VOLUME IX.

CISCO, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1928.

NUMBER 41

TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

STATE BANK DEPOSITS.—The prosperous condition of all Texas is reflected in the last report of the state banks to the banking commissioner. The cash on hand in all these banks was $80,313,000, as compared with $69,390,000 at the same time last year. The total deposits amounted to $242,883,629, against $219,211,914 last year. On February 28, there were 740 banks in the state system, compared with 770 a year ago, the reduction in number being due largely to consolidations. The national banks in towns doubtless will make an equally good financial showing.

PROSPEROUS PANHANDLE.—Having sold the Childress Index, Fred L. Haskett now has to "visit around" and talk about what a wonderful country Childress is in. While in Dallas recently he stated that the farmers—not newspaper men—around Childress "made lots of money" last year. He even claimed that, while it is not generally known, some seven or eight counties round Childress produced close to one-fourth of the total crops of Texas. Much of the prosperity he attributes to diversified farming, and especially to the production of honey, cream and poultry, the sales of which "run into millions of dollars." The cities of Childress, Memphis, Quanah and Vernon are mentioned by him as especially fast growing places in which there is much building and no unemployment. There is $7,000,000 now available for road work in Wilbarger, Hartman, Ford, Cottle, Motley, Childress and Hall counties, and soon there will be a hard surfaced road from the Donley county line into Dallas.

WHARTON SULPHUR FIELD.—Wonderful development is in progress in the sulphur fields near Wharton. Tests show that there is at least 60,000,000 tons of sulphur in that territory. Four hundred men are employed on twenty rigs now running daily. Much sulphur land is now changing hands, the large sulphur companies of the country being the largest purchasers. Sulphur is a source of Texas wealth about which most Texans know little. The annual production in Texas runs from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 tons, and brings a revenue in excess of $10,000,000 annually.

HOSPITALITY HOUSE.—Will C. Hogg, of Houston, makes the sensible suggestion that the city erect a "hospitality house" and equip it for entertaining visitors to the Democratic convention. It would be a general meeting and lounging place, equipped with food and soft drink stands, and having loud speakers from the convention so that it would serve as a sort of overflow hall for the convention. The idea is a fine one, and with an honest-to-goodness hospitality committee, such as Houston has always furnished, constantly in charge, such a place would do much to add to the reputation of Houston as a hospitable city.

PENITENTIARY SELF-SUSTAINING.—The people of Texas will be glad to learn that in 1927 the penitentiary system was self-sustaining. The year before it lost $600,000, and for a number of years has been a source of constant loss. The operating costs have been reduced nearly $250,000 a year by the introduction of business methods and throughout the entire system there is evidence of system and thrift of a kind that makes for better conditions. Much of the credit for the improvement is due to the efficient and close supervision of Col. R. H. Baker, chairman of the board of directors, who is putting the same business energy into penitentiary matters that has always characterized his own business.

TEXAS MOHAIR SALES.—The constantly increasing demand for mohair has had a noticeable effect on prices of the Texas clip this spring. Last week's sales on the different Texas markets approximated 2,000,000 pounds at prices ranging from 66 to 75 cents for grown hair and 81 to 87 cents for kid hair. These are the highest prices paid since the fall of 1918.

FALPURRIAS JERSEYS.—When Ed C. Lasater of Fallurrias began specializing in Jersey cattle a number of years ago many Texas cattlemen laughed at him as a visionary enthusiast, but he stuck to his Jerseys and let them laugh. There have been times when he has had difficulty in impressing the real worth of Jersey cattle upon buyers, and when many discouragements have arisen, but Lasater has made his Fallurrias Jerseys famous all over the country that when one thinks of Jersey cattle he thinks of Lasater Fallurrias. President Calles of Mexico has just sent a representative to Fallurrias, who has 20 registered Jersey cows, and he has been to Mexico. If these prove good, and they will, another purchase of 100 will be made for the Mexican president. Lasater's persistence has won him unusual success.

NEW WEST WARD SCHOOL URGED

Wardlaw Campaign Opens 14th

DAN MOODY'S OPPONENT TO FIGHT WASTE

CENTER, Tex., April 11.—This little city is getting ready to receive several thousand visitors here Saturday afternoon, when Louis J. Wardlaw, Fort Worth attorney and rancher, makes his opening address as a candidate for governor of Texas.

Mr. Wardlaw will make his address at 3 o'clock from the band stand on the courthouse square, and hundreds of seats are being arranged for the many visitors expected.

Mr. Wardlaw is making his campaign on the issue of economy, and pledges himself to establish state finances on a real business basis if elected. He recently commented that the present governor, during his campaign, had promised that there would be no increase in government expenses and pledged himself to an economical administration. That pledge, Mr. Wardlaw says, has not been carried out, the administration having increased expenses of government more than $13,000,000. Then, argues Mr. Wardlaw, there must be something wrong, there must be a waste of money in the administration of state affairs, and that waste must be stopped.

"I am promising the taxpayers a reduction in the expenditure of their money and that project will be a realization and established fact if I am elected governor, and will be revealed to you when you are called upon to pay your taxes in 1930," Mr. Wardlaw is quoted as saying.

"If elected, I shall use every effort at my command to reduce taxation whenever and wherever possible, and I promise that, by use of the veto power, I will not allow appropriations to exceed $10,000,000.

