CISCO, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1928.

NUMBER 26

TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

BOX BILL DEAD—The "box bill" to favor immigration from Mexico is dead, at least for this session of congress, and the livestock men, farmers, truckers and citrus growers of South and West Texas are breathing easier as they see that their labor supply will not be cut off. There will likely be a tightening of the enforcement immigration laws along the border, but no Texas citizen objects to that. The defeat of this measure, which would have paralyzed livestock and agricultural interests in sections of Texas, is to the credit of the chambers of commerce in the sections most affected and to the help of a number of Texas congressmen.

STONE MOUNTAIN RECEIVERSHIP—Texas who so patriotically contributed to the movement for the Confederate Memorial on Stone Mountain near Chattanooga are regretting that the undertaking has gotten into the courts and that a receivership is being asked. Allegations have been made that the organization is insolvent and that there has been "waste and dissipation" of its funds. While the "war between the states" is recognized as a "lost cause," and there is no disposition to keep alive any spirit of hatred or ill will, all through the South there is a strong desire that the memorial be completed as a permanent tribute to those who fought for what they regarded as a great principle.

DALLAS GETS FACTORY—A company that has been engaged in manufacturing cotton gins in St. Louis is establishing its factory for the manufacture of machinery and parts to Dallas. It may be more centrally located in the cotton growing district. The same motive is gradually attracting textile manufacturers to this state, for they are finding that it is poor business judgment to ship cotton thousands of miles to convert it into goods, much of which has to be shipped back.

BLAST WRECKS MISSION TOWER—Evidence has led to the conclusion that some miscreant used an explosive in destroying the two-century old tower of the San Jose Mission at San Antonio, thus ruining one of the historic and hallowed spots of Texas, visited by thousands of people from all over the country. It is strange that any mind can become so dwarfed and so bent on destruction as to wilfully destroy such a memento of the early days of Texas.

OKLAHOMA UNION BUILDING—The fact that the University of Oklahoma has raised its fund and broken dirt for the Student Union Building at Norman is going to stimulate the ex-students of the University of Texas to make a hurry-up campaign to get the subscription necessary to begin their work on such a building at Austin. Oklahoma ex-students have worked eight years to get a $250,000 union building; University of Texas ex-students expect to secure a $1,250,000 group of buildings and to have the funds subscribed in less than eight months. Just watch them do it.

TAX-EXEMPT PROPERTY—The Attorney General's Department has ruled that only the buildings and adjoining property actually and necessarily owned and used by institutions of purely public charity are exempt from taxation in Texas. Property in other parts of the country or in other counties over the state which is devoted to the use of such institutions by using the rents and profits is not and cannot be exempt and taxes on such property must be paid, according to this ruling, however charitable the work of the institution may be.

BORGER, THE "WONDER CITY"—A copy of the Borger Daily Herald celebrating the second anniversary of the city has reached me. In looking over this great paper of 40 pages of facts about the magical development of the city, I am left wondering which is the greater "wonder," Borger or the Borger Herald. Borger has grown from nothing in two years to a city of 20,000 people; the Herald has grown in a little more than a year from nothing to a thoroughly metropolitan paper that would be a credit to a city of ten times as large. The thought is also suggested that Borger would never have become such a progressive city, such a "wonder city" in every sense of the word, but for a persistent help of the Herald.

MISSOURI EDITORS RETURN—Those Missouri and Central States editors who have just completed a 6,000 mile tour through Texas into Mexico and back through Texas are agreed that they have never seen and will never see any better or fairer lands than the parts of Texas they were privileged to visit on their tour.

HILL FIRED FIRST SHOT IN RAID

2 Alleged Forgers Arrested Here

MEN HELD IN LOCKUP; THIRD BEING HUNTED

Glenn Hill and E. B. Kelly are today languishing in the city jail and a third man, companion of these, is being sought by local officers, whose arrest is believed to be but a matter of hours. The criminal career of this youthful trio was perhaps brought to an end when these two were taken into custody late Tuesday afternoon.

With the chase that followed the arrest of one of these men quite a bit of excitement was injected into an otherwise uneventful day for the local police. The men are being held in connection with the alleged forging of the name of J. L. Cooper to three checks, which were passed on suburban grocery stores, after making small purchases and receiving the difference in cash. The Richardson grocery store on A. avenue, Skiles grocery on South D avenue and Fourteenth street, and the A. & L. Grocery store, at 803 Front street, were the victims.

The petty swindle was planned with a completeness worthy of a major crime, but the well laid scheme went awry due to the promptness in reporting the matter to the officers, who were thereby enabled to run them down before they could make their get away.

