TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

SAN ANTONIO'S PROGRESS—Wherever there is growth and development there is a reason back of it. San Antonio is one of the fast growing cities of Texas. It grows because it attracts people to it. They are drawn to San Antonio because the city has provided those things so essential to modern life — good streets and highways, abundant water supply, natural gas, excellent schools, parks, playgrounds, trees, flowers, entertainment, hospitality. San Antonio made an early start in all these and other essentials to good living. But San Antonio was not satisfied to make a right start and rest on its achievements — it has been going steadily forward all the time, not only making provision for the position of the day, but looking ahead for the comfort and happiness of the city of tomorrow. By a vote of about four to one San Antonio has just voted a $4,750,000 bond issue for additional public improvements. This was done without ostentation, blaring of trumpets or urgent appeal to the voters. San Antonio's civic pride does not have to be aroused by such methods. The citizens have seen and know the advantages that come from civic improvement. San Antonio has not been especially favored by nature more than the smaller cities and towns of Texas. While every community may not grow as San Antonio has grown, every village in Texas—certainly every town—can, if it will, have all the conveniences of modern living, can make itself just as attractive to homeseekers as San Antonio. Where this is not done the fault is simply with the people. Without the right kind of a citizenship, San Antonio would have been a non-progressive as the most dried-up hick village in the country. It's the people who make or kill a place.

CONVENTION SEASON —A Texas paper says that the convention season has arrived and mentions a few of the thousand or more Texas conventions scheduled for the year to prove that this is really a day in all the year when there are not from one to a score of conventions of one kind and another in session somewhere in this state. This writer has overlooked the date. To a bystander it looks like we have about gone convention mad. Every party, church, school, club, organization and society from street cleaners up has its local, county, sectional, state and national convention, and every citizen out of jail or an insane asylum is expected to belong to a half dozen or more "orders" and attend the conventions. Mighty little is ever accomplished at these conventions. Most of the business is "cut and dried" before the convention goes down exactly what is going on. In fact, at many of them, comparatively few ever find their way to the convention hall, unless it be for a few minutes to look in at the stage settings and get a ribbon badge. Still who travel much are a broad, liberal-minded people. They are mostly social functions, where men and women stand around in hotel lobbies and try to look like they are having a good time. It is good just to get acquainted with people even if it is only a conventional acquaintance. Conventions help to keep the hotels going. A Texas traveling man recently told me that in his rounds he found that as soon as a hotel is opened in a town it begins to fill up with convention-goers and tourists and that the ordinary commercial traveler who doesn't take the precaution to reserve a room in advance is in luck to find a place to sleep, even in the big hotels.

HOLDING ITS SCHOOL—The recent agitation about the removal of Baylor University from Waco to Dallas has frightened the smaller cities that have built up schools in the belief that they would be permanent institutions in their localities. Abilene proposes to take early steps to hold Simmons by adding more buildings and endowments. The board of trustees of Simmons has started a five-year program of raising $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 will go for endowment and $500,000 for buildings and equipment. In that action the board shows much wisdom and foresight. This statement was issued in regard to it: "Demands of modern education with a constant raising of standards is leading to the gradual elimination of small and isolated denominational colleges, and only those institutions survive that are able to serve a large territory on a comparative basis with the larger state institutions."

TONSorial EXPENSES.—The vice-president and organizer of the "Master Barbers of America" says that in three years a haircut will cost $1.00 and a shave 50 cents. As a counter-movement, Texans may have to organize the people into clubs pledged to get haircuts and shaves not often than once in three years.

M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL IS VETOED

Fight Over Delegation Continues

Democratic Factions Still at Odds Over Personnel of Forty to Go to National Convention

BEAUMONT, May 23.—Immediately upon assembling this morning, the state Democratic convention plunged into the fight interrupted by last night's strategic adjournment over the personnel of Texas' 40 delegates to the national convention at Houston. Col. Tom Ball attempted to delay action by moving a 30 minute recess but this was promptly voted down. The convention then noisily adopted the Love motion demanding a report on the delegate matter from the committee on permanent organization. It was Senator Love's first victory. While the convention awaited the report Congressman Tom Connally of Marlin made an eloquent plea for the "support of our standard-bearer at Houston, whoever he is." His remarks were wildly applauded. Lynch Davidson, yesterday slated for the permanent chairmanship, then moved that the convention's temporary organization be made permanent. All factions joined in the motion. Tom Ball, Moody leader, and John Boyle, Smith generalissimo seconding and recommending unanimous adoption. It carried without dissent. The convention then turned to the national delegation-at-large slate and quickly adopted Ball's motion to send 21 delegates-at-large, 12 men and 12 women, each with one-sixth vote, to Houston. Then on roll call Love's motion allowing any district desiring it to name a maximum of four delegates and four alternates was tabled on motion, 441 to 312.

