TEXAS THOROUGHBREDS

Having heard that Texas has one of the finest thoroughbred stock farms in America and a stable of horses unexcelled in the country, I made up my mind to see the farm and the horses at the first opportunity. Having seen them, I think that Texans will be interested in knowing something of the extent of the thoroughbred horse industry in the state and of the plans of the breeders for the future. There are some twenty or more men in Texas, scattered throughout the state, engaged in breeding thoroughbred horses. Their stock farm and stock range in value from some $25,000 to more than a million dollars each. On some of these farms there are horses imported from the best European stables and whose pedigrees are traced through the fastest strains of race horses the world has ever known. The Waggoner, or "Three D's Stock Farm," at Arlington, was a revelation to me. It contains some 750 acres of land, most of which is under the highest state of improvement, with fireproof barns specially constructed for their several purposes, paddocks, pastures, meadows, artesian well, training and race tracks, homes for employees, and every other imaginable facility for raising and training fast horses.

SOME FAST HORSES—I am not a horseman and don't know the language of horsemen, but one doesn't have to be highly educated to have enough horse sense to recognize a spirited, fast horse when it is exhibited before him. The head of the Waggoner stables cost $70,000 in England and looks like a millionaire. I asked Mr. W. T. Waggoner what he would take for him, and the answer came back promptly, "He is not for sale." When pressed to name a price, Mr. Waggoner made me understand that he considered the horse a part of the place and he wouldn't think of selling the place. It is needless to say I was not in the market for either. The Waggoner farm sent some 20 fast horses to the Kentucky Derby this month and those horses are making the wealthy horsemen of the North and East notice the fact of which they have been reminded, that Texas stables, Texas soil, Texas air and water, have something in them that helps to make horses as fine and speedy as Arabia ever produced. The only horses left at Arlington now, aside from the stallions and some very speedy and noted brood mares, are two-year-olds, yearlings and colts. The two-year-olds are in training. Pitting one of these tenderly, Mr. Waggoner said: "There is nothing in the whole country that will be able to outrun this one." He also showed a colt he has picked from a number of others as the fastest.

FAST RACE TRACK

The manager of the Waggoner place has been with fast stables all his life, in England, Germany and Roumania, coming to this country some two or three years ago to engage with the Waggoner stables. He has superintended the building of the race tracks. Both are 100 feet wide and are watered their full length from four-inch water pipes fed by an inexhaustible artesian well of pure water. One of these tracks is straight and when completed will be a mile long. The other is a mile track of the regular elliptical race track form. Another mile-and-a-quarter elliptical track is to be built. The manager proudly says that the Waggoner race tracks are unquestionably the best privately-owned race tracks in America. If not in the world. In his opinion, under proper race-governing conditions, Arlington will become as famous for its race track as Saratoga, Louisville, or any other place in either America or Europe.

LEGISLATION NEEDED

The investment in the Waggoner thoroughbred stock farm is estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000. Perhaps $3,000,000 or $6,000,000 is now invested in the industry throughout Texas. With the industry better protected by law, horsemen believe that it would soon develop to a point where they could dry atmosphere, the altitude, the soil, the water, the grass all combine in a peculiar way to develop here the best lungs, bones, muscles and feet for horses and that because of these disease is reduced to a minimum. They hope to secure legislation placing racing under a state commission, with uniform regulation of all race tracks, with protection from fraudulent practices, with bookmaking and other forms of track gambling prohibited, and with horse racing made as respectable as athletic sports, and restored to the prestige it holds in many other states and countries under legal protection. Without such protection, horsemen say, it is impossible to interest wealthy horse owners of the North and East in training their horses here

DAIRY COMMITTEE GIVEN REINS

Initial Encampment Steps Taken

Chamber of Commerce to Prepare for Session of Christian Churches of West Texas at Lake Cisco July 15

At the weekly meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday evening preliminary steps were taken to arrange for the encampment of the Christian churches of West Texas at Lake Cisco, beginning July 15 when the directors placed the matter in the hands of Erskine Guy Dabney, who was authorized to make the necessary expenditures to have the grounds in readiness for the encampment. This denomination held a very successful encampment at Lake Cisco last year, and it was again chosen as the camp ground for its annual summer encampment. The directors also were in accord favoring the Thanksgiving football game between the Cisco Lobos and the Abilene Eagles here as scheduled. This action was taken upon the request of W. B. Chapman, who had requested an opinion from the directors as to the advisability of playing the game on Thanksgiving day, or postponing the game until the following day. Thanksgiving will be observed Thursday November 29. The reasons set out in Coach Chapman's request of an opinion from the board were that Simmons University plays in Brownwood, Abilene Christian College in Abilene and Breckenridge plays in Ranger on Thanksgiving day. The next track and field meet of the county interscholastic league will be held in Cisco if the authorities grant the petition of the chamber of commerce and the Cisco school authorities. The chamber of commerce directors adopted the motion of Dr. Charles Hale that the directors join the high school authorities in their effort to bring

Can you identify them?

