TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

PROSPEROUS EAST TEXAS.

In an announcement of the annual meeting of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce at Greenville, May 6-8, President R. M. Kelly calls attention to the unusual prosperity of the entire East Texas section, and correctly attributes these conditions to diversified farming and the "live-at-home" program which the East Texas Chamber of Commerce has fostered. Those who have not seen the East Texas of today, but who knew it in former years, will hardly recognize that part of the state in its changed condition, and the change is as noticeable in the people themselves as in the country. The people have an air of prosperity and enterprise. They are alert to every suggestion for improving conditions. They are building permanent highways, church and school buildings, new homes; and are interesting themselves in factories, creameries, dairying, poultry raising and many other things besides the growing of cotton and corn. President Kelly correctly reflects the situation in the statement: "No better indication of the condition of East Texas could be pointed out than the great amount of building construction, municipal improvement and general development that is going on over practically the entire eastern area of the state." The industrial and agricultural exhibit to be made at the Greenville meeting will be a revelation to those who haven't been keeping up with the recent progress of East Texas.

PANHANDLE DAIRY SHOW.

A few years ago the suggestion of a dairy show anywhere in the Panhandle or West Texas would have been regarded as a huge joke. The show at Plainview this week with some 250 of the best bred dairy cattle of the country on exhibition is anything but a joke. Six thousand dollars are being given for prizes for the three breeds of dairy cattle. Vocational classes from some twenty schools are competing for premiums in cattle judging contests. The Amarillo News is offering premiums in production contests. The press of the entire section is giving extensive publicity to the event. The dairy cow is occupying the place of honor for her part in the development of the country and for her contribution to the prosperity of the people.

TEMPLE CHEESE PLANT.

Temple is a young city of a kind that seldom lets other places get far ahead in any progressive movement. It has always been a city of pluck with "progress" as its watchword. It is willing to note what others are doing, to learn, and to take advantage of the experience of others. So, Temple, having seen that cheese factories help both to a town and the surrounding country, is going ahead with plans for building one, having raised the money necessary to purchase the site and build and operate the plant.

EAGLE PASS SHIPMENTS.

Somewhat the ordinary mind refuses to think of spinach in terms of carloads, but that is the only way they talk about it around Eagle Pass, where 125 cars have been shipped this season and there is more yet to go out. The carrot is a modest vegetable, but the carrot crop around Eagle Pass will be more than 80 cars. These figures do not include the smaller express shipments carried out on every train, nor is mention made of the great quantities of cabbage and other vegetables. It has been only a few years since the Eagle Pass country was generally regarded as unfit for anything except cattle and sheep growing.

CITY PARK MOVEMENT.

The plans being formed and worked for securing and improving more parks in the cities and towns of Texas are meeting with much favor. San Antonio and Austin are among the cities that are proposing large bond issues for parks and city beautification. San Antonio has for a long while been noted for its attractive parks, but is awake to the advantages of having more of them and making them more attractive. Parks have been among the greatest assets of that city. There is hardly a town in Texas with enough public parks or with its parks improved as they should be. Texas needs a greater park spirit.

TEXAS TREASURY WEALTH.

The Texas state treasury has a balance of $26,811,000, the greatest in its history, nearly one half of being to the credit of the state highway fund, and $6,065,000 fund in the available school fund.

POULTRY COLONY PLAN.

A pervasive poultry colony is being blighted near Mercedes on a tract that should appeal to other dairymen and other allied agricultural industries. A syndicate bought a tract of land, will improve, subdivide and especially for poultry raising. These improved poultry farms will be sold in small tracts, and the poultry farmers will have their own organization for purchasing supplies, marketing eggs and chickens, and otherwise serving their mutual interests.

