VOLUME IX.

TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

LEADS IN OIL PRODUCTION.
—For the first time since Spindletop was first famous, Texas leads all the other states in production of oil in March. The total production of the state was 21,227,000 barrels, or nearly 30 per cent of the production of the entire country. Oklahoma came second and California was close behind, the three states producing more than 90 per cent of the oil of the United States. With its seaport facilities and pipe lines, Texas ports handle most of the large production of Oklahoma. Leading in oil and gas, leading in cotton, leading in wool and mohair, leading in sulphur, leading in potash, leading in numerous other products, Texas needs only to lead in enthusiasm and optimism to make its soon the "leading" state in all things worth while. Tell the world about Texas.

TEXAS CITRUS FRUITS.
—There is a school man at Dilley, Charles D. Parker, who knows his Winter garden, and knows how to make comparisons, which he recently did to the San Antonio Lions club. Here are some of the things he said: There are no citrus pests to fight in the Winter garden; California spends $900,000 a year fighting pests. Groves come into bearing in one third the time required in California. Land values and taxes are lower and water is more abundant in Texas than California, where all the land that can possibly be watered is now planted to crops. California raw land, some without water rights, sells at $650 an acre, and it takes $1,550 to bring an acre of citrus to production at 19 years old. California taxes on such land averages $25 an acre; water costs $7 to $36 an acre foot; fertilizer costs $40 to $100 an acre; fighting pests costs $25 to $60 an acre. Texas shipping distance to the major markets is less than from California or Florida. The average distance from California to the markets is 2,600 miles. Join the Parkers in telling the world about Texas.

BAPTIST COLLEGES QUAKING.
—There is more involved in the removal of Baylor University from Waco to Dallas than the mere relocation of the university. Practically every town in Texas where there is a Baptist school is alarmed at the situation. There are rumors that the Brownwood college, the Marshall college, the Greenville college, the Decatur college and the Rusk college are to be relocated and consolidated at Waco to appease Waco for the loss of Baylor. It is known that this has been discussed for the relocation commission, though no definite action has yet been taken, and possibly none will be taken until after final decision as to Baylor's removal. Abilene is becoming a bit restless about the prospects of the removal of Stephens college and Belton fears for its hold on Baylor college, though as yet their relocation has not been discussed. There towns are saying, though: "With the Waco-Dallas precedent, what may we expect at any time Dallas or some other city may decide they want these schools?" The small cities in which small colleges are located say they have paid dearly for these schools in the belief that they would be permanent and not temporary institutions in their present locations. That is also in part the claim of Waco. One paper, expressing in the words: "We acted in good faith in our college investments and we expected the same good faith to be kept with us."

MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEM.
—The action of a majority of the business men of Taylor in seeking a vote on a bond issue for the purpose of building its own system of water works is in keeping with the general trend of cities to acquire and hold all public utilities that may be operated as inexpensively under municipal as under private or corporation control. In too many cases corporations that acquire monopolistic control of municipal or other utilities immediately or soon begin a policy of greedy equipment shown in fights for increase in rates. Nearly every city in Texas now has on some such conflict with them. While it is true that utilities companies should have rates. Nearly every city in Texas it is unfortunate that they are too largely the keepers of the records on which such "adequate" earnings may be obtained.

INVEST WITH CAUTION.
—The West Texas News, Del Rio, issues a timely warning about investments in minority stocks in factory enterprises seeking new locations. Just now Texas is regarded as a rich field for promoters who secure options on bankrupt factory equipment in the hope of selling stock to minority holders for more than enough to reimburse the promoters, who will be in position to again bankrupt the concern.

