away from heat, sparks and flames.

Common causes of fire on farms are: defective heating and cooking equipment; defective chimneys; sparks falling on combustible roofs, dry leaves or grass; misuse of electricity or defective wiring, equipment, or appliances; careless use of matches and tobacco; tractors, autos or other gas engines, and dryers operated near combustible materials; flammable liquids of gasses improperly stored or used; uncontrolled burning of trash, grass or woods; fats, grease, potholders or clothing exposed to the heat of the kitchen range; cleaning fluids used indoors; or fires quickened with kerosene. Prevent fires by avoiding these causes of fire. Dispose of trash and accumulated junk in house, barn or yard.

Soil conservation is an obligation of every American interested in the preservation of freedom and security for the generations tomorrow.

Over two and one-half million dollars have now been obligated to landowners in the Plains area of Texas through the Great Plains Conservation Program, reports Lynn Pittard, extension assistant soil and water conservation specialist. For a thorough explanation of the program, he advises obtaining L-410 from county agents or the Agricultural Information Office in College Station, Texas.

Three County Girls In Queen Contest

Deaf Smith Co-op Meeting Next Thursday at Hereford

Deaf Smith Co-op Meeting Next Thursday at Hereford 24s Three Farmer County girls will vie for the honor of being queen of the Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op beauty contest Thursday, April 30 in Hereford.

To compete at the annual meeting will be Wilma Norton, Mary Ann Stacy, and Darla Bingham.

Miss Norton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Norton of Farwell. She is sponsored by ESA Sorority of Farwell.

Miss Stacy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Stacy of Friona. She is sponsored by Farmer County Farm Bureau. She won that organization's queen contest last year. (Miss Norton won the contest the previous year.)

Miss Bingham is another Friona contestant, and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bingham. The Friona FHA chapter is her sponsor.

Thirteen high school girls are in the contest. They come from Dimmitt, Hereford, Adrian, and Farmer County. The winner of the contest will be named "Miss Deaf Smith Rural Electric of 1959" and will enter the state contest at Houston.

"Garland "Cotton John" Smith of KGNC, Amarillo, will emcee the contest, and it will be filmed for his TV show.

The co-op meeting starts at noon, and a barbecue lunch will be served at the Bull Barn. The business meeting will start at 1 and will be presided over by Sloan Osborn, Friona, chairman of the board of directors.

Merrill Riggen, operations field representative for the Rural Electrification Adminis-

THE PARMER COUNTY IMPLEMENT CO. NEWS

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas Wednesday, April 22, 1959

When we empty pockets on washday, it's almost like being on a scavenger hunt. Last week's loot included a broken rubber band, two marbles, a big key and a tiny lock, three kinds of string, two rocks, a shoe horn, a steel tape (a good one that we lost a couple of weeks ago), two life savers, three candy cigarettes, one button, forty cents in change, one tiny jar lid and a knife with a broken blade.

More farmers prefer Goodyear tractor tires than any other kind; more tons are hauled on Goodyear tires than any other kind; more people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind; that's why Goodyear tires are for sale at the Parmer County Implement Company.

It is rumored that a new simplified income tax form for next year just contains four lines:

Line one -- What was your income last year?

Line two -- What were your expenses?

Line three -- How much have you left?

Line four -- Send it in.

When you need a truck, compare the advantages of owning an International Truck against any other. We believe you'll see it our way.

Want to be able to predict tomorrow's weather? We enjoyed the article and pictures in the Cummings Farm Store checkerboard magazine this month. "The clouds can tell you much about tomorrow's weather."

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Rushing, who live south of Clovis, visited their son and family, the Eric Rushings, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Rushing are really Friona folks who now live in New Mexico.

Keep your busy season work on schedule -- save time and costs. Be sure your tractor has the zip and go for peak power output by getting a check-up and tune-up. Come in. See what we'll do to put your tractor in busy-season condition power-wise at special low cost.

Any government that is big enough to give you everything you want is big enough to take everything you've got.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hurst were in Abilene Sunday.

"Gossip is excellent therapy for women," says a London hospital official. That must explain why women gossips live so long.