RISING STAR, April 6.—At a recent meeting of the officials of the American legions, Cecil Shultz, W. H. Kilgore, W. A. Williams and M. S. Sellers were named as the executive committee for the local organization of Boy Scouts. At a later meeting Mr. Kilgore was elected chairman of the committee and Otha Venable elected scoutmaster, with Charles W. Delmar as assistant. Mr. Venable will confer with County Scout Executive Guy N. Quirl at the scout school tonight, and some night next week will be decided upon as organization night when all the boys will be invited to appear for the organization of the troop. The scout school, held in the basement of the Methodist church each Friday night is rapidly growing in numbers and interest, there being 22 present last Friday night, against 10 the Friday night before. Mr. Quirl has promised a hike for Friday night of next week and supper will be prepared in the open.

World Awaits Vatican's Response to Mussolini's Ban On Catholic Clubs

By WILSON WALTERS

International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent
Catholic leaders here no less than in Italy, were aroused by Premier Mussolini's decree abolishing all educational organizations, such as Catholic Boy Scouts, for the Italian youth, except the official Fascist training grounds. Thus far the pope has made no promise of answering. The Rev. Wilfrid Parsons, S. J., Catholic editor, said: "As a matter of theory, the Catholic church, always and everywhere, has stood for the right of the parent over the education of his children, against any undue encroachment by the state. This position the pope is bound to uphold and it is not a matter of personal preference with him." The Rev. E. Cashin, former chaplain at Sing Sing, declared: "It seems deplorable that Mussolini should spoil all the good he has done by overdoing it." The Rev. Francis P. Duffy, chaplain of the old 69th Regiment, "Les Enfants Mussolini and more Thomas Jefferson would be a mighty good dose for Italy at the present time."

This Law Might Have Helped the Marshall Ratliffs and Henry Helms and Saved "Bit" Bedford and Geo. Carmichael

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States circuit court of appeals today suggested a return to the whipping post as a means of breaking up the crime waves.
Judge Buffington's statement, issued from his chambers in the federal building, precedes a conference tomorrow of 200 judges of the Pennsylvania courts, to consider means of checking lawlessness.
"I am not so much interested in what causes the crime wave as in steps that might be taken to stop it," he said. "I am impressed with the comparative freeness of Delaware as compared with New Jersey and Pennsylvania from the prevalent crime wave and especially from holdups, highway robbery, bank breaking, bank robbery, paymaster holdups and the like of which have become so prevalent."
"The state of Delaware provides that a person who is guilty of these robberies on or near highways or in dwelling houses, in addition to fines and imprisonment, whipped in some cases with 40 and some with 20 lashes.
"I see no reason why the adoption of this character should not be extended to other states, if it acts as a deterrent, as it seems to do in Delaware."

WOMAN SAVED FROM TRIAL BY CHILDREN

EL PASO, April 6.—The eight children of an El Paso woman saved her from trial on a charge of using abusive language. When a constable went to the woman's home to bring her to court, she refused to go unless she could bring her children. The constable telephoned Justice of the Peace A. J. Wilson and told him of this.

SMITH VETOES DOG CLIPPED EAR BILL

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—On constitutional grounds Governor Smith today vetoed the Shonk bill designed to forbid the exhibition at dog shows of dogs whipped after September 1, if their ears have been clipped or cut. In disapproving the "dog bill" the governor suggested that the only theory upon which it could be justified would be dogs' ears as a "shock to public morals," and as such should be a uniform law as to all places, "circuses, theaters, fair grounds, the public highways and byways."

Business Man Held on Charge Murder Beverly Teacher

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 6.—Frederick Knowlton, young Farmington business man, was indicted this afternoon for the murder of Marguerite Stewart, young Beverly teacher.

County Judge Goes to Austin to Confer With Highway Body and Thinks Plan a Certainty

Material improvements appear likely to be made on the Bankhead highway through Eastland county, according to information given out by County Judge Ed Pritchard, who left this morning to confer with the state highway commission at Austin. This information was secured from George W. Briggs, secretary of the Eastland chamber of commerce.

