TEXAS

EAST TEXAS UNITY.—Largely through the efforts of the East Texas chamber of commerce and local affiliating organizations a wonderful change in coming over East Texas. Formerly whatever efforts there was toward development was scattered and irregular, and therefore to a great extent, fruitless in results. Though young, the East Texas chamber of commerce is rapidly unifying all the heretofore latent energy of its section in a well-devised plan to further the varied interests of the entire region. This new spirit was evident to the members of the Texas Press association who were in Longview last week at the dedication of the new building presented to the East Texas chamber of commerce by citizens of Longview. It filled the atmosphere and was forcefully expressed in every talk made and conversation heard. "There is a new East Texas, something different from the old" East Texans realize, as never before, that through their own initiative and energy they have "let the world pass by" and have not kept pace in growth with the rest of Texas. This has not been through any fault of the country itself, for Nature has bountifully blessed East Texas, but it has been because of the unconcern of the people. They have been getting along so well making a living so easily that they have seen no special reason for setting up the large areas of vacant lands or developing effort-taking industries. The East Texas chamber of commerce has been busily pointing out the mistakes of such a policy and the bad results therefrom. East Texas is now working unitedly for a greater and a better East Texas.

LONGVIEW OFFICE BUILDING.—Longview has shown its faith in the East Texas chamber of commerce by presenting it with a $30,000 building to be used as a permanent home. When the question of permanent headquarters arose, many East Texas towns were anxious to secure the offices and there was a strong contest because of the prestige and the favorable publicity expected to result therefrom. Longview citizens got together and raised the $30,000 with which to build a structure that would do credit to such an organization. That action is typical of the new East Texas way of doing things and the building itself, beautiful in architectural design and modern in all its appointments, is thoroughly representative of the new order of East Texas progress.

TEXARKANA'S GROWTH.—The Texas Press association held a joint meeting with the Arkansas association at Texarkana last week. The proceedings were exciting, and perhaps the greatest advantage to the editors was in getting to know of Texarkana, the "Texas Gateway City." The population of the two cities of Texarkana, separated only by the state line in the center of a leading street, is said to be 32,000. It is busy manufacturing and commercial city, which has made a steady growth for nearly fifty years, but which, like the rest of East Texas, is only fairly getting into shape for future development. The Texarkana Gazette, a paper that would do credit to a city of 100,000 population, gives the detailed figures to show that $4,338,154 in building projects are now under way or ready to be started, and the Gazette does not include undertakings that are merely in contemplation. That is a big building program for any city of the size, and it shows how East Texas is "coming on." The old union station that has for so long served the eight railway outlets of Texarkana and that has been an eyesore to the enterprising Texanians, is to be replaced this year with a structure to cost more than $1,500,000. The old station has been a sorry introduction to so good a city as Texarkana and so great a state as Texas, but after 1928 travelers entering Texas at Texarkana will be favorably impressed when they see the first railway station in Texas, and will exclaim, "So, this is Texas."

CLUB WOMEN WELCOMED.—Delegates to the National convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs in session this week at San Antonio were shown a genuine Texas welcome at all points in Texas at which their special trains stopped—a welcome of a kind they will not soon forget. They were showered with flowers, and presented with edible delicacies. Where they stopped long enough they were formally welcomed, were taken for drives and treated as often as possible. Texans showed that they were glad to have the visitors and that their welcome was in no way formal. It was a heartfelt expression of appreciation of the great work accomplished by the women's clubs of the country in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the people.

Teachers for 1928-29 Announced

17 IN HIGH AND 28 IN CISCO'S GRADE SCHOOLS

Teachers for the high school and grade schools of Cisco for the 1928-29 year were announced Wednesday by Supr. J. J. Youngblood. The high school faculty will consist of 17 members while there will be 28 teachers in the grade schools, according to the tentative list. A vocational home economics teacher will be added later.