NEW BUILDING WORK ORDER GIVEN

More Say "Take Cow Census" West Texas Utilities Co. Will Begin Construction of First Unit Within Next Two Months

FOUR JOIN IN URGING STEPS TO GET PLANT

Four more Cisconians Tuesday agreed that a census of cows within a radius of 30 or 40 miles of Cisco must be taken if Cisco's hope for the location here of a milk plant is to be realized. Forest Wright, W. K. Johnston, W. W. Wallace and E. O. Elliott expressed the opinion that a milk plant is needed here, that the community is well able to support it and that immediate steps should be taken to gather information that the big milk companies which it is desired may be interested in building a plant here, will require before they will consider an investment.

Their opinions were as follows: Forest Wright—There seems to be no question as to the value of the dairying industry to sections that have been able to secure large milk plants to use this milk when produced. The report of our committee, which recently went on a tour of investigation, shows that prosperity has come to sections that have secured these plants through cooperative planning and work. It follows then that we should have no stone unturned to secure immediate action on following up the move started when this committee was appointed and sent on its seemingly very successful trip. If we stop now nothing will have been accomplished. If we have sufficient cows to warrant our putting our assets before some large concern, then let us do so at once and get going. On the other hand, we do not have sufficient cows in this designated territory to command the attention of some large creamery interest, then the sooner we begin the propaganda to interest more farmers in securing the necessary cows for the project. So it would seem that an immediate counting of our resources should be the matter of first consideration.

W. K. Johnston—The demand for immediate action in plans leading to a cow census in territory within a radius of 30 or 40 miles of Cisco, has my hearty endorsement. Cisco has many advantages as a dairying center. Milk plants require thousands of gallons of water each day in the processes of manufacturing their products. I am told, we have plenty of water and we would like to feel that it is actually working for us. An abundance of feed can be raised and the turning of it into milk products will afford the best kind of market that could possibly exist. I am for immediate action. The farmers need it and we need it.

W. W. Wallace—I see no reason for hesitating in our plans for a milk plant for Cisco, large enough to bring wealth to this section through cooperative milk production and assembly. As I see it, the only thing holding us back now is the ability to show some concrete figures as to number of cows, both actual and prospective. These figures would show our ability to produce an approximate amount of sweet cream, and this would be the information required for action on the part of those we would like to interest in the matter.

HEROIC WORK SAVED MANY

The dam at Table Rock Cove, South Carolina, which impounds six billions of gallons of water, was saved by the life-perilous work of engineers. The flood gates were locked and under water after many attempts they were opened and 25,000 persons were enabled to return to their homes in the Saluda Creek valley. The impounded water and an island are shown in the upper left. The white surfaces on the face of the dam are water-soaked mud. (International Illustrated News. Photo via A. T. & T. wires.)

Banquet for Cisco High School Graduating Class at Methodist Church Monday Night Is Enjoyed

The young people of the First Methodist church entertained with a three-course banquet Monday evening at the church honoring the graduating class of Cisco high school. The program was opened by singing America. C. L. Orr, toastmaster, gave warning that those who did not sing would be forced to sing a solo, therefore the roof almost raised by the outburst of song.

Rev. P. T. Stanford offered the invocation. During the banquet, Rev. Stanford was interrupted by a couple who wished to be married—a man by the name of Hubbard, the bride not giving her name. This task Rev. Stanford readily agreed to. He asked if there were any objections why this couple should not be married and Mrs. J. H. Moyer spoke up immediately saying, "Yes, Sir, preacher, that's my husband."

THE LEOPARD STILL LOOSE

Speaking of Chicago's revolt against the rule of Big Bill Thompson and his gang, what is there about that to cause elation? Of course there is a certain satisfaction that the citizens of a great city which has been so corrupt its stench has offended the wide nostrils of the crude kaffirs of Africa, should have manifested disapproval of its administration at the polls.

Now if Chicago should round up its grafters and gangsters and put them behind the bars or string them up to the gallows, then something great would be accomplished; then there would be reason to shout until a brass throat would ache; then one could see that Americanism had been vindicated, that justice had triumphed, that lessons had been taught.

But what actually has been accomplished by Chicago's merely repudiating its evil doers—making faces at them—without disciplining them? Nothing except they cannot work their devilment again until next time.

