TEXAS' COMMON INTERESTS.—Perhaps every one is to some extent inclined at times, through a spirit of atavism, to feel that after all life is a matter of "Every fellow for himself, and the devil take the hindmost." In our better moments we know better and repudiate the old adage as belonging to the tribal ages or even beyond. We still show the spirit somewhat in many of our localized efforts and forget that whatever advances we have made as a people is due but to cooperative effort, and that cooperation often should have wide bounds, rather than restricted limits. The latest bulletin of the South Texas chamber of commerce expresses in a terse statement what should be the feeling of all Texans when it says: "South Texas is primarily concerned with co-operation for the development of South Texas, but it has common interests with other regions of Texas." We need, as Texans, to get the idea fixed in our minds that while we are primarily concerned with our individual affairs, we are so closely tied up with the interests of our neighbors, our local communities, our sectional interests, and our state's welfare that we should not overlook or neglect any of them, and that we can not do so without personal loss.

DUTY OF THE PRESS.—Governor Dan Moody, in addressing the South Texas Press association recently, stated that in his opinion the greatest duty of the press of Texas at this time is to do all in its power to build up a state-wide interest in all Texas and thereby create a greater love for and interest in the state as a whole. It is but human nature, and it is right to be most concerned about affairs closest to us—our own homes, our community, our city, the matters that come closest under our vision—but that does not release us from the obligation we owe to our entire state, to the nation and to all the world. In earlier days people of different localities were widely separated, with few interests in common except those of mutual protection in times of danger from outside enemies but modern methods of transportation and communication have brought all the people of a state very close together, and have given them the "common interests" referred to by the south Texas chamber of commerce bulletin.

PICNICS SOLICITED.—Austin has recently employed a director of playgrounds and recreation. The city has one playground that is attractive, and will soon vote to build another. The director is a big step toward making a big step toward making a state and a pride to the citizens of Texas, all of whom should feel that as the capital of their state, Austin is their city. In the meantime, Barton Springs at Austin has been dressed up for the spring and summer and is one of the prettiest places in the state for tourists and pioneers. The city is sending invitations to all neighboring towns, communities, clubs, schools and organizations of every kind to hold their picnics at Barton Springs, and if desired to have their plays and entertainments conducted under the direction of the city.

FEATURING TEXAS FLOWERS.—The San Antonio Business and Professional Women's club believes in hobbies of a kind to create a greater love for the things we have here in Texas, and is among other things, helping to direct attention to the wonderful beauties of Texas wild flowers. At its second wildflower show many varieties of wild flowers that grow around San Antonio were exhibited, there being a number of collections of 50 or more varieties. Hundreds of people went to the Witte Memorial Museum Sunday to see the remarkable collection and all were surprised at the many varieties shown. Similar shows could be conducted in all parts of the state and they would be the means of creating an interest in and love for the native flowers of our state, and would result in a statewide effort to preserve these flowers in all parts of the state. Unless there is some organization for saving the native flowers of the state, many of them will be entirely destroyed.

Cisco Man Gets Oil Near Staff

WELL BRINGS IN 1,000 BBL. HIGH GRAVITY

The Operators Oil & Gas Co., composed of W. W. Brown, of Cisco, and associates, are the owners of a splendid well that came in late Wednesday afternoon for 1000 barrels, on the Williamson lease near Staff. At 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening the well was reported to be making 1000 barrels of high gravity oil, having drilled itself in at 2990 feet. It is located seven miles south of Ranger, and 600 feet from a dry hole. This producer is said to extend the Sibley field one-fourth of a mile west, and the indications are that it will drill itself in for a much larger production than the initial flow. The bit hit the sand at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and immediately blew itself in, and has been flowing steadily ever since. It is believed this well will prove one of the largest producers for the year in Eastland county.

W. W. Brown, one of the principal owners, is the senior member of the oil firm of W. W. Brown & Co., with offices in the Cisco Banking Co. building.

IRISH-GERMAN FLIERS START FOR ST. AGNES

QUEBEC, April 26.—The Ford relief plane piloted by Bernat Balchen and carrying Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Herman Koehl, German aviator, and Major James Fitzmaurice, Irish flier, hopped off from Greenely Island this morning at 7:45 o'clock. The plane is scheduled to land on Lake St. Agnes where it is due early this afternoon. Ice on the lake however is softening and it is doubtful whether a landing can be made. It would be dangerous. The fliers may continue on to Murray Bay.

35 MEN SAVED FROM FLAMING OIL FREIGHTER

NEW YORK, April 26.—Thirty-five men, including officers, were saved today from oil tanker, enveloped in flames one hundred and fifty miles off the coast of Florida, according to a wireless message received here. The overbook was discovered ablaze by the crew. Efforts were made to quench the fire but it was useless. Calls for help went from the tanker's radio station. The crew abandoned the blazing ship, taking to lifeboats. After several hours in open sea the men were rescued by the oil tanker, Frederick Well, messages reported.

CHINESE SHOOT TWO AMERICAN MISSIONARIES

PEKING, April 26.—Two Methodist missionaries were captured and shot by Chinese troops at Ueng-chowfu, according to unconfirmed reports received today. L. C. O'Brien, Nazareth missionary worker at Chao-chow, was captured by Nationalists and carried into the Chih-ih province, the report also said.

BENNETT WILL GET MILITARY BURIAL RITES

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Funeral services which the government usually reserves for its most distinguished representatives will mark the burial of Floyd Bennett, outstanding pilot and flier who died Wednesday following a short illness. Bennett died of pneumonia. A special grave near the tomb of Admiral Perry, who first discovered the North Pole, has been selected for Bennett's body. Military services will be given Bennett.

Cisco to Make First Scientific Experiment on Horned Toad in Special Constructed Sarcophagus

The first scientific experiment to be given a horned toad, since the Eastland frog came out of the cornerstone after a sleep of more than thirty years, will be conducted in Cisco. It was announced today by W. H. LaRoque, advertising manager of the Cisco Daily News and American, who will be in charge of the experiment.

Unlike the Eastland frog, the Cisco horned toad, member of the Iguanidae family, is said to be of intelligent breeding. He has been in training for some time for the long nap he is about to undertake in the interest of Cisco scientists. Mr. LaRoque has had this particular toad for some time and it found of him. "His name is Aneta Rip and we've talked over the matters concerning him, especially his future slumber." Mr. LaRoque said. "Aneta is agreeable to the fate given him and he is anxious to begin the sleep. I'm sure this horned toad of mine is of higher intellect than that of the common toad. He shows it in every way."

kept a number of hogs for me. In fact, we raised on our farm nearly everything that we needed, and what money we derived from the sale of our chickens, hogs and cotton was almost clear. "Of course there is money to be made in farming, but it is like everything else, it requires one's attention, and every corner must be watched to keep the books to a minimum, and every resource must be developed. Chickens and hogs and cows all have their place on the farm, and must be given the same business-like attention that is given to the crops. It was always our plan to make the farm pay for itself. When we needed something from town we didn't run to store and charge it, but we kept before-hand what it was going to cost."

