NUMBER 54

TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

ARANSAS - CORPUS CHRISTI PORT.—That the Corpus-Christi-Aransas Gulf coast section is soon to become one of the South's greatest shipping points, and that, too, at an early date, is now definitely assured with the deepening of the Port Aransas channel. This is a realization of a vision of more than forty years on the part of a number of forward-looking citizens of that section. Just now interest is largely centered in the activities of the Humble Pipe Line company at Harbor Island, where a 1,000-foot bulkhead, 12 feet high, has been completed to provide for wharves and docks suitable for the loading of the largest oil tankers afloat—at least four of them at a time. A 30-foot turning basin, 60 feet wide and 3,000 feet long, is to be provided at Harbor Island. The Humble company is building a small refinery at Ingleside, and it is thought that this will be expanded as rapidly as the shipping justifies. Just what specific point will be the center of the greatest activities around this port is hard to determine just yet, but it is easy to see that the entire sea and bay front in the Corpus Christi-Aransas section is entering an era of remarkable development.

SAN ANTONIO-NORTHWEST-EERN ROAD.—If commercial interests are as alert as they are reputed to be, they will lose no time in building that railway line to the Northwest from San Antonio, and to accomplish this Corpus Christi, San Antonio, San Angelo, Brownwood and all the towns between these points need to work together with certain railway interests. There is an immense freight tonnage in the Central-West Texas territory that can be drawn to the Corpus Christi seaport as soon as it can get an outlet by rail, and with proper railroad facilities this tonnage will increase rapidly. San Antonio is losing a large volume of trade because it lacks quick rail facilities into a territory already rich in resources and developing at an astonishing rate.

MINING FOR POTASH.—Midland, Ector and Upton counties are to be centers of mining for potash. The American Potash company has been incorporated for that purpose. Several million dollars will be spent in machinery and equipment to mine and refine the large potash deposits now known to exist in that section. Texas will soon be freed from paying tribute to foreign countries for the making of artificial fertilizers and will be supplying the United States with potash as it is now supplying the country with sulphur.

MEXICO AIR MAIL.—An agreement between this country and Mexico assures immediate airmail service between the two countries by way of Houston and Brownsville. It is also stated that if the business warrants it an additional aerial postal service will be established through Laredo, connecting with the line from San Antonio to Chicago.

SAN ANTONIO FLYING FIELD.—President Coolidge has asked for a $587,975 deficiency appropriation for building and equipment at the San Antonio flying field, and also that the secretary of war be authorized to enter into contract for the construction of the new field to the extent of $2,685,000 as provided in the omnibus bill, and that appropriations $1,781,000 for barracks and officers quarters be available for the new field. San Antonio is indebted to its fine climate and clear atmosphere for this immense flying field appropriation and the larger additional forces that will be required to carry on the training. All Texas will gain by having the government center its aerial training in the state, as thousands will in this way come to know the state.

PAVING LIENS UPHELD.—Of interest to every town in Texas is a decision of the supreme court sustaining the statute giving preference to paying liens and holding that paying liens are superior to existing or mortgage liens on non-homestead property, including vendors' liens.

WHEELER COUNTY BONDS.—After having failed last December to vote a bond issue of $1,000,000 for road building, Wheeler county has voted the bonds in a second election by a vote of 1,452 for and 689 against. Almost the entire Panhandle section of Texas will be covered with hard-surfaced roads at least between the counties.

THE WEATHER.—Fair and colder to Mrs. V. today fair. A breeze tonight cloudy and clear in southwest. Tuesday.

MILLIONS WELCOME AIR HEROES

Norman Ball's 115 Frogs See Anota

NEWS TOAD IS HONORED WHEN KINSMEN CALL

Miss Anota Rip, the Daily News frog, has received the greatest honor ever accorded any frog since the world began, says W. H. LaRoque, her keeper. Sunday afternoon Norman Ball, four-year-old naturalist, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Ball, 696 West Seventh street, brought his entire collection of horned frogs—consisting of 115 live specimens of all sexes, ages and sizes—to visit with Miss Anota and give her honor before she enters into her long sleep in the interest of science.

Great men and women, kings and queens of the earth, have been visited by vast retinues of people, eager to see and do honor to those whose fame had spread to the remote places of the world. Solomon was wont to receive the travelers from the East where the fame of his riches and glory had been spread. Likewise Cleopatra, the beautiful Egyptian queen, who swayed the passions of men and kings alike, so that they forgot honor, country and all in following her slightest beck and call.

For a thousand years the Mohammedans have journeyed in unnumbered throngs to their sacred city, Mecca, to do honor to him who is buried there. But never in the annals of recorded history has a single frog been visited and honored by such a bevy of horned toads as did little Norman Ball bring to visit with Miss Anota Rip, who is now residing in the garden of Mr. LaRoque, advertising manager of the Cisco Daily News and Cisco American and Round-up.

It has been said that every child who expects to rise above his fellows, should choose not only his parents but his grandparents as well. Meaning that good blood and ancestry count in the making of character. In this respect little Norman has at least chosen his parents well for what seems the outstanding trend of his apparently naturalistic tendencies. His father is known as a skillful surgeon. As everyone knows, a surgeon must have no fear—a tremor oftentimes would be the death of a patient when being operated upon. He must be a man with a steady nerve. And so the father is accounted for. To see Mrs. Ball put her hand in the box with a squirming bunch of 115 live, squirming frogs and stir them about, just as she might a brood of baby chicks, one will immediately see that the mother has no false sense of feminine timidity and fear of crawling things.