And that is all Chicago has done; it has gotten away from the enemy—maybe one isn't even quite sure about that; because the enemy is right there where he was, able to go and work out his ideas just as he did before—and with more experience with which to work.

Chicago has apparently slipped from the claws of the leopard, but the leopard is still at large. If repudiation at the polls should mean incarceration and execution, if when gangsters and grafters arouse the public to action, they should get retributive justice.

Generally speaking, about the most valuable thing a politician can do for his country is to go fishing.

ISSUES OR PERSONS

Many men and women have tried to point triumphantly to the fact that no tremendous changes have come about in government or politics since women were granted equal suffrage with men. They seem to have expected a sudden millennium and are maliciously gleeful or sadly disillusioned that it has not arrived.

Karo makes the Cakes. Double Acting. Makes Baking Easier. KARO THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

since women got the vote. She had too much sense to expect miracles overnight. But she points out that considerable quiet progress has been made since the days when suffrage agitation was the talk of the hour.

MODERN CITY HOUSING

The ideal way, of course, is for every family to have its separate house with a yard. But that can not be done very well except in small cities. So in large industrial cities, congested districts and slums develop. The congestion, however, seems to be more bad management than necessity. Modern housing is making remarkable progress.

It sounds like a way to salvation for city-bred masses. "Give a man a clean, well lighted, well ventilated home," says Mr. Thomas, "keep his mind busy providing a livelihood for himself and his family, and you will have fewer criminals and more good citizens."

IMPROVING RELIGION

A scientist may have his own ideas about religion—may even be religious. "The world is incurably religious," says Prof. Millikan of California, discoverer of the cosmic rays.

Religion, he concludes, will be with us "as long as man hopes and aspires and reflects upon the meaning of existence and the responsibility it entails." But our ideas of religion will keep changing with experience and outlook.

A "PECK" OF MEDICINE DID NO GOOD
But ALL-BRAN brought natural relief
Read what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN did for Mr. Hamilton—a chronic sufferer from constipation.
" I am 55 years old and truly believe I have taken a peck of medicine, costing a good many dollars, for constipation, and all I got was temporary relief. Now since I began taking your ALL-BRAN I have had a bowel movement (with a single exception, and that was my fault) every day. From a grateful user of your ALL-BRAN."
W. N. HAMILTON, Export, Penna.
Constipation causes headaches, blotched skins, sleeplessness, spots before the eyes. It is father of more than forty serious diseases.
Guard against it. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend Kellogg's because it is 100% bran. Because it is much more effective than part-bran products could possibly be.
A health cereal too! Serve with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Recipes on every package. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WOMEN MAY WEAR WOODEN HATS NOW

PARIS, May 8.—Wooden—not tin—hats for women promise to be the most popular ones of the season judging from the great numbers of them appearing at the chic race meeting in Paris.
Made of three-ply wood, they are as light as a feather, and smart as any felt ones and will not develop dents and creases like the latter. They preserve the cloche shape and have brims cut in two fitted with springs hidden beneath the edging so that they are elastic and can be pulled down over the head.
The young French modiste who hit upon this novel hat idea spent a year in search of suitable woods and a skilled cabinet maker who could do the work. For the hats are not carved out of solid blocks, but composed of tiny irregular pieces of the most valuable and varied woods which fit into one another so that shade of each—ebony, cedar, rosewood, walnut and mahogany, blend into definite patterns.
The first one made was of sycamore wood cut in spiral strips which composed the brim and the crown and was tinted a soft gray shade. It is better to use natural woods which need only an occasional light polish to heighten the effects of the delicate colors.
The wooden hats are a bit costly but will last a lifetime—which is their greatest defect—according to the ladies.

