TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

EAST TEXAS DAIRYING.—Since creameries are being built in East Texas and dairying is being found to be so profitable, East Texas is beginning to think largely in terms of fine milk cattle. At Marshall an association of business men is being formed to help finance the purchase of dairy cattle by Harrison county farmers. The chamber of commerce is back of the movement, and the local banks have agreed to lend the association whatever money it may need. There is a good suggestion in that plan of a kind that is likely to extend all over the state. At Atlanta the chamber of commerce has agreed to offer a high grade Jersey bull in each of 15 communities of the county to the farmer in each community who makes the most money on five acres of cotton—a nice way of encouraging the cotton growers to diversify.

EAST TEXAS CO-OPERATES.—The East Texas chamber of commerce, which should be credited with the increased interest in creameries and dairying in that part of the state, has hurried to assure co-operation with the rest of the state in cotton acreage reduction. In fact President R. M. Kelly, of Longview, was talking acreage reduction and diversification all last year ahead of any general movement. Here is a typical Kellyism: "Last year East Texas followed a safe and sane policy of farming and produced thereby. It would be sound business for the banks to refuse credit on the 1923 crop without assurance of the borrower that a balanced farm program, contemplating a reasonable food and feed crop acreage, would be carried out."

TEMPLE'S IMPROVEMENT PLAN.—The Temple chamber of commerce has decided that the city commission was too modest in its proposed bond issue submitted to a vote of the people, and has asked that body to recall it, and submit a bond issue of $340,000, to include a new city hall on one-half acre to cost $100,000, a $25,000 municipal abattoir, $15,000 for parks, $60,000 for paving improvements and $115,000 for school buildings. Notice that the improvements proposed are all of a kind to help make Temple a better city in which to live.

YOAKUM'S HALF YEAR PLAN.—Yoakum is not satisfied to lay out work for an entire year, because there is too much temptation to procrastinate, but that thrifty town has set for itself a six-month task, some of which is already being done. There is the Yoakum-Hoehlein highway, now being built; modern street illumination, already contracted; seven extensions, soon to be started; and $80,000 bond issue for street improvements, soon to be sold and to which property owners will add $120,000; and the building of a modern three story brick and reinforced concrete school building by St. Joseph's catholic church, the plans for which are about ready. That looks like Yoakum is making good headway and is likely to be looking for something else to do before the six months have passed.

MCKINNEY GOING STRONG.—Having succeeded in growing onions, that part of Collin county around McKinney is now going in for garlic growing for the first time, and has contracted to supply a Dallas concern with 150,000 pounds of garlic at a good price. That sounds like lots of garlic, but it is a safe bet that Collin county will grow it and deliver it according to contract.

BUILDING FOR TIME.—While a number of the old counties in Texas are tearing down the old and building new courthouses, Hutchinson county is going to build its courthouse at Stinnett on a plan and with a strength that will serve that growing young county a century or so. The new building will cost between $400,000 and $500,000. One reason the new counties of Texas build such large and substantial courthouses is that the county owning such a structure is not so likely to move its county seat to a new town that may spring up, outgrow, and outvote the courthouse town.

SAN ANGELO AIR FIELD.—San Angelo is usually among the first of the state's young cities to be ready for any progressive movement, and so it has secured an option on a tract of land for an air field. There will soon be regular air service between Dallas and Fort Worth and San Angelo.

WINKLER'S WINNING WAY.—Practically without opposition, a bond issue of $600,000 has been voted for a hard surface highway from Kermit to the Ward county line, with the assurance that it is to be built on to a connection with the Bankhead Highway on the Texas & Pacific.

RATLIFF'S NEXT TRIAL IN ABILENE

Cisco Business Outlook is Good

MERCHANTS OF CITY COMMENT ON ACTIVITY

"Yes, business is better!" was the general tone of most Cisco business concerns the latter part of the week. Despite the fact that the usual first of the month causes more or less depression in business circles, owing to the general resolution to retrench, which is always broken as soon as the monthly bills are paid, business has shown quite an upward trend during the week.