So it seems that Norman has been born to grow up a collector of frogs, worms, bugs and such like—perhaps a famous naturalist. In a few days Anota will have her picture in the state and local papers along with Norman and his vast collection who came to do her honor. Then she will be ready to enter her corner stone and be shown for a while in the windows of enterprising merchants who will have joined the "Frog Club."

Already those who want to be first have been calling on Mr. LaRoque for an early booking, realizing that hundreds of Daily News readers who have been following the story of Miss Anota Rip, will be anxious to see her sealed up in a beautiful corner stone.

CHICAGO, April 30.—The greatest man hunt in recent years was in progress here today for four bandits who last night shot and killed 16-year-old Pearl Egerson, cashier of a theater in Berwyn, a Chicago suburb. In addition to the destruction of one entire unit two others were damaged. The loss is estimated at $3,000. Half of the building was burned. The plant will be repaired and the building rebuilt, officials of the company said. The loss was covered by insurance. No one was hurt. The Eastland fire department answered the call sent in from the plant.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH BEGINS REVIVAL MEET

The opening services of the revival meeting at the First Baptist church were well attended yesterday. There were 346 in the Sunday school and a full house for the morning service. The young people's meeting reported 65 present. There was an increased attendance at the evening service.

THOUSANDS CHEER

On their routes to and from church and to and from the Lambs club the aviators received the acclaim of thousands who were kept in check by patrolmen and motorcycle officers who escorted their automobile on every movement. During the day hundreds of persons stood outside the hotel waiting for a glimpse of the three and in the great glided lobby and upper corridors of the Ritz other policemen were stationed to keep out those without official passes.

WHEELER COUNTY BONDS

After having failed last December to vote a bond issue of $1,000,000 for road building, Wheeler county has voted the bonds in a second election by a vote of 1,452 for and 689 against. Almost the entire Panhandle section of Texas will be covered with hard-surfaced roads at least between the counties.

Streets Are Lined by Throngs to Get Glimpse of First Aviators to Cross Atlantic Ocean from Europe

CISCOANS TUNE IN ON AIRMEN'S N. Y. WELCOME

Ciscoans were listening in today on the reception being accorded the three Bremen aviators in New York City. In an elaborate hook-up every detail of the parade and reception was being broadcast by Station WOR, municipal broadcasting station on the 27th floor of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. building.

When the parade arrived at the city hall reviewing stand Koehl and Fitzmaurice recognized their wives who landed here this morning. They rushed from their automobile and embraced them publicly. Little Patricia Fitzmaurice, the Irish flier's small daughter, was a popular figure. After their introduction, the three fliers expressed profound gratitude for their magnificent welcome, declaring they felt quite at home in New York.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Police estimate that 2,500,000 New Yorkers will line the sidewalk and gaze from balconies and windows along the triumphant route marked for the two Germans and one fearless Irish aviator when Gotham pays its tribute later today to the first fliers to span the Atlantic ocean in a westward flight in airplane. Flags of the United States, Germany and Ireland bedecked all the streets of downtown New York.

In a luxurious suite in the Ritz Carlton hotel, where they had come on their return from Washington Saturday night, Captain Herman Koehl, Major James Fitzmaurice and Baron Guntler Von Huenefeld were carefully guarded from the milling throngs they have attracted. For hours, however, they received friends informally and submitted to newspaper interviews.

Out of a Sunday which failed to develop any extended plans for the aviators' stay in America came the possibility that Major Fitzmaurice, dapper commander in the air forces of the Irish Free State, would quit military service and enter the field of commercial flying. He failed, however, to add details of his plans.

Returned Trip Probable. Fitzmaurice, who did most of the talking with newspaper men Sunday afternoon, would not be any more definite about the possibility of a return flight to Europe in his statement that the adventure is a probability.

The length of their stay in America has not been decided, Fitzmaurice said, although he and his companions again indicated their determination to complete by air their Biddondee-New York flight, interrupted on isolated Greenly Island in Labrador two weeks ago.

The aviators were guests of Mayor Walker at the Lambs club gambo last night, while earlier in the evening they were invited to dinner at the home of H. Schuengel of the North German Lloyd lines for which the baron is publicity agent in Europe.

OPEN FISHING SEASON BEGINS AT 12 TONIGHT

Mayor Williamson announced today that the ban on fishing in city owned waters of Cisco will be lifted at 12 o'clock tonight, but it is hardly possible that many of the sportsmen will be casting for the game fish in Lake Cisco before daylight. The prevailing high winds that have featured April, the month of showers, has been anything but promising for good fishing for the early days of the season, and only 32 season permits have been issued by the city secretary for the opening of the fishing season. It is announced by A. W. Hubbard, game warden, that the squirrel season, which has been closed for two months, will also open tonight.

It was announced at the city hall that fishing permits may be obtained at the city secretary's office from 8 a. m. till 5 p. m., and at the police department from 5 p. m. till 8 a. m. Also at Gray Hardware Co. and Collins Hardware Co. during all business hours. It will cost $10 to obtain a season permit, but 24 hour permits are issued for 50 cents. The big rush for fishing permits is expected to begin about the middle of the month, when the water warms up, and after a few showers fall. The lake is full of fish and they are as game as fighting chickens, S. B. Wright, superintendent of the state fish hatchery reported this morning.

MANY PRESENT AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUN.