Cow Census to Be Taken with Aid of School Trustees as First Step to Obtain Location of Milk Plant

The complete charge of developments of dairying in this section has been placed in the hands of a committee of five by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce. This committee is composed of J. E. Spencer, chairman, real estate man; Guy Dabney, of the Cisco Banking Co.; Alex Spears, of the First National Bank; E. B. Gude, of Gude & Norvell; and A. B. O'Flaherty, of the Cisco News and American and Roundup. The committee was organized Tuesday at a meeting in the Cisco Banking Co. and was unanimously agreed upon. Each of these committeemen is heartily in accord with the development of the dairy industry in the Cisco county, and all were highly pleased with the cooperation already manifested. Chairman Spencer stated after the meeting that plans were laid for the beginning of the survey of the cow census in this immediate territory, which includes Eastland county, and those contiguous sections of Callahan, Shackelford and Stephens counties, which are tributary to Cisco. Preliminary Work Under Way. "First, it is planned to work the school districts of Eastland county by having a committee of two go into these districts and work with the school trustees in taking the census of the cows in each school district," Chairman Spencer said. "The preliminary work of putting this plan in operation is now being done. The school trustees will be notified right away, and their cooperation solicited through correspondence. Cards will be supplied these committeemen for the owner's name, the number of cows, best office, and such other information that a complete cow census of each district may be obtained as the committee proceeds. "After this work is finished in Eastland county the closer areas in adjoining counties will be worked in a similar manner until the territory surrounding Cisco will have been thoroughly covered, which will give the approximate number of all dairy cows in this section. "I feel very much encouraged with the cooperation already manifested and am enthused over the probability of the ultimate success of the enterprise, as I deem the dairy industry one of the most important assets that can be secured to improve the economic conditions of this section. This is my opinion based upon observations of the results obtained from dairying in Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee, and I hope every citizen will lend his undivided energy and cooperation in putting this proposition over. The committee views this as a huge undertaking that will require the united efforts of the citizenship of all the towns and communities to be served. The committee proposes to push these plans through to completion as rapidly as possible. Moran Told of Plan. Spencer, Dr. Charles Hale and J. E. T. Peters attended the meeting of the Luncheon club at Moran at noon Wednesday. Before his departure Spencer stated that the proposition would be put up to the Moran people at the luncheon to enlist them in the working a brief report of the dairy industry as he saw it in operations in dairying centers while on his recent visit to Memphis, Tenn. Speaking of the Moran luncheon club Spencer stated: "I would like to see more of the Cisco people attend these business men's meetings in neighboring towns and also the community meetings near Cisco. Such visits would establish closer relations with the people of those communities, and their cooperation in such matters as the dairy enterprise could be secured. At each of these gatherings the benefits to be derived from developing the dairy industry could be explained, and through this means the cooperation of these communities could be more readily secured. "A milk plant is most desirable for more than one reason. Primarily, of course, it is to foster a profitable industry, one that will benefit the towns and country, but a milk plant is one of the few industries that I can recall that helps, rather than hinders those engaged in a similar enterprise. Should Cisco secure a milk plant, instead of injuring the creamery, it will work for its upbuilding, as all its products are shipped out of the community. The results in other dairying centers where milk plants have been established justify this conclusion. I have figures to show that after a milk plant had been in operation in Starkville, Miss., for one year the local creamery in that place doubled its production. Practically every dollar paid out for raw dairy products is foreign money added to the local circulation."

U.S.-AUSTRALIA FLIGHT BEGUN BY HUGE SHIP

OAKLAND, Calif., May 31.—On the first lap of an attempt to link North America and Australia by air, the giant monoplane Southern Cross with four men aboard hopped off here today at 8:49 a. m. for Honolulu. Captain Charles Kingsford Smith of Australia is in command of the flight. Captain C. T. Ulm, Australia, is co-pilot with Lieutenant Commander Harry F. Yvon of the United States navy, as navigator. James Warner, American, is radio supervisor. As the huge ship passed Farallone Islands at an altitude of 1,100 feet and a speed of 80 knots, Ulm radioed that the flight was progressing favorably. The Australian flag was hoisted in the cockpit when the plane passed the Golden Gate.