"I shall favor a registration tax of not more than $3.00 per automobile, just sufficient money to pay for the administration of the registration of the car. However, should the citizens of any county should the vote that it is a local need for funds with which to build, or improve, its highways, and such funds not be obtainable from any other source, I would favor the passage of a law whereby such county would be authorized to levy an additional registration tax upon each automobile, and the money so derived to be used for such purposes.

"I am opposed to any means of taxation by which a tax is levied upon the individual by indirection. There is no such thing as indirect tax, for eventually the individual will pay the tax. I will demand that the first session of the legislature repeal all useless and unnecessary tax bills, as we have taxes that are nothing more than an annoyance and inconvenience; one of which is the headlight tax. The headlight tax, like some of the others we have, is unworkable, and was written by a school boy who had in mind road conveniences suitable to his age in life rather than the interest of the people at large. However, such a tax takes 25 cents per year from the pocketbooks of every owner of an automobile.

Examining Trial For a Statutory Offense is Held

At an examining trial Wednesday afternoon in which the defendant was charged with statutory rape and kidnaping, Justice J. H. McDonald granted bail to Bob Davis in the aggregate sum of $3,000—$1,000 for kidnaping, and $2,000 on the statutory offense. It was said that Davis made the bond for his appearance before district court of Eastland county. The complaining witness is alleged to be a white girl 14 years of age, living in Cisco. Davis was represented by Baker & Orr.

INGRAM BROS. GRANTED BAIL BY HIGH COURT

Two rulings of the court of criminal appeals were handed down by that tribunal today that are of interest to this section of the state, according to a telegram received by Attorney J. Lee Cearley, who represented the defendants in the rulings concerned.

Attorney Cearley was advised by telegram this morning that the court of criminal appeals today had granted bond to B. A. Ingram and Tim Ingram held in jail at Eastland without bond while awaiting trial in connection with the robbery with firearms of D. L. Allen, storekeeper and postmaster at Nisred, March 7, on grand jury indictments. The court of criminal appeals set their bonds at $4,000 each. Cearley stated, Cearley stated that the habeas corpus motion for bond was submitted to the court on argument by himself last Wednesday, and the court handed down its ruling today.

S.E.J. COX AGAIN FACES CHARGES OF MAIL FRAUD

FORT WORTH, April 11.—United States Commissioner Flynn is expecting the surrender of S. E. Cox, against whom charges of using the mails to defraud have been filed.

Cox was a co-defendant with Dr. Frederick A. Cook and was one of the 13 defendants convicted with the explorer. He was sentenced to eight years in Leavenworth. He was pardoned by the United States pardon board after spending 32 months in prison. He also had been sentenced to five years at a trial in Houston for alleged misuse of the mails. The sentences were to run concurrently, hence his release on the single pardon.

MISSING NAVAL AVIATOR'S BODY FOUND ASHORE

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The mystery which surrounded the disappearance of Commander T. G. Ellison and two companions in a naval seaplane while en route to Norfolk to Annapolis several weeks ago was partially cleared today when Ellison's body washed ashore near Norfolk.

MYSTERY MURDER OF FAMILY.

Wayne County, N. Y., authorities began a man hunt for a cold-blooded murderer who wiped out the family of Frank Stever Warren (left), prominent resident of Newark, N. Y., and well-known insurance man of Rochester, Warren and his beautiful wife, Edith, both 42, were shot through the head apparently while they slept. Their bodies, with that of their thirteen-year-old son, Jackson, were found by neighbors called to fight a blaze in their home.

SINCLAIR BONDS HELD BY FALL, 6 BANKERS SAY

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Harley M. Blackmer's name was called fully three times today at the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair. Blackmer is one of three missing witnesses in the Teapot Dome case. He is in France ignoring the subpoena.

TODAY A Toby Play. Bigger, and Better than ever

BETTER AFTER ATTACK OF FLU

BRECKENRIDGE, April 11.—Reports from Fort Worth state Breck Walker, who has been critically ill at his Fort Worth home from a relapse with flu, was much improved and able to leave his bed for a short time during the morning. Though in an unbecoming condition for the most of the time since Sunday he was rational this morning and returned rapidly to normalcy. Carlton Walker, his nephew who has been arrested by federal agents, however, these robberies do not include petty thievery nor pocket picking but only those robberies boldly executed by force.

FIFTY DEAD AS FRENCH TRAINS CRASH HEAD ON

PARIS, April 11.—Fifty persons were believed killed in a head-on collision between a special train en route to English race track and a Chantilly local just outside the Gare d'Orsay station this morning.

Harmless Bombs to Shower on Luce Field on Friday

Luce field, Cisco aviation field will be bombed by an airplane Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The bombs, of which 100 are to be released, will be harmless. The bombs, to be dropped by a licensed pilot from an Alexander Eaglerock biplane, when captured, will be found to consist of a rubber ball, with a shipping tag attached. On this shipping tag will be attached a coupon. It may be one of the ten coupons entitling their holders to a free ride as passenger in the plane, or it may be a coupon entitling its holder to one or more admissions to the Palace theater Sunday to see "Baby Mine."

C. OF C. NAMES COMMITTEE ON RIGHT OF WAY

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Cisco chamber of commerce, held Tuesday evening was an interesting session, and a departure in proceedings and the usual routine. Home products are home patronage of Cisco institutions were discussed at the meeting and it is believed much good will result from the action taken. Also the widening of the Bankhead highway was given much thought and careful consideration.

