HOME FOLKS WILL GREET CANDIDATE

CONVENTION TICKETS — Texts other than accredited delegates the big Democratic pow-wow at Austin who may want to lock in the party in action had better be made for tickets for the trip to Houston. It will be to have the tickets in hand before starting. Houston citizens are being advised that those who have contributed to the convention will be given a box seat for $250 and a reserved seat for $100 contributed to the fund. On the estimated basis of 15 delegates during the convention, $7 distributed should admit to one position. Houston ticket holders may be able to recoup part of their contribution if they are needed, for there are many people paying for the privilege of being at the show, pretty much as they pay to see a prize fight.

TEXAS RESEARCH WORK — Laura Spellman Rockefeller foundation has made it possible for University of Texas to do extensive research work in the state. An additional grant of $185,000 has been made for a five year period beginning September 1, 1927. This additional $185,000 provided this year is matched for a three year period beginning September 1. Subjects announced for the next year's study are "The Mexican in Texas," "Economic Exploitation of the Potash Industry," "Economic Aspects of Absentee Ownership and Tenancy," "Analysis of Administrative Officers in Texas," and "Financing Junior Colleges."

AN ANTONIO TO SAN ANTONIO — If only San Antonio and Angelo are enough interested to subscribe one-half of the $1,000,000, it will be necessary to secure the balance of that long-expected road between the two points, the immediate points will no doubt put the other half. In fact, it looks like there might be strong competition between two possible routes — by way of Fredericksburg, Mansfield and Brady, and the other by Kerrville and Sonora.

DAIRY EXHIBITIONS — Numerous small shows of dairy cattle throughout the state have attracted the people in sufficient numbers to indicate that large dairy shows would prove drawing attractions at central points where dairymen are receiving special attention. Building of creameries, cheese factories and other milk products has created much interest in dairymen and all the equipment necessary for the best handling of cattle and the manufacture of the raw products. County fairs pay more attention to the dairy interests this year than before in Texas and thousands are drawn to these fairs to learn about dairying. Right now is especially the time to go on to the biggest dairy exposition country has ever seen, something that will draw as well as the Worth and San Antonio livestock shows.