Of course your farm is different -- different soil -- labor -- crops -- water -- That's why we carry so many different kinds of farm machines -- International Harvester machines pay for themselves in use. Trucks - Tractors and Power Units.

Deann and Richard Dickson stayed with the Charles Baldwins several days last week while their mother was in the hospital. Deann, with the chicken pox, wouldn't have been very welcome in some homes, but the Baldwin girls were glad to see her because they had the chicken pox, too.

See the beautiful new Oldsmobiles on our show floor before you buy that new car. You'll find that you, too, can afford an Oldsmobile.

Things are never so bad that they couldn't get worse. What if every seed made by the Chinese Elm trees came up?

For dependable, low-cost pumping power, men who know prefer International. You can't afford to stop and coax a reluctant engine when you have a thirsty crop in the field. That's why dependable International units are so widely used for irrigation pumping.

A man was having trouble putting in some new fence posts and called his wife for assistance. "I'll hold the post," he said, "and when I nod my head you hit it." She did and is now a widow with three children.

Users who have been irrigating crops for many years know the value of low-cost power that's always there when you need it. They know -- that's why they buy International.

An American prayer: "Stop my neighbor, oh Lord, from buying things I can't afford."

BY RICHARD CHITWOOD

A county-wide 4-H meeting was called to order at 8 p.m., April 20, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billingsley.

The secretary, Judy Bill-ingsley, read the minutes. Richard Chitwood gave a report on our last party at Hub. We had a new member, Gary Foster, of Lazbuddie.

The people that were going to give demonstrations at Canyon, May 2, were on the program. Pat Chitwood gave her demonstration, "Milk for All." The second demonstration was by Barbara Rea and Janice Hillock. Their demonstration was "Dairy Foods for Taste, Health, and Economy."

The third demonstration was "Good Light and Good Sight," and it was given by Judy Billingsley and Virginia Rea. The fourth demonstration, "Making a Wall Lamp," was by Bruce and Janis Billingsley.

Members present were Barbara Rea, Virginia Rea, Janice Hillock, Pat Chitwood, Judy Billingsley, Cooper Young, Joe Jones, Gary Sooter, Bruce and Janis Billingsley and Richard Chitwood.

LAWN SEED, FERTILIZER NOW COME IN STRIPS

A new way to seed lawns is with a 24-inch-wide strip of fabric that has grass seed, lime, and fertilizer "built in."

Ideal for slopes and narrow areas, the strip is simply laid atop soil. Heavy rains can't wash the seed or fertilizer away, and the fabric backing disintegrates after the seed sprouts.

TABLE 1. CONTACT SPRAYS FOR SPOT-TREATING ESTABLISHED JOHNSONGRASS IN CROPS

Sprays	Additions to 100 gallons and effectiveness	Approximate cost of mixture per gallon, dollars
For contact killing of Johnsongrass sprouts
Naphtha	None. Toxicity greater than needed for crown-oiling 6-inch sprouts under most conditions.	0.23
Diesel fuel oil or kerosene	None. Toxicity low. Reliable for crown-oiling 6-inch sprouts only during hot weather. Use diesel and kerosene interchangeably in mixed sprays.	0.13
1/2 naphtha 1/2 diesel	None. Reliable for crown-oiling 6-inch sprouts under most conditions.	0.18
C-56 in kerosene	C-56 (hexachlorocyclopentadiene) increases penetration of plant tissue. 1 qt. C-56. Toxicity equal to 1/2 naphtha and 1/2 diesel for crown-oiling 6-inch sprouts.	0.17
	2 qt. C-56. Reliable for basal oiling of lower 8 inches of stems in boot stage.	0.21
	4 qt. C-56. Useful for oiling 8-inch stubs of Johnsongrass in flowering stage.	0.29
Dinitro in kerosene	1 qt. oil soluble dinitro (Dow General or others). Toxicity equal to 1/2 naphtha and 1/2 diesel for crown-oiling 6-inch sprouts.	0.16
Pentachlorophenol in kerosene	4 gal. pentachlorophenol (44 percent). Toxicity equal to 1/2 naphtha and 1/2 diesel for crown-oiling 6-inch sprouts.	0.19
C-56 + dinitro in kerosene	1 gal. C-56, 1 pt. dinitro. Toxicity superior to equivalent concentration of C-56 in kerosene.	0.31
C-56 + pentachlorophenol in kerosene	1 gal. C-56, 4 gal. pentachlorophenol (44 percent). Toxicity and penetration equivalent to C-56 + dinitro in kerosene.	0.37