The improvement that now seems imminent includes the widening of the highway by placing shoulders on both sides of the road. These shoulders will be protected with concrete curbing.

Secretary Briggs said that he did not confer with Judge Pritchard at length, owing to his rush to catch the train for Austin, but the conditions asked by the highway commission are that the county must secure the right of way to increase the width of the Bankhead to 100 feet.

Another improvement proposed by the highway body includes straightening the road where needed. Mr. Briggs said Judge Pritchard would return from Austin Sunday, and that a meeting would likely be called of representatives of Eastland, Cisco and Ranger to be held at Eastland Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to consider the highway proposals that Judge Pritchard will deliver.

However, this program may be changed as to the date and hour of meeting after I have conferred with Judge Pritchard on his return from Austin," Briggs said.

Mr. Briggs stated that all matters would be discussed and disposed of at the proposed meeting Monday, and that the outlook was very promising to make the Bankhead highway through Eastland county one of the best highways in the state. It is not anticipated that any material obstacles will be met in securing title to the lands lying adjacent to the highway to increase the right of way to the desired width of 100 feet, Briggs thought.

Will Elect Three Trustees Saturday For Cisco Schools

Tomorrow the voters of the Cisco independent school district will name those who will have the management of the Cisco public schools for another twelve months. Three of the trustees are to be elected, and these, with the hold-overs, will constitute the full board. These gentlemen will have charge of all matters affecting the schools of the district, and it is important that the best talent should be chosen, as the success of the schools depends upon those who are directing the school affairs. The three whose terms expire are F. D. Wright, Dr. F. E. Clark and W. E. Ricks. The ticket closed at noon today with only three names having been submitted for places on the ticket which will be voted tomorrow. Those submitted are F. D. Wright, Dr. F. E. Clark and J. E. Spencer.

MORAN WOMAN'S INJURIES RECEIVED IN FALL FATAL

MORAN, April 6.—Mrs. N. J. Brewster passed from this life at 12:30 p. m. Monday after five days of suffering which was the result of a fall Wednesday of last week when she lost her balance and fell while getting up from a rocking chair in Breckenridge. Mrs. Brewster had been taking treatments there for some time and her condition was considered to be improving. The fall broke her hip and shoulder. She was given treatment at Breckenridge and brought to Moran Thursday. Pneumonia developed shortly after her injury, which quickened the visit of the death angel.

Police Recover Slate's Car At Ranger; Two Held

Charles C. Slate has found his car, which was stolen from its parking at Ranger Wednesday night, it was announced this morning at Cisco police headquarters. The car was found by Chief of Police Ingram, of Ranger, it having been abandoned near the Colony creek bridge, just off the Eastland highway. The license plates had been removed, but it was not damaged otherwise. These were found on another car in Abilene, and two boys have been arrested and are being held charged with the theft of the car.

COLD NORTHER FOLLOWS WAKE OF RAIN STORM

Following the storm and rain of Wednesday night a high wind prevailed Thursday in the Cisco country, turning into the north to northwesterly, causing a sharp drop in the temperature during the night. Fires proved comfortable and extra coverings felt good. This morning the wind made the weather exceedingly chilly and biting and overcoats were in evidence. While the thermometer was very sharp, yet the thermometer began to rise with the coming up of the sun, and by 8 o'clock the mercury stood around 45 degrees above zero at the Daily News office. Frost appeared to be unimpaired and it is not anticipated that the crop has been damaged.

Baptists to Have Splendid Service Sunday Morning

The First Baptist church announces a very beautiful service for Sunday morning. The Cisco High School Choral club will give two choruses. Other musical numbers will be given by the church's mixed quartette. The order of the service has been worked out in keeping with the spirit of the day, and is very beautiful in its order, as well as in its impressiveness, it is announced.

BIBLE VERSE

"For his anger is but for a moment; his favor is for a life-time; weeping may tarry for the night, but joy cometh in the morning."—Psalms 30:5.