Miss Mexico!

Here is one of the reasons WHY Mexico has always been known as the land of romance, of strumming guitars, of smoking love lyrics. She is Miss Maria Teresa de Landa, and she'll represent the republic before the Rio Grande at the International Beauty Pageant in Galveston, Texas.

Dairying Industry Here Shows Substantial Growth in Past Two Years, J. E. Spencer Tells Rotary

The dairying industry in Cisco county has shown a substantial growth in the past two years, J. E. Spencer told the Cisco Rotary club Thursday in discussing plans of the chamber of commerce to obtain the location of a milk plant here. He sketched the development of the industry and urged the club to cooperate as a unit and as individuals in the efforts to expand further. "The chamber of commerce in January, 1926 took up with the Carnation Milk Co. the proposition of establishing a milk plant here," Spencer said. "The company wanted to know the number of dairy cows here and conditions regarding water, feed and crops, climate and roads. The chamber of commerce realized that it had about everything the company required except the cows. "So it set about to build up the dairying industry here. The first step was the securing of a vocational agriculturist in connection with the schools. A survey of dairy conditions showed that Cisco was on the buying end instead of the selling. That is, we bought more ice cream and creamery products than we produced, when it should have been the other way around. In the fall of 1927 the committee made a trip of inspection to dairying sections in other parts of Texas. As a result a number of registered cows were bought and nine registered bull calves were organized. Due to this, the dairying industry is on the upgrade. "A few weeks ago another com-

"For we know that if the earthly house of our tabernacle be destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."—II Cor. 5:1. "I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth on me, tho he die, yet shall he live."—James.

T. N. T.
Recently a man was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary in connection with the death of his sweetheart, who he declared committed suicide when he informed her that he had decided to return to his wife.

The extreme lightness of the sentence indicates that the jury was punishing the culprit for being more bonehead than murderer. Evidently the committee of his peers who passed on his perversity considered he hadn't done much killing but that he had no business to get into the affair and should have used some diplomacy in getting out of it.

The foregoing tragedy is just one of the results of the love liberty being talked about so much these days; and advocated by certain sociologists and psychiatrists.

Folks who sit down and figure out theoretically that there is no reason why one should not love one's loves if one wants to, fail to distinguish between what might seem to be the case and what is the case, and invariably overlook the sticks of dynamite planted in such a path and which always are likely to go off. Trouble almost without exception follows those who depart from the sex conventions. Why is that? Don't ask us. We don't know—but it does. Behavior of that kind seems to set in motion and attract vicious forces.

You can hardly pick up a newspaper without seeing where some angle of incontinence has caused some tragedy. An infatuated man or woman kills the sweetheart's husband or wife. A jealous husband or wife kills the mate's paramour. A poor man tangles up with a rich woman and his wife sues her for damages. A rich man becomes involved with a poor woman and she blackmails him. A jealous mistress kills her lover. A jealous lover kills his mistress. Homes are broken up, children scattered, devilish diseases distributed, old men are ruined by gold-diggers; those are but a few of the ramifications of illegitimate eroticism.

The rules of society regarding the relations of men and women were not laid down because the rule makers were prudish old maids of both sexes with ice water in their veins. Such prescriptions were arrived at because the human family had found out after centuries and centuries of experimenting and adventuring that tribulations trail those who watch not their step in the garden of love.

"But the Bible records much love freedom." Yes, but the Bible is a book of spiritual history as well as of spiritual advice. It shows the evolution of man's higher endowments. It shows man moving up from a creature without passionate control to a being who has learned to subordinate his desires.

Man is much further advanced than he was back in ancient times when polygamy and promiscuity were the rule rather than the exception. Man in those days could do things without hurt to himself which today would harm him seriously.

The higher up one is the more it hurts one to fall. The low-down person may not be much injured by a tumble because he has not far to drop. The hen has no moral code and does not suffer for lack of it.

Repressions may have their penalties as experts declare. Nevertheless the right sort of repression is better than the wrong sort of expression.