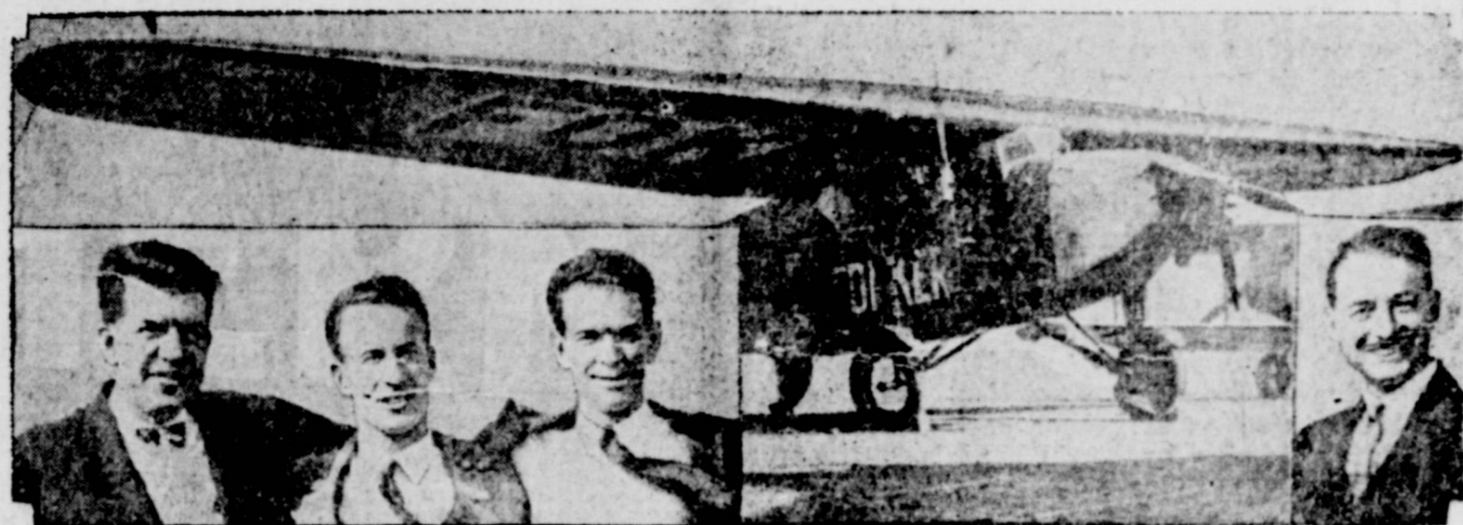

INCREASES IN FERTILIZER — Texas is farming more intensively than in the past. Farmers trying to produce crops more economically and to secure larger yields from smaller acreage. Fertilizer sale tags show that almost as much high grade fertilizer is sold in 1928 as in 1927. Dr. J. S. state chemist, says that the use of fertilizers on the market is much better than the products of ten years ago. More concentrated fertilizers are being manufactured, and the tendency is toward higher analysis. Farming is developing into a science.

BANK HELPS FARMERS — Banks that want to assist in the development of their surrounding territory might look into the Mansfield bank is doing. It has installed a modern steam plow and preserving plant to help farmers bring their vegetables and fruits and process them without any charge. The same bank will install a potato curing plant to take care of the 1928 crop of sweet potatoes. The idea of the bank is to encourage thrift among farmers, and naturally the bank share in that thrift.

SMITH COUNTY PRODUCTS — Potatoes and blackberries are now being shipped out of Smith county in large lots and record-breaking crops are expected. Prices for both tomatoes and berries run $1 a crate. Conservative estimates are that these two crops will bring Smith county producers $1,500,000, and they are called "minor crops."

BERGHOFF HOPS OFF FROM HOOSIER CAPITAL. DIANAPOLIS, June 6.—Col. J. A. Lindbergh, who made his first flight last night, will depart at 6:50 o'clock this morning for an unannounced destination. He was accompanied by Henry Breckenridge and Mansfield.

THEY START THURSDAY ON LAST LAP FROM U. S. TO AUSTRALIA

This giant Fokker plane is carrying a crew of four men, two Australians, Captain Kingsford Smith and Charles T. O. Uim (first two left), and two Americans, Lieutenant Harry W. Lyons and James Warner (at right), on a hop from San Francisco to Australia. They completed the first leg to Honolulu and the second to the Fiji Islands in safety. They will hop off Thursday on the final lap of their long journey, some 1,900 miles.

The dying officer is George Harsted, the other is Guy Craig.

Final Apparent Obstacle to New Hostelry for Cisco Is Overcome in Judgment by District Court

What is believed to be the last obstacle to the construction of Cisco's new hotel was removed Tuesday when judgment was rendered in the 91st district court at Eastland by Judge George L. Dav- enport in favor of the plaintiff in the case of B. S. Huey vs. W. L. Andrews, et al., to remove cloud from title to the site of the hotel. This judgment is in accordance and complies with all requirements that have been made by the company financing the hotel proposition, according to Judge J. J. Butts, who represented Huey.

Baptist Convention Ratifies Keeping of Baylor in Waco

Howard Payne and Other Smaller Schools Make Fight for Increased Help at Special Church Session

WACO, June 6.—Perpetuation of Baylor University in Waco is assured fact as a result of sessions of the extraordinary meeting of the Texas Baptist general convention at the First Baptist church. The convention adopted unanimously the resolution of the educational commission as read at the morning session. The resolution favoring Baylor's continued location in Waco in view of the offer of the chamber of commerce to lease $1,000,000 in Waco within ten years for the university, a sum to be raised by the Baptists of Texas outside of Waco.

Harmony prevailed throughout the question across as to why Baylor University should live at the expense of the smaller Baptist institutions of the state—those taking part in the discussion being for the part, representatives of smaller Baptist schools who felt that they were being imposed upon by the larger school.