WHY DISCRIMINATE?

A boat salesman trying to sell a launch to a man had him out for a ride on the lake. "There is one thing about this launch," said the salesman, "it has water-tight compartments and can't sink."

city, in Illinois, which seems to have an unusual range of ages among its students. The oldest male student there is 61, the oldest female student is 66. The average is a little over 23. The ideal school age, perhaps, would be from four to 80.

UNBALANCED SAVINGS

"Suppose," says a real estate salesman, "the people of this community would start in now to save their money for the sake of saving alone; suppose they would acquire the habit of stinting themselves in necessities, luxuries, comforts of home and community, and all just to save money."

Those Zeppelins Uncle Sam is going to build will be beautiful and wonderful airships. But what would happen to one of them in a battle if it met head on with that new Italian plane that makes 350 miles an hour?

Personal Opinions

By W. H. ALBURN.

CANINE RIGHTS

Not only has every dog his day, but every dog, according to a new ordinance in Orange, N. J., has his right to one bite. A dog is to be classified as a "vicious animal," and dealt with accordingly, only when it bites more than one person, or bites any person more than five. When a dog exceeds his quota, not only will he be shot, but his master will pay for the extra bites according to an increasing scale of reparation.

TEACHING FASCISM

There is now a regular department of Fascism in the University of Rome. The Black Shirt doctrine is to be taught as an academic subject, along with the plentiful instruction which Mussolini spreads in the controlled press. Fascism, the students are to be taught, is a new conception of the state. "Rather than lending itself to private initiative, it stimulates, aids, harmonizes, and blends itself to the superior interests of national productivity. A new form of justice has been created in the Fascist state, besides the usual categories of penal, civil and administrative justice. This is the justice of economics and labor, and its code is to be found in the syndical laws and the rulings of the labor magistrates."

TWO CHRISTMASSES

A man who wanted to buy a collie pup was told by a dealer a few days before Easter: "Dogs are pretty well sold out now. We were all stocked up for the Easter trade, but there isn't much left. There will be more dogs after Easter, and they'll be a little cheaper." Dogs for Easter! It's a new idea. Who would have expected that, a few years ago? It's merely an example of the way the Easter present idea is spreading. Toys, animals, birds, everything goes.

DOLES

A "national unemployment conference" meeting in Washington, talks of demanding that the government pay an "unemployment dole" of $5 a day to men out of work. The principle involved is worth discussing, like any other economic idea. But practical Americans, before committing themselves to a "dole" of any size, will want to know how it has succeeded in England. Thinking Englishmen seem pretty well agreed by this time that it has been a great mistake, tending to perpetuate working people and perpetuate idleness and poverty. At best, it is a poor substitute for economic state-manship. There ought to be enough brains in either America or England to adjust industrial forces so as to keep workers engaged in productive activity.

MEXICO CITY, April 6.—William Tilden of Philadelphia, in charge of the United States tennis team which is here to meet the Mexican team in Davis Cup matches, addressed 700 school children of twenty nationalities here Wednesday and told them in particular about Junior Coen, 15-year-old tennis star of Kansas City. WOMEN'S PAINS

They Were Relieved by Cardui Which This Georgia Lady Took on Her Mother's Advice.

Columbus, Ga.—"I don't see why women will drag around a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of this city. "I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work, and just dragged around the house. I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-five pounds down to less than a hundred. My mother had long been a user of Cardui, and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble. So she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health. I took the second bottle, and felt much better. I followed this by two more bottles. Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all." For sale by druggists, everywhere. Give it a trial. Take CARDUI

A SERMON FOR BUSINESS MEN M. E. CHURCH

"Profit and Loss" is announced as the subject to be used tonight by Rev. J. T. Ferguson at the First Methodist church revival. It is said that this is one of Mr. Ferguson's greatest sermons. The business men of the town are especially invited to hear this message. It is said by those who have heard Mr. Ferguson that he is one of the best, if not the best, evangelist heard in the Methodist church in a great many years. Souls are stirred, people are saved and lives are dedicated to special service under his preaching. The message for Saturday night will be "The Rich Young Ruler." The Junior-Intermediate group will have an Easter egg hunt and breakfast Saturday morning from 7:30 to 9 on the Methodist church lawn.