FUTURE METROPOLIS

New York City announces now that it expects 21,000,000 people in its metropolitan area by 1966—a little less than 40 year hence. They can be accommodated easily enough, the engineers say. There is four times as much land in the metropolitan area as will be needed then for industrial sites and three times as much waterfront as will be needed for wharfage. There is plenty of room for residential purposes in the adjacent parts of Long Island, lower New York state, western Connecticut and eastern New Jersey. State lines don't mean much in the spreading of such a giant city. This doesn't sound unreasonable. But the prophecies, often heard, of a city of 40,000,000 or 50,000,000 are to be taken doubtfully. So far, the city-building forces have been centrifugal. There are centrifugal forces working now. The congestion in the water-bound Manhattan business section will be very great long before New York has its 21,000,000. Transportation scatters people and work. Business everywhere nowadays tends to decentralize itself. People, wearying of crowds, and longing for primitive things, spread out farther and farther.

TO ENLARGE CISCO COUNTRY SWEET CREAM ROUTE

20 to 30 Additional Farms to Be Served by Change Effective June 4 Without Loss of Older Patrons

In order to improve the present sweet cream route which is being run by Paul Weiser several changes will be made beginning Monday, June 4. The changes will in no way inconvenience any of the patrons of the present route.

The route will begin at the Weiser farm at 7:10 a. m. and will be run through the Shady Grove and Pleasant Hill communities by way of the Britton, Hill, Kinard, Trott and Hooker farms crossing the Rising Star Highway at the Lamb farm and thence to Nimrod. From Nimrod the route will go to Atwell by way of the Compton, Perdue and Foster farms, and to the Cottonwood corner where the truck will turn back to Cisco by way of the Morgan and Johnson farms and through Scranton into Cisco.

These changes in the route will permit the truck to serve some 20 to 30 additional farms and will leave no one who is using the route at present.

During the short time of its existence the route has grown from a haul of 78 pounds the first day to well over two hundred pounds daily with a few new patrons each week. The small truck used by Weiser is being overhauled and a second or upper bed added to take care of the increased number of cans being sent in.

Creamery Is Expanding.

The local creamery is increasing the size of its churn and making well over 100 pounds of sweet cream butter daily, which is selling remarkably well in Cisco because of its high quality. With proper equipment for making butter and cream that is less than 24 hours old when it is made into butter, the local concern is able to make an unusually high quality product. Cisco housewives are welcoming the opportunity to get a better grade of butter. Local merchants are pleased because of the convenience of being able to get any reasonable quantity of butter on very short notice, and because they can get a very fresh and high quality product which they are not afraid to guarantee.

Farmers along the route are increasing the size of their herds, buying more separators, planting more feed and forage crops, and otherwise making preparation for increased production. The extra ten cents per pound being paid for sweet cream is an average increase over sour cream prices of about twenty per cent, which considerably increases the margin of profit to the producer, gives him a year around market at his own roadside, with a minimum amount of trouble in washing vessels and otherwise handling the product.

Patrons Well Pleased.

Lee Leskie, who lives eight miles south of Cisco, and who was one of the first patrons of the route, is well pleased with his returns and with the service he receives from the route.

Leskie is milking six or seven average cows. His check last week was approximately $20. "I expect to increase this to $100 per month or over in the near future. It gives me a market for a lot of home grown feed, provides a weekly income, and is the best thing that has been done for the country around Cisco in a long time."

O. P. Weiser in an adjoining community is increasing his herd to twenty cows as soon as possible, and is building a new milk shed and milk house. He is also an advocate of home grown feeds and says that skim milk is hard to beat as feed for hogs and chickens. Weiser is feeding all of his own and is buying several cans of skim milk daily from the local creamery. He is proving that hens lay and pigs grow when they get skim milk.

Others around the route are supporting and boosting it because it is the first movement to give local farmers a quality year-around market. Cisco people are behind the route because they want better quality butter and are anxious to encourage a home industry.

WINNING LIVING ROOMS NAMED IN STEPHENS CO.

BRECKENRIDGE, May 31.—Winning entries in the Stephens county living room contest held this winter under the supervision of Miss Viola McKenzie, county home demonstration agent, judged by Miss Jennie Camp of the A. & M. college extension department and excellent reports turned in. Winning contestants were Mrs. W. N. Tolan in class one and Mrs. G. W. Tharp in class two.

Counties already visited are Lubbock, Fisher, Baylor, Scurry, Dickens, Dawson, Haskell, Clay, Lynn, Knox and Hale. The Stephens county entries rate well with all rooms scored thus far Miss Camp stated.

Miss McKenzie's work in the contest was highly praised and Miss Camp attributed the success of the contest here to her efforts in interesting the women club members in the work.

NEW TOLL STATION SYSTEM FAVORS

"Fourteen circuits are now in operation on the AB toll station system of telephone service between Cisco, Eastland, Ranger and Breckenridge," said Phillip Pettit, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. "This service is coming into general use, and many favorable comments have been received on the service given. The system makes communication with those neighboring towns practically the same as local service, and effects quite a saving in telephone communication."