At the A. & L. grocery the men presented a check for $10 and made a purchase of $3.35, ordering the groceries delivered to a vacant house at 1105 West Ninth street. Richardson was presented a check for $10 and a bill for $2.95 was purchased, which was ordered delivered at 510 East Fourteenth street, said to be a vacant lot; at Skiles' grocery a check was presented for $12, and a bill for $2.75 purchased, which was ordered delivered at 601 West Eighteenth street. Skiles became suspicious before the merchandise was delivered, and did not attempt a delivery, but the fraud was not discovered until the man had departed with $9.75 he had received in change. A salesman happened to be in Skiles' store and heard the man give the delivery address, who told the proprietor that he had just come from Richardson's store, where the same man gave a different delivery address. This led to an investigation that uncovered the fraud. All three of the checks were signed "J. L. Cooper, by Mrs. J. L. Cooper." The checks are in the hands of the police, the merchandise is back on the shelves, two of the alleged forgers are behind prison bars and the police are in possession of a new Essex car with a Breckenridge number, also three good suits of clothes.

As soon as notified the police got on the job and arrested one of the men at the Tullis tailor shop, where he called for three suits of clothes left to be pressed, while his two companions remained in a car parked in front. Previous to the arrest those in the car saw the officers approaching, and immediately stepped on the gas. The officers commanded a car and chased the two out on the Breckenridge highway where they abandoned the car. One of the occupants of the car came back toward Cisco, and was picked up by the pursuing officers, the other is still at large, but the man arrested on the highway gave the officers information where the car was parked, and the name of the fugitive. His arrest is expected hourly.

Mrs. J. E. Kleiner saw the two men on the highway, and became suspicious and notified the officers. L. A. White, acting chief of police, stated that the assistance of Mrs. Kleiner and the promptness in reporting the matter, was of great assistance in aiding the officers to make the arrests so quickly. He requests the Daily News to express the thanks of the police to those people for acting with such dispatch.

The ownership of the new Essex had not been established at noon today.

Farewell Banquet Tendered to Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Campbell at Country Club House Last Night

W. W. Wallace presided as toastmaster. J. M. Williamson was the first to respond to the toast proposed by Toastmaster Wallace, who paid a splendid tribute to the ability, vision and foresight of Mr. Campbell and told of the high esteem in which he was held by his intimates, as one with whom he could differ and still remain warm friends. The speaker reminded his hearers that it was largely due to Mr. Campbell's ability and labor that the present splendid Country Club house and grounds were realized, as none had contributed more to this splendid resort than he.

Q. J. Russell, manager of the Cisco Ice company, another West Texas Utilities company property, spoke of his relations to the company, the public and the employees, and reviewed the growth of district B under Mr. Campbell's administration.

Raymond Dabney, president of the Cisco chamber of commerce, expressed his personal regrets and that of Mr. Campbell's associate directors, as well as for all of Cisco, in losing Mr. Campbell and his estimable wife, who was at all times his inspiration in his efforts, but who gratified him on his promotion and paid a splendid tribute to him as a civic worker and citizen.

E. P. Crawford, the first president of the Cisco Rotary club, spoke of his as a brother Rotarian, and said it was fine to know that Mr. and Mrs. Shepard will make excellent citizens, and as time passes will fill the vacancy left by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.

Metz of Wink, Texas, Mrs. Charles B. Woody of Shelby, Montana, and two sons, Frank Alderson of this city, and Ed Alderson of Kilsbuck, New Mexico. Uncle Tom Alderson had lived in Eastland more than 30 years, and until a few years ago drove a service car here, and was well known to the citizens of this vicinity. He was injured by an automobile about two years ago, and had not been active since that time, having been in Montana with his daughter, Mrs. Woody, until last July. Mr. Kirschner stated that he saw many substantial improvements since he was last in Cisco, and remarked that he had always liked Cisco, and was glad when it is possible to come back here. "Can't say just how long we will remain, a week at any rate, and possibly longer," Mr. Kirschner intimated that he might make some investments here, if he sees anything that impresses him favorably.

BILL FOR YEAR

$425.00

H. T. Redies gave a vivid account of the battle in the alley adjoining the bank, which account had previously been given. No new testimony being brought out.

County Attorney Sparks expressed the hope at noon today that the state would be able to close its case this afternoon, which will give the defense an opportunity to place Hill on the stand to tell the story of his life. Hill's testimony is expected to be interesting, as he will doubtless recite many incidents calculated to play upon the sentimental emotions of the jury.

The twelfth member of the jury was obtained late Tuesday afternoon and court then recessed until 9 o'clock this morning. County Attorney Frank Sparks read the indictment to the jury. Judge George L. Davenport said "Stand up Robert." The defendant arose and the judge asked what his plea was. The answer "Guilty" was given in so low a tone that the judge asked again. Judge Davenport explained to Hill that he could be given as extreme a penalty as death and asked if he desired to continue to plead guilty to which the defendant replied that he did.