Whether it has been caused by the revival of oil activity in Cisco territory or whether it is only a manifestation of confidence in Cisco's future, based on the closing of the new hotel contract, the development by the Lake Cisco Amusement Co. in the building of a gigantic roller coaster and other improvements determined upon, is not known. But at any rate, whatever may be the cause or causes, there is a decided optimistic trend in general business.

With the beginning of the building program in Cisco and with the building going on in Eastland to the extent of half a million dollars, prosperity will surely take up her abode with those who try to help themselves. Much more money will circulate this year. All over the country millions of dollars will be spent in advertising by big concerns, who are willing to spend that their business may bring in rich harvests. And money spent is money in circulation. Money in circulation means prosperity to the country.

FOR YEARS AND YEARS THE German automobile manufacturers produced a big variety of cars regardless of whether there was a big market for them or not. They sold their cars to the comparatively few rich people that could afford to buy cars and neglected to put out a car for the "man in the street."

GERMANY PRODUCED 25,000 cars in 1927, of which only 2,500 were exported, whereas the import of foreign cars into Germany amounted to 19,000.

THE WEATHER.—East and West Texas—Sunday, cloudy with occasional rains; somewhat warmer.

10 KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN WARSAW HOME

WARSAW, March 3.—Ten persons killed and eight injured today when a merchant named Keppler, suspected of smuggling, accidentally caused an explosion in his home at the village of Zulozsin, in an attempt to evade raiding officers. The blast was set off as Keppler went into a cellar with a lighted candle. Keppler, his wife and three children, and five officers were killed. The house was destroyed.

CHAPMAN IN AUTO CRASH ON HIGHWAY

W. B. Chapman and party had a very narrow escape from death or serious injury Friday night as they were returning from Abilene. At a point about one mile east of Clyde Mr. Chapman's car was run into by another car occupied by three men, which was turned over and one of the occupants seriously cut about the face. While Mr. Chapman's car was badly damaged, none of those in it were injured, beyond being badly shaken up.

The accident occurred at a turn in the road, and Mr. Chapman states that the other car made the corner then headed directly toward him. He was able to stop his car immediately and was stopped when struck. The car in which the three men were riding turned over after it had gone 50 or 60 feet past Chapman's car.

The sheriff of Callahan county was in Clyde at the time, and an investigation of the accident made an investigation which resulted in the men being taken to Baird and lodged in jail. It is said that the men were drinking and that a quantity of whiskey was taken from their car.

Loboos Picked the Eagles Clean Winning the Bi-District Basketball Championship Friday Night 21 to 18

Triumphing over their ancient rivals, the Abilene Eagles, in the second straight game, the Cisco Loboos won a thrilling encounter in Abilene Friday night by a score of 21 to 18 to win the right to enter the state championship meet next week and represent a large portion of West Texas as champions of inter-scholastic league districts 8 and 9 in basketball. The game was as tense and exciting as the 20 to 19 victory won by the Loboos from the Eagles Thursday night, and like the Thursday night game was decided in the last minute of the contest. The Loboos got away to a lead in the first quarter and as it ended was leading 6 to 2. This lead was short lived, and at the half the score stood tied at eight all. At the end of the third quarter the Loboos had a two point lead. With a minute and a half to play the score was tied and the throw and the Loboos threw a foul shot. Little shot and missed but Brit Pippen took the rebound of the backboard and made a field goal. However the referee ruled that the crowd must be quiet and ruled the throw out and made Little throw again. This time Little shot from the center circle, hitting the hoop and the ball went into the lead by one point. Due to an error on the scoreboard the crowd thought that the score was tied and excitement was high. With 30 seconds left to play, Bill Smith, Lobo guard, rang a beautiful shot from the center circle, clinching the game and the bi-district championship for Cisco for the second straight year.