Sunday services—Sunday school, 9:45; babies baptised at 10 o'clock; all parents who care to have their children christened at this time will please be present. The reception of children into the church at 10:15 a. m. At 11 a. m. Easter message in sermon and song and reception of members. Epworth Junior society at 3 p. m.; senior league, 6:45 p. m. Evening service 7:45. A most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the services of the revival and the services for Sunday.

Pastor - Evangelist Ferguson preached last night to an appreciative audience on "God's Love for a Lost World," using as his text John 3:16. He announced that God's name and God's nature was love. It was as natural for God to love as it was for the noon day sun to shine. That God want any respecter of persons. That He loved the meanest man in the world as well as the best man in the world. That God's love was announced in the fatherhood of God. That God who represented himself to us as a parent, as "our father," was the greatest evidence of His love. That God's love is announced in the motherhood of God, that through the agency of His Holy Spirit comes to love us back to God. God's love was pardon. That He put our sins from us as far as the east is from the west. He promised to blot them out and never remember them any more. What a wonderful plan of salvation.

"Two Ways Into Eternity" to Be Sermon Subject

"Two Ways Into Eternity" will be the subject of Rev. Tho. Lenox tonight at the First Christian church.

A very appreciative congregation was present last evening and much interest was manifest. An inspiring musical program is being rendered at each service.

The program for Sunday's services promises to be helpful to all who will avail themselves of the privilege of worshipping with this congregation. Special numbers will be brought from the different departments of the Bible school at 9:4. Subject for the 10:45 service will be "The Resurrection," and for the evening service the pastor will preach from the text, "Christ at the Door."

"Good to the last drop"

SWIFTLY it has won the whole country—this special shade of richness from the old South.

Back of it lies one of the few truly great achievements in the art of blending coffees—the genius of a single man.

No other man, perhaps, could have done it. He had grown to manhood in the old South—that land of good things to eat and drink. More than this, he had the hope of creating in coffee a flavor that no one had ever tasted. And the courage to persist until he had perfected it.

In the blend that this southerner finally offered to the great families of Dixie, there was a new, full-bodied smoothness that delighted them. Long ago Maxwell House Coffee became the favorite of the South.

Today the news of its mellow richness has spread swiftly. Maxwell House is now by far the largest selling coffee in the country.

That shade of difference in his blend has come as a new luxury to men and women everywhere who value the fine things of life. He alone has succeeded in combining coffees just this way.

A new adventure awaits you and your family in the rare flavor of Maxwell House Coffee. The full-bodied, mellow liquor, the rich aroma of this blend will bring a new contentment at breakfast and at dinner. Your grocer has Maxwell House Coffee in sealed blue tins.

Cattle - Hogs Active; Good Prices

One load of especially good heavy steers was the feature of the Fort Worth cattle market Thursday. They sold on a bid of $12.15 and weighed around 1,400 pounds. Cattle trading was fairly active with all classes holding steady except heavy calves, and they showed a gain of about 25c. Supplies in most classes were light with a fair per cent of stocker cattle included in the receipts.

About four carloads of steers were offered for sale Thursday morning and values paid were about in line with Wednesday's trading. One car of common light weight steers sold at $9.80, while others sold at $10 and $10.50 and the top load at $13.15.

The offering of bulls for Thursday's market was very light. Trading fairly active with values about steady. The thin common bulls sold from $5.50 to $6, while the heavier ones sold from $6 to $6.50, with a few of the better kind making the $7 mark.

