NUMBER 49

TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

TEXTILE MILL TROUBLES.—Reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of employees in Eastern textile mills is causing much trouble between mill owners and employees. Twenty-seven mills and 30,000 operators are involved at present and millions of capital are tied up indefinitely. The Eastern troubles, while much to be deplored, will have a tendency to increase the interest in the removal of cotton mills to locations close to the cotton fields. Texas should have much textile mill building in the next few years, in the opinion of all those who study the industry.

POWER PLANT CONSTRUCTION.—The West Texas Utilities company's plant near Quanah one unit of which will be completed this year, will cost $5,000,000. It will have a generating capacity of 20,000 horse power when the first unit is constructed and is to be increased to 60,000 horse power. The plant will serve a large section of North Texas.

COLEMAN CREAMERY OPENING.—The interest in dairying is shown in the fact that the opening of a creamery is now quite a popular event in Texas, attended by large crowds of both town and country people and with ceremonies in keeping with the importance of a great industry. Coleman has completed a $22,500 man-made creamery, which is formally being started with a dairy school to give instructions in some of the more successful methods employed by large dairies of the country.

CITRUS FRUIT INDUSTRY.—John H. Shary of Mission, who is president of the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers' Exchange and also of the Interregional Canal association is sanguine about early port construction at Point Isabel as a help to the Texas citrus industry. He estimates Texas grapefruit shipments during the next year will reach 3,000 cars and that the production will increase to 25,000 cars in five years if ample shipping facilities are provided.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS.—Uvalde voters are almost a unit when it comes to voting bonds. The vote on a $100,000 city improvement bond issue carried by seven to one. The Uvalde program includes additional street paving, fire station equipment and park and city hall improvements.

AUSTIN SEEKS BOND ISSUE.—Austin has as much natural beauty as any city in Texas, but has been rather slow in putting money into improving what nature has given it. A vote is to be taken on the issuance of $1,250,000 in bonds, $2,000,000 of which will be for streets and $700,000 for parks, the rest to be divided between a number of other much needed improvements. Despite the recognized need for all the items to be included in the bond issue, those who favor them are expecting a hard contest.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION WORK.—Congress has voted nearly a million dollars a year for the continuation of its agricultural and home demonstration activities. Of this, at least 80 per cent will go to salaries of those carrying this work to the rural districts. Texas will benefit largely from this appropriation, and no money invested in governmental work is more wisely spent than that for the salaries of farm and home demonstration agents in Texas. Wherever these have gone they have brought about better farming and higher standards of living in the homes.

PRESIDIO SODIUM MINES.—Geologists claim that the sodium and potassium nitrate deposits in Presidio county are the only known deposits of the kind in the United States, that they cover a larger field than any in the world, and that they test out a higher grade than the Chilean production. The present source of supply for this country, Nitrates of soda and potash are extensively used in the manufacture of glass, matches and explosives, in tanning, dyeing, photography, electroplating, metallurgy, and for medical and chemical purposes. Nitrate of soda is used in making explosives, fertilizers, and in the manufacture of sulphuric and nitric acids, besides having many other industrial uses.

ANTONIO EXPRESS.—The San Antonio Express has been a skyscraper candidate since the newspaper excellence to occupy a skyscraper somewhat in keeping among the country. Plans have for a building in size and tower the street level, paper structure in has the support of a large number of men and women who feel that the establishment of a club in American history in the University of London is a really urgent need.

Albany Golfers Trounce Cisco Team

Cold Wind That Prevailed Was Distinct Handicap To Elderly Men of Cisco Team

The two committees, acting in cooperation, are seeking to raise a sum of $150,000, the income from which will be utilized for the salary of a professor, and to some extent for the development and maintenance of the library of American history.

Approximately $7,500 has already been subscribed in London.

Sunday, May 6, the Albany golfers invade Cisco to stage the second match of this tournament, and since the local players have their backs to the wall, they are apt to give the Albany team a stiff match. Albany won the first match in last year's tournament, but the Cisco team finally won out by halving two matches and winning two.