"Owing to the confusion in the schools, incident to the abandonment of the West Ward building, the teachers are yet unassigned, but all were elected subject to assignment," Youngblood stated. "But the majority of them will probably have work during the coming year similar to that which they have had during the past year."

High School.
Mrs. T. L. Shepard, Miss Ingevar Leighton, and Miss Ora Trulove were re-elected to positions for the coming year, but neither of them accepted.
"A teacher for the vocational home economics work has not been secured yet, and it is probable that the teacher for this work will be the only teacher added to the above list. The work of the high school during the coming year will be operated with one or two teachers less than were used during the past year. Nine teachers were used in the sixth and seventh grades during the year that has just passed, and it is possible that only eight teachers will be used in these two grades for the coming year."
The teaching forces will be as follows:

Grade Schools.
T. C. Williams, Mrs. C. W. McEwen, Mrs. J. W. Triplett, Mrs. A. D. McGinnis, Mrs. T. C. Williams, Miss Attie Stephens, Miss Fannie Stephens, Miss Ruby Swift, Miss Thelma Nail, Miss Louise Snoddy, Miss Byrd Bacon, Miss Daisy Coldwell.

MEMORIAL DAY IN FLANDERS FIELD

Reverent tribute to the Americans who gave their lives in the World War is paid at the last resting places of our hero dead on the battlefields of France. The photo shows a floral offering being placed on the grave of a soldier, who is sleeping beneath the flags of the countries which he defended with his life.

MEMORIAL DAY IS MARKED BY FLAG DISPLAY

Many flags displayed in the business and residential districts marked the observance of Memorial Day in Cisco. There was a slight change in the program of the local American Legion post this afternoon at the cemetery. Owing to the indisposition of Rev. B. C. Doney, Rev. P. T. Stanford has been substituted on the program. No other change is announced, and the Legionaires will carry out the original program as planned.

CARL SMITH LAID TO REST IN OAKWOOD

The funeral services of Carl Z. Smith, whose death occurred Tuesday morning, was held at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday morning. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. B. Boney, assisted by Rev. P. T. Stanford, pastor of the First Methodist church. The high school chorale sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," while the casket rested beneath the altar, covered with numerous floral offerings, silent tributes from friends.

Humble Day Celebration Biggest and Best Ever Conducted, Officials Say

Very tired but also very happy, officials and employees of the various departments of the Humble Oil and Refining Co. and their guests brought the annual Humble Day celebration to a close in a dance at Lake Cisco pavilion at midnight Tuesday. Officials said it was the biggest and best of the annual holidays, which began in 1921.

Between 2,500 and 3,000 persons attended the celebration. Among these were high officials of the company from the main office in Houston and officials and employees from many points in the state, and especially from other West Texas cities. They met on terms of equality and if anyone failed to have a good time that person could not be found.

Although the first events on the program were at 10 o'clock the visitors began gathering early Tuesday. The first few hours of the day were spent in renewing acquaintances. There were two attractions during the forenoon, one a 9-hole flag golf tournament at the Cisco Country club links and the other a baseball game at the Humbletown park.

J. E. Meyer of the land department, Cisco, carried off golf honors and was awarded a McGregor driver. Second prize, a half dozen golf balls, went to A. H. Becker, also of the land department. While the golfers were striving for supremacy, the baseball team of the pipe line department was defeating the production department representatives, 9 to 2.

GIRL IS INJURED BY FALL IN BATH TUB

The six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Q. Evans was painfully injured when she fell into the bath tub at the Evans home Tuesday, striking her head against the bottom of the tub. It was thought at the time that she was seriously injured, but examination by physician showed that there was no indication of concussion. This is the second time the child has had the same kind of accident.