Highway 23 is now open to Stamford, since the completion of the gap of one and one-half miles just north of Williamson dam, according to Commissioner Birt Britain, who stated that the highway was thrown open to traffic soon after its completion recently. This highway is now one of the best stretches of dirt roads in the county, and Commissioner Britain was highly complimented on the work by J. B. This compliment paid by the division engineer was highly gratifying to Commissioner Britain.

THE MAGIC MOTOR

There is naturally a great deal of curiosity, both scientific and popular, about the new airplane invented by a Pittsburg man named Hendershot, in which Lindbergh has been interesting himself. It is described as operating by "electro-magnetic power," which might mean almost anything.

SEDUCING A STATE

Just why various states and the government should figure on doing state printing any more than they should figure on doing state banking, state clothes manufacturing or state grocery wholesaling, is a mystery to most people.

THE SILVER PROBLEM

The silver miners have had a hard row to hoe. When prices for the metal were skyrocketing during the war, they sold their metal to the government at a fixed price under the Pittman act.

A PEACE GESTURE

It is always good to observe what the neighbors think of one's preparations for offense and defense. All of our American neighbors, including Canada, were alarmed and puzzled by the extensive naval building program submitted to congress by our navy department, on the recommendation of the naval board.

number of submarines and other craft, seems to have produced a feeling of relief, mingled with friendly appreciation. "The action of the committee, in face of pressure from the navy department," says the Toronto Globe, "must be regarded as a noble peace gesture, an answer to that of the British government, which recently abandoned a part of its program for the construction of cruisers and an indication that there was no intention of maintaining the two-power standard in competitive building with the United States."

WITH A CLEAN SLATE

Writing about education recently, Glenn Frank said: "Suppose no colleges existed. Suppose we had a clean slate upon which to write. I cannot conceive a dozen highly intelligent men, faced with the problem of preparing 3,000 young Americans for intelligent and effective participation in modern society, setting up for the first time in 1928 the courses of study and the methods of teaching now employed in any American college."

Need of Farm Legislation Pointed Out by Congressman

Connally Hits Cotton Price Juggling In Early February Speech; Calls It Conspiracy

The following is condensed from a speech by Congressman Tom Connally delivered in the house of representatives on February 9. Mr. Connally said in part:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House: On yesterday I introduced H. R. 10,709, a bill to regulate the cotton exchanges.

It is a notorious fact that during the fall of 1927 the cotton market was scandalously manipulated. In August the government estimate was 13,492,000 bales. December cotton on the New York Exchange went to 23.07 per pound. However, the big spot operator and the ex-cotton at a low price. Once it is out of the farmers' hands, the price will rise.

The cotton farmers of the South have been robbed of millions upon millions of dollars by the manipulation of the exchanges and through fraudulent conspiracy to depress the price. It is time to stop such raids. The exchanges must be regulated and required to restrict their operations to legitimate transactions. If you will adopt my bill you will give the farmers real relief and you will permit the normal laws of supply and demand to operate.

GERMAN CAR BUILDERS UP AGAINST U. S.

BERLIN, March 3.—With Henry Ford starting a vigorous offensive against the German automobile market and with about twenty-five to thirty thousand foreign, mostly American, cars expected to be imported into this country, German automobile makers foresee the darkest year of the German automobile industry in 1928.

If this country ever survives the foreign invasion, it is said, then but only then will it have proved that the German industry has a right to exist and a right to continue. It is admitted that German automobile manufacturers made grave mistakes in the past and that they are about to suffer for them. One of the most disastrous mistakes is seen in the producers' disregarding the customers' wishes and demands.

It is only recently that the American slogan of "best service to the customer" has been generally adopted by the automobile industry.

For years and years the German automobile manufacturers produced a big variety of cars regardless of whether there was a big market for them or not. They sold their cars to the comparatively few rich people that could afford to buy cars and neglected to put out a car for the "man in the street."

Ford's success taught them a lesson and they are now beginning to realize that mass production brings the money.