STUBBLEFIELD QUILTS RUN FOR COMMISSIONER

Henry S. Stubblefield, former commissioner from this precinct, who had announced his candidacy for this office, has withdrawn from the race, and will devote his time to his personal affairs. In the following statement Mr. Stubblefield gives his reasons for withdrawing from the race at this time: "Some time ago I announced my candidacy for county commissioner from this precinct. At that time I thought I had disposed of my business here, but it was turned back to me, and I find that I am not in a position to carry it on and make the campaign, so I am withdrawing. "Naturally I dislike to disappoint my many friends who have been so loyal to me, and I wish to thank them all for their support. Prospects for winning are very flattering, but I can't carry on the race like I should and look after my private affairs. "H. S. STUBBLEFIELD"

STEWART MAY BE INDICTED FOR PERJURY

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The senate public lands committee decided today to ask the senate to cite the conflicting testimony given by Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Standard Oil of Indiana, to Federal District Attorney for possible prosecution on charges of perjury.

A resolution to that effect probably will be submitted to the senate today by Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, who is acting oil prosecutor.

STATE ACCEPTS EASTLAND ROAD PROJECT PLANS

The road widening program proposed for Eastland county has been approved and accepted by the state highway department, according to word received from Austin from Judge E. S. Pritchard. Provision made, however, that the additional right of way, which is now lacking, be secured.

The decision of the highway department to improve the roads here will pave the way for one of the best highway systems in Texas and will largely determine the future growth of Eastland county. Effort will be made immediately to secure the right of ways now lacking.

Judge Pritchard went to Austin to confer with state road officials of the Eastland county project. He was accompanied by Commissioner Bert Britain and W. M. Burns.

A. F. Taylor, representative of the commissioners' court, said Wednesday: "Practically all the lands have been secured for these extension."

"This proposition not only applies to the Bankhead highway through Eastland county, but also to highways 23 and 67. With the final closing up of the matter, work will start on these projects within 60 or 90 days. In fact preliminary survey on some of the projects have already begun. J. B. Early, division engineer of the highway commission will meet me in Cisco Friday for a conference with the local right-of-way committee. All Cisco people regarding the closing up of all grants for these additional lands and to discuss the curves and certain changes proposed by the highway commission. From Cisco we go to Rising Star for a like conference." Mr. Taylor said.

In the meantime, Mr. Taylor urges that right-of-way committees get busy and complete their work of securing the deeds for the right-of-way extensions.

The highway commission's proposition is for the county to get the lands to extend the Bankhead right-of-way from 60 to 100 feet, and for 23 and 67 from 60 to 80 feet. Most of the lands have been granted free of charge, the county defraying the expenses of moving the fences back. When these terms are complied with the highway commission proposes to widen the lands, place concrete curbs along the pavements and to place shoulders on each side of the pavements for the convenience of auto-repairs, or for parking for any other purpose, that will not interfere with the traffic.

"With the completion of the improvements contemplated on the Bankhead highway through Eastland county settles for all time the Broadway of America designation as the highway is now designated as federal highway No. 80, and unless Eastland county people fail to supply the lands for the purpose of making the improvements contemplated by the highway commission, this designation will never be molested," Mr. Taylor concluded.

The highway commission Wednesday approved a plan to eliminate all grade crossings on the Texas and Pacific railroad, west of Cisco in Eastland county, to change the Strawn-Cisco road by three-fourths of a mile and to aid in repairs costing $250,000.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Although nine million dollars higher than his recommendation, Secretary Andrew Mellon today endorsed a $210,000,000 tax reduction bill backed by the senate finance committee, carrying a Republican majority.

COTTON GOES UP ONE DOLLAR PER BALE

NEW YORK, April 26.—Cotton advanced $1 per bale at the high opening of the market today. Sort May futures were up 15 points with at 29.95.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Yeager were shopping in Cisco Wednesday. They brought in their first vegetables of the season for the local markets. Radishes, English peas, Green onions, spinach greens and asparagus, were sold to the merchants. They also had eggs and butter as part of their contribution towards the feeding of Cisco's hungry population.

Mrs. Yeager says she always finds a ready market in Cisco for whatever she has to sell and the price is better than in most towns of this size. She also does her shopping here because the clerks are very courteous in supplying her needs.

The Yeagers live in the sandy section south of Cisco and do considerable truck farming. They fertilize their land and cultivate it intensively. All vegetables that will stand the cold are planted either in the late fall or very early in the spring. Plants are made to germinate very early by means of hot beds, which fact gives them vegetables much earlier than they would have otherwise. They advertised their tomato plants in the farm papers this year and owing to the fact that the plant growers in South Texas were badly crippled by unusual frosts, they had a greater demand than they could supply. Hundreds of orders were received long after their supply was exhausted.

Mrs. Yeager said that chickens and eggs were very gratifying sources of income to them. They build their own chicken houses, feed pens, feeding troughs and watering troughs, by their hand. They have their baby chicks custom hatched and find their loss is very small. "Of course," said Mrs. Yeager, "we had to learn how to handle them. Our first trials were rather costly."

It received the usual amount of spring rains and sunshine. Even though it should rain within the next few days, grain will be spotted on the ground and probably will not yield the maximum crop.

Corn is looking well at present. Farmers have had plenty of time to cultivate the soil and kill all weed growth. As a result, all crops are clear of any weed growth that might steal the much needed moisture or choke out the young crop. Maize also looks promising, regular stand in the drill and no weeds to hinder. While the dry weather has hindered grain crops it has been a help in retarding the growth of obnoxious weeds, says Mr. Field.

Irish potatoes are showing up nicely, where they were not bitten down by frost. This crop, he says, is always welcomed by the farmers since it comes during May when a farmer's funds are usually rather low. It furnishes his table with the very best of food and the surplus is sold for money with which to buy other things, such as other groceries and clothing for the family.

In the Moran country, grass is good, which fact helps stock in the pastures. Most every one has a few calves or yearlings to sell, and this helps provide spending money at this season of the year. The grass also helps in the production of milk and butter for home use, and where a farmer has more than enough for his family, it helps in the production of sweet cream which is now a mighty good price.

"For the grace of God hath appeared, bringing salvation to all men, instructing us to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly and righteously and godly in this present world, looking for the blessed hope and the appearing of the glory of the great God and our Savior Jesus Christ.—Titus 2:11-13.

then extend from Alaska clear to the Rio Grande; and that, as we see it, would be an economic condition greatly to be desired by both countries." Canada feels rather complimented by the suggestion. The Toronto Globe remarks that free trade between the two countries would not mean the absorption of Canada into the United States, and "a friendly attitude toward Canada's exports would probably help to strengthen the ties of friendship between the two countries." Nevertheless there is little likelihood of the suggestion being acted on. Canada had her chance at trade reciprocity, when it was offered in Taft's administration, and she turned it down so hard that the offer is not likely to be repeated soon.