Local Aid Idea Scored. Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of the Baylor College, Belton, and Dr. E. G. Godbold, president of Howard Payne at Brownwood, were leading in this question before the convention. Dr. Hardy said that he saw no reason why every school should remain in the background. Baylor University at Waco released from debt.

Baylor can never reach the goal unless it has a "play square," he said. "Baylor College has to have help, and it is the time—she should go with Baylor University."

Missionary and Tumultuous Career of "Big Bill" Haywood Began as Boy of 9 Years in Colorado Mine

DENVER, June 6.—The colorful career of William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, founder of the Industrial Workers of the World, who died in the Kremlin hospital at Moscow recently, centered for many years in Colorado.

Tales of his activities in the late disputes of this and adjoining states are being retold today by friends and foe alike. "Big Bill" had many bitter enemies; he also had many friends among his comrades of the old Western Federation of Miners, which he at one time dominated.

Haywood's great dream was formulated early in life—when he was only nine years old, some say, and set a mine in Utah to work his dream, according to his friends, was a vision of a world for kingdom, dominated by Haywood himself. It led him into an exciting life, filled with many pitfalls and final death as an exile in Soviet Russia where his hope of establishing a Utopia for the workers and peasants of that country failed.

First Public Notice. Haywood first came into public notice during the miners' strike in Colorado in 1897. Before the second big miners strike of Colorado in 1904 he had been made secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, having been a factor in the organizing and directing of the so-called radical strike among the metal miners in several sections of this state and Idaho.

Gen. Sherman Bell, who was acting general of Colorado during the bloody labor wars of 1904, declared here that Haywood, as leader of the miners in their battles in the state militia at that time "absolutely fearless."

Months during Haywood's life at that time the life of the metal mining communities was riddled with bombings, loss of life, destruction of property, and even arson to the flag.

For the following three or four years Haywood and his organization were in open conflict with state authorities, and the organization virtually controlled the state governments in southern Colorado.

Haywood was repeatedly arrested, never convicted in Colorado, but in Idaho, where he was brought to trial for conspiracy in connection with the assassination of Governor Frank Steunenberg, escaped, even after Harry Orchard had confessed that he had hired as a paid assassin by Haywood and others to kill the Idaho governor. Haywood's army faculty for "keeping out

CURLS COME BACK IN NEW COIFFURES

PARIS, June 6.—Curls have come back to make some charming new coiffures which certainly point to the return of the chignon.

The new evening silhouette with emphasis on thrills, flounces and even bustle-trains, are calling for a much fluffier, fuller type of hair-dressing. The closely-cropped head with little ringlets simply pasted down is not in harmony with the more feminine spring fashions, say the smart Parisian hairdressers.

To take care of the ugly in-between stage of growing, they have devised a convenient coiffure with the hair upcurled in a roll all around the nape of the neck. Others take care of the growing locks by having them curled and piled up in a mass at the back of the head. For fortunate women with a clear-cut profile, there is the coiffure which exposes the ears with the hair brush up to curl about the neck.

The bob with the hair cut in a horizontal line from the ear to the ear is also returning to favor. It is often worn with a bang, or fringe that goes straight across the forehead. For evening it is dressed up with waves which spiral about the head giving to the original that touch of irregularity which is quite in keeping with new uneven helmets.

"Hyacinth" curls and "wind-blow" coiffures are still fashionable. They made much fluffier and more elaborate than ever before.

Even with daytime costumes, new coiffures show increased bulk and hats with wider brims and decidedly bunchy trimmings of flowers, ribbons, longer haircuts and even some "knobs" are being seen again.

PRESIDENT ACCEPTS OFFER

Clay A. Pierce (right), manager of the estate of the late Henry Clay Pierce, offered Cedar Island Lodge to President Coolidge for his summer home. This $1,000,000 estate is located on the Brule River, in the north woods of Wisconsin. It has been made a game preserve by its owner and abounds with trout, birds and deer. Hunting is never allowed, but fishing is excellent. Lower right shows workmen placing trout in one of the fifteen lakes.