Kush For Band Wagon.—The election of Dean Tuesday as temporary chairman and a victory for Governor Moody was foreseen by the sagacious politicians some time ago, and there was a rush to get on the band wagon. Thomas B. Love, state senator from the Dallas district, and a candidate for lieutenant governor, went down fighting to the last, voting proxies he had gathered in and holding the remnants of his waning strength as best he could. Frank C. Davis of San Antonio, who nominated Collins, former Governor O. B. Cojiguit of Dallas and Representative George C. Paul of Dallas, all delegates from Dallas county, and instructed against Smith, stood by the guns with Love.

Instructions for Jesse H. Jones of Houston for president as Texas' favorite candidate, or strong commendation of the Houston man, at least, was advocated by Dean in his keynote speech. Jones and Moody have been in conference on numerous occasions the last day or two. Senator Dean was placed before the convention for temporary chairman by the state executive committee, which recommended the temporary organization. It was Governor Moody, however, who for all practical purposes nominated Dean as he was the first to address the convention, seconding Dean's nomination by the committee.

Klan Moody's Issue.—Moody made the Klan the issue and declared his willingness to accept prohibition as an issue. He named Dean as the man to meet both issues, as a man whose prohibition record can not be questioned and as a man who has never been a member of the Klan, and who has opposed it. The steering committee of the constitutional Democrats, the anti-Smith organization, had agreed to nominate Collins and then withdrew him in favor of Dean, it was disclosed by Cone Johnson. But Collins changed his mind, and remained in the race to the last. Of course, after the vote was announced, the election of Dean was made unanimous by the convention. For more than an hour before the convention started Tuesday morning, a band played on the platform of the auditorium. "The Sidewalks of New York" brought a demonstration from the rapidly filling hall, as the more ardent Smith men yelled and cheered the Smith campaign song.

Hoover's Nomination Predicted.—Senator Dean predicted the nomination of Hoover by the Republi-

Twenty Known Dead, Five Others Missing in Two Coal Mine Blasts in West Virginia and Kentucky

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 23.—Thirteen bodies have been removed and four miners are missing as a result of an explosion that wrecked No. 1 Mine of the Yukon-Pocahontas Coal Co. near here last night. Rescue crews today were penetrating into the deeper recesses for the missing workmen. Seven were killed and another miner is missing in a dust explosion which wrecked No. 30 Mine of the Black Mountain Coal Co. at Kenovir Ky., last night, according to telephone advices here today.

PET MEASURES OF MOODY ARE UNDER ATTACK

CLEBURNE, May 23.—Louis J. Wardlaw, candidate for governor, speaking at Cleburne Tuesday night dwelt upon Governor Moody's advocacy of the constitutional amendments which were so overwhelmingly defeated by the people and asked Moody to declare whether he still advocates them. "Moody not only favored the amendments, but he sponsored the passage of a law which provided for their submission to the people," the speaker said. "After the legislature had provided for their submission he took the stump and advocated that the people vote for them. Had they carried, they would have made possible the passage of laws further increasing salaries and making the ownership of property a burden. They were defeated by from three to 12 to one. Should a man whose judgment is so out of harmony with that of the great mass of the people be returned to office? Can the voters afford to trust their property rights in his hands?" Wardlaw further charged that when a bill was introduced in the legislature providing an appropriation for lateral highways, Moody opposed it, but realizing the unpopularity of his stand he about-faced recently and in his speech at Glen Rose declared himself in favor of providing for the lateral roads.

WANT TO WED? ODDS 15 TO 100 IT WON'T LAST

WASHINGTON, May 23.—When a man or woman marries its a 15 to 100 shot that it won't last long. And the odds, the census bureau revealed, are getting higher that the marriage will go on the rocks of infidelity, poverty, innate meanness or just natural incompatibility. Final figures for 1926—the last available—showed that there were 180,853 divorces against 1,202,574 marriages. The divorce ratio was 1.54 and marriage 19.27 per 1,000 population. "Most marriages dissolved by divorce in any one year were contracted normally in earlier years," the bureau's analysis said. "If the divorce rate continues to increase the ratio between divorces and marriages of a given year will somewhat understate the probability of divorce for the marriages of that year." The principal causes of divorce in 1926 were cruelty 69,005, desertion 57,003, infidelity 16,710 and drunkenness 2,774.