The proposition of the commissioners court for road improvement through the county in regard to securing right of way to increase the Bankhead highway to 100 feet was duly considered, and a committee consisting of F. D. Wright, A. D. Anderson and A. B. O'Flaherty was named to secure the best man available to secure the right of way for the proposed widening.

The importance of Cisco sending a strong delegation with the motorcade to the Memphis convention was stressed. Cisco, at present, only has one car definitely promised to make the trip, with only four persons. This car will contain J. M. Williamson, Judge Eugene Lankford, J. T. Elliott and J. E. T. Peters. It was stated that at least another car with two to four additional delegates, was desired to make the trip. The party will join the motorcade here Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, arrive in Memphis Thursday afternoon, and the convention will convene Friday and continue through Saturday. A. B. O'Flaherty, with such assistance as deemed necessary, was appointed to provide entertainment for the personnel of the motorcade during the time they will be in Cisco when it is expected that 100 or 150 cars will be in the party that will pass through this city.

A committee consisting of W. K. Johnston, D. J. Moss and B. B. Longacre was appointed to confer with the manufacturers along the lines of improving the quality of Cisco made products, and this committee was instructed to induce home merchants to handle Cisco made commodities and to cease handling products of other places in competition.

It was brought to the attention of the directors that the Cisco creamery, which began making butter recently, had largely increased its products, and was now making butter equal to if not superior to other butter sold in Cisco. Only sweet cream butter is being made, it was stated. At a recent meeting of the grocers of the city it was agreed that all would handle Cisco butter if Cisco people would use this product. So the matter is now with the consumers, so far as this product is concerned.

Lobos Will Play Eastland Tomorrow On Chesley Field

Lobo baseball team and the Eastland Mavericks will meet on Chesley field here tomorrow. The game will be called promptly at 4 o'clock. Coach Chapman announced. This is promised to be one of the best games of the season, as the Mavericks are said to be stronger than at any time in the past.

Royal Band From Belgium to Tour U. S. This Summer

BRUSSELS, April 11.—America is going to find out that Belgium can produce very good music. The celebrated Royal Military band of this country is planning an extensive tour of the Eastern United States, Canada and Cuba in the summer. Lieutenant Prevost, the chef d'orchestre, is an important professor at the Royal Conservatory of Music, and the eighty members of the band are teachers in the same institution. They belong to the first regiment of the Belgian cavalry, the "Regiment des Guides" which distinguished itself during the war, and of which Prince Charles, second son of the king, is a member. Their repertoire includes everything from Bach to Igor Strawinsky.

RANDOLPH PRESIDENT GOES TO CONVENTION IN OHIO

Dr. T. T. Roberts, president of Randolph college, departed Tuesday night for Columbus, Ohio, where he will attend the National convention of the Disciples of Christ, convening in that city, Sunday. Dr. Roberts will attend the International Educational meeting also convening in Columbus. He expects to be absent possibly most of next week. Dr. Roberts is traveling on a pass, compliments of W. G. Crush, general passenger agent of the M. K. & T. railroad obtained through the Cisco chamber of commerce.

years, and many statesmen have maintained Uncle's right to it. Uncle's grief, however, is mitigated by the knowledge that that particular piece of real estate, about 50 miles from the outmost edges of the Philippine group, is only two miles long, about half a mile wide, and nearly all worthless jungle, with a population of 700 Malays, whose chief occupation is smuggling. Its money value is problematical; a real estate investor might pay several thousand dollars for it, if he didn't need the money. The political and economical value are almost nil. Yet nations have fought wars for no greater reason, as dogs fight over a dry bone. By the decision of the Swiss jurist handling this dispute, the United States has lost nothing worth keeping, and by cheerful acceptance our government has contributed its moral support to the principle of settling international controversies by arbitration.

It looks as if about a million of those unemployed are running for office. The headline this year is largely political.

DECENCY HAS PAID

A year ago, as newspaper readers with unusually long memories will recall, European and American jingoes were demanding armed intervention in China. And they came very near getting it. Warships from all the powers except Japan were rushed to the Chinese coast, and up Chinese rivers, when the "Nanking outrages" were perpetrated. There was loud talk of punishment and forced reparations. But the American public stubbornly insisted on remaining calm, and our government, after thinking it over, refused to join the European powers in punitive measures, contenting itself with moderate defensive measures. Slowly China quieted down. The great uprising against the whites failed to develop. It turned out that the racial hostility of the Chinese, and the outrages themselves, had been greatly exaggerated by trouble-makers for-profit. Now the Nationalist government, chief authority in China, has apologized for Nanking and promised satisfactory reparations, as a result of inquiries by a joint Chinese-American commission. Meanwhile the Nationalists, who though far from perfect seem to be the best hope of China, have expelled Russian propagandists, suppressed Bolshevik tendencies in their ranks, reorganized their civil and military forces and grown stronger. So the Chinese situation looks far more hopeful because Uncle Sam sat on the jingoes, remained calm and handled a crisis with fairness and decency.

No campaign committee is going to accept any government bonds this year. Or oil stock.

Personal Opinions

By W. H. ALBURN.

