TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

GERMAN SPINNERS PLEASED.—The fifteen German cotton spinners who are touring the cotton section to learn at first hand something of the American cotton production, expressed delight at the hospitality shown them wherever they go and especially in Texas, where it surpassed anything in their travels. At Dallas they were amazed by the many skyscraper buildings seen, and expressed surprise at the many evidences of prosperity seen there and throughout the state. Theodor Schwartz, head of the party, said: "If our German people only knew what hospitable treatment would be accorded them, as evidenced in our Dallas visit, they would flock to Texas like so many boll weevils." These fifteen cotton spinners represent one-tenth of the entire cotton manufacturing industry of Germany, and their visit will establish closer business relations between Texas and Germany, especially in the cotton trade.

SECTIONAL LINES GONE.—At a dinner given in New York by Adolph Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, in honor of three prominent publishers, including our own Jesse Jones, Mr. Jones stated that so far as Texas is concerned, there is no longer any North or South "but just one America," and that Texans are just as nationally-minded and internationally-minded as the people of New York. He expressed a hope that one of the great results of holding the convention in Houston would be to wipe out sectional lines. Texas hospitality is going to play a big part in doing that, and this hospitality is going to be shown in all parts of the state to which the convention delegates may go while in Texas.

FORD'S CHECK RETURNED.—Texas has a woman secretary of state who believes in tracking the law, so she did not hesitate to return a check sent to her by the Ford Motor company for its franchise tax. Secretary of State Jane Y. McCallum believes that cash, which the law requires to be paid for such taxes, does not mean checks, but the money itself, so she applied the rule of the department to Ford's $8,000 check just as she does to other corporations.

WIGGLE-TAIL BOUNTY.—A newly-elected city commissioner at Coleman has posted an offer of 50 cents for the first wiggle-tail of the season sent him and ten cents each for the next dozen received. He was wise in limiting the number of wiggle-tails, or he likely would be swamped with specimens—at least he would be in some places not very remote from Coleman. But Coleman's city commissioner adopted a good plan to prove that mosquitoes breed much earlier than generally thought, and that early efforts should be made to exterminate them.

BUYING SCHOOL GROUNDS.—Corpus Christi has bought 10 acres of ground on which to erect its 30-room high school building. The city has also bought six lots adjoining another school building. Nearly every city in Texas, and many villages have made the mistake of failing to provide enough room for their school buildings and the grounds needed for play. Exercise of the bodies of children is as essential as the training of the mind, and playgrounds are as important in the school program as school rooms.

POINT ISABEL HARBOR.—Returning from Washington, with a group of other Rio Grande Valley citizens, R. B. Creager, noted Republican politician of Brownsville, expresses confidence that favorable action will be taken on the proposed $2,000,000 appropriation for the Point Isabel harbor project. The board of army engineers, since hearing the Valley committee, has adjourned to May 1, without passing on the Point Isabel matter, but the rivers and harbors committee will not report its bill until after the date.

WHEAT CROP IMPROVED.—From nearly every section of North Texas and the Panhandle comes the report that the late cold spells, accompanied as they were by rain or snow, have been a great help to the wheat crop and that prospects for a large yield were never better. Harvesting will likely be delayed somewhat by the late spring.

TEXAS GROWS ANISE.—Anise is a favorite vegetable of the New York Italians and Greeks, and is produced in large quantities in Italy and Greece. Considerable acreage is produced every year by Long Island gardeners for the New York market. Experiments started two years ago by a former Long Island truck grower now trucking at Edouch, Texas, have been so successful that forty cars will be shipped from there this year.

Landing Field Needed for Air Mail

ROUTE IN WEST TEXAS IS SURE SAYS TRIPLITT

If Cisco will only provide a suitable landing field, it is a virtual certainty that this city will be on the air mail route that will eventually serve this section of West Texas, J. W. Triplitt, Cisco postmaster, said today. Although no definite plans are under way at this time for an air mail route here, whenever West Texas shows that it wants such a route it can have it and that is only a question of time, Triplitt said.

"There are many sites that would make satisfactory landing fields that can be obtained now more reasonably than will be possible when the time actually arrives for a West Texas air mail route," Triplitt said. The most desirable would be one near the union depot. That would allow easy access both to the railroads and to the business part of the city.

It is the policy of the postoffice department to establish air mail routes whenever certain sections of the country show that they want them and will support them, the postmaster explained. The government itself does not actually operate the routes but contracts with aviation companies for carrying of the air mail.

"On May 15 we will observe the tenth anniversary of the first air mail service in the United States," Triplitt said. "The first line was established between New York and Washington. From this humble beginning the air mail service has grown to be one of the greatest factors of our every day life.

"This brings to my mind that only a few years ago mail for Rising Star left the Cisco postoffice at 6 a. m. and arrived there about noon. The return trip arrival here was about 6 p. m. Now it never takes over two hours for the trip both ways. The comparison shows the wonderful progress.

"When it was started carrying the mail to Rising Star by motor it was just as much of an experiment as carrying it by plane was later. Today buses and automobiles carry all the star routes and practically every rural route in the United States is carried by auto. It is my prediction that the airplane eventually will supplant the railway mail service as the auto has the horse and wagon on rural and star routes.