Very few straight carloads of cows were included in the day's offering. The top load sold at $8.75 and averaged 943 pounds. Other loads sold at $7.75, $8 and $8.10. A few choice lots sold around $9. Values were fully steady on cows. The canner cows found an outlet from $4.50 to $5 and the cutters from $5 to $5.50.

The supply of calves was light—estimated at 300 head. The top for car lots was $11.65, which was paid for 96 head that averaged 405 pounds. Trading was about 25c higher than the low time of Wednesday.

A package of 28 head that averaged 205 pounds sold at $12, while the cull calves were moved on bids from $6 to $7. Except for the two loads the bulk of the calves were made up of mixed lots.

While several cars of yearlings and heifers were included in the day's offering, very few of them were well finished. A lot of about 60 head that weighed a little better than 600 pounds sold at $12. A few desirable head sold up to $12, while other carloads sold in the $11 notch, with one load of rather common heifers selling at $9.50. Values on heifers and yearlings were steady.

Of the sheep listed in the day's receipts a good portion of them were on through billing. Values considered steady.

Hogs sold steady to a dime higher at Fort Worth Thursday. The top in the rail section was $8.35, which was paid for part of a load. Several carloads sold at $8.25 and a load that averaged $10.80 sold at $8.30.

Packing sows and pigs were about steady, the bulk of the packing sows selling from $6.75 to $7, while pigs sold from $5 to $6.

TANNEHILL NO. 3 COMES IN AS A 600 BBL. WELL

ALBANY, April 6.—Another good well has been brought in on the J. B. Matthews ranch, section 28, by Tannehill, Kiser & Fleming. It is their No. 3 well from a depth of 1,115 feet. This well drilled nineteen feet into the sand and is making over 600 barrels a day, and is offsetting a 600-barrel well owned by the same company. A steady flow of over twenty-six barrels an hour has been registered since the well was brought in Tuesday. Tannehill No. 2 is making over 225 barrels per day in section 33.

The Lewis Production company is moving in tools for a test on section 35, J. A. Matthews Fee, and will spud in sometime this week.

The Atlantic Oil company bought one of the best acreages obtainable, comprising eighty acres of section 37, J. B. Matthews ranch, at a price reputed to be around $8,000. This company will commence operations at once and should produce result will open up a heavy drilling campaign on this section.

Dingee et al. made a completion giving fifteen barrels a day on section 29, J. B. Matthews, from a depth of 1,150 feet. This well extends production about one-fourth mile south from Hodges pool.

Gilman & McMurray and Atlantic Oil company No. 1 Davis is making 1,200,000 feet of gas and is spraying oil. The oil is increasing and operations are only five feet in the sand. This well is a west extension of the Pope field and will extend production three-fourths of a mile. This well is causing much excitement and is being watched closely by geologists and scouts.

JACK IS NOT THROUGH, SAYS JERRY LUVADIS

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6.—"Things" might be different after Jack Dempsey cleans up his law suits, declared Jerry Luvadis, the ex-heavyweight fighter's trainer, who today characterized Dempsey as being "far from through." Luvadis was a visitor in Salt Lake City today en route east to attend the Kearns-Dempsey row. He stated that the ex-champion is in fine condition and training all the time, weighing now 202 pounds, or just nine pounds over his normal weight.

'AE,' Famous Irish Poet-Editor, Tells Texas Audience He Finds Hope for American Literature

FORT WORTH, April 6.—George William Russell, Irish poet, painter, editor, economist and philosopher, better known as AE, the initials with which he has signed his poems, talked about his friends, the poets, dramatists and artists of the new Ireland before several hundred people gathered in the Woman's club here Wednesday night. He personified his own famous saying, "There is no 100 per cent Irishman. All Irishmen are different." Russell proved to be "different" from the average conception of an Irishman. The Federated Women's club sponsored his visit here.