SILENCE IN ROME

"Evidently obeying instructions from high places," says a recent dispatch from Rome, "the Italian press is entirely silent on Secretary Kellogg's plan to outlaw war." It is incredible how "entirely silent" Mussolini can be, in his high places, when any foreign ministry mentions peace, whether "unilateral" or "multilateral." Mussolini makes his own peace, which is a Roman peace, framed as nearly as possible on the antique model of the Caesars, sought with an unpraised sword. The spirit of fanatical nationalism, which is the greatest obstacle to world peace today, is nowhere so strong and disquieting as in Italy.

PRECIOUS JUNK

A will filed in Bridgeton, N. J., leaves to Henry Ford a considerable collection of hooked rugs, china-ware, quilts, furniture and other stuff, with the proviso that the collection shall not be sold but used only for exhibition purposes. Mr. Ford will doubtless accept it gratefully and stow it away in the vast warehouse he has established at Dearborn, Mich., for the storage of American antiques. Those who have been privileged to see that incredible Ford collection say that in variety and volume of old junk it surpasses all possible stretch of the human imagination. Some time a corps of archeologists will start in and spend a lifetime wading through it and classifying it. The job will grow in size with every new legacy—and with the precedent set, there will be many of them. Nobody need sneer at all these "Americana." Stuff which seems merely rubbish takes on value and respectability as it turns first into antiques and then, by slow stages, into archeological relics. Look how civilized man treasures junk buried in the ruins of Thebes or Athens or Babylon or Ur, or the trifles tossed into kitchen-middens of the old Swiss lake-dwellers. Any of our discarded bone collar buttons or brass safety pins or glass bottle-stoppers or rubber combs may be precious 2,000 years from now.

BIRDS AND SYMPHONIES

Birds, according to a Chicago woman who has been studying bird life, are the composers of most of the world's music. She is quoted as saying that the greatest operas and symphonies are "based entirely on the songs of birds." It may be that musical themes in some famous pieces have been borrowed from feathered musicians without credit. This lady bird-student, for example, traces to the spring song of the robin the "Flower Song" from "Faust." Notes of the meadow lark and other birds may be found in other airs. Belief in her theory weakens a little, though, when she tells of having once heard a meadow-lark sing, very distinctly, "The Campbells are Coming," and credits the cardinal with "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Confidence in this critic's judgment slumps, too, when she calls the cardinal's song the "most exquisite." Gloriously bold and uplifting it is, but for "exquisiteness" most lovers of bird music would probably go to the wood or hermit thrush in the north and the mocking bird in the south. When she ranks next in exquisiteness the "song" of the bluejay, we quit right there, before she starts praising the musical beauty of the crow, the English sparrow or the loon.

NEW COMET

Astronomers of the Observatory of Paris report a new comet in the skies. It is evidently an Irish comet, for it was observed first on March 17. The world, however, pays little heed. We're fed up on comets, and utterly disillusioned. There hasn't been any such celestial apparition big enough to give us a thrill for a generation. Even the famous Halley's comet, when it returned the last time, was shorn of its cosmic tresses—utterly bald-headed. Every new comet heralded by astronomers for years has proved a dud. This last specimen is so insignificant that it can only be seen by using a big telescope and taking a photograph of it with a 20 minute exposure. The universe must be running out of comets.

NEIGHBORLY TRADE

Our trade relations with Canada are closer and more profitable than with any other country. The Chicago Tribune would like to see those relations closer still. Its idea is to have the states and the dominion one great sphere of trade, as free from artificial restrictions as trade is within the borders of our own country. There is no serious obstacle, argues the Tribune. "Canada lives as America does. Its economic and social standards are so similar to ours that lowering or removing the protective tariff would have little or no effect on the standard of life in this country. And any competition it created would be more than made up for by that complementary factor in the tariff—freedom of trade within the zone of protection. The North American area of free trade would

Pure Bred Sires Prove Profitable, Improving Dairy Herd

Increase in Butter Fat Will Pay Price of Thoroughbred Bulls For Bull Circles Urged to Be Formed

That purebred sires are of a good investment for rural communities is shown by records produced by the bureau of dairying at Washington, and Comanche county is being urged to adopt a program for their raising, says the De Leon Free Press.

Results were obtained from all parts of the United States of the crossing on average cows that produced on average 179 pounds of butter fat per year. With this cross of a good purebred sire the daughters from these crosses gave an average increase of 121 pounds of butter fat per year over their dams. In dollars and cents this increase amounted to $45 per cow profit. This record was made on cows that produced an average of 179 pounds of butter fat per year.

9,000 Milch Cows in County
Our 9,000 cows in Comanche county will not average over 100 pounds butter fat per year. What would it mean to the future dairy cows of this county if all were bred to good purebred sires and increased profit per cow to $45 per year—it would be $405,000 per year. Another way to look at it is this: most cows will give milk ten years. If they can be increased to $5 profit per year and in the ten years would mean increased production in the life of the cows of $450 for the 9,000 cows in ten years would be $4,050,000. These figures are not at all out of line and can be accomplished and more by breeding to good high producing record bulls.

The cheapest and quickest way to bring this to pass is to form bull circles all over Comanche county.

What is a bull circle? Just this, a farmer or a group of farmers buy a high grade bull and keep on farm or in the community for two years and then swap with another community who has a similar and like bull. From three to five bulls are generally grouped to form a circle.

Is this a cheap method? Yes. A farmer or a group of farmers will have in a bull circle of four, the services of a bull for eight years for the cost of one bull.

Good Cows Pay a Profit
Good cows will pay a profit, poor cows will lose you money. What kind have you? Are they making you the amount of money that you need?

Do you see your cows tonight when you go to milk? Are they the kind of cows that you are proud to own? Would you trade them off for some better cows if you had the opportunity?

Talk it over with the family and see if they would be interested in getting some better cows. If they are interested, then see your neighbor and help bring it up in the community. Go see your banker. Comanche county bankers have expressed themselves as favoring this bull circle movement—they will help you. Then join in with your nearby communities and for a three, four or five bull circle club that will be sufficient for your communities.

Sidney, Beattie, Fairview, Downing, Van Dyke, Energy, Comanche and Suez are now talking and working for the formation of bull circles.

Get your community interested. At least 100 purebred registered bulls are needed in Comanche county. Let's get one in at least each community. Now is the time to start. Give this matter some serious thought and you will see the future value of such a move.

Your county agent will be only too glad to help you in any way that he can on this move and do not hesitate to call on him for his services.