TIPS ON KEEPING DOWN MOSQUITOS AND FLIES GIVEN BY HEALTH CHIEF; WATCH ICE BOX DRIP; STARVE PESTS

On account of the unprecedented rains we are now having some mosquitoes. We have been oiling, but the rain washes the oil away. This condition will continue for only a few days, and I hope the people will bear with me.

I want to warn the people not to have water on the premises in containers, not to permit the drip from ice boxes and refrigerators to flow under the house, but to use pans and pour through sewer or, better, connect it with the sewer.

If milady must have rain water for her hair, place a small amount of kerosene on the water. But it is best to pour it out. I want everyone who is bothered with this pest to look to his premises, look for water—water—no water no mosquitos. If you do not find the source of the trouble notify me and I will do my best to locate it.

Flies

Starve the fly as well as breaking up his breeding places. Do not throw out garbage, have good cans with tight fitting tops. Oil cow and horse lots regularly and clean them daily. Pile up the manure and oil it and burn it or spread it on the garden. If the people will follow these simple instructions we will not have mosquitos and flies.

There are many old automobile wrecks all over town. They are not of any account and you could not get freight for them. Why not have them hauled to the dump grounds and plant flowers or gardens in their stead? Why not get rid of these wrecks and improve the looks of our nice little city?

Help me keep Cisco clean.

Dr. Jno. H. BRICE,
City Health Officer.

FEED CROPS NEAR MORAN ARE TIP TOP

Earl Biggs who lives near Moran, says his feed crop is looking mighty well since the rains. Cotton is thrifty and is being chopped wherever it is up. The dry weather hindered planting and in some places cotton has been planted since the rain.

Pastures are good and cattle will soon be fat. Milk cows are already showing an improvement in their milk flow, he says.

When asked his opinion about the need of a milk plant and the value to the country if a dairy industry should be developed, he said that it would be the very thing for the farmers in his section. Most every one keeps a few good cows already and would be willing and anxious to buy more if a sure market could be obtained for the surplus sweet cream.

Mr. Biggs explained that the Moran country is a good feed producing one, this together with the natural pasture land which abounds, makes it an ideal dairy section. Good roads, which criss-cross the whole of Shackelford county and the intervening country between Moran and Cisco, would make the gathering of milk an easy matter.

Cisco has always been the shipping point for his section when their needs could not be obtained at Moran, and his neighbors feel kindly toward Cisco. They would want to be included in the route should a plant be established here, and he said his neighbors would carry out their part of the program should they be called upon to assist in working out details for the securing of a big milk plant.

Biggs raises chickens and turkeys. He has the Bourbon Red turkeys and has had success with them. They grow off rapidly and can be hatched as late as June or even July, and still make good growth for the holiday market. Some of the larger and slower maturing breeds will not make a marketable fowl if hatched this late.

"NOT GOOD IF DETACHED"

NOTICE, VISITORS!

Don't think that because you are away from home you are away from friends--there are many friendly churches in Cisco and Eastland county, all denominations. They extend to you a cordial invitation to attend their services.

DID YOU ever have a ticket read like that? There are a great many things "not good if detached." Imagine a man without a country! How far can we get without being connected with a civic body? Where would we be without organized government?

Imagine a man without a home. Conceive of one who neither cares for his mother's home nor desires to begin a new home. How much is he worth when so detached? He is a tramp.

Imagine a man without a Church Home. How far can he promote religion detached from the church? How far can he promote Good Will in a community without using the institution that stands for Good Will? How far can parents influence the home and bind all into one, if they neglect the church? Can the religion of Jesus gain its end as long as we remain "detached"?

Set an example for your children by attending church. In doing so you will receive a personal blessing and promote the ideals and spirit of the Living Christ.

Pupils of 60 Years Ago Studied on Split Logs; Up Before Sun, Home at Sundown; Cisco Woman Describes It

The following is from Mrs. M. L. Latham, 703 East Broadway, in which she describes some of the vicissitudes under which an education was obtained in the days when she was a child. She tells of the seats, which were split logs, flat side up, supported by legs lifted in holes bored into the round side of the half logs. Mrs. Latham says these log benches "were a term difficult to understand in this day, through common parlance then."

She mentions the fact that the wife of the late Governor Stephen J. Hogg was one of her school mates when they "worked their sums" on slates, instead of the modern school tablets now in use. Mrs. Latham tells her school days in the following story "My School Days, Long Ago."