TABLE 2. SYSTEMIC AND RESIDUAL SPRAYS FOR SPOT-TREATING ESTABLISHED JOHNSONGRASS IN CROPS

Sprays	Additions to 100 gallons and effectiveness	Approximate cost of mixture per gallon, dollars
For contact and systemic killing of Johnsongrass by crown or basal application in cotton or sorghum
HCA in kerosene	3 gal. HCA (90 percent hexachloroacetone). Contact toxicity equals 1/2 naphtha and 1/2 diesel. Residual effectiveness during rainy months similar to equivalent concentration of TCA in water.	0.35
For systemic killing of Johnsongrass by foliage application
Dalapon in water	10 lb. sodium dalapon; 4 lb. Fab or equivalent wetting agent. For cheap selective spraying of terminal foliage of 3-leaf sprouts under humid conditions.	0.13
	20 lb. sodium dalapon, 4 lb. Fab or equivalent wetting agent. Most reliable treatment for vigorously growing foliage of Johnsongrass of varying ages.	0.23
For systemic killing of Johnsongrass by temporary soil sterilization
TCA in water	50 lb. sodium TCA. For fall application prior to cotton for 80 percent or more reduction in stand of established Johnsongrass without subsequent effects on cotton.	0.20
HCA in kerosene	See above.
For potential knockout of sparse infestations by nonselective spot applications
TCA-dalapon mixture in water	40 lb. sodium TCA, 20 lb. sodium dalapon, 4 lb. Fab or equivalent wetting agent. For foliage and soil application in cotton and sorghum. Kills crop in treated spots.	0.43
HCA in kerosene	See above.
For spring preplanting spot-spraying before any row crop
Maleic hydrazide in water	2 1/2 gal. maleic hydrazide (MH-30). Stops growth of grass including underground buds. Destruction of affected tops eradicates or nearly eradicates the grass.	0.44

Parmer County area farmers are becoming increasingly concerned over the spread of Johnsongrass in and around their fields.

While very few fields of this area are at the "give up" stage of infestation which often requires abandonment of cropping until the grass can be eliminated, the clumps of the pesky perennial that are popping up with increasing frequency right out in the cultivated fields are of great concern. Farmers don't want conditions to worsen.

Because this is an intensely farmed irrigated area, the so-called "spot spraying" control of Johnsongrass has proved to be most popular.

County Agent Joe Jones points out that many farmers are as yet unfamiliar with many of the sprays and their combinations which can be used effectively in these spot spraying control programs.

Naphtha and diesel oil sprays are familiar to most area farmers, but their understanding of other commercially available chemicals is sketchy.

For that reason Farm and Home is printing these two charts on sprays that have established their effectiveness. The first group is made up of contact sprays and the second is of systemic and residual sprays.

Vegetables Taper Off Slightly in Friona Area

Parmer County's oldest vegetable deal, which was influenced in the early 1950's by the much older vegetable business around Hereford, is centered at Friona Growers and Shippers.

Vegetables grown around Friona this year are expected to be reduced a slight amount from an acreage standpoint to those planted last year.

The Friona shed originally began as a potato processing operation, and that is still the basic crop of the Friona deal. Potato acreage in 1958 was about 600, but is expected to be about 450 this year by Kenneth Neill of Growers and Shippers.

All of the potatoes in the Friona area are planted.

Neill says he can't afford to be very optimistic about the potato outlook, as the last two years have been poor ones for growers. He does feel, though, that some market depressing pressures may be easing up somewhat and that there is a possibility that 1959 may return as a "normal" potato year.

"I certainly don't look for anything fantastic," Neill says, "but the surplus of potatoes is easing up." He says that most growers respond to government forecasts and recommendations on acreage plantings, and that they have been reducing acreage.