Much interest is being manifested in this year's tournament between these cities. Cisco was represented by twenty-three golfers at Albany yesterday and Albany is planning to bring a strong representation to Cisco Sunday, May 8.

Following is the result of the Sunday matches at Albany: Jeff Duncan, Cisco, lost to Roy Matthews three up and one; G. B. Lundy lost to Jack Moore two up; J. W. Love lost to H. Van Zandt five up and four; Jack Kelly won over Red Halleran one up; W. T. Graham lost to J. H. Sedwick five and four; J. P. Goven won over Frank Cloud two up and one; Don Sivalls lost to A. M. Russ on the nineteenth; J. R. Almond won over R. C. Harris two up; G. M. Simpson won over Joe Lowery on the nineteenth; Chapman Williamson lost to W. L. Hatcher two up; P. W. Campbell lost to E. Jackson three up and one; Phil Brown lost to Raymond Foltz three up and two; W. W. Wallace lost to F. L. Kukendall six up and five; E. J. Keough lost to Jake Langford five up and three; George Boyd won over W. K. Wood two up; J. E. Tichenor lost to Ed Dodge two up; A. E. Sartor lost to Ben Reynolds seven up and five; W. B. Statham won over Bill Nail three and two; G. B. Kelly lost to Louis Hill four up and two.

Albany was unable to match players against the following Cisco golfers who were present, W. K. Escon, J. E. Meyer, Link Meyers and Garrett Boone.

NEW RECORD IS SOUGHT, GLOBE PLANE FLIGHT

MODESTO, CAL., April 23.—Using an all-metal monoplane, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian war ace, and Lieutenant George E. Pond, U. S. Naval reserve aviator, will take off from here in the near future in an attempt to circumnavigate the globe in 24 days or less, according to an announcement issued by the two flyers. The flying pair have been associated in aerial projects for some time. In recent months they made several attempts to shatter the then-existing world's mark for endurance flying over various Northern California airfields. Once they came within an hour and a half of lowering the old record, then held by the German aviators, Johan and Ristice. Their endurance attempts were all made in the huge tri-motored Fokker monoplane, Southern Cross, which was used by Captain George H. Wilkins in his aerial expedition over the North Pole in 1926.

KIDNAPPERS' PLOT FOILED LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—With three suspects jailed, a plot to kidnap Dolores Delrio, beautiful Mexican actress, with the expectation of collecting ransom in the sum of $100,000, was revealed today. It was also learned that the star's Hollywood home has been guarded by detectives for the past two months. The details of the plan were revealed by Gustavo Carrillo in a confession to the police. Rosa Ayala, recently discharged maid of the actress, is implicated. The intention of the kidnapers was to extort the ransom from J. L. Amunulo, wealthy Mexico City resident and father of Miss Delrio, who also produces her films.

REMIT SEALY ESTATE TAX WASHINGTON, April 21.—The senate Saturday passed and sent to the house a bill remitting the estate tax on the estate of the late John Sealy of Galveston, Texas, who died in 1926, leaving most of his fortune to a charitable trust fund. The tax would have amounted to almost $300,000. Its remittance was asked by Senator Earle B. Mayfield of Texas.

"FITZ" TELLS HERTA JUNKERS ALL ABOUT IT

She was the winner in the county interscholastic events held at Eastland, and was the Eastland county entrant in the district meet, where she was again victorious, winning the gold medal, which was received by her this morning.

The notice was served by Representative Madden after a conference with Mr. Coolidge at the white house.

THIRD TRIAL OF M. RATLIFF ON AT ANSON

Many Cisco people, including several of the police force, are in Anson today, having been summoned as witnesses in the Ratliff case, charged with the murder of George W. Carmichael, Cisco police officer, during the First National bank raid here December 23. No reports had been received from Anson today, but as none of the Cisco witnesses have returned it is believed the case went to trial in the 194th district court this morning with Judge W. R. Chapman, presiding, and Clem Calhoun, district attorney, prosecuting. County Attorney Frank Sparks and W. W. Hair are assisting in the prosecution.