BENNETT LOSES FIGHT AGAINST PNEUMONIA

QUEBEC, April 26. — Aviation lost another of its famous fliers here Wednesday when Floyd Bennett, noted aviator, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia after making a desperate fight for his life.

Colonel Charles Lindbergh earlier in the day made an emergency flight from New York, carrying serum in efforts to save Bennett. The trip was in vain as local doctors declared the medicine brought was not suitable.

Bennett rallied several times only to have relapses. He began to sink rapidly late this morning and doctors gave little hope for his recovery.

Bennett contracted pneumonia following a flight he made from Detroit, carrying spare parts and relief supplies for the Bremen marooned on Greenly Island. He had been ill before he took off but refused to delay the trip, being anxious to aid European fliers who had crossed the Atlantic and were snowbound in regions north of here.

Col. Lindbergh was heartbroken when news of Bennett's death was announced. Commander Byrd also of Atlantic fame, was grief-stricken at the news. He had selected Bennett as co-pilot of his contemplated South Pole flight and was long a friend of Bennett.

Col. Lindbergh, depressed by Bennett's death, took off here for New York. Mrs. Bennett, who has been ill in the same hospital where her husband has been under treatment, is also in a serious condition.

NO INDICATION RETIREMENT OF U. S. JUSTICES

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Idleness and plenty apparently hold no lure for justices of the United States supreme court.

The privilege of retirement from the bench at the age of 70 on two-third salary has not been claimed by three of the nine members of the court.

Chief Justice William Howard Taft and Associate Justices Oliver Wendell Holmes and Louis Brandeis all have passed their 70th birthdays.

Many justices of the court, in the opinion of close observers, have refrained from retirement in the past because of the smallness of the pay. With the raise in judicial salaries voted by congress last year, the retirement pay of a member of the court would be more than $9,000 a year.

Justice Holmes, who recently celebrated his 87th birthday is the senior member of the bench both in age and in length of service. He has sat on the court for more than 25 years.

Chief Justice Taft observed his 70th birthday last fall while Justice Brandeis is in his 71st year. The youngest member of the court and President Coolidge's only appointee is Justice Harlan Stone, who is 35 years old.

Early West Texas Farmer Declares Money Can Be Made Tilling Land; Cites His Own Case As Example

ROTAN, April 26.—It has been asserted by many, and still is asserted by some, that there is no money to be made on the farm in West Texas. However, this statement is refuted and contradicted by a living example at Rotan, Fisher county, same being R. I. "Bob" Smith. Mr. Smith settled in Jones county, near Neuda, in 1893. At that time he was trying to get a start in life, and during the thirty three years that have elapsed he and his wife, Mrs. Helen Smith, have acquired 320 acres of land near Rotan, five rent houses in Rotan, and a modern new home just built, and a 1,500 acre ranch near McCaney, all free of debt.

"We had to work," Mr. Smith said. "I farmed, and at the same time made regular trips to Abilene for supplies for my neighbors and myself, and Helen raised chickens. We always had good milch cows and kept a number of hogs for meat. In fact, we raised on our farm nearly everything that we needed, and what money we derived from the sale of our chickens, hogs and cotton was almost clear."

"Of course there is money to be made in farming, but it is like every thing else, it requires one's attention and every corner must be watched to keep the 'leaks' to a minimum, and every resource must be developed. Chickens and hogs and cows all have their place on the farm, and must be given the same business-like attention that is given to the crops. It was always our plan to make the farm pay its way. When we needed something for money we didn't 'run' to the store and charge it, but we knew before-hand what it was going to cost, and we managed to sell enough produce, not only to offset that cost, but always just a little over, bringing home what we needed, and a little money besides. It was a hard pull, but in time we began to get ahead, and in 1904 we found that we had accumulated enough money to buy a farm. We looked around, and selected 160 acres, nine miles from Rotan. We bought this land, built a good house on it, remaining on the same farm where we were."

minutes the beautiful residence resort lying at a distance of approximately 50 miles southeast of Vienna.

This new railway is to be a combination of ropeway and airship, the cars running along a system of ropes, which rest on strong iron pillars, and will be driven by propellers. The mechanism of the car is to be similar to that of an airplane and its shape will resemble a gigantic cigar or torpedo. In each car there will be room for a hundred travellers, their luggage and mail.

The construction of the "airplane-railway" is to be financed by a private company, supported by the provinces of Burgenland, which hopes to make Lake Neusiedl a sort of "Coney Island" combined with the Atlantic City of the Vienna.

The speed of life in Austria is, however, nothing like the speed of an airplane railway, remarked one of the Vienna newspapers presenting the above news to its readers. "It would be a real marvel, if this technical marvel could be completed in Austria, before it is introduced in most European countries not to speak of the U. S. A."

NEW INVENTION TO AID LONG DISTANT HOPS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26.—Two improvements that may revolutionize the science of navigation and make it possible for airplane or ship pilots to determine their exact positions in 30 seconds, regardless of the visibility of the horizon, have been worked out by Professor W. A. Cogshall, of the astronomy department of Indiana university.

Both of the devices have been patented, and one of them is already in course of production at the Gaertner Scientific company of Chicago. Professor Cogshall is doing further experimental work with the second device.

Since the sextant was first invented, centuries ago, it has always been necessary to see the horizon before the altitude of a sun or star could be determined and the exact position of the navigator located on a chart, according to Professor Cogshall.

Finding of this altitude is absolutely essential in determining any fixed position on the earth and Cogshall's invention makes the finding scientifically accurate and much more simple than the present methods. The horizon from the air and on the sea is very indefinite, even when the visibility is good, consequently the improvements will materially aid all navigators.

The instrument with which Professor Cogshall is still experimenting is for the mechanical selection of a spherical triangle which must be made to determine an exact position. After an observation has been made it is now necessary to consult a table of logarithms, which requires ten to twelve minutes by an expert mathematician, and requires extreme care while being done.

It is also impossible to do in a speeding plane. With the new inventions it will be possible to make the computations mechanically and with absolute accuracy in thirty seconds, Cogshall said.

RUSSIAN DUKE

ARRESTED FOR MALPRACTICE

BELGRADE, April 26.—The Russian Duke Alexander Suvorin, who lives in Belgrade and opened here a medical office, was arrested for quackery endangering health and life of his patients.

Duke Suvorin advertised, that he had found the all-healing remedy and the real method of rejuvenation. The treatment was very simple. The patient had to be accustomed to do without eating for a couple of weeks (this cure usually lasted 40 days), and a fee had to be paid. The title of the "medicine-duke," his insinuating manners and his persuasiveness won him the favor of many patients, especially of the female sex. His fame grew, the number of his patients increased from day to day, and he soon had a princely income.

Unfortunately, certain diseases proved incurable by his gentle methods and he was forced to prolong the hunger cure and render it more severe in several cases. The consequence of which were the paralysis of the stomach and other serious phenomena.