It is Neill's hope that potatoes will have a "normal" year on the High Plains. In his opinion that is to be desired, in fact, more than a boom year such as comes along once in a great while and is always the object of much talk among businessmen and farmers.

Neill believes that if potatoes should do exceptionally well this year that production might be stimulated beyond reason next year and growers would be back in the same old rut. Actually, 1958 wasn't considered a really disastrous year for potato growers, but besides having a weak market, several factors keep most growers in the red or at the break-even point.

The weather was the main one of these factors. It reduced yields and interfered with growing and harvesting the crop. When both tonnage and quality go down it takes a very strong market to save the deal, and that strong market wasn't present last year.

On carrots, Neill expects about the same acreage that was produced in 1958: around 500. Some carrots—about 75 acres of them—have already been planted. Planting of the "rabbit food" will continue until around mid-June if this is a normal year.

Carrots were on the slide in the High Plains vegetable picture last year, also. That wasn't any great surprise to most observers, though, since 1957 was the "granddaddy of 'em all" for carrot growers and two exceptional years in a row are almost unheard of in the vegetable business.

Neill says he feels that the price of carrots may range from $15 to $40 a ton and on this basis farmers can expect to "make a little money" on the top price and "lose a little money" on the other end.

"We're not kidding ourselves about expecting a return of the $65 to $75 prices which prevailed two years ago," Neill says flatly.

Friona area farmers had planned to put in about 150 acres of early onions this year, but their plans have been thwarted. They had their own plants in Winter Garden area of South Central Texas, but heavy rains there this spring have resulted in the loss of their sets, and so this plan fell through.

Some farmers are going ahead and planting onions from seed, which will mean a late deal—probably sometime in September instead of in July which is what they originally were shooting for.

From 50 to 75 acres these late onions are expected.

Several other vegetables in small acreages make up the remainder of the Friona truck farming enterprises. Peppers and cabbage are the principal ones of these.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

As the days begin to get longer and warmer, most of us begin to think of something cooler than the usual, meat, potatoes and gravy meals that we have been serving all winter. There is really nothing we can serve that will better fill the bill than cool crisp salads.

Many salads can be the mainstay for a meal or a substantial helper for the main dish. Since there are so many interesting ways that salads can be varied, a salad dish need never seem monotonous.

For a hearty meal in a bowl, try the following combination of ham, veal, eggs and vegetables.

- HAM AND VEAL SALAD
- 1 1/4 cups cooked ham, cut in matchlike strips
 - 1 1/4 cups cooked veal, cut in matchlike strips
 - 1/4 cup pickles, chopped
 - 3 tomatoes, cut in eights
 - 3/4 medium head of lettuce, chopped
 - 3 hard cooked eggs
- Combine ham, veal, pickle, cleaning tools upstairs.

In organizing the closet, arrange tools so that you can remove one without shifting the others around or taking them out of the closet. Hooks for mops, brooms, and brushes and shelves for bottles and jars will help keep the closet orderly.

An easy-to-carry basket with a handle will provide storage for small cleaning supplies and can be carried from room to room. Oily dust cloths and rags used in waxing should be kept in covered metal containers to eliminate fire hazards and odors.

It saves time to clean dust cloths, mops, and brushes each time they are used. The closet is easier to keep clean, too, if equipment is in good condition when it is put away.

Awning paint is recommended for summer fiber rugs by extension home management specialists. This water-proof paint wears well, sinks into the fibers without giving them a "painted look" and dries with a dull surface. Housewives also report that paint helps fiber rugs wear longer.

Some stores stock a special paint for fiber rugs.

Applying the paint is easy. Place several layers of newspapers underneath the rug to protect the floor. Select a stiff brush, fill with paint, then wipe off excess on the inside lip of the can. Brush the paint over the rug—covering about a foot at a time. Brush well into all the crevices and holes of the fiber and allow rug to dry thoroughly before using.

We had a good turnout for our 4-H contest Saturday. The girls have seven demonstrations that will represent the county May 2 at district contests at Canyon.

Do you know what would happen to your property if you died tomorrow? Would the settlement of your financial affairs cause family quarrels or disharmony?