Germany produced 25,000 cars in 1927, of which only 2,500 were exported, whereas the import of foreign cars into Germany amounted to 12,000. With the import of some 30,000 cars expected to flood Germany in 1928 many of the smaller automobile firms will have to close down and even the big producers consider 1928 a serious test for their industry.

GUNTER COLLEGE TO LAMB COUNTY

DALLAS, March 3.—Gunter college, a junior institution in the Grayson county town of that name, will be removed to Littlefield, Lamb county, John R. Freeman, president, said Friday. It will operate under a new name and will be ready to open in September.

changes began a drive to hammer down the price, and December cotton declined 18.92. The September estimate was 12,692,000 bales—practically a million bales less than the preceding month. Through this conspiracy, with a million bales less cotton, December cotton was beaten down to 23.23, or more than three cents per pound under the August price. The estimate for October was 12,678,000 bales, and in spite of that low estimate, December cotton went to 19.40. And under the November and December estimates, December cotton was hammered down to 17.96. The cotton farmers were robbed of nearly $30 per bale below the August price, and yet the estimate was a million bales less than August.

My bill proposes to put the cotton exchanges under practically the same rules that govern the grain exchanges. My bill is designed to prevent manipulation of the market. It provides penalties for violation of its provisions. It will prevent "straddling" and "washing the market." It will prevent artificial schemes to depress the price by fictitious sales of cotton when there is no bona fide intention to buy or sell a single bale of actual cotton. It will prevent the tendering and retendering of low grade cotton to depress the price of the higher staples.

The conspiracy between the big cotton operators and the exchanges has been engineered in an endeavor to shake out of the farmers' hands the spot cotton which has been held by farmers all over the country. The operators want to buy this

West Texas Utilities Company's New Power Plant

Above is the architectural drawing of the huge power plant being erected on the shore of Lake Pauline, near Quanah, by the West Texas Utilities company.

Construction work on the first 20,000 horsepower unit of what ultimately will be a 60,000 horsepower electric generating station, has been under way several weeks. The general construction contract was awarded to R. E. McKee of Abilene, El Paso and Los Angeles.

The plant will equal a six-story building in height. Only one unit will be erected this year, according to present plans, this to be completed by September 1.

Plans for the plant were prepared by Sargent & Lundy, prominent architects of Chicago.

Preacher Praises Governor Al Smith

According to the Longview, Texas, Daily News, Rev. W. C. Jones, a Christian minister of that city, in a sermon Sunday night declared that "Al Smith, present governor of New York, would be a credit to any church," and praised Mr. Smith's administration. "There is no precedent for his prolonged and prodigious popularity, almost irrespective of party allegiance in his own state. He is without doubt one of the foremost statesmen in the United States and no governor has ever had a clearer record in public office," he said.

WHITEWAY POSTS BEAR NUMBERS OF HIGHWAYS

The whiteway standards of Cisco have been belted in white, with the state designated highway numbers 1 and 23 in the center of the Lone Star, stenciled in black. Each alternate stand bears No. 1, while No. 23 is stenciled on the other standards. Both of these highways have been designated to traverse D avenue. No. 23 enters this street at the southern limits of the city and follows the street to the northern limits. Highway No. 1, (Bankhead), intersects D avenue at Fourteenth street and emerges into Third street on its route west.

COWBOY EVANS OFFSET SHOWS BE GOOD WELL HOOVER-SMITH WAR IN TEXAS CREAGER SAYS

ALBANY, March 3.—Production figures have not yet been obtained from T. K. Simmons and N. M. Smith No. 3, which topped the sand Wednesday and made three flows, but information regarding this well makes it look better than anything in this pool so far. This well is located on the northeast corner of section 5, block 14, T. & P., and offsets the Cowboy Evans well on section 1, C. H. King fee, which has been producing for about sixty days, making from fifty to sixty barrels daily with no decrease.

The Humble Oil and Refining company Thursday bought 320 acres of land located one mile west of the Tannehill Oil Corporation's new producer for a price reputed to be more than $32,000. This tract is in a direct line between the new Tannehill well and the new Cook ranch extension well. The gravity of the new Tannehill well is 42.3 instead of 30.1, as was reported Wednesday. The Roeser & Pendleton-Merland well on section 62, which was drilled in about two weeks ago, is still flowing better than 500 barrels a day.