The families of two of his fatally healed patients denounced the "medicine-duke." The police interfered, and it was soon ascertained that the quack had very little knowledge of medicine. Whether his duke-title is a self assumed one like his professorship has not yet been established.

CISCO BOY IS ESSAY WINNER OF DISTRICT

Frank Langston, of the Cisco high school, winner in the county interscholastic contest in essay writing, has been awarded the gold medal in the high school division of the district interscholastic meet held at Stephenville, according to information received by Superintendent Youngblood, of the Cisco schools. At the county meet Frank was given five subjects from which to select his theme, and his selection. The splendid manner in which he treated the subject proved the winning essay in the high school department. It was this essay that won the prize at the district meet, and will be sent to the state meet, where he hopes to win over his Texa competitors. The winning subject was the "Superstitions Regarding Toads." It was not stated whether Frank dilated on the longevity of toads in general, and the Eastland horned toad in particular, but the fact that a Cisco high school boy won out in the district meet is the cause of this young man being congratulated by his school mates and friends. Frank is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertus Langston.

Blanton Opens Campaign for Seat in Senate With Fiery Address Before Large Gathering at Abilene Hall

ABILENE, April 26. — If West Texas will do its part, Thomas L. Blanton, candidate for the United States senate, will alone gain the support of East Texas, he assured a gathering of 1,200 people at Fair Park auditorium in opening his campaign.

Making no mention of his five opponents, the congressman denounced corruption in the government, vigorously criticizing Samuel Insull, power magnate, demanded a rigid accounting of public fund spending and attacked the operation of the federal reserve system.

The farmer, he declared, was the only class in America who did not receive a "living wage" and said it was his aim to support any measure that would substantially benefit the farmer.

"Don't worry about East Texas," Blanton said. "I have vital issues to present to them and they will listen. I have been among you for 25 years. I'm of and for all Texas. I know its problems all parts of it; I'm in a position to know your problems; if you take care of me in West Texas, I'll do the rest, so help me God. If you send me to the senate, I'll give you the best service that in me lies," the congressman concluded.

Attacks "Power Trust"
He departed from the outline of his platform to criticize what he termed the "power trust" of which he said the General Electric company is the "head" and Insull is only a "chieftain." In his remarks concerning Insull he discussed the Great Falls river project measure, a $150,000,000 water power plant which Blanton said he alone killed in the house and after the bill had received the unanimous endorsement of the committee.

"I'm for Mr. Insull as long as he gives service at a fair rate, but Mr. Insull, I'm against you when you enter a monopoly. I'll be against you if and when you try to tell the people of West Texas that the water of the Colorado river belongs to you and not to them," Blanton said.

R. W. Haynie, secretary of the Blanton-For-Senator club introduced the candidate. Enthusiastic talks were made by Fred Cockrell, R. C. Winters and E. N. Kirby. At the close, Winters announced that 1,398 had become charter members of the club and that the 1,300 mark would be reached today.

Winters, himself an ex-service man, paid Blanton a great tribute when he referred to him as "the most dependable friend of the ex-service man in Washington."

Among those who occupied seats on the speaker's stage were the following from Cisco: R. A. St. John, R. Q. Lee, D. J. Moss, B. S. Harty and A. B. O'Flaherty. At the press desk were Sullivan Evans of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Max Bentley of the Abilene Reporter.

In a typical Blanton address, full of the vigor that has carried him undefeated through six races for election to the lower house of congress, the Abilene man reviewed his record of 12 years in that office, especially stressing his efforts to cut appropriations he deemed unnecessary, presented a series of measures he will later if elected to the senate and delivered a pledge that "if my fellow Texans will send me to the senate, I pledge them that I will be present at all sessions, that I will know all about every measure that comes up, that I will fight uncompromisingly all waste, extravagance and graft, and that I will give them a worthwhile service of a new kind, by which they are entitled but which Mr. Mayfield can never give them."

"Seeking promotion, but no financial gain, I voluntarily give up my position of high honor and the same salary Mr. Mayfield receives, for an opportunity to better serve you. High offices should not be used for pleasure-getting, money making, globe-junketing or personal aggrandizement; but solely as a means of rendering maximum service that best benefits all the people alike," he declared at the outset of the speech.

"Two Masters"
"You can't serve two masters," he declared, as a preface to pronouncement of a half dozen main points in his platform. "All cabinet officers, senators, congressmen, judicial officers, army and navy officers, and all employees of the government, who draw annual salaries, should be required to give their time to the government and not accept outside employment," he said.

Restriction of "pernicious lobbyists," consolidation of the war and navy into one department of national defense, suspension of all immigration until 1932, slower freight rates for farm products with enough money to finance farmers in holding their crops, prevention of "gambling" on exchange in cotton and other products, removal of the tariff on all commodities used in the manufacture of farm utensils and machinery, "perfection" of the national bankruptcy law and curtailment of salaries of officials in the Federal Reserve bank service were included in the platform.

After declaring he had "religiously stood for the bill recently passed to require all lobbyists to register, disclosing full information about their employment," he launched into a discussion of what he termed "duplication" in the government departments.

War and Army Departments
"Five departments have us with one another for the larger air service. Duplication exists everywhere. The war and navy departments should be consolidated into one department of National Defense caring for the army, navy, air and marine corps. The air corps should embrace all aviation activities. This would make for efficiency, prevent duplication, stop much waste and eventually would save $100,000,000 annually. A big standing army and navy in peace time engendered militarism and begot war," he said.

Neither the army or navy should punish their officers for making salutary suggestions for the elimination of waste and extravagance," he added.

Touting upon the question of foreign intervention Judge Blanton said: "Only congress must authorize acts of war. I am against invading any country with our fighting forces to collect private debts for Wall Street."

Immigration
Continuing his platform review Mr. Blanton used the following language: "The 1920 census showed 3,338,300 aliens were in this country who were not attempting to become naturalized. A half-million new ones are coming in every year, either lawfully or unlawfully. My bill would suspend all immigration until 1932, require registration of all aliens here and a proper check upon them thereafter; give them two years to become citizens, deporting those failing to become naturalized; provide Americanization of those retained, and under proper safeguards admit seasonal emergency labor and ranch help from Mexico. This would save our jobs for Americans and maintain our standard of living.

"I am a friend of both capital and labor when they are right. I am against them when they are wrong. I am against strong-arm arbitrariness, radical methods. Neither can exist without the other. Both must strive for harmony. They must protect, not destroy, each other. I have heartily supported labor in all its meritorious plans and policies.

The proportion of farm tenants to owners has increased 7 per cent in Texas since 1920. Farmers are being starved out. Producers must have maximum marketing facilities, lower freight rates, ample capital to hold their crops. My bill would stop gambling on exchange in cotton, wool, mohair and grain futures, which rob the farmers annually.

the production of a greater volume of dairy products in Texas.