OF A SOCIAL NATURE

Church Society Has All Day Meeting. The three circles of the First Methodist church Missionary society met in an all day meeting Tuesday at the church. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Winston. The following program was rendered during the morning session: Mrs. Philip Pettit led the devotional lesson; special music by Miss Velma Everett; "New Occasions," Mrs. W. A. Cox; "A New Frontier of Christian Missions," Mrs. W. E. Ricks; "Christian Missions and Modern Industry," Mrs. Philip Pettit; "Christian Missions and America's Racial Attitude," Mrs. F. Reed. At noon a delightful lunch was served in the basement of the church, with each one bringing a covered dish. After lunch the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the following program: Devotional lesson read by Miss Ura Leveridge; special music, Mrs. Ben McClinton; "Christian Missions and America's International Attitude," Mrs. J. J. Youngblood; "Give and Take," Mrs. Eugene Lankford. After the round table discussion the meeting adjourned. There were several out of town guests from Scranton.

RADIUM RAYS VICTIMS GIVEN $48,000 EACH

NEWARK, N. J., June 6.—The suits of five women who were said by physicians and scientists to be slowly dying from the result of radio-active poisoning, contracted while in the employ of the United States Radium corporation, were settled out of court Monday.

Federal Judge Clark, who acted as intermediary, said the settlement was equivalent to a jury verdict of $48,000 for each woman. The plaintiffs each sued for $250,000 damages.

The terms as announced by Judge Clark were as follows: $10,000 free and clear, all past medical expenses (said by plaintiffs' counsel to average $2,000 for each woman), pension of $600 a year during disability, a counsel fee of $15,000 (to cover all cases) and $4,500 for legal disbursements (to cover all cases). It was agreed that each of the women would receive the lump sum on or before June 11.

Judge Clark, who acted as a private citizen in the effort to reach an agreement, said the settlement would assure each of the women an income of $1,200 a year, which he learned was $200 in excess of their earnings before injury.

Short Time Remains for Workers to Get Big Lead

Double Points for $10 Subscription Clubs Will Expire Saturday Night; Free Coupons Offer Big Opportunity

The workers in the Cisco Daily News and the Weekly American and Roundup country wide subscription drive who secure subscriptions this week and win the thirty double prize ballots will gain a good lead with a high number of points.

A few subscriptions are going to win the prize ballots. A nice volume of subscriptions is coming from the large number of workers. No one individual is securing very many subscriptions. The free coupons are fairly equally divided and the race is a very close one for the most points that will win the two automobiles, the Viva-Tonal Columbia phonograph, the Atwater Kent complete radio set, and all of the thirty valuable prizes. The active workers who do not get a prize will be given cash awards. Everyone wins and no one will lose.

Workers should send in names for sample copies. The Daily News will be sent free for one issue and the Weekly American and Roundup for one issue. A coupon in each paper worth 25,000 points at this time. The number of points that can be secured from each name sent in provided the coupons are secured from the reader, would amount to 50,000 points.

BALANCING FORD FLYWHEELS

This machine ascertains just how much out of balance a flywheel of the new Ford car may be and then proceeds to correct that fault, no matter how small. The operation looks simple, but it is one of the most precise in the entire field of automobile manufacture. The flywheel is first placed on the machine and tested for balance with a series of spirit levels and graduated discs. The result of this test registers automatically on a chart and a metal drill promptly drills out of the flywheel, at the necessary point, sufficient metal to make it balance perfectly. It is one of the many applications of precision manufacture which make for smooth, quiet performance and long life in the new Ford car.

Rickard Wouldn't Look at Heeney Year Ago; Now Considers Him Best Opponent to Send Against Tunne

NEW YORK, June 6.—It is pleasing to learn that Tex Rickard looks upon Tom Heeney as such an eligible challenger for the heavyweight championship in July because the time was not so far distant when Rickard took Heeney for an order of boloney and, in the circumstances he would hate to have an impression like that confirmed. They say Tex is never wrong; so naturally there is nothing to worry about. Heeney must be a great fighter. Even Tex says so. He is awfully difficult to please on a matter of this kind.