AUSTIN, March 3.—If Herbert Hoover and Al Smith are presidential candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties, Texas will "become a real battleground" in the general election, R. B. Creager, Brownsville, Republican National committeeman, declared here Friday in a meeting of Central Texas Republicans for formation of a "Hoover-for-President Club."

Creager declared he believes "God in His infinite wisdom has fitted Herbert Hoover for the presidency," and predicted Hoover's election, if nominated, as a "moral certainty."

He said he hopes a solid Texas Republican delegation will go to the Kansas City convention instructed for Hoover.

The committeeman based his contention that Texas would be a "battleground" as between Smith and Hoover on the Texas gubernatorial election in 1924 when Dr. George Butte, Republican nominee, got more than 300,000 votes.

STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Mar. 3.—The old-fashioned Peek-a-Boo open work motif has returned with the new spring-time models, now being shown at the smart dressmakers and make women hope for warm, sunny days later on.

It comes on little all-over embroidered jackets to be worn with blue embroidered in coral and wisp with a coral-colored frock which has touches of blue in the belt and at the neck and wrists. Another in cadet-blue is embroidered in silver and worn with a frock of blue georgette. A black one embroidered in white is worn with a frock of black crepe de chine.

Many attractive color combinations come with peek-a-boo some times, very small and sometimes very large.

Peek-a-boo effects are also produced by the meeting of scallops and points. A very smart tailored coat-dress in navy-blue flammage is scalloped around the bottom and opens over a front of pearls, white georgette which has two scalloped bands of the blue on the skirt.