"If any man among you thinketh himself to be religious, while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unspotted from the world."—Jas. 1:26-27.

SEA HOP HANDICAPS

Fitzmaurice, head of the Irish Free State air service, evidently embarked on his trans-Atlantic flight without any illusions. He didn't think there was even a sporting chance—yet undertook it as a sporting adventure.

"You want three engines," he said before starting, "with fuel for 60 hours, and a wireless. We have no data to work on. One is flying over uncharted seas against the rotation of the earth. Nobody knows what the effect will be on the instruments."

The world knows just a little more now. That little will help in the next venture.

The three engines, instead of one or two, are for a greater margin of mechanical safety; if one or two quit, the plane may still stay aloft.

When planes fly the Atlantic regularly, they will carry a wireless outfit for sending and receiving as a matter of course, thus maintaining contact with land.

The 60 hours' fuel supply is not essential, if cruising planes are built of greater speed, or a more potent fuel than gasoline is found, or engines are devised getting more power from gasoline.

The earth's direction or rotation means nothing except as it sets up head winds.

Sleet means a serious problem; it almost dragged the Bremen down into the sea. Science should be able to devise some way to conquer that difficulty. Was not the dirigible in which Commander Noble and Amundsen flew over the Pole last year painted with some preparation to keep ice from adhering to its cover?

DON'T RIDE HORSE TO DEATH

Nineteen-twenty-seven was an epochal year in American railroad history. The condition of freight cars and locomotives was the best ever recorded, and the average load and speed per train and freight car was the highest yet reached. As freight and passenger carriers the railroads are irreplaceable. Their future progress and maintenance of efficiency must be insured. To have good railroad service they must have new capital. When a gigantic industry like our railroads, can make over a period of several years, an average annual profit of but 4 1/2 per cent on investment, there is something wrong. And investigation has shown that it is not the railroads and their managements that are at fault; they have been remarkably economical and efficient. The trouble lies largely with taxes that take more than the lines pay in dividends, and in injurious and impractical legislation. There is nothing to be gained by riding our iron horse to death. But everything is to be gained by giving it a chance to "fatten up."

HOPELESS CARDS

It will be a hard blow to thousands of bridge fiends to learn that R. S. Foster, one of the leading exponents of that game, says it is not his favorite. "There's too much fussing with your partner in it," he says. "Too much scrapping over cards. That makes it unpleasant." Asked about cribbage, he pronounces it "all right, but monotonous." To a hopeful poker addict, he says: "The only poker that's any good is five-card stud, with the high and low hands dividing the pot. Draw poker is a dead issue. Nobody plays it any more. All it's good for is to write stories about." This is a dreadful situation. And the worst is yet to come. What card game is any good? The expert quoted above declares "Russian bank" the best two-handed game at a card party? And what bridge devotee will be so utterly unregenerate and Bolshevistic as to take up a game like Russian bank? We may yet be driven and take up some pastime intellectual or humorous.

WHAT TO LEARN

author and educator, in an American Association of an interesting college class was divided into two groups. One group was taught in the usual way—on lecture and general discussion was told what to do—about—and left to shift for themselves. The other group was taught in a way that was different. The instructor gave them a list of names of men who had been successful in business. They were to find out what these men had done to succeed. They were to find out what these men had done to succeed. They were to find out what these men had done to succeed.

able. Toward the end of the study period the students could seek further light from the teacher. The class at first didn't like this self-starting method. And the teacher didn't think the self-starters were making as much progress as the class that sat and let itself be lectured to. When it came to final examinations, there was a revelation. The lecture class averaged 68 per cent and the self-study class averaged 92. Evidently it is as true in the class-room as elsewhere that what a person does for himself teaches him more than what he hears from others. The fact has an obvious bearing on home study. With a little good supervision and advice, it's possible to get a pretty good college education without going to college.