LITTLE GIRL IS BITTEN BY COPPERHEAD SNAKE

TOM CONNALLY HITS MAYFIELD ON KLAN STAND

WEATHERFORD, May 29.—Tom Connally applied the brand of the Ku Klux Klan to Earle B. Mayfield in a speech here Tuesday afternoon and challenged the junior senator from Texas to make a clean breast to the public of his dealings with that organization and its leaders. He charged that Mayfield "went about by light of day in 1922 denying that he was a klanman, but when the shades of night fell he was in his place circulating among the brethren wearing robe and hood."

Water Supply of West Texas Is Best in History; Vast Acreages, Recently Parched, Now Growing

STAMFORD, May 30.—During no other period has every section of West Texas been so well supplied with water at this season of the year as at the present time, according to B. M. Whitaker, executive manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce, who has covered over 1,200 miles of the territory since the rains. Whitaker's route led him up the Fort Worth and Denver railway line and back to sections of the South Plains in the lower branches of the Santa Fe system. Vast acreages of pasture lands that were parched and burned are now all green and rapidly developing. Though both small grains and grasses were considerably retarded, both are staging a remarkable and quick comeback since the general rains, the official reports. Tanks, lakes and ponds all over the west are filled with water for the first time in months, and towns depending upon lakes for water supply are enjoying unrestricted use of the commodity to relieve what has been a serious situation in a number of places. The general rains have come in ample time for all row crops, cotton and feedstuffs, in the opinion of Whitaker. "There will be a larger feed acreage planted than ever before in West Texas," he states, "because there are more dairy cows and more and larger flocks of poultry than ever before in the history of the section. This diversification has come as a result of several years' effort by the West Texas chamber of commerce, local chambers of commerce, county agents, and other agents co-operating in stressing a balanced farm program and has been particularly stimulated by the newly-formed poultry and dairy bureau of the regional body." Whitaker states that the present crop outlook over all West Texas is one of high prospects as the continued heavy rains have put plenty of moisture in the ground, and the dry, cold winter has destroyed many plant pests.

THE DAY OF PEACE

On the Fourth of July it is easy to glorify war. Memorial Day is different. The two supplement each other.

One recalls the stirring memories of righteous and successful war; the other recalls grief and sadness inseparable from all wars. In these latter years, Memorial Day is more suited to the popular mood than Independence Day.

We take our freedom for granted; and in view of the cost and comparative fruitlessness of this last great war we are, as a veteran expresses it, "sore on all wars."

Thus every recurrence of Memorial Day since the World War brings a new wave of peace talk. It is natural just now, especially, because of our government's leadership in a new, radical undertaking, to "outlaw war."

This is an ultimate ideal. All thinking men must realize that warfare is essentially foolish, unnecessary and wicked; that wars of aggression are intolerable, and that there should be peaceful substitutes for "wars of righteousness."

If it is wicked for private citizens to kill each other, it is wicked for people grouped in nations to kill each other.

If civilized man can outlaw and minimize murder among private citizens, he should be able to do the same thing among nations. But progress to that end is difficult and slow.

We still have our outlaws killing in private feuds. We may long have nations running amuck occasionally and killing for gain or vengeance.

Peace, like freedom, "broadens slowly from precedent to precedent." Outlawing war probably requires close, complete international organization, with universal police force and authoritative world courts, modeled after those we have to control domestic crime.

Manifestly the world is not yet ready for such drastic internationalism. We can move only step by step. So assured peace must wait.

Meanwhile the seed for future demilitarism is to think peace and talk peace. Memorial Day is the best day in the year for it.

INTERNATIONAL TUNNELS

Not satisfied with ferries and bridges between two countries where water divides them, Americans and Canadians are planning tunnels. It is significant of the new transportation age that these are to be not railroad tunnels but motor car tunnels.

Stock is being offered in a company organized to build such a tunnel under the Detroit River, between Detroit and Windsor, near the site of a bridge whose erection has just begun.

There is a similar tunnel project across the St. Clair River between Port Huron and Sarna. When these are accomplished facts, need may be felt for a tunnel across the Niagara River at Buffalo, along side the new Peace Bridge dedicated only last year.