"On May 12, 1926, service was established between Fort Worth and Chicago and New York by the National Air Transport. Since then nearly 2,000,000 miles have been covered by the fliers and not a single piece of mail has been lost nor anyone injured or killed.

"In a few days connection will be made between the United States and Mexico via Fort Worth, Waco, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Tampico and Mexico City.

"The National Air Transport is adopting planes that will have a speed of around 112 miles an hour compared with 70 to 75 miles for the old planes. A bill is now in congress to reduce air mail postage to five cents per ounce and when this is accomplished new air mail routes will be established everywhere.

"When mail service was first established in the early days of the United States it cost $5 to send one letter a few miles. Today for 10 cents a letter may leave Cisco at 11:33 a. m. and be delivered in Chicago tomorrow morning or in New York tomorrow evening.

Last of Broadway of America Motorcade Trippers Return to Cisco; Journey Is Described

By J. E. T. PETERS.

The last of the Broadway of America party, who made a study of marketing of milk products returned last night. The high points of the trip, in addition to those mentioned by Judge Lackford, was the reception given us at Arkadelphia and the tremendous number of men, mules and tractors placed at the disposal of the motorcade, getting us through the mud of Arkansas. While in Texas it was nothing uncommon in any of the towns where we stopped to have people who saw the Cisco badges greet us with "Hello there, Lobo." There was a forty mile strip through Arkansas, from Lonoke to Brinkley, where the Cisco badges attracted attention of those people as being the home of Judge Lackford. He served that section for many years as a member of the state senate and as Circuit Judge. The people at Duval's Bluff gave him as great a reception as they did all the balance of the motorcade.

We were pulled by a team of mules at night five miles east from Braville through water, which at times was ten inches deep in the car. A wrecker then towed us nine miles to Brinkley, arriving there at midnight, Thursday, the 19th.

On the trip east from Memphis, we were held up by high water at Jackson, Tennessee. We were unable to approach the regular ferry across the Tennessee river on account of high water in the low lands that river having a flood stage of thirty-eight feet. By detouring, we crossed the Wilson Dam. This structure is over 4,000 feet long, is crossed by a bridge fifty feet wide and at the time of our crossing, 156,000 cubic feet of water was passing through the dam every minute. It looked like Niagara Falls.

In Tennessee we visited the powdered milk plant at Fayetteville and the condensery at Louisville. Being forced to recross the river at Vicksburg, studies were made of milk plants at Tupelo, Aberdeen, Starkville, Kosciusko, and Durant, Mississippi. Between Sturges and Ackerman we were forced to travel over a fresh dump, running the car in low and inter-mediate the entire distance and being pulled two miles by a team of mules. Crossing the river at Vicksburg, we found the Mississippi with a flood stage of forty-three feet. At Marshall we very thoroughly went into the only plant found on our trip being financed at all with local capital.

Yesterday at Dallas one of the local railroads assured us of their willingness to cooperate in locating a milk product plant in Cisco. With the proper cooperation, all of us are thoroughly convinced that this can be done within twelve months.

Without exception every community engaged in intensive dairying and having proper marketing facilities were the most prosperous sections visited. We found several places that the banks told us that the establishment of the local milk plants had doubled both city and rural real estate values. The largest plant visited was the Post Condensed Milk plant at Kosciusko, with a capacity of 270,000 pounds daily.

The banks, farmers, chambers of commerce, officials of milk plants and everyone gave us every facility for gathering information.

Messrs. J. E. Spencer and L. A. White assisted in making the study of dairy developments throughout the entire trip and valuable information was gained.

SIX DROWN WHEN FERRY BOAT IS HIT BY LOG

ABILENE R. R. STATIONS ARE CONSOLIDATED

ABILENE, May 1.—Effective today the railroad stations at Abilene, the Texas & Pacific and the Abilene & Southern, have been consolidated with A. A. Green, local T. & P. agent, as joint station agent of the two lines. It is announced by W. R. Lenz, general manager of the Abilene & Southern.

O. L. Reed, for a number of years local agent of the Abilene & Southern, has been promoted to the position of general agent of the A. & S. In that capacity his duties will cover the entire line from Hamlin to Ballinger. W. R. Daniels is general agent for the Texas & Pacific, stationed here.

Beginning today all less than carload freight for both lines will be received at the Texas & Pacific freight station.

The Abilene & Southern was purchased by the Texas & Pacific from the Morgan Jones estate by authority of the interstate commerce commission issued April 25, 1927. The line extends from Ballinger to Abilene and from Abilene to Hamlin. It has trackage rights over the Abilene & Northern (Wichita Valley) between here and Anson, a distance of 24.62 miles. The total mileage operated is 96.76 miles.

PRIMARY VOTE IN CALIFORNIA TODAY IS HOT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—With a heated three-cornered fight in the ranks of the Democrats holding the spotlight, California voters went to the polls today to cast ballots in the preferential primary election. Herbert Hoover is the sole Republican candidate. The Democrats expect to register a large vote in the selection of delegates favoring Senators Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Montana and Governor Al Smith of New York.

J. L. Thompson and Lute Lawton Are Victims When Fishing Boat Springs Leak; Third Saves Self

J. L. Thompson, 59, and Lute Lawton, 48, were drowned at 7:30 o'clock this morning while fishing in a boat on the waters of Lake Olden, water supply of the Oil Belt Power Co., and Sam Thompson, brother of J. L. Thompson, narrowly missed a watery grave by swimming to the shore after a futile attempt to rescue his companion.