AE has known practically all of the famous poets who have re-created Irish culture during the last few decades and he told droll, intimate episodes of their lives, especially incidents that had happened while they were in his own company. O'Grady, William Butler Yeats, Philip Francis Little, James Joyce, George Moore, Alice Milligan, Lord Dunsany, George Bernard Shaw, Thomas McDonagh, Padraic Pearse and others were presented in their every day human guise, more as men and women than as literary personages.

It was through the resurrection of old Irish myths and legends, the Irish culture which is 2,000 years old, that the Irish revived the culture of their homeland, Russell declared.

One of the striking facts about the poets of Ireland, which Mr. Russell exemplified, is that they are engaged not only in writing poetry and drama, but in politics and in economics and in bringing about agricultural reforms and advances and civic betterment.

Mr. Russell, as editor of the Irish Statesman, one of the outstanding weeklies of Europe, has done much to purge the political atmosphere of his native land, which he declares is now as peaceful as any country in the world today, with an administration of government as honest as any in Europe.

He declared that leisure is a necessity to great literary achievement and hinted that he found little idleness in America, but considerable romanticism, nevertheless, even among the business men. American literature will come in the future, AE believes.

"Ireland at war was not half so excitable or rowdy as America at peace," he said.

The Irish poet understands the problems of the farmer and is interested in rural matters. He urged organization of the American farmer. Ireland has cooperative community organizations in its rural districts, which would be beneficial in rural districts in this country, he asserted.

Mr. Russell's only other engagement in Texas will be in Houston.

Oil Reduction Muddle Solved

AUSTIN, April 6.—All questions of antitrust violation in pinching down production in the Winkler county field is believed to be obviated by the plan of the railroad commission to adopt rules governing production.

Oil operators feared to make a voluntary agreement reducing the output but with a state agency, the commission charged by law with administering the conservation laws, promulgating rules looking to the curtailment, fear of prosecution is gone.

When Governor Dan Moody proposed that the operators reduce production during the period of price depression and hold the oil in its natural reservoirs pending an advance so that the University of Texas fund would receive a larger income, the oil men feared such a course would subject them to the penalties of the antitrust law. The governor's plan fell through and nothing has been heard of it since.

Should the commission's proposed plan of adopting rules to regulate production in the Winkler field prove a success, it is more than probable that the governor and the university regents will call on the commission to adopt similar rules for Reagan and other counties where oil is being produced from university lands.

The Austin court of civil appeals recently held that the state can not complain of acts performed at the instance of its own agencies. If the commission orders reduction the attorney general can not sue, under the reparations decision, charging antitrust violations because the oil companies would be complying with rules laid down by an agency of government. This is the view of lawyers in Austin.

Department chairmen and sub-chairmen elected at the morning session follow:

Mrs. O. Westgaard of Clifton, chairman of organization, with Mrs. Roy Jamison of Eastland, chairman of Parents' day.

Ratliff Fails in Des Attempt to Save Taylor Co

Marshall Ratliff, now in the Taylor county jail at Abilene under sentence of death for the murder of G. E. (B) Bedford, late police chief of Cisco during the raid on the First National bank at Cisco, December 23, failed to save himself, to liberty after an all-night job Tuesday night. The bravado spirit maintained during his two trials, incarceration and man hunt, together with the fatigue produced by his all-night labor in his desperate attempt to gain his liberty, was completely broken, for Sheriff H. T. O'Bar is reported to have found Ratliff lying on his cell bunk in an exhausted condition. A bar, severed by a hack saw in two places, gave evidence of the night's vain labor.

Confronted with the broken bar Ratliff's steel nerves, the ones that have kept him tight of lip and unmoved throughout all of his harrowing experiences snapped, according to the Abilene News, which contained the following account of the attempted jail break:

Ratliff sobbed and in a confession to Sheriff O'Bar told how the saw entered his cell.

