

INDIAN RACERS OF 3 NATIONS IN MARATHON

LAWRENCE, Kan., March 6.—Plans are being made here to hold an International Indian Marathon race as a feature event of the University of Kansas Relays on April 21. Nine great brown-skin runners picked from Canada, Mexico and the United States, will compete, according to present plans outlined by Dr. F. C. Allen, director of the university athletic department.

The race will consist of the regulation twenty-six and a fraction miles, and will start at Topeka, Kansas, to finish at the new memorial stadium while the sixth annual relays are in progress. The relays alone usually draw a thousand or more select athletes from all parts of the United States.

Fleet U. S. Team

The decision to hold the Indian marathon came after a conference between Clyde M. Blair, superintendent of Haskell Indian Institute here, Franklin McDonald, athletic director of the Indian school, and H. B. Pearis, of Washington, D. C., superintendent of Indian education.

The United States team which will be composed of three of the fleetest Indians in the country, will be picked from the various reservations and the two hundred and ten Indian schools by McDonald. A dozen or more will be brought here for final workouts and eliminations. The Zuni tribe of New Mexico, and the Pima and Hopi tribes of Arizona, are credited with producing the most famous long distance runners in the United States, and they will be carefully considered for the team.

Mexico Sprinters

It is believed that Mexico will pick her team from among the Tarahumara Indian tribe of the state of Chihuahua. These little Indians are known throughout the world for their ability to speed great distances without fatigue. A team made up largely of them ran several marathons in the United States last year. They were a bit handicapped in a New York race, for they were accustomed neither to shoe leather nor concrete pavement.

The proposed international race is looked upon to provide several likely candidates for the United States Olympic team to be selected this spring and summer.

ORGANIZATION RANGER GUARD IS UNDER WAY

RANGER, March 6.—Captain Peter P. Salgado, 142nd Infantry, who has been conducting officers' examinations for the newly organized Ranger unit of the Texas national guard, returned to Amarillo Saturday afternoon. The major part of Saturday was spent in giving the examinations to Wayne C. Hickey, applicant for the captaincy of Company I, as the company is designated and to George Freeze, applicant for the first lieutenantcy. The examination papers and the reports of Captain Salgado will be forwarded to the adjutant general at once for final approval. Should the examinations fail to be approved at the adjutant's office it will necessitate the return of Salgado to Ranger to give further examinations.

Hickey said this morning that some report from the examinations should be received within the next three or four days, inasmuch as Colonel Nimon, who was in Ranger Friday, desired to get the company organized as quickly as possible.

Colonel Nimon desired to have the company fully organized in three or four weeks inasmuch as federal inspection of the Ranger company has been designated for the latter part of April. It will take only a matter of a few days after the commission papers are received to get the enlisted men examined by a local physician and signed up for the company. Equipment, including uniforms, guns and ammunition, will begin arriving within the next week. Hickey will spend this week endeavoring to obtain a suitable building for the armory. He has several prospective suites in view.

Handsome embroideries are playing an important role in the spring movement toward femininity. There are designs and colors that are beautiful as well as rare. There is heavy silk or metal embroidery, intermingled with pieces of contrasting fabrics appliqued, as well as fine bead embroidery which never seems to leave the fashion world. Many produce exquisite cameo effects.

New Camera at 3000 Shots a Second Pictures Fastest Moving Propeller And Machinery; Big Aid to Science

NEW YORK, March 6.—Mechanisms spinning at the rate of 2200 revolutions a minute can now be made to appear to turn as slowly as the wheels of an old ox-cart.

In a recent test, a newspaper clipping was pasted on one blade of a propeller. The propeller was set spinning at 2200 r. p. m. Yet to the observer, the blade appeared to be moving so slowly that the print was easily read.

Prevent Flu—Check All Colds the Modern Way

Families in Cisco Are Urged to Be Careful

While grip and influenza are so prevalent, local people are urged to use this modern way of checking little colds before they become big.

Have a jar of Vicks VapoRub on hand ready for instant use at the first sign of every cold. When rubbed on throat and chest, or sniffed up the nose Vicks releases its ingredients in the form of medicated vapors which are breathed in direct to the infected parts.

In addition Vicks acts like a poultice and thus helps the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

To prevent colds lowering the vitality and thus paving the way for flu and pneumonia, they should be treated direct and instantly—as you would an infected finger.