France and Great Britain have talked of a tunnel under the Channel for many years, but haven't yet been able to make up their minds that it's safe from military perils.

SALOONS—NEW MODELS

A police chief who has been dry arouses widespread interest, and much criticism, by coming out suddenly for the saloon. Not the old-fashioned saloon, he explains, but a denatured saloon, with strict supervision, reduced hours and drink quotas, and the threat always held over its head of being closed up if it breaks the rules and turns disorderly.

RELIGIOUS UNITY

Five hundred ministers were selected at random in each of three denominations and asked to reply confidentially to this question: "Are you in favor, in principle, of the great organic union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches?"

With more than half of the entire number heard from the verdict stands 90 per cent in favor of union. Efforts to work out an acceptable arrangement for such a merger will now go forward more earnestly than ever. If they succeed, as they well may, it will be a development whose significance will be appreciated everywhere. Creed and church government do not seem to offer insurmountable barriers. The age of Christian division is passing. The age of re-consolidation is at hand. It may be, as one of the leaders says, that "the next great move in Protestantism will be toward union."

NEIGHBOR'S INCOME

President Coolidge is said to be opposed to Senate provision for publicity of income tax returns. He thinks that it is an unwarranted intrusion into the private affairs of citizens, and that it tends to the concealment of income and lessening of government revenues.

THE GRATEFUL PRISONER

Yes, jail prisoners are mostly a tough and treacherous lot, especially those in for criminal violence. But consider this case. Albert Bethune, held in the county jail at Zebulon, Ga., on a charge of murder, committed suicide the other day for a remarkable reason. A pistol was smuggled to him so that he could kill the jailer and make his escape.

NOURISHING MEALS

The dog expert was giving instructions to the purchaser of a fine pup. "He must have meals regularly, four times a day, with plenty of milk, plenty of eggs, plenty of well-cooked cereal, with some fresh meat every day, and fresh vegetables. Food and the dishes it is served in must be scrupulously clean.

GOOD LOOKING STREETS

A city that prides itself on its general appearance, but wants to improve, is offering a prize for "the best-looking business block of houses in town." Best-looking, it is explained, doesn't mean the most expensive or dignified. "It means the cheeriest, the block that seems to hold out the most cordial welcome to visitors."

ADHESION

As a result of agitation in various quarters for more glue, or mucilage, or whatever it is, on postage stamps, one of the agitators has received a letter from an assistant postmaster general saying: "Although the same high-grade materials are now used as heretofore in manufacturing stamps, it is evident from the number of complaints that some stamps have been issued which do not adequately meet the requirements of the public from an adhesive standpoint."

1927 Cotton Market Slump Laid at Agricultural Economics Bureau in Report of Sub-Committee in Senate

WASHINGTON, May 30.—A Senate subcommittee report holding the bureau of agriculture economics mainly responsible for the 1927 cotton market slump but specifically denying charges of "smarter motives" was filed Tuesday by Chairman Smith of South Carolina.

The findings, except as to motives, were accepted by Senator Heflin of Alabama, one of the five committee members. In a supplementary statement he declared his belief from the testimony "that corrupt influences connived with the government officials in question."

Senator Smith secured the signatures of the other members of the sub-committee on the floor just before Congress adjourned. He told the Senate the investigation would be continued with the object of forcing through corrective cotton futures legislation at the winter session.

The combination becomes the third largest automobile industry, with a total capitalization of nearly $500,000,000 at the current market value of Chrysler stock. It is exceeded only by General Motors, the securities of which have a current market value of approximately $2,300,000,000 and the Ford Company, which has only a nominal amount of capital stock outstanding but which is valued at between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000.

Under the terms of the merger, one share of Chrysler common will be given for each share of Dodge Brothers prior preference stock, one share of Chrysler common for each five shares of Dodge Brothers Class A stock, and one share of Chrysler common for each ten shares of Dodge Brothers Class B stock.