THE LIVING DEAD

Among the wise homilies delivered by the late Chauncey M. Depew was this: "One of the greatest crimes which shorten life is indifference. As one loses interest in his church, in his political party, in his club, in his friends and acquaintances, he dries up, and the grave claims one whom no one wants or laments. The two most fatal phrases, and the two most common, are 'What's the use?' and 'Why should I?' A hungry and needy world answers both with open opportunities for service, helpfulness and good fellowship. There is an ancient teaching in India of three human qualities—'Tamas' or indifference, which is deadly; 'rajas,' which means mere activity or strenuousness; and 'satva,' the highest, which means wisdom gained from experience. The indifferent man can hardly be said to have any experience at all. His body lives, his mind and soul are as if they were dead.

BORAH'S FUND

That fund Senator Borah undertook to raise, to repay Harry Sinclair his oil-tainted campaign contribution, isn't growing very fast. There are only about $8,000 in it so far. The chance of raising the whole $160,000 is rather slim. It is embarrassing to repay less than the whole, and many insist that it shouldn't be done anyway. Some philanthropic person suggests that Senator Borah turn over the money to the starving miners. Donors might object to this diversion of their contributions, but the miners need the money more than Sinclair does, and possibly deserve it no less than he.

RADIO CONTROL

Americans who object to government control of radio should know when they are well off, lest they suffer a worse fate. In many other countries radio broadcasting is a public monopoly, not only controlled but owned by the government. That is the case in England, and Canadians are now asking whether it is not the solution for their country. There are two reasons for wanting stricter control. One is the fact that half the owners of radio receivers are not paying the license fee. The other is the difficulty Canada had with the United States over conflicting wave-lengths and her quota of broadcasting stations. Both of these troubles might be lightened, Canadians think, if the government were the only party to deal with in the broadcasting business.

ORGANIZED CRIME

Chicago crime has been exaggerated, no doubt, but perhaps not greatly. Chicago is in a far worse state than any other American city. This is indicated clearly in a report that Dudley Nichols has been writing for the New York World. Crime there, he finds, goes hand-in-hand with politics. Without political protection, it is hardly possible that of 112 bombings last year and 31 this year, there should not be a single conviction. Gang murders continue, reaching an appalling total, and it is seldom that anyone is punished. There is a regular scale of prices, Nichols says, for "fixing" officials for the privilege of selling liquor. Good people of Chicago who protest against the "defamation of their city" should vent their indignation against the offenders, not the critics.

CLOSER TO MARKETS

Senator Walsh of Montana, discussing the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill the other day, mentioned the proposed St. Lawrence and Great Lakes deep waterway project as one of the best methods of helping the farmers. If that waterway were constructed, he argued, every city in the Middle West that ships grain and produce would be moved 1,000 miles nearer the seaboard and the people of Montana, he said, "that freight rates on overseas cargoes would be reduced 10 cents per hundredweight, and could carry out that promise, they would build a statue in my honor in every city and town of my home state." Such gratitude would be pleasant for statesmen, though unnecessary. Why have half the states in the Union cluttered up with useless statutes of men who merely did something which most of the people in this country consider desirable?

If congress can't give us as big a tax reduction as it would like to, it might try a little more congressional thrift in such matters as free seeds, leave of print, and franked mail matter.

When Russia holds out an olive branch it looks like a Spanish bayonet.

2 Negro Slayers to Die in Electric Chair by May 15

HOUSTON, April 11.—Two Houston negroes, convicted on murder charges, must die in the electric chair before May 15. Moses Chryar, convicted and given the death penalty for slaying Walter Taylor, negro, was sentenced today to die in the chair on May 15 by Judge Whit Boyer.

Willie Fisher, given death for killing his wife, will be electrocuted tonight, following denial of the plea for commutation of the sentence by Governor Moody.

GOWNS BLACK OR WHITE

PARIS, April 10.—Many of the evening gowns designed for spring or summer are either all black or all white, thus suiting practically any style of beauty, for there are really very few women who do not look well in either one or the other.

IF WISHES CAME TRUE

I wish I were a boy again. That age were but a dream, That things could change from what they are. To what they used to seem; That I were but a little boy. And from my mother's knee Could find that dear old Fairyland. Just as it used to be.

If wishes only were a horse. How fast away I'd ride, Across the plains of yesterday. Bold comrades by my side; Ah! doughty deeds you'd see. If I were but a hero bold. Just as I used to be.

With bean-stalk Jack I'd rally forth To giants kill galore; In seven-leagued boots I'd stride away To that enchanted shore.

Where ogres dwell, in castles huge, And mermaids swarm the sea; O how I'd love to find them all Just as they used to be.

My little boy says I'm all wrong— That nothing's changed at all, That he can show me ogres fierce, And giants more than tall; Then, clasping his dear hand in mine He leads me forth to see— Years drop as leaves; I'm young again. Just as I used to be. —Frederick Munroe.

Felicity Extended R. W. Mancill From Houston Executive

Fifty-five young people will take part in the pageant to be given at the First Baptist church tomorrow evening. Twenty of this number will appear in costumes representing as many countries of the world whose people have come to America to live. The brilliant costumes and flags grouped around Columbus, which part will be played by Miss Irene White, make a display that will give beauty and force to the words spoken in the play and the songs sung by the chorus of 35 voices. The program is open for all and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

This pageant is the feature program for Wednesday night which has been designated as Young People's Night by the District Woman's Missionary Union of Texas which will be in a two days' meeting with this church, beginning Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WILL ELECT OFFICERS

The West Ward Parent-Teacher association will meet Friday at 3 p. m. in the school auditorium. The meeting was postponed from Monday because of the weather. An interesting program is planned and officers for the next year will be elected.