Besides avoiding quarrels and reducing the cost and time for settling financial affairs, a will has other advantages, according to extension economists and home management specialists. It means that an executor can be named, a guardian designated, if necessary, and a testamentary trust created if needed. It means, too, that your property can be distributed in line with your wishes.

Making a valid will is not difficult, but it must be drawn to comply with the requirements of the law. For example, two witnesses are necessary. They must be more than 14 years of age and should not be beneficiaries.

Important questions and answers concerning wills are discussed in the extension publication, "WHY MAKE A WILL." Ask for a copy from your county extension agent's office.

A well-organized cleaning closet can simplify your house cleaning jobs, remind extension home management specialists.

If there isn't closet space for cleaning tools, a metal cabinet or a corner of a rear hall or porch can serve the purpose. Women who have two-story houses can save time and steps by keeping an extra set of tomatoes and lettuce. Chill. Add salad dressing and toss lightly. Serve garnished with hard cooked egg.

Another substantial salad dish that goes well at any noon or evening meals is:

- CHICKEN SALAD
- 1 cup almonds, toasted and chopped
 - 2 envelopes plain gelatin
 - 1/4 cup cold water
 - 1 1/2 chicken bouillon cubes
 - 1 1/2 cups boiling water
 - 1 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 cup pineapple juice
 - 2 5-ounce cans boned chicken, diced
 - 1 1/2 cups diced pineapple lettuce
 - 1 can jellied cranberry sauce
 - 1/2 cup whipping cream
- Chop and toast almonds. Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water and add gelatin. After gelatin has dissolved, add seasonings and pineapple juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in diced chicken and pineapple.

Turn into 1 1/2 quart ring mold rinsed in cold water and sprinkled with almonds. Chill until firm. Unmold on large platter. Garnish with lettuce. Fold diced cranberry into mayonnaise and whipped cream mixture and pour this into center of mold. Serves 8 to 10.

In recent months we have heard of a large number of things for which plastic bags can be used. Lunell Horton suggested that one of the best uses she had found for those which come around clothes from the tailor shop is for children's aprons.

She has two pre-school age and both of them enjoy painting. When it is time for a painting session at the Horton home, each child is slipped into a plastic bag apron. Then when the session is over the bags are disposed of and there are no paint splattered play clothes to launder.

The following article appeared in the Hereford Brand last week and should be read by all mothers of small children. The caption "What Not To Do With Plastic Bags" might well be used.

PLASTIC BAGS DANGEROUS
(In baby's crib)

Five Texas babies—all less than one year old—smothered in their sleep last year in freakish accidents involving disposable sheets of plastic material. The thin, adhesive plastic is in common use today for purposes ranging from packaging laundry and cleaning to making backyard hothouses.

The deaths grimly accentuate the growing danger of using the lightweight material to protect bedding on a baby's crib.

An eight month old boy died in Irving on June 7 during his morning nap. He was discovered with his head covered by a makeshift plastic crib sheet. The immediate cause of death was said to be suffocation.

In Victoria on September 28 a five month old boy smothered under similar circumstances when he pulled a plastic sheet over his face.

A four month old Freeport girl suffocated on July 12 when she rolled over in her crib into a plastic bag.

On August 15 a seven month old Hamlin girl smothered when she became entangled in a plastic sheet thrown over her bed to protect the bedding.

A plastic crib cover inadvertently pulled over her head caused the suffocation on November 26 of a four month old Tyler boy.

Disposable sheets of plastic have been boons to busy mothers of infants because of time saved in laundering bedding. But the only safe plastic bedding protector is the type made specifically for that purpose—one which can be stitched to the mattress or tucked under it.

Piecing flimsy laundry or cleaning bags together to make a sheet can be fatal for a baby.

To prove the point, examine one of the bags the laundry uses to package shirts. Although perfect for that use, note how it clings to a man's skin.

Safflower Gets Start On Parmer County Farms

Safflower, referred to as "the oldest crop known to man," gets its start in Parmer County this year. Its start is being made at a time when any new crop would be put to the test, and boosters are both hopeful and fearful of the outcome.