During the proceedings, Mrs. Rilla Carter, mother of Marshall Ratliff—who was the Santa Clara of the robbery and is now serving 99 years—sat beside the young defendant. It has been indicated that the defendant will take the stand and unfold the story of his life that he was left an orphan and that when he met Mrs. Carter several years ago, he came to feel that she was the only mother he had ever known.

Before testimony began, however, Mrs. Carter left the courtroom and Hill sat alone, except for the two lawyers appointed by the court to defend him and the watchful presence of Deputy Sheriff Cy Bradford.

The course of the trial, especially in view of the fact that the prosecution is seeking the death penalty, was smooth and peaceful this morning. Few objections were made by L. H. Fievelien and M. E. Lawrence and there were no heated exchanges of words by attorney.

GREAT PLANS OUTLINED FOR LEGION MEET

SAN ANTONIO, March 21.—After hearing the 1928 national convention program outlined by Philip B. Stapp, general convention director, and the local committee, National Commander Edward E. Spafford, of The American Legion, on his recent visit here, predicted that the convention attendance, October 8th to 12th, will be the greatest in the Legion's history.

He stated that he expects the crowd here for the great gathering to reach 150,000. San Antonio showed the commander some of the scenes of historic interest which will attract Legionnaires and Auxiliary members on their visit here—Fort Sam Houston where thousands of men trained during the World war; the aviation center, the old missions and the cathedral, 200 years old and over. At the Alamo, where in 1836 every man in a band of 172 Texans, including the famous scout Davy Crockett, lost his life before a Mexican army that outnumbered them 25 to 1.

The municipal auditorium, where the Legion will hold its convention sessions, was shown to the commander and made a deep impression on him. Built at a cost of more than $2,000,000 as a memorial to the men of the World war, the auditorium is the finest structure in which the Legion has ever assembled in national convocation.

Following his visit to San Antonio, the commander was escorted by Department Commander Walton D. Hood and other Legion leaders for a tour of the Lower Rio Grande Valley and saw the marvelous development which Legionnaires will see on side trips to the border cities. Excursions will be run to Laredo and to Brownsville and the Magic Valley of the Lower Rio Grande for convention visitors.

SAFETY SCHOOL FOR MOTORISTS WHO BREAK LAW

CHICAGO, March 21.—Flaming youth cannot be blamed for the increase in automobile accidents and speeding in Chicago, according to a survey made here by jazzy grandpa with his bald pate. Among 400 motorists fined on speeding charges here in one day, age outnumbered youth more than two to one, statistics reveal. Women, although reputed to be less careful in their driving of automobiles than men, are rare offenders. The average age of the male speeder was found to be 44 years.

Safety Classes. For this reason the West Park Commissioners, controlling all boulevards on the West Side of Chicago, decided to form a motorists safety "school" at which drivers convicted of minor infractions of the law are given the rudiments of safety in driving. In its session the school has taught more than 41,000 persons. "The average motorist doesn't willfully violate the law," explained Dr. Francis E. Thornton, "teacher" at the motorists school. "Mr. Average Motorist always has an excuse for speeding. He had to catch a train, go to the hospital, his wife was sick, etc. No one means to break the law but it happens just the same."

School A Success. Dr. Thornton explained proper methods of passing up another motor car, problems of finding parking space, speeding, right-of-way and other cares which assails the average motorist daily. The school has had 179 sessions and has proved to be a success in the opinion of the park commissioners.

For minor infractions of the motor laws in Chicago, persons are not brought to a speeder's court but are required to call at a city motor bureau and pay their own fine to clerks. Repeated violations, however, necessitate a court appearance.

APPEAL WILL BE MADE FOR BECKY ROGERS

AUSTIN, March 21.—The appeal of Rebecca Bradley Rogers, young former University of Texas student and state capitol employe, from a 14-year conviction on charges of robbing the Buda bank in Hays county of $1,000, December, 1928, probably will be filed in the court of criminal appeals in a few days.

Former Senator R. E. Coffey, who defended Rebecca in her trial at LaGrange last December, said here Tuesday that a statement of facts and bills of exceptions has been approved and the record left with the district clerk at La Grange.

Judge M. E. Jeffrey, who presided at the trial, has qualified some of the bills. Defense counsel has been in conference with him at San Marcos during the current court session there. Mrs. Rogers pleaded insanity and most of her trial evolved around that issue.

SOLONS RIDE IN AIR WITH AMBASSADOR

WASHINGTON, March 21.—More than 50 members of congress went sightseeing over Washington yesterday in company with a distinguished aerial taxi driver—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. A part of the ninety-odd senators and representatives who accepted Lindbergh's recent blanket invitation to fly with him went up with the transatlantic ace in an army Fokker transport monoplane and a Douglas transport biplane. By groups they took off from Bolling Field for 20-minute spins over the city.