ABILENE BOYS WIN DEBATING CHAMPIONSHIP

AUSTIN, May 8.—Walter Ely and Truett Barber, Abilene high school boys, won the state debating championship, closing the interscholastic league—three-day meet here Saturday night by defeating Frederic Boley and James Leath of Polytechnic high, Fort Worth, taking the negative side of the subject. "Resolved, That Congress Should Enact Farm Relief Legislation Embodying the Principles of the McNary-Haugen Bill."
The Abilene high school debaters entered the state meet at Austin by sweeping away all opposition within their own district. They defeated Colorado high school for the district championship. Before reaching the final contest at Austin the Eagle orators had defeated Athens, Fort Stockton, Wichita Falls and Greenville.
Walter Ely, son of Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ely, who is not yet 15 years old, first became recognized as one of the state's great boy orators when he walked away with the West Texas chamber of commerce "My Home Toxin" speaking contest at the general convention in Wichita Falls last summer. This is the first year that either young Ely or his talented colleague, Truett Barber, has debated.

2500 PYTHIAN DELEGATES GATHER IN CONVOCATION

AUSTIN, May 7.—Twenty-five hundred delegates to the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian sisters from all over the state were here today for a three day convocation. Joint memorial services are to be held this afternoon in the state senate chamber.

One reason some folks think the world is round is the difficulty it has of convincing them it is on the square.

Bank Robberies Double in Year; Texas, Oklahoma and California Have Two-Thirds of U. S. Total

HOUSTON, May 8.—Revival of the vigilante spirit when police protection is weak, is one way of combating bank robberies which in recent months have reached serious proportions. Texas bankers have been told in a report by James E. Braun, manager of the protective department of the American Bankers' association.
Houston bankers, who have received the report, note that Braun's figures show 93 daylight holdups for the six months ending February 29, or more than double those reported a year ago by banks which are members of the association.

NEGLECTING OF SALVATION, IS BONEY'S TOPIC

The First Presbyterian church which has started a year of evangelism, heard its minister, Rev. B. C. Boney, speak Sunday evening on "Neglected Salvation."
The preacher said, using Hebrews 2:3 as a text, "Salvation is not only great in origin, in perfection, in agencies, in glorification but also in blessing man. It offers him pardon, release from sin's prison house, though he has grievously broken God's law; it offers him regeneration, new life, new strength to begin the new life; it does not turn him out a branded ex-convict, with little opportunity to be free from future crime, but offers him, by adoption, a place in God's own family, as a Christian, which name belongs to all followers of Him; it further offers him sanctification, or growth in grace and spiritual stature and strength. A neglecter of this great salvation is among the most grievous sinners against God, fellowman and self, and causes the loss of more souls, the skeptic doubts and is lost; the atheist doubts, and is lost; but the neglecter neither doubts or denies, yet is lost by neglect. If three men have a malady and a physician prescribes a known cure, and one doubts its power and does not take it, and another denies its efficiency and does not take it, while the third knows its power but neglects to take it, who is guilty of the gravest error when death has overtaken them?"
Mrs. Ben McClinton, Dr. G. C. Morris, and the choral choir furnished excellent music for each portion of worship. Little Ruth Ellen Lamb was dedicated in baptism, and eight members were received into the church during the day, five by statement of profession, and three by certificate.

Does that sound strange? It may, but it is nevertheless true. There is more substantial nourishment in milk than in any other food drink. Healthy people drink milk because, in addition to its fine taste and its thirst-quenching power, it helps them to keep healthy. Sick persons are advised by physicians to drink milk in order to regain their strength.
Yes, milk has a "kick" to it; and unlike other drinks with a "kick" builds up the bodily tissues rather than tending to break them down. Be sure it's pasteurized.

51 Students Are Due to Graduate from Ranger High

Commencement Plans Are Being Made Now; Rev. H. B. Johnson Is to Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon

RANGER, May 8. — Fifty-one seniors of the Ranger high school will be graduated this year, according to a list compiled by O. G. Lanier, registrar of the high school. This is the largest class to be graduated from the school in the last three years.

Plans for commencement night and for the baccalaureate services, are now being worked out by the senior class, assisted by the instructors of the school.