TOLERANCE

Recently fire destroyed the Catholic church in a small California town. Immediately the local Adventist and Presbyterian churches offered their buildings to the Catholics for the celebration of mass. One offer was accepted, and the Protestant and Catholic services were conducted simultaneously in separate parts of the building. There have been several other examples lately of friendliness, tolerance and co-operation between representatives of different religious groups. Jews, Protestants and Catholics have appeared on the same platforms, uniting their efforts in some fine civic enterprise, in dedicating a new temple, in community betterment work. This does not mean that there is no more religious bigotry or intolerance. It does mean that thinking people, with a true humanitarian outlook, find that they have many ideals and aims in common and are big enough to work together for their achievement, regardless of religion or sect.

INNS AND HOTELS

More than one writer, commenting on the passing of E. M. Statler, the big hotel man, quoted the Shenstone lines about the traveler who "might sigh that here he still has found his warmest welcome at an inn." It may be doubted whether that misanthropic verse ever was true. He who never knew the warmth of welcome to his own home, or the home of a friend, even in the golden age of inns, must have been himself a rather poor specimen of humanity to have formed no ties insuring such a welcome. It must be far less true now. In the days of the stage coach there was, indeed, a personal flavor about an inn, with "mine host" himself usually on hand to do the honors, and reasonable assurance of congenial company. Today the typical hotel is utterly impersonal. It is a vast business institution, providing comforts and conveniences unimagined in former generations, but unable from its very nature to give a personal welcome to the coming guest and make him feel at home. The more modern, complete and praiseworthy the hotel, according to modern standards, the less personal welcome if he wants one of these luxurious skyscraper hotels to seem homelike, is to carry his family with him.

International Waterway Now Delayed Indefinitely

CANADA AND UNITED STATES DEADLOCK ON ELECTRIC POWER TREATIES By GRAHAM STEWART International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

POTENTIAL hydro-electric energy, estimated at 3,000,000 horsepower, is at hand in the international section forming the Canadian boundary along part of northern New York State. Half of this "white-coal" wealth belongs to Canada outright. The major differences between the two governments that has resulted in a deadlock, deal with the remaining half. Since Canada rejects the proposal of the United States for an immediate beginning on a treaty which would set dredges and concrete mixers at work, the whole question of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway is shelved temporarily, at least.

"Public opinion in Canada," said Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister in Washington, in correspondence just made public by Secretary of State Kellogg, "is opposed to the export of hydro-electric power, and is insistent that such power as may be developed on the St. Lawrence shall be utilized within the Dominion to stimulate Canadian industry and develop national resources." "Development of power on the Canadian side should not exceed the capacity of the Canadian market to absorb it." It is on that paragraph that the exchanges between the two governments appear to have deadlocked. "The United States," Kellogg replied, "ought to have its share of the power of the international section without waiting until Canada may be able to sell her power from these works." Massey responded that Canada could do nothing until vexatious constitutional questions at issue between the provincial governments of Ontario and Quebec and the Dominion Government itself had been decided by Canadian Courts and the Privy Council at London. Private power interests of Quebec are understood to dominate the political situation which determined the official Canadian attitude. Kellogg's further suggestion that a conference be called to deal only with the larger aspects of the problem, while the minor differences be left for later technical commissions was rejected. The subject is still open for future exchanges, but students of Canadian politics here are little hope for a break in the deadlock for at least several years. As ten years would be required for the actual work after treaty preliminaries had been cleared away, the day when ocean liners will ply the Great Lakes is, at best, fifteen years away.