Interest in the oilseed crop has been greatly stimulated in recent weeks after the announcement by the Farmers Union and International Safflower Corp. of Colorado that they will team up to promote the production of safflower and have plans for a seed crushing mill somewhere on the High Plains.

Meets have been held all across the irrigated section of the Plains, including Lazbuddie, Hub, and Farwell in this area. The Farwell meeting was only last week, and brought to a close the series of informative-type sessions for Parmer County area farmers.

Wilton Botkin, Farmers Union representative from Olton, is emphatic in trying to make farmers realize that they do not hold safflower up as a one-year wonder crop that will take the place of, say, grain sorghum.

But he does call safflower "the best new crop we know of." Over all, both the farm organization and the company are encouraging farmers to plant safflower only on a trial basis this year. They are, in fact, limiting acreage to 20 per farmer.

It is hoped that enough farmers will want in on learning about safflower to plant around 20,000 acres on the Plains this year. Then, if things go well, the sponsors will gun for from 50,000 acres on up to 200,000 for 1960. Farmers who plant this year are being assured a price of $62 a ton for their seed. Yields of from 1,000 to 3,000 pounds per acre are expected.

Charles Corn of International Safflower says, "We have every reason to believe that this will be the lowest price we'll ever get for our safflower."

Corn is crops and irrigation specialist for the Colorado company. He is now living in Amarillo and is originally from Loveland.

In describing safflower, Corn says, "The crop itself is not on trial. We know what it can do in other areas."

With the great acreage available to safflower (or any other crop that yields well and sells well) on the irrigated High Plains, Corn believes in his commodity well enough to predict: "This should be and will be the largest safflower producing area in the world."

Actually, it could be that without much strain. Last year there were only 168,000 acres of safflower grown in the nation, most of it being in California.

Safflower is now essentially an oilseed crop and as such competes with other oil sources, although the safflower oil is of a high quality and usually commands a price premium.

However, the factor that safflower boosters are betting on is that safflower will soon break into the human diet requirements because of its special properties. It yields a non-saponified oil which is high in linoleic acid.

Safflower oil has the unusual ability to retard or prevent fatty deposits in the circulatory system which are regarded as an important problem in coronary health cases. It reduces cholesterol content of the blood.

Concentrated safflower compounds already are being used medicinally, and are prescribed for patients with heart diseases.

From that standpoint, it may be that safflower could soon come into great demand on the American dinner table as a cooking and dressing oil that would remove this serious health threat. That's in the future, but that's what safflower boosters are pinning a lot of their hopes on.

Meanwhile, they figure they can sell a lot of safflower oil anyway through normal oil channels.

SAFFLOWER'S PRINCIPAL PRODUCT is now oil, the clear liquid in the bottle at the left. Charles Corn of International Safflower strains a handful of seed into a plastic container and predicts a good future for the new crop on the irrigated High Plains.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Parmer County Farm Bureau has for the past nine years, by county resolution, opposed any proposals (and there have been many) to discontinue allowing a refund of the road use tax on fuels not used on public roads. Saturday, seven farmers sent telegrams to Representative Osborn, urging his opposition to an effort being made to deny you the right to keep all of this tax money to spend as you see fit. Merchants in every town and city should give their support to you in this problem. About twenty five thousand dollars of this money is spent with them, and kept in local banks each year. In the state, the proposed bill would cost farmers of Texas $2,000,209,000 per year.

Farm Bureau has always urged adoption of natural resources tax increases when the need for more public money arises. The bill Farm Bureau is supporting would raise an additional 41 million dollars, principally on natural gas leaving the state.

Your County Farm Bureau delegates went to the state convention last November with the following resolution regarding farm labor: PCFB opposes any efforts to extend minimum wage requirements to agriculture; also, "opposes any increase in the minimum wage requirements now existing." They also took this one: PCFB urges passage of legislation to eliminate exemption of labor or any other organization from provisions of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. All of these resolutions are, in essence, included in the American Farm Bureau Policies, too.

Seven Parmer County men were in San Angelo last Friday attending a Farm Bureau sponsored meeting in the interest of farmers. Mose Glasscock, Gilbert Kaltwasser, H. P. Hamilton, Herman Gerles and Les Bruns represented Farm Bureau. Dave McReynolds and Eric Rushing represented Friona Chamber of Commerce.