OHIO "LEGAL" RULING

COLUMBUS, O., April 11.—The attorney general of Ohio has ruled that a paper or magazine published monthly by the student body for the public schools of a county school district and published during the school year only, is not a newspaper under the law requiring publication of financial reports of a school district in a paper of general circulation. The opinion was handed down for the guidance of the state board of accounting.

Ranger Man Found Dead in Bed at Brother's Home

RANGER, April 11.—Clayde Whitney Bennett, 36 years old, was found dead yesterday morning at the home of his brother, in the material yards of the Prairie Oil & Gas company, Ranger.

Bennet recently had returned from the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., and had been in ill health for some time.

His brother, Dyal Bennett, called a Ranger doctor to come to his home. The doctor reported the man had been dead for several hours. He is survived by the one brother. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at Merriam.

40-Ton Airplane, With Sleeping and Seating Accommodations for 50, Being Built by Germans

LONDON, April 11.—Dwarfing in size all existing heavier-than-air machines, a gigantic new plane designed to inaugurate an air service between Germany and America is now being constructed in secrecy in Germany.

The secret of the machine was revealed by Brigadier-General P. R. C. Groves, secretary-general of the air league, in an interview.

"During the last few months," he declared, "there have been persistent rumors regarding this machine. We have now obtained exclusive information, which we are publishing in the April issue of 'Air,' our official organ.

"The craft, which is a flying boat, and inaugurates a new phase in aircraft design, is under construction in the works of the German Dornier company, situated on the Swiss side of Lake Constance. It is expected that it will be completed by the end of this year.

"The wing span of the machine, which is a monoplane, will be approximately 158 feet, and its weight when fully loaded about 44 tons.

"The working crew will comprise nine men—two wireless operators, two pilots, a navigator, two engineers and two stewards.

"Seating and sleeping accommodations will be provided for fifty passengers, and there will also be a dining saloon.

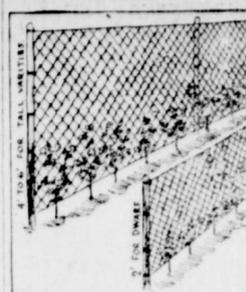

"The machine will inaugurate a German flying-boat service across the Atlantic ocean to New York. The provision of a number of power units, instead of a single engine, greatly decreases the chance of a forced descent, and even if

Forty-four States of the Union Provide Material for Building Modern Ship

CROSS SECTIONAL VIEW OF MODERN SHIP

Forty-four states of the Union furnish the materials for the construction of the modern American ship. Though the same proportion applies in the case of medium sized, fast cargo-passenger ships, which are being urged by transportation experts as vitally necessary to our Merchant Marine at present, for purposes of illustration a $15,000,000 ship of the Leviathan type is shown.

Of the $15,000,000 which it costs to construct such a vessel in an American yard, almost exactly one-half is used to purchase raw materials and manufactured products from outside the actual shipyard. Practically every industry in America contributes its share to this $7,500,000 purchase.

An interesting table which tells exactly what proportion of the more than $7,500,000 represents direct purchases from the various states, also gives the percentage of the amount furnished by some of the states and a few of the products entering into the building of a ship. This proportion can generally be applied to any type of modern vessel constructed in our yards.

Owing primarily to the fact that wages in the American shipyards are twice what they are in England, the United States has not yet been able to reap the benefit of a ship-building program since the War. For financial assistance afforded foreign shipping by their Governments has raised building and operating costs in this country to a point where American shipping men are unable to compete with them, and, in consequence, more of our foreign trade is being conveyed each year in foreign ships.

The manufacture of any one of these products in any State results in a yet wider distribution of the money expended, for the reason that the manufacturer pays for labor in his own and other States, pays freight rates and makes other expenditures which directly add to the prosperity of the whole nation.

5 of London's Largest Hospitals Bar Entry of Women Medical Students; Only Two Retain Them

LONDON, April 11.—Five of London's great teaching hospitals have just banned the entry of women medical students. In the future women will only be able to qualify in London at two hospitals entirely women-staffed.

The reasons given are three—and these are hotly controverted by women in all ranks of life. They are:

Women do not take part in hospital athletics. Women students disturb and embarrass men students. Women do not make good doctors and do not follow up on the profession, the time spent on training them being wasted.

The controversy has reached that point of acuteness where abuse is being freely used on both sides. But now Dr. Graham Little, member of parliament for the university of London and famous physician has taken up the cudgels for women doctors from another viewpoint.

"They make the best wives," he says. "Their medical education," he explains, "makes them ideal companions for the intellectual man. Husband and wife can scale the peak of knowledge hand in hand, each being an experienced climber."

"The medical woman's knowledge makes her specially fit to undertake the bearing and rearing of the child—the most typical of mid-Victorian poets said was 'women's wisdom.'"

"It has been said that many women fail to make a living by medicine or drop out of the struggle for qualification. Comparison with men students will probably show that there is no disproportionate number of women who are thus affected as compared with men, of course exceptions being made of the special conditions of marriage which commonly results in the woman relinquishing her profession, and not the man."