"RED HAIR" IS A KNOCKOUT

Laughter for laughter's sake is the keynote of Clara Bow's new comedy of American life, "Red Hair," which appeared at the Palace theater yesterday. The vivacious star of "It" repeats and surpasses all her former comedy triumphs in this new story by Elinor Glyn and she carries her audience with her in a tremendous sweep of sympathetic laughter. Three of the best known character men of the screen have important parts in the supporting cast. Lawrence Grant, Claude King and William Austin are continually in evidence throughout the picture, first as the self-windable lovers of the clever little manicurist and, later, as the self-righteous guardians of her "right young man." They have filled parts well before; they fill parts superbly in "Red Hair." Many of the sequences of "Red Hair" are done in technicolor and, for colorful effect, this process has never before been used to such advantage. All in all, "Red Hair" has everything that goes to make up a good, enjoyable, laughter-provoking entertainment and is, more than that, a clever picturization of American life as it is. The settings are scenes of every-day life and the action results from the personalities of the persons rather than from the situations. There is nothing forced or false about "Red Hair." It is a natural story, laughably realistic.

Materialism, Pleasure and the Rush of Things Has Clouded the Vision of the Individual

The need of America and particularly the need of American young men and women today is a vision of God, a vision of self and a vision of service.

of students interested in American history has been tremendous, and it is with this and other considerations in view that plans for the establishment of a permanent chair have been made.

The movement has been warmly welcomed in New York, where a special committee has been established to further it.

The two committees, acting in cooperation, are seeking to raise a sum of $150,000, the income from which will be utilized for the salary of a professor, and to some extent for the development and maintenance of the library of American history.

Approximately $7,500 has already been subscribed in London.

BOLD TRIO IN GALAXY OF ATLANTIC HEROES

Banished From Native Country Archbishop Mora Del Rio Died In Exile in Santone Hospital

SAN ANTONIO, April 23.—Archbishop Mora del Rio head of the Catholic hierarchy of Mexico, died Sunday at the age of 76 years, an exile from his see and his native land.

The aged prelate his slender body bowed with the weight of more than 29 years of administration of the church's affairs in turbulent Mexico, his friends say, died of a broken heart. He had just returned from a visit to Cuba, where he went to look after members of his flock who went to that country upon the promulgation of the Mexican religious laws.

The archbishop came to San Antonio several months ago after President Calles had made the Mexican religious laws operative, rather than submit to the conditions laid down by those laws Mora del Rio and his archbishops, bishops and priests declined to register with the government and go through other formalities prescribed in the laws.

Archbishop Mora del Rio was a native of Mexico and guided his church's affairs through the administrations of seven different Mexican presidents and dictators. President Diaz was dictator of Mexico when Archbishop Mora del Rio became head of the Mexican hierarchy. Diaz was followed by Madero, Victoriano Huerta, Carranza, Obregon, Adolfo de la Huerta and President Calles. A revolution accompanied almost every change in administration.

This was not the archbishop's first trip to San Antonio as a refugee. During Carranza's administration he was here for several weeks in "exile" during the adjustment of affairs between the church and state.

High requiem mass will be sung for the prelate Tuesday in Old San Fernando Cathedral, an edifice built in the Eighteenth century by priests and conquistadores who came from Mexico. Archbishop Ruiz of Michoacan, who shared Mora del Rio's banishment with him and who accompanied him to Cuba and back, will take over the Spanish part of the services while Archbishop Arthur J. Roessarts of San Antonio will conduct the English services. The body will lie in state in the Cathedral until time for the funeral and several hundred persons, mostly Mexicans and many of them exiles, already had gathered about the doors of the Cathedral awaiting arrival of the body.

Archbishop Mora del Rio will be the first archbishop ever buried at San Fernando in all of its years of existence.

NO. 3 HOUSTON EXTENDS FIELD OF NECESSITY

NECESSITY, April 21.—Half mile extension of the Necessity oil field was made with the bringing in of the Houston No. 3 by the Necessity Oil corporation. The initial production, with the bit barely into the pay, was 90 barrels of oil and 750,000 cubic feet of gas. This well is on 32 block, 6 T. & P. survey. The well was drilled in after operations had been halted for several weeks due to a fishing job which developed when tools were lost as they were being lowered to resume drilling. The tanks had been set and connections established. The drillers struck a strong gas flow at 1,900 feet, 60 feet above where the oil pay was expected. Drilling was suspended and operations to lay flow lines completed. When the Lole was re-entered the tools were lost.