Agricultural Relief Measure Is Disapproved by Coolidge Again, Disregarding Advice and Threats

WASHINGTON, May 23.—For the second time President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill ignoring the advice of the congressional farm bloc and disregarding threats of a grain belt revolt in the forthcoming presidential and congressional elections. Although the bill had been modified considerably in an effort to meet presidential objections, it still contained the equalization fee, which met unyielding opposition from the president. In view of the short time remaining in this session, it is regarded as unlikely that the bill can be passed over Coolidge's veto.

Games for adults will also be one of the features of the program.

MARINE BILL IS GIVEN O. K. BY COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge today signed the Jones-White merchant marine bill which authorizes the extensive replacement of government vessels. The measure also increases the construction loan fund from $125,000,000 to double that figure, reaffirms the general shipping policy of the 1921 act, liberalizes ocean mail contracts and makes all merchant marine personnel eligible for the naval reserve and for two months' reserve pay without actual service.

LUBBOCK WILL GET FEDERAL COURT TERM

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Both the senate and the house Tuesday passed the Mayfield bill creating a new division of the United States court for the northern district of Texas with headquarters at Lubbock. The measure now goes to the president for final action. The senate passed the bill in the morning and Representative Marvin Jones of the Amarillo district, author of a like bill pending before the house, secured its adoption. No additional federal judgeship is authorized by the bill which created a division of nineteen counties, including Bailey, Borden, Lamb, Floyd, Kent, Motley, Hale, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Scurry, Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Dawson and Gaines counties.

Space has been offered in the county courthouse at Lubbock to accommodate the proposed new division headquarters until the new federal building already authorized for Lubbock, is built. An allotment of $100,000 has been made for the building and the second deficiency appropriation bill passed by the house last Friday provided $50,000.

Only One Railroad Passenger Out of 9,100,000 Killed During 1927; Average Is Third of That in 1917

CHICAGO, May 23.—Railroads of the United States in 1927 established a record for safety which constitutes perhaps "the greatest achievement in promoting public safety that can be credited to any industry in this country," Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age, said at a dinner given by the National Safety Council for the presentation of awards in the Railway Employers' National Safety contest. Dunn said only 91 passengers were killed last year, or one for each 9,100,000 carried—a proportion one-third as great as that of ten years ago and less than one-sixth as large as the record of 20 years ago. The employees' safety record likewise was the best in the railroad's history, 1,493 having been killed in 1927. This was one fatality for each 1,100 employees, less than half the proportion of 20 years back. Dunn credited the advances in safety to the expenditure of $324,000,000 of capital by railroads in the last eight years and the organized cooperation of management and employees. Grade and railway crossing accidents are the only categories of hazards still increasing, he said, and even the 2,571 fatalities at highway crossings in 1927 were smaller than in 1926, but compare with 1,934 in 1907 and 1,969 in 1917. Records in casualties to employees, the lines being grouped in seven classifications, according to the number of man hours of labor employed, were kept in 1927. The Union Pacific system was the winner in the group of 23 large roads. In Group B, the Union Pacific, exclusive of its controlled lines, was the winner. Other group leaders were the Oregon Short Line; the Los Angeles; and Salt Lake railroad; the Duluth, Mesabie & Northern; the Duluth and Iron Range; and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic.

Texas Republicans Have Stormy Session at Dallas

Two Delegations to Go to National Convention at Kansas City Due to Bolt of Wurzbach-Littleton Group

'Twas a merry time the Texas Republicans had at their state convention in Dallas Tuesday. In fact, some of them got to feeling so good it was necessary for the police to remove them from the scene. However, none of the Cisconians who attended the meeting were among those escorted from the conclave by the officers of the law. Cisconians who returned home Wednesday from the convention described the fracas as the result of the efforts of the minority insurgents, whose leader is Congressman Harry Wurzbach of Seguin, to control the convention.

"There was no attempt to keep Wurzbach delegates from being seated where they were properly elected," one Cisco Republican said. "The delegation from San Antonio, solidly for the congressman, was seated. But it took part in the disturbance and ended by bolting with the Wurzbach-Littleton faction and attended the rump convention."

Cisconian National Delegate.
F. A. Blankenbecker, Cisco, was elected a delegate to the national convention at Kansas City by the regulars.