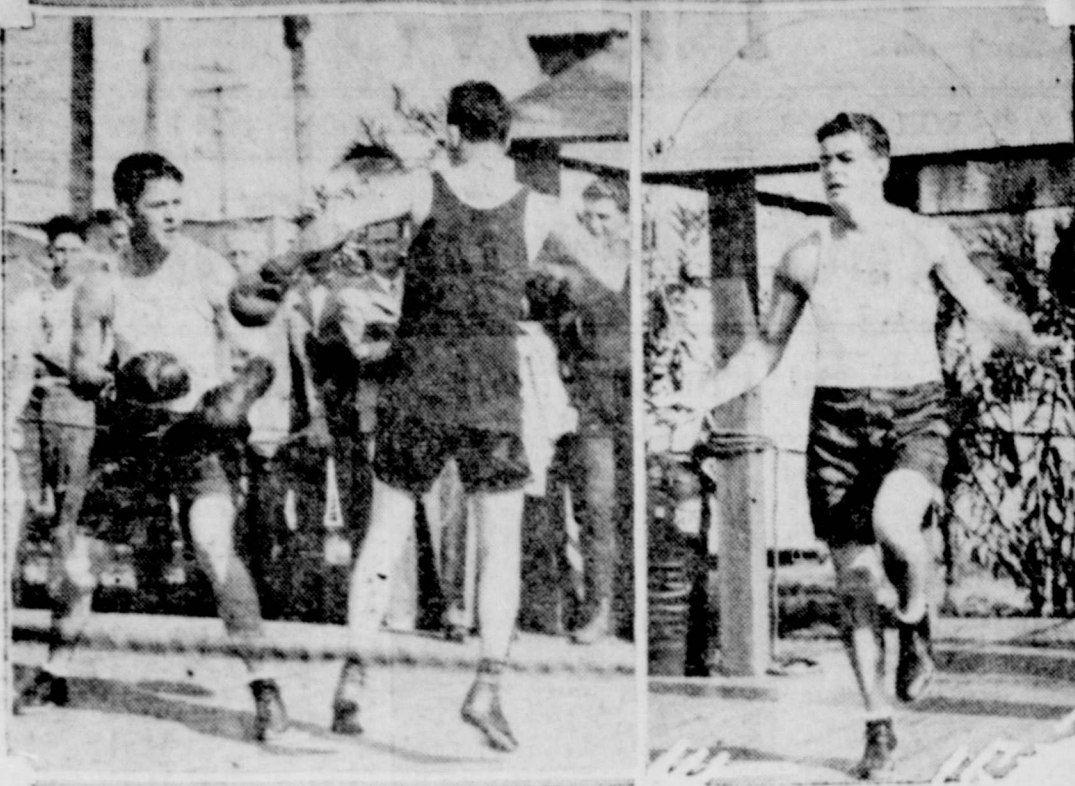

A curious peek-a-boo effect comes from Redfern's in a slim frock in black chiffon embroidered in silver in a lattice design with hanging panels.

Sequins also play a large part in the trimmings of the new spring models, decorating the revers of tailcoats, the collars and hems of evening coats as well as afternoon frocks. The dressy effect on the suit may seem a bit strange, but women are getting used to new touches of this kind. They are also introduced on a white satin blouse worn with a black moire costume.

PRAISE LINDY AS SAMPLE OF PREPAREDNESS

CLEVELAND, March 3.—Advocates of preparedness point with pride to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, the conqueror of the air over the Atlantic Ocean and who traveled through the air thousands of miles as "good will ambassador" with hardly a mishap, as the true living example of the cause they are sponsoring.

This was the high tribute paid to the "Lone Eagle" by Brig. Gen. W. E. Gilmore, assistant chief of the United States air service, in discussing aeronautics here.

Lindbergh is not alone a good pilot," Gen. Gilmore explained. "He is a careful planner, a thorough organizer and these qualities are at the foundation of his success."

"He learned flying in his early barnstorming days. But he got his real training in the army, and it was this which taught him to be thorough.

Lindbergh didn't hop to Paris. That trip required months of training.

Speaking of commercial aeroplanes, Gilmore declared that passenger airplanes will not be built to carry 100 passengers such as has been envisioned; but development will be made to perfect ships capable of carrying 10 to 12 passengers on long flights.

"Dress Parade" Is At Palace Theater

Bessie Love, who plays opposite William Boyd in "Dress Parade," his first Pathe-DeMille star picture, directed by Donald Crisp, had a unique experience when leaving the Hotel Thayer at West Point during the filming of this fine story of cadet life at the U. S. military academy, which will be on view at the Palace theater today and Monday.

Miss Love, William Boyd and other members of the cast were daily besieged by autograph hunters. When Miss Love alighted from her car at the entrance of the hotel a cadet rushed up and presented her with a card from a deck of cards, asking her if she would kindly autograph it. When Miss Love started autographing the card she noticed that it was the ace of hearts.

"That was the most unusual autograph I have ever written," remarked Miss Love, after she had inscribed her name on the card.

During the stay of the company at West Point, the players were requested by scores of admiring fans to pose for snap shots and to write autographs on the various souvenir booklets sold in the vicinity of the academy.

FRESH WATER STREAMS CLOSED IN MARCH-APRIL

AUSTIN, March 3.—Will Tucker, state game and fish commissioner, has called attention to the fact that the fresh waters of Texas are closed during March and April to bass and crappie fishing. He also points out that the use of artificial lures or baits of any kind of fish is forbidden during these months. This closed season is to permit undisturbed spawning of the fish so that the supply may be replenished. In Eastland county fishing for perch and catfish is permissible during March and April provided only ordinary lines and baited hooks are utilized.

Period Sterling for the Modern Service

III. WILLIAM AND MARY

IN the time of William and Mary (1689-1702) the sterling was considerably decorated, but with more modesty than that of the Louis XV period. The pear shape, clearly seen in the various parts of the candelabra, was a conspicuous form. The ornamentation was for the most part in very low relief. The tenuous grace characteristic of the era is also reflected in the candelabra and in the delicacy of the flat silver. The feeling of strength, however, which is a distinguishing mark of sterling, is not lacking.