As some of the school children have asked me to tell something about how the schools were run in my girlhood days, I shall tell of a few things through the Cisco Daily News.

The first school that I ever attended was taught by my oldest brother, Dr. A. J. Jordan. He was the superintendent, principal, primary teacher, and janitor, so you may know that he was a busy man. We lived on a farm and walked three miles to this school. The building was a little log cabin in the country and the seats were log puncheons with nothing against which to rest our backs. We laid our books on the seat beside us or upon the floor. These conditions were had compared with our present stately buildings and elaborate furnishings, but we were glad to get them. We were proud of them and we studied but you know, children, that we could not learn very much under such adverse conditions.

The books that we studied were: The blue-back speller, McGuffey's readers to the sixth grade, Meade's geography and Davies arithmetic. We also had slates and pencils. We worked all of our arithmetic problems on our slates and why? Because we had no blackboard.

We would sometimes start to school before sun rise in order to get there on time and would always get home in the evening after sundown. Yes, sometimes it would be getting dark when we arrived at home.

The teacher would have the children to sing a song or two before "books." The following is a part of one of them: "We greet with joy this happy day, And we will drive dull cares away." Another was as follows: "Hearts full of cheer will never fear While we in wisdom's ways appear, For wisdom's ways are good and true And all her paths are peaceful too; For all good people tell me so And I am sure they ought to know."

I remember the names of several of the girls. One of them was Miss Sallie Stinson who later became the wife of the late Governor Hogg. This was in 1867 when I was only nine years old.

Later when I was 14 years of age I went to another school where I walked two and one-half miles. Our teacher this time was a Baptist preacher. The main sport for the boys was playing ball. The girl's would jump the rope awhile and then would go to the spring, wash our faces and spend the balance of our playtime in fixing our hair.

Both old and young worked in those days, and when Sunday came the young folks and children were always ready and willing to attend church and prayer meetings. The men would have debates at some neighbor's house on Saturday nights. We liked to go to those gatherings to hear the men debate.

We did not have the many conveniences then as we do now, neither did we have so many crimes and disasters, and so much sin committed in those days as we now have.

Near the school house was a deep pool of water which was fed by the springs. In this pool of water I was baptized when I was 14 years of age. This was in Wood county, Texas, where I was reared. I almost weep when I look back to those distant childhood days to think how very much I've changed and of the many friends that have passed away.

MRS. M. L. LATHAM, Cisco, Texas.

The readers of the papers are saving the coupons, paying subscriptions and cooperating in putting the drive over.

Many workers are making every effort to finish a second $10 club this week in order that they may double their points for subscriptions secured this and next weeks. There are three distinct and unique features of the offer for points for the two weeks, Saturday night, June 2, is the end of the first period for regular points; 40,000 points will be issued for three months subscriptions for the Daily with the Weekly American; 100,000 for six months and 250,000 for one year for both papers; 25,000 for the Daily News alone, which is $4 a year, and 30,000 for the Weekly American, which is $1.50 a year. These points will be doubled for 80,000 for three months, 200,000 for six months, 900,000 for one year for both papers or 450,000 for the Daily alone or 600,000 for the Weekly American and Roundup. The 900,000 offered for one or more $10 clubs will be doubled to 1,800,000 for each club. The thirty prize ballots will be doubled which will mean that the highest ballot will be good for 7,500,000 extra points with all the other ballots being doubled for the workers who finish up their $10 club by Saturday night, June 2.

Workers who secure subscription late Saturday night can mail or send them in Monday with free coupons and the same will count on this week's work.

The two districts will be published again in Monday's city edition and Tuesday's mail edition.

VELVET GOWNS FOR NEXT WINTER STYLES

PARIS, May 31.—Coming events are by no means slow to cast their shadows before in the world of fashion. Although the chestnut trees have not yet blossomed forth along the avenue des Champs Elysees, Parisian dressmakers are showing what smart women will wear next winter.

Velvet will be the favorite material, it seems, either plain or printed. Decollé not only uses it for gowns and coats, but for trimming as well. There is an ensemble in navy-blue velvet consisting of a long coat with brown fox collar and a perky little frock with full, circular skirt faced with pale pink and double-breasted bodice opening over a pink chemise.

A charming afternoon frock comes of black velvet with tiny gray polka-dots and an evening ensemble has a long circular cape of chartreuse with gray squirrel and a collar of the same fur worn over a frock of white georgette embroidered in crystal and chartreuse-colored beads with applique bands of the velvet.