The bodies of Thompson and Lawton had not been recovered at 12:30 o'clock today. Runners were sent to Lake Cisco for diving suits and the lungometer of the Green Funeral Home, and it is anticipated that the bodies will be brought to the surface this afternoon. In the meantime over 1,000 people of England, Ranger and the surrounding country are dragging the lake in an attempt to find the bodies 40 feet below the surface.

The three men were fishing in Lake Olden in a boat some distance from the shore, when the boat sprang a leak and began to fill with water. The three plunged into the water and made an effort to swim out, when Lawton exclaimed he didn't believe he could make it. Sam Thompson then went to his rescue, and about that time J. L. Thompson was seen to be in distress, and Sam started to his rescue when both J. L. Thompson and Lawton went down, according to the report given the Daily News from Ranger. Lawton was the first to go down.

Sam Thompson then returned to the boat, which had capsized and was filling with water, from which he swam to shore after a brief rest.

Both of the drowned men are prominent Ranger citizens and the tragedy has cast a pall over Ranger. Thompson was one of Ranger's wealthy men. He was unmarried, and is survived by two sisters and one brother. Lawton is survived by his widow, one son, Tip Lawton, and a daughter, Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin, of Delmar, N. Y. He was formerly superintendent of the Perkins Oil Co. of Ranger, but at the time of his death was an independent oil operator. The fishing party left Ranger this morning at 3:15 to enjoy the first day of the open season for fishing.

FORMER STOCKMAN IS BURIED AT COLEMAN

Large Delegation Is Attending Methodist Missionary Meeting Here; Mexican Chorus Feature

A large delegation assembled at the First Methodist church at 9:45 this morning for one of the greatest meetings in the history of the Missionary Society of the Cisco district. Mrs. J. E. Hickman of Breckenridge presided. After the devotional exercises Mrs. P. T. Stanford brought greetings from the Cisco Auxiliary to the district. Mrs. W. C. Bedford made the response. The Caddo Auxiliary presented a playlet emphasizing "Voice" culture. The outstanding event of the morning session was the presentation by Miss Rhoda Drago, deaconess of Lyle Wesley House, Thurber of a chorus of Mexican girls who have been instructed by her. This chorus thrilled the audience with their numbers, indicating unusual training, excellent voices and exhibiting wonderful personalities. The girls were very beautifully dressed in white.

The first number presented by the chorus was "He Lives On High," sung in the Mexican language. Next "Jesus Lover of My Soul," sung by Miss Kuykendall of Desdemona, was acted out by the chorus in a very impressive manner. The chorus then sang "Home Sweet Home." As a concluding number the girls sang the Mexican national anthem in their native tongue and then presented "America" in the American language.

Mrs. J. H. Stewart, conference president, made the address of the morning. She stated that the first Auxiliary organized in this district was the Auxiliary of the First Methodist church of Cisco in 1897. She congratulated the societies on the unusual reports and said that a great advance had been made in this district during the last 18 months.

LEE SMITH ON TRIAL IN BANK BANDIT FRAME

ABILENE, May 1.—The second day of the trial of the alleged bandit plant case was commenced in the 42nd district court here this morning with the trial of Lee Smith, charged with the murder of Norberto Diaz, slain with Hilaro Nunez when Victor Ramos, the third Mexican, was wounded. Ramos was his star witness for the state Monday, when he told of the slaying of his two companions in front of the bank at Scranton December 23, and of his employment by C. C. Baze and Lee Smith on the date in Smith's trial for murder here. Baze broke jail some time ago and is still at liberty.

At the time of the slaying Baze announced that the men killed were in the act of robbing the bank, exhibiting a sack of crude burglar tools he said belonged to the men. Later he confessed that he had "framed" the men to collect the $3,000 reward offered by the Texas Bankers' association for "dead bank bandits."

Ramos told of being plied with liquor and transported on a truck to the bank, where he and the other Mexicans were told to wait. Baze and Smith departed, he testified, and on their return Baze cried: "Let's go." The firing then began, he recounted.

"I ran," Ramos testified. "I did not see Smith with the gun. My back was to him. Baze followed me. I was shot four times. Baze struck me with his gun. He said 'I'll let you go, but if you ever come back I'll kill you!'"

EXAMINING TRIAL OF TWO AT SMITHVILLE POSTPONED

SMITHVILLE, May 1.—The examining trial of H. W. Middleton and Mrs. Rosa Waybourne, jointly charged with the murder of the woman's husband, W. W. Rayburn, was postponed indefinitely today in district court when it came up for a scheduled hearing.

SEVEN SUITS AGAINST COL. TABOR DISMISSED

AUSTIN, May 1.—Seven cases of alleged violation of the 54-hour law against Col. A. W. Tabor, superintendent of the Confederate home, were dismissed today. He was charged with working two women nurses more than nine hours a day.

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come into him and sup with him and he with me."

WALK FRONTWARDS, CRABLET!

"I can't understand it," wailed a man sitting on the side of his bed with salt tears running down his face; "I can't comprehend how a son of mine could have done such a thing as that; it is entirely beyond the power of my consciousness to grasp why my son should have taken money that didn't belong to him."