"Please fix me up so I won't lose any more money." This request was left on our desk by Harold Carpenter last Saturday. The request was tempered by reference to gas exemption invoices, and we were able to oblige.

CONSIDER THIS: Let not thine heart envy sinners; but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long. Proverbs 23:17

BRIEFS FOR FOOD SHOPPERS

New combinations of fruit juices are appearing on many store shelves. Cranberry and apple juice is one new combination. You may also find combinations of apple and the juice of apricots, raspberries, prunes, pineapples or grapes. Some times these are available only in the baby food section. These combined juices are often considered more pleasing than one juice alone... They add variety too!

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

There's so much hoopla each year about this or that new crop that it's no wonder that farmers don't get too excited about such reports any more.

We have been watching the reports on safflower for about three months now, and notice that enthusiasm for that as a new crop seems to be more widespread than for any new crop within recent years.

Farmers generally are cautious, if not openly skeptical, about new crops, and so we have noted with interest that the safflower meetings have been pretty consistent in drawing good crowds.

Those who occasionally try to introduce new crops to the High Plains have learned a few things, too. They have found out that farmers just don't pay any attention anymore to "get rich quick" schemes and it isn't nearly so easy to get them to go off on the deep as it used to be.

Crop promotion methods seem to be growing up, and the judgement of farmers seems to be maturing. We think sesame is the best example we know of successful crop promotion.

Sesame was first introduced to the High Plains when grain sorghum prices made the oilseed crop seem like a poor deal in comparison. Sesame backers had a selling job to do, but they set about it the right way. They told of the advantages of their crop, but they didn't overdo things.

As a result, sesame has become established as one of the most promising "new" High Plains crops with what has been, up until now at least, a very stable marketing situation. Farmers have confidence in Sesame Seed Growers, the parent organization, for the slow but steady way they have brought the crop along.

Now for the first time the sesame people are finding it necessary to discourage overproduction. And they're talking sense and we bet that they'll be able to keep sesame on an even keel because people believe in them.

Safflower may be getting started the same way. Wilton Botkin, the Farmers Union rep who's been making most of the meetings talking the crop up, says "I'll be satisfied if you break even," in the first year of production. Charlie Corn of International Safflower doesn't go that far—he thinks farmers will make some money, but he doesn't paint an easy street picture either.

The main thing is that the safflower pushers are encouraging farmers to grow the crop this year on a limited basis and for "look-see" purposes. Nobody should count on making a lot of money from 20 acres of safflower, they say, and they'll probably turn out to be right.

Then there's this talk of a mill to crush the safflower. Rumors have been rife on where it's to be located, when it's to be built, and so forth, but so far as we can tell this isn't the fault of either the Farmers Union or the company. Farmers have done a little too much speculating on their own accord.

The earliest the mill could be built under present plans is two years away, and it may be longer if the acreage doesn't take hold like it's expected to.

This particular part of the safflower deal has gotten a little ahead of itself, but in other respects the plan seems plausible.

The irrigated High Plains badly needs new cash crops, and we are certainly in favor of their promotion, so long as it is on a reasonable, educational-type plane.

Is conservation being left out of your farm plans because of the cost involved? If so, you are advised to see your local county agent who can explain some programs that may help make this increasingly important practice a part of your operations, suggests Lynn Pittard, extension assistant.

Does City-Shopping build facilities that help you in time of need?

Within minutes . . . as near as our telephones when the need arises . . . are doctors, medicines and sickroom supplies . . . for us and for those dear to us.

Within minutes, too, are plentiful supplies of foods, clothing, tools for doing our jobs, and services which are often vitally important to living in Today. These are some of the material blessings to which we have become accustomed . . . as part of life in a typical American town area . . . built and supported by trading among ourselves.

But emergency needs . . . those things and those services for which we cannot wait many hours or days . . . are but a relatively small part of our total trade . . . never enough to wholly support the stores and service people and their facilities we find so essential in times of sudden need.

And . . . we can enjoy the best possible service in emergencies only if we keep our community economically vigorous and strong with our everyday trade.