The Dodge company will retain its identity under Chrysler management, with Edward G. Wilmer continuing as president. Wilmer and Clarence Dillon read and company, who purchased the Dodge company from the heirs of John F. and Horace E. Dodge in May, 1925, will be

POINTS FOR THE BIG OLYMPIC TEST

When it comes to swimmers California is one of the states which must be considered. When Californians mention swimmers, they always include Georgia Coleman, Los Angeles club star. Miss Coleman holds the junior national title on the ten-foot spring board and is considered a sure bet for the U. S. Olympic team. Well if Georgia can swim as well as she looks there isn't any question of her ability in the water.

BATHING SUITS AND WATERPROOF JEWELRY

PARIS, May 30.—Bath-houses and lockers will hardly be needed for this summer, judging from the latest bathing fashions which make a lady look as if she were all dressed up and ready to go everywhere—but in the water.

Last year's bathing costumes seemed a far cry from the days when a woman used to scurry down the beach, with an old raincoat thrown over the modest, beak-shaped bathing-costume. The colored bath-robe and little cap or turban to match, together with beautiful water-proof jewelry made chic ensemble and kept many women from ever going near the water.

But the dressmakers have gone a step farther this season and there will be many a fair mermaid at Deauville and Biarritz exquisitely made up and dressed in chic tailor-made bathing-suits who appear to have sauntered down the beach merely to look on.

There are four or five pieces to the new bathing-suit; the tight-fitting jersey, little trunks, a jacket which is often without sleeves, and a skirt. Very often the popular kerchief is added which makes it quite impossible to tell just what sport Madame is about to indulge in. It is simple to slip off the jacket and unfasten the cross-overs, buttoned-on skirt and presto, one is ready for the waves.

Chantrel is showing a charming bathing-costume with a seven-eighths gray woolen beach coat, a gray wrap-over skirt (street length), buckled about the hips over a white jersey maillot, with a small red applique on one shoulder.

STAR LOBO TACKLE OF 23 HERE WHEN BROTHER DIED

In his brevement over the death of his brother, Carl Z. Smith, Eugene (Red) Smith has the heartfelt sympathy of every friend of the Lobo football team, of which he was a star tackle in 1923 when the Lobos were the only team that scored on the Abilene Eagles.

Though the occasion of his visit to Cisco was fraught with sadness, yet the friends and former school-mates of Red Smith extended him as warm welcome as when he was the hero of the game with Abilene. Smith attended Texas Tech after graduating from Cisco high school and finished the same brilliance in his gridiron plays with the Tech team as that shown while starring with the Lobos. He is now with the Texas Power & Light Co., at Big Springs.

Point Doubling in Circulation Drive This Week and Next Gives Workers Big Chance to Get Lead

The list of nominees in districts one and two, showing the number of points each has received in the Cisco Daily News and the Weekly American and Roundup country wide subscription drive will be published in the Weekly American tomorrow.

The two districts will be published twice a week hereafter until further notice.

The opportunity to double points is a big feature and inducement for workers to secure subscriptions this week. Those who finish a second $10 club or more will be given double points for this and next week. Regular points for each subscription will be doubled. Nine hundred thousand points for one or more $10 clubs will be doubled and the special prize ballots offered to the fifteen workers in each district who secure the most subscriptions to their credit for the two weeks will also be doubled.

To gain double points for the two weeks will be a big advantage and give those who secure subscriptions a decided advantage to gain the most points and win the best prizes.

CATHOLICS TO PHOTOGRAPH ALL RECORDS

AUSTIN, May 30.—Making of photostat copies of documents in the archives of the various Catholic dioceses of Texas is under way at St. Edward's university here, under direction of the Knights of Columbus Historical commission. Some two thousand documents from the diocese of Galveston have already been photographed and returned. The Rev. Dr. John E. Murphy, of Galveston, diocesan representative of the commission was in charge of the documents. The records of the diocese of San Antonio, Corpus Christi, El Paso, and Amarillo will also be photographed. Rev. Dr. Paul J. Paul, chairman of the commission, said photostat copies of all documents in the archives of the San Fernando cathedral in San Antonio will be made. The cathedral was begun in 1731. Many of these documents are partially obliterated as the result of flood and recent handling and photostatic copies will be made that the records may be preserved. Among the interesting documents in this collection is the record of the marriage of James Bowie, famous Alamo martyr. Bowie was married April 25, 1831, to Miss Ursula de Yramendi, of San Antonio.