The father who was shocked at his son who had become a thief was himself at heart a thief. He had robbed but he had been slick enough to do it legally.

Recently the writer noticed that a coolness has developed between Miss Sylvia Pankhurst and her mother, presumably on account of Miss Pankhurst's baby. According to reports the baby is a fine boy.

Let's see, who is Miss Pankhurst's mother? Oh, yes, she is Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, head of the militant suffragettes in England. Under Mrs. Pankhurst's leadership, those war-like ladies committed so many crimes, from the smashing of windows to the burning of buildings, that a thousand of them were lodged in jail during 1913.

Strange, then, isn't it, that Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant matron, who didn't give a darn, could be so unconventional. Just as a sidelight, Miss Sylvia stood staunchly by her mother in her mother's irregularities; she fought shoulder to shoulder with her and went to the hoosegow with her. The old crab is ever shocked because the young crab walks sidewise.

RELIGIOUS PEACE IN MEXICO

Word comes from Mexico City that "if the negotiations now going on do not meet with misadventure, the Catholic question will be settled within a month." The government and the church are said to have got together in a spirit of conciliation.

FISH-MEN

"Birdmen are really mothmen," observes a newspaper columnist. "Their airplanes resemble the moth more than they do the bird; but we see more birds than we do moths, and so we think of birds."

THE BOOK BALLYHOO

With all the reading that is being done these days and the surprising popularity of biographies and outlines and other non-fiction works, it is hard to understand why so much ballyhoo is needed to announce a new book.

PETROLEUM PEACE

It was announced recently that the Huasteca Petroleum Company had accepted, for its properties, the Mexican oil land settlement worked out by President Calles and Ambassador Morrow.

DRINKING CLUB PROPOSED BY PROMINENT DOCTOR

Claims Law Agrees to Keep Hands Off if Members Abide by Rules—Sheriff and County Attorney Non-Committal

Excitement reached a high pitch here today when rumors current in certain circles spread the news that an attempt is being made to open up a first-class "drinking club" in this city.

Assigned to the task of tracing down the source of the story, a reporter made inquiry at the courthouse. Law enforcement officers had heard the rumor, but were guarded in their comments.

Those on the inside, who refused to allow their names to be used at this time, would not divulge the name of the "prominent doctor," but stated positively that the club would be opened and that it would operate without interference from the law.

Mrs. Alex Spears greeted the guests and presented them to the receiving line. Mrs. Jack Kelly then showed them into the club room which was decorated artistically with a variety of pastel shade spring flowers. Mrs. L. G. Simon ushered the guests into the dining room where Mrs. J. L. McMurray presided at the door. The dining room was decorated with a profusion of cut flowers. Presiding at the table, which was gorgeously laid with a fllet cover and a center piece of sweet peas and roses, were Mrs. Paul Woods and Miss Ora Truelove. A most attractive ice course carrying out the green and pink color scheme was served. Those assisting in the dining room were: Mesdames P. A. Blankenbecker, Burton Hartley, A. D. Anderson, J. F. West, Misses Lavonia Baker, Addie Fee, Mary Fee, Helen Clayton and Mary Jane Butts. The guests returned to the club room where they enjoyed several hours of bridge. Mrs. Paul Woods was awarded the high score prize. Mrs. W. B. Chapman the consolation prize and Miss Mary Jane Butts the cut prize.

Mrs. Kinnard of Eastland To Be Guest of Music Club.

Mrs. Donald Kinnard of Eastland will be guest artist at the Morris musical Thursday at the home of Mrs. G. M. Stephenson. Mrs. Kinnard will play a program of six numbers at the musical. On May 6 she will be present in a twilight program at Eastland.

Amusus Club Met At Green Lantern.

The members and guests of the Amusus club met Saturday evening at the Green Lantern tea room. Dancing and bridge furnished the diversions for the evening. A good orchestra had been secured and all pronounced the music a great success. In bridge Mrs. Roy Stover was awarded the high score prize. Sandwiches and tea were served to eighteen couples, including a number of guests from Rising Star and Eastland.

CROWELLS FOR XXTH CENTURY CLUB PROGRAM

"Each year the XXth Century club of this city, has been opening its doors to the public on the occasion of its Texas Day program," said Mrs. Ulala Howard Burnett, chairman of the arrangements committee.

"The club has made a strong effort each year to present in this program only those attractions which will tend to upbuild the intellectual life of the community, and encourage original production along literary lines. This year, the members feel that they are especially fortunate, and that the general public will be especially favored by the attractions which they have been able to secure. At a considerable expense to the club, they have secured Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Crowell, well-known Texas poets, for their meeting Friday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, and to which the public is very cordially invited to be present as guests of the club. Mrs. Grace Noll Crowell is the author of two volumes of verse, one of which was published by the "Texas Poetry Society" as the winner in its annual poetry contest. "White Fire" is the title of the winning volume, and "Silver in the Sun" the title of her latest book. Mr. and Mrs. Crowell have each contributed poems to the leading newspapers and journals, and their names are becoming familiar to readers of good literature. We are especially proud of their success, since they are Texas products. They will present numbers from their original poems, and the program will be interspersed with music by local talent.