A frock of black georgette has a kerchief of black panne velvet knotted on one shoulder and a deep, three-cornered piece of the same material forming a sort of tight overskirt reaching to the hem at one side.

BIDS FOR NEW SCHOOL AT NECESSITY ARE REJECTED

NECESSITY, May 31.—Bids received on contracts for the erection of a new school building in the Necessity community were all rejected this week due to changes made in plans for the building. Several bids were placed and opened Tuesday, but all had to be rejected due to additional specifications.

Contracts will be let the latter part of the week, it is expected, as soon as new bids can be entered on the changed plans. R. S. Glenn, of Cisco, architect for the building, has charge of letting the contracts.

BIBLE SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY FOR 2 WEEKS

A daily vocational Bible school will be conducted for two weeks at the First Presbyterian church, beginning next Monday. The school will be open to all children between the ages of 4 and 14, regardless of the church affiliations of their parents. The course will be free of charge.

The instruction will be under the supervision of Miss Stella Hovey, Fort Worth, director of young people's work and religious education for the Fort Worth presbytery. She will be assisted by local instructors. The school will last for two and a half hours each morning and will be equivalent to Sunday school attendance for six months. The daily session will be divided into several periods—worship, story telling, new games, memory work and hand work. In the hand work period the boys will be taught to use hammer and saws and the girls will be instructed in sewing and embroidery.

DOZEN FINED FOR BREAKING TRAFFIC LAW

A dozen autoists have paid fines for violation of the new traffic regulations since the new rules have been in operation on Cisco streets. It was learned at the city hall this morning. None was forced to pay a fine during the first week after the new regulations had been promulgated, but those offending since last Monday have been fined. Only local people have been fined. Strangers, unacquainted with the regulations, have been excused. The fine is $1 without costs for traffic violations.

SCURRY FARM CLUB BOYS TO RAISE CHICKS

SNYDER, May 31.—Scurry county 4-H club boys have taken as one of their projects this year, the raising of chickens on a larger scale than ever attempted in this section before. More than 5,000 baby chicks have been purchased, Noble McDaniel leading with a buy of 500 chicks. Most of these chickens were purchased at the Green Hill hatchery here who installed a new 18,000 electric incubator this spring.

Government reports show an alarming shortage in storage eggs this year, being 796,000 cases short of what was on hand at this time last year. This shortage caused County Agent Willis to call a special meeting of the club boys who responded along with many school leaders in the county. Al Byron, Supt. T. J. Bryant is leading their organization in what promises to be one of the most outstanding successes of the year. At Camp Springs, Morris Casey, whose project is pig raising is averaging a pound a day with his porkers. The Camp Spring boys are also interested in securing more Jersey cows for their section.

With the greening of the pastures caused by the recent rains which totaled 5.30 inches of moisture, Jersey cattle are cheaper in price and many farms are stocking with registered stock. The three bull circles now organized in Scurry county are proving their worth to the skeptical.

Scurry county farmers are planting 1,000 acres to peanuts this year. With the advent of 6,000 dairy cows the peanut hay is taking the place of alfalfa which many farmers had rather feed. With 12,000 acres planted in grain sorghum, and 140,000 acres in cotton the farmers will have a variety of feed that the dairy industry will be sufficiently supplied.

NICE PROFIT TO 6 4-H MEMBERS IN BABY BEEVES

DE LEON, May 31.—Six Comanche county 4-H club members who fed out seven baby beeves made a total profit of $214.06, an average of $30.58 per calf.

The standing of the club members as to profit are: first, Basset Burton, of Newberg $44.77; second, Evert Carmichael, of Lamkin, $32.24; third, Thomas Pittman, of De Leon, $29.42; fourth, Naomi Caraway, of Comyn, (two calves) $35.73; fifth, Lannen White, Lamkin, $26; sixth, A. H. Caraway, of Comyn, $16.90.

The boys and girls kept records on these calves to show what was done. Items charged were: initial cost of feed; labor, pasture, name, cow, selling expenses and all feed was charged at market prices.

More and more it is becoming a practice to produce baby beeves on the farm and many of the best informed men say that this practice will continue to grow and develop. It can be made profitable as was demonstrated by these boys and girls this past season with these seven calves. Many other counties demonstrated the same thing with the 4-H club baby beef members.

The work is becoming popular with Comanche county 4-H club members for the season of 1927-28. Fifteen club members have signed up for baby beef projects.