SECOND CISCO YOUTH TO TRY FOR OLYMPICS

Besides Wilbur Westerfeldt, who is entered in the A. A. U. and Olympic trials at Dallas Friday and Saturday, there is another Cisco athlete, Garriano Sineppel, the "jumping kangaroo" member of the Texas University team. Shepherd has brought fame to Cisco in previous intercollegiate meets. He will be one of the contestants in the high jump events of the Olympic trials June 1-2. Shepherd is expected to exceed some of his former marks when he tried for first place in high jump in the national intercollegiate meet at Chicago last summer. He has won the high jump championship title for the Southwestern conference for the past two years. This year he broke the broad jump record of the Southwestern conference, but another also surpassed his jump, and he captured second place in that event.

HIGHWAY TO SPEND LARGE SUM ON ROAD

AUSTIN, May 30.—Approximately $200,000 will be spent by the highway department in improving the Austin-San Antonio road in the near future, it was stated here. The highway department has appropriated $275,000 for work on this road on condition that Travis county put up $44,000. County Judge Matthews said that the county had this much money in escrow, and that it was available to the department. Between Austin and San Marcos, the latter in Hays county, the main highway twists and turns like a snake. A good deal of the work will be relocating and eliminating as many turns as possible. It is also planned to construct a number of underpasses and thus remove dangerous grade crossings.

GIANT BUILDING WOULD HOLD A SMALL CITY

Twenty thousand workers, besides thousands of other persons visitors and shoppers, will be accommodated in the huge building which has been started in Boston, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The structure will cost $21,000,000, will occupy 130,000 square feet of ground area and will be twenty-five stories high at the peak, tapering off in the familiar setback style which has become popular in large American cities. Besides offices, the building will have a big department store to occupy ten acres of floor space, a permanent exhibition hall to display New England industries, and in the sub-basement will be automobile parking space. Elevators will convey the machines to the street level. A steel-supported awning will protect pedestrians from rain on all four sides of the building.

LIGHTS DIMMED TO TELL TIME IN AFRICAN TOWN

Residents of Bloemfontein, South Africa, never have to guess when it is eight o'clock in the evening, for at that time the street lights are dimmed for a few seconds. This is done from the power-control station on reception of a telephone signal from an observatory. The plan has proved of great service, as the dimming occurs when most persons are at home so they can regulate their clocks.

Regular Transatlantic Television Service to Be Opened Soon; Chain of Broadcasting Stations Planned

Editor's Note—This is the first of two articles on the development of television.

LONDON, May 30. — "Regular trans-Atlantic television service is a matter of a few weeks."

"And before the end of 1928, television-broadcasting will be history."

These two statements were made to International News Service by Captain O. M. Hutchinson, manager of the Baird Television Development company, which is engaged upon negotiations for the establishment of a chain of television broadcasting stations throughout the United States and England.

"Television," Captain Hutchinson declared, "has very nearly reached perfection. There are a few adjustments still to be made in the matter of clarity in long range broadcasting human faces, as the shading of the eyes contrasted with the brilliancy of the teeth will still have a tendency to throw the image slightly out of focus.

"But those are mere details, and they will be straightened out in a few weeks' time. We have absolute confidence that television will have become fully as standardized as the radio—and no greater a luxury—in less than a year."

The American rights to television, Captain Hutchinson said, have been bought by a wealthy syndicate headed by Herbert Pokres, a promoter who has been associated with many successful ventures. The price paid for the rights Captain Hutchinson declined to reveal.