"The entire membership of the XXth Century club will be hostesses on this occasion, and they are particularly desirous that every seat be filled. The meeting will be held Friday at 3:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church. No admission will be charged, and no collections taken."

LINGERIE TOUCH IS IMPORTANT TO SPRING

PARIS, May 1. — The lingerie touch is so important on new spring frocks that the mere presence of dainty collars and cuffs of some washable fabric at once gives a frock a much smarter air.

Fortunately, it is an economical and easy way of rejuvenating last year's dresses. But unfortunately, it also has the quality of keeping the laundry very busy.

In addition to collars and cuffs, crisp organdie and lace make vesties and jabots which are equally smart and dainty. They are particularly refreshing on frocks of the smart stiff silks such as taffetas, moire or satin. There is a quaint, picturesque quality to the lingerie or lace-trimmed taffeta frock which does a great deal to give its air of novelty and demonstrates effectively the feminine trend of fashions.

Premet is putting a round gilet of white organdie on the blouse of a charming sapphire blue taffeta. This gilet is trimmed with four jabots of organdie edged in black, the top one much larger than the lower three. The sleeves are trimmed with double flaring cuffs, the inner one being of stitched taffeta and the outer cuff of organdie edged in black.

Another model in black taffeta such as our grandmothers used to wear, has the tight sleeves trimmed with ruffles of cream lace which extends almost to the elbow and the surplice closing edged with a similar ruffle in front.

Francois puts neat little turnover collars and cuffs of white pique on her daytime frocks of soft wool or crepe. Nicole Grouit makes the tailleur dainty and feminine by introducing a white lingerie blouse and curving and the jacket closing. A white line blouse is worn with a jacket of white shantung and a pleated skirt of black satin. It is worn with a black and white dotted tie.

NOVEL CONCERT GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL CHAPEL

A novel feature of the chapel service of the high school Monday was the concert given by the Blue Bonnet Trio, composed of the Ely sisters, consisting of instrumental and vocal numbers. One of the novel features of the concert was a vocal number with piano accompaniment, in which all three participated, singing and playing at the same time. While one of the trio was at the piano, another just crowded her away and continued singing and playing the instrument; then another joined her on the piano stool, and still later the first to be deposited joined the other two and began playing the same notes. All the time not a note was missed nor was the song interrupted.

THE LAST JOURNEY

WATCH GONE 6 WEEKS FOUND ON YOUNG MAN

F. J. Pugh, formerly an employe of the Humble company, but more recently turned farmer, had the misfortune to lose his watch and Masonic charm about six weeks ago. He reported the matter to Constable Looney, stating that the watch and charm, both intrinsically of much value, had been taken from his room on the old Mosely farm in the Cook community. It was reported to Looney a few days ago that a young man of that community was seen with the charm dangling from a watch chain. Then the constable and Pugh drove to the farm where the boy was at work. Looney approached him and said: "I came after Pugh's watch." To the constable's surprise the boy pulled the watch and charm from his pocket without any coaxing. He told Looney that he got the watch in Cisco, but gave the constable no satisfactory explanation of how it came into his possession. No action was filed against the young man, as Looney stated he would leave the matter for the grand jury to investigate. But Pugh got his watch.

the cost of prosecution. "I am determined to run these hot check artists down when the matter is turned over to me," Looney said. "I have made several make their checks good lately, and when I get their cases I don't let them go free just by paying the checks. After a case is filed there is court costs, and I propose to see that these fellows pay for their violations of the law."

At a hearing in the county court at Cisco, Texas, on the 28th inst., the court rendered judgment in the case of the Ingrams brothers, who were charged with having assaulted Postmaster D. L. Allen at the time of the robbery. Both will be arraigned in federal court to answer these charges when the state cases are disposed of.

According to E. O. Smith, postal inspector, who investigated the federal phase of the case, and made the complaint against the Ingrams, the two men awoke Allen from his bed about 10 p. m. on March 7 and told him they wanted some medicine. Allen's home is located about 300 feet from the postoffice and general store he conducts. When he went to open the store, the two men, with handkerchiefs over their faces, pressed revolvers against him and demanded that he open the safe which contained government postal funds totaling $15.99. They also took $30 from his pocket.

Although he did not see their faces, Allen is alleged to have identified the two brothers as the men who robbed him and the postoffice safe. He claims to have recognized their voices and general description. Both have lived at Mineral for several years and are widely known in this section of Eastland county.

5 PERMITS TO DAM COLORADO ARE EXTENDED
AUSTIN, May 1.—Five permits held by the Syndicate Power company, backed by the Insull interests, for the construction of dams on the Colorado river, were extended for one year Monday by the state board of water engineers. The company pleaded that the Brownwood water dispute so handicapped plans that another year to get under way was needed. A sixth permit held will not expire for some time.

SUPERCHARGER TO PUT MORE POWER IN CAR
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 1.—Automobiles will be smaller, lighter and more economical in the future, when the supercharger is put into actual practice. Yet they will be at least 20 per cent more powerful than those of today.

These are the promising predictions made by automotive engineers at a recent meeting of the Indiana section of the Society of Automotive Engineers. That the supercharger is being adopted soon as an important part of the regular production automobiles, there is little doubt.