The opening made by the saw was not big enough to permit Ratliff to escape. Bruises and soiled clothing on his body indicated the struggle that he had made in an attempt to squeeze through the narrow aperture.

Ratliff denied that the saw had been smuggled in. He told the sheriff that he had entered the jail here with the implement concealed in his traveling bag. This same bag, he said, contained the saw when he entered the state penitentiary at Huntsville several years ago after being sentenced for the robbery of the Valera bank.

Besides the saw, Sheriff O'Bar found a quantity of graphite powder, used by the desperate prisoner, to help in the bar sawing. This powder had entered the jail concealed in powder puffs.

Before applying his saw to the fuel the maker was filled with disinfectant liquid used in the jail. A bit of wool cloth was stuffed in the mouth of the shaker for a wick. The hemo-made lamp was then lit and hung near the sawed bar with a piece of wire.

Sheriff O'Bar announced that henceforth no visitors would be allowed to see Ratliff.

One load of especially good heavy steers was the feature of the Fort Worth cattle market Thursday. They sold on a bid of $13.15 and weighed around 1,400 pounds. Cattle trading was fairly active with all classes holding steady except heavy calves, and they showed a gain of about 25c. Supplies in most classes were light with a fair per cent of stocker cattle included in the receipts.

About four carloads of steers were offered for sale Thursday morning.

'AE,' Famous Irish Poet-Editor, Tells Texas Audience He Finds Hope for American Literature

FORT WORTH, April 6.—George William Russell, Irish poet, painter, editor, economist and philosopher, better known as AE, the initials with which he has signed his poems, talked about his friends, the poets, dramatists and artists of the new Ireland before several hundred people gathered at the Woman's club here Wednesday night. He personified his own famous saying, "there is no 100 per cent Irishman. All Irishmen are different." Russell proved to be "different" from the average conception of an Irishman. The Federated Women's club sponsored his visit here.

advancement and civic betterment. Mr. Russell, as editor of the Irish Statesman, one of the outstanding weeklies of Europe, has done much to purge the political atmosphere of his native land, which he declares is now as peaceful as any country in the world today, with an administration of government as honest as any in Europe.

He declared that leisure is a necessity to great literary achievement and hinted that he found little idleness in America, but considerable romanticism, nevertheless, even among the business men. American literature will come in the future, AE believes. "Ireland at war was not half so exciting or rowdy as America at peace," he said.

The Irish poet understands the problems of the farmer and is interested in them.

State Department Makes Stand in Petroleum War

Foreign Attempts to Grab World's Supply of Petroleum

There should be no doubt in the minds of the American public that the Government at Washington is aware of the efforts of the Royal Dutch Shell Company, supported by the British Government, to corner the oil supply of the world outside the United States and exclude American companies from participation in these supplies.

The most striking example of this policy is in the bitter conflict with regard to Russian oil.

All well-informed Government officials know the Russian oil fields are potentially capable of a production second to the United States alone.

The State Department is not deceived by the cry that the Russian oil purchased by the American companies is "stolen oil."

Enraged by the American competition Sir Henri Deterding last September unleashed a price war in oil products in India, in which secret rebates were a feature.

The losses of Royal Dutch have been approximately three times as heavy as those of American companies. Sir Henri now purports to have the Indian Government put a tariff on imported oil. This discrimination, aimed solely at American competition, would leave the field to him.

Every department of the Government attempting to protect the interest of American oil companies runs up against the close connection between the British Government and the Royal Dutch Shell Company. Sir Henri Deterding was knighted by the British Government for his services to the Empire during the war. Nominally, he is a Hollander. He has eighty-two thousand British stockholders on his books.

The State Department is by no means ignorant of the fact that in stiffening the back of American companies against Royal Dutch Shell it is up against the British Government itself. The department, however, feels that a strong American stand is justified, not only in the interest of a decent protection of American corporations but in the interest of the United States in acquiring an adequate supplemental oil reserve against the day when our own oil shall be gone.