Large congregations attended both services at the First Christian church Sunday. At the morning hour the choir rendered "The Soldiers' March" by Wagner. The minister spoke on the subject, "God's Plan in Stewardship: the Motive Love." Biblical scenes were shown Sunday night. The program was very helpful and inspiring. There were two confessions during the day with impressive baptismal service at the close of the evening program.

One of our exchanges, speaking of the methods used by United States Senator Walsh in his investigations, refers to him as "rough dry."

CITIES HAVE CHARACTER

Different places have different characters. You have heard persons declare that they did not like the folks of such and such towns. At first glance it might seem that such a state of mind were mere prejudice, that persons are persons, that the inhabitants of one town in America are very like the inhabitants of any other town; thinking substantially the same ways, having approximately the same ideals and the same attitude toward the fundamentals of life, its niceties and its courtesies.

Municipalities have their distinctive personalities. The personality of one town may differ from that of another town as the personality of one person differs from another's. Probably that is explained by the fact that birds of a feather flock by themselves—that like attracts like. A town of a certain kind will attract persons of a certain kind; even different kinds of districts in the same town attract different kinds of persons.

The difference in the characters of cities was clearly demonstrated through the behavior of three cities located in the same region at the time the Second Hundred-Million-Dollar War Fund was being raised by the American Red Cross. Quotas had been worked out as scientifically and equitably as possible. The first of the three cities had been given a quota of $300,000; but the leading men of that city sat around a counsel table and with poker faces and fishy eyes bargained, dickered and haggled with a representative of the Red Cross until they maneuvered their quota down to $250,000.

The second city half the size of the first was given a goal of $150,000. This was cheerfully accepted and $450,000 raised.

The third city was apportioned $100,000 which it accepted without comment and delivered to a penny, no more, no less.

There are communities that have the reputation of giving trouble to all outsiders who deal with them. I have in mind one city which rarely enters into a contract for outside service of any magnitude that there is not controversy and small, mean, tricky dealings, so much so that there are concerns who refuse to have any commerce with that city.

Again, in a town one group of its citizens will be of a certain character, and in another town the same class of persons will be of a decidedly different character.

RAILROAD GROWTH

The progress of American railroading is shown strikingly by a chart in the bulletin of the National City Bank of New York. In 1890 our railroads recorded about 76 billion ton-miles. For 1900 the chart shows 145 billion ton-miles; for 1910, about 260 billion ton-miles; for 1920, over 400 billion ton-miles; and at the peak, in 1926-27, about 450 billion ton-miles. Thus railroad traffic multiplied six times in less than 40 years.

ART AND CHILDREN

Operatic stars are nothing if not superstitious. Metropolitan press agents vouch for these facts: Giuseppe di Luca fears more than two curtain calls, and spins on his heel after every extra one to take the curse off. Frederick Jagel carries a little gold dog in his pocket to protect him. Antonio Scotti kisses a picture of his father and mother every time he is about to sing. Lucrezia Bori and Rosa Ponselle carry religious pictures and statues with them, for good luck. And so it goes. Actors and artists in general are like children. Yet in their childishness we are all fortunate. The genius, someone has said, is such because he remains a child at heart. The rest of us stiffen into unimaginative maturity. Artists keep their plasticity, flexibility, everlasting youth and power to feel, imagine and represent.

WOMEN FLYERS

Two English women, Lady Heath and Lady Bailey, licensed air pilots, have recently flown from England to Africa alone. It is a feat not heralded on this side of the Atlantic, but it has had large results in England in encouraging women to learn to fly. The London Airplane club, which teaches men and women to fly, reports an increasing number of women among its members. Says the chief instructor at the club: "Women are excellent pupils. Generally speaking, they make skillful and steady pilots. The time is coming when flying will displace motoring in popularity for both men and women."

Somehow, since that Chicago primary election, Big Bill Thompson doesn't seem so much interested in flood control on the lower Mississippi.

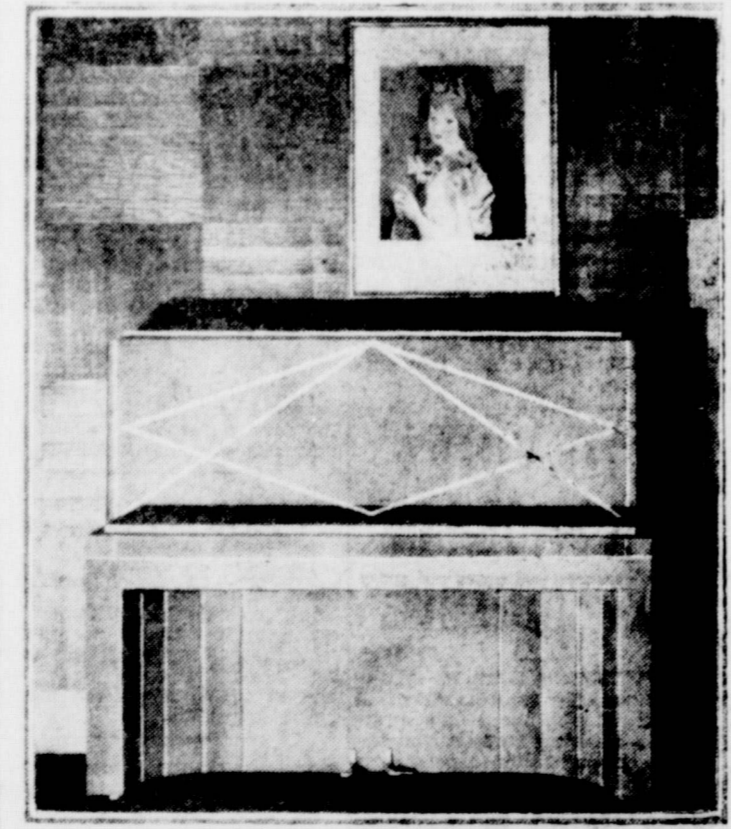

LAST WORDS TO D. A. R.