Two separate delegations will go to the Kansas City convention. One, instructed for Herbert Hoover, was elected at the regular meeting, which also named R. B. Creager again as national committeeman. The second delegation, bitterly opposed to Hoover, was the outgrowth of the Wurzbach bolt.

"Two conventions, as forecast, developed after the following incidents: Rejection by the regulars of the minority report which claimed the delegation as submitted was in part illegally chosen and not representative of the Republican masses.

Ejection by uniformed policemen of C. C. Littleton, of Fort Worth, and J. E. Egan, veteran Republican of San Antonio, when this pair attempted to take charge of the floor.

A charge of destroying public property was filed against Littleton after the smashing of the regulars' convention door when the Littleton-Wurzbach forces were seeking admission.

Regardless of which side is victorious before the national body, it is admitted by some Republican leaders that the party is still badly divided in Texas, each faction being of sufficient strength to cause trouble for the other. However, the leader of each faction claimed Tuesday night that the day's developments spelled victory for his faction.

Congressman Wurzbach said it was the dawn of a new era for Texas Republicans. Chairman Nolte of the regulars said it means death to the insurgents.

Regulars elected 25 delegates, including four delegates at large, to the national convention. The Littleton faction only elected the four delegates at large, claiming that the congressional district conventions recently held were authorized by law and elected 22 delegates, whose names already have been certified to the national body.

PERFUME FOR HOME NEWEST SCENT IDEA

PARIS, May 23.—"Stay-at-home" perfume is the newest thing in scent lines, concocted and prepared for quiet comfortable evenings in one's own apartment.

It is to be used when one dons the "lounge" or stay-at-home reading or rest costume which has succeeded the good old-fashioned lounging-robe and consists of a short jacket with sleeves worn over pyjamas or night-dress of the same fabric.

"Every woman who is modern in her tastes and reserves an occasional evening for rest and reading at home, insists upon dressing as carefully and attractively as if she were going to an exclusive evening supper-club," says one of the foremost leaders of fashion, "except that of course her costume is not the same sort.

No longer does she slip into some half forgotten dress of last season during the hours between dinner and bed-time. Her slippers, hose and coiffure—and most important of all—her perfume must be chosen to blend perfectly with her costume.

Obviously, the perfumes intended for a big evening "out" cannot be used with this new type of home apparel. Neither will sport perfume be appropriate.

"Stay-at-home" scent is a sophisticated fragrance, not heavy enough to provoke sleep, but languorous and mellow in tone. It helps create the proper mood for digesting a pile of recent books and magazines which might otherwise prove a bore.

POLKA DOTS SHOW IN SMART SILKS

PARIS, May 23.—Polka-dots are putting chic Parisiennes into print. They appear on all the smart silks, cotton and woolsens.

There are materials studied all over with every size of polka-dot and in every shade and color. It doesn't seem to matter what the circumference of the dot is, so long as the smart little circle is visible. Crepes, chiffons, jerseys and taffetas are printed in every size from the sparkling half-dollar type to the tiniest of pin-points. One very smart fabric is a polka-dotted silk covered with spots of different sizes giving the effect of confetti scattered all over.

Navy-blue and white is undoubtedly the favorite polka-dot combination today as it was a number of years ago, although Worth favors brown and white in the softest of velours. Foulard is not used but there is a new polka-dotted taffeta that is all the rage. It is much thinner and more supple than the usual variety, little heavier than a thick crepe georgette taffetas are printed in every size.

Don't use it to make a smart frock with the blouse trimly fitted about the shoulders and a draped girdle to make a snug hipline.

Two National Conventions of Women Will Find Old-Fashioned Social Rituals in San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, May 23.—When 10,000 women from all parts of the United States meet in San Antonio May 28 for the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs and 40,000 more assemble here on October 8 for the annual national convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, they will find the last stronghold remaining in the United States of old-fashioned devotion to an aristocratic social ritual and elaborate social convention.

In addition to the many things of historic and scenic appeal in this southwestern country, they will find also the old Spanish customs and the influences of two centuries under the rule of Spain. The tradition of the Moorish restraint of woman, brought in in this way, has had a big influence and still persists as a vital factor in social relations. Another powerful factor working in the same direction is found in the very large German element which has settled in San Antonio and all Texas. The German woman is, traditionally, very much circumscribed and has for centuries been held pretty much to the old ideal of "Hausfrau" and "Hausmutter."