Formal charges of robbery with firearms of the postoffice at Mineral were filed against the Ingrams at Fort Worth Monday before United States Commissioner Flynn. The formal complaint also charges

MONEY ORDERS 75 YEARS OLD ARE PAID OFF
CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 1.—Long time stability of the monetary system in use in the United States has proven here recently when Mrs. Annie W. Davis cashed two $50 money orders issued in 1853 and 1854, respectively.

Back during the gold rush to California, William Call then of Pittsburgh, Pa., succeeded to the call of riches and gold out west. His endeavors proved profitable and he began sending numerous money orders via the Adams Express company to his family in the east. At the death of the elder Call, the family library, among other things, was divided among the children. Mrs. Davis recently was cleaning house and found one of the books she had received from her parents. In it were two money orders, yellow with age.

Mrs. Davis took the slip of paper to the American Railway express office where they were immediately cashed.

FUNERAL HELD AT PUTNAM FOR I. B. ROBINSON
PUTNAM, May 1.—I. B. Robinson, well known citizen of this place, died here April 26, aged 43 years, nine months and 15 days. The remains were buried in the Putnam cemetery following the funeral services which were attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the family.

Deceased came to Putnam several years ago, and was a former constable of the Putnam precinct. He was born July 11, 1884, and leaves a widow four minor children, Josie, Clara and I. B. Jr., who are highly esteemed in Putnam as one of this town's most estimable families. Mrs. Robinson is a member of the Methodist church and one of the most earnest workers in that religious body. Deceased was a son of the late "Grandmother" Robinson, who was recognized as a praying mother, and it is said that her dying request was that her children should meet her in heaven. Besides the many Putnam friends, the widow and children, there were present at the funeral these brothers and sisters: L. E. Robinson, Claiborne, Texas; James Robinson, Wichita Falls, Texas; Mrs. M. E. Burnett, Munday, Texas; Mrs. Josie Robinson, Duffau, Texas.

Somerset, Ky.—Telling how he had known of the merit of Theodor's Black-Draught since he was a boy, Mr. Albert Garland, of this city, recently said:

"I used to work in the mines, but lost quite a bit of time on account of the sick spells I had. I would get to having a bad taste in my mouth, and a very dull, tired feeling and ache. I would have dark spots in front of my eyes, and I would be so dizzy I would stagger like I was drunk. I took medicine, but didn't seem to get any better. My mother told me to try Black-Draught, which I did, and after a few doses I felt much better. Now I take it as soon as I feel the least bad, and I don't get down. I certainly can say that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken. I never get without Black-Draught. If I go on a visit, I take a package along in my suit-case. My health is better now than it has been in years, and I believe it is the use of Black-Draught that did it."

Grievous Error to Move Baylor to

University Will Suffer if It Is Taken from Waco, President Avers; Offer of Cash and Land Misleading

WACO, May 1.—Appealing for Baylor university's remaining in Waco, and discrediting the charge that he might be considering the conveniences to either faculty members or to himself, but was considering only Baylor's continued spiritual welfare to humanity, President S. P. Brooks in chapel Monday declared that "the relocation committee has rendered a decision which I say was in error. . . . And neither the Baptist general convention nor the university's board of trustees, of which I am only an employee, which itself is divided on the question at present, would have any respect for me unless I did announce my stand in the matter at this time."

Dr. Brooks did not claim to make an all-inclusive report which he had written out hastily in pencil. But he did, as his address explains, take cognizance of "conditions" and attempted to take the glamor from Dallas' offer of $1,500,000 cash and 1,000 acres of land for Baylor's location near that city.

Optimism Not Enough
The university site will be four or five miles from the city, on a bare prairie, he showed. It lacks the residential neighborhood essential for boarding houses, which is had in Waco.

"I grant you that with a few millions, you can transform the prairie into a beauty spot; but you can't do it with Baptist optimism," he said.

The education commission, by a majority vote, has recommended the removal of Baylor university to Dallas. The question goes now to the court of final jurisdiction, a called session of the Baptist general convention of Texas, to be held at Mineral Wells June 5.

"I, as president, am an employee of a board of trustees, itself divided as to the matter. I have through 26 years of executive service sought to do the will of the trustees in every possible way to enhance the value of the service of the school to humanity. This type of service I shall continue to render.

Dallas Offer Scored
"I am earnestly opposed to the acceptance of the Dallas offer of $1,500,000 and 1,000 acres of land, because I think it is hopelessly too small to be considered worthy of so great an undertaking.

"The proponents of its acceptance are, in my judgment, swept off their feet by what appears a great offer. What are the facts stripped of all the glamor of city building and visions of real estate profits?"

"The money would erect large buildings, all fireproof structures, better than the ones we have here. But note the fact it overlooks the fireproof modern structures already on our campus, the replacement values of which are over a third of the cash offer.

"The Dallas offer overlooks the utility of the other buildings on our campus, the replacement costs of which will be by the most liberal consideration every dollar of the $1,500,000.

"Hopelessly Inadequate"
"On a new campus five or six miles from the city, there would be no homes for boarding students other than the dormitories. Merely to start with one dormitory for women and another for men would be hopelessly inadequate to house such a student body as is now in Waco.