Automotive Engineers, the invention that enables the human eye to follow the motion of high speed machinery is called the stroborama. It gets its effect by flashing light on a rotating shutter. This can be perfectly synchronized with the machine that is being observed, in which case the machine will seem to be standing still. Or it can be adjusted so that each glimpse the shutter affords will be just a fraction later in the cycle. That is, between one flash and the next, the propeller or fan or flywheel will have made one complete revolution and a fraction more. To that it is at last possible to see what actually happens to shafts, fly wheels, valves, cams, springs and other parts when they are under terrific strain. For instance, the actual amount of twist in a crank shaft can be observed, and an automobile engineer at last is able to see exactly what happens to a valve spring when a motor is pushed to its highest possible speed.

The new movie camera is equally interesting. Ordinary movies are shot and projected at the rate of sixteen a second. The familiar slow motion movies are shot at the rate of 100 exposures a second and projected at the standard speed of 16 a second. The new chronometric camera takes photographs at the rate of 3,000 a second.

Former Ranger Man Released on Bond

RANGER, March 6. — Walter Fant, Jr., formerly city salesman for the C. D. Hartnett Wholesale Grocery company, Ranger, was released on a $750 bond Sunday at Weatherford after Paul Johnson, taxi driver, was shot while in the lobby of the Parker hotel. NATURAL FERTILIZER DUG FROM THE GROUND

There is being mined, and milled, a deposit of Green Marl Sand, found in large quantities one of nature's products that is being used for fertilizer.

This Green Marl Sand contains Phosphorus, Potash, Lime, and Iron. All of which are useful in stimulating plant growth.

This product may be placed in direct contact with the roots of plants or be distributed with the seed when sown. It does not injure the tenderest roots or injure them in any way.

For house and pot plants mix one to ten per cent in bulk with the soil mass and set the plants, for fruit trees, shade trees, shrubbery, roses etc., apply the Marl Sand in direct contact with the roots, water thoroughly after raking the soil back over the roots, and watch your trees and plants grow.

For field crops, apply the Marl in the drill at time of planting. Use from 200 to five hundred pounds per acre.

The Green Marl Sand is not soluble in water. Therefore it does not leach out of the soil. You can't use too much for it will remain in the soil and yield up its plant food to the roots of the plants as needed.

We now have a car load of this natural fertilizer at Clyde which is to be distributed by us. Or it can be had from B. L. Boystun, Walker and Caperton, J. M. Cody, R. M. Pyeatt, or Home Mercantile Co., Clyde, Texas, or from us at the following prices: Five pounds, 20 cents; 10 pounds, 30 cents; twenty-five pounds, 50 cents; fifty pounds, 80 cents; 100 pounds, $1.50; 200 pounds, $1.45 per hundred; 500 pounds, $1.40 per hundred; 1000 pounds, $1.35 per hundred; 2000 pounds, $1.25 per hundred.

Diaz, War Hero, Dead

All Italy is mourning the death of the late General Armando Diaz. He was Field Marshal of the Italian forces that beat Austria during the World War and was a national hero. (International Newsweek)

Indian War Veteran Is Pensioned By U. S. at Age of 80; Was Friend Of Buffalo Bill and Indian Chief

DENVER, March 6. — When the government recently awarded Ben Ward a pension as a veteran of the Indian wars, a life of strange adventures was discussed.

Ward is past 80 years old so that his life, which has always been of the west, is full of thrilling activities of the frontier days, when scraping, covered wagons, Indian fights and boom days were common.

Ward was a friend of Buffalo Bill, in fact was a scout for him with the Second Nebraska regiment, in 1864; at one time was the guest of Sitting Bull, against whose braves a caravan of which he was a member for five days; worked with "Wild Bill" Hickok, the famous sheriff; traveled safely through the "Jesse James" territory with a $150,000 payroll; and saw Steve Carson, the brother of Kit Carson, the scout, killed in a fight with the Sioux.

One of the most interesting stories told by Ward concerns the time when he frightened off a band of Indians to get back to safety with the caravan with a bunch of firecrackers. The incident is one of a series of experiments which fell to him during the trip of a caravan from Fort Kearney to Helena, Montana in 1866.

"When we reached Fort Laramie," he said, "a treaty with Indians was in progress and we waited till it was signed, but the terms were unsatisfactory to a lot of the braves and we were attacked by redskins in the Big Horn mountains in northern Wyoming.

"There were forty-two of us and soon Bill Hickok came riding toward the camp at high speed with Sioux behind him. When Bill came to the place where I was watering my oxen—one half mile from the curral—he wheeled his horse and emptied six Sioux saddles with his rifle so fast it made my head swim."