The recommendation of the dairy division was made after a great deal of study had been made of the field to be served by the dairy expert working as a representative of the Board of City Development, and the industry is expected to become one of the great sources of wealth for this territory.

Chambers of commerce, county agents, farmers and dairymen throughout this section will be engaged in the far reaching program to be developed through the dairy division, which is to be carried out over a period of five or ten years.

FEAR IS FELT FOR SAFETY OF LONDON TOWER

LONDON, April 26.—Apprehension is felt concerning the historic Tower of London, one of the principal tourist attractions in London, because of the fact that the foundations of part of the structure have begun to sink.

The fact was announced in the annual report of the National Physical Laboratory, which states: "Periodic observations of the movements of the quay wall end of the Salt Tower throughout the year. The main displacements are in vertical direction, and indicate a small but measurable sinking of the foundations of the masonry."

Cracks Discovered
"In June, at the request of His Majesty's office of works, an examination was made of the west wall, in which several cracks had appeared. These cracks have been kept under observation since they were first noted, but have so far shown no signs of extension."

The beginnings of the Tower of London are lost in tradition. The present buildings were begun by William the Conqueror, but as long as there has been a London there has been a fortress where the Tower now stands to defend the water approach. The foundations, therefore, may be in part 2,000 years old.

The Salt Tower—which is about 600 years old—is one of the strong works of the wall that defends the inner ward, or royal portion, of the Tower buildings. It is at the eastern end of the river frontage, divided from the quay by the moat.

Safety Precautions
During the six centuries that it has stood there it has been used as a prison for traitors, as a guard-room for archers and slingers, and as a lodging for officers of the court or garrison.

Every possible precaution to insure the safety of the Tower of London has been taken by engineering experts.

DAIRYING WILL BE PUSHED IN ANGELO AREA

SAN ANGELO, April 26.—Expansion of the dairy industry in this section will be sought by the dairy division of the Board of City Development through the employment of a dairy expert, who will work with county agents, chambers of commerce, farmers and others in the San Angelo territory to promote the industry.

T. B. Logan, chairman of the dairy division of the commercial organization, recommended the adoption of the dairy program as one of the necessary steps toward development of the resources of this section, pointing to the climatic and other conditions favorable to the industry in this section, and the growing need for

Strong Opposition Threatens Big Dam Fighting Lobos Friday When They Meet Anson on Chesley Field

The Cisco Lobos will probably meet with the stiffest opposition that they will encounter in any spring football game Friday afternoon when they play the Anson high school football team at 3 o'clock on Chesley field. Anson has a big powerful team, well coached and well grounded in the fundamentals of football. The Anson team will probably be at about the full strength that it will have for the regular football season next fall. The Lobos will not be able to use several men who are on the baseball and track teams, who will be in the football team in the fall. With the strength of Anson shown by their playing the Abilene Eagles such a close finish in the 19 to 7 game between the two teams, it appears on the hope that the Lobos will be in for a tough day. Anson is picked by many to win the game. The prospect of having some real opposition with the comparison that it allows between the Lobos and the Eagles will draw a good crowd to see the game. This game will be the fourth of the spring training season for the Lobos. One or two men who have not been out for practice previous to this past week will probably see service in the Anson game. Outstanding among these is Willard Miller, who was unanimously picked as an all-district guard last fall. Miller will probably play a tackle and may get a chance to play end, to which position he may be shifted.

GRACE CHURCH TO BE HOST TO YOUNG PEOPLE

The members of Grace Lutheran church will be host to the young people of Abilene, Albany, Sagerton, Lorraine and Christ Lutheran church, south of town, Sunday afternoon. From 100 to 150 guests are expected. Most of the visitors will arrive in the afternoon, coming overland over the good highways that lead into Cisco, after they have attended Sunday school and the morning service in their own respective churches. At 3:30 there will be a divine service at Labor hall, on West Third street, in which the Rev. L. Karcher, of Abilene, will deliver the address. Following this service the visitors will be given an opportunity to visit the "Pride of Cisco," the Williamson dam, and its surroundings. At about 6 o'clock the youth again assemble at the hall for supper. After supper a business meeting will be held, which will be followed by a playlet containing a lesson on foreign missions. The balance of the evening will be spent in Christian social entertainment. In the morning there will be services at Grace church at the usual hour, in which the local pastor will preach on "Our Victory Over Death."

BENHAM HULL CELEBRATED 20 BIRTHDAY

Many friends of the Benham Hull gathered at the home of Mrs. M. Lee Hull April 11 in celebration of his 20th birthday. The rooms were decorated with flowers and evergreens, and several interesting games were enjoyed by those present. The 20 candles that adorned the huge birthday cake were lighted by the following friends of the honoree: Johnnie Wood, Lewis Horn, Mahlon Strateville, Ben Halslip and W. T. Horn. The radiance of the lighted candles were reflected in the happy countenances of each of the guests present, and marked the years reached by Benham Lee Hull in life's journey. The cake was then cut and served to the guests, which were scarcely consumed when three others were brought into the dining room and served. So enjoyable was the occasion that the guests hardly realized that the hour of midnight was fast approaching before the feast was finished. At a late hour the friends departed, wishing many repetitions of this happy event.

PEIMAN TURNS DOWN CALL OF SAN ANTONIO

The members of Grace Lutheran church, at a regular meeting held at the church Wednesday, unanimously decided to ask their pastor to return the call from San Antonio, which he has had under consideration for several weeks. At a previous meeting a volunteer committee was authorized to go to San Antonio and survey the field to which the local pastor had been called. After this committee made its report the congregation unanimously adopted the following resolution: "Although we realize that the field to which our pastor has been called should again be supplied, we are of the opinion that this field does not offer our pastor greater opportunities for service than his present field. Neither do we see where it is of such immediate importance that we should be required to make this sacrifice of releasing to them our pastor who has been doing, and still is doing successful work in our midst."

"I love Cisco and the people among whom I have been working for the past 3 years," said Reverend Peiman this morning. "When I first received this call from San Antonio I thought that a larger work and a greater opportunity for service was awaiting me in the new field. However, when the committee, in their report, proved that this was not the case, I was glad to yield to the wish of the congregation. Nobody should be happier at the outcome than myself. My only ambition, since coming to Cisco, has been to build up my little congregation, both numerically and spiritually, so that it will be a real light unto the world and a leaven by which the whole city of Cisco will be influenced for good."

Colorado Prison Warden Would Let Young Folks Study Prisoners Faces To Teach Them Crime Does Not Pay

CANON CITY, Colo., April 26.—Warden F. E. Crawford of the Colorado penitentiary believes if all high school students of Colorado were privileged to look into the eyes of John Cox, a murderer who has been confined here since 1893, they would forever cringe from crime that might place them behind those same white walls.