"I know the Baptists and business men of Waco want to do what they

M'CLUNG TEXT, "LAZARUS AND THE RICH MAN"

Evangelist Claude McClung, who is conducting the revival at the Church of Christ, Broadway and H avenue, is interesting many of the Cisco people with his spiritual messages delivered at each of the services every day. Increased congregations are seen at the church, especially at the evening services, and several have already accepted the invitation of the gospel by giving their hearts to God, and affiliating with the church of their choice.

EVANGELIST MCCLUNG

The subject of the evangelist's sermon Monday night was "The Rich Man and Lazarus," Luke 16:19, 20, the "two extremes of life."

The preacher then drew a picture of what would have been done and said had Lazarus returned to earth from Abraham's companionship, as requested by Dives, "to warn his five brothers back home." "They would have told Lazarus," the preacher said, "of what a good man was their brother; how successful he was in a material way; of the wonderful funeral services for the departed and the beautiful floral offerings. They would doubtless have said to Lazarus: 'And you tell us that our brother has sent you back to visit us? We know he is in heaven, because he was such a good man, never did anything wrong.' Lazarus would probably have replied: 'I hate to say it, but your brother is in hell. The brothers would have discredited him when they told Lazarus to get out. So, if we will not believe the Son of God's message, we will not believe though one rise from the dead,' the evangelist said.

can honorably to hold Baylor university for Waco. They honestly believe it best for the school to remain here. They are willing to go down to blood in giving to this end. Of course, I can not speak for them, but they will later speak for themselves. I confidently believe, when the donations available from Waco are known, the glamor of the Dallas gift will fade to its proper proportions and that the convention will keep the school in Waco."

35 CHANGES IN FIRE RATES TO BE CONSIDERED

AUSTIN, May 1.—Thirty-five proposed changes in the Texas general basis schedule of fire insurance will be considered by the board of insurance commissioners at an open hearing May 16, it was announced by R. B. Cousins, Jr., chairman of the commission.

The propositions include: Pro rata cancellation of blanket policies on grain and reporting form of cover for grain at elevators; cotton gin rate schedule and forms; distribution of coverage clause applicable to lumber yards; application of three-fourths value clause in blanket policies; revision of private garage, hospital, apartment house and crematory plan schedules; credit for automatic cut-off device in moving picture shows; definition of a stand flue and charges for non-standard flues in special class risks.

DIVORCE RATE IN BRITAIN IS SHOWING GAIN

LONDON, May 1.—More than 5,000 petitions for divorce—double the number six years ago—are expected to be dealt with this year.

How the number of marriage failures has risen since 1922 is revealed in the following table:

Year	Applications for Separation	Petitions for Divorce
1922	12,751	2,509
1923	12,738	2,762
1924	12,738	2,913
1925	13,334	2,973
1926	13,966	3,548
1927	14,100	3,818

During the Hilary term in the divorce court, which has just ended, 700 cases were dealt with, and there are 700 cases down for hearing during the term which began this week. There are, in addition, 2,000 cases in the County Assize lists, making a total of 3,400 for the first six months of the year. It is anticipated that the 5,000 mark will be passed easily.

"Cisco's first cream route is continuing to function with increased facilities," declared E. H. Varneil, agricultural vocationalist, to the Daily News this morning. "Starting out with 11 customers and 142 pounds of butterfat Friday, April 29, last Saturday the route patrons had increased to 18, including five living off the route and delivered their own cream to the creamery, with 200 pounds of

Federal Officers Take Hand Against Ingrams; Ratliff Already There and Walser and Hill Will Go to Pen Soon

The cases of Buford and Tim Ingram, brothers, charged by indictment with robbery with firearms of the L. D. Allen store at Nimrod, have been set for trial next Monday, according to J. Lee Cleary, counsel for the Ingrams. At a recent trial of Buford Ingram the jury failed to agree and he was discharged by the court. Buford's retrial will be the first of the companion cases called. Judge Cleary said. A special venire of 75 tall-men have been summoned from which to select a jury to try the Ingrams.

George Walser, who was convicted in the 28th district court, found guilty and sentenced to two years for manslaughter in the death of Harry Sellers, Epanton youth, who was shot to death on the night of January 21, had accepted his sentence but is still in jail. He will likely be conveyed to the penitentiary in a few days.

It is probable that Robert Hill, given 90 years for robbery with firearms in connection with the raid on the First National bank at Cisco, will be taken to Huntsville to begin his sentence at the same time Walser is removed.

Marshal Ratliff, under death sentence for slaying Tim Bedford during the raid on the First National bank, and under two life sentences for robbery with firearms and the death of George W. Carmichael during the bank raid here, has already been taken to the penitentiary where he will remain pending the appeal of his death sentence.

It is not known what disposition will be made of Henry Helms, the third of the convicted bank bandits, who got off with a life sentence for robbery with firearms during the bank holdup. Helms is still in the Eastland county jail with two more indictments against him for the murder of Bedford and Carmichael.

Held On Federal Charges
Judge J. Lee Cleary, counsel for Buford and Tim Ingram, stated this morning that the mandate of the court of criminal appeals granting bond to these defendants as the result of the habeas corpus proceedings before that court, had reached Eastland and bonds have been made for their release, but both were held by Sheriff John Hart on request of the federal department of justice.

Formal charges of robbery with firearms of the postoffice at Nimrod were filed against the Ingrams at Fort Worth Monday before United States Commissioner Flynn. The formal complaint also charges the Ingrams with having assaulted Postmaster D. L. Allen at the time of the robbery. Both will be arraigned in federal court to answer these charges when the state cases are disposed of.