"When medical women elect to remain unmarried, and it is for the most part an election, they have little difficulty in having work to do. The emoluments which may be confidently anticipated by the women in medicine compare most favorably with the rewards they may look for in any other walk of life. There are vast new fields of practice to be filled by women who are specially adapted, for example to antenatal and maternity work."

"Whether the men like it or not, I believe the women have come to stay and I personally bid them the heartiest of welcomes."

ONE WOUNDED TRYING TO ROB GROCERY STORE

WAYLAND, April 11.—One man was seriously wounded, another is believed shot, in an attempted robbery of a grocery store here, about 12 miles northwest of Ranger, last night.

The 19 year old son of J. Richards, who operates a grocery store here, awoke last night to discover that the majority of his father's stock of groceries had been carried outside of the store and was being loaded into a car.

The boy procured a .38 caliber pistol and began shooting. He said one man fell but got in a car. As another man emerged from the door of the store young Richardson shot him in the leg above the knee, shattering the bone. He was taken to a hospital in Breckenridge.

Chief of Police Jim Ingram was called to Breckenridge this morning to see if it was possible to identify the man.

He talked freely, Ingram said.

and gave his name as Jim Gallagher of Seminole, Okla. He said that he had a mother some where in Fort Worth, named Mrs. Lou Gallagher and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Holiday and Mrs. Mary McBride, but did not know the address of either.

He maintained that there was no one with him at the time of the shooting. Checks and money, identified by Richards as taken from his safe were found stuffed under the store where Gallagher fell.

Five old buckshot wounds were found in the injured man's leg. When asked by Ingram where he got the leg wounds he said they were received in Fort Worth.

The man is about 27 years of age with brown hair and has a prominent gold tooth.

Doctor, Former Head of Large Chicago Hospital, to Be First to Die in Illinois in Electric Chair

By FRANCIS F. HEALY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, April 11.—Dr. Amante Rongetti, former head of a large hospital here, will be the first person in Illinois to be executed in the electric chair as punishment for murder.

This sentence will be carried out April 13, unless something unforeseen occurs to stay the order. The physician was found guilty of the murder of Miss Loretta Enders and her newly born child.

The trial of Dr. Rongetti aroused nationwide interest because of the revolting nature of the crime and the cruel brutality of the man as told by state's witnesses. Dr. Rongetti was found guilty of having performed an illegal operation upon Miss Enders, of failing to save her life because he was not paid enough money to operate further upon her, and with allowing her child to die because of lack of nourishment.

Sensational Trial. The trial involved charges of the intimidation of witnesses by the defense lawyer, William Scott Stewart, the kidnaping of the witnesses and other sensational details, many angles of which are now pending in the Criminal courts here.

Last Fall, William Cozzi, dental student and sweetheart of Miss Enders, appealed to Dr. Rongetti to aid him in preventing the girl from becoming a mother as the couple were too poor to get married. Cozzi testified that Rongetti accepted the case for $500 and that arrangements were made for the operation.

The operation was performed in the presence of nurses who testified. Complications set in within a few days. Dr. Amante Rongetti then demanded additional money from Cozzi before he would operate further, Cozzi said. The youth was unable to provide the money. As a result the girl died. Her child, it was testified, was taken into an adjoining room, and under orders from the doctor, no nurse nor anyone was allowed to be near it for two days. It died. Dr. Rongetti refused to allow Miss Enders to be attended by a priest during her last moments, and then wrote a fraudulent death certificate attributing her death to two diseases.

Refused New Trial. The court refused the physician's petition for a new trial. The court pointed out the following reasons for this refusal:

First, the defendant performed an operation and allowed the girl to die because of lack of funds.

Secondly, he refused to send her to another hospital where that operation necessary to save her life could be performed.

Thirdly, he made out a death certificate naming two diseases and said his information came from the girl's father who has been dead 18 years.

Fourth, the defendant undertook to pay funeral expenses of $400 indicating guilt.

Fifth, in her dying hours he turned a deaf ear to the pleas of the girl's mother that a priest be allowed to attend her.

Not one witness took the stand to refute these horrible charges. "Having criminally robbed this beautiful young girl of her life, the defendant assailed her memory by filthy insinuations."

"Dr. Rongetti," said Judge Frank M. Comerford, "have you anything to say before I impose sentence?" Rongetti a thin man with beady eyes and a small dark mustache, shook his head.

"I sentence you to die in the electric chair." Attorney William Scott Stewart, representing Rongetti, was sentenced to serve three months imprisonment for alleged intimidation of state's witnesses. He was accused of threatening to blacken the character of nurses if they testified against the physician.

FURTHER CLEMENCY IS GRANTED WOMAN

AUSTIN, April 11.—For the fifth or sixth time, Governor Moody Tuesday granted Mrs. Eva Murray, under an McLennan county felony sentence totaling two years, a furiously extension. She got 60 additional days. Officials of the court which convicted her have recommended a parole.

Other clemency: Frank Dicho, Brazos county, liquor, one year, 90-day extension; Ike C. Bevil, Collins, liquor, two years, 10-day extension; John Counts, Titus, liquor, restoration of citizenship; Henry Mau, Austin county, liquor, one year, restoration of citizenship. Counts and Mau had served their sentences with clear records.