When William Allen White fired a typical blast at the D. A. R. ladies, a fellow-editor in Kansas expressed mild surprise that White should "take so seriously the blacklisting of certain DARTers." So the venerable and expressive Emporian explains that he has been aroused not for personal reasons, but because his case is merely one item in a widespread "campaign of repression." The ladies of the D. A. R., he finds, question the wisdom of using the government as an agency of human welfare, and prefer to rely upon forces rather than upon the agencies of arbitration, conciliation and discussion to settle international disputes.

"Because the D. A. R.," he says, "think there is but one side to these questions, the D. A. R. has lent itself to the great manufacturers' association and the munition makers through their brass-buttoned puppets in Washington, and has tried to shut off free speech and free discussion. They have blacklisted not only the editor of The Gazette, but 75 organizations in this country including the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Association of University Women, the W. C. T. U., the National Women's Council, Women's Home Missionary Board, and a long list like that, also including every organization to ameliorate the condition of the Jews, the Catholics and the negroes; showing the Kluxer influence. This blue menace is real and The Gazette is out to fight it until the D. A. R. backs up, withdraws its blacklist and gets in a position where George Washington rather than Benedict Arnold can be proud of the organization."

This is explicit and, on the whole, deserved. The ladies, with all their overwhelming majority standing for their index expurgatorious have got themselves in pretty bad with Americans who have not forgotten what the American Revolution was about. Apparently most of the Fathers of the Revolution, if they were living today, would be blacklisted by their great-granddaughters.

A SKYSCRAPER PIANO

Skyscraper pianos have arrived. They mark the capitulation of the last stronghold of old-fashioned furniture in the current rage of modernism. They are called "Modernique" pianos and are the work of Lee Simonson, Helen Dryden and Edward Steichen, leaders in the modernistic art movement in America.

SMOKING SEEN AS HAZARD FOR FIRES IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, April 30 - Smoking matches, defective chimneys and flues were responsible for one-third of the $962,708 fire loss over the state during the month of March, according to T. M. Campbell, Jr., state fire insurance commissioner. One hundred and twenty-five fires originated from unknown causes, the report said, resulting in losses of $317,359. Losses are based on reports made by city fire marshals.

ELSER CONGRATULATED BY THE ALBANY NEWS

Max Elser, of Cisco, was a pleasant caller at the News office this week. Max is a large holder of royalties in Joe B. Matthews' fee, has 1700 acres out there, bought it way back yonder, but his money, and now the Tannehill pool is right in the midst of Max's holdings out there. And say, did you know that away back yonder, some fifteen or twenty years, Max Elser drilled a well out there, either on the Matthews fee or the J. H. Nail, forget which. He got a dry hole, now he's getting his money back. Any damn fool who will bet his money on the oil business in Shackelford county will win, if he will just sit steady in the boat, not lose his grip, and have patience. The nation's coming oil pool is out here in grand old Shackelford county. Congratulations, Max; glad that fortune has at last come your way - Albany news.

HENRY DARES GOVERNOR TO DEBATE ON AL

HOUSTON, April 29 - Taking up the gauntlet thrown down by Dan Moody at Waco Saturday, R. L. Henry, president of the Smith for President Club of Harris county, Sunday challenged the governor to a joint debate on Smith's candidacy here Wednesday night. The challenge, occasioned by the announcement that Moody would speak in Houston Wednesday night, was issued in the form of a special delivery letter addressed to Lynch Davidson, chairman of the Moody-Led "Democrats of Texas" organization. Henry said that if he doesn't receive a reply from Davidson Monday, he will repeat the challenge in a telegram to the governor.

BEE CAVE ROAD CLOSED AFTER 70 YEARS' USE

AUSTIN, April 30 - The old "Bee Cave" road out of Austin, the original cattle drive trail to West Texas, where Robert E. Lee and Albert Sidney Johnson of the Confederacy once traveled, has been closed to traffic after serving more than seventy years. Col. A. J. Zilker, spokesman of a group of 38 protesters, appeared before the city council, asking that the route be reopened. He was told that the thoroughfare was the private property of Austin business men, who fenced it, and that the city had no jurisdiction.

FEAR, FRIGHT OF POISON GAS HAVE EFFECTS

BERKELEY, Cal. April 30.—Instead of reaping a bountiful harvest of deaths, poison gas in war-time for the greater part merely reaps fear and fright in the hearts of those who face it.

This was the pronouncement today of J. M. Scammell, former lecturer in Political Science at the University of California, who is now visiting on the Berkeley campus. Scammell, who himself fought in the war, and has devoted years to practical research of facts connected with warfare, believes gas in warfare is far more human than explosives and by no means as dangerous.

"Since the war ghastly tales of wholesale gassing of cities have been broadcast by imaginative writers and statesmen. As a matter of fact it would be virtually impossible for enough airplanes to break through the anti-aircraft guns of a city and deposit enough gas bombs to do any great damage. During the recent war Germans fired 150,000 mustard gas shells into an area as large as London, with a total of only 50 deaths.

"Fear is the most important effect produced by gas. Wild tales which gripped the imagination were circulated about the deadliness of gas, with the result that more than 300,000 American troops left their battle posts believing they were gassed. They were later found to be untouched. "A city's population would have only to close their doors to be reasonably safe from most gasses. It cannot be too often repeated that the actual physical effects of gas are small, but the moral effects cannot be overestimated."