The well is two feet in the pay at a total depth of 2,007 feet. GENE OYLER BACK HOME MORAN, April 23.—Mrs. R. H. More directors, representing every state in the union, will be added until the board of directors of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment numbers 100, the association's statement said. A special division for women's work will be established in the near future.

"As a cross-section of responsible American patriotism, the personnel of our board of directors speaks for itself," the statement said. "Behind the board stand members of our association in every state in the union, and behind that the increasing determination of the American people to cut out of our constitution the cancer that lodged there when the eighteenth amendment was enacted."

The association declared that it recognizes the necessity of a substitute for federal prohibition and would prevent the reappearance of the old unregulated saloon system.

Bull Frogs, with the Accent on the "Bull" of Rev. 20. Satan was bound through the death and resurrection of Christ (Col. 2:15). By faith in Christ we are translated from the kingdom of Satan into the kingdom of God. For all those that believe Satan is bound. But just before the end Satan will be given greater power than he has now; he will throw so many temptations in the path of the faithful that, as Christ says, if it were possible, he would lead astray the very elect. The apostle saw in this vision not the resurrected glorified bodies, but the souls of them that were beheaded, etc. The souls of the saints go to heaven immediately after death. And these souls reign with Christ a thousand years (an indefinite period).

The death that came upon all men in Adam is not only physical, but above all spiritual. And from this spiritual death we must rise unto spiritual life. (Eph. 5:14). That is the first resurrection. And over those that have had part in this resurrection the second death, eternal death, damnation, and judgment shall have no power. But they shall reign with Christ as priests and kings of God, according to their souls, from their death until judgment day and according to both the body and soul from the resurrection day throughout eternity. This interpretation does full justice to the prophetic vision in question and at the same time is in full accord with the plain teachings of Christ concerning the resurrection and the end of the world. Let us cling in fervent faith to this doctrine of scripture, and let us continue to confess: I believe in the resurrection of the dead, because I believe in Jesus Christ, His only Son our Lord, who on the third day rose again from the dead, ascended to heaven, sitteth on the right hand of God, the Father Almighty, from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

CONTRACT FOR PURIFICATION PLANT IS LET

ABILENE, April 23.—The National Water Purification company of Lufkin, has been awarded the contract for construction of a purification plant for the Lake Kirby system at a cost of $46,000. The company's bid has been accepted by the city commission in session. Work will begin on the plant within 15 days after the signing of the contract and it is to be completed within 90 days time. Just when the contract will be signed has not been decided, Mayor Thomas E. Hayden said. The plant will be about one mile south of the city limits, near highway No. 30.

Lake Kirby, Abilene's newest water reservoir, is four miles south of the city on Cedar creek. The specifications adopted by the commission, calls for the construction of a "fill and draw" purification system. Four concrete tanks with a capacity of 500,000 gallons each, with the necessary pumping and chemically mixing equipment, will comprise the plant.

Returning to Pulpit Which He Left 28 Years Ago

Versatile Preacher Who Went Into Vaudeville, Then Stage and Movies Back as Modernist

By GILMORE MILLEN
International News Service Special Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—This story might be termed the saga of a dancing preacher.

Its character came to Oakland three decades ago, and danced in the pulpit, to the consternation of the devout, and the delight of the curious.

While crowds were climbing steep-ladders to peek into the auditorium where he preached the gospel in a well cut tuxedo, he suddenly went into vaudeville, where he was headlined for 12 years.

The stage and motion pictures followed. He headed the greatest organization of actors and cinema stars. Now religion has called him again, and he is going back, as a modernist, to the pulpit he deserted 28 years ago.

His name is Edward Davis, and his first sermon was in the Windsor Square theater. No sensationalism this time, nor praying.