Central, West Texas Pastors Pledge Aid to Randolph

Enthusiastic Meeting Votes Unanimously to Adopt Bond Plan, Each Church to Take One Bond

Central and West Texas Christian church ministers were guests at a luncheon at Randolph college Tuesday. The dining hall was beautifully decorated, the luncheon table being in the shape of a cross, carrying out the thought of Easter. Wild flowers adorned the tables and Randolph college orchestra furnished music throughout the luncheon.

The conference held following the luncheon was a most enthusiastic one, and those present feel that it will mean much toward the future of Randolph college.

The ministers present voted unanimously to adopt the bond plan of raising money to take care of the current expenses of Randolph college, each church represented promising to take a bond.

Virtually every minister present also offered to give sometime to presenting this plan to neighboring churches that were not represented at this meeting, stating that they were not only unanimously adopting the plan, but that they meant to put it over in a big way.

Randolph college is indebted to the Cisco chamber of commerce for taking care of the expenses of the luncheon and for this meeting.

The importance of a junior college was stressed in addresses by President T. T. Roberts, Rev. Randolph Clark, R. H. Holloway, Rev. S. J. Shetlesworth and Rev. A. G. Abbott. Altogether it was a wonderful meeting and those attending feel that Randolph college has taken on new life, and will make real progress in the future with such loyal support.

The following were present at the luncheon:

Rev. J. S. Mullen, Chiles; Rev. James Todd, Jr., Pampa; Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Boutinghouse, Borner; Rev. F. W. Reynolds, Albany; Rev. A. R. Caudle, Benjamin; Rev. Claude Wingo, Big Spring; Rev. S. J. Shetlesworth, Breckenridge; Rev. G. R. Forrester, Haskell; Rev. I. J. Sparks, Snyder; Rev. A. G. Abbott, Spur; Rev. M. B. Harris, Stamford; Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Darnell, Sweetwater; Rev. C. E. LOBOES PLAY MAVERICKS AT CHESLEY PARK

The Cisco Lobos will play their second baseball game against high school opposition this afternoon when they meet their old rivals, the Eastland high school Mavericks at Chesley field at 4:15 p. m. On the dope the Lobos are in for the short end of the score since Eastland swamped Rising Star by the score of 5 to 3. Laffoon, Eastland's pitching ace, will be on the mound for the Mavericks while Bryan will do the hurling for the Lobos. For the past few seasons the Mavericks have furnished the Lobos the best opposition of any of the neighboring towns.

Audit Discloses Shortage But, Also Host of Friends

EVERYBODY in the borough of East Newark, N. J., knows Jimmy Degnan, gassed war veteran and tax collector.

So, when an audit of the books showed a shortage, the audit must be wrong. Even if it is right, Jimmy's loyal friends are sure that he was just careless.

Besides, they are taking extraordinary measures to make up the deficit, and their minds are all made up to re-elect Tax Collector Degnan in June.

Degnan, now thirty-five, was a Captain in a fighting infantry outfit. He brought home a case of gas, a touch of shellshock and a bad leg, regarding all of which he had little to say. His popularity does not rest on these infirmities.

Jimmy has a tiny real estate business for the support of Mrs. Jimmy and their three children. As a notary public he is entitled to collect a fee of 50 cents, but for more than 7,000 times he has acted he has never accepted a penny.

Jimmy resigned a week ago when the shortage was reported. His friends promptly retained a lawyer and the lawyer has put two accountants to work on an independent audit.

The American Legion Post has had to turn over its building fund, amounting to about $2,500, if Jimmy is short. The Ladies' Auxiliary post is arranging a card raise an additional sum.

Newark is a community now, having set a $10,000 license fee deliberately. Precedent will be broken, however, for Jimmy when a special showing of official war scenes, obtained from the Government, will be held to help swell the fund.

"I never took a dime of that money," Jimmy says, "but I have spells off and on, when I'm kind of in a fog. It sure has got my goat!" All his friends believe him, which, after all, is everything a man can ask.

GOV. SMALL AND ALL HIS SLATE ARE DEFEATED

CHICAGO, April 11. — Mayor William Hale Thompson, Governor Len Small and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe today conceded defeat for their candidates in yesterday's record-breaking Illinois primary. Virtually complete returns show Senator Charles S. Dennen's candidates swept the state.

Governor Small was defeated by Louis L. Emmerson, secretary of state; Colonel Frank L. Smith, running for vindication after being rejected from his seat twice by the senate on account of scandals connected with his previous victory, was defeated by Otis F. Glenn and State's Attorney Crowe of Cook county was defeated by John A. Swanson.

Skeletons of Inhabitants of South Britain in Stone Age Found in Excavations Near Brighton

LONDON, April 11. — Interesting discoveries of human skeletons, believed to date back to the New Stone Age, have been found during excavations at Worthing, a seaside resort near Brighton, on the south coast.

The skeletons are believed by archeologists to be those of a race of people who settled in South Britain at the close of the new stone age. Extensive excavations have been carried out continuously in this district since 1923, and the discovery of the burial mounds of the folk who sank and worked the flint mines in that region ages ago have rewarded the efforts.

A prehistoric settlement consists of a number of Stone Age mounds, which sunk deep into the solid chalk in order to obtain access to seams of a certain kind of flint which these early Britons fashioned into their tools and weapons.