With these two influences in the direction of conservatism in women's economic and social relations goes a third perhaps even more powerful, San Antonio and all this part of the country from the standpoint of its American element, was settled almost exclusively by people from the old South—from Virginia, the Carolinas, Tennessee, Georgia, where the aristocratic idea of protection, and also restriction, of women reached its full flower. These influences have, it is true, been tremendously modified by modern conditions and ideas, especially the idea of greater freedom for women, and also by the cosmopolitan population which is to a surprising degree characteristic of San Antonio. But they play a large part in giving the cast to society here.

Only within the past six months or so, for instance, have women ventured to smoke in public in San Antonio. More of the courtesies and formalities are observed in business as well as social life than in the north and east. Women in offices expect, and receive, those old-time courtesies and attentions which have very largely vanished from the business atmosphere of the busy morning and east. Men still very generally give up their seats in street cars and buses to women and remove their hats when women are in office building elevators.

You can't expect much reform in a land where hatred of those who rob the public is seven parts envy.—The San Francisco Chronicle.

Rural District Workers Going Fast

Surrounding Communities Well Organized in Circulation Drive; This Week Good Time to Start

The rural districts in the Cisco Daily News and Weekly American and Roundup country wide subscription drive are making rapid progress and the campaign is being well organized in almost every locality in the surrounding territory.

The representation in this district is a large one and numbers of the ladies have accepted the nomination and started the work securing the names for sample copies, gathering coupons and making up their $10 club of subscriptions. The more who enter from this district the less number of points it will take to win one of the cars or any of the prizes. The workers who can get a good start this week will have the advantage in building up the most points to win the better prizes. Subscriptions should be turned in as soon as secured so that the papers can be started and the workers can secure the coupons that count for a high number of points in this drive. It is not necessary to hold the subscriptions back until the $10 club is made up. An accurate account will be kept of all the subscriptions sent in and full credit given to those who make up their clubs.

Coupons are being saved and subscriptions paid by subscribers and the points given to favorite ones. The workers who have received credit for a portion of their $10 club should make every effort to finish up their club by Saturday night, May 26, 1,500,000 extra points will be issued for the club besides the regular points for each subscription.

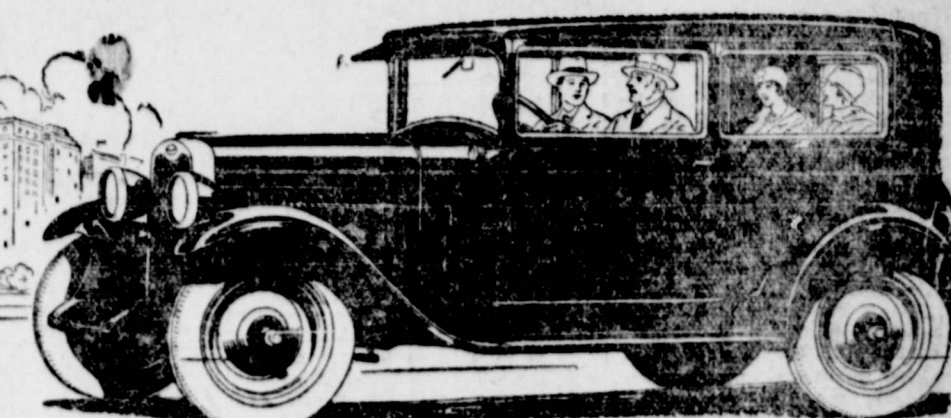

A few coupons and subscriptions would change the standing of any of the leaders. The drive is just starting, plenty of time to get in and get a good lead.

LUMBER FIRM REMODELS ITS INTERIOR HERE

A pleasing transformation has taken place in the interior arrangements of the office and sales room of the Rockwell Lumber Co. The manager's office, formerly located in the front of the building, has been moved back near the rear, the partitions have been removed, and the store room placed in front of the building, which has been enlarged and equipped with wall cases for the builders hardware, forming an attractive display, on the west side of the building. On the east are displayed the stocks of paints, varnishes and enamels. A large window cut into the east wall adds more light and ventilation. A new stair case to the upper floor lands near the front of the building, and there are built-in features in the wall which serve as samples of the building material kept in stock. Other added features that have so greatly improved the appearance of the office are the polished sand-papered floor, which has been waxed to a glassy smoothness, and the polished pillars, supported by a brick base. The interior is divided by ornamental posts and railings, natural finished, showing the grain of the native pine of which the interior is constructed.