Classic Music
Even old time church hymns will be replaced by classic music. The meeting, he says, will be invigorating, not depressing. He is going to attempt to reconcile the belief in God with science, and modern philosophy. He thinks that since ministers are not highly paid, the best talent that should go into the ministry goes elsewhere. And the most good in religious work of the future will be done by men who have lived, experienced life, read, and then volunteered to give others the benefits of their experiences and their conclusions.

"When I left the pulpit," he says, "I said that I would rather be true to a mask than false to a cross. I was too progressive for the orthodox."

"Now that I am returning, I say that if Will Hays bowed down and said that I was the greatest character in the world, motion pictures or the stage will never save my soul."

In Many Roles
Out in his home in Hollywood today he went over some of the story, that gave him the experience he will use to advantage as he preaches again.

On the largest vaudeville circuit in existence he was headlined in various character roles, including one that was based on Oscar Wilde's "Picture of Dorian Gray." On the legitimate stage, he was a star on Broadway, New York, his last appearance being in David Belasco's "Daddies." In motion pictures he has played in any number of prominent character roles.

For three years he was president of the Green Room club of New York City; for three years he was president of the 223 club in Hollywood; for a time he was president of the national vaudeville artists of America in New York City.

He has written five dramas, a half dozen sketches, several long poems, and delivered memorial eulogies on Theodore Roosevelt, Lillian Russell, Thomas Ince, J. D. Gramman and Samuel Warner.

Up in Oakland, in the old days, they called him the poet preacher. He was young then, and his hair fell down over his coat collar. Once it was said that he shocked the very religious by praying to God for an audience. Another time he was credited with wearing the robes of Mephistopheles before his congregation. He says that this was a slight exaggeration, he was only speaking on Goethe's "Faust."

No More Sensationalism
He stated that he was the only minister who would officiate for Theodore Durant, criminal in San Francisco at that time whose murders revolted the land. Other ministers thought that Durant was "too vile" during his time when his atrocities were on a par with those of Hickman in Los Angeles last year.

Now he says he has outgrown pulpit sensationalism. "There are men and women who are expert at that now," he says. He does not condemn them for their practices—believes, rather, that they are useful. "I am 54," he says. My point of view is certainly much more mature than it was then. I feel the call again, and it does not make any difference that I can make $600 a week working in pictures."

BARFIELD NOW FREE TO TAKE BANDIT MONEY

RANKIN, April 23.—Sheriff Bud Barfield and his deputies, having been exonerated by Upton county grand jurors of any conspiracy in connection with the slaying of the two alleged bank bandits at Rankin, have been free to accept the reward offered by the Texas Bankers' association of $10,000. After the charge of Ranger Captain Frank Hamer that a "murder ring" existed for the purpose of collecting the reward, Sheriff Barfield had announced that he would refuse to accept the money until the matter was entirely cleared up.

J. H. Dumas, after having been refused bail in the district court here on a charge of conspiracy to murder growing out of the slaying at Stanton, has been transferred to the Travis county jail, where his case was sent on a change of venue.

COLEMAN SCHOOL BONDS

COLEMAN, April 23.—Coleman people Saturday by a vote of 56 to 17, favored the issuance of $39,000 of bonds for completing the South ward school, according to original plans, by adding two wings and making improvements at the West Ward building. Both yards will be beautified. The issuance was favored by school trustees who believe it would be unwise to float another big bond issue for a third ward school until the trend of the town's population is definitely determined. With the $38,000 it will be possible to so enlarge the present buildings as to care for the scholastic increase that has resulted from oil activity and give more time for thorough consideration of another. The light vote was slightly discouraging. The regular voting strength is around 1,200.

FIR RESIDENT LIVED ON SAME FARM 58 YEARS

Claiming a continuous residence on the same farm for 58 years, with the coming of next Christmas, Mrs. H. F. Duvall, near Manskey Lake, of near Fir, is contesting the claim of Mrs. Barbara A. Sims of having lived at one place longer than any other Eastland county citizen.