Tex Converted
Rickard's sudden "conversion" to the Heeney cause this spring was, of course, only one of the remarkable features of this man's remarkable story. The couldn't get Rickard to walk across the street to look at Heeney only one year ago. Tex, at the time, was bizz-bazzing with the boys in the front office. He was too smart to walk across the street to look at the New Zealander.

"I asked him to give the lad a look," John Mortimer complained almost tearfully at the time. "All I ask is that he look at Tawm in his 'tries.'"

But Tex didn't want to see Heeney in his "tries," probably being under the impression that the latter had something to do with the young man's apparel. It was Jess McMahon, in fact, who finally dropped around on the St. Nicholas Rink to see what it was all about. His visit led to another interesting sidelight on the situation at that time.

The Heeney board of management had asked Tommy Loughran to "work" with Tom the day before and Loughran had given him a veneering of his life. Midway through the second round, Heeney dropped his hands, braced himself in a corner of the ring and declined to be a party to the further proceedings.

"I'm all befuddled," he is alleged to have observed with some degree of abstraction. "Let me go to my corner."

To Go Easier
Loughran, much disturbed that he made Charley Harvey's specimen look like a tramp, promised to "go easier" with him the next day. Loughran was a little behind his scheduled appearance the next afternoon and Heeney was waiting for him in full ring costume.

He was hastening toward the ring when overtaken by Harvey who was trying to be forceful and confident at the same time.

"Don't go in there, Tommy," he said. "I know we asked you to do it but we don't want you in there with him today. Jess McMahon is here to look him over and we don't want him mused up."

The upshot of the matter was that Heeney got on in a Garden preliminary a few nights later. He won on a technical knockout over Charley Anderson, the first class fifth rater, and the riot was on.

Hand-shaking is barred in Italy, and now there's no way to recognize and dodge the man who represents a verily cause—Chattanooga Times.

LAST SIGHT OF ITALIA

Lost in the great Arctic, the giant "Italia," bearing her crew and Commander General Nobile, is seen here being held down by the ground crew just before taking off on its fatal trip over the North Pole. Bad storms with adverse winds are believed to have blown the "Italia" far off her course and the world has had no word since a frantic SOS was signalled.

World War Veterans. I shall favor legislation to provide for the dependent families of the killed and wounded World War veterans and for dependents of disabled veterans in hospitals and elsewhere, as well as to provide the best of care for the maimed and disabled boys who gave their health and bodies in defense of our flag.

National Defense. I shall favor maintaining a small regular army, together with such war vessels, submarines and airplanes, forts and other equipment, as will enable us to defend our borders against sudden attack from any source.

Labor. I shall favor such legislation as will be fair to both labor and capital.

Federal Reserve Bank. On June 13, 1927, the resolution committee of the board of directors of the West Texas chamber of commerce met in my office at Cisco.

Being a Democrat, I believe fundamentally in a tariff for revenue only, but where manufactured articles are protected by a tariff, I believe the raw material used in such should be protected by a tariff, the same as the manufactured article.

Prohibition. I am a life long prohibitionist and have voted consistently for local option and prohibition at every opportunity. I believe that the 18th amendment should be as scrupulously enforced as any other law.

Roads. I favor the federal government continuing its road building program and increasing the appropriation for this purpose as rapidly as the funds can be economically expended in the construction of federal highways.

Immigration. I favor a limited, restrictive and intelligently selective immigration law that will preserve American ideals and protect American labor.

HEROES READY TO SEEK NOBILE

Captain Wikins (left) and Lieutenant Eielson (right) are bidding goodbye to Captain Alsaker of the S. S. St. Swithin, which brought them from their landing place after their flight over the world to Bergen, Norway. These two brave men are getting ready to hop off to aid in the search for the "Italia."