COLLARS ARE ABSENT IN THE SPRING STYLES

PARIS, April 30.—Collars are conspicuous for their absence this spring. They are practically never seen on the simple type of dresses.

Pointed V-necks, square necks and irregular round ones from a large enough variety to choose from, but these necklines are almost without exception collarless. The collarless neckline is almost universal on sport ensembles, although sometimes there are tie-collars, scarf collars and collars that are buttoned with two tabs crossed under the chin.

Coats are collarless or have such very tiny upstanding ones that they are scarcely noticeable. Patsi is showing one which is most original in the way it continues in long ties hanging far below the waist. There are two rather broad lapels but no neckpiece.

New blouses for wear with tailors have lace-trimmed pabots in place of a collar.

An irregular side movement V-neckline is much used on the afternoon frocks of silk or satin, very often finished off by a jewel.

With the absence of the collar, the scarf is all the more popular, in fact it has become a necessary as well as a very ornamental accessory of the feminine costume and the shops are filled with them in all sorts of gay colors and designs. There are some in very fine crepe resembling georgette and the satin stripes crossing all their surface in a placid design. Others in oblong shape are hand-painted in Cubist design in shaded colors.

DELEGATES TO M. E. SESSION ARE SELECTED

Reserve Bank, has returned to Dallas for a short visit.

At a banquet in his honor here, Mr. Schwulst, whose title now is financial advisor to the Ecuadorian government, described his work and conditions in Quito, the capital, where he organized the bank in August of 1927, and gave thirty-six member banks a central bank where they may discount commercial paper to finance the country's seasonal needs.

The total resources of the country are from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000. Mr. Schwulst said. The government budget for the country of about 2,500,000 population in 1928 calls for the expenditure of $10,000,000.

He compared costs of living there and those in the United States. His home, he said, a nine room brick house, costs him $5 month rental. Two servants who do all the work receive $17 between them. A traffic officer gets from $12 to $16 a month, while the salary of the president of the republic is $500.

BIG 4 STRIKE ON ORIENT RY. IS POSTPONED

WICHITA, Kan., April 30.—Because President Coolidge invoked his power under the railroad labor act to require mediation of labor disputes on railroads, 600 employees of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad, members of the "big four" brotherhoods, are operating their trains as usual.

Union leaders postponed the walkout set for 6 o'clock last night after receiving a message from Samuel F. Winslow, chairman of the mediation board, giving official notice that President Coolidge had appointed a fact-finding board of five to report in the dispute.

"The strike has been postponed, but in no sense called off," the union leaders declared. "Ever since 1923 the Orient men have been working under the understanding that they were to be restored to the standard scale when conditions permitted. It is our belief that the strike will not be called off unless the standard scale is restored."

W. T. Kemper, president of the Orient, expressed gratification that President Coolidge had averted the strike.

The workers were demanding increases ranging from 40 cents to $1.49 per man per day.

President Coolidge's special board of which former Governor Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky is one, is required to report within 30 days, and no strike action can be taken until 30 days following the report.

American Continent Has Been Inhabited for Nearly Million Years, Belief of Scientists

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Man probably has lived on the American continent upwards of a million years, according to recent discoveries made by Smithsonian Institute scientists.

Information indicated that man may have come to America in the Pleistocene or Glacial Age, has been obtained by a Smithsonian party working at Melbourne, Fla., under the direction of Dr. J. W. Gidley.

"Controversy as to the age of man in America has raged for decades and has been particularly active in recent years," said Dr. Gidley. "Additional facts pointed to man's early residence, obtained during the work just concluded, substantiates the firm belief of myself and other paleontologists that man really existed on this continent during the Pleistocene."

Remains Found
In 1916, according to a statement issued by Smithsonian, Dr. E. H. Sellards, at the time state geologist of Florida, discovered human remains at Vero, Fla., associated with fossil bones of animals known only in the Pleistocene. Later an amateur collector made discoveries of similar remains at Melbourne and in 1925 the Amphlett-Smithsonian expedition found a human skull in what were considered Pleistocene beds.

There were three principal geological strata in the area in question. The bones at Vero and Melbourne were found in the middle stratum in beds definitely considered of the Pleistocene. The question whether these bones were deposited in the middle stratum at a later date or whether they were deposited there originally was studied carefully by the new expedition. Gidley found to his own satisfaction that the human bones were placed in the Pleistocene stratum as it was being formed. Digging into the Pleistocene stratum the expedition found such remains of man as bone awls, arrow heads and pieces of pottery. The animal remains found near appeared to have been of the late Glacial Age. The investigators considered that it would have been impossible for the human relics to have been pushed down from higher strata without leaving a trace.

"Good to the last drop"

SWIFTLY it has won the whole country — this special shade of richness from the old South.

Back of it lies one of the few truly great achievements in the art of blending coffees — the genius of a single man.

No other man, perhaps, could have done it. He had grown to manhood in the old South — that land of good things to eat and drink. More than this, he had the hope of creating in coffee a flavor that no one had ever tasted. And the courage to persist until he had perfected it.

In the blend that this southerner finally offered to the great families of Dixie, there was a new, full-bodied smoothness that delighted them. Long ago Maxwell House Coffee became the favorite of the South.

Today the news of its mellow richness has spread swiftly. Maxwell House is now by far the largest selling coffee in the country.