For the third consecutive year, Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church, Ranger, has been selected to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the members of the senior class.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday afternoon, May 27 at the Methodist church.

Dr. Hunt, president of McMurry college, Abilene, has been asked to deliver the principal address at the commencement exercises which will be held at the high school auditorium the night of May 28. The class has not been advised whether the invitation has been accepted. Other plans for the commencement exercises have not been arranged.

The valedictorian and the salutatorian have not yet been determined, due to the fact that the last six months' grades must be computed with the average for the rest of the year.

The students whose names appear in the following list are eligible to graduate, providing they pass all work and the final examinations up to and at the end of the school year.

Marguerite Adamson, Onal Barker, Corrine Bearden, Charlie C. Black, Pauline Blankenship, Elaine Bonnell, Mildred Bradley, Elizabeth Brock, Joe Burch, Egla Burns, Thelma Dovie Capps, Donald Champion, Zelma R. Collins, Frances E. FIRST BAPTIST HAS BUSY DAY; LARGE CROWDS

All services of the First Baptist church were well attended Sunday. There were 369 in the Sunday school. The main auditorium was filled for the morning service. The Baptist male quartet furnished the special music and the pastor's subject was "Go Ye." In the afternoon 28 young people attended the young people's meeting at Rising Star and 93 were present in their meeting at the church at 8:30.

At the evening service the special music was a duet, "There's No Friend to Me Like Jesus," by S. E. Hittson and A. C. Miller. The subject of the sermon was "The Slavery of Sin," taken from the story of the prodigal son. In introducing his subject, the preacher said in part:

"This young man was having his fling. He has had his freedom now for many months—who can tell how many? He has been free from the advice and counsel of his father; from the tender pleadings of his mother, and from the blessed restraints and protection of a respectable society. From all these happy relationships, he has been free.

"This was personal freedom, too, that he was enjoying. Watch him now as he uses it. He is on the broad road of life having a good time. He is sowing his wild oats. He has said time and time again as he entered some new sin: 'You'll never know the difference a hundred years from now.' 'It will all come out in the wash.' 'Sure, come on; I'll do anything once,' and on he goes until our eyes refuse to look longer upon his sins.

"But we look again and see him near the end of his way. He is hungry and ragged and cold. There is not a ray of hope in his sky; not a morsel of bread within his reach; not a friend beside him for they vanished with his money; and he walks with sagging frame and dejected spirit a lonely road."

Services are announced each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 8:00.

Norris declared that he wasn't a candidate and didn't want to be one. BLUE AND GRAY MAY JOIN HAND AT 1929 MEET

MACON, Ga., May 8.—A suggestion that overtures be made to the Grand Army of the Republic for a joint reunion of the Blue and Gray next year in some Southern city will be made at the gathering of the United Confederate Veterans in Little Rock, Ark., which begins Tuesday. Delegates from the R. A. Smith camp here were instructed to make the suggestion at the general session of the reunion. Thinning of both ranks of men who faced each other in the battles nearly 70 years ago was given as one of the reasons why the next reunion of both organizations should be held jointly and met with general enthusiasm from local veterans.

Filling the place of manager of the West Texas Utilities company at Cross Plains, made vacant by the resignation of Paul Little, T. C. Yeager has been made acting manager, according to P. P. Shepard, manager of division B. "It is not definitely known that Mr. Yeager will be the permanent manager, as the matter has not yet been finally decided, though he is one of the most efficient men of the Cross Plains office, having been with the company for some time," Shepard said. "It was intended to transfer Mr. Little to Cisco, but his resignation to enter into other business has changed these plans."

STRAIGHT REPORT

Tid-Bit: A negro preacher had vented his bishop so much with appeals for help that the bishop finally told him with a tone of finality that he didn't want any more appeals from him.

The next week came another letter from the preacher: "Dear Bishop—I assure you this is not an appeal. It is a report. I have no pants."