This well, originally a gasser at 1,800 feet is being deepened and is now drilling around 3,400 feet. ENUMERATORS NAMED TO TAKE SCHOOL CENSUS

At a recent meeting of the school board of the Cisco Independent school district, enumerators were named to take the scholastic census of Cisco. Three enumerators were named, and these have started the work which must be done this month, as required by law. This will be possible if parents and guardians lend the enumerators their co-operation, but unless this cooperation is given many children within the scholastic age may be omitted from the school enrollment. J. J. Youngblood, superintendent; T. C. Williams, principal of West Ward school, and O. L. Stamey, principal of the Grammar schools, were appointed enumerators. Mr. Youngblood stated Saturday that it is important that every child within the school age, those who will be over seven and under 18 years of age September 1 next, be listed, not only to benefit the children, but the state appropriate no money for scholastics that are not enrolled. So every scholastic enrolled in this enumeration means that much increase in the finances of the school system. The school apportionment is $15 for each scholastic enrolled. Mr. Youngblood stated that the greater part of the census work will be done after school hours and on Saturdays.

LOBOS PICKED EAGLES FRIDAY BY SCORE OF 21-18

nessed by capacity crowds. The Lobos exhibited the better teamwork and overcame the size of the Abilene team, four of which were six-footers, by neater, more accurate passing.

The Lobos will now start preparations for the state championship meet, to be held in Austin next Friday and Saturday. Coach "Crip" Goughly will probably leave for Austin with the team on the Sunshine Special at noon Wednesday. Last year the Lobos drew a bye, in the first round of the tournament and was defeated by the Athens high school team which won the state championship, and later made an impressive showing at the national meet, held in Chicago. Critics who have seen some of the best teams in the state predicted, after seeing the first Cisco-Abilene game, that the winner had an excellent chance to go to the finals in the state meet, with a strong possibility of winning. If the Lobos do not win a game in the state meet, they have made a record to be proud of, and they have made this record under the handicap of having to play on a small playing floor at home and then changing to a maximum size floor in many of the important official games, away from home. The Big Dam Fighting Lobos and Coach Goughly have the admiration, respect and hopes of all Cisco as they enter the state meet.

Four other teams in Texas won the right to compete in the state championship tournament in Austin next week. They were Tangle, Forest High, at Dallas; Wichita Falls and Brackenridge of San Antonio. Nine other bi-district titles are to be decided.

Justice McDonald For Re-Election

The Daily News is requested to announce to the voters of precinct No. 6, Eastland county, in which Cisco is the seat of justice, that Justice J. H. McDonald is a candidate for re-election to the office of justice of the peace. Justice McDonald needs no introduction to those who have lived in this part of Eastland county for any length of time, as he is one of the oldest citizens of Cisco, and enjoys a wide circle of friends, most of whom have been voting for him for the past ten years. The genial justice was out of office one term, but he was not out of harness long. The duties of the office were so congenial to his nature that he was again a candidate after a short rest, and was elected. Since then he has been successful in every election, and filled the office so acceptably that he has practically had a walk over. Justice McDonald is an efficient and obliging official, who is never too busy to be accommodating. His decisions, when appealed, usually stand, which is the best test of his ability as a judge.

But there is another side where he excels. "Justice should be tempered with mercy," and McDonald has a heart as big as his body. The down and out are those who come under his judicial scrutiny, and if the justice has a heart of stone, God help the unfortunates. None complain of McDonald for they realize he lays the heavy hand of the law only where it is justly deserved. He is asking your vote and support for re-election, promising the same faithful discharge of his duties that have characterized his previous administrations.

ernor has many friends in the state and they have been laboring industriously in his behalf.

Reed's announcement that his hat is in the California ring, and that a slate of Reed delegates will be presented in every district in the primary of May 1 now alters the situation very materially.

Where the Smith people had expected an easy conquest, or no contest at all, it now becomes evident that there is to be a real battle for 26 delegates unless the Smith managers evade the issue, and no one here believes they will.