That shade of difference in his blend has come as a new luxury to men and women everywhere who value the fine things of life. He alone has succeeded in combining coffees just this way.

A new adventure awaits you and your family in the rare flavor of Maxwell House Coffee. The full-bodied, mellow liquor, the rich aroma of this blend will bring a new contentment at breakfast and at dinner. Your grocer has Maxwell House Coffee in sealed blue tins.

$75,000 Damage by Fire to Webster Wholesale Grocery

Flames of Unknown Origin Lay Waste to Stock of Firm; Blaze Not to Bring Shutdown

Inflicting one of the largest fire losses that has occurred in Cisco in many months fire of undetermined origin, swept through the wholesale grocery house of J. P. Webster & Sons, situated on East Seventh street, at 8:30 o'clock Sunday night, entailing an estimated loss of approximately $75,000 or $80,000.

The blaze was first observed by Will Holmes, pipe line foreman of the Humble Pipe Line Co., a boarder at the Eppler Hotel, situated immediately across the street from the grocery house. Holmes reported the matter to J. H. McDonald, and the two went across the street, which Mr. McDonald stated, was just getting under way. Unable to gain an entrance they turned in the alarm, and the fire department responded at once and soon had the blaze extinguished, but not until the flames had swept over the entire building. This morning the immense stock of merchandise was blackened, burned and water-soaked mass, with the entire interior of the building charred and burned to such an extent that it will require new material to replace the burned lumber.

Water from the fire machines covered all of the merchandise and filled the cellar to a depth of about three feet. The origin of the fire has not yet been determined, nor has the loss been ascertained. Messrs. A. J. Webster, of Weatherford, and J. G. Webster, of Dallas, members of the firm, reached Cisco at 12 o'clock and will remain here Tuesday, when the adjuster of the insurance companies will arrive to go over the matter and determine the damage done. These gentlemen said it was impossible to say just what the loss would be, or how much stock was carried, though they stated that this is the season of the year when their stock of merchandise carried is the largest. They said that the stock on hand would likely invoice between $75,000 and $110,000, but as the invoices have not yet reached here the exact amount could not be computed. Neither was it definitely known how much insurance was carried, but both stated the losses were fully covered. However, most of this insurance is carried elsewhere, and the policies are in Dallas. It was learned that about $30,000 of this insurance on the building and stock is carried in companies represented by E. P. Crawford, J. M. Williamson & Co. and Connie Davis. All insurance on the building, $22,500, is carried through a local agency.

It was learned through a local agency that the total insurance allowed on the stock was $150,000, with $22,500 permitted on the building. J. B. Cate local manager for J. P. Webster & Sons, estimated the stock on hand at near $100,000. Mr. Cate, A. A. and J. G. Webster, estimated the loss at 90 per cent. Much of the stock can possibly be salvaged, it was stated, but insurance was carried on fire-damaged merchandise would say that the estimated loss of 90 per cent is fully justified. The large damage is due more to water than fire.

"This fire will not interfere with the continuation of the business," J. G. Webster told the Daily News, "as already we have started trucks from the other Webster houses at Dallas, Breckenridge and Weatherford, laden with merchandise, which will be stored in new quarters until the burned building is repaired and made ready for occupancy. This rebuilding will commence just as soon as the losses are adjusted, but in the meantime we are now seeking temporary quarters which will be announced just as soon as suitable location can be secured. Our salesmen are taking orders today as usual, and there will be no delays in deliveries on account of the fire."

18 FOOT SNAKE EMBALMED AT BROWNWOOD
BROWNWOOD, April 30.—An undertaker, in his line of duty, is called on almost daily to embalm the body of some man, woman or child who had died, but only once in a lifetime is an undertaker called on to embalm a snake.
A call was received at a Brownwood undertaking company Saturday from a circus to embalm a huge boy constrictor that had just died at the carnival grounds.
Undaunted by the peculiar call, an ambulance was sent for the snake and he was brought to the embalming room, laid out on the "slab" and embalmed. The snake, the largest owned by the circus, was 18 feet long and said to have weighed 300 pounds. The undertaker charged them "snake prices" for the job.

OIL OPERATORS SEEKING CHECK ON PRODUCTION

FORT WORTH, April 30.—Operators advisory committee named at a meeting in Fort Worth Saturday to formulate and recommend to the Texas railroad commission plans for providing in advance for expected over-production adjourned late Saturday without having formulated any definite recommendation. They will meet again in Fort Worth Monday, May 7, at which time individual members of the committee is to present material for action.

Discussion at committee meeting brought doubt on the part of members that there is any grounds for exercise of power on the part of the railroad commission such as was exercised in Winkler county, since all wells are not shut in, and for that reason no waste can exist at this time.
With the Howard pro-rating resting temporarily, interest this week will turn to further development in Winkler county. On Tuesday the pro-rating executive committee of operators, selected by the whole body of operators and confirmed by the commission, will meet in the field with H. N. Pardee, umpire, to formulate plans for putting into effect ordered prorating by May 5. First task of the committee will be determining the potential production of all wells in the field.
The Pecos county prorators will not meet again until May 15, when it is expected that a new plan for that field will be adopted to replace the present one.