Near these shafts, and bordering on an ancient road, are a number of circular grave mounds. Four of them have been opened thus far, one of them revealing cremated human bones enclosed in an earthenware cinerary urn, the rim of which had been ornamented with a series of impressions made by a twisted thong of hide.

Another of the mounds contained the skeletons of three human bodies. Two of these were the original prehistoric interments laid in an oval grave below the mound, while the third was that of a Saxon who had been buried at a much later date. A short iron knife was still grasped in this skeleton's hand.

A third mound contained the skeletons of a man and a woman lying side by side, the cremated remains of a third individual being scattered around them. The man's bones were surrounded by flint implements, including arrow-heads, knives and axes.

Both these skeletons were in the crouched position common to early burials of the Stone and Bronze ages. Shells of edible snails had been placed with each, presumably as food for use on their spiritual journey.

The burials are attributed to the Beaker Folk, a tall round headed race which came to Britain from Northern Europe about the years 200 to 1800 B. C. Their name originated from the fact that it is unusual to find a pottery drinking cup or beaker buried in the grave with them.

Rev. M. L. Baker of Haskell Elected Moderator Ft. Worth Presbytery at Cisco Meeting

The opening session of the district Presbytery of the Fort Worth district of the U. S. Presbyterian church convened in Cisco Tuesday evening, at the First Presbyterian church when Rev. Henry Austin, retiring moderator, delivered the opening sermon, after the invocation by Rev. R. W. Crane, of the North Fort Worth church. Mr. Austin read the scriptural lesson from the 14th chapter of John, and the text was from the 12th verse, 14th chapter, of the gospel of John: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works shall he do, because I go to my Father."

At the conclusion of the sermon the moderator announced the Presbytery was open for business, and requested the clerk to call the roll. The following ministers responded to their names: Revs. Henry Austin, Hillsboro; H. L. Baker, Haskell; L. O. Cunningham, Ellsworth; R. W. Crane, North Fort Worth; J. Leighton Green, South Fort Worth; D. F. McConnell, Fort Worth; T. E. Knox, Abilene; L. H. Innes, Brandeis; J. M. McLennan, Throckmorton; A. E. Miller, Hurdley; W. T. Riviere, Cleburne; Gary L. Smith, Sweetwater; G. N. Thomas, Mineral Wells; B. C. Boney, Cisco.

Elders, Represent Churches. The following churches were also represented by elders: Blum, J. F. Veeder, Brandeis, W. M. Patterson, Hillsboro, F. H. Leslie, Cisco; W. J. Murray, Haskell, R. E. Sherrill, Rule, H. B. Kelly, North Fort Worth, W. L. George, Anson, J. F. Huie, Mineral Wells, J. F. Rogers, Abilene, V. L. Shippert, Sweetwater, J. H. Best, J. Leighton Green is clerk of the presbytery.

At the conclusion of the roll call it was revealed that a quorum was present and the moderator announced that the election of officers was in order. Rev. M. L. Baker, of Haskell, was placed in nomination and as there were no other nominations Mr. Baker was elected by acclamation, and escorted to the chair. After thanking the presbytery for the honor, the moderator-elect, called for the regular order of business.

The election of assistant clerk was depressed with, and the stated clerk was authorized to name his own assistant. Similar action was taken regarding the election of a press reporter when the local presser was instructed to name the press reporter or do the work himself. Rev. B. C. Boney welcomed the delegates to Cisco, and announced the hours of service for today: Morning session—9 to 12; afternoon session—2 to 5; evening session—7:30 till the conclusion of the session.

Luncheon Served. Mr. Boney announced that the delegates would be served luncheon in the basement of the church at 12:15; that the delegates would be guests of the Cisco chamber of commerce at 5:15, while would be taken on an automobile drive to Lake Cisco, the state fish hatchery, zoo, game preserves and other places of interest about the city. After assigning the delegates to homes with the members of the congregation the session adjourned to reconvene this morning at 9 o'clock.

Today's Session. After the devotionals at 9 o'clock this morning routine business was transacted until 11 o'clock, when the Presbyterial doctrinal sermon was delivered. Reverend Sisserson, of the East Broadway church, at Fort Worth, was on the program to preach this sermon, but it was reported at the Tuesday night's session that he was unable to attend the presbytery, having been injured in an automobile accident. To conduct the doctrinal services Rev. M. C. Yeargen, of Austin, was substituted. The session will close this evening after the doctrinal sermon at 7:45 by Dr. D. F. McConnell, of Fort Worth.

The attendance is rather smaller than was anticipated, as many of the churches in the district are without representation. There are 13 ministers in attendance and 11 lay delegates.

Peru, Mass., is Off the Map as U. S. Shuts Postoffice

PITTSFIELD, Mass., April 11. — With a scratch of a pen, the post-office department has wiped another town off the list of Eastern United States communities, leaving only three families to bemoan the passing of Peru. Peru was a famous little town nestled amid the Berkshire Hills as far back as Revolutionary days. Even then its agricultural fame was wide spread. Then came the decline. Families moved away, until in 1890, only twelve families lived in Peru. Even these twelve dwindled. This past year three families have lived in the town and the post-office receipts dwindled to a few dollars. So Uncle Sam looked at the figures and decided that there was no further need of a postoffice in Peru.