Tried Strategy
"The Indians had cut us off from the wagon train so we hit upon a strategy which has given me many laughs since. The caravan was carrying dynamite and firecrackers to Helena. Knowing the superstitious nature of Indians, I had kept a bunch of firecrackers with me, planning for just such an occasion.

"Bill and I tied the firecrackers to the tail of my St. Bernard dog, which was with me constantly, and with the first explosion, he was gone yelping and plunging straight toward the Indians who thought the Great Spirit was hounding them. The dog was unhurt and we reached the caravan safely. And there Bill and I fought shoulder to shoulder, generally under a wagon bed, until the fifth day when an emigrant train with 200 soldiers

Non-Cotton Zone of Seven Counties Favored for West

Eradication of Pink Boll Worm Only Solution, Commissioners Say; Regulation Not Sufficient

CHARTER CO. TO REVIVE POOL OF OIL BOOM DAYS

EASTLAND, March 6.—One of the most unusual oil deals in Eastland county since the days of the great oil boom was recently made when H. B. Mays and associates of Eastland disposed of a half interest in a block of acreage consisting of 414 acres, a few miles north of Eastland.

A cash consideration of $16,000 was received and, in addition, the purchasers, the Charter Oil company of Brownwood, agreed to drill six wells free of cost to Mays et al.—a half interest in these wells and in the remainder of the lease being retained by Mays and associates.

Involved in the transaction were the J. E. Niver farm, consisting of 63 acres; the J. W. Turner heirs farm, 210 acres; the P. P. Barber farm, 80 acres; and the E. Roper farm, 61 acres.

Mays et al. about three months ago, drilled a shallow well on the Niver that made 20 barrels of oil and 500,000 feet of gas a day.

Since the Charter purchased a half interest in the block, a half million foot gusher has been drilled on the Roper, the Turner No. 1 is drilling at 400 feet and a well will spud on the Barber in about two weeks. It should be noted that the production is coming from a depth of 1,400 feet—the shallow pay that was virtually passed up in that territory during the boom.

One of the biggest wells in the Ranger-Eastland field was drilled on the Roper farm back in the stirring days of 1919 or 1920, when a 2,500-barrel gusher was drilled in the deep pay.

It is highly significant of the oil possibilities of Eastland county that eight years later, operations have been shifted back to that very farm. The shallow sand that was passed up on the Roper and the shallow sand that was passed up on the Gray-Hightower area back in those days are typical of the many possibilities of the neglected pay at the lesser depths while the production found in the Gordon pool at a greater depth than the old-time wells went is an illustration of the potentialities of the deeper strata.

The Charter Oil company, which is developing the Niver-Turner-Barber-Roper leases, brought in the original pool in Brown county some ten years ago and is now said to own more production in that county than any other company. The entry of this important company into the Eastland field is therefore an important event. The Charter company is a complete unit—it produces oil, refines it and sells gasoline for retail use.

DALLAS, March 6.—Eradication and not control is the only method of meeting the pink boll worm, members of the state commission on the pest said at a luncheon of the Dallas Agricultural club here Monday. W. D. Farris of Ennis, chairman of the commission, said his recommendations would include the placing of the seven newly infested counties in a noncotton zone for two years.

Chairman Farris will present his recommendations to Governor Dan Moody Tuesday.

The newly infested counties include Midland, Martin, Howard, Dawson, Andrews and Glasscock.

"The problem is not one only of that region," Farris said. "It is of the utmost importance to the entire state." The results of a quarantine on cotton from Texas by other states which is apt to come unless the pest is eradicated, would mean financial disaster to every Texan. This quarantine talk is not a "bluff either, and it can ruin Texas."

Aid from the government is needed, Farris said.

Last year $10,000,000 was used for like purposes to fight the corn borer and this year a like sum will be available.

Texas should be able to obtain aid for this important work, Mr. Farris said.

COTTON GROWERS FAVOR ZONING.
STANTON, March 6.—Stanton and Martin county will not have a delegation at Austin to meet with the State Pink Bollworm commission Tuesday. Stanton citizens feel that the facts have been put before the commission in a sworn testimonial at Sweetwater and in the sectional meetings recently held in towns in the infested area. They feel sure that the pink bollworm commission will not "noncotton" the infested area, but will place the infested area under a strict zone with the state and federal government bearing expense of fumigation and sterilization of cotton and seed and all other losses to the growers.

Martin county farmers believe that a regulated area is the only sane solution to the pink bollworm situation in West Texas and they believe that the commission will stand by them with this kind of recommendation at the meeting in Austin Tuesday.