RANGER CREAM ROUTE YIELDS 35 GAL. A DAY

RANGER, April 30.—The Ranger cream route that serves the communities of Alameda, Staff and Cheaney, is still functioning. When the route was established Cross Roads was included but this community has been dropped. An average of 35 gallons of sweet cream a day is being purchased by the Banner Ice Cream company, from farmers and dairymen along the rural milk route, according to a statement made Saturday by C. E. Shields, manager of the company. The route has been run continuously since its inauguration, with the exception of one or two days, Shields said, but the number now selling milk to the local concern is comparatively small. It is the belief of Shields that it will be at least 10 months until the route will be established successfully. This is due to the fact that in the communities where the route is being run, there are many cows that are not productive enough to pay for their upkeep.

A mass meeting of citizens of the Kokomo community will be held there Wednesday night for the purpose of discussing the extension of the cream route now being operated out of Ranger. According to County Agent J. C. Patterson, who will attend the Kokomo meeting, who will attend the Kokomo meeting, the people of that community are greatly interested in the dairy movement that has been gaining momentum in Eastland county for several weeks.

CHICAGO PLANS BIG PROGRAM FOR SCIENTISTS

CHICAGO, April 29.—One of the most noteworthy gatherings of scientists of the year will take place at Northwestern University in Evanston from July 23 to August 18. The Institute of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society, in its second annual meeting, will consider such fascinating and fundamental questions as the processes of formation and maintenance of life, public health, farm relief through science and national defense.
Twenty-eight conferences, in which scientists from the universities and the industries will describe developments in major fields of chemistry, will feature the work of the institute.
According to the plan the institute will function as an international clearing house of knowledge in chemical science. The Evanston gathering will attract hundreds of chemists, both men and women from the United States, Canada and Europe.

General Problems
During the week of July 23 several conferences will be held on general problems of developing new markets other than food for agricultural products by means of chemistry. A second group of seven conferences during the week of July 30 will take up fertilizers, catalysis, hydrogenation, organic chemistry, antioxidants and utilization of energy of high intensity in producing chemical reactions.

Health, the use of physics in chemistry in studying life processes, chemical hazards, petroleum, resins, lacquers and paints will be taken up at several conferences in the week of August 6. Sanitation, the packing industry, leather, chemical literature, ceramics, alloys and chemistry and other sciences in national defense will be discussed at a series of seven conferences in the concluding week of August 13.
"The chemists will discuss ways in which they can provide farm relief by developing new markets for agricultural products," said a statement issued by the national so-city. "One aim will be to wipe out wastes, proper conversion of which, it is estimated, would mean an annual gain in the value of farm products of $3,000,000,000."

Foreign Delicates
"Through chemistry, scientists vision the rise of great industries based on raw materials of the farm now un-utilized."
Among the foreign scientists who will come to America, to participate in the institute is Sir James Colquhoun Irvine, principal and vice-chancellor of the University of St. Andrews, Scotland. Sir James, internationally known as an investigator of sugar, will deliver lectures both to professional chemists and to laymen.

The Chicago institute is one of the three big national gatherings planned by the American Chemical Society for the year. Flappers Preferred in Business; Few Jobs Seek Sedate Efficiency Welfare Worker Finds After Survey

By FRANCIS E. HEALY
 CHICAGO, April 30.—The average Mr. Business Man when he sets out to hire a stenographer, filling clerk or woman switchboard operator, wants "em' young and good-looking."
 "No one over 25 need apply."
 That short sentence has created a panic regarded of serious proportions among women of middle age in Chicago who must earn their own living.
 Mrs. Minnie M. Chapman, general superintendent of the Woman's Church Federation Protectorate, addressing a large group of women at a recent session here, made the charge that the city's shrewdest business men openly prefer the irresponsibility of youth to the sedate efficiency of middle age in hiring women employees.
Charge is Sustained
 A canvass of leading employment agencies and interviews with job-hunters corroborated Mrs. Chapman's charge. At a large agency conducted here by one of the largest makers of typewriters the woman in charge, middle aged, said that all the women she sent out for prospective positions those "under 25" were the ones most readily accepted.
 Coming in contact with thousands of women, old, middle aged and young, the head of the employment bureau had had an excellent opportunity to judge the needs of the modern business men and the women who apply for positions.
 "Nine times out of ten I will send some silly little flapper without an ounce of brains in her head to a firm that I know from experience would not employ a capable woman and the flapper lands the job."
In Law Offices
 Lawyers, as a rule, hire middle aged women for their stenographers more than any other type of men, I have found. Contractors are not quite so particular. Business men past 50 years of age, if they are not silly and in their second childhood, usually wish capable women over 30 or 35 years of age.
 "It's the young men, about 27 or so, recently promoted to a position where their boss lets them hire a stenographer that bother the life out of me for pretty and young girls."
 "I have found that when a man has really complicated work to be done, such as in a law office with its difficult phraseology of words, he wants a good stenographer regardless of height, size, weight, age or nationality.
 "These days a stenographer truly must have 'it' to get a job."

EUCADOR MAKES DALLAS BANKER FINANCIAL HEAD

DALLAS, Texas, April 30.—After organizing a Federal Reserve Bank system in Ecuador and putting the country's currency on a gold basis where the people hadn't smelled gold in twelve or thirteen years, Earl B. Schwulst, former manager of the loan department of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank, has returned to Dallas for a short visit.
 At a banquet in his honor here, Mr. Schwulst, whose title now is financial advisor to the Ecuadorian government, described his work and conditions in Quito, the capital, where he organized the bank in August of 1927, and gave thirty-six member banks a central bank where they may rediscount commercial paper to finance the country's seasonal needs.
 The total resources of the country are from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000, Mr. Schwulst said. The total government budget for the country of about 2,500,000 population for 1928 calls for the expenditure of $10,000,000.
 He compared costs of living there and those in the United States. His home, he said, a nine-room brick house, costs him $50 month rental. Two servants who do all the work receive $17 between them. A traffic officer gets from $12 to $16 a month, while the salary of the president of the republic is $500.