MOON ECLIPSE TO BE PARTLY VISIBLE SUNDAY

Early risers of the United States, living west of Cisco, may observe the moon's eclipse Sunday morning. The eclipse will be total, and visible from Cisco west, but the totality will be reached at 6:17, after the sun has appeared on the horizon, and the rays of the moon will be obscured by the brilliance of the sunlight, unless the day should be cloudy.

The partial eclipse will first be noted at 4:17 a. m. It will not be seen at all in the eastern portion of the United States; but on the Pacific coast the two hours difference in time will permit the observance of the full eclipse.

It ought to be a rare sight, with the moon setting and the sun rising at the time of the phenomenon.

Supporters of McNary-Haugen Bill Will Reinroduce Measure at Next Session; Outlook Is Brighter Than

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Both sides in the controversy over farm relief legislation are making plans for a renewal of activities in next winter's session of congress.

President Coolidge as one of the final acts of his administration will urge the passage of a measure embodying his ideas of sound legislation.

Supporters of the McNary-Haugen bill propose to reintroduce it in substantially the form it was vetoed by the president. They believe that with the presidential election out of the way they can muster sufficient votes to pass it over the president's veto.

Rumors have been in circulation that the president is thinking of convening congress in special session for the purpose of considering farm legislation. It is known, however, that the president ordinarily does not like special sessions and farm leaders themselves insist that such procedure would be futile.

The president in his veto message on the McNary-Haugen bill said that "I am still hopeful that legislation along the lines suggested in my last annual message, with which many of the provisions of this bill are in harmony, may be enacted."

It is reported that the draft of a new measure embodying the Coolidge program recently was completed and that the president was prepared to submit it to congress if the leaders had taken kindly to his suggestion that a bill minus the objectionable equalization feature be rushed through in the closing days of the session.

The president received no encouragement along this line, however, and he allowed the matter to drop.

Representative Haugen, Republican, Iowa, chairman of the house committee on agriculture, took issue today with Representative Williams, Republican, Illinois, who in a speech told the house that congress would have passed a bill acceptable to the president except for the pressure of the farm organizations.

Haugen insisted that a majority of congress stands by the McNary-Haugen bill, including the equalization fee. The bill will be reintroduced in December, Haugen said, and passed over the president's veto.

It is recognized that political considerations bearing on the presidential campaign have figured in the situation.

According to the rumors relative to a possible special session of congress, the president would issue his call following the national conventions. Whatever the outcome of the Republican convention the legislative situation then would be materially changed. The Republicans of both groups would look at matters from the standpoint of the November election rather than of party nominations.

MANY ATTEND SERVICES FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Many Cisco people attended the Memorial Day services at Oakwood cemetery Wednesday, when the graves of the war veterans were decorated while the program arranged by the John William Butts Post American Legion, was being rendered.

Rev. F. T. Starbuck delivered an oration, the Lobo band played the funeral dirge and Star Spangled Banner, and a firing squad fired a salute, and "taps" closed the ceremonies. Many stores in Cisco were closed for the occasion, as requested by the Legion post.

By an oversight the name of Miss Dee Bacon was omitted from the list of teachers of the Cisco schools as published in yesterday's issue of the Daily News. Miss Bacon is one of the teachers of the grammar school, and has been prominently identified with the schools for some time.

BOUNTIES ON SIX WOLVES PAID TO BALLINGER MAN

BALLINGER, May 31.—Jack Martin, who lives seven miles west of here on the Colorado river, was the first man to receive the wolf bounty as recently authorized by the Runnels county commissioners court.

On May 22, Martin brought in six wolf scalps from wolves he killed early in the morning on May 22, on the Nixon ranch several miles west of here. The county paid $1 per scalp.

This bounty is being paid killers of wolves with the hope that it will start ranchers and farmers out on a hunt to rid the county of the varmints. There are many wolves in all parts of Runnels county and they prey on young goats and lambs every year.

Reputation is based on the general estimate of one's worthiness; character is worthiness itself.

MILLIONS of Model T Fords

Are Still in Active Service

For nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

Because of the tremendous investment which people have in these cars and because so many of them will be driven for two, three, and even five more years, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

For the Ford Motor Company has always believed that its full duty consists not only in making a good automobile at a low price, but also in keeping it running efficiently for you as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

No matter where you live, therefore, you can still buy Model T Ford parts with the same assurance as formerly, knowing that they will give you the kind of service you have a right to expect, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

All Ford replacement parts, as you may know, are made of the same materials and in the same way as those which your car was originally assembled, and are low in price because of the established Ford policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you take the car to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts which may be necessary. You may find that a very small expenditure will maintain the value of your car and will be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.