Senator Reed's announcement of his militant candidacy in California caused considerable surprise among his followers here. When the Missourian left the capital on his speaking tour through the West it was understood by his friends that he was seeking only to build up as a possible compromise candidate—when and if the Houston convention found it impossible to nominate Smith.

His going into the primary in the Golden State, however, indicates there has been a change in his pre-convention strategy. By this action, the Missourian has shown that he not only is in quest of Democratic harmony, but is militantly after delegates wherever they can be obtained. Smith's or anyone else's.

The possible outcome in California has Democratic leaders here frankly guessing. Most of them, since McAdoo's withdrawal, have been willing to concede Smith the delegation, although they have been basing that concession largely upon what the Smith people claim, rather than upon their own knowledge of conditions along the Pacific. There are few of them, however, who believe that Reed, with his acknowledged political sagacity, would elect to enter the contest there unless he thought he had a good chance of winning. Hence they are in a quandary.

There was also considerable speculation as to whether Reed's announcement with respect to California will be followed by his entry into other primary states. Having taken the plunge, they say, there is now no reason why the Missourian should not put his name up in every state where there is an element of doubt. Most of Reed's friends believe he will. If he does, there is every prospect of the Democratic presidential situation being considerably clarified before the party meets in Houston on June 26.

Lobby Maintained By Navy Charged

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The United States navy is "one of the outstanding political machines of the country," and "maintains a powerful lobby" in Washington, Rep. Jed Johnson, Oklahoma Democrat, declared in a statement made public today by the National Council for Prevention of War.

Flood and farm relief and other problems should be considered by Congress before "the staggering demands of the navy," he said.

FIREMEN NAME DELEGATES TO STATE MEETING

At a meeting of the Cisco fire department Friday night delegates were elected to the state volunteer firemen's convention, which convenes in Denton in June. Those named to represent the Cisco department are as follows:

Hose Company No. 1—Ed Aycock, delegate; W. H. Bryan, alternate.

Hose Company No. 2—G. P. Rainbolt, delegate; Walter Webb, alternate.

Hook and Ladder Company—Tub Wilson, delegate; O. C. Lomax, alternate.

Chief C. O. Pass and Fire Marshal R. T. Dedies were also elected delegates. The Cisco firemen will likely make the trip to Denton by auto.

Sen. Reed Entering California Primary Sets Capitol Guessing As to Effect on Smith's Chance

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Senator James A. Reed's entry into the California primary to "fight it out" with other aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination was regarded by Democratic leaders in Washington as an event of outstanding political importance and significance.

It means, they believe, a showdown that will throw a lot of light on the question that buzzes continually in Democratic quarters these days, to-wit: "Can Smith be stopped?"

WORK BEGUN ON CHICKEN FARM ON LAKE ROAD

W. E. Fienniken, who with Mrs. Fienniken and a brother, recently moved to Cisco where they are establishing a chicken ranch on land purchased from W. P. Pulley, out on the Lake Cisco road, is making rapid progress on the improvements already started.

"We unloaded our household goods on the ground as soon as they arrived here," Mr. Fienniken said, "and within 12 hours after unloading we had one of the chicken houses finished, and in 13 hours after unloading we had moved in, which we are now using as a residence until our home is complete. We are very comfortably situated, and shall finish the residence at our leisure, but the home will be ready for occupancy in about two weeks.

"The residence will be 28 by 34 feet, with five rooms, porch, bath, etc. The roof is now being put on, sewer, water and light connections have been made, and as soon as finished we will be at home. We have completed one of the chicken houses, which is 20 by 32 feet, and two garages of 16 by 18 feet each, have already been built.

"We will start the chicken business with 1000 baby chicks and a few hens, and will specialize in White Leghorns, but my wife expects to have a few Rhode Island Reds. We have cleared off the land and are ready to begin plowing right away. We will plant some grain for grazing for the chickens, but most of the land will be planted in vegetables." Mr. Fienniken concluded.