John Cox is not the only prisoner youngsters ought to see, according to Crawford. There are 146 men and two women "lifers" whiling away their time with nothing but the grim torture of their own thoughts and light labor with which to entertain themselves. Many others among the 1,100 prisoners are "in" for ten, fifteen, twenty years.

A group of county and state officers and a number of newspaper writers were taken on a tour through the prison in order that outsiders might come to know what goes on in the "big house" at Canon City. The prison is conducted on principles of kindness as far as physical treatment is concerned. Ninety-nine per cent of the inmates are given work to do so as to ease their minds from torturing thought as much as possible, but they think and think deep, nevertheless, said Warden Crawford. Their eyes become dark, the spirit is broken as they regain their individuality in the silent waiting for either the angel of death or the bright sunshine and free air on the outside of the wall.

"There may never be laws passed by the Colorado legislature providing for an inspection trip of the penitentiary by all high school seniors," said Crawford, "and some parents might object to their children going through the institution, but to my mind, a trip like that would be a Godsend to a great many youngsters and might save not a few of them untold misery in after life."

UNCLE AL WILL GREET KIDDIES AT PALACE

Cisco residents are all agog, grown folks and children over the coming to town Saturday and Monday at 10 a. m. at the Palace theater of Uncle Al Benson, nationally known hillbilly man and comedian, of W. H. H. New York, and W. G. N. Chicago. The originator of Bed Time Stories, The Kiddie Surprise Party that he will bring to The Kiddies will be just two hours of fun and joy. Magic so dear to heart of the little folks with rabbits and real live guinea pigs. Community singing, contests, games and novelties that have never been seen before in this part of country. There will be cash prizes and candy given away, while everyone, big and little, will receive a present from the hands of the children's pal. The management of the Palace Theater feels that engaging and bringing Uncle Al and company to Cisco that they are presenting something worthwhile and entirely different from anything shown before, especially for their many little friends, and hope that every child will not fail to be on hand to personally meet the most popular and famous kiddies entertainer in the country.

PLAN TO RID CALIFORNIA OF BANK BANDITS

By CLEM WHITAKER
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 26.—A new epoch of vigilante justice with sudden death riding the trail of the plunderer—an epoch in which bank bandits will be worth more dead than alive—is impending in California.

Bank bandits must halt, Will C. Wood, state banking superintendent declared today in an ultimatum to the underworld fraternity.

If the holdup men fail to heed the warning, Wood asserted, they may soon find themselves in the same category with predatory animals—worth a liberal state bounty dead and nothing alive.

Big Rewards
Singling out the Texas system of paying $5,000 for dead bank robbers, the state official warned that California desperadoes are inviting similar action unless the epidemic of bank holdups is brought to an end.

Wood's statement follows a suggestion of bank holdups in Courtland, Elk Grove, Woodland, Esparto, Oakland, Los Angeles and other California cities during recent weeks.

"Bank robberies are becoming so frequent that drastic action is in order to protect the banks," affirmed Superintendent Wood.

"The robbers are getting bolder in their holdups every day.

A revision to the swift justice of early California days, when bank robbers were seldom taken alive, is being encouraged by these desperadoes."

"Down in Texas, I understand that the bankers' association offers a liberal reward for bank robbers with the proviso that nothing will be paid for live ones."

Crime Cost High
"I hope conditions will not become so bad in California as to necessitate."

TRY JOINT-EASE FOR PAINFUL JOINTS AND RHEUMATIC AGONY

Pharmacists Everywhere in America Recommended This Inexpensive Remedy—Just Rub It On.

"They call this successful preparation 'Joint-Ease' because the man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some law-priced remedy that should really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention."

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared for people who have a swollen, painful, inflamed joint, whether in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, arm or finger and for rheumatic agony it is used by thousands.

tate us following the Texas example."

Crime is costing America the stupendous sum of $70,000,000,000 annually, according to data compiled by state investigators, with bank holdups showing one of the biggest increases.

"It is our task to teach the bandit, in the words of Jack Black, that 'You Can't Win' in the business of crime," concluded Wood, "and it looks like these outlaws may require a drastic lesson."

BRAIN CONTEST IS LATEST OF YALE SPORTS

NEW HAVEN, April 26.—Only submarine races appear to be left of intercollegiate sports of the future, according to the layout of Yale's program of sport events for the spring. Races on land and water and in the air are scheduled already, and only undersea sports have been overlooked.

Strangest of all contests, in the minds of old-time followers of Yale sports, is the announced "brain contest" between Yale and Harvard. Ten seniors from each institution are to take examinations before judges selected from Cornell, Brown and Princeton faculties with Professor Charles G. Osgood, of Princeton, as the referee.

The conquest of the air is to be sought by Yale through a team entered in the intercollegiate air races at Mitchell Field, L. I., on June 16. Yale's air team is training above Bethany field west of New Haven.

Orthodox sports are drawing their quotas from the student body with tennis leading the way in numbers of participating men and golf a close second. Yale has dozens of tennis courts and a real golf course. A select group plays polo and is headed for the intercollegiate at Rye, N. Y., late in June.

Water sports were not confined to the leader-coach crew. A large number of students are booked for the Naval training cruise late in June, a proposition that is becoming more and more popular among undergraduates here and almost ranks with the artillery course that for years has been a factor in student life. Swimming is out, being a winter sport here.

CLAIM SOVIET TRAIN WRECKS NOT ACCIDENTS

MOSCOW, April 26.—Engineers and firemen playing cards in locomotive cabs while the passenger trains they are driving are tearing along the tracks at full speed, and drunken station masters shunting one train into another "just to see how much of a collision there will be"—these are among the causes which a railroad committee of inquiry found for the appalling increase in accidents on Soviet owned transportation lines.

14,500 Accidents
The committee reporter that there were 14,500 accidents on Soviet railroads last year in comparison with 6,000 in 1913. For every 100,000 kilometers travelled there were 1.47 accidents before the war and 5.56 last year. On one stretch of 500 miles of the trans-Caucasian road there were 61 serious accidents in 1927 in which 160 persons were killed and 900 seriously injured.

More than 80 per cent of all the mishaps on Soviet railroads, the committee reported, were caused by negligence of train or railroad employees.

Trains Cancelled
Cases were found where trains were cancelled because conductors or engineers failed to show up for work. In more than seven instances during the year trains failed to reach their destinations because switchmen and engineers shunted the hundreds of miles off their course. One game of cards in a locomotive caused a collision in which four persons were killed and 16 injured. The annual loss due to criminal negligence of train crews is estimated at $9,000,000.

elite of Watford, including two hundred girls, were present. The ankle competition was one of the features of the evening, and a hundred shapely ankles were shown beneath a curtain which obscured the identity of the competitors.

At last the judges singled their selections down to five—only three prizes were to be awarded—and everyone waited breathlessly while the judges finally decided on the three winners.