WACO TO PUT UP FIGHT ON BAYLOR MOVE

WACO, April 29.—Indications that Waco's fight against the recommended removal of Baylor University to Dallas has just started is seen in the terse comments on the recommendation made by Mayor T. D. Brooks, E. W. Marshall, president of the chamber of commerce, and Dr. K. H. Aynesworth, member of the chamber of commerce Baylor committee.
 "If I understand the spirit of the people of Waco, they will carry their case to the Texas Baptist convention," was the comment from Mayor Brooks, who is also a member of the Baylor faculty. He would not enlarge upon his statement.
 "The matter is not settled," declared Dr. Aynesworth. He was also unwilling to go more into details.
 "Further action is now up to the Baylor committee and the directors of the chamber of commerce," was the statement from Marshall. He declared that he was unwilling to comment further upon the action of the relocation committee without a more detailed study of the report which was prepared by it.

PROFITS SMALL FOR GERMANY; TAXES BLAMED

BERLIN, April 30.—Despite the fact that satisfactory business conditions prevailed in Germany during 1927, the balance sheets of the industry of that country, just available, show dividend levels apparently are little higher than during the preceding year, according to reports to the Commerce Department at Washington by Commercial Attache Fayette W. Allport at Berlin.
 "In numerous instances the relatively high activity of the year was not reflected in a corresponding increase in net profits," Allport said.
 "This dividend situation was considered more unusual in view of the fact that during 1926 the first six months were marked by severe business depression, according to Allport.
 "The increase in overhead costs is an outstanding feature of many of the industrial balance sheets," Allport continued. "Wages have risen more rapidly than prices. The activity of 1927 is referred to as a 'quantity boom'—suggestive of the prosperity without profits that has been said to have characterized American industry during the same period."
Burdensome Taxes
 Among the other items that have consumed profits during the past year are mentioned in the increased burden of taxation, shorter life of machinery and equipment resulting from the frequency of technical improvements, and the replenishment of stocks. In the textile and several other industries, however, the 1927 dividends are substantially above those of 1926—particularly where the labor cost is small in proportion to the "end price" of the product, according to Allport.

 In the case of leading commercial banks the absence of a dividend increase was most marked. The larger turnover has led to an increase in income from fees and charges, but this has been offset by lower interest returns, and the absence of customary profits from stock-exchange operations, owing to the steady decline in stock trading following the May panic.
 "The greatest inroads in profits have come from increased operating expenses as revealed by the reports of banks," Allport said.
 "The position of mortgage banks is somewhat better. The first and last quarters of the year brought mortgage bond sales to a higher level than for sometime previous. Consequently an increase in dividends is noted in some cases.
 "For the shipping companies 1927 was unusually favorable and was reflected in their dividend payments. The increases are to some extent attributable to the ultraconservative dividend policy of these companies in 1926."
Shipping Dividends
 The Hamburg American Line and Norddeutscher Lloyd paid eighty percent, as compared to six percent in 1926. The Hansa Dampfschiffahrts Gesellschaft increased from six to ten percent while other companies had similar or higher dividends in 1927.
 "It would be unfair to assume that the absence of dividend increases in the basic industries indicates that the German program of 'rationalism' has been a failure, however," Allport said. "In many cases the absence of higher dividends is traceable to extra costs of reorganization and consolidation."

BRECKENRIDGE, April 30.—Pecan growers and experts to the number of at least 50 will gather in Breckenridge on Wednesday for the semi-annual convention of the Brazos Valley Pecan Growers association. Blanton of Abilene, congressional representative from this district and candidate for junior United States senator from Texas, will be present for a brief talk. The meeting here will elect officers for the ensuing 12 months, and in that respect it is the more important of the two conventions to be held during the next 12 months period.
 Two sessions will be conducted, one to convene Wednesday morning at the city hall, and the second to take place at the Tom Herber pecan grove, on the Clear Fork where demonstrations in budding and grafting will take place, along with other features which are planned. SHACKELFORD VOTES $300,000 HIGHWAY BOND

ALBANY, April 30.—Returns from all except two small boxes, which could not after the result, showed Saturday night that voters in Shackelford county road district No. 2 voted by a majority of 10 to 1 to issue road bonds totaling $300,000. In the city of Albany the bond issue was favored by 15 to 1. A 15-mile gap in highway No. 1-A between here and Abilene, the strip of No. 23 from Albany north to the Throckmorton county line, and improvement of lateral roads and bridges will be financed with the bond issue.
 Included in the lateral road projects to be completed with proceeds from the bonds are those leading to the Ibox and Cooke oil fields, bridges on those roads, and extensive grading and drainage work on the road leading toward Baird.
 Paving of the strip of No. 1-A west of here will close the last unpaved gap on the Bankhead highway from Dallas to Abilene, via the north loop, which branches westward from the south loop at Metcalf Gap in Palo Pinto county, leading through Breckenridge and Albany, where it meets Federal highway No. 80.
 Projected paving of No. 23 north to Fort Griffin on the Throckmorton county line, will open an unusually valuable artery for all-weather north-and-south traffic. This is the second important development of the week for No. 23. Last Wednesday the state highway commission awarded the contract for one-course asphalt treatment of 45 miles of the road, leading diagonally from northeast to southwest, across Coleman county. This highway is already improved from Cisco to Rising Star.