It has been tested and proven at various races and is almost ready for popular use.

By means of this apparatus an engine can be speeded up to almost twice its rate today, without choking for want of proper and sufficient fuel mixture. The supercharger is designed to force enough fuel, and in the proper proportion of air and gas for the high speeds, into the engine so as to keep it running without a miss.

If superchargers are installed in production automobiles, says Louis Schwitzer of Indianapolis, much smaller engines can be used.

"Why," asks Schwitzer, "should 80 per cent of all passenger car operators be penalized by excessive car weight and fuel consumption when they drive 90 per cent of the time at less than 35 miles an hour? About 350 pounds of engine weight and six to ten inches of wheelbase are added to cars to secure the performance which is utilized for perhaps 20 per cent of the total driving time."

While testing a car with a supercharger, recently, Schwitzer said he was able to accelerate past other cars with ease, and driving between 35 and 50 miles an hour was delightful.

5 PERMITS TO DAM COLORADO ARE EXTENDED

AUSTIN, May 1.—Five permits held by the Synchrate Power company, backed by the Insull interests, for the construction of dams on the Colorado river, were extended for one year Monday by the state board of water engineers.

The company pleaded that the Brownwood water dispute so handicapped plans that another year to get under way was needed.

A sixth permit held will not expire for some time.

Chairman John A. Norris of the board and Member C. S. Clark signed the order. A. H. Dunlap, other members, was out of town but the matter will be presented to him on his return.

The proposed dams would be in an area extending, roughly, from the Lake Austin Dam to the mouth of the Llano river.

"TEACH US TO PRAY" IS TOPIC OF REV. MILLER

Rev. Acker C. Miller spoke to a fair sized congregation at the First Baptist church last night. His subject was "A Wise Request," taking as his text the request of the disciples to Jesus, "Lord, teach us to pray."

The preacher said in part: "Many were the requests the disciples made of Jesus. A few of them were wise, but the majority of them was childish and foolish. When a mother came praying for her daughter, the disciples said, 'Lord send her away; she is a nuisance to us.' Another time two of them requested the Lord to 'call down fire' on a Samaritan village. Still another time two of them were a party to their mother's request for them to occupy the chief places of honor in His Kingdom. So humanly selfish were these requests.

"But at least this once they rose above their petty childishness with a request that is the wisest man ever made, 'Lord, teach us to pray.' It outdistances all the others as far as the Heavens are above the earth. It asked for a power that would enable them, and the power that will enable us, to reach up and take hold of the very mind of God and pull the earth up to heaven."

In the development of his theme, the speaker spoke of Jesus as the supreme teacher of prayer; the true approach in prayer, and the true attitude in prayer.

Services are announced again for this evening at 8 o'clock.

Chicago's Busy Loop District To Take Place of Textbook in Study Course of University

CHICAGO, May 1.—The busy, vibrating heart of Chicago's business district will be the textbook for a new course in social science at the University of Chicago, according to an announcement by Rowland Haynes, secretary of the university.

"Textbooks are poor sources for knowing life," Haynes said in announcing the new course.

"In the past universities have assumed the 'know-it-all' attitude about everything from meat packing to astronomy, and with too little a basis of actual experience.

"When our new social sciences building at the University of Chicago is completed it will be without a library. We have learned, at least, that downtown, in the loop district, is the laboratory for learning business and the behavior of people.

"We propose to study facts instead of books, people instead of pages, life instead of lessons.

Fount of Knowledge
The so-called social sciences are the real fundamentals of business. History, economics, political science and sociology deal in the very lifeblood of industry and commerce, and we propose to go direct to the fount of knowledge in studying these subjects. Texts will be used, of course, for reference, but the study will be of the busy stream of life that flows through the heart of Chicago.

"Humanity is and always will be the most vital element in any study, and we have humanity in all its phases, passing through the loop. Every problem that could be imagined comes up every day in the close packed markets of barter and trade that cakes up the business district.

"Chicago has led all other cities in the country, during the past few years, in developing a new avenue into business, Haynes said.

"Cooperation between business men and university officials have developed the new practice, which has shed its garb of pedantry," the secretary pointed out. "The result of that cooperation has been a broadening of the university. Educators have come to realize that no one department is sufficient for a study of social problems, and that social problems are one of the most important studies for universities.

"All departments of the institution are now cooperating to help solve the myriad problems that arise."

New Cooperation
This new cooperation, Haynes said, has been shown by establishment of three new branches of the University of Chicago. They are the institute of meat research and the school of commerce and illustration.

Problems in banking, or problems in ethics can be studied with equal ease in the loop, educators of the university believe. Such questions as "Should Married Women Help Support the Family" or "Are the Living Standards of the Nation Becoming Lower," questions in which sociology and business are entwined would be readily available for study to the students, and the answers they found would be of value to business, Haynes said.

"Chicago is just coming of age in social sciences, for it has reached the stage of trying to learn exactly what is true.

"When scientists experiment, they are entering the greatest stage of evolution in the study of social sciences. They are proving for themselves the truth or fallacy of maxims that have been accepted for years, and they are working out laws of vital aid to business."