WORM HELD REPULSED IN SANTA CRUZ VALLEY.
PHOENIX, Ariz., March 6.—The state entomologist's office reported today that it had been successful in curbing the spread of pink bollworm infestation recently discovered in the Santa Cruz Valley cotton belt, near Tucson.

"FAIR MINDED" IS OPINION OF ENGLISHMAN
LONDON, March 6.—"The average American is an extremely fair-minded man," Sir Rennell Rodd, British delegate to the League of Nations in 1927 and 1923, declared in a recent address before the English speaking union here.

Sir Rennell, who also was one of the British representatives at the recent naval disarmament conference in Geneva, recently returned from a visit to America.

"The American is apt to think out questions for himself," Sir Rennell continued. "His mentality is simple and direct, but he is often very ill-informed on questions which interest Great Britain profoundly."

"I have found in talking about the recent naval conference that our position and attitude were pretty generally misapprehended. Men did not seem to understand that the aims of naval power might be quite different for a country differently conditioned geographically and economically from their own."

"But one has only to explain our position for them very readily to understand it. There is one point, however, on which we ought to not delude ourselves."

"The American people feel themselves justly entitled to arrive at their own conclusions and their own judgments, quite independently of old usages and conventions and customs to which they never pledged themselves."

FORMER BRECKENRIDGE MAN ILL IN CALIFORNIA
BRECKENRIDGE, March 6.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ackers of Abilene, Will Black and Milton Daniel of Breckenridge, have come to Los Angeles, California, to attend the bedside of Jack Black who is seriously ill and will undergo a dangerous operation. Mr. Black is a brother of Mrs. W. C. Veale of this city.

Wichita & Southern To Ballast Roadbed
RANGER, March 6.—C. C. Hamilton, Ranger, announces the sale of a lease on his tract of land southeast of Ranger to the Wichita and Southern railroad company for a consideration of $3,000. The railroad company will use the land for the extraction of gravel to ballast all of its line in Texas for the next five years, according to Hamilton. The company has secured a right of way through the Hamilton land and will start work immediately on the construction of some 2,600 feet of trackage. The land is located a mile and a half from Ranger and is in the city limits.

Horned Toad Fame Known in Indiana
EASTLAND, March 6.—Dr. H. B. Tanner of Eastland has returned from a trip to Indianapolis where he attended a reunion of the members of his graduating class of the old Indiana Medical college. The occasion was the fiftieth anniversary of the class' graduation and five of the seven surviving members attended. Dr. Tanner said that everywhere he went and everyone he talked to had heard of the famed horned frog of Eastland. "I carried a picture of the frog with me and if I had had 500 of them I believe I could have sold every one of them," Dr. Tanner said. Dr. Tanner also visited his brother in Milwaukee.

SUIT FILED FOR CANCELLATION OLD OIL LEASE

EASTLAND, March 6.—Although four preceding wells were drilled on a 220-acre farm, and three of the wells are still producing after ten years, suit has been instituted to cancel the lease as far as 250 acres are concerned, the basis being that the three producers are located on the west 20 acres of the farm and that the defendant has failed to develop the remainder of the lease.

J. T. Earpest has filed suit in the 88th district court against the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company asking the cancellation of the lease insofar as 200 acres are concerned and also for an award of $125,000 as damages for failure to drill offsets and protect the land from drainage.

One of the Earnest wells came in for 2,700 barrels a day, another for 1,000 barrels and another for 180—these being the wells on the western edge of the farm, which are still producing and have yielded more than a million dollars worth of oil and gas, the plaintiff's petition alleges.

Another well was drilled near the center of the south boundary line and this well came in for 460 barrels, but after averaging more than 300 barrels daily for a year, it was ruined and was plugged.

In setting forth the contention that the lease was not adequately developed, the petition states that no dry holes were encountered on the Earnest and no dry holes were drilled on adjacent tracts, but, on the contrary, a well, drilled on the W. M. Meyers' farm, within 200 feet of the Earnest north line, came in for 500 barrels a day in 1918 and is still producing and that immediately east of the Earnest farm, a well was drilled on the Rush that averaged 40 barrels daily for two years. Grisham Bros. are attorneys for Earnest.

At The Theaters

One of the most dramatic films of the season is on display at the Palace theater today and tomorrow. Opening its engagement today "Sailor's Wives," a First National feature in which Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes play the leading roles, should be one of the most popular productions shown here in recent months.