In the passenger list were two of the four women members of the house. Representatives Rogers of Massachusetts and Langley of Kentucky. The flights, Lindbergh's idea of the best way to give congress practical education in aviation, served also to create a setting for the presentation today of the congressional medal of honor to the flier at the hands of President Coolidge. Voted last December by congress as another tribute to the first man to fly from New York to Paris, the medal will be bestowed at the white house at noon today. The ceremony will be simple, probably in the president's office, and will follow the precedent set him when a similar medal was given to Commander Richard E. Byrd for his aerial accomplishments.

If the congressional fliers had any fears before or after their flights they did not reveal them. They appeared eager to fly and delighted with the experience when they alighted. Quite a few outstanding statesmen will be out in the cold in a few months from now.—The Elmira Star-Gazette.

BUILDING FOR MARCH TOTALS ABOUT $20,000

Material men and builders report that there has been quite an impetus in building in Cisco since the first of the month, as several new homes are under construction in different sections of the city. All homes being erected are of modern construction, while most of the new homes are modest-priced cottages. yet there is one of the new buildings, that of Joe Clements at 1602 South D avenue, which will be of brick veneer, six rooms and bath. Some are reported to be building who have not applied for permits, yet those who have taken out permits represent a total of near $20,000 for the first half of March. Following are the permits issued to March 15:

TEXAN CALLED REAL CZAR OF COTTON DEALS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Money on the cotton market cannot be made by anyone unless he can read the mind of W. L. Clayton, Houston broker, Arthur R. Marsh told a senate agriculture sub-committee Tuesday. He said the cotton market had suffered severely from manipulation, which he attributes to Anderson Clayton and Co. Marsh completed his testimony before the committee which is investigating alleged manipulation of the cotton market under authority of the Smith resolution.

The hearings had virtually resolved themselves into a duel between Marsh and Clayton, a member of the accused firm. Marsh denied he bears Clayton any ill will. "I am merely trying to get the cotton industry on its feet and I believe these facts about Clayton's company must be brought to light if this is to be accomplished," he said.

Jefferson's Gavel. Thomas Jefferson's gavel, presented to him in 1798 after he had been elected vice president of the United States, probably will be used to rap the Democratic national convention to order here next June.

The gavel, oak and worm-eaten, now more than 100 years old, which Jefferson used in the senate, was given to Jesse H. Jones, Democratic national committee finance chairman, at a simple ceremony on the site of the convention auditorium here Sunday afternoon.

The presentation was made by Miss Lee Taylor, vaudeville actress, who asserted the gavel had been handed down from Zachary Taylor, twelfth president of the United States, and had been in possession of her family ever since. "We hope," she told Mr. Jones, "that in giving it to the Democratic convention here in Houston it will serve in some way to stir up memories of all that Jefferson meant in early Americanism." Mr. Jones said he would turn the gavel over to the convention authorities.

Texarkana, Texas.—"About four years ago my health was very poor and had been so for a long while. I suffered with pain in my side, back and head and nothing gave me any permanent relief until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A few bottles of this relieved me of these distressing aches and pains and my general health became good. I am glad to recommend the 'Favorite Prescription' to other sufferers."—Mrs. F. S. Rip Van Is Piker Beside This Frog

FREMONT, Neb., March 21.—Fatal injuries, sustained in the moment of his first glimpse of broad daylight in more than 39 years, caused the death of a Nebraska frog after the reptile's claim to the world's long sleep record had been definitely established. The frog, disturbed after nearly 40 years of slumber in the brick foundation of the Salem Lutheran church at Fontanelle, Neb., north-east of Fremont, was struck by a workman's spade when the structure was being razed to make way for a new church. Following Sandino is something like slapping a flea. The hardest part of fighting his army is finding out where it is.—The Springfield Daily Republican.

RCA-Radiola 17

Require Neither Batteries Nor Battery Eliminators

It operates directly from the lighting socket by means of the new "AC" Radiotrons. That is one of the reasons why Radiola 17 is the year's outstanding achievement in radio. Simplicity of operation, sturdy construction and excellent tone quality are outstanding features of this new receiver. Tuning is accomplished entirely by one knob. In addition there is only a volume control to regulate the output and a switch to turn the current on and off.

In Radiola 17, the owner finds all of the refinements that recent developments have contributed to the radio art. Its compact cabinet, beautifully finished in mahogany, contains all the mechanism necessary for operation. Over the tuning control, there is a small electric light which not only illuminates the station selector but also serves as an indicator that the current is on or off.