Mrs. Sims and her husband, R. F. Sims, settled on their farm four miles south of Gorman, 56 years ago and she has lived there continuously ever since.

Mrs. Duvall, widow of H. F. Duvall settled on the farm on which she now resides, on Christmas Day, 1870 which was 58 years ago, and has lived there continuously since that time. Mr. and Mrs. Duvall were married in Georgia and came to Texas soon afterward. They came on the train from their Georgia home to the Gulf and across the Gulf to New Orleans and from New Orleans to Galveston and from there by ox-wagon to their present home. Mr. Duvall died in 1915. Mrs. Duvall remembers that the country was infested with wild Indians when she and her husband stretched their tent on their present homestead in Eastland county. Their first child was born the night they stopped at their present home.

The Roots of Achievement

MONKS CURE MYSTERY TO MEDIC MEN

LEICESTER, England, April 23.—Secrecy surrounds a mystery herbal preparation owned by the Cistercian monks at Whitwick, near Leicester, which is said to cure cancer, tuberculosis and epilepsy. Astonishing cures are said to have been performed by the monks with herbs collected around the monastery.

"One monk named Brother Philip cured men of cancer when I was a girl of 18," says Mrs. Horne of Loughborough, nearby. Mrs. Horne used to live at Shepshed, a village not far from the monastery. She asked Brother Philip what his herbal prescription was and he answered—"All who enter the monastery gates tread it underfoot."

Local tradition asserts that Brother Philip, who has been dead for some years, cured many people in the neighborhood of cancer by herbal tea. He is believed to have put his prescriptions into writing. Whether they are still in existence is not known. Most of the Cistercian monks live under a vow of silence and never leave the monastery.

They are preparing to give the people the service they promised when the rains were reduced and the rebuilding of a number of the local service lines is a step in that direction. New transformers in several places have also been put in. GIVE RECORD OF CIVILIZATION TO FUTURE AGE

By M. F. DACEY International News Service Staff DENVER, April 23.—The Egyptians of many years ago made records of the civilization of that age in order that future people might profit by their experiences in the worlds of science and learning. Today, Dr. Druon J. H. Ward, 70 years old, a long time resident of Denver, has on his shelves and nearly complete, a set of books composed of 500 volumes in which is recorded a complete story of present day civilization. This set of books, the product of 30 years labor by Dr. Ward, will be placed in a vault in Denver's proposed "Tower of Memories." The first proof iron boxes in which the books are to be placed will be opened at 200 year intervals so that future thinkers, scientists and men of the business world may come to know their ancestors and profit through the knowing. Provides Fund A last will and testament recently made by Dr. Ward provides that sufficient funds will be placed in a local bank at the time of his death to perpetuate the undertaking. A librarian is provided for, and plans are made for additions to be made constantly to the already enormous set of records. "The future starts with what the past hands over," says Dr. Ward. "It is with this in mind that I have made this almost a life work. There are descriptions of the elements of all our leading sciences with which the people of the future may guide themselves. Every modern study and industry is described completely. Agriculture, sociology, anthropology, biology, psychology, journalism, manufacturing, selling, and many other subjects are treated in detail. During the 30 years of labor, Dr. Ward obtained this information from prominent thinkers and leaders of the American nation. Dr. Ward, a graduate of Leipzig and Berlin Universities, and formerly an instructor at Harvard, has not limited his endeavors to this alone, however. Some of his work is acclaimed by scientific circles as the greatest of its kind. Among many books written by him is the "Receivership for Civilization," which has received much comment and admiration from leading educators of the day. Egyptians Far Sighted. Dr. Ward believes the Egyptians were the most far-sighted race ever to tread the earth. The records they prepared, however, were very incomplete and their methods of recording were so imperfect that modern people are able to profit very little from the ancient day effort. With this in view, Dr. Ward has endeavored to shape his work into a form that will be understandable thousands of years hence. The English language is one of the most widely spoken in the world today and it will probably live for centuries. Therefore he thinks that this is the proper language with which to make such records.