The curtain was raised. To the astonishment of everybody who had not been behind the scenes two of the three prize winners were revealed as men.

They had borrowed silk stockings and high heeled shoes from their sisters and entered the competition as a joke.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE

Leesville, La., Feb. 20, 1925.

My boy was suffering with a very severe case of mastoid trouble and had been under treatment for some time, but grew worse until my physician advised an operation as the only chance for him. I decided to take him to Brown's Sanatorium, Cisco, Texas. I can truthfully say he was cured and back in school in three weeks. Dr. Brown does not use drugs or surgery; only his knowledge and power of healing.

Thankfully, MRS. B. E. HUNT.

PERSONAL MAGNETISM—Personal magnetism is a scientific method of healing and has been practiced as far back as history dates. It is not an experiment but a natural law of healing. So we must turn the hands back on the dial of time and let nature prevail in her liberating of suffering humanity. Men have recognized the existence of this power of force and given it various names. History says this force is "Life." Physicians say it is "Thought" or "Etheric Energy," and Philosophy as represented by Herbert Spencer, who says it is "An infinite energy from which all things proceed."

Livestock Association Nets $29,032 for Cisco in 3 Months

Fifty-Eight Consignments in Last and Large Shipment Sent Out By Cisco Cooperative Livestock Body

Through the First National bank of Cisco, most of the members of the Cisco Cooperative Livestock association have received their checks resulting from sales of the largest shipment of livestock ever sent out through the association since it was organized about 16 years ago. The association has also disbursed one of the largest sums ever received for a single shipment, $7,532.33. The shipment was made April 17.

Five cars of livestock were shipped, with 58 consignments, some, however, had more than one consignment in the shipment, due to different classifications. One car of cattle and four cars of hogs were in this shipment. There were 47 head of cattle and 333 head of hogs. The net weight of the cattle being 27,650 pounds, while the 333 head of hogs tipped the scales at a net weight of 62,320 pounds. The net price received for the cattle was $2,133.44. For the hogs the owners received $5,398.89. The total net receipts were $7,532.33.

With this shipment, the net sum received by the farmers of the Cisco area for the first three and one-half months of 1928 makes a grand total of $29,032.33, which is equal to the payroll of any single medium sized industrial enterprise.

Should the remainder of the year prove as prolific as the first quarter, the receipts through this cooperative organization will approximate more than $100,000, and the American and Roundup does not hesitate in making the assertion that the people of this city would go far to secure an industrial enterprise that would add $100,000 annually to the financial circulation of this city. The money received through the Cisco Cooperative Livestock association is disbursed among Cisco business people.

R. L. Poe is due much credit for the present success of the Cisco Cooperative Livestock association. Mr. Poe had much to do with the formation of the organization when it came into existence 16 years ago as the Pleasant Hill Cooperative association. Through the now lives in Cisco, Mr. Poe has never lost interest in the association he helped to organize, and still acts in an advisory capacity, especially in the shipment of livestock to market. He helps in making up the livestock to complete the cars, and assists in seeing that the shipments are made at the time when prices are best.

LONDON, Eng., April 26.—Woman, having hunted big game in Africa, attempted to fly the Atlantic, and otherwise proved that the so-called gentle sex is the equal of the male in dangerous enterprise, has now turned her attention to the Arctic regions as a field of possible conquest. Headed by a male, John C. Bee-Mason, who accompanied the late Sir Ernest Shackleton in various exploratory enterprises, a party of wealthy English women will leave England some time in June for Spitzbergen and the Arctic, with the intention of spending the summer there hunting polar bears, seals and walrus. The arrangements at present are that with the exception of Bee-Mason and the crew of the vessel making the trip, the party shall be composed entirely of women. "I find that in these days it is women who like to do novel and adventurous things," Bee-Mason told International News Service. "That is why this new kind of tour has been arranged. Not that there will be any hardship. Comfortable cabins have been installed in the boat and a famous firm has the contract for the catering. The boat will be entirely under the control of the captain, and consequently nothing foolishly hazardous will be undertaken. The scenery is magnificent, and there is permanent daylight. The shooting is first rate. It is purely a pleasure cruise, and of a novel kind. There will be a woman doctor on board, and we shall carry radio. We intend sailing from England the middle of June for Spitzbergen. From there we shall sail for about a thousand miles in the Norwegian fjords."

An Extra Measure of Service

The value of banking service is determined, in the final analysis, by the measure of care and courtesy extended over and above the routine attention which each customer has a right to expect as a matter of course.

The slogan of this bank is "not how little service we can give, but how much."

the murders in England had been solved but took no credit for the fact. He mentioned his police was highly organized but did not boast of the efforts it has made to reduce crime in the British Islands. Asked what he would do if he were in charge of the police of Chicago to clear up gangland, Dr. Dixon smiled and said that it would require long intensive study. When asked if he believed prohibition had materially affected the increase in crime, he didn't answer. Mr. Dixon seemed to emanate that motto of Scotland Yard which is generally believed to say nothing until you know something, and then act.

CISCO 2ND IN SCHOLASTIC ENROLLMENT

EASTLAND, April 26.—Miss Beulah Speer, county school superintendent, after a tentative canvass of the reports of the scholastic census of Eastland county, announces the approximate number of children within school age in the county to be 2,223. This is a decrease of the scholastics under 1927, which enrollment was 2,391, showing a falling off under that of last year of 168. Miss Speer states that the decrease appeared in both the independent and common school districts. The common schools last year showed a total enrollment of 2,672, as compared with 2,563 this year. The enrollment for the independent districts last year was 6,718, as compared to 6,637 this year. The Ranger district, which includes the Tiffin and Merriman schools, showed the largest enrollment this year, having a total of 1,817, while Cisco, which includes only the city, was second with an enrollment of 1,503. Eastland was third with 1,260. Olden is the only one of the smaller independent districts that did not show a decrease this year as compared with last year.

CRIME EXPERT FROM ENGLAND VISITS CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 26.—A. L. Dixon, C. B. C. B. E., head of the new Scotland Yard because he is an understudy of state in charge of police to His Majesty King George of England, was a recent visitor in Chicago and throughout a barrage of questions maintained a complete "poker face" when asked his opinion of crime conditions here. Mr. Dixon is tall, gaunt and rugged faced, with bushy, gray-tinted eyebrows shading peering eyes. He is the executive head of all the police departments of England, Wales and Scotland. "Crime is very boring," he said as he adjusted the folds of a gray topcoat and tapped the ground with his stick. "Chicago crime? Surely you know much more about it than I do. "No, we haven't any so-called gangsters in England but we have the normal amount of crime." "You are a criminologist?" he was asked. "No," he answered calmly, "only an official." "How do murder figures in England compare with those in this country?" "Really, they have been published time and again. I think we have about twenty murders a year." Mr. Dixon admitted that most of