Based on the sensational novel of the same name by Warner Fabian, "Sailor's Wives" deals with a highly dramatic incident in the life of a girl who learns, after she has promised to marry a man of her choice, that she is doomed to go blind within a short time. Unwilling to chain the man she loves to a blind wife, she breaks off the engagement without giving him a reason, and plunges into a whirlpool of hectic living in order to forget her impending doom and to crowd a lifetime of excitement into the few remaining months in which she may keep her sight.

A novel and highly dramatic climax has been added to this unusual premise through the capable direction of Joseph Hanaberry and the convincing performance of not only Miss Astor and Mr. Hughes, but by the many supporting players as well, including Earle Foxe, Olive Tell, Ruth Dwyer, Gayne White-man, Burr McIntosh, Jack Mower and others.

BEBE DANIELS TRIUMPHS WITH "FEEL MY PULSE"

If one likes good, clean, fast moving comedy for their motion picture entertainment, the place to get it is at the Palace Theater Sunday and Monday. Bebe Daniels, Paramount star, makes the offer. The beautiful player really outdoes herself in her latest screen offering, "Feel My Pulse," which opens Sunday.

Fun? Plenty! And some idea may be derived from the situations given the dashing comedienne by Howard Emmett Rogers, who is credited with the original story. Can't you picture Miss Daniels as a girl who is perfectly healthy but who believes that she is an invalid? And her experiences in a sanitarium filled with patients who are members of a bootlegging gang? And the action involved around the battles between the "invalid" and the hi-jackers—with Bebe in the midst of it all? These are just a few of the situations which suit Miss Daniels' talents perfectly. And she makes the best of her opportunities.

Hotel Naming Contest Brings Coinage of New Words; Denton and Plainview Have Entries

Cisco will need a dozen or more new hotels if all the good and appropriate names being suggested by Daily News readers are to be used. Today's list contains many very striking names and they come from as far away as Denton and Plainview. The interest grows with each succeeding day, it seems.

The first name on the list today is an entirely new word, comprising parts of names that are dear to all Cisco. Dambolce, suggested by A. M. Mitchell, 1010 West Seventh street, is a combination of Cisco's big dam, the Lobo basketball and football team, and Hon. R. Q. Lee. It sounds a little like "cussing" that may be done in all propriety, and that feature, together with the featuring of the Lobos and Mr. Lee, may commend it strongly to the committee.

Today's list of suggestions follow:

- The Dambolce, A. M. Mitchell, 1010 West Seventh.
- The Westexan, Roberta Moss, box 173, Denton, Texas.
- Hotel Huey, Mrs. G. D. Hartness, box 501.
- Texas Hotel, Billy Hayes, 308 G avenue.
- Hotel Aztec, Dr. W. G. Meiss, Garner building.
- Imperial Hotel, Mark Stamps, Jr., 901 West Seventh.
- The Midwest, Elizabeth Stamps, 901 West Seventh.
- Hotel Lee Bo, Carl H. Gillman, Daniels hotel, Cisco.
- Witt Hotel, R. B. Dill, Cisco.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh made a surprise visit here this morning, when he landed at Bolling Field at 6:30 o'clock. He left Scott Field, Illinois, at 11 last night.

Confidence that the surfacing of the highway across the West Texas counties would be followed by the paving of unpaved strips between San Angelo and Tulsa has been expressed by Mr. Wild, whose been interest in the development of the road is encouraged by its location and the unusual economic factor it would prove in the furtherance of developments in West Texas and the other parts of the country it would serve.

WOODS CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF EASTLAND CO.

Loss Woods announces in this issue of the Daily News for the office of sheriff of Eastland county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. Mr. Woods is no stranger to most of the voters of Eastland county as he was raised within 14 miles of Cisco, has lived in Eastland county practically all his life, and never paid taxes in any county other than Eastland. He has never asked for office before, but has had four years experience as a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Bob Skinner from 1912 to 1916.

If elected Mr. Woods says his motto will be honesty and efficiency in office, justice and fair dealing to all men, with prejudice against none. He states if elected every man in his employ must be a resident and tax payer of Eastland county. He stated it will be his purpose to personally meet every voter in the county, and should he fail to meet you it will not be because he did not try to do so. Any consideration and support given his candidacy will be appreciated by Mr. Woods.

Petroleum Highway One of Great Importance; Association Plans Hard Surfacing Through the West

SAN ANGELO, March 6.—The paving of the Petroleum highway through Irion, Reagan, Upton, Crockett, Pecos, Brewster and Presidio counties through the towns of Big Lake, Rankin, Fort Stockton, Alpine and Marfa is the object of a campaign launched by Claude C.