"The American syndicate," Captain Hutchinson continued, "will probably be known as the Baird Television Company of America, although the name has not yet been decided upon. They are erecting a plant at Jamaica, Long Island, which will be used both for broadcasting and reception.

"At present, we are awaiting the completion of that plant before starting actual operations. As soon as it is ready, we plan to inaugurate a two-way system of television across the ocean, which will be used first for experimental purposes, and later dedicated to commercial usage.

Standardize Service

"In a comparatively short time," Captain Hutchinson declared, "we expect to have trans-Atlantic television as standardized as the trans-oceanic cable. For a nominal price, persons in London will be able to transmit their moving image across the ocean to friends and relatives in New York, and vice versa.

"Until 'home television' sets have been installed, the recipients of this new form of communication will be at liberty to watch the images in our offices in New York, whence they will be transmitted from the Jamaica plant by land lines.

"But it will not be long before there will be a television in every home that at present boasts a radio."

The second article will deal with television in the home.

Nearly 1,000 New Laws Placed on Statute Books by Congress in One of Busiest and Stormiest Sessions

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Nearly 1,000 new laws repose upon the statute books of the nation, telling their own story of the whirlwind legislative accomplishments of the first session of the seventieth congress. Covering a range of activities bounded only by the wide scope of American interests, the newly written acts constitute a legislative record unparalleled in a decade. Further, aside from the actual volume, the magnitude of some of the tasks completed rivals the work of any peacetime session on Capitol Hill. Starting off at a slow speed, the legislative machinery gradually worked into high gear and at adjournment time the legislative speedometer touched new marks for recent years and the house and senate crossed the finish line almost on schedule. "Millennium" Almost Reached Had it not been for the grip of a filibuster holding the Boulder Canyon Dam bill stationary in the senate, congress probably would have approved or rejected nearly every bill on the calendar of the two houses. It almost reached that legislative millennium as it was. Most of those enacted received their finishing touches in the closing days of the session. This period of intense activity was enlivened by a spirited disagreement between President Coolidge and the house and senate comparable only to the urraah developed 42 years ago when Grover Cleveland returned 116 bills with his disapproval. Skirmishes Over Vetoes Of more than a dozen bills vetoed by Coolidge, the two houses enacted three into law over his objection, and on three others sustained his veto. None of the remainder was brought to a second vote. In the veto-voting skirmish in the two houses Coolidge was victorious in the major engagement, the senate sustaining his objection in the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, with its disputed equalization fee. He also won in fights on the Odette bill to appropriate $10,500,000 for road construction on the public domain in western states and on another bill to create the rank of bandmaster in the army. He was defeated in the World War officers disability retirement measure, and two postal bills, one to give increased pay to postal employees assigned to night work, and the other to grant allowances to fourth class postmasters for rent, fuel and light. The latter three were repassed by both houses by the necessary two-thirds majority. Big Legislation Passed Among the major pieces of legislation placed upon the statute books by agreement between congress and the chief executive, were:

The Mississippi River flood control bill. The $222,495,000 tax reduction measure signed by Coolidge early today. The White-Jones merchant marine bill. The alien property settlement act. TAX ON AUTOS IS REMOVED BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The tax reduction bill, signed Tuesday by President Coolidge, provides for an estimated annual reduction in tax payments of $222,495,000. However, the cut in government revenue under the act is estimated at only $155,000,000 for the next fiscal year, becoming July 1, the full force of the reduction not being felt until the following fiscal year. Corporations are the chief beneficiaries under the new act, which makes virtually no changes in the present individual income tax rates. The law provides: Repeal of the 3 per cent automobile tax. Loss $68,000,000. Repeal of the automobile tax is effective immediately, but the changes made in the levies on admissions and club dues become effective 30 days from Tuesday. Likewise, the changes in the general beverage and wine taxes become effective in 30 days.
